SAW MANILA BOMBARDED WITH THE COMMISSION

STORIES TOLD BY MEN OF THE SENATOR.

Troop Ship of the Second Expedition Returns Here—Soldiers' Experiences With the Insurgents.

The ship's company of the transport Senator got something more than mere transport duty out of their trip to Manila. They saw the bombardment of the city, and to the extent that anybody sees a battle they saw the night fighting between the Spaniards and the American troops and the final assault that carried the city. The Senator, which was one of the troop ships of the first expedition, sailed from Manila August 24th, and arrived off this port last night. She returned without stopping at Nagasaki, because she carried coal enough for the trip. She put in here because the coal was in her hold and could not be advantageously transferred to her bunkers at sea. She will remain here long enough, probably four days, to shift her coal and perhaps take on some more as ballast, give her machinery an overhauling and clean her boilers, which have become very dirty. While in the China Sea she encountered a typhoon, probably the one that overtook the Zealandia, and lay to for thirty-two hours. She had most of the railing and everything moveable on her forward deck torn away, but suffered little serious damage.

The Senator brings a number of non-commissioned officers and privates from the Eighteenth and Twenty-third infantry and the Third artillery, whose term of enlistment had expired, though none of them left the ranks until after the capture of Manila.

The description of the bombardment of the city by the Raleigh, Petrel, Olympia and the captured gunboat Callao, given by some of the men who witnessed it from the deck of the Senator, five miles distant, is very vivid. It did not last long but the boom and crack of ordnance, and the shot and shell whistling in their parabolic courses is described as majestic and awe-inspiring.

The Callao, the captured Spanish gunboat, was used, because being of light draft, she could engage at closer range. It was her guns that did the most damage. Of the assault by the troops little could be seen except the line of smoke advancing nearer and nearer to the city. Before the assault on the city there were engagements between the Spanish garrison and the investing army nearly every night, especially when it rained, the flashes of light from the Springfield and Krag-Jorgensen and the few field pieces the Americans had telling when the conflict was on.

The returning soldiers give much that is interesting and new about the operations there. The worst feature of their work was in the trenches. These were always full of water and it rained during every twenty-four hours, rained hard and long. The regiments in the trenches were changed every twenty-four hours. So that when a man was in the trench he was there for a whole day, carrying in his haversack provisions for the day.

The soldiers have a very poor opinion of the insurgents. One of the first duties of the California regiment was to clear out the hospitals at Cavite. Some of them had been captured by the insurgents who simply cut the throats of the wounded Spaniards, and left the bodies to rot.

Every insurgent carries a big knife and his ambition is to cut a throat with it. When Manila was captured, the insurgents were not allowed to enter until the American troops were in possession and in a position to give protection. Then the insurgents were all disarmed before they were allowed to enter. This made them very angry and Aguinado, it is said, was put under guard for a day or two.

The insurgents had planned to rob and pillage the city beforehand, each man picking out the particular house or store he wanted for his own prize and the particular throat he wanted to cut.

When the Senator left Manila the blockade was just being raised. The Olympia was made the custom house, and the customs system was just being organized.

WITH THE COMMISSION

HARD AT WORK TO FINISH UP THEIR LABORS.

President Dole and Justice Frear Go to Washington Next Month—Commission Leaves on Friday.

In spite of President Dole's fondness for yacht racing the rest of the commissioners worked all day on Saturday, finishing up at half past 5 in the evening. The Commission held the usual sitting this morning and met again at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Asked about the progress of the work and the possibility of President Dole and himself going to Washington, Justice Frear said this afternoon: "We are closing up our work as rapidly as possible, but I anticipate we shall find enough to do to keep us busy until Thursday night. There is nothing to give out as to our proceedings nor is there likely to be anything from now on. The possibility of the Hawaiian members going to Washington to participate in the final work of the Commission has been talked over, but not settled definitely. I am making preparations to go if it is decided to be necessary. The Congressional members of the Commission will leave for home Friday on the Gaelic."

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

There was a fairly good house to witness Saturday night's presentation of the comedy "U and I." The company showed the benefit of the rehearsals since the first presentation. A good deal of new "business" was introduced, but the good judgment of some of it may be doubted. The picture machine was in good working order and added a pleasing feature to the performance.

The company is billed for Thursday and Saturday evenings and for a Saturday matinee.

"Irish Rascality" will be presented Thursday night. It is said to be a stronger play than "U and I." Rehearsals are now diligently going on.

ANOTHER LAWYER.

Joseph G. Pratt, who was this morning licensed by the supreme court to practice law in all the courts of Hawaii, was born and raised in Rockford, Ills. He studied law at Beloit College, Wisconsin, and was admitted to the bar in Cheyenne, Wyo, in February, 1880. Mr. Pratt leaves for Hilo tomorrow where he will practice his profession. He hopes to bring his family to the Islands very shortly.

ON THE ZEALANDIA.

The Zealandia had aboard of her about thirty sick and incalculable soldiers returning to the United States, when she was caught in the typhoon in the China sea. Some of these were from the First California and some from the First Oregon.

A SOLDIER'S FUNERAL.

The military funeral of Private Walter Johnson of Battery A, First battalion heavy artillery, California, volunteers, took place yesterday afternoon. The unfortunate soldier died of typhoid fever at the United States hospital on Saturday morning. The services were conducted by the army chaplain from St. Andrew's cathedral.

BORING MORE WELLS.

McCandless Bros. commenced operations preparatory to boring two artesian wells on the Gear-Lansing tract at Diamond Head, today. They expect to tap water at about 300 feet.

MARINE NOTES.

The ship C. F. Sargent expects to sail tomorrow for Puget Sound. The bark Colusa will probably sail Thursday for Puget Sound there to load lumber for Australia.

The bark Albert, Griffiths, which came into the harbor Saturday in time for her passengers and crew to see a part of the Regatta Day races, is discharging at the Oceanic wharf. Captain Griffiths has the luck of reaching here on holidays and other days, when something interesting is going on.

GOOD ENOUGH TO TAKE.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

ON THE RECENT DEATH OF ANTOINE ROSA.

Remarks Made by Members of the Bar in the Supreme Court and Resolutions Passed.

At the opening of the supreme court this morning, Cecil Brown, in the absence of Attorney General Smith, who with Enoch Johnson had been appointed a committee of the Bar Association to draft resolutions on the death of Antoine Rosa, offered the following resolutions:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to remove by death Antoine Rosa, a member of this court,

Resolved, That in the untimely death of Antoine Rosa this community has lost a faithful citizen and the bar a brilliant as well as a valuable member.

Resolved, That the bar hereby express to the family of the deceased its sincere and heartfelt sympathy with them in their bereavement.

Resolved, That the court instruct the clerk to spread these resolutions upon the records of the court.

In presenting the resolutions, Mr. Brown paid a deserved tribute to the deceased member of the bar, saying that whatever of honor and renown came to him was the result of a course he had mapped out for himself in early life, whatever he knew was the result of his own efforts in the pursuit of knowledge and that his position as the head of the native bar was due entirely to his own study and his own efforts.

W. A. Kinney, in seconding the resolutions, said: "I have probably known Antoine Rosa longer than any member of the bar. We were boys at the Royal school together. He was essentially a self-made man. I know that he worked out of school hours even then to prepare himself for a future that I did not anticipate possible. It was from Rev. Alex. Mackintosh at that school that he became proficient in the classics, and gained his thorough knowledge of English. Under the kind patronage and the friendship of Chief Justice Harris, his future became assured. While in his sterner moments the Chief Justice was likely to be approached by anyone, still he had a softer side, and Antoine Rosa had found the way to it. In suits in court where matters of pedigree and ownership of real estate were involved, he considered Mr. Rosa one of the most dangerous antagonists at the bar. Understanding the Hawaiian nature so thoroughly he could argue to the Hawaiian portion of a jury in their own ideas and then turn round and argue to the foreigners on the jury from their standpoint. Among native lawyers Kawahi had always been held up as a shining example, but since his day Antoine Rosa in his prime has held an equally commanding position."

E. P. Dole, deputy attorney general, said: "I have always admired Mr. Rosa's ability. I considered him a very strong and dangerous antagonist in legal conflict, but he was a man who invariably fought fairly. His powers of reasoning were great and he had a broad and comprehensive grasp of legal questions."

Charles Creighton said: "Antoine Rosa was the first member of the bar whom I met in Hawaii, and from that time we have been intimate both socially and in our relations at the bar. Only a few hours before I left for the Kaula term of court, I visited him. He was cheerful and we all expected he would recover. On my return, five days later, I was grieved to find he was dead. In the troublous times when the racial question was on top in my capacity as deputy attorney general, I had much to do with Antoine Rosa, who was then practicing at the bar. In all his practice I have never known him to use any undue advantage. His word was as good as a written stipulation in legal affairs. Not only did he rank up the head of the Hawaiian bar, but he was well up toward the head of the bar as a whole. His ability was recognized by all persons and all governments in Hawaii, and the bar has lost a bright, capable and able member."

G. F. Little said: "Someone has said that death is but an incident in our career, another that it is but a shadow. Whatever it may be the bar is confronted by the loss of one of its brightest members. Antoine Rosa leaves not only the record of an honorable career but an heritage to his family of a career that any family should be proud of. In common with the members of the bar, I offer my condolence to his family and commend them to Him who orders everything for the best."

S. K. Kane eulogized the virtues of the deceased in Hawaiian and the chief justice in a few words ordered the resolutions received by the court and spread on the records.

COLD FACTS.

Cold facts are sometimes rather unpleasant things to hear, but are actually necessary for the public to know. The cold facts about the lines of harness and carriages we carry are that we believe them to be the best money ever on this market for the money and our sales bear us out. BIG BOOM.

There is a big boom on at Sachs' hosiery counter. The 50c hose that are now selling at 25c per pair won't last long, even at only six pairs to any one customer.

SUPREME COURT SITTING

COMPLICATIONS FROM JUSTICE FREAR'S ABSENCE.

First Calling of the Calendar This Morning and Disposition of Cases Made—Another Lawyer Admitted.

At the opening of the supreme court this morning Chief Justice Judd and Justice Whiting occupied the bench. In referring to the absence of Justice Frear the chief justice said that owing to his duties on the Commission, and the possibility of his leaving for Washington in about a month it was doubtful if he would be able to take part in the business of the court at this session. While it was the rule of the court to call on one of the circuit judges to fill vacancies, the chief justice thought this could not be done in the present state of affairs. Judge Stanley was overworked with the trials of the last term and it was imperative that he should have a vacation in order that he could participate in the already large calendar of the next term. The members of the bar were well aware that Judge Perry was simply overwhelmed with work. Consequently the court would feel compelled to call largely on the members of the bar to assist in the hearing of cases at the present term, and while many of them might feel a delicacy in accepting assignments for such a purpose, still under the law it was their duty to do so.

The calendar was then called and the following proceedings had:

Kohala Sugar Company vs. J. Wright water controversy from Kohala, Hawaii. Ordered submitted on briefs within ten days with the understanding that Justice Frear will assist in rendering the decision.

Minister of Interior vs. Oahu Railway and Land Company, suit for condemnation of railroad wharf property. Mr. Hatch is associated with Kinney & Ballou in the defense. Owing to the absence of General Hartwell, who represents the government the case was put over to the latter portion of the term.

M. C. Aldrich vs. P. E. Hassinger et al. Passed for a few days owing to the indisposition of Attorney General Smith.

H. M. Mist vs. S. M. W. Kawelo. Passed for a few days, owing to the illness of J. A. Magoon.

The cases of J. K. Sumner vs. R. W. Wilcox et al., and the matter of the guardianship of J. K. Sumner, went over to Wednesday.

In the case of Kahului Railroad Company vs. Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company, known as the Kahului wharf case, the chief justice announced that he was disqualified from sitting.

N. Russell vs. Tax Assessor of Hawaii, appeal from Tax Appeal court. Stipulation agreed to in open court that the case go over to the December term. Little & Gallbraith entered as attorneys of record for plaintiff.

The cases of P. L. Dortch vs. A. V. Geor, H. Zerbe vs. Republic of Hawaii and G. L. Edwards vs. Republic of Hawaii, were announced as ready for hearing.

Joseph G. Pratt was admitted to practice before the court, and the oath of office administered by the chief justice.

REGATTA PRIZES.

Chairman Taylor announces that all regatta prizes will be awarded and paid tomorrow, September 20th, between 12 o'clock and 1, at the Pacific Hardware Company's.

DREYFUS TO BE RETRIED.

A special cable of September 6th to the New York Herald, says:

The French cabinet met today. General Zurlinder, the new minister of war, was present. The whole sitting practically was occupied by the Dreyfus case.

The Figaro says it is in position to affirm that the principle of revision was decided upon unanimously, and the minister of justice was instructed to take the necessary judicial steps connected with the affair.

General Harin has been appointed acting military governor of Paris in succession to General Zurlinder, who has accepted the portfolio of minister of war.

The newspapers regard the revision of the Dreyfus case as being assured, saying that the prisoner's counsel will now make strenuous efforts to secure a public retrial.

The Matin says that Colonel Picquart yesterday signed a demand for the provisional liberation of Dreyfus.

ON THE TAPIS.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Damon are making arrangements to give a reception to the army and navy officers at their country residence, Moanalua, in the near future. The affair promises to be a very brilliant one.

RUSH FOR LAND IN KEANAE

HOMESTEAD LEASE LAW PROVING POPULAR.

Need for a Good Road Before the Lands are Opened for Settlement—Would Pay for Itself.

Maui, September 17. The natives on the Island here are just beginning to realize what the homestead lease law of 1895 is, and what it offers to them.

Hefeofore they have been very shy of it, and did not want anything to do with it, but now they have come around, and applications for land under it are very numerous. There are some fifty Hawaiians wanting lots at Keanae, Nahiku and Kaupo, and others yet to be heard from. Besides these there are many other applicants for lands under other systems of the law, in different parts of the Island, and there are busy times promised for some time to come. Keanae lands are much sought after, and there will be some excitement when the same are divided and put up.

What is now a vast tropical wilderness can easily be transformed into a busy and prosperous district. The government should first put a good road through this country before it is thrown open to settlers, if only for its own benefit.

Under present conditions the land is worth not more than $3 to $5 an acre, while with a good wagon road through it, it would sell for from $15 to $20 an acre, and the road would be more than paid for by the settlers themselves, and the government would be out nothing. The Nahiku lands were sold before the road was built, and now the road will cost more than the lands brought, and the government will practically get nothing from the sale of the lands.

It is hoped that some plan may be arrived at, so that work on the Nahiku road may be commenced soon, and continued on to Helelo without delay.

A COMING CONCERT.

The first concert of the season by the Amateur Orchestra will be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Tuesday evening, October 4th, on which occasion an excellent program containing many choice numbers will be presented. Several talented singers and players, who have not been heard here will appear at this concert.

THE NEW PASTOR.

Large Congregations at Central Union Church Yesterday.

Large congregations morning and evening welcomed Rev. William M. Kincaid to the pulpit of Central Union church yesterday.

His sermon created the same good impression of him as a preacher, that his brief sojourn had already created of him as a pastor.

The morning sermon had for its theme the rich heritage of all that is spiritual and uplifting of the Christian. The evening sermon was a consideration of the life of the Patriarch Jacob.

Mr. Kincaid has fully sustained the reputation that preceded him of being an efficient pastor and an admirable pulpit orator.

On Thursday evening there will be a social gathering in the church parlors to give further opportunity to the people of the church and of the city to meet both him and Mrs. Kincaid.

ESTATE VALUED AT $10,000.

John Smith left an estate valued at this amount. The greater part was saved by buying goods at L. B. Kerr's, Queen street. See his advertisement and you will realize how it was done.

HAWAII LABORERS KICK

MAKE A TEST CASE OF PENAL CONTRACT LAW.

One Thousand of Them Said to Have Contributed Ten Dollars Apiece for This Specific Purpose.

A correspondent of the Hilo Tribune says:

About seven hundred Japanese and three hundred other contract laborers on the Island of Hawaii have banded together to fight the penal enforcement of contract law, and they have employed Hitebeck & Smith to take the matter to the supreme court at Honolulu. It is rumored that these laborers have contributed ten dollars a head and have instructed their counsel to spare neither pains nor expense in getting a decision in their favor.

The present test case is one of a Polish laborer, who had deserted from the Honoumou plantation. It is a matter of a good deal of remark that this plantation should have been chosen for the test case. Honoumou has the reputation of giving its laborers the best accommodations and most humane treatment of all. The attorneys in the case contend that the Honoumou plantation offers the best conditions for attacking the law for the reason that no contention can be made that the case before the court is an aggrieved one. The sole question of the constitutionality of the law is presented, stripped of all the conditions which would make it a good jury case.

COFFEE PLANTERS ORGANIZE.

Vote to Temporarily With the Tax Appeal Cases.

Hilo, September 17.

The Hilo Tribune says:

A general meeting of the Olan coffee planters was held last Sunday at the residence of Dr. Russell in Olan. About thirty planters were in attendance. The committee appointed at a previous meeting to draft the constitution and by-laws of the Olan Coffee Planters' Association made their report, which was read article by article, discussed, modified and adopted. The purpose of the association is to be on the watch for the common interests of the coffee planters of the district, as well as to cultivate friendly social intercourse.

The following officers were elected: President, Dr. Russell; vice president, F. Sousa; secretary, Mr. Supe; treasurer, C. E. Eagan.

A motion was made and voted in the affirmative to temporarily with the proceedings of the tax appeal to the Superior court until the modifications in taxation system introduced by the United States will become known. A resolution was passed to send to the Hawaiian Commission samples of all the grades of Olan coffee now on the market.

A committee composed of Messrs. Sumter, Peck and Zimmerman was appointed to make a uniform general appraisal of the Olan real estate property for the guidance of individual settlers and to report at the next meeting.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1898.

Coffee is holding its own. From all directions one hears of successful plantations which are giving a fair percentage upon investment and labor. As some of the planters now maintain, the experimental stage is past, and one knows what can really be done.

As we are now a part of the United States there is no legal objection to the President visiting the Islands during his term of office. Why should not an invitation be sent him to make us a visit. He is coming to the Yellowstone, and most probably to San Francisco. It is a short step here. There is no harm in the invitation, and it will show clearly where we stand. We are in the United States and no mistake about it.

The homestead law has done an enormous amount of good, and many a small land holder blesses the day when it was passed. Tracts of land that used to be waste and desolate are now covered with pleasant homes and sturdy families are growing up on them. These families are being educated in our common schools, and it is among them that we will find some of the foremost men and women of the future.

There is a great deal of grumbling in yachting circles and it is said the unsportsmanlike methods of one owner have pretty nearly killed the amusement as far as yacht racing is concerned. It is a pity that the desire for a prize outweighs the true sportsmanship which cares not for prizes, save for the honor. It would be a good thing to do away with money prizes for all amateur racing. As a fact no amateur ought to race for money, the bare fact that a man has raced for money throws him out of the amateur grade in many places.

POPULAR LEADERS.

Popular leaders have a generic likeness, however they may differ in their aims and aspirations. To be a popular leader a man must be in touch with the populace, he must to some extent mingle with them, or must show himself to them in some popular light. Above all the popular leader must appear to give his confidence to his party.

If we look into history we see this repeated again and again. As long as Rienzi kept in touch with his party, as long as his trumpet tones roused the hearts of his fellow citizens, as long as he depended on them for assistance, his course was clear and he kept rising upwards, but having risen he began to suppose that it was he who had done all, he became exclusive, he forgot whence the source of his greatness came, and he fell, as hundreds, nay thousands, of lesser men, who, rising not so high, fell in the same way as he, though the fall made not so great a crash, nor was as picturesque.

Some men are able to keep their popularity all their lives, but it is because they never forget upon what it is based. Take Lincoln. Popular from the log schoolhouse days to the moment that he went to Ford's theater, that is before political martyrdom had cast a peculiar halo round his brow. Why popular? Because he was ever in touch with the people and with his own political party. He was here, there and everywhere among them. On public occasions he was ever addressing them on points which thrilled their hearts. He was not secretive, he was ever taking them into his confidence as far as it was possible, and he was ever taking his party leaders into his confidence. He thus had isolated men devoted to him, and he had bodies of men devoted to him. Had he begun to think that he, and he only, was the "Deus ex Machina," had he become secretive, had he depended only on his own judgment, great as might have been his achievements, they would have lost the spontaneity of popularity.

Take Gladstone. There was a man who made many serious mistakes in his career, but he understood what popularity depended upon, and though his powers of mind were gigantic, he knew that his greatness was dependent upon popular support. He, too, was constantly taking the public into his confidence. His many lieutenants in his party were in his confidence, and were spreading his ideas ever broadcast among the people. His speeches, his letters, his post cards, even his ax and his trees, all kept him in the people's mind and in the people's heart. Though retired he was not forgotten, and he never would have been forgotten, for he was in touch with people and party.

The American system fosters democratic ideas, but democratic ideas do not consist of shaking hands with the crowd, and wearing an affable smile on some occasions. Democratic ideas are fostered by getting at the hearts and minds of the people; this is what Lincoln and Gladstone did; this is what McKinley is doing now. It is also by having devoted followers, and you cannot have devoted followers unless you know them yourself, unless you discuss your plans with them and ask their advice. It is easy sometimes to gain followers for a moment in times of crisis, but it is still easier to lose them, when pride of place, or littleness of intellect, make a man forget what he owes to those who made him. When this frame of mind comes he joins those hundreds and thousands of which Rienzi, the Tribune, was a brilliant, but unhappy example.

MILITARY TRAINING.

Will the war bring about a systematic training of the citizens of the United States, is what a great many writers are now asking. Some of the papers, notably the Christian Register, commenting on the war, say "that the common schools will furnish us with a better army than the camp of the military lords." And the answer comes from all directions, "Common schools of themselves do not make armies. They may make good material for armies, but that material must be fashioned into shape in the camp."

That every citizen when he reaches the age of manhood should receive some training in the use of arms most people will agree. A nation that knows how to use arms is not necessarily one that goes incessantly to war but it is a great thing that citizens should be able to protect themselves and their property at all times, and it is not difficult to make a soldier out of such material when it is necessary.

Germany has made use of a compulsory system, and so do all the great continental nations of Europe, but Germany approaches more nearly to the United States, because she takes her material from the common schools, and though the school systems differ, the results in both cases are remarkably intelligent men. A democracy, however, is dead against compulsory military training, and systematic training cannot be obtained otherwise. But there will be a great impetus towards voluntary training, and that will do pretty nearly all that is required for many years to come.

THE PERFECT PLOWS

In all agricultural countries it is on a good plow that the tiller of the soil relies for a good crop. We carry all kinds of plows from the large

- Sulky Plows
- to the smallest
- Rice Plows
- But it is on our
- Plantation

that we chiefly pride ourselves. These are in use on nearly every plantation on the Islands. Only within the last three weeks we have sold a number of the large plows to take the place of plows from other firms which had been returned as unsatisfactory.

The great advantage of the Perfect plow is that it requires less animals to draw it, and cuts an excellent furrow without digging down.

HOMESTEADS ON HAWAII

ENTHUSIASTIC DESCRIPTION OF THEIR BEAUTY.

John A. Moore Writes of a Vacation on the Big Island—The Homes He Saw There.

The following letter from John A. Moore gives suggestions of conditions and impressions from a point of view which has not often been presented of late, since utility alone became the standard by which everything in these Islands are to be measured. Mr. Moore saw something besides utility and evidently enjoyed a vacation on Hawaii, with some other idea in mind than the prospective dollars the soil was capable of producing. In the course of an interesting letter he says:

About 10 o'clock I left for Kukulu in care of one who knows exactly how to manage those fine horses from Horner's. During the afternoon I went out with John M. Horner and saw the cane passing by gravitation from the fields to the mill on the wire. I presume you are too familiar with this work to need any explanation. It is far better than fluming or railroading when the cane is raised above the mill. I think it must require at least 5 per cent fall. I am not authority on this, however.

On Friday I rode with Mr. Horner over his coffee. He has about 130 acres in good shape. The oldest is six, some five, years old, and of this he has 70 acres. From this he has had three crops. The first yielded 6 tons, the second 34 tons, and the third 30 tons, ready for the market. It was difficult for me, at first, to distinguish between the Guatemala and the native coffee. It is said that the Guatemala is stronger and bears earlier than the native. Mr. Horner is of the opinion that rolling land is better than level, but that it matters not which way it rolls, north or south, east or west. He is also of the opinion that the native coffee is about as well flavored as the Guatemala.

I must admit that the coffee on John M. Horner's place is the finest to be found in my travels, but when you know how it is cared for you can understand it. It is like everything about the Horner's—nothing is neglected.

With regard to the homesteads in Hamakua, I do not feel at liberty to speak as I would were I better informed. I have lost my notes on this part of my sightseeing and I can tell you of only one place especially, Miss Annie Horner has 70 acres of the finest land that I have seen in all my travels. It is said that several other homesteads are just as good, but I did not examine them closely. The coffee in this 70 acres is not bearing. I was so delighted with the soil and the growth of the vegetation generally, that I did not see how much was of the first planting, second planting etc. I did see that the whole place was in a lovely state of cultivation, though not all planted in coffee yet. I saw about twenty acres of fine corn on the place ready for market, and I was led to understand that the crop would reach thirty sacks to the acre, and that a plantation had bargained for the entire yield at one and a fourth cents a pound, or $1.25 a sack. The luna told me that they could reap two crops a year easily. They had grown one crop in ninety days. It is a lovely drive after leaving the plantations and passing along the new government road, which has a grade of less than 5 per cent. There are lovely cottages nestling along the roadside, inviting the traveler to call and give them a visit. When such men as Lovison, Lydgate, Notley and the Horner's, and Wight, president of the Wilder's Steamship Company, buy homesteads, you may expect to see lovely places.

SERVICE OF NOTICE BY PUBLICATION.

In the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit of the Republic of Hawaii, in Admiralty.

Russell Colegrove vs. the Steamship City of Columbia, her boilers, engines, machinery, boats, tackle apparel and furniture.

Whereas, Russell Colegrove, now at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Republic of Hawaii, has this day filed in the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit, Republic of Hawaii, in Admiralty, his libel against the steamship City of Columbia, whereof W. Milnor is now master, her boilers, engines, machinery, boats, tackle, apparel and furniture, in a cause civil and maritime of tort and damage, claiming $15,000 damages and costs, and praying that process of attachment issue against said steamship, her boilers, engines, machinery, boats, tackle, apparel and furniture, to satisfy his said claim, and, Whereas, the Honorable A. Perry, First Judge of said Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit has this day ordered process to issue as prayed for returnable before him at his Chambers in the Judiciary Building (Aliiolani Hale) in said Honolulu, on Saturday, September 24, 1898, at 10 a. m., and has ordered that notice by publication of these proceedings until the return day aforesaid be given daily in some daily newspaper published in Honolulu, citing all parties interested to appear and show cause why the prayer of the libel aforesaid should not be granted.

Now, Therefore, in compliance with the mandate of the Court, notice is hereby given to all interested in said steamship or in said proceedings, to appear at the time and place aforesaid set for making return of process and for the hearing of said libel, there and then to show cause if any they have, why the prayer of the libel aforesaid should not be granted.

A Tumor Formed

Finally It Broke Inwardly and Discharged

Trouble Began With Dyspepsia and Impure Blood

Thorough Course of Hood's Sarsaparilla Completely Cures.

There is danger in impure blood. Disease and suffering are surely coming to those who neglect this threatening symptom. Read this:

"Gilliam, Missouri.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—My troubles began with nervous headaches, which would last me for two or three days. The doctors pronounced my trouble dyspepsia, but they could not do anything for me, and advised a change of location. At the age of 55 a tumor formed on my spine, which was very painful

but did not rise or discharge. The doctor thought best to cut it out, but I objected. It finally broke and discharged a great deal. The doctors said they could do nothing for it. Then the tumor began to rise inwardly and discharge. I read much about cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would try it. Before I had finished taking one bottle I was much relieved. I continued the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking 12 bottles I was entirely cured. I am now well, have a good appetite and feel that I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. D. FORK.

Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest safest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."
This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light.
Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.
We have a complete stock of everything in this line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers

Impure Blood

Suffered for three years

Mr. F. Westall of Mitcham, So. Australia, sends us his portrait which shows a smooth and healthy condition of the skin. But he has had the following experience:

"For the past three years I have been suffering from an eruption of the body. I had medical attendance and had medicine to take and a lotion for outward application, but they did not do me the slightest good. In fact I tried all sorts of medicine and nothing seemed to relieve me. My life was a burden. I had no appetite and I could not sleep. I was strongly advised to try by a friend who had received great benefit from it. I did so, and after taking only two bottles the itching left me and I felt better in every way. I continued taking the Sarsaparilla and altogether took six bottles. I am now free from the eruption and can eat and sleep as well as I ever did in my life. It is now about eight months since I was cured, so I am sure I can say the cure is a permanent one."

DR. AYER'S Sarsaparilla

For constipation take Dr. Ayer's Pills. They promptly relieve and surely cure. Take them with Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla: one aids the other.

THE REGATTA DAY RACES

CONCLUDING EVENTS OF A VERY SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR.

President Dole Captures Another Yacht Race in the Bonnie Dundee—Fiasco in the 100 Yards Swim.

President Dole won the first class yacht race and $50 on Saturday by 5 minutes and 6 seconds, in his yacht the Bonnie Dundee. The time over the 20 mile course was 3 hours 42 minutes and 31 seconds. Judge Wilcox took the second prize in the Hawaii.

The race for second class yachts was won by the Pokik on a time allowance of 4 minutes 32 seconds. The Malolo crossed the line first in 2:17:23, but took second place on a time allowance of 1 minute 23 seconds. The Pauline took third money. The distance sailed was nine miles.

The six oared gig race, rowed by Hawaiian crews, went to the Kanoani in 17 minutes 23-5 seconds.

In the 100 yards swimming race the others were not in it with Renear and Kimoko. Unfortunately Renear, heeding the advice of a friend in a boat, stopped just before crossing the line, and the race went to the native.

The six paddle canoe race was won by the Kakaako in 19 minutes 51 seconds. The event for sailing canoes went to the Mani-Boy, time 22 minutes.

The punt race, rowed by two crews of the Philadelphia with coal shovels, was the most amusing event of the day. It was won by Crowley's crew in 7 minutes 11 seconds.

In the four-oared sliding seat barge race the Henlanis withdrew, one of their men being disabled. The Myrtles put in three crews and a very exciting race ensued. The Myrtle finished first and the All Rogers second. The time was 15 minutes 31 seconds.

Seaman Ytting of the Philadelphia won the tub race and Kona Boy the long distance diving contest.

The twelve-oared cutter race between the engineers force and deck hands of the Philadelphia was for blood and all the money on the ship. The deck hands won a hard pulled race by 11 seconds.

The Lehua's crew captured the steamer boat race against crews from the Mauna Loa, Mokoli and Kinau. Time, 16:27.

The four-oared dingy race went to the John A. Briggs with a native crew. Arrangements for the day were perfect and the regatta committee were indefatigable in their efforts to make everything go off well, which it did.

NOTICE.

Dr. J. H. Raymond gives notice that he has resumed his practice with office on Beretania street, near Emma, and has changed his office hours as follows: 9:00 to 11:00 a. m., 1:00 to 3:00 and 7:00 to 8:00 p. m.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Mr. A. F.  We claim to have the facilities, workmen and experience which enables us to turn out work that is entirely satisfactory to you and to us. We never slight any work entrusted to us but rather, the reverse, by making a little better job than you anticipated. In the long run it pays us—for when you next have a job—you naturally bring it to us.

If you have, or only glanced over them, you must believe either that we are colossal liars or that we are stating facts worth your investigation. The hundreds of well dressed men and boys who have been clothed by us this season are living testimony to the truth of our advertisements.
