NOTICE.

Having leased the TRAINING STABLES
from H. J. Agnew, at Kapiolani Park, I am now prepared to take horses to train, and prepare them for the coming Fair on the 11th of June next.

Breaking and Educating Young Horses a specialty.

It is a point of importance to all owners of fine young colts not to have them jammed or hammered over the hard roads, and to get them properly handled for the first lessons are the ones that make the horse.

Also in connection with my Training Stables, I will serve a certain number of choice mares with my Young Hambeltonian Stallion "APTOS CHIEF." He was sired by Electioneer, owned by Gov. Sanford. The sire of Electioneer was Risdeke's Hambeltonian. The dam of Aptos Chief was sired by Speculation; he by Risdeke's Hambeltonian—so it will be seen that Aptos is an in-bred of Hambeltonian.

Terms for service of Aptos Chief, $50 for the season, payable at the time of service; and all mares failing to be with foal will have the service of the horse the next season free of charge.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered —the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whirling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels constive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste.
Sometimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes closed, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), 17, Farringdon-road, London, E. C.
This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November, 26th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I feel quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly,
Mr. A. J. White. William Brent.

September 8th, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "God-send to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed) Vincent A. Willis, Chemist-dentist, Merthyr Tydvil
To Mr. A. J. White,

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family pills in use. I have received them, they cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure constiveness.

Spanish Town, Jamaica, West Indies,
Oct. 24, 1882.

Dear Sir,—I write to inform you that I have derived great benefit from "Seigel's Syrup." For some years I have suffered from liver complaint, with its many and varied concomitant evils, so that my life was a perpetual misery.
Twelve months ago I was induced to try Seigel's Syrup, and although rather sceptical, having tried so many reputed infallible remedies, I determined to give it at least a fair trial. In two or three days I felt considerably better, and now at the end of twelve months (having continued taking it) I am glad to say that I am a different being altogether.
It is said of certain pens that they "come as a boon and a blessing to men," and I have no reason to doubt the truthfulness of the statement. I can truly say, however, that Seigel's Syrup has come as a "boon and a blessing" to me. I have recommended it to several fellow-sufferers from this distressing complaint, and their testimony is quite in accordance with my own. Gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the excellent preparation, prompts me to furnish you with this unsolicited testimonial.

I am dear Sir,
Yours ever gratefully,
(Signed) Carey B. Berry,
A. J. White, Esq., Baptist Missionary.

Preston, Sept. 21st, 1883.

My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible.

The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."
The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and supper on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.

I am, dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. Bowker.
To A. J. White, Esq.,

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16, 1882.

Mr. A. J. White—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) John H. Lightfoot.

THE CHAMBER AND THE GOVERNMENT.

Elsewhere will be found the memorial last presented to the Government upon the currency question, by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Also, our readers will see, by what is added from the Advertiser, that the "Declaration" published and commented upon in this paper the other day, is the Government's reply to that committee.

There is not much to be said, with the committee's proposal in sight, in addition to the views we expressed when only the Government's reply was published. On the side of the committee there is a clear and definite plan for the solution of the difficulty. It beats us to see where the hardship would accrue to the Government in adopting this plan, except upon the supposition that its policy is to prevent the carrying out of the Currency Act.

A PARABLE.

A certain philosopher was annoyed by washermen, who washed dirty linen in sight of his house. So he made a tent for the washers, so that they should hide their work from the view of his family and guests.

would cover it. So he was always on the lookout for gear that would fit his "great head," and went about feeling all the time like a man with a bee in his bonnet. Thus uncomfortably did Ah Kon Seet come to his wash-tub on the day that the tent was set up. When he saw the tent he cried out, "Oh, there's a cap for me," and, running quickly, placed the tabernacle over his remarkable head.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Pork-eaters must feel pleasant over the discovery that hogs, in the vicinity of Honolulu, have been fattening upon carcasses of horses that died of glanders.

Tavernier's picture shown on Friday night last was a representation of the volcano of Kilauea in a different aspect from that portrayed in his former treatment of the same subject. For intense realism of fire, and heat, and vapor of smoke, its startling fidelity to the rugged sublimity of the cauldron walls, it is, like the other picture, simply above criticism.

SILVER CERTIFICATES AND CURRENCY.

The following letter was addressed to the Minister of Finance by the gentlemen forming the deputation from the Chamber of Commerce, after their interview with His Excellency on the 25th of February, regarding the silver question:

circulate silver certificates above ten dollars denomination as equivalent to gold, if the Government will undertake to deposit a margin of sixteen per cent on all silver coins held against said certificates.

It appears to us to be at the very foundation of any system that the holder of a certificate should have absolute confidence in his ability to get gold, in an emergency, for his paper. We therefore suggest that the Government undertake that, in the event of the gold in the treasury being exhausted, they will pay, within a definite time from presentation (say sufficient to enable the Government to procure the gold), all certificates in gold.

As a check upon indiscriminate withdrawal of gold we would propose that all applications for redemption of certificates in gold be made, so far as practicable, through one or two houses—say Bishop & Co., and W. G. Irwin & Co.

It is further understood that the Government will consent to the appointment by the Chamber of Commerce of a Committee as Auditors of the accounts known in the Treasury books as "Certificates of Deposits," and "Special Deposits," and that this Committee shall have access at all times to the accounts and the coins represented by them.

It is further agreed that any violation of the spirit of this agreement shall free all parties concerned from its provisions.

We have the honor to remain, Your Excellency's most obedient servants, J. O. CARTER, J. HYMAN, For THEO. H. DAVIES, Thos. R. Walker, Committee of Chamber of Commerce.

Honolulu, February 25, 1885. To the above communication the Minister of Finance, on the 26th February, replied that he had laid it before his colleagues and that the Government would make an authoritative statement of its views and purposes in regard to its subject-matter. This authoritative statement was published in the Advertiser on the 27th February, and is now familiar to the public.—Advertiser.

LAST evening the residence of Capt. Brownell, of the schooner Nettie Merrill, on Beretania street, was broken into. SATURDAY afternoon about half-past 5 o'clock, a native man named Ohiaha, who was in a drunken condition, went to the premises of Kahaulehili, just below the first bridge in Nuuanu Valley, and laid himself down on the back verandah of the house. As he was in the habit of visiting this house, no particular attention was paid to him. Early in the morning the occupants of the house heard him making a slight noise, but did not get up. However, when they did go to him later they found blood oozing from his mouth and nose, and he was quite dead. The police were called, and took possession of his body. There was no mark on him, and his death resulted from internal hemorrhage. Two dollars were found in his pocket. He was buried yesterday at the Makiki cemetery.

ADDRESS BY HIS MAJESTY. A very large congregation was present at the Kaunakapili Church yesterday morning, it having been announced that His Majesty the King would make an address. His Majesty was accompanied by Col. C. H. Judd. After prayer and scriptural reading by the pastor, Rev. J. Waiama, he called upon His Majesty to address the congregation. His subject was "Kona Hale," His House. His Majesty said:—

By the request of your pastor that I would make a short address to you this morning, I have consented so to do, and will speak to you about this house and try to advise you how to find ways and means to raise money to finish and furnish the remainder of this building. First, we must all be agreed about this, of one mind, each help the other, and pull together. It is, I know, a hard task to build a large church. But if we will all take hold together and determine that the thing shall be done, it will be accomplished. His Majesty then gave a description of how some of the earliest churches on these Islands were built—Haili Church at Hilo, one or two on the Island of Kauai, also Kawaihilo Church in this city. How the people willingly took hold and worked little by little and persevered until they were accomplished. His Majesty then told how in very ancient times, before Christianity came to these Islands of the Pacific Ocean, the natives had no churches, but used to worship the sun, moon and stars, fishes in the sea, and also animals. He gave the native names of several of these ancient gods. He then gave a full and interesting account from the Bible of how Solomon's temple was built, what each one did, and how it was finished. When this new church was commenced, a committee came to me with two plans—one with one tower and one with two towers—and asked me what I thought was best. I examined both and found that both seemed equally good, but I rather inclined to the one with two towers. Afterwards I heard that the committee had decided on the one with two towers. Now let me ask you: Did the Creator create man with one eye, one ear, one hand and one foot? No; but with two eyes, two ears, two hands and two feet, one to help the other. Now, why should not your church have two towers? It will make the building look more complete, more symmetrical, and I have always wanted that my people should have as nice and complete a church to worship in, as people of any other race living with us. His Majesty gave a full account of the arrival of the first missionaries here, and how Christianity was introduced, also an account of the birth of Christ and his work on earth. There were many kinds of religion, but he favored the Christian religion, it seemed to be the most enlightened one. As to the means of raising the balance necessary to complete this beautiful edifice, I do not want you to be weary in well-doing. You have all heard of the proposed fair to be held here in the course of four or five months. Now I want you, one and all, to take hold and make it a grand success, that enough may be raised to complete and furnish it; and above all do not forget to pray to our loving Heavenly Father to guide and aid us in this matter, that he will help us to bring it to a successful completion.

A CARELESS LETTER WRITER. Not long since, a gentleman residing in Honolulu procured at the post-office a money order for $25 to send to his daughter in the United States, and, in addressing the envelope, carelessly omitted the name of the post-office where she resides. Months passed and no reply came, when he wrote again and learned that the money order had never been received. He then became very indignant and insulting to the post-office officials here, and even threatened a suit to recover his money and damages. The last mail brought the missing letter from the Washington dead letter office, containing the money order intact, which was delivered here to the writer of it, who, when he learned the cause of the trouble, made very humble apology for his obstreperous and ungentlemanly conduct. Moral: Don't blame the post-office when your letters go astray, unless you are sure the fault is not your own. The fact that a letter, without a post-office address, can travel eight or ten thousand miles, passing through many offices and many hands, who are at a loss what to do with it, and be safely returned, without charge to the writer, with a valuable enclosure in it unharmed, is one of the marvels of the day, and affords the best evidence of the perfection of our modern postal union service.

THE CLASSIC SHADES OF PUNAHOU.

Principal Merritt, of the Oahu College, yesterday afternoon called at the BULLETIN office door with his carriage, and took the editor out to that institution. It is a very pleasant drive to a very lovely spot. Just after passing Mr. Spreckels' mansion, a modest-looking gate is entered, and a winding road leads through a wooded lawn to the College. Arrived at the centre of the group of buildings, a glance shows progress written upon the surroundings. Although, being his first visit, the writer could not place in order all the changes that had even recently taken place, yet the different styles of building and the graduated evidences of respective age showed that a series of progressive strides had occurred in the appointments and appurtenances of the College.

By arrangement with an adjoining proprietor the ground has been squared up into a more symmetrical shape than it formerly had. Last summer the shifting of several minor buildings, and the grading of the ground about the library and class room building, made a great improvement in appearances. Changes, that must of necessity be gradual, are contemplated upon the lawn—a greater variety of trees to be planted and the grass assisted to triumph over the weeds.

The principal building of the group is the one occupied as the home of the boarding students. It is a long, two-storied, and elegant-looking structure, surmounted by a square tower of observation, and having ample verandahs—those joys of this climate. The tower looks rather angular and to slender harmonize with the building, and in the more prosperous days apparently coming upon the institution, it is to be hoped the trustees will replace it with a broader-based and terraced structure, or a large dome. As it is, however, the view from the tower is one of surpassing loveliness and magnificence. In front the perennially embowered suburbs, the roaring reefs and the shimmering sea; in the rear the everlasting hills, with the intervening valleys—Makiki and Manoa—draped in a misty veil; on the right the Punahou slopes, adorned by the Lunailo Home, and Punchbowl, with the city and its palisade of gallant spars in front; on the left, the verdant Waikiki plains and many mansions, Kapiolani Park, with Diamond Head beyond, standing clear-cut and grand against ocean and sky.

This building was opened a year ago last October. Within it every condition of wholesome life and comfort is found. The large double reception room, dining room, reading room, kitchen and dormitories are each all that could be desired in their way—well-kept, roomy, airy, and simply though amply furnished. A sweet-toned Miller parlor grand piano is one of the recent acquisitions to the reception room. More like a private summer resort in the temperate zone than anything else, it is not too much to look forward to the day when youth will come from abroad to this institution, as combining the elements of a natural sanitarium—pure air, even temperature, and the most pleasant surroundings—with the facilities of a good education. There are at present 45 students attending the College.

The library and class rooms are contained in one of the older buildings, standing in a direction at right angles to the new building line. There are between two and three thousand volumes in the library, but at least a thousand new ones are required to bring it up to a standard of practical efficiency. Many of the books are of an antiquated sort, and the department of fine arts is almost unrepresented on the shelves. A lecture for the benefit of the library is to be given this evening, as elsewhere announced, and a hint to the well-disposed is doubtless all that is necessary, apart from the high reputation of the lecturer, to ensure a handsome benefit on the occasion. In the same room are the museum collections, comprising some valuable Hawaiian and Marquesan relics, and geological and conchological specimens. Here there is room, however, for a world of beneficence, as very much is required to make up anything like the desired historical collection of Hawaiian relics. Such as there are of curiosities will be properly classified in the cabinet of the new building now to be noticed.

To the right of the principal building above described the walls are up for the Bishop building. It is fresh in the memory of all that the Hon. C. R. Bishop early last year gave the trustees $15,000 for the erection of a building and the founding of a scientific department of the College. A contract was given to Mr. Thomas for the building at $8,960, and under his hands it has gone forward expeditiously. It is high enough to be a two-story building, but it is only one story, as the ceiling is to be 18 feet high. With such an amount of breathing space the students may work hard and long without a sense of confinement. When completed, it is estimated the building with furnishings will have cost upwards of $10,000. The main building is 50 ft. by 26 ft. 3 in., and an L attached is 39 ft. by 26 ft. 3 in. The wing is to be fitted up as a scientific laboratory. The main building will contain two rooms, one 30 ft. by 24 ft., the other 16 ft. by 24 ft. The larger one will be furnished with seats in amphitheatre form, every sitting commanding an unobstructed view of the platform, and this will be the scientific lecture room. The smaller room will be the cabinet for the reception of the museum effects. Prof. L. L. Van Slyke, of Michigan University, has accepted the chair of chemistry and natural sciences, and will be here in September. The inauguration of this new department will be an important epoch in the history of this excellent and progressive seat of learning.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"F. S. D.," in a recent issue of the Alta California, gives a graphic description of the Kilauea volcano. He tells of his first sight revealing nothing but beauty, but as he gazed a grand perturbation took place in the lake of fire, and he "turned slowly away, awed and impressed by this terrible evidence of the magnitude of the works of nature and the Omnipotent Maker of all things." Some of the first ladies in the State are members of the Ladies' Silk Culture Society of California. Among recent accessions to its membership, we notice the name of Mrs. Leland Stanford, whose husband is the railway magnate lately elected United States Senator. At the regular monthly meetings of the society, very interesting lectures upon silk culture and manufacture are given by specialists. When shall we have the pleasure of announcing the organization of the Ladies' Silk Culture Society of Hawaii?

The Alta California, discussing resolutions in favor of "free and unlimited coinage" of silver, which were passed by a convention of silver men at Denver, says:—

"The objection to the coinage of standard silver dollars on the plan proposed is that it would make the United States the dumping ground for all the foreign silver. Eighty-five cents in gold will buy enough European silver to make a standard dollar, and after being brought here and coined, it is by law exchangeable for a gold dollar, worth fifteen cents more in the foreign market. Under the Bland law, it is the Government that makes the profit, while with 'free' coinage it would be the owner of the bullion. The advocates of the proposal thought it would be a splendid thing for the silver miners to be able to coin their silver, instead of selling it to the Government, but on trial the advantages would rather be with the speculators, for the silver could be brought in from abroad faster than it could be dug out of the ground."

TESTIMONY TO

IRON FILTER PRESSES

IMPORTED BY

H. HACKFELD & CO.

IT IS the second season this Press is in use in connection with the Lahaina Mill, and is proving a great success. I estimate the saving at about 5 percent of the crop. The many advantages these Presses have over the wooden ones in use on these Islands are as follows: They are much stronger, being able to stand a pressure of 100 pounds of steam, the skimmings are, therefore, forced through much quicker and consequently more work is being done with them. As each frame has a separate outlet, it is not necessary to stop working the Press altogether should one Press cloth be leaking; it is sufficient to stop the outflow of the leaking frame. The Press-cloths can be changed much quicker, as no sewing is required. The Press will last forever, it never can get out of order. Lahaina, February, 1885. 959 1w C. NOELLER.

HOW TO MANAGE A HUSBAND.

Supposing you have a husband whom you wish to twine around your little finger, you must first love him "with all your heart, with all your soul," etc., and the love you feel will make it possible to put up with all these little discrepancies which drop out in man's nature when you come to live with him; for the best of men become monotonous after a while. In the first place, should your husband be a man of business, who comes home tired to death, cross and worn out, do not at once entertain him with the troubles you have gone through during the day. I always found it an excellent plan to hide disagreeables entirely from a husband's notice. Oh, how men hate tears; how they detest household details. Of all things, when your husband comes home, see that his dinner is well cooked. You don't know how a man appreciates a loving welcome and a good dinner after the toil of the day. There are many women who object to being "bossed," as they call it. My dear ladies, you can always be boss if you take the trouble. By giving in you get your own way as you never would by fighting for it. Should you wish for anything particularly, don't insist upon it after refusal. Of course you must have it, but hide your time. Some women are persistent, and ask, "Why may I not?" Why won't you do as I ask you?" and irritate the man. Rather bide your time, make an extra good dinner of his favorite dishes, put a bow on of the color he likes, make home and yourself sweeter than ever. You'll get it sure, even if you have to wait. I believe that it is perfectly possible to keep your husband so perpetually in love with you that he rather likes being ruled than not. Never ask for a new dress till after dinner. Trust no woman, but trust your husband till you find him out. If any young woman goes for him, take the three-legged stool to her and make yourself so doubly agreeable to the man that he will never dream of looking at another. Oh, what an easy thing it is to manage the man you love—and really they all want managing.

A HEROINE IN HUMBLE LIFE.

An incident of the storm of last week in the northeast of Scotland has escaped record. We are indebted to a correspondent for the following account of the gallantry of the wife of a farm-servant—gallantry which ought not to be allowed to pass unrecognized: During the height of the gale on Tuesday morning, the woman, Mrs. Whyte, who lives with her husband in a small cottage on Aberdour Beach, observed the steamer William Hope of Dundee wrecked in the bay almost opposite her own door. Without a moment's hesitation, and in the midst of a blinding shower of hail and sleet, this brave woman proceeded as far as she safely could into the sea and caught the end of a rope which one of the crew threw to her. The rope she fastened round her waist, and with her feet planted firmly on the beach, and with the spray dashing around her, she stood until those on board the steamer were able to make the necessary arrangements for getting ashore, which they did safely. Mrs. Whyte's goodness did not end there. She took the rescued men to her humble cot, and so far as her poor means afforded, supplied that comfort which the destitute and exhausted crew stood much in need of. Nor is this the first occasion on which this poor woman has shown herself a good Samaritan. About two years ago she was wrecked on almost the same spot as the William Hope. Mrs. Whyte showed the utmost sympathy and kindness for the stranded foreigners; she took them to her house, grudging neither time, convenience, nor material aid such as was in her power to alleviate their wants. These services have never been publicly recognized.—St. James Gazette.

ROMANCE OF A JOURNALIST.

Accounts from the Standing Rock Indian Agency, Dakota, tell how, by the recent death of Young Antelope, Stanly Huntley, a newspaper man, who at one time was connected with the Dakota press, but now in New York, becomes Chief of the Teton Nation. The manner in which Huntley became Chief of all the Sioux tribes is like a fable. Years ago, before Sitting Bull surrendered, Huntley was sent by a Chicago paper to Northern Montana to interview the warrior. Tired of scouring the plains, he crossed the border, and became the guest of Major Walsh at Wood Mountain, in the British northwest territory. Here, camped around the Major's post, were old men and squaws, among whom were Little Knife, the hereditary Chief of the Teton, who was too old for war and buffalo trails. Little Knife injured his limb while dismounting from a pony, and medicine men failed to give any relief, and the old chief was given up to die. Huntley appeared on the scene, and, with a newspaper man's extensive knowledge, bound the wound with leaves and oil, and he recovered. Huntley was adopted, and last Fall, when Sitting Bull and troupe were East, an adopted sister of Huntley's was with them, and recognized Huntley. Little Knife had two sons, Mountain Bull and Young Antelope. The former was killed some time ago, and now, by Antelope's death, Huntley becomes Chief, as a male relation by adoption is as strong as though a blood relation. Among Indians, Huntley's Indian name is Waukpey Wankan, or Holy Leaf.

AN ALARMING DISEASE AFFLICTING A NUMEROUS CLASS.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints; but if the reader will asked himself the following questions, he himself is one of the afflicted:—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous matter about the gums and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the side and back? Is there a fulness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter enervating disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effective remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Faringdon Road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system. Market Place, Pocklington, York, October 2nd, 1882. Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines, I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the results they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so. Yours respectfully, (Signed) R. TURNER.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness. Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16th, '82. Mr. A. J. White,—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT. 15th August, 1883.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November 29th, 1884. Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I felt quite cured. I am, Sir, yours truly, Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesburg, W.Va., informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine, without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life. Yours truly, (Signed) N. WENN, Chemist, Calne, September 8th, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "Godsend to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence. Faithfully yours, (Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS, Chemist-Dentist, Merthyr Tydfil. To Mr. A. J. White. Preston, Sept. 21st 1883. My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible. The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it." The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.—I am, dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. BOWKER. To A. J. White, Esq. 367 1y
