NEWSPAPER SUIT.

Extracts From A. V. Gear's Complaint Against "The Independent."

THEY WANT THE EARTH

And the Inhabitants Thereon.

That the good-will of said original name of "The Independent," and of said name as incorporated in said combination of names, to wit, "Evening Bulletin, with which is incorporated the Independent," copyrighted by the plaintiff, Gear, for the use and benefit of said co-partnership as aforesaid, is of great pecuniary benefit to the plaintiff as distinctive of the trade marks of their respective papers consolidated as aforesaid, and is essential to the retention and successful prosecution of their said newspaper business.

That prior to the formation of said co-partnership, to wit, on the 17th day of June, 1895, the plaintiff, A. V. Gear, owned and possessed a list of the subscribers to advertisers in and patrons of his said newspaper, the Independent, which list was kept in a book used for that purpose, and also owned and possessed certain route or delivery books used by his newspaper carriers in the delivery of said paper.

That the sole and exclusive use of and right to use said list and said route or delivery books is of great pecuniary value to the plaintiffs and essential to the retention and safe and successful prosecution of their said newspaper business.

That the defendants have not, neither has either of them heretofore or now any legal or equitable interest in the plaintiffs' said business or in anything connected therewith.

That the defendants have not, neither has either of them heretofore or now any legal or equitable interest in said subscription list or in said route or delivery books or any legal or equitable right to use the same or any of them, or to use any knowledge or information therefrom obtained, to divert from the plaintiff their subscribers, advertisers or patrons, or to use the same or any of them for the purpose of entering into communication with the plaintiffs' subscribers, advertisers or patrons, or for any other purpose or in any way whatever to lessen or impair the value of the good-will of the plaintiffs' said business.

That heretofore, to wit, about the time of the formation of said co-partnership, the defendant Kenyon, acting for himself and his co-defendant, and with the knowledge and at the instance of his co-defendant, and without the knowledge or consent of the plaintiffs or of either of them, secretly and fraudulently procured and caused to be procured said list of subscribers, advertisers and patrons from one of the plaintiffs' servants, and, as the plaintiffs believe, copied the same or caused them to be copied, procuring said list, and copying or causing the same to be copied with intent to wrongfully injure and deprive the plaintiffs of the good-will of their said business, and to wrongfully use said names in said list, for the purpose of aiding them to establish a rival newspaper in Honolulu aforesaid, and for the purpose of wrongfully and fraudulently establishing such newspaper under the name and style of the "Independent" in violation of the trade mark of the plaintiffs and of the copyright for which the plaintiff Gear had then applied or was about to apply as the defendants well knew.

That heretofore, to wit, about the time of the formation of said co-partnership the defendants hired and employed the boys until then employed by the plaintiff Gear, as carriers of his said paper, the Independent, to carry and deliver the defendants' paper hereinafter mentioned, and procured from said boys possession and control of and access to their route and delivery books aforesaid, with the wrongful and fraudulent purpose of depriving the plaintiff of the use and benefit thereof, and of using the same for the purpose of establishing a rival newspaper under the name and style of "The Independent," in violation of the trade mark of the plaintiffs and of the copyright aforesaid, for which the plaintiff Gear had then applied or was about to apply.

That said name long used by the plaintiff, Gear, as a trade mark of his said newspaper, as hereinbefore set forth, and as incorporated in the name of the joint publication of the plaintiff, as hereinbefore set forth, has been and is wrongfully and fraudulently taken, appropriated and assumed by the defendants and each of them in publishing their said newspaper as aforesaid, in derogation and invasion of the plaintiffs' rights for the purpose and with the intent of imposing upon the public, and particularly upon the plaintiffs' subscribers, advertisers and patrons.

That the use and threatened use by the defendants of the knowledge and information secretly, wrongfully and fraudulently by them obtained, as aforesaid, of the plaintiffs' said list of subscribers, advertisers and patrons, and of the route and delivery books, is greatly prejudicial to the said plaintiffs in their said business and threatens them with irreparable injury.

That the use and threatened use by the defendants of the words "The Independent," as the name, style and title of their newspaper as aforesaid, wrongfully taken and assumed and appropriated by them as aforesaid, tends to and does impose upon the public and particularly upon the plaintiffs' subscribers, advertisers and patrons, and infringes upon the copyright and trade mark rights of the plaintiffs as aforesaid, and prevents the plaintiffs and threatens to prevent them from obtaining their letters, papers, money orders, and other mail in the regular course of business by diverting the same to the defendants. And is in other ways greatly prejudicial to the plaintiffs in their said newspaper business and threatens them with irreparable injury.

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1894.

THE INDEPENDENT.

A number of people have asked us to explain all about the suit which Messrs. Gear and Finney have entered against THE INDEPENDENT. We would prefer to give the gentlemen who appear as plaintiffs a chance to recover their senses and withdraw their suit, but it is necessary for us to place our paper on a proper record, and show our patrons that we exist in the newspaper business honestly and justly.

The editor of this paper was a few months ago the managing editor of the Hawaii Holomua. That paper was to a certain extent a political journal and the owners of it were represented by the late Arthur P. Peterson, a brother-in-law of the plaintiff Gear. The Holomua plant—but not the good will, etc.—was sold at public auction in April. Gear bought the plant from the purchaser, and, with the assistance of friends who "look stock" in his assistants, he started out as the proprietor, on the first day of May, of a newspaper which was called "The Independent."

The title of the said newspaper was proposed and discussed by Kenyon, Norrie, Ashford and other victims of the republic while they were confined in Oahu Jail during the late "war" and the name was suggested to Mr. Gear by Norrie who became the de facto editor of the Independent, although not so nominally.

That paper gained considerable patronage both from subscribers and advertisers. The patronage was due to the merits of the paper and certainly not to Mr. Gear personally.

After an existence of six weeks Mr. Gear sold out to the Evening Bulletin or amalgamated with that sheet and the writer of his "Independent" was "fired."

The present paper was then started through the efforts of citizens who this day believe that a healthy opposition and a fair discussion of public matters are beneficial to the country and who admit that the present editor is qualified to conduct a paper based on the aforesaid lines.

And now comes Mr. A. V. Gear with his law suit, and we publish in another column some of his complaints. His attorney, Mr. E. P. Dole, must have lots of time on his hands or he would not have devoted so much paper and ink to the case.

Mr. Gear complains because people are subscribing to the INDEPENDENT and not to the combined and incorporated Bulletin. We are truly sorry but we cannot help suggesting to the plaintiff that his paper might have a show when he ceases to make it an advertising dodger and makes it an instructive newspaper like the INDEPENDENT.

Mr. Gear objects to our employing delivery boys formerly in his service. He evidently doesn't understand that this is a free country and that any man or boy can seek his bread and wages wherever he sees fit, and that after an employer discharges a servant he has no further claim to his services.

Mr. Gear accuses us of stealing his subscription list and route books. For that accusation he will be made to answer before judge and jury. He forgets that the subscription list which started the late morning Independent was lent to him by the editor of our paper who was, and yet is, the sole manager and representative of the Holomua Publishing Company.

Mr. Gear desires the court to prevent us from "holding communications with the subscribers, advertisers and patrons" of the defunct Independent, and he wants letters, etc., addressed to the INDEPENDENT to be delivered to him.

Dear readers, we advise you seriously not to subscribe for our little paper. Don't even buy it in the streets or an injunction might be issued by Professor Gear which will cause you lots of trouble. If you will run the risk, in spite of such odds, send your name and address to our office and we will manage to smuggle a paper along to you. You press the button and we will do the rest.

Mr. Gear asks the Court to deprive us of all knowledge of his affairs. The Court may comply with his request and issue an order turning us into idiots, but it will have exceeding difficulty in getting us there without performing a surgical operation, which seems already to have been performed on the plaintiffs in the case. Whether we will accept the order or be "contempted" is a different matter altogether.

In the meantime THE INDEPENDENT goes on at its present stand on Smith street (Konia street), opposite Tim Murray's shop, and we sincerely hope Gear goes on as well.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We cordially endorse the following from the Advertiser of this morning in reference to executive sessions of the Senate, "What possible advantages is to be gained by secret sessions of a body of legislators elected to do the bidding of the people is a hard question to answer. What is not proper for people to hear and know is not proper to be spoken. Executive sessions are farcical and do not savor of true republicanism." Right you are, even if you have secured Castle's confirmation. There is no true republicanism in any such proceedings. Keep it up till we get some true republicanism. Then we shall all unite on one platform.

The "Rub it in" Doctor—Wood—yesterday at the Board of Health meeting spoke plainly his opinion of deferring to the wishes of patients. Some unfortunate lepers have had the audacity to think that Dr. Goto's baths and medicines did them good and alleviated their sufferings and then had the further audacity to ask the Board, of whom Wood is one, to grant them the continued use of the treatment. Wood did not on this occasion prescribe the "rub it in" operation, for he said ordinary hot water baths were as good as Goto's and that it didn't matter what the unfortunate leper patients wanted. They should only get what the Board and medical men (save the mark) recommended? Because the lepers pay no fees is that a reason for treating them with less consideration than his paying patients? Get something on the rub it-in principle, yourself, doctor, that will benefit them as much as they think Goto has done and then you will find they will ask for that just as much as they do for the Japanese physician's treatment. Unless you do, a man of your evident disposition is absolutely unfit to be on a Board for public service and benefit, and should at once be removed.

That Wm. R. Castle was not in accord with the late Secretary of State Gresham makes it all the worse for Mr. Castle. Says the Seattle Times:

"Secretary Gresham lacked the money making and the money saving instinct. It is not to his discredit that after a life spent in prominent and influential public positions he died comparatively poor. The truth of the matter is that Gresham was a man cast in a noble mould, as far above the majority of those who have lately been assailing him as the stars are above the clouds. The latter may be able to obscure the former, but they soon pass away, while the brightness of the former is eternal."

The appointment of Councillors of State, under article 81 of the Constitution of the Republic, has been completed by the appointment by the President of the following following persons: Messrs. Chas. M. Cooke, Henry Smith, Timothy B. Murray, Joseph P. Mendonca and John Emmeluth, doubtless good men each and all of them. Two of them have been refused by the Legislature, and two of them had not been previously considered. No consideration has been shown the President. The "dish of crow" was reserved for the last course in the love feast at the Executive building and the President bolted it. Long live the American League!

The scandal at Punahou will not down. As the Trustees have hidden their heads ostrich-like, they fancy that there is nothing more to be seen or heard. We are collecting a choice lot of storyettes and anecdotes furnished to the pupils by President Hosmer and will publish them from time to time.

The eyes have it in the Legislature. There are no noes.

Both the Senate and the House seem to be in a mood to rip up the solidity of the Executive. Why is this thus? Is it a left hauder on the Castle confirmation.

Cecil Brown scents out all possible jobs in the proposals laid before the Senate and gets action deferred till properly investigated by the proper committees! Good for Cecil!

The reserved seat sale for the Marquardt concerts is now in progress at Hobron's Drug store. If you want to go, you had better secure seats at once; they are selling rapidly.

MISSIONARY TACTICS.

Our readers have probably heard a few days ago that the Hawaiian Board of Foreign Missions refused to allow the Morning Star to take an invoice of Tobacco to the South Sea Islands for traders at different places. The tobacco was shipped by J. Whitman of San Francisco and the Board expressed their deep regrets because they could not oblige that gentleman who had always shown many favors to the South Sea missions. Everybody connected with the Board in San Francisco and Honolulu looked virtuous, and W. W. Hall and the other christian endeavors shook hands with themselves and said what nice people "we are." (There must be a great difference in sending tobacco to the south from sending alcohol to the north.)

It was feared by the virtuous missionaries who travel around in the Morning Star that the tobacco eventually might be sold as "Morning Star Tobacco" and that thereby the teachings of the said missionaries against the use of ruin and tobacco would be sadly impaired. The Board was right. And we were just going to express our admiration in well chosen words when we happened to go down to the waterfront and look at the cargo discharged from the Aloha.

In that cargo were 800 packages for the Morning Star. It was a most beautifully assorted cargo of stores. And a large number were marked to a man called "Trade" probably a missionary on some cannibal island. The cotton and groceries, bonnets and general merchandise are links to promote Christianity of course. But who can picture our surprise when we found 25 packages containing 2750 pounds of tobacco! And marked some to Melander and some to Ekstrom. Is it possible that these two gentlemen are going to smoke said 2750 lbs. themselves? Or is it to be supposed that the shipment of Whiteman's tobacco was prohibited because the Board wanted to have a finger in the pie or the tobacco pipe themselves?

But the greatest joke is yet to come. The tobacco is packed in the usual fancy covers on which ladies in more or less undress uniform are pictured. Sultanas and variety girls in tights are the usual trade mark for tobacco. Apparently to avoid any corruption of the naked savages of the South Seas a piece of blank paper has been carefully pasted over each of these gay pictures. Blessed be the careful wisdom of the Board of Mission which gives to the heathen the tobacco only and not the immoral girl along with it.

Take Notice.

Let our readers and the public generally be sure to take notice that we are not in any way connected with the combined Evening Bulletin and the late Independent. Nor are we in any shape responsible for any of their subscriptions or contracts.

Timely Topics.

June 24, 1895.

At last Hawaii will become a true Paradise on the earth, an Eldorado that even the most imaginative dreamer could hardly picture. Between the Labor Commission and Mr. Dole's Land Act every happiness and prosperity will be secured forever. The first tells us how to become rich by growing coffee and cabbage and the last gives us the necessary lands on which to raise the said coffee and cabbage. The Bureau of Agriculture invents and imports toads and bugs and all possible blight destroyers and the day is near when the proverbial small farmer only needs to take his basket and go out in the forest and field and fill it with berries and fragrant sauerkraut.

But how is he going! On foot? That will be much too warm on horse back? Too inconvenient; he can't tie his horse to a cabbage head. How then, will be asked.

On a Monarch, of course.

That is why we imported that celebrated bicycle which has already become world-renowned and the popularity of which is assured here as elsewhere. We have only a few left of the lot that we received by the "Andrew Welch." An order for more Monarchs has gone forward and we will soon be ready to supply the 20,000 small farmers who will be induced to come here by the Labor Commission, with the indispensable bicycle. We have them in two grades, one we offer at $90. It is a strong serviceable wheel and we guarantee that it will give satisfaction to anyone who tries it. The other grade which we have in stock is without comparison the best bicycle ever imported here. We sell it at $105. This wheel is perfect. It is now preferred in the States to any other wheel and ladies and gentlemen are unanimous in their praise of this high class bicycle. We could write columns in describing the beauty and qualities of Monarch, but we prefer to ask you to step into our store without delay and make a personal inspection. Persons who have not yet straddled the fin de siècle horse and who desire to learn how to ride should begin their experience on a Monarch. The Monarch simply teaches them to ride and it is nearly impossible to take a tumble when once seated on the Monarchial back and speeding towards Waikiki. Make an inspection at once as our stock will run out and then will you have to wait for the arrival of our next invoice.

TRUE DRAMATIC ART.

The St. Louis College Literary Society Entertains—Leading Amateurs of Honolulu.

A large audience gathered at the St. Louis College hall last evening and praise for the decorations of the hall and the skill and taste of the young men who appeared in dramatic and musical roles was unanimous and well deserved.

The college band commenced the evening with the overture to the Caliph of Bagdad, which was played with a vim and spirit, that would have pleased the composer of that masterpiece. The choir then rendered the "Sailor's Glee," and the music instructor is entitled to every possible compliment for the manner in which he has trained the young and previously uncultured voices.

The "Proscribed Heir" gave the alumni of the college a good chance to show that they have not shaken off their interest in literary work with the dust of the school. Most of them are now engaged in business, private or public, but all proved themselves creditable graduates of the great college. Jim Thompson and Harry Murray kept the audience roaring, and Crowder, C. Murray and Rosa showed by their superb diction and calm demeanor the advantages of having received a St. Louis education. Among the other numbers the vocal solo of Eric Gay (Sonny Boy), deserves special mention. The little fellow sang Kingsley's pretty song "Buy My Roses," and he was encored time and again. It is a pity that the pure voice of that boy will not be heard again at the college, as he leaves at the close of the term.

Eddie Crabbe's vocal rendition of the "Wreck of the Hesperus" was highly appreciated, and showed that the boy has in his possession a voice as well as dramatic power.

The Farce "Model Tenants" was also presented, and Murray, Crowder and Thompson kept the house roaring with the fun they made out of their respective parts.

Among other numbers the Cantata of the Frogs deserves special mention. It was rendered as finely as anything ever heard here in Honolulu, and received well-deserved applause.

As a whole a most enjoyable evening was spent and the members of the St. Louis College Literary Society as well as the musical directors, Brothers Albert and Francis, deserve the highest compliments for their great success.

The question again arises why only have an exhibition once a year?

Mr. Barnes Opens.

A Magnificent Stock of Japanese Goods

Mr. A. Barnes, who a short while ago returned from Japan has opened a temporary store in which he displays his beautiful selection of arts of virtue and luxury. The goods are arranged in Mr. Cunha's building, known as the Republic, on King street, and fanciers of Japanese art and genuine goods will do well to call around and inspect the stock presented. The goods are selected with a taste that has not been equalled here. The prices quoted simply show that Mr. Barnes does not propose to impose on the public, but simply wishes to furnish fine goods at most reasonable rates. To-day we mention a few objects which will sell readily. Silver headed canes made of Malacca and Ebony are offered at prices from $2.50 to $4. Unmounted Ebony Sticks can be had at 25 cents a piece. Beautiful Japanese slippers made of the finest straw are quoted at 25 cents a pair. Mats that surpass the Niihau mat are sold for 75 cents a piece. Grass cloth in the finest texture and in grey or white colors are priced at 40 cents a yard.

Toilet articles as brushes, etc., etc., are found in great selection and at marvelous cheap prices. Crockery, silver ware, fancy bed quilts are numerous. It will be well to call around early, because within two weeks the whole outfit will be sold and the public will have to wait until Barnes makes another trip. Nothing similar to the stock offered can be found in the Japanese stores in Honolulu.

The Coming Races.

The Jockey Club will find that the public appreciates its determination of arranging a meeting on the race track for the Fourth of July. Great interest has been shown in the proposed races and it is safe to promise the Club a large patronage from the public and to the public some most entertaining events. The horses are being trained daily and there can be no doubt that the afternoon will be thoroughly appreciated by all admirers of horse flesh and those who back the different colors. The 3 mile race is the talk of the day. The prominence given to W. R. Castle is simply overshadowed by the interest displayed by his betters Lord Brock and Amorino. Although in there will be numerous other entertainments on the Fourth, the Jockey Club can rest assured that the vast majority of the celebrators will be found in the Park and applaud the efforts of making another fair and square race.

Sans Souci.

The most lovely spot on Oahu is Sans Souci. This favorite seaside resort, which has been immortalized by the pen of Robert L. Stevenson, who resided there for months, is only four miles from Honolulu and within easy reach of the trams. The surroundings and bathing at this famous resort are superior to anything found in the Hawaiian Islands. Cottages and board can be obtained on easy terms. The table set by the manager is better than any offered here at other hotels. For picnics, bathing parties and outings the best accommodation can be secured by giving notice to the manager.

Court Notes.

A decision has been sent down by the Supreme Court overruling exceptions in the adultery case of Kilikioa Haki and Kabakauila. This was a conviction by Honolulu District Court appealed to Circuit Court and jury and verdict affirmed. A large batch of appeal papers from the District Court have been filed yesterday.

A decision in a bill for specific performance of sale of land in Thos. Clark vs. Hattie P. Parker et al. is handed down. Judge Cooper dismisses the bill. Accounts in the estate of Jason Perry deceased, for 1894-95, have been approved. The receipts and expenditures amount to $13,000 odd.

AN INVASION.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Neumann Pay Homage.—The Silver Couple Receives them well.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neumann was beautifully decorated Tuesday evening and the hospitable doors were wide open to the host of friends who poured in to present their congratulations on the festive occasion and to receive, as far as the young and goodlooking girls were concerned, the paternal kiss of Paul.—The genial spirit which always surrounded the Neumann home took the shape of a glorious halo last evening. The announced engagement of the youngest daughter "out" to Mr. Focke was the cause of double felicitations. The guests were treated right royally, and it was long past midnight before the energetic young dancers left for home. A minuet was danced by several young people but the feature of the evening was the performance of the ever graceful Mrs. Neumann who with Mr. McVeigh of the Bennington danced the beautiful Zambaqueca. The silvery couple the recipients of numerous costly and tasteful presents.

Accidents

Mr. Sam Wood who is in the employ of T. H. Davies & Co., met with a serious accident last Tuesday. The young gentleman who resides at Mrs. Vida's on King street was skylarking with a number of friends and was accidentally brought into violent contact with a door from which a broken hook protruded. The hook entered Wood's head above the temple and rendered him unconscious. Yesterday the sufferer was in a semi comatose state and there were moments when his physicians despaired of his recovery. This morning he is reported out of danger and it is hoped that he will get over his accident without serious results. Woods is a nephew of Mr. Samuel Parker and is most favorably known in Honolulu.

John Nott's grandson, a child of tender years, met with a peculiar accident a few days ago. The boy, a young Nichols, was in bathing at Waikiki and while in the water was attacked by a dog belonging to his uncle which bit him severely lacerating his face and otherwise injuring him. Beyond the unavoidable scars it is hoped that no serious results will ensue.
