AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE SOME NOTABLE CASES

WIRES TO BE LAID UNDERGROUND IN TOWN

REPORTS FROM MAINLAND CITIES TESTIFY TO THE EFFICIENCY OF THE SYSTEM THERE.

Col. Soper, talking to a Bulletin reporter about the automatic telephone franchise, for which a bill was introduced today, said it was the intention of the company to place its wires underground, in the business part of the town at least. If the difference between aerial and underground conductors proves no greater than is claimed elsewhere, then the wires will be laid underground all over the system. Col. Soper showed the reporter letters from various mainland cities, some of which conveyed information from still other cities, all of them very favorable to the new mode of telephony proposed to be installed by the company.

Fall River, Mass., has had the Strouger system in operation 15 months, having an installation of 900 numbers. It gives general satisfaction there.

Augusta, Georgia, has had the system six years and later obtained a switchboard with a capacity of 10,000 subscribers. The writer of the letter from this place says the connections are made very rapidly, while the subscriber has everything under personal control. All conversation is private and there is no cross talk.

A letter from Portland, Me., states that the Strouger automatic telephone is the only system worthy of consideration for new installation, particularly in cities where patrons want secret communication at reasonable rates. The writer mentions Columbus and Dayton in Ohio as cities obtaining complete satisfaction from the system. At a competition in Grand Rapids, Michigan, the Strouger won against 11 competitors. In Portland an installation for 5000 subscribers had been made, with provision for an ultimate 10,000.

An article in the Brooklyn Eagle some time ago mentioned that Germany had adopted this "girlless" telephone, after experience had with a system installed for the Government in Berlin. In this system the subscriber makes his own connection with a desired number by manipulating a lever upon a dial. If that number is busy the fact is indicated by a "buzz" in the transmitter, but nobody can in anywise break into a conversation between two other subscribers. One operator tending a switchboard with 1000 numbers is sufficient at central.

VETERAN PRINTER DEAD

James Auld, one of the oldest of Honolulu printers, died at 7 o'clock this morning. For several years he had been feeble, having sustained a stroke of paralysis. Lately he was twice stricken the same way, so as to affect his right side and render him helpless to the end.

The dead man once owned and published the P. C. Advertiser in partnership with Captain J. H. Black. In comparatively recent years he has worked in different printing offices. He had the reputation of being without a local superior in poster work. His age at death was 63 years. Of gentle disposition and polite manners, Mr. Auld was highly esteemed in the fraternity of the art preservative as well as in the general community.

The late William Auld, who died last year, was a brother. James Auld's wife died some years ago. He leaves two daughters and a son—Mrs. H. C. Pfleger, Mrs. H. C. Morton and Harry Auld—also two sisters—Mrs. Wm. Adams and Miss Agnes Auld.

The funeral will take place from the undertaking parlors of H. H. Williams to the Catholic cemetery at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.
There is to be a celebration of St. Patrick's Day this year by the Irish men in town. A meeting to discuss ways and means is called for this evening at Waverley Hall at 7:30 o'clock.

Representatives and Senators Give Notice of Intentions

SENATE.

Fourth Day.

The Senate was opened with prayer by Chaplain Ezera at 10 a. m. and Secretary Savidge read the minutes, which were approved. Senators Crabbe (President), C. Brown, Wilcox, Dickey, Baldwin, Isenberg, McCandless, Achi, Paris, Woods, J. T. Brown, Kaohu, Kalanokalani and Kalua were present at the opening. Senator Nakapahu, reported sick the second day, was still absent.

Sticking for Form.
By communication of Clerk Meheula, the House returned the Senate joint resolution on Statehood for "want of proper certification."

President Crabbe made an explanation showing that the Secretary was not to blame. The House had a rubber stamp mode of certification and he supposed the Senate must comply with it.

Senator Cecil Brown contended that originals of all documents going from one branch to another must be transmitted.

Senator Kaioe moved that the communication be received and filed. Senator Kalanokalani favored sending the resolution back to the House for action.

Finally, on motion of Senator Dickey, it was voted that the President and Secretary certify the document upon itself and have it again sent to the House.

Petitions.
Senator Baldwin presented a petition from residents of Honolulu praying for an appropriation of $10,000 for grading a road in that locality.

Senator Baldwin also presented a petition from a committee of the Leper Settlement, praying for the repair of roads, the construction of a railway from the landing, the establishing of a storage plant, etc.

President Crabbe, on a motion to refer, stated that it was the President's function to designate the committee to which a petition or other matter should be referred. A motion was only in order if a member was not satisfied with the reference made. He referred the Honolulu petition to the Public Lands Committee.

Objection was raised by Senator Dickey to the reading of the Leper Settlement petition because it was not in English. Senator Baldwin thought the practice had been to receive petitions written only in Hawaiian.

Senator Kalanokalani made a motion in Hawaiian, which caused laughter and was seconded in English but not interpreted into English. It was put without interpretation and carried, the apparent result being that the petition was not read.

The logical conclusion of the incident is that motions in the Senate are not "proceedings," but that petitions are.

Senator Dickey read a long petition from thirty-five teachers of East Maui, against county control of educational affairs.

Senator Baldwin suggested that the petition should be referred to the County Bill Committee, but first translated and printed.

President Crabbe said his intended action was anticipated by the Senator who had just spoken.

Special Session Committees.
Senator Isenberg, as chairman of the special session committee on the Public Works Department, stated that they found Superintendent Cooper was preparing a bill to be introduced. He understood that bill had been turned over to Senator McCandless. Therefore he moved that the committee be discharged, as they had no further report to make.

At this point Mr. Carter arose and announced that he would reserve the right to rule out of order any member present since he had a very high precedent seated at his right. This caused a laugh and the pleasure of the evening went merrily on.

One of the most thoughtful speeches of the evening was that of Chief Justice

At the opening of today's session, the regular chaplain being absent, Mr. Kaill of Kauai asked a blessing. Would Expedite Business.

After the usual preliminaries, the Speaker announced that, as a member of the last Legislature, he had noticed a lot of delay in the work on account of the partiality shown certain printing houses that were unable to attend to the mass of work sent there. In order that the printing might be impartially distributed, he would instruct the clerk to call for public bids on printing, this to assist the Printing Committee in arriving at some basis as to price. This was done in order that the work of the House might be facilitated and rushed ahead.

The Speaker next referred to the fact that Washington's birthday was being celebrated today. He hoped the House would get down to good hard work for an hour or more and then adjourn for the day and attend the prize drill. This was offered as a suggestion.

Mr. Kanioh presented a petition for a new road on Hawaii. This was referred to the Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements.

Mr. Paele's bill relating to the cremation of deceased persons without the permission of relatives passed first reading and was referred to the Printing Committee.

HOUSE.

Fifth Day.

Carter Dinner WAS Joyful Assembly

Through the medium of the dinner given by George R. Carter, Secretary of the Territory, at the Hawaiian Hotel Saturday night, the legislators now in the city in attendance at the regular session of the Legislature, have been brought into closer and more cordial relations, one with the other, and there is a feeling of unity and harmony abroad in the city among the politicians of the two parties that has for its key-note the welfare of the people of the Territory.

The dinner was served in the large dining-room of the Hawaiian Hotel, which had been beautifully decorated with Hawaiian and American flags, ferns and palms for the occasion. Included among the guests were the members of the Senate and House, as well as the heads of the various departments of the Government. Owing to the inclemency of the weather and the fact that some of the invited guests were ill at home with a prevalent fever, there were only forty-two present, but this represented the very large majority of those who had been invited.

The table was in the shape of a rectangle in the central portion of which was a bank of palms and ferns. Mr. Carter occupied the head, while seated at his right and left, respectively, were Speaker Fred. W. Beckley of the House and President Clarence L. Crabbe of the Senate. The table itself was decorated in red, the flowers being carnations and the shades of red paper. A quintet club stationed near the lower entrance furnished music during the dinner. There were ten courses in all, among the first being frog's legs, which the natives characterized as "awawe mau" but ate just the same.

Speaker Beckley started the ball rolling by proposing a toast to Mr. Carter, who replied that he would respond after everyone had gotten a little more to eat. The spirit of good fellowship was, however, altogether too well defined to allow a little thing like this to stop the flow of spirits. Senator Cecil Brown arose and spoke of the need of unity of action in the work of the Legislature. The speaker was greeted with rounds of applause.

Senator Kalanokalani next arose and succeeded in making one of the very best speeches of the evening. He stated that it was absolutely necessary for the good of the Territory at large that all sectional and personal feeling should be buried if the good of the people was to be conserved. He wanted unity of thought and action, and harmony should prevail in all of the deliberations of the Legislature.

Mr. Carter entered into the spirit of the thing and, throwing to the winds the usual custom of waiting until the end of the dinner for speeches, responded to the toast which Mr. Beckley had proposed to him. His response was in a general way and he then called on Prince Jonah Kūhio Kalaniana'ole, who made a splendid speech in Hawaiian. It was sensible and strong and appealed to all present. He, too, counseled the burying of all past differences.

Senator Crabbe was next called on. He began by lauding the praises of the Senate and the fact that that body had already done three days' work. The effect was instantaneous and the members of the House, feeling pride in their body, began whispering about that they would not allow the Senate to outdo them in the matter of work. Their first two days may have been spent in something other than work, but they would show the Senate before the session was over that they would have a hard time to catch up with them.

At this point Mr. Carter arose and announced that he would reserve the right to rule out of order any member present since he had a very high precedent seated at his right. This caused a laugh and the pleasure of the evening went merrily on.

SEWER CONNECTIONS AS PUBLIC CHARGE

RECOMMENDATIONS OF SENATE COMMITTEE ON THE BOARD OF HEALTH AFFAIRS.

Following is the report of the special session committee on the Board of Health presented by Senator Dickey on Saturday:

"We have been unable to find any serious charges against the Board of Health based on their actions during the past biennial period.

"The problem of insuring the public health against epidemics and insanitary conditions without entailing serious expense and hardship on the part of the people, is a very difficult one, and while the Board of Health may have made some errors in judgment in attempting to solve the problem we feel that they have acted to the best of their ability in the matter and are entitled to the appreciation of the public.

"Your committee would recommend that the regulations in regard to plumbing and sewerage be made as much as practicable, a matter of law instead of remaining simply regulations of the Board under general powers granted them, and this be done in a manner to conserve the public health at as small an expense to individuals as possible.

"We recommend that in such laws no charge be made for connecting premises with the sewers but that such expense be borne by the county or city and that there be no yearly rates for use of sewer."

In case of such holding the amendment provides that "the excess shall be condemned, whether or not as a public nuisance, a public folly or a public peril and be accordingly forfeited into the United States treasury."

ESTEE ON WASHINGTON

One of the largest congregations in the history of the church filled Central Union last evening, the occasion being the anniversary of the birth of Washington. There was a praise service at the beginning, led by the pastor of the church, the choir giving several selections. At the conclusion of this service, Mr. Kincaid introduced Judge Morris M. Estee, the orator of the evening. In the beginning of his discourse on the life and political principles, the speaker said:

"We are here tonight to pay tribute to the memory of the most illustrious American. He was the Father of his Country, for he did more toward securing and maintaining American liberty than any other one man. He was the world's greatest defender of freedom, and his name and transcendent virtues will live dearer to the people of the world as the years roll by.

"Perhaps no one fact in relation to Washington strikes the American people with greater wonder today than that during the revolution, he was the most abused man on the continent, and for no other reason than because he was the most conspicuous character of the time. It may be that like that other great American, Lincoln, he was abused because he was just, and because he was greater and better than other men."

"MARITANA" REPEATED.

The repetition of the opera of Maritana at the opera house Saturday night was a success and the work was every bit as good as on the occasions of the first two productions of the opera, notwithstanding the fact that quite an interim had elapsed since the last performance. The singers were all in good voice. Mrs. Annis Montague-Turner was particularly good and she was frequently applauded by the large audience that almost filled the opera house, notwithstanding the weather or the fact that there had been two other crowded houses out to witness the opera on previous occasions.

The opera was repeated for the benefit of the Hospital for incurables and was under the direction of Mrs. Annis Montague-Turner and Mrs. E. D. Tenney.

Interesting Dialogue

While taking a ride in the Rapid Transit cars the writer heard the following dialogue between two passengers:—

1st Passenger—"You look ill, my friend; got the Dengue Fever?"

2d Passenger—"Yes, I am not feeling well at all."

1st Passenger—"Well, my friend, take my advice. Go to Hoffschlaeger's, on King St., and buy

One Gallon of their White Rye Whiskey, or

One Gallon of their Best Gin;

Take a hot drink of that which you buy when retiring and that will fix you in great shape. It cured me, and it will cure you."

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1903.

With a few more cold snaps there'll be snow on Punchbowl.

Hilo's proposition is: If we are to have county government why let us have county government.

Barnum and Bailey have both passed off the scene of action, but they established a circus that will go on forever.

So Edmund P. poses as a teetotaler. Well, the next funniest thing is his successor addressing a meeting of the Anti-Saloon League.

Inspector Baldwin is at least honest on the school question. He admits that he has found the demand universal for county control of schools.

Judge Kahua having come out in favor of Lahaina for the Maui county seat is likely to find the atmosphere of Wailuku too cold for comfort.

When the British Cabinet openly defends its position in the Venezuelan affair, it implies that something has been done which requires defense.

Governor Schroeder of Guam is deserving of high praise as being one of the most successful officials who ever attempted to do something with nothing.

With the railroad prospects good on all sides, Hawaii can afford to study the proposition of one county for the island and a municipal government for Hilo.

The flood of bills that is coming in can only be dammed by a bulwark of hard work in the committees in order that speedy reports may be made for legislative action.

Other British parliaments have promised to speedily settle the Irish land question, and future parliaments are not likely to want for an opportunity to make promises.

Sombody will soon be asking Canada if it wants to run the American government, should a protest be offered against Turner and Lodge on the Alaska Boundary Commission.

Poor Castro is between the devilish revolutionists and the deep blue sea. And the Allies seem determined to control the sea in a way that will render all assistance possible to the revolutionists.

Wheels of legislative affairs appear to be running to the satisfaction of the members who find that business will be forwarded by letting well enough alone. There have been plenty of mix-ups for one season.

A prize drill may look like mere fun for the boys, but the people should bear in mind that it is about all the fun the boys get out of the military service which makes them liable to be called on at any time for more serious duty.

Under the recent Internal Revenue Department ruling dispensers of soda water will not be anxious to convince the public that it is getting anything more than an imitation of the real thing when it comes to soda with a stick in it.

KAUAI AMENDMENT POPULAR.

Specific endorsement of the Kauai school amendment as published in the Bulletin by the citizens of East Hawaii, the declaration of Kau Republicans and the apparent sentiment of this public meeting held under the auspices of the Republican committee in Wailuku leaves little doubt that the people have made up their minds on the school question. The only advocates of the present centralized system are such paid officers of the Department of Public Instruction as are circulating petitions among the teachers and certain department officers in Honolulu.

The sentiment of the majority in the future counties is that the parents are far better able to look after their children than the department rules from a Honolulu office. This opinion may have been created by a poor administration of a good system but the administration and the system have undergone the tests of many years of experience and the people are perfectly capable of rendering calm and competent judgment.

The centralized system of school control has been advocated as a protection to the country districts, or islands other than Oahu. We now find that these districts are far from satisfied,

Their experience has proved to their satisfaction that the protection is a myth. They know the responsibility of local control and are not afraid to assume it. A feature of this demand is that it comes from the most conservative elements of the islands. It cannot be characterized as the complaint of a discontented few. The chief discontent seems to be among officials who will possibly be displaced or their authority curtailed.

With the people decided in their opinions on county government, the Legislature is in duty bound to heed their demands. Even with the liberal county government sought our general system will still be more centralized than exists on the Mainland States and Territories, which serve as examples for Hawaii.

2. The sum of $10,000 for macadamizing Punchbowl street from Beretania to Punaia bridge. 3. The sum of $2,000 for macadamizing Miller street from Beretania to Punchbowl.

To be considered with Appropriation Bill. Pension for the Queen. Mr. Kumalae gave notice of his intention to introduce the following:

1. An Act to prevent any person to treat leprosy. 2. An Act authorizing the Board of Health to prohibit persons afflicted with leprosy and pulmonary tuberculosis from entering and remaining in this Territory.

3. An Act to appropriate a pension for ex-Queen Liliuokalani. 4. An Act to amend section 812 of the Civil Laws, relating to carriage taxes.

Expenses of House. Kumalae's bill for expenses of the House was read the second time. The original intention of the bill was to include the Senate, but the Upper House having already passed a bill, leaving only the House of Representatives, the bill was amended to include only the latter and the sum of money was reduced from $50,000 to $40,000. In this shape, it passed second reading under suspension of rules, and was placed on the order of the day for tomorrow.

Mr. Chillingworth's bill providing for courts was read first time by title and referred to the Committee on Enrollment, Revision and Printing.

Mr. Hala's bill relating to taxes, was read first time by title and referred to the same committee.

On motion of W. W. Harris, the House adjourned until tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Senator Cecil Brown moved in amendment that all special session committees be discharged. On representation that the committee on the Land Office would have a report, he accepted an amendment giving that committee three days more time. The amendment carried.

Resolutions. Senator Dickey gave notice of a bill to provide for the incorporation of cities in the Territory of Hawaii. Also, of a bill to grant a franchise to W. W. Dimond and associates for the manufacture of hydro-carbon gas.

Senator Dickey also presented a resolution to the effect that the printing committees of both branches confer to prevent duplicate printing of bills. Senator McCandless made the suggestion (not translation) be included, which the mover accepted. Senator C. Brown stated that, as chairman of the printing committee, he had already had a conference with the chairman of the House Printing Committee to the very end desired. The Governor's message was not yet translated, hence was not yet in the printer's hands. On receiving this information Senator Dickey withdrew his resolution.

Senator Achi gave notice of a bill relating to real estate of deceased persons. Also, of a bill to relieve the Board of Health from the power of making regulations, such power as now held to be transferred to the Governor in council. Also, of a bill to encourage the cultivation of castor oil. All were referred to the Printing Committee.

Senator McCandless gave notice of a bill to license the retail sale of malt liquors. On suspension of the rules he read it a first time. It provides for a license fee of $250 a year, and the keeping open of retailing places from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. Also, of a bill to license the brewing and sale of malt liquors, which was also read a first time. Also, of a bill to repeal the Act of 1886 imposing a special tax on malt liquors.

Senator Achi objected to having these bills printed. The subjects would come up in the County Bill. He believed all subjects coming up in the County Bill should be turned over to the committee on that subject.

Senator C. Brown answered that there was nothing specific relative to the sale of malt liquors in the County Bill. The courts had decided that the sale of domestic beer under special licenses was illegal and the object of these measures was to straighten out the matter, so that either the Territory or the county might obtain a revenue from the beer.

As a result of the discussion the bill went on their regular course to the Printing Committee.

Senator Crabbe, with Vice President Paris in the chair, introduced a bill to regulate the employment of labor on public works. Being lengthy it was read by title and referred to the Printing Committee. Also, a bill to regulate the practice of dental surgery, which took the same course.

Expense of Senate. The bill to appropriate $25,000 for defraying the expenses of the special session of 1902 and the regular session of 1903 on the Senate came up on third reading. Senator Kalaoukalanai moved, seconded by Senator Isenberg, that the ayes and noes be called on its passage. The vote was declared as 14 ayes and no noes.

On motion of Senator Cecil Brown, seconded by Senator Kalaoukalanai, the Senate at 11:30 adjourned for the day out of respect to the birthday of George Washington, to meet again at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Mr. Frear, who dwelt upon the relation of the executive, judiciary and legislative branches of the Government, one to the other. They were inter-dependent instead of being independent.

In introducing Speaker Beckley, Mr. Carter said he hoped that as Speaker of the House, he would hold it in hand and answer the scoffers who were saying Hawaiians were not qualified to legislate. Two-thirds of the membership of the House was Hawaiian and the Speaker and these men had the opportunity of showing that they were fully qualified.

Attorney General Andrews referred to the work of his department and was Mr. Carter dubbed the "grandfather of the Legislature." Mr. Baldwin in responding, denied the allegation and laid the weight of the nickname on Senator Cecil Brown.

Senator Achi made a very strong speech and was followed by Mr. Harris, who made some laughable allusions to Mark Twain's description of Premier Harries who was at the head of affairs here when Mr. Clemmons paid a visit to the islands. His remarks were both appropriate and pleasing.

Senator Palmer P. Woods toasted the liberality of the Federal Government in the matter of the fire claims and other measures and referred in the highest praise to the most trustworthy and efficient Federal officers who had been sent out here to preside over the various departments.

Treasurer Kepoikal referred to the work of his department and impressed upon all those present the importance of the Hawaiians in the Legislature showing to all the world their perfect fitness to legislate.

Mr. Carter called on Mr. Knudsen of Kauai, who stated that he was not a speaker. He had come to Honolulu to work. However, there was one member of the Kauai delegation whom the people of the Garden Isles were pleased to call the "Silver-tongued orator of Kauai."

Mr. Carter thereupon called for Mr. Gandall, who made one of his characteristic speeches. The enthusiasm aroused by the oratory of this polished Hawaiian speaker know no bounds, and time and again he was forced to desist for a moment on account of the bursts of applause. In one part of his speech, he referred to the good work of the missionary fathers and said he was glad to see the descendants of the missionaries working along hand in hand with the Hawaiians.

Mr. Carter proposed a toast to President Roosevelt and every man was on his feet in an instant. The cheers were prolonged and after the drinking of the toast, everyone present raised his voice to the fullest capacity in the rendition of the old, beloved Hawaiian national anthem, "Hawaii Pono." This was the signal that all was at an end and the legislators and all those present, went to their homes.

SNOW ON HUALALAI

Kaliua, Hawaii, Feb. 20.--Soon after the departure of the Mauna Loa yesterday the weather here changed. It had been blowing from the South all the morning and now dark clouds began to gather on the uplands, large drops of rain fell here and there, and towards evening the rumbling of distant thunder, the first for many months, was heard. Then rain fell in torrents and soon filled the water tanks and cisterns that were becoming empty during the dry spell of over a month. This morning the crest of Hualalai is covered with snow, beautiful white snow, the first since 1888, the children staring open mouthed at the novel sight.

MAUI WAS SURPRISED

Wailuku, Feb. 21.--The news of the election of Hon. Fred W. Beckley as Speaker of the House was received on Maui this week with no less surprise than by those present on the floor of the House at the time. A prominent Democrat exclaimed that it was something unheard of in politics that the Speaker should be selected from among the minority.

Attorney George Hons on his deathbed, and within ten hours of his death, when he was apprised of the fact, said that Mr. Chillingworth had split the Republican party, and these words were uttered in the very house where Mr. Chillingworth had his home when a resident of Wailuku.

At any rate, the election was a surprise to leading Republicans, especially when, on the eve of election, some of them received assurances from members of the House that Hon. Jonah Kumalae would receive the Speakership. But there are, of course, some Republicans on Maui of the same view as the seven who bolted and voted with the ten Home Rulers. They reason that the Central Committee should not interfere too much in politics; that they should not dictate to the legislators as to what they should do and what measures they should vote for and what to oppose; that the Central Committee should not dictate to the heads of bureaus as to the appointments of subordinates, or, in other words, that they should be governed by the same liberal spirit as Governor Pardee of California, who does not care to interfere in the appointments of subordinates. These are some of the views expressed by some of the leading citizens of Wailuku, and some of them leading Republicans.

It only goes to show the great need of the organization of a school in practical politics in Wailuku or else she would forfeit her claim to the county seat of Maui.

Inspector Baldwin

FINDS PEOPLE

Red Hot On Schools

Hilo, Feb. 20.--School Inspector Baldwin arrived in Hilo the first of the week from Kau. Mr. Baldwin states that the people in that part of the island are red-hot for local government in every particular. He says that the general demand for local control of schools is surprising. He had thought the people generally would be willing to take up the management of schools two years later, when experience would have been gained in other branches of local government.

Asked as to his views, Mr. Baldwin said: "In common with other members in the Department, I consider that to turn over the schools entirely to local management would be the ruination of the schools."

Mr. Baldwin also stated that there was a movement among the teachers of all the islands protesting against any change from the present centralized system. He brought petitions from Maui to this island for circulation among teachers.--Tribune.

BOYS IN BOAT RACE.

The much-talked-of and long-expected barge race between crews from St. Louis College and the High School took place Saturday afternoon as advertised, the starter's gun sending the two boats off at 2:30 sharp on their way around the spar buoy.

The boys, who up to two months ago were novices at the oars, most of them never having been in a sliding seat until they began to learn, pulled well and showed that they were very evenly matched. It was a close race all the way, the High School crew winning by half a boat in the splendid time of 11:28 for the mile and a half. About 500 partisans of the two crews were at the Healan boat-house to see the event, the start being made right off the pontoon on a line from the corner of it with the lighthouse.

The members of the High School crew were Harry Holt, stroke; Bob Clarke, 5; D. Sherwood, 4; E. Dusha, 3; Sam Dwight, 2; Henry Williams, bow. The St. Louis crew was composed of the following boys: Henry Sullivan, stroke; T. Pattigan, 5; Joseph Whitmarsh, 4; Deed Dow, 3; Aki, 2; Alec Rees, bow.

DEFRAUDING CHINESE.

Several complaints have of late been recorded at the police station by Chinese clothiers against the practice of sailors who have been defrauding them of goods. The practice is to go to the merchant and order clothes and other necessities for a voyage, tendering in exchange an advance note which is to be paid when the vessel on which the sailor has shipped, has sailed. The goods would always be delivered the night before the vessel sailed and the sailor ordering would receive them. However, before the ship sailed, it was the custom for the sailor to change his mind and come ashore with his effects. The advance note being no good under the circumstances, the Chinese would be out his money.

The planters from the various islands met this forenoon for the purpose of talking over the labor situation and as a motion to say nothing for publication was passed, it was not possible to get very much out of the various plantation managers seen. However, it was learned that it had been decided that each island would be left to work out its own salvation in the matter of the labor on the various plantations.

JOLLY JERRY BURNS LOST AND FOUND

Wailuku, Feb. 21 - Jerry Burns, a hapa-haole resident of UluPalakun, came down with a friend to have a little enjoyment with old acquaintances at Wailuku. Their friends proved to them that absence does not in the least affect the tie of friendship that linked them together by filling them up with sparkling home made beer. It was almost midnight when Jerry got suddenly possessed with a desire to go home to his humble but nappy cot at UluPalakun and to finish up the night's celebration in the company of his wife and family. He got his horse and away he rode in the darkness on his twenty-mile journey. The recent rains have made several deep ruts in the road between here and Maalea bay, making it almost unsafe even for a man in the full possession of his faculties to travel alone in such a rainy night. Somewhere between Wai-kapu and Puuhohe, nobody knows where, Jerry either dismounted his steed or was thrown off. At any rate the horse was found at 1 o'clock this morning by hackmen going down to meet the Kinau, but minus the rider. This morning Capt. Geo. Cummings and Constable C. Crowell instituted a search in the rain for the missing man. Hills were scaled and running streams were surveyed with no signs of Jerry Burns. The officials were about to give up their search when they were met by a policeman from Kula who had passed Jerry Burns, with clothes wet but otherwise unharmed, heading his horse for UluPalakun. Next time Jerry comes to Wailuku the police would warn his admirers to show their appreciation of him in a different manner.

GONE TO GET MARRIED.

Wailuku, Feb. 24 - Messrs. Sparks and Penhallow, bookkeepers of the Kihel and Wailuku Sugar Plantations, left for Honolulu by the steamer Mauna Loa last Thursday evening. They will both return with their brides and their friends will be at the landing when they arrive ready to pelt them with rice and muddy old shoes.

Crown of Snow Adorns Old Haleakala

Wailuku, Feb. 21 - Last Thursday afternoon when the black, gloomy and threatening clouds hovering above Central Maui cleared away after the roar of thunder, during a heavy rain storm, old Haleakala presented to the wondering gaze of all a scene of most exquisite grandeur. For a distance of fifteen or more miles, all along the western summit and extending for a distance of 3000 feet or more from the top, was a mass of snow. All Central Maui turned out to view the sight. The grand display of last year is exceeded by the present. Yesterday and today the clouds have again hidden the view from the admiring public. The weather is extremely cold, and is especially severe on Honolulu people, who are not accustomed to such weather. The present display by grand old Haleakala is declared by many kamaainas to be a record breaker, the area covered by snow being greatly in excess of any previous similar exhibitions. aljlaesgftregneobxnoesbcywfJhGy o

OCEANIC STEAMER MEN ARRESTED IN 'FRISCO

There was one more arrest on the Spreckels steamer Sierra in San Francisco February 12. The ship's chief cook, Collins, a colored man, was taken into custody and charged with smuggling English cloth. To date the officers in difficulties are the purser, the first assistant engineer, the fourth assistant engineer and the chief cook. The purser is not in trouble with the Government, like the others. He merely incurred the disfavor of his bosses. Inquiry at the Custom House developed that the Sierra has not been fined as yet for coming in without a manifest for any other papers. This may be due to the fact that the Collector of the Port is now away. Perchance the acting Collector has the power to remit the steamship company, but if he should assume it a legal tangle might result.

On the sister ship, Spreckels' steamer Ventura, the officers are not yet out of the clutches of the law. The chief officer and the boatswain, who were arrested and charged with smuggling in immigrants at $25 a head, are still out on bail. Their case was argued before Commissioner Heacock yesterday, but in the course of the argument in their defense, the Commissioner faintly dead away. Mr. Heacock is better today, and tomorrow will decide whether the Ventura's officers are to be held for trial.

The next Spreckels steamer, the Sonoma, is not due until March 2. This gives the Government officials and inspectors fifteen days in which to prepare to swoop down upon her and not let a rogue escape - San Francisco Post.

Hilo Sugar Co., on Thursday, February 26, at 3 p. m., at the office of Wm. G. Irwin & Co., Ltd. Punaohawai Coffee Co., Ltd., on Thursday, February 26, at 3:30 p. m., at the office of Wm. G. INCOME TAX DOES NOT DISCRIMINATE

Judge Gilbert of the United States Court of Appeals, in his decision upholding the Hawaii income tax law, said:

The appellants by their bill seek to enjoin the enforcement of the income tax on the ground that it violates both the Organic Act of the Territory and the Constitution of the United States in that it contains illegal discriminations, fails to exempt the salaries of Judges and compels taxpayers to furnish evidence against themselves that may result in their criminal prosecution. It is contended that the exemption of incomes to the extent of $1,000 is an illegal discrimination. The power of state Legislatures to grant reasonable exemptions is undisputed. It has been upheld on grounds of public policy, a public policy which seeks to exclude from taxation the living expenses of the average family and thus enable the poor man to escape from being a public burden. It rests upon the theory that the exemption results in ultimate benefit to the taxpayer. It does not apply to corporations, for they have not the same expenses as the individual. We are unable to discover any ground for holding that an exemption of income to the extent of $1,000 from an income tax law is unreasonable, or that its allowance is an abuse of legislative discretion.

Upon a careful consideration of the act and of the averments of the bill, we discover no ground for enjoining the collection of the tax, and find therefore no equity in the bill. The act was undoubtedly intended to remedy the depletion of the revenues of the Territory. It contains no evidence of an intention to unjustly or unfairly discriminate. It places the burden of taxation upon the points of strongest resistance, where it is easiest borne.

RODMAN IN CHARGE

Captain and Mrs. Whiting are booked to leave for the Coast by the steamer tomorrow. Mrs. Whiting has been a little better of late but it is considered necessary that she go to the Coast to reside permanently as the climate of this country does not agree with her at all.

It is thought that an appointment has already been made to the vacancy at the Naval Station caused by the transferring of Captain Whiting to the Coast but no official advices to that effect have yet been received by the local authorities. During the interim, Lieut. Rodman, commander of the U. S. S. Iroquois, will take charge of the affairs at the Naval Station.

THE WAY IT IS.

It's just this way: If you make up your mind to cling to old customs and regard everything new and up-to-date as an interloping intrusion on your grandfather's habits; if you are satisfied to drag along in the same old rut and will not lift up your head to scientific advances; if you discountenance the results of studious men who apply their lives to the advancement of humanity; how do you profit? Do you put your hand to the plow for the benefit of your fellow-men?

The drone is born, dies and leaves no mark of honor in the Hall of Fame; the worker, the man who understands, accepts the situation and advances with the times. The public knows a good thing and adopts it. Take, for instance, the DOUGLAS PATENT CLOSURE, guaranteed against leakage and the annoyance of running water. The DOUGLAS came, the people saw, and—the DOUGLAS conquered! It won the hearts of the people. Bath, The Plumber, handles the DOUGLAS.

WATKINS ON GLOBE COMPANY'S STEAMERS

Norman Watkins, agent at this port for the Globe Navigation Co., of Seattle, says that the story published some time ago in the Advertiser to the effect that the steamers of the company would in future not come to this port, is a yarn made out of whole cloth. The statement that claims for damages against the company had not been paid, was also false.

All the claims except those on the freight brought here on the last steamer, had been settled in full, and the latter are being adjusted now.

Regarding the statement that the steamers would not come here any more, Mr. Watkins states that the company has a contract with the United States government to supply on order, ten thousand tons of coal to the port of Honolulu.

This being the case, the company would not go outside of its own ships to get carriage for its coal to be delivered here. The Tampico, which was reported to have been withdrawn from this run, is expected here on or about the first of March from Seattle with a full cargo.

WATCH FOR ANDREWS

Hilo, Feb. 19.—During the session of the Circuit Court last Friday night Sheriff Andrews was sent for on some pretext and brought before the bar. He was followed shortly by the local police force. The bailiff rapped for order and Judge Little began reading a presentation address. When he finished he handed to the Sheriff a handsome gold watch, the gift of the police department of this island.

It is a massive hunting case watch with Swiss split-second movement. On one side of the case is his monogram and on the other the Hawaiian coat of arms in enamel. The inner case bears the inscription "Presented to Sheriff L. A. Andrews by the Police of Hawaii, January 1, 1903."

It was intended to make it a New Year's gift but the order was handed in to J. D. Kennedy too late to have it filled in time.

Sheriff Andrews has been in the public service on Maui, Oahu and Hawaii for twenty-five years and has been a faithful and efficient officer during all the years he has carried a commission. When the Sheriff received this gift from the force he was visibly affected and was at a loss for words with which to thank the donors. He remarked afterward that they "might have given a fellow warning so he could have prepared his remarks."

The Navy transport Solace arrived from Manila and Guam yesterday morning after an uneventful trip. She brought a great many passengers, many of whom are civilians who have been for a time on Guam doing missionary work among the natives.

ALMOST WENT TO COAST

Luna Taite and a crew of natives had an exciting time on Saturday last at Hana, and, but for the kindness of Captain Parker of the Claudine, might now have been on their way to the Coast in the barkentine George C. Perkins, which sailed from the Maui port on that day.

Wailuku Citizens Will MAKE A FIGHT For Maui County Seat

Wailuku, Feb. 21.—The Wailuku Republican Precinct Club meeting was held in the court house last Monday evening with President John W. Kalua in the chair. There was quite a large attendance of members, including a large delegation of Home Rulers.

President Kalua opened the discussion by giving in detail his views on the proposed draft of the County Bill. He stated at the beginning that he was against the passage of the County Bill, but since it was the desire of the majority that such a change should come, it was almost futile for him to oppose. Mr. Kalua said that he believed that the Board of Supervisors should be paid and that he did not agree with those who are advocating that the office should be an honorary one without compensation.

The speaker coincided with the views of the Kaula people, and for the same reasons favored county control of school matters. Regarding District Magistrates, Judge Kalua was in favor of the present system and as recommended by the Commission. In his opinion the Governor would be more likely to select good, honest, upright and capable men to the office than the electorate would ever be.

Among the arrivals from Hilo in the Mauna Loa were Mrs. Wm. Thompson and Miss McBoyle, who have been making a tour of the island of Hawaii. They went up in the Mauna Loa on the last trip but on and spent a few days with Mrs. Will Wall at Napoopoo. From there, they went to the volcano and from there to Hilo to catch the Kinau for Honolulu.

Jack Weday and Russel, a water tender on the steamer Texan, had an impromptu set-to without gloves Saturday night. Honolulu's champion was put to sleep in short order and his face badly bruised by Russel, who is a well known pugilist in Philadelphia. The scrap lasted about two minutes.
