WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy.
The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest.
After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a goldiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times;
the blood becomes thick and stagnant;
the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well;
for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time.
Seigel's Curative Syrup acts like a charm in this class of complaints, giving almost immediated relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation the article is held.

John Archer, Hartill, near Sheffield:—
I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of my customers, who have derived great benefit from the Syrup and Pills.
The sale is increasing wonderfully.

Geo. A. Webb, 141, York Street, Belfast:—I have sold a large quantity,
and the parties have testified to its being what you represent it.

J. S. Metcalfe, 55, Highgate, Kendal:— I have always great pleasure in recommending the Curative Syrup, for I have never known a case in which it has not relieved or cured, and I have sold many grosses.

Robt. G. Gould, 27, High Street, Andover:—I have always take a great interest in your medicines and I have recommended them, as I have found numerous cases of cure from their use.

Thomas Chapman, West Auckland:—
I find that the trade steadily increases.
I sell more of your medicines than any other kind.

N. Darroll, Clun, Salop:—All who buy it are pleased, and recommend it.

Jos. Balkwill, A. P. S., Kingsbridge:—
The public seem to appreciate their great value.

A. Armstead, Market Street, Dalton-in-Furness:—It is needless for me to say that your valuable medicines have great sale in this district—greater than any other I know of, giving great satisfaction.

Robt. Laine, Melksham:—I can well recommend the Curative Syrup from having proved its efficacy for indigestion myself.

Frickheim, Arbroath, Forfarshire,
Sept. 23, 1882. Dear Sir:—Last year I sent you a letter recommending Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have very much pleasure in still bearing testimony to the very satisfactory results of the famed Syrup and Pills. Most patent medicines die out with me, but Mother Seigel has had a steady sale ever since I commenced, and is still in as great demand
as when I first began to sell the medicine. The cures which have come under my notice are chiefly those of liver complaint and general debility.

A certain minister in my neighbourhood says it is the only thing which has benefited him and restored him to his normal condition of health after being unable to preach for a considerable length of time. I could mention also a great many other cases, but space would not allow. A near friend of mine, who is very much addicted to costiveness, or constipation, finds that Mother Seigel's Pills are the only pills which suit his complaint. All other pills cause a reaction which is very annoying.
Mother Seigel's Pills do not leave a bad after-effect. I have much pleasure in commending again to suffering humanity Mother Seigel's medicines, which are no sham. If this letter is of any service you can publish it.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) William S. Glass, Chemist.
A. J. White, Esq.

15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr.
Henry Hillier, of Yatesbury, Wilts, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly,
(Signed) N. Webb,
Chemist, Calne.

OVER-CROWDING BUILDINGS.

These islands are gradually losing their primitive aspect and customs, through the improvements steadily effected by the increase of commerce and the consequent centring and aggregation of the inhabitants in various localities. One result of this has been the steady increase, in size and population, of Honolulu. Gradually the needs of the business community have forced one improvement after another upon the attention of the Legislature, but much remains to be done before Honolulu, as a city, will compare favorably with cities in other lands. One of the most recent efforts at legislation prevents the erection of any but fire-proof buildings, within certain limits in the town, and, although this was a step in the right direction, it needs to be supplemented by another law preventing the over-crowding of buildings together in any part of the city. Most of the buildings in the over-crowded parts of Honolulu are flimsy wooden structures, opening on narrow and tortuous alley ways, and packed very closely together. Recently, a suit was entered by one party to obtain a right of way to and from his dwelling, which from the increase of buildings round his house had been entirely cut off from him. Apart from the danger to life and property, in such neighborhoods, in the event of a serious fire breaking out, as was instanced during the recent fire on Nuuanu street, other dangers, equally as serious to the community, exist. The filth and dirt which have accumulated in such parts of the city form a hotbed for the engendering and spreading of epidemic diseases, and should such a disease break out in one of those localities it would make sad havoc amongst its teeming population. Again, it is a settled fact, not only in Honolulu but in all cities, that such quarters are chosen as the homes of the immoral, indecent and criminal members of the population, where they herd together to lead their vicious lives, or plan their criminal deeds, to the detriment of the more respectable members of the community. Every large city in the world has found out the evils of over-crowding buildings, in certain quarters of their precincts. We may instance London, New York and Sydney, as giving recent examples of the results of investigations into this evil. And many legislative bodies, in consequence, either have passed, or are about to pass, laws which will restrain and mitigate these dangers to the wealth, health and moral spirit of a community. No one who has lived for any length of time in this community but will agree with us that the evils indicated are rampant here. If a fire were to break out and get a good hold in the district bounded by Nuuanu stream on one side, Nuuanu street, Beretania street, and the Fish Market on the other sides, how many hundreds of thousands of dollars would disappear from the wealth of the country? If an epidemic disease were to break out in that district, what possible chance would there be of quarantining it and confining it, before it destroyed its hundreds, perhaps its thousands of victims? Any member of the police force will tell us that the same district contains the haunt of a majority of the vicious and criminal population of Honolulu. Nothing has as yet been done to restrain or remove these evils in Honolulu, but we think the Board of Health and the Fire Department have power to lessen, somewhat, these evils. The clearance made by the recent fire on Nuuanu street gave an opportunity to refuse permission for the reconstruction of that spot into its old state, but, judging from the evidences of rebuilding going on, those bodies did not think any action was necessary. Perhaps when the evils mentioned cannot be restrained, or the dangers compensated for, they will, as the old proverb says, endeavor "to lock the door when the steed is stolen."

AN IMPOTENT CRITIC.

The outside writer of one of the Honolulu letters that grace the columns of the Saturday Press compiles in to-day's issue of that journal a column of what he deems to be errors of grammar and faults of composition in the DAILY BULLETIN for ten days. The editor seizes upon the opportunity, afforded by this exhibition of literary criticism on the part of his yoke-fellow, to inform the public, in effect, that while it and we regarded the literary skirmishing between the two papers for the past few days as only a sham fight, he was in wrathful earnest all the time and meant nothing but real, cruel war. Both the editor and the doughty critic who gives him such able assistance in filling his space venture all upon the assumption that the editor of this paper set himself up as one born to put right the disjointed world of newspaper literature. Nothing of the kind was deducible from our part in the skirmish, our only offences, until our contemporary invited retort, having been to reproduce a most comical typographical blunder in one of his paragraphs and to place end to end an egotistica boast made by the editor of the Press regarding his literary ability and a very suitable rebuke to such a boast which appeared in the same issue of that paper, from the pen of the correspondent who has now had a hard week's labor in trying to hunt up literary faults in a ten days' fill of the BULLETIN. As to the result of the critic's efforts, however, we are safe in saying that, if he has selected the worst of what can be justifiably called breaches of literary canons which have occurred in our columns during the past ten days, the BULLETIN has come nearer to literary perfection for that period than any English daily paper in the world. Notwithstanding the great advantage a weekly paper has over a daily for procuring accuracy, owing to the necessarily hurried preparation of the matter for the latter, we could, if there was any amusement in it for our readers, fill as much space with our contemporary's literary shortcomings of a day, discovered upon casual reading, as our critic has required to display what he, in many cases ignorantly, regards as our mistakes of ten days, which have cost him severe toil to find. It would take more space than we can afford to defend the specimens he gives from our columns, but, with the exception of two or three very slight slips, we are willing to submit all of them to the best literary jury that can be got in Honolulu and justify them. Any competent person who takes the trouble to procure the criticism and analyze it will perceive that it is mainly founded upon its author's ignorance of the scope of the words and phrases he carps at and of the best current literary usage, and also upon his dishonest detachment of sentences from their connection. The editor calls it vivisection of us, but if he called it an unsuccessful attempt at butchery he would be more precise.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Rash contributes a rhyming riddle to amuse the young folks. We would not object to having something good of this sort for every Saturday's issue.

The Press calls a provision of the Constitution an "exploded belief." It is not a belief; it is a fact. If our contemporary advocated a change in the Constitution, we could understand it and perhaps cooperate with it. When, however, it essays to trample the Constitution under foot, we and all but empty-talking filibusters are bound to take issue with it.

Factories for putting up fruits and pickles, besides enlarging the domestic labor market and increasing our exports, would greatly conduce to the pleasures of Hawaiian life by cheapening table luxuries. An essential to experiments in that direction is to have them conducted by capable and experienced men from similar establishments abroad. With all our organizations there is room here for an Association for the promotion of home industry, and we would suggest that a public meeting should be held at an early day to consider the matter. Perhaps the Chamber of Commerce will take it under its auspices.

Pedestrians coming down Queen street this morning found at a certain point both sidewalks blockaded—one with a line of horses and vehicles and the other with a mule standing directly across. Ladies, as well as gentlemen, had to take the carriage way to get past. What is the good of our police force when the rights of the public are allowed to be so glaringly violated on a leading thoroughfare? The above is only one instance out of scores that could be produced every day on our principal streets. We call upon the Deputy-Marshal to take means to suppress this nuisance.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Correspondence is solicited on the topics of the day, or what may become so. We reserve the right to excise purely personal matter. We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by our correspondents.—Ed.

A CHANCE FOR WORD HUNTERS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—If more than nine hundred correct answers to the following poorly constructed what-you-may-call-it are rushed in upon you within two hours after its publication in your paper, please inform me of it as promptly and quietly as possible, so that I may have an opportunity ere it be too late for seeking a safe retreat in one of our mountain gorges, far removed from the busy haunts of grasping humanity, for in my present weak state of mind I do not think I could stand an unlimited amount of rough usage at the hands of an excited and unappreciative populace. Another reason which I have for guarding against unmerited violence lies in the fact that there is a certain thirty-year old young lady to whom my personal welfare is a matter of no little—but I need say no more:

I am found upon dry goods and fancy wares,
I'm a subject for song and for boast,
I'm toasted and cheered wherever I'm raised,
And I'm seen at the whipping post.
I am found with the rainbow, on barber shops
I am used as a sort of attraction,
I am feared by the rogue, to the patriot dear
And to soldiers I bring satisfaction.
Now cut off my head and my tail, and behold
What a foul, filthy object you make me,
Yet when served up in style I'm a toothsome repast,
But I have not yet heard that cooks bake me.
Although I am filthy when first I am found,
I help many stomachs to fill—
To get me strict church folks will break God's command,
And thousands warm life-blood will spill.
Curtail me again, and I am an act
Which I know you would not like to do,
Yet all people do it, for so fate ordains,
And I make no exception of you.
Then, again, I am something that all people like.

For they take me o'er land and o'er sea,
Excepting the miser who clings to his gold—
And sometimes he has to take me.
Curtail me again, and you leave me so short
That big folks might scarce notice me,
Yet I can assure them quite free from conceit,
That I stand now to represent three,
Behold me again, then put back my fifth,
And I am not wanted in dress,
When I am discovered in young ladies' hose
I plunge them in fearful distress,
Now put back my sixth, then I'll bid you adieu,
For horing doth oftentimes kill—
And I'll stop in a state in which all grains should be,
Before they are sent to the mill.
If you find out my whole during six days to come,
And make my five changes appear,
I will tell of an income which you might secure,

On Friday night, at about half-past eleven o'clock, a resident in Palama went to get some water for drinking purposes from the water-tap, and was surprised to find it look as if milk had been mixed with it. On drawing a tumbler full to examine it more closely it was observed that the milky appearance was produced by the water effervescing. The gas was visible escaping at the surface of the water in faint smoky clouds, and in a few minutes the effervescing ceased and the water apparently was perfectly clear and free from the presence of any foreign substance. The presence of vinegar in the glass caused the ebullition to be more violent and longer in its duration. While effervescing the water had a slight soapy taste, but when the disturbing element had vanished no perceptible flavor could be detected.

AN ALARMING DISEASE AFFLICTING A NUMEROUS CLASS.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints, but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the morning, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there a fulness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment, soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dread disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter agonizing disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Farringdon Road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Market Place, Pocklington, York, October 2nd, 1882.

Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the results they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so.

Yours respectfully, (Signed) R. TURNER.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I felt quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly, Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16th, '82. Mr. A. J. White.—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT. 15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesburg, Wills, has forms me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took to end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly, (Signed) N. WEBB, Chemist, Calne.

September 8th, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "God-send to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours, (Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS, Chemist-Dentist, Merthyr Tydfil.

To Mr. A. J. White.

Preston, Sept. 21st 1883.

My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible.

The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."

The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.—I am dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. BOWKER. To A. J. White, Esp. 705 1y 1.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes closed, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Farringdon-road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November, 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I feel quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly, Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

September 8th, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "God-send to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours, (Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS, Chemist-Dentist, Merthyr Tydfil.

Spanish Town, Jamaica, West Indies, Oct. 24, 1882.

Dear Sir,—I write to inform you that I have derived great benefit from "Seigel's Syrup." For some years I have suffered from liver complaint, with its many and varied concomitant evils, so that my life was a perpetual misery. Twelve months ago I was induced to try Seigel's Syrup, and although rather sceptical, having tried so many reputed infallible remedies, I determined to give it at least a fair trial. In two or three days I felt considerably better, and now at the end of twelve months (having continued taking it) I am glad to say that I am a different being altogether. It is said of certain pens that they "come as a boon and a blessing to men" and I have no reason to doubt the truthfulness of the statement. I can truly say, however, that Seigel's Syrup has come as a "boon and a blessing" to me. I have recommended it to several fellow-sufferers from this distressing complaint, and their testimony is quite in accordance with my own. Gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the excellent preparation, prompts me to furnish you with this unsolicited testimonial.

I am dear Sir, Yours ever gratefully, (Signed) CAREY B. BERRY, A. J. White, Esq. Baptist Missionary.

Preston, Sept. 21st, 1883.

My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible.

The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."

The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.—I am dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. BOWKER. To A. J. White, Esq.

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16, 1882

Mr. A. J. White.—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT. 15th August, 1883.
