CHINESE SEIZE RIFLES AND JAPANESE PROTEST BRYAN AND KERN ARE NOTIFIED

THEY SAY LINK HAS DEAL ON

FUNNY STORY OF PROPOSITION WHEREBY DELEGATE KUHIO WILL DROP OUT AND THAT WILL MEAN A FAIR FIGHT FOR McCANDLESS AS AGAINST NEW REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE--INVENTION

"Link will win the Delegateship hands down. If the deal that is on foot now goes through," said the Democratic stemwinder this morning. "What's the deal?" "You wait and see." "I don't believe there is any deal." "Sure there is. Prince Cupid will drop out and McCandleless will have practically a clear field and he will be the next Delegate to Congress. You wait and see."

"Prince Cupid says that talk is all nonsense," responded the Democratic Oracle, "and the Hawaiians will not vote in large numbers for any other than a Hawaiian for the position of Delegate to Congress. They will not do it."

There is no doubt about it that L. L. McCandleless is on the cards to be the Democratic candidate for Delegate and there is also no doubt that some of the Democrats believe there is a well-founded and well-understood movement on foot to "take care of the Delegate," whatever that may mean, get him out of the race, and thus give a free fighting field for McCandleless against the new Republican candidate--George Carter, for instance, or someone like that.

Just how they are going to "take care" of the Delegate is not known. Some people think that Link McCandleless' barrel is like a bottomless bucket, and always ready to respond when a few votes are promised by some political worker. But they don't seem to take into account that Link, by such a policy,--even if he wanted to spend the money,--would make himself liable under the laws of the United States, and finally they forget that the Delegate is not in the business of getting someone to take care of him. Consequently the only conclusion possible to reach is that the buncombe is being circulated to boost the prospects of Link for the nomination of the Democrats, and make the rank and file of the unterrified believe that there is a ghost of a show for any other man than the Republican candidate.

It is admitted on all sides that there is not the slightest hope of the enemy defeating Kuhio for either the nomination or re-election. The Delegate has returned from the recent session of Congress with a record that has never been equaled by any representative sent from the Hawaiian Islands to Washington at any time in history. This is a pretty broad statement, but it is all true. From a National point of view, his success in bringing through the Pearl Harbor appropriation was more important than the original reciprocity treaty. And from the Congressional standpoint, the success of the Delegate in obtaining the $850,000 appropriation for the Honolulu Federal building has never been equaled by any Territorial Delegate who ever sat in Congress, and mightily few full-fledged Congressmen have as notable a record to their credit.

It is said by those who know that the Federal appropriation item was very much the personal work of the Delegate, and was pulled through largely as a result of the high esteem in which the Delegate is held by the gentlemen powerful in shaping the legislation of Congress. His cause was just, of course, but if the Delegate did not enjoy an enviable position of personal friendship with the managers of the House, it is very doubtful that Honolulu would have got the item, especially in view of the fact that the country was facing a deficit, and usually during a session previous to a National election all the appropriations for public buildings go to States with votes that count in the Presidential fight.

At no time since his return has the Delegate considered any "deals" that give McCandleless or anyone else first call on the Delegateship, and it is not probable that Link has personally approached the question from that direction.

AIM TO GET FEDERAL HELP

FREAR PROMISES THAT GOODHUE AND HOLMAN WILL NOT BE REMOVED TO MAKE ROOM FOR FEDERAL FRIENDS -- A SEARCH FOR EFFECTUAL CURE FOR LEP. ROSY TO BE COOPERATIVE HERE

Will Territorial officials be supplanted by Federal physicians in the work being done for the lepers at the Molokai Settlement?

This question immediately sprang up last evening when the resolutions adopted by the Board of Health as to their new policy became known. There has been a rumor current for some time past that an effort had been made to have Dr. Goodhue and Dr. Holman, Territorial physicians at the Settlement, removed and their places filled by Federal officials who would receive the Territorial salary.

The unanimously adopted policy of the Board of Health, in special secret meeting assembled yesterday afternoon, was interpreted as bearing out this rumor. Everything seemed to be for the sake of the Federal officials, the Board even reversing its policy and introducing a sweeping change in the handling of patients to give, as it looked, the right opportunity for the Federal officials to step in and take sole and complete charge of the work of treating lepers--with the Territory paying the bill.

Governor Frear, however, this morning stated absolutely that nothing of the sort had been contemplated, but on the contrary, the idea was that the Federal and Territorial officials should work in the common cause. The Territory will furnish every assistance to the Federal officials in their express purpose of seeking a cure for the dreaded disease, and likewise the Federal workers will do everything in their power to bring new agencies to bear for alleviation and cure.

"There is no rupture between the Federal and Territorial officials," stated the Governor this morning, "but there is a feeling that the new policy of the Board should at least bring some sort of definite result. Dr. Wayson spoke at the Health Board meeting."

His only condition is that he keep the suit.

It is now up to the rain-makers.

FLAG-RAISING DAY IS OBSERVED

Ten years ago today the American flag was raised over the Hawaiian Islands.

As a recognition of this fact, a holiday has been observed by all the Territorial offices, and a great many of the business houses of the city have closed their doors.

All kamaainas remember the occasion ten years ago. The government of the islands was then in the form of an oligarchy under President Dole. And under this old form of government the islands continued until the Organic Act creating Hawaii a Territory was passed by Congress.

An interesting feature of the day was brought to notice this morning when the Royal Hawaiian Band, under the leadership of Captain Berger, gave a concert in front of the Executive building, formerly the King's palace, playing the National Anthem of the United States of America with dash and vigor.

Honolulu is a quiet city to day. There is a movement on foot to have this holiday an annual occasion, and Governor Frear may act favorably on it, though the Legislature has to decide.

been built during the past year, and the Department found it had run up against a snag in the way of no funds for teachers when these were to be opened. The appropriation for teachers' salaries was not sufficient to supply the increase. It seemed then that there could be no way in which the new teachers could be provided for unless old teachers' salaries were cut to a considerable extent. The Teachers' Committee finally decided, however, that the pay doled out to pedagogues here, and elsewhere for that

To Coast For Sand

Pearl Harbor Dock Requires 75,000 Tons Silica -- Volume Concrete Estimated at 150,000 Cu. Yds. Bids To Be Opened at Washington.

Seventy-five thousand tons of sand will probably be brought from the Coast for use in the construction of the big concrete dock at Pearl Harbor. Some inquiries have been made by the United States authorities as to the cost of transportation, the sand to come down here in the form of ballast. Contractors will have to furnish their own sand, but it is necessary that something of the cost of this large item be known before anything like definite plans can be drafted, and bids called for.

Many specimens of the sand which has been dredged from Pearl Harbor have been preserved and examined, but it has been found that there is a more or less large amount of crushed shell in this. The straight silica will probably be preferred in the work.

In figuring 75,000 tons of sand as the amount needed, the volume of the dock concrete work is taken at 150,000 cubic yards, tentatively only.

Contracts for this work will be called for throughout the country, and opened at Washington; at what time cannot now be determined, but

NO ADVANCE FOR TEACHERS THIS YEAR

INCREASE IN DEMAND FOR TEACHERS MAKES IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR SALARIES OF OLD TEACHERS TO BE ADVANCED TO SCHEDULE WHICH TERM OF SERVICE WARRANTS -- MORE MONEY

Owing to a woeful lack of funds in the Department of Public Instruction, no teachers' salaries will be raised this year, whether or not the teachers have by the schedule and service merited it. This was announced by Superintendent of Public Instruction Babbitt this morning, who stated that the step had been made necessary by the limitations of the appropriations.

In the past it has been the custom to advance the salary of a teacher after three years of service. This is the plan under the schedule which the appropriations were supposed to meet. There are many who will probably look for the usual boost in wage this coming year, but it will not be forthcoming. Every economical measure possible is being inaugurated by Superintendent Babbitt, and by some of the Teachers' Committee it was even recommended that there be a cut in some salaries.

New rooms and school houses have been built during the past year, and the Department found it had run up against a snag in the way of no funds for teachers when these were to be opened. The appropriation for teachers' salaries was not sufficient to supply the increase. It seemed then that there could be no way in which the new teachers could be provided for unless old teachers' salaries were cut to a considerable extent. The Teachers' Committee finally decided, however, that the pay doled out to pedagogues here, and elsewhere for that

WINNIPEG STRIKERS QUIET WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Aug. 11.—The strike situation here is quiet and no changes have been reported.

Here's a pointer for you. If you are Hunting for Health drink a glass of Primo Beer with your meals. It aids digestion, induces sound, healthful sleep, and quiets, tired, worn-out nerves. The 2 1-2 per cent. of alcohol is too slight to be considered, except as it assists the digestive functions and gives a slight stimulation. One of the best things it does is to flush the system. Water does not taste good enough—we don't drink enough of it: that's where one of the virtues of Primo Beer comes in. ASK YOUR PHYSICIAN ABOUT IT. The Home Brew

"SMALL FARM" IS PRODUCING

One Of The Results Of Local Campaign Of Destruction

ALLEGED GARFIELD INTERVIEW THAT MISREPRESENTS SECRETARY

But Shows That The Advertiser Plan of Destroying Everything Has Found Followers in Oregon

The Pendleton (Oregon) Tribune of recent date publishes an alleged interview with Secretary Garfield on conditions in Hawaii. The interview is of a character to indicate that the Pendleton Tribune has got hold of some of the articles published by the Advertiser in its so-called "small farm" campaign which has amounted to a wholesale condemnation and misrepresentation of the sugar industry and what the more liberal leaders of that industry are striving to bring about. No one believes that Mr. Garfield uttered the sentiments expressed because he was very direct in his comments during his stay in the islands, and neither in private conversation nor public addresses did he advocate the policy of destruction which he is represented as approving in the Tribune article.

The article of the Tribune follows: Hawaii, the land of dreams and the sugar trust, the land of feudal out-cast with old crown estates embracing as high as 160,000 acres of the richest and most productive land in the world; Hawaii, the land of cheap Asiatic labor and the abomination of all white men, is to become the Mecca of the American homeseeker, the paradise of the white man of the future if the plans of Secretary of the Interior Garfield prove feasible and Congress does not put any stumbling blocks in his way. All this will come about as the result of the Secretary's visit to these enchanted islands of the Pacific, from which he has just returned. The Secretary, in discussing the proposition yesterday was very enthusiastic about the possibilities of the islands at the time when the American should come into control of the rich soil and should apply to it the system, work and intelligence which has made this country so great in agriculture and manufacture.

The plan which the Secretary is working on now, and which he worked on during his visit to the islands, is to break up the immense land holdings, peacefully or otherwise, put in irrigation, start the fruit industry, coffee plantations, diversified farming in such a way that it will appeal to the Americans, shut out the Asiatic labor and entirely change the condition of affairs which has prevailed for so long a time that now a few men practically control the land of the islands and by importation of cheap labor effectually shut out the American.

Mr. Garfield already has a small project under way, which he started in his visit here, and from this he expects to build up the great system and crown his work with American supremacy in the islands. When in Honolulu he brought many of the big land owners together in a conference at which these plans were put forth by the Secretary, and they were asked to aid him in the work. The trustee of the great Carter estate, the largest on the island, agreed and set many acres of this estate at the disposal of the American homeseeker, the true diversified farmer. That the country will grow fruit, and excellent fruit at certain altitudes, has been demonstrated but never practiced. All the land, the immense and valuable areas held by the estate, has always been pressed into the raising of sugarcane and sugar beets. The owners generally refused to consider any other crop. With the cheap Asiatic labor and the big acreage they could make such profits at this business that nothing else would interest them.

So the Secretary found the cheap labor question the keynote to the situation. With this eliminated the transformation of the sugar fields into coffee plantations, fruit farms, rice farms, and the growing of many other cereals and fruits would be but a question of time and the proper influence offered by the government. As it now stands the white laborer is effectually shut out from the Hawaiian Islands as if there were a high protection tariff duty to be paid on him. He can not compete with the Asiatic labor which is used in the working of these big estates, and consequently the islands have become a dumping-ground for the refuse humanity of the Orient and there is no prospect of their ever becoming anything else until the old regime and order of things is destroyed.

But how to do this is the big question with which the Secretary is now wrestling. While he did not discuss the question of restriction of Asiatic labor to any great extent, yet he left the impression that it would have to be stopped in some manner. These laborers make no homes nor valuable improvements on the land. The operators of many of the big holders are renters and work it for what they can get out of it. And this has brought about the condition which makes homeless plains of the millions of acres of good home lands.

The old estates, of which the Carter estate, consisting of 160,000 acres, is the largest, are the results of the granting of lands to individuals by the crown. Always, the Secretary said, when a grant was made the gift was designated by so many miles along the shore and extending back by parallel boundaries to the top of the mountain. The result was that each grantee got a part of the beach, a part of the sugar land, a strip of the fruit land, a higher strip of the grazing land, etc. And having once got it they held on to it or leased it to the sugar barons, with the result that nothing was left for the homeseeker. To change this condition, break up or divide this big holding into smaller tracts and put American families on them is the object of the Secretary.

The islands as a place for homes, appeals very strongly to him. It would support an innumerable population under ordinary conditions and would be ideal almost in every way. Instead of this garden which it contains and should be, it is now the jumping off place, the last drop in fall of the cheap, Asiatic labor market.

PHONOGRAPH WAR CALLS FOR POLICE INTERFERENCE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 25.—A merry widows' "phonograph war" at 2091 Delmar boulevard, between occupants of upper and lower flats, has given Assistant Chief Gillaspay and his policemen two busy nights and the neighbors infinite amusement.

And the end is not yet. Mrs. Julia Ruane, a middle-aged widow, lives in the upper flat. Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis McArthur, a comely, well-to-do widow, occupies the lower one. Mrs. McArthur has a graphophone and a man caller. The police say his name is "Bill Drees."

The McArthur parlor has been the scene of numerous nightly musicales in which the graphophone was supplemented by vocal numbers of a man caller and a girl friend of Mrs. McArthur.

The "upper-fatters" grew weary of the concerts. Audible disapproval was shown. The "lower-fatters" paid no attention. The break in strained relations came a short time ago. A manly baritone was trolling "You're as Pretty as a Picture and as Sweet as You Can Be," with graphophone setting, when Mrs. Ruane appeared at her front window. She was "mad."

"If that noise don't quit, I'll call the police!" she shouted. Bang! went her window. The chief dispatched a policeman, but things were quiet when he got to the flat.

The next day a man telephoned to Mrs. Ruane. He said he was the chief of police and warned her to quit annoying Mrs. McArthur. Mrs. Ruane says she thinks she knows the man's voice. It didn't belong to the chief.

The concert was renewed Friday night. More police aid and more officers dispatched to the scene of hostilities.

Then a man telephoned the chief and complained that the bluecoats were annoying Mrs. McArthur. He said his name was Drees. Couldn't they be stopped? he asked.

The chief hardly had settled to work when a woman called up: "Please cease sending patrolmen to this flat," she said. "I won't talk to anyone but a sergeant." The police were called off.

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 12, 1908

The "moral" organ of the Territory of Hawaii is on record as declaring that there is nothing morally wrong in a chief of police borrowing money from the keeper of a house of prostitution—money wrung from the sorrows of fallen women. Has the organ said so, in so many words? Of course not. It is daily acting the part, and it knows it.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

The Morning Call-Tender, sometimes better recognized as Old Sour Ball, expresses the belief that an American is a fool to recognize the "Star Spangled Banner" as the National Anthem when it is played on a humdrum or a violin.

This view of it does not surprise those who know the Sour Ball. The Call-Tender's unhappy disposition has brought it to such an acrimonious condition of gilded jolts that its principal mission in life appears to be to declare that anything the Bulletin says is, isn't; and whatever the Bulletin says isn't, is. Cheer up, Sour Ball!

FIRST RETURN FROM POLICY OF WRECKERS.

Follow the destructive policy of the morning paper, read its wholesale misrepresentation of those who point the errors of its alleged small-farm policy, and you have the food on which the Peardleton Tribune browsed to misrepresent Secretary Garfield as the exponent of destruction for Hawaii.

Mr. Garfield is a man of very direct language. He said all that he had to say while in Hawaii, and one is perfectly safe in concluding that he has not told anyone or intimated that the progress of Hawaii would be wrecked by any such scuttie policy as the Tribune outlines.

Those who have followed the destructive arguments of the morning paper, arguments which Mr. Garfield referred to as most unfortunate and utterly wrong, can very quickly find the reason why a newspaper of the mainland misinterprets Garfield's remarks as a part of the consistent policy of ruin the morning paper has been promoting here and abroad.

The Tribune article is one of the first returns of the campaign of misrepresentation. There will be more cutcroppings when Hawaii goes before Congress and its enemies line up against it on the tariff.

The question now, as the question has been for many months, is: How long the people of Hawaii are going to stand for such vicious work?

MORALISTS AND RED LIGHT NOTES.

It would have been a hundred days' sensation if the so-called reformers of Honolulu had done anything but apologize for the indiscretions of their "reform" Sheriff.

The present attitude is merely one of the incidents of consistent hypocrisy that has marked the history of the "reformers" since Towser was a pup. They can see a "vindication" in the declaration of a Grand Jury that the "indiscretion" of a public official prevented an indictment of a dive-keeper with a desire to bribe.

It is the same old Honolulu story. The "moral" mentality of the hypocrites is swayed solely by whose ox is gored.

They think Laukae, whom the Grand Jury has found anything but a capable official, should not resign. They are ruled by their prejudices and their selfish desires—not by honesty or common decency. He was their candidate. He was their Sheriff.

That is the way such matters go in Honolulu. But they will be changed.

The policy of Laukae's apologists is utterly un-American and fundamentally opposed to the principles of good government. This is appreciated by any person who will stop to consider what the citizens of any municipality tionaries may bring about temporary set-backs.

Educationally we have made tremendous strides. The standards of public and private schools, already high before we entered the Union, have been more than maintained. And who would have predicted on August 12, 1898, that ten years would find Hawaii with a college organized and ready to offer the young men and women of the Islands the benefits of higher education at home!

Industrially, we have had our experiences with booms. We passed through it not unscathed, but general disaster was averted and the wisdom gained has been used to the best advantage. The enthusiasm of expansion strewed the way with not a few wrecks. Many great projects, however, were carried through with marked success, and are today monuments to the courage, judgment, and energy of those possessed of a deep confidence in the future of the Islands.

Socially, Hawaii's reputation for freedom from racial prejudice has been upheld, and there is no place today under the American flag where men and women are rated with less regard for false barriers of race and color. We have assimilated new residents from all parts of the mainland where prejudices run high, and race tolerance is more a crime than a virtue. Not a single fear, held previous to annexation, has materialized. The kindly spirit of Hawaii has had enough character and power to correct the harsh faults of the mainland. Those who came to scoff at our free and equal mingling of the races have remained to admire, and adopt Hawaii's way as best.

Politically Hawaii is revolutionized. This Territory, though still lacking in many vital qualities of self-government, is a veritable land of the free when compared with the conditions that prevailed just before and for a time after annexation. Ten years ago it was an absolute fact that the people did not dare to say their soul was their own. The honesty of one's opinions was no recommendation. If the opinion was adverse to what the "powers that were" decided was proper. Individual and collective representatives of the powers—that were—are in existence today, but such of them as may be reckoned as among the decent citizens of the community have had the good sense to accept the facts and get in step with the new conditions. Reactionaries still show themselves occasionally but not in sufficient numbers to command a post of honor or any considerable following.

The Native Hawaiian who felt at the outset that his country was being taken from him, has actually gained more through annexation than many who were more active in bringing it about. Whereas the Hawaiians had no voice in the affairs of their government previous to annexation, they are now in practically full control.

The distinguishing mark of this tenth year of our existence under the flag is the fact that the American people have finally discovered Hawaii. They know its value to the Nation. They better understand the progressive character of our citizens. They can find the Islands on the map, and their interest in our present and our future is less perfunctory.

If annexation has been of great value to Hawaii, it is one of the most vital protective steps that the United States Government ever took. Without Hawaii the United States of America would be so vulnerable as to be constantly threatened by the aggressive policies of other nations of the Pacific. We sometimes feel that the American people have not appreciated the importance of Hawaii to them, because it was obtained so easily.

Peruna Strikes at the Root of the Trouble.

MR. S. J. MASSEY.

Mr. S. J. Massey, formerly a resident of Toronto, and a well-known business man, writes from 217 Guy street, Montreal, Quebec:

"I wish to testify to the good results I have derived from the use of Peruna. Having been troubled for several years with catarrh of the head, I decided to give Peruna a fair trial and I can truly say I have received great benefit from its use. It evidently strikes at the very root of the trouble and good results are soon noticeable."

"I have also found Peruna a very valuable remedy for stomach trouble and indigestion."

"I have no hesitancy whatever in recommending Peruna as a reliable catarrh remedy."

There are several kinds of indigestion. The trouble may be due to sluggishness of the liver, derangements of the bowels, enlargement of the pancreas, or it may be due to the stomach itself.

In nearly all cases of stomach indigestion catarrh of the stomach is the cause. The only permanent relief is to remove the catarrh.

Peruna has become well-known the world over as a remedy in such cases. The following wholesale druggist will supply the retail trade:

COL. Z. S. SPALDING IS COMING HOME

Kapaa Land Matters Will Then Take New Life

Col. Z. S. Spalding is said to be expected among the arrivals in the Siberia on Monday, and it is supposed that the Kapaa land matters will again take a place in the front row. The present status of the Kapaa lands is: that the survey for cutting the upper forty-acre lots into twenty-acre lots has been completed; the exchange proposition is deadlocked, although the Colonel may make some deal before he gets through; meanwhile assuming that the deadlock will continue, the Territorial officials are said to be preparing to lease the cane lands of Kapaa for nine years, which will make the leases on Kapaa and the Waiaina lands leased by the Lihue plantation expire on the same date.

There are some Kaula people who believe that when Mr. Spalding gets here a definite plan will be worked out and the very desirable exchange proposition carried through, whereby the public land and the private lands will be consolidated instead of sandwiched, as they now are.

The Makee Sugar Company has been a heavy loser by the continued wrangling over the lands and the enforced delay. It is stated that the plantation next year will not have more than a three-thousand-ton crop, all on account of its inability to settle the lease question. The equipment of the plantation is large enough for a ten-thousand-ton crop, although it has been reckoned as an eight-thousand-ton property.

CAPT. PARKER STOPS CASE OF CRUELTY

Captain Parker of the police this morning stopped a flagrant violation of ordinances against cruelty to animals. A Japanese, whose name was of too little consequence to the police to be asked, was observed to be driving two horses along in front of the police station, with his wagon so heavily loaded that the poor brutes fell down several times in drawing the load along.

The driver was made to dismount, and told that he had the choice between unloading twenty sacks of the rice and going into the cooler.

He unloaded. The wagon, which was not too generous of wheel base, had 5 1/2 tons piled onto it. The rice was bound for Walker's mill.

BRECKONS IS DISCIPLE OF ISAAC WALTON

United States Attorney Breckons went on a short fishing trip last night. He intended to be out all night in a Japanese sampan, but the expert disciple of Isaac Walton decided that it was too light for good fishing. The return was made about 10 o'clock.

TO COAST FOR SAND

(Continued from Page 1) It will not be until after plans have been definitely drafted for the work which is to be done. In these bids, a certain definite size of dock is to be called for, which will put the price well within the amount of the appropriation, and then prices per extra foot asked for. Of course, in calling for bids in this way, a definite cross-section will have to be fixed, which will not vary, whatever may be added to the dock in length.

Costs of accessories can be figured pretty clearly before all this is mapped out, with the exception of the cost of the pumping plant, which will vary somewhat with increase or decrease in the length of the dock. Bidding on this work will be open to contractors throughout the country.

Besides the same to be transported, cement to the amount of approximately one barrel to the cubic yard will have to be gotten here also.

Among others, the Matson line is thought of as a possibility in getting this work of transportation done.

A rumor is current to the effect that the Spreckels tug Fearless which is in San Francisco, is to be gotten by the Government, by charter or purchase, to transport materials to Pearl Harbor from this city.

NO ADVANCE FOR TEACHERS

(Continued from Page 1) matter, is small enough without being subjected to general reduction. Therefore the teachers will go along on the same old pay. To make up for this, certain school-rooms will not be opened, and owing to small attendance one school, the name of which was not given, will remain closed entirely. A number of schools will have their teaching force reduced, some of them being changed from three- and four-room schools to one and two rooms.

Extra rooms for the accommodation of increasing numbers will be opened in the congested districts, but the general rule will be that the number of school-rooms will be cut down.

Under these conditions Mr. Babbitt has decided that it will be impossible to bring any teachers from abroad at the present time. He had intended importing some new teachers for Hawaii, but this will not be possible so long as the present financial difficulty prevails. It is hoped that at the next session of the Legislature a larger school appropriation can be secured.

SUPERVISORS STILL ON ISOI-IAUKEA CASE

The investigation of the bankruptcy matter went on as usual this morning before the special committee of the Supervisors. But the committee will not be ready to report this evening at the meeting which is to be held.

Chairman Hueste of the Board of Supervisors stated this morning that this committee will probably make its report at the meeting which is to be held on the 18th, or about that time. This is a special meeting, called in connection with the pay roll, and it was thought popularly about town yesterday that no report would be forthcoming even then, as the meeting was called for one specific purpose.

However, this brings the tentative date at which the public will know the findings of the special committee nearer than popularly supposed.

This morning, the Supervisors went further than the Grand Jury, and had two extra witnesses in. Apuna was called, and a Chinese by the name of Ah Pong.

ing some time ago against allowing Federal doctors to treat leprosy patients at Kahlili, but this, I understand, was done because of the lack of room there.

"It will be our idea to enlarge the quarters for receiving patients at Kahlili as soon as the funds are available, and it is thought that these can be secured in part from the United States Government, if we show a spirit of cooperation in the work before us.

"The system of segregation has been tried for forty-three years. We have given the poor unfortunates a home, and almost everything that could be desired for their comfort. But we haven't done enough. We have perhaps prevented the spread of the disease in a measure, but we have not taken, as can now be seen, the proper steps for stamping out the incurable disease. We call it incurable because we have not found a cure as yet.

"The policy of the Territorial and Federal officials will be to work together in a search for some method of getting the disease under control and finally stamping it out. The white plague, consumption, undoubtedly claims more victims during each year than does leprosy, and it is not at all improbable that an operable 'Lanai City' will be formed here in the future, where those subject to this disease may go.

"In the matter of leprosy, the plan is to make the treatment the main thing, although the segregation will not be given up by any means. In this manner, it seems, patients in the first stages of the disease will turn themselves over to the physicians, knowing that they will be allowed to remain at Kahlili until a cure, if such is possible, is effected. Under the present system of sending the leprosy to the Settlement almost as soon as they are discovered, a great fear of the seclusion comes into the heart of the afflicted one and he will often hide himself from the authorities for a long time until the disease has reached a stage where it is beyond medical aid.

"Of course, the Kahlili Station will have to be enlarged. We hope that this may be more easily accomplished now that the active aid of the Federal officials here and at the Settlement has been enlisted. The present Territorial officials will, however, be retained, and the Territory will still have absolute control over the leprosy, as it has in the past. The new policy means treatment, first, last and all the time, and segregation is a matter of course, not as the main idea."

NEW POLICY IN HEALTH BOARD

Adopt Resolution To Make Treatment Main Idea

What is termed a new policy in handling leprosy has been adopted by the Board of Health. A conference of Federal and Territorial officials was held in the Governor's office yesterday morning, and in the afternoon a special meeting of the Board of Health was held in the robin's-egg-blue chamber at which the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, It is the sense of this meeting that still greater efforts be devoted to the extended treatment and fuller investigation of the causes and methods of communication, as well as segregation, of leprosy; and

"Whereas, It has always been the policy of this Board to encourage any assistance from, as well as to render any assistance to, the National Government in matters affecting public health and the general welfare of the people of this Territory; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board, in so far as its appropriations will permit, will devote still greater energies to more extended treatment and fuller investigation of the causes and methods of communication, as well as the segregation of leprosy, and to this end will give full endorsement and active and earnest cooperation and assistance to the United States Government in the extension of the functions of the new Leprosy Investigation Station at Molokai to other parts of the Territory, in order that this Board, as well as the National Government, may have every means and facility for making a more extensive study of leprosy, with a view to greater amelioration, possible cure, and eradication thereof."

This resolution is said to mean that treatment for leprosy will be put ahead of their segregation. It is claimed to be a reversion of a policy that has been in effect forty-three years, which policy has left the leprosy question on exactly the same basis as it was at the beginning.

The Governor summed up the situation in the following statement:

"For forty-three years we have been continuing a policy of segregation of the leprosy of the Territory, but we are just about now where we were at the beginning, so far as stamping out the disease is concerned, and we will be there forever if the same policy is continued. By the adoption of this resolution the Board not only agrees to allow the Federal physicians to use as much as possible some of the Territorial buildings at the receiving station at Molokai, but adopts a policy of its own for the treatment of the suspects here before sending them to Molokai. The policy is to be treatment first and segregation afterward.

"This is along the lines of a bill introduced into the House at the last session of the Legislature, and should be pleasing to the Hawaiians. It is the policy they themselves have been advocating.

It is quite probable that the Federal government will wish to extend the work of the Leprosy Investigation Station on Molokai to the other islands, particularly here to Honolulu. The Board proposes to act with them, put the receiving station at the disposal of the Federal investigators as far as practicable, and work along the same lines. The Territorial appropriations are too small for us to do much, but with Federal money to be spent something practical can be done. Later on, when the Legislature meets, it is quite possible that the Territory will have money for the treatment of the suspects and incipient cases of leprosy, and then the Territorial physicians can work alongside the Federal investigators.

"It is important that these investigators be able to study afflicted persons as early in the disease stages as possible, to study the disease in its beginning, to try to get at the root of leprosy to stop it.

"This is the reason for the adoption of this resolution and the new policy contained in it, a resolution and policy of the greatest importance."

JAPAN WANTS PEACE

Tokio, July 29.—Viscount Terauchi, Minister of War and Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs, today expressed himself as having the keenest desire for the maintenance of peace and a continuance of the friendliest relations between Japan and all the powers.

Viscount Terauchi intimated that the future policy of Japan would not tend toward military expansion, but on the contrary would see the entire energy of the country devoted in the direction of productive instead of unproductive expenditures.

"I know that in certain quarters the impression exists that the Japanese Government is harboring designs for an adventurous foreign policy," said Terauchi. "That such a misapprehension can be seriously entertained is due either to ignorance of the actual situation or to misdirected prejudice."

WAR IS DECLARED!

The Citizens' Health Committee has declared war against the rat in the following bulletin:

"It is incumbent upon all to wage a relentless war on the rat, the source and breeder of the plague."

Even if you do not think there are rats on your premises, you should use Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste, for rats travel all over the city and are liable to camp with you if your premises are not protected by Stearns' Electric Paste.

This reliable exterminator is sure death to all rats and usually kills them off in a single night. It is the best weapon in the war against rats, and every citizen should use it and protect our city.

The Gentle Spirit of the South

BY E. S. GOODHUE

In reading General Schaff's delightful reminiscences of cadet life at West Point, how frequently one is impressed with what Donald Mitchell calls "the delight and perfusion" of real friendliness. And, taken as a type, what a difference there is and always has been, between the Southerner and the Northerner! Live in the Northland of ours, travel back and forth north of Mason and Dixon's line from Boston to San Francisco; be a man of affairs among Northern men; then do the same in the South, and you will realize how much more the Southerner appreciates the value of gentleness, disinterested friendship, affectionate loyalty, and a winning courtesy which springs not from policy but from a simple, unaffected kindness of heart.

Some years ago, as a perfect stranger in Richmond, Va., I inquired of a fellow pedestrian where a certain place was. He courteously raised his hat, and, with a pleasant greeting, piloted me along three blocks, leaving me at the door of the office I wished to enter.

And, later in New Orleans, we happened to get into a conversation with the owner of a large dry goods store on Canal street, who, because he had in his possession a painting which we both admired, asked us over to his house, where we spent the whole forenoon with him looking over his magnificent collection of paintings. We were perfect strangers to each other, too.

Did he ask for credentials before he introduced us to his charming wife and daughter? Not at all.

We met on the human basis, and he was a Southerner, which is all that need be said.

Where in the North would you find a similar courtesy? Certainly not in Chicago, where every man is rushed or thinks he is; and where swinging doors are flung by one into the faces of those who enter.

An incident is related by General Schaff regarding Custer:

"When McClellan was withdrawing three months later from the Peninsula, Custer, who was then on his staff, asked permission to go out and see his old West Point friend. He found Lea at the house of his fiancée, who had met her future husband for the first time as he lay in the hospital. Now their wedding was set to take place the coming week, but Lea was so anxious that Custer should be present and be his best man that it was decided to have the wedding the following evening. This was such an interesting event in itself and throws, besides, so much light on the nature of the West Point friendship, that I will let the light-hearted and gallant Custer give his account of it as it appears in a letter to his sister:

"I was at the residence of the bride long before the appointed hour. . . . Lea was dressed in a bright new rebel uniform trimmed with gold lace; I wore my full uniform of blue. . . . I remained with Lea, or rather at his father-in-law's house, for two weeks, and never had so pleasant a visit among strangers."

"I can see the Stars and Stripes instinctively dipping as the coffin passes the flagstaff, for the love of two cadets whose West Point friendship the bitterness of war could not destroy is too precious a thing to be forgotten."

Another incident which is sweetly expressive of the spirit that is worth more than houses and gold,—yes, more than evidences of industry and genius, whether these be books or piles of brick and stone,—is told by General Schaff:

"Late one night, while on my way from Montgomery to Atlanta just after the war, the ramshackle train stopped at one of the lonely stations then in the sparsely settled, wooded country. Ball, in Confederate grey, entered at the forward end of the dimly lighted car, in which I was practically alone. As soon as he recognized me, he quickened his step down the aisle and met me with such unaffected cordiality that in a moment the car seemed to glow with new lamps. I had not known him at all well at West Point. Moreover, the war had been so long and fiercely fought, the disappointment and desolation of the South so full and heavy, the future, once so bright, now offered nothing but a struggle with poverty, that had he merely bowed and passed on, I should not have felt hurt; for I realized how much there had been to embitter and put out the fires of friendship. Once, after quite a pause, his eye meanwhile gazing out of the window through which the primeval woods were gloomily and transiently visible, he said, 'Well, Schaff, how happy those days were at old West Point?'

"I wonder whether, in case the South had conquered the north, in case I had had to make my way home in rags, say from Gettysburg, only to find as I came in sight of the old farm, that not a rail was to be seen dividing the leaning fields; that there was nothing left of the old homestead but a pair of lone chimneys, the old hearth yawning black and vacant, whose fires had played so often on happy faces; to find that not a sheep nibbled up the slope towards the old oak stub where the little pigeon-hawk had built, and that even the old dog who used to dig so faithfully for me at the muskrat holes, was gone,—I wonder, if such a sight had greeted me as greeted so many Southerners, whether I would have met Ball as Ball met me! Would I have shown so much of the magnanimity of the soldier and gentleman? I doubt it."

We are quick to seek some excuse for our own hardness, indifference, and selfish pursuit of personal gain.

So we point to the South and remind ourselves and others of slavery, secession, idleness, want of enterprise, injustice to the negro, headlong impulsiveness, quick temper, which we call Southern faults. Then turn to look upon our Northern enterprise, and thrift! At our stupendous success! At our philanthropic platitudes and enthusiasms! Yes, but have we done anything in a business way really to be proud of? I doubt it.

Our millionaires are not a credit to us, nor their millions to them. All the material evidence of growth; of social and material advance—at what cost has it been gained?

"The home? Children? Love? Friendship? True camaraderie? The delight and "perfusion" of friendliness?"

To a very great extent this is true. For quiet Virgilian recesses, for an hour of pure contemplation; for some measure of indulgence in poetry and art, for real fellowman contact with brothers of us, we must go South, as the birds do for sunshine and warmth.

In the North even our pleasures are pursued in a businesslike way. Love and marriage and home-life are rushed orders; our relations with our fellow-men partake of social gymnastics. Let sentiment be abolished. We have no time or desire for it; poetry, art, ethics be relegated. Time is money, and if our neighbor wants this time, whether to pilot him along a street, or to make his heart glad with kind words and smiles, he must pay for it. And then, unfortunately, it isn't worth anything. Law for profit, not justice! Life, all along the way, for one onward, soul-enriching pursuit after wealth and influence, or both. Ah, let us give the gentle Southerner his full due.

He is not only living the simpler, but the fuller and higher life. If he drinks a little more than we, fights a little oftener, swears sometimes, and loses his temper more than once a year, he is still a better man, a better friend, a better Christian than the bustling, practical, puritanical prude who goes along his frigid way, never stoops to "folly," and never, never makes his fellow glad by one warm, unselfish deviation.

In many ways there is no place better fit for the adequate man than our own Sunny South; under its balmy skies live the home-bred people who are the real Americans of America.

SPORT

Will The First Series Be Ended Next Saturday?

Will the end of the first series of the Honolulu Baseball League be seen next Saturday? It is quite a question. If the Saints win from the Puns in their postponed game, which is on the boards for this week-end, the first series is pa'u, and the Jewels are the winners. On the other hand, if the Puns win, they have still to play off the rubber with the Diamonds, and the outcome is still in doubt.

On the day when a shower of rain caused the Saint-Pun game to be called, the groundwork for delay and mortification of the flesh was laid. Again and again, this postponed game has been placed on the card of events, and then scratched.

The Jewels started the series this year by winning everything in sight, but fell down toward the end, and the Puns came in so strong that, from apparent impossibilities, they became favorites for the first place.

A factor enters into this question of settling the series which is likely to delay the decision until the very end of the second series, when everything will be decided at once. This factor is the crippling of the Diamond Head team by the loss of their backstop, Davis.

It is very probable that the Jewels will refuse to play off the deciding game with the Puns while in such a weakened condition, and probably only rightfully, as they had a fine team at the time when the schedule was being played off regularly, and when, it seems, all this matter ought to have been settled without so much delay, during which the Puns have become undeniably stronger, and the Jewels have been sensibly weakened.

So the deciding game may be put off to the very end of the second series, in case the Puns win Saturday.

Meanwhile Fernandez says he will go behind the bat himself in case he can get no one to do the stunt. With a big hole thus left in his infield, he has again turned longing eyes to Albright, the University of Washington man. Charlie has worked some with the Jewels, and the possibility is always there that he will be seen in one of their uniforms one of these days.

G. A. G. AGAIN BROUGHT INTO THE LIMELIGHT

The Japanese press is now in favor of a semi-Kelo vs. Chinese A. C. game at some date in the near future. It transpires that local Nipponese propose a game in which about three of the Kelo men and others picked from the local Japanese teams shall clash with the Chinese boys.

It will be recalled that a game was made in which the Kelos and the Chinese were to play, but that all of the Riverside men who were put down for the date begged off for a few weeks, as they said they needed practice.

Evidently it is thought that Kelo is too classy for the Chinese, and a sprinkling of something less expert ought to be used in order to make a close enough contest.

WHO IS WINNER?

The advertiser doesn't know how to figure stolen bases into an aggregate average. Neither does the Bulletin. Who does?

If this feature is to make any difference in deciding the winner of the Isenberg cup, the decision must be arbitrary. The point this time was not well raised, it seems, as stolen bases, like strike-outs, do not affect any known figurative average in connection with the national game.

FERNANDEZ SLAMMED

Here is a small package for Eddie Fernandez:

"Captain Fernandez of the Diamond Heads accompanied the Kelo boys to Hilo on their trip. Fernandez is looking for an appointment as sporting teacher for the Kelo team."

—Hawaiian Shippo.
As a matter of fact, the Shippo has the wrong steer on this matter. Fernandez still is in Honolulu. What would the public think of Fernandez in this new role? It seems that someone has gotten facetious over this supposed trip of the Diamond captain.

JAPANESE WAX CONFIDENT

Kelo supporters are now confident that they can win all in sight from any team playing here, with the exception of the Santa Clara bunch. K. Tsuchiya, chief secretary of the Japanese Consulate, who was formerly a student at Kelo University, said yesterday, in speaking of this matter:

"The Honolulu baseball team do not play better baseball than those of Japan. The Kelo boys have now learned all of the tricks of the local teams, and since the victory of last Sunday over the Diamond Heads, we feel that we would be able to take all the other teams in this series into camp, with the exception of the Santa Claras.

"We are not confident in regard to the latter team, as we know they play better baseball than the locals, and better ball than the Kelos can put up."

Lipton To Challenge

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 11.—Sir Thomas Lipton has announced that he will challenge again for the America Cup.

Wrestling On Water Is Favorite Japanese Sport

One of the most interesting water sports in Japan is that of the water-throwing contest. It is generally taught in all the universities and colleges.

The students of the Imperial College, who are either members of the Imperial family or Nobles, are also given instruction in the river. Once a year they are examined as to their expertness in the contest by their professors. The Emperor, the Empress, and their attendants are present to witness the contest.

The contestants are required to line up on a long, round log in the water. At a given signal the opposing parties, facing each other, grapple and each attempts to throw his opponent into the water. The one falling first into the water is the loser. The victor, without warning, may be approached and attacked by the next man. This continues until he has thrown every one on the opposing side, probably ten in all, into the water, or has himself been thrown.

If he has successfully thrown all comers, he is presented with prizes by the Imperial family or any other member of the nobility.

This water sport is also followed by the commoners. The fishermen sometimes while away their time during their leisure hours in this way. They struggle, however, on the edge of their sampans. After the fray is over the victors and losers come together and celebrate the event by drinking and singing.

At the launching of sampans, the water-throwing is indulged in.
