STATEMENT.

THE undersigned, a Committee of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, appointed to formulate the views of the Board on the advantages offered by the Society to the public, report:—

1st—The Society issues all the approved forms of assurance, including Ordinary Life, Endowment and Tontine policies. It is immaterial to the Directors which form of policy is taken by intending assureds, during his own lifetime, after his producing years are past, he can, without any larger premium than on an ordinary policy, secure these greater advantages.

2d—The Life and Endowment forms of policy provide for annual cash dividends and a surrender value; are irrevocable after three years and payable immediately after proof of death.

3d—The premiums on a Tontine policy are the same as on the Ordinary Life, but while the latter is only payable in the event of death, the holder of the Tontine policy has the right to draw the whole of the reserve and the accumulated profits in cash at the end of a stated period; thus, during his own lifetime, after his producing years are past, he can, without any larger premium than on an ordinary policy, secure these greater advantages.

4th—Experience shows that the return paid in cash on maturing Tontine policies approximates to or exceeds the amount of premiums paid by policyholders, so that the average cost of the assurance will be only about the interest on the premiums.

5th—Tontine policies, like others, are paid in full in the event of death at any time during the term of the policy, and are incontestable after three years, and payable immediately after due proof of death.

6th—Experience shows that the mortality is lower among Tontine policyholders, as the better lives seek this kind of assurance, which is a considerable source of profit.

7th—Tontine policies will be made non-forfeitable under the laws of the State, if so desired at the time the assurance is effected.

8th—The Tontine system is fair and just; its accounts are accurately kept, separate from all other business, the funds judiciously invested and improved, and the accumulated profits faithfully guarded and properly apportioned.

9th—The Society has since its organization transacted a larger amount of new business than any other company, while its new business for the first half of the present year is $1,750,000 larger than that of the first half of 1884. It has Assets of $60,000,000; over $14,000,000 of Surplus, and its ratio of Surplus to Liability is greater than that of any other company.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.

A Pennsylvania paper adduces the failure of savings banks, with widespread loss to depositors, in that State, as an argument for the institution of national savings banks in connection with the postal system. The plan had been recommended by nearly every Postmaster-General since 1870, and a bill establishing the system was favorably reported by Congress in 1882, but failed to reach a final vote. Consolation for the delay in establishing the system in the United States is obtained from the fact that the matter was agitated for more than half a century in Great Britain before it was taken hold of by Parliament. Such a parallel, however, would never be accepted as an excuse by business men, for the failure of American manufacturers to take advantage of an important mechanical invention, once its utility had been proved in another country. As to the undoubted success of the institution in Great Britain the following statement is given in the paper above referred to:—

"Savings deposits were first received at the post office of the United Kingdom September 16th, 1861, and on that day 435 accounts were opened, and 435 deposits made amounting to $1,436.57, an average of slightly over $10 each. In fifteen months the deposits had swollen to 649,216, aggregating $10,298,438.03, and at the close of 1880 there were 2,184,972 pass-books, representing deposits to the credit of depositors of $164,330,382.19. That the arrangement is mutually beneficial to the Government and to the depositors there is now no question in the minds of the British people."

It is the part of true statesmanship in any country to avail itself of economic experience wherever that may be found in any matter of polity wherein a need for action arises. The copying of legislation by one nation from another is very common, and once a problem has been satisfactorily worked out by any country, it will in most cases probably be only a waste of energy for other countries, under conditions approximately similar, to begin the solution of the same question by entirely original methods. This seems to have been the view taken by both the Congress of the United States and the Legislature of Hawaii, regarding postal savings banks. Both pronounced the thing good. There the American statesmen paused. Whether they delayed giving effect to their expressed opinion, through indisposition to disturb vested interests of shareholders in existing institutions for husbanding the savings of the people, or for other reasons, is beyond our knowledge. The Hawaiian legislators, however, carried their ideas out to the point of consummation so far as their power went. They passed, at the last session, an Act providing for the establishment of a postal savings bank in this kingdom. Here there was no vested right concerned, for the one bank then in existence had abandoned its savings branch, in anticipation of the inauguration of the postal system. The Act was approved under the royal sign manual nearly sixteen months ago, but as yet nothing has been done by the Executive toward giving the law effect. Therefore, this must be added to the category of matters in which the Government has assumed to please itself as to whether the carefully deliberated legislation of the people's representatives should be carried out or ignored. Over and over again have the Ministers been publicly asked for an explanation of their course in regard to this law, but not a word have they yielded in response. One of the main charges against the Ministry has been their utter indifference to the will of the Legislature in respect to some of the most important and carefully conceived acts of the nation's "assembled wisdom." As the challenge has been boldly made within the past few days, to prove anything ever alleged against the Government, the foregoing facts are submitted to the challenging party and to the public, as an acceptance of the gage.

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH.

CIRCULAR LETTER FROM THE BISHOP OF HONOLULU TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CATHEDRAL CHURCH OF ST. ANDREW'S, HONOLULU.

MY DEAR FRIENDS—On Sunday next, acting on the suggestion of a large body of the members of the Church made in a memorial presented to me on October 3rd, I intend to hold the Cathedral services in English, at the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 6 P. M.

It is hardly necessary to remind you that the preparation of that memorial was necessitated by the action of the members of the Cathedral Building Committee, who, assuming a function for which they were never elected, got up a memorial, dated August 25th, requesting leave for the English-speaking congregation to be formed into a distinct society. The memorial was presented in the name of the whole English-speaking congregation. Hence, it must be evident to every thinking person, that if the signers of that memorial had represented the mind of the whole English-speaking congregation, the noble and beneficent design of Kamehameha IV. and Queen Emma, in welcoming and fostering a branch of the Anglican Church planted here in its integrity, would be brought to naught. If before that stage in its development is reached, when the Cathedral Church will be administered by a duly constituted Chapter, you remove it from the immediate and personal control of the Bishop, you destroy the Cathedral idea and reduce it to the position of any other Parish Church in the Diocese. I am persuaded that many who were induced to sign the memorial of August 25th did not know its real purport when they wrote their names. Some, I am told, signed it without even reading it. How far it was from representing the mind of the whole congregation was made clear by your memorial of October 3rd, deprecating any change in the existing order, and expressing your resolve, should any change be made, to stand by and support the Cathedral Church, that it may be a blessing in the land.

The signers of the memorial of August 25th justify their action by referring to what they call "the stationary, if not retrogressive condition of the foreign congregation," and "are strongly of opinion" that those who did not sign that memorial "would be willingly and far more usefully attached to a portion of the Church which we believe would increase in numbers and active usefulness than to one which has not shown such increase."

It is thus plainly intimated that freedom from the incubus of the Bishop, as Dean of the Cathedral, will relieve the stationary and retrogressive condition complained of. Certainly it is a serious allegation that the Bishop's control of the Church, as Dean, has been the great hindrance to its development. But if it is true that fourteen of the best years of my life have been spent in vain in giving the largest share of my ministrations during that time to the English-speaking congregation of the Cathedral, without any charge upon its funds, it is right that the truth should be spoken. But at the same time, I can say with the Apostle, "To me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you or of man's judgment. He that judgeth me is the Lord."

Whatever fault may be found with my administration, for which I am responsible to the Great Head of the Church, one thing is perfectly clear, that if the promoters of the memorial of August 25th would have asked for a candid and unbiassed inquiry into the causes of the condition of things complained of, they would have found that one great bar and hindrance to development has been in the appropriation of the seats of the Church to a few families. Both Hawaiians and the poorer class of foreigners have been kept from the Church through fear of taking a place in which a vested interest was claimed. From henceforth, at the Cathedral services, the King's seat alone will be reserved. Saving this regard due to the King's Majesty, there will be no respect of persons in the House of God. Whether you have $10,000 a year or only 50 cents a day, you will be equally entitled to the first unoccupied place in the Church.

I have given my consent to the signers of the memorial of August 25th, to become a separate congregation as soon as the existing liabilities to the contractor are discharged. It is arranged that the Rev. G. Wallace be their Pastor. Although they cannot become a distinct congregation until the above mentioned condition is fulfilled, yet I have signified my intention to give up the services at 11 and 7:30 to the Rev. G. Wallace, and at once make the services at 9:30 and 6 the Cathedral services in English.

Let me state in conclusion that my mission here is to build up the Anglican Church upon the basis of the Doctrine and Discipline of the Church of England, neither adding thereto nor diminishing therefrom. The fourteen years, during which I have carried out this aim among you, ought surely to give you confidence that the truth which this Church has inherited from ancient days is the foundation on which I shall continue to build. It is not to please men, but to gather them into the body of Christ that they may be saved, that the Church is planted. In this work we do not look for immediate success. But if you have confidence in your Bishop as the Chief Pastor of the Diocese and Dean of the Cathedral Church, you will now make it plain to all men that the Bishop is not the cause of the stagnation complained of.

Come on Sunday next to the Cathedral services at 9:30 and 6, and from that day forth fill the Church with an earnest hearty congregation, as it has never been filled before, wipe away whatever causes there may have been for reproach, and unite heart and soul with the Bishop and Clergy in making the Anglican Church a praise in the Islands.

Affectionately yours,
ALFRED WILLIS,

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

SEE Lewis & Co.'s new double-column announcement.

A SHOWERY morning followed by a glorious afternoon, is to-day's weather record.

Mr. Tewksbury gave a birthday party at his residence the other day, when a jolly time was had.

CHRISTMAS and New Year's have been proclaimed public holidays by the Minister of the Interior.

THE Royal Band gave the inmates of the Kakaako leper hospital the usual monthly concert yesterday afternoon.

E. P. ADAMS & Co. had a very successful cash sale this morning, clearing out a large consignment of feed and other staples.

THE office of the Superintendent of the Honolulu Water Works has been moved to the building "Kapuaia," in the Government park.

THE monthly meeting of the Bethel Union Sunday school will be held at 7.30 this evening, in Mr. S. M. Damon's house, Nuuanu Valley.

A REWARD of $500 is offered for the detection of the person or persons who set fire to the Star Mill trash houses, Kohala, lately burned.

TO-MORROW at ten o'clock, Mr. Levey holds a sale of jewelry, that, being without reserve, will probably be characterized by good bargains.

THE Government carpenter has his hands full. He is repairing the King's boat-house, building a scow and erecting a house for the Marshal's boat.

BETHEL street was cleaned by the contractor this morning. King street, out Palama way, was cleaned within the past few days. On some streets—see Merchant—the old style of leaving the mounds of dirt standing until they are scattered again is still pursued.

A VERY commendable project is announced in an advertisement, that of making up a box of Christmas gifts for the afflicted denizens of the Molokai Leper Settlement. It will doubtless receive a response creditable to the proverbial Christian charity of the community.

HON. W. C. Parke has made investigations regarding the estate of L. A. Andrews, bankrupt, of which he is assigned, the result being that the land to be sold by him in that matter, at Makawao on the 17th inst., proves to have an area three times as great as that mentioned in the posters.

PETER Kibling of the steamer Lehua reports having seen a large water spout on Tuesday last, between Kahoolawe and Lanai, traveling to the westward. The volcano is apparently very active, the reflection being visible at Hilo, also several miles out at sea. The weather was very fine at Hamakua.

A BAULKY horse, hitched to a baggage express and driven by a Chinaman, took possession of Fort street in front of Nolte's this morning. After vain attempts at coaxing the animal to go, some suggested clubbing the horse with one of the Beaver sausages, when the beast, as though aware of the formidable nature of the proposed weapon, started for up town at a lively gait.

CHRISTMAS sales will make the coming fortnight more than usually lively for the knights of the hammer. Lyons & Cohen have a large lot of Geo. W. Macfarlane & Co.'s famous goods to dispose of Saturday night. E. P. Adams & Co. follow with an evening sale on Monday, and stock from Macfarlane's on Wednesday next. To keep up with the "going" business, the public will have to keep an eye open for posters and the newspaper columns.

MESSRS. E. O. Hall & Son are out on time with their calendar for 1886. The card on which the separate months are mounted contains a calendar of the last six months of this year, the whole of next, and the first half of 1887. Adorning the usual gilt clasp is a silver medal, that bears the Hawaiian coat of arms encircled with the national motto. This firm's calendars have always been in great favor for practical use, and the one just issued is the best yet.

It has been ascertained from a reliable source that some of the sheep brought to market and sold here from Kapalama, where they have fed on the same ground on which horses with glanders roamed and were afterwards shot. If the sheep ate the grass where the putrid flesh of horses infected with glanders lay, it is to be feared there is danger of the disease being transmitted to the mutton, thence to the eaters of it. Since the publication of the fact that certain hogs fed on horses that died from glanders, some people, though hitherto fond of pork, have given up hog's flesh entirely. If they have also to eschew mutton, with the poor vegetable supply of our market, there is nothing left but a diet of fish and poi, alternated with cracked wheat, oatmeal and rice. Not so bad living, after all.

Mr. W. S. Hanks, agent for Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is the latest victim of the predatory element for some time past running riot with other people's property. His house is on Beretania street, near Alapai, and the kitchen and pantry are situated at the end of a wing extending back from the main building. During last night the premises were invaded and a variety of household provisions and groceries, estimated altogether to be worth twenty-five dollars, was carried off. Entry was effected, apparently, by a sliding door in the side of the kitchen, but the end door of the apartment was also found open this morning. Mr. Hanks was kept awake until an early hour this morning, by neuralgic trouble, and believes he would have heard the robbers had they come before he fell asleep. Therefore he thinks the robbery was done shortly before dawn. Fortunately the thieves overlooked the silver, which was left, contrary to practice, in the culinary apartments.

CAPT. McGregor of the schooner Mannokawai reports the following news. Heavy rains with frequent squalls prevailed at Punaluu, Koolau, all of Saturday and Sunday, and Monday morning last. A Chinaman at Laie lost about $4,000 in rice during the recent heavy winds. The seed of the plant was not entirely ripe and the winds divested the shrub of all its fruit. Apana, another Chinaman at Punaluu, lost three or four hundred dollars about the same time and in the same way. A third Chinaman was cutting down his rice on Sunday to save it from being blown away. Several natives watched him and afterwards had him arrested for working on the Sabbath, getting twenty-five cents each as witnesses, while the Chinaman was fined by the Court and suffered a loss of about $1,000 damages to his rice crop by the wind. At Laie, the Mormon settlement, they are cutting sugar cane and will have sugar ready for shipment about Friday next. The Kaneohe mill is grinding. The wind at Koolau Tuesday was from the N. W. and N. N. E. and very light.

At the matinee given at the Criterion Theatre on Wednesday, Oct. 25th, by the Princess of Wales' branch of the National Aid Society, the Honorary Secretary presented to her Royal Highness, on entering the royal box, and to the Princess who accompanied her, pretty baskets, decorated with cherry blossoms and the colors of the society, containing silver bottles of Cherry Blossom Perfume, as souvenirs of the occasion. The design engraven on each bottle was sketched for the society by her Royal Highness. A small bottle of the same was also presented to every lady present. Her Royal Highness has expressed her sincere thanks to Messrs. John Gosnell & Co. This most exquisite of perfumes is now on sale at the store of M. McInerny. 195 2w

"SWEETS FOR THE SWEET." That would be a terrible financial crisis when the children could not be afforded an occasional nibble of sweets. Anybody who visits the Pioneer Candy Factory of Mr. Horn will have all apprehensions of such a dismal period dissipated. Where the raw material is pure white sugar, a depression in the Hawaiian staple is not altogether an unmixt evil for such an establishment. Mr. Horn claims to be an adept in sixteen branches of the candy-making and pastry-cooking arts. A BULLETIN reporter dropped in on him the other day and caught him up to his eyes in a veritable fairy broth of candies, which he was turning out by the hundredweight for the holiday trade. During the previous two days Mr. Horn said he had made 1,396 pounds of candy. Each batch turned out of the seething caldron ranged from 80 to 90 pounds, and it was surprising to see the rapidity with which it was transformed—from the gold-colored mass deposited on the huge marble slab—first by vigorous pulling into a cream-colored, waxy substance; then into ropes with variously tinted strands, and finally, passing through reciprocal moulded rollers, into many fanciful designs, calculated to enchant the youngster's sparkling eye for the brief moment ere it disappears beneath the dimpled cheeks. More elaborate figures are made by casting in plaster moulds, of which this establishment has an endless variety, capable of being indefinitely increased. Mr. Horn making them himself. In the gorgeous display made in his show window, he has the King's Own, armed and uniformed, in countless array, and a vast zoological collection of horses, cattle, dogs, goats, etc. It struck the reporter that some of the unpopular politicians could make themselves "go down" very readily with, at least, the juvenile portion of the community, by having their effigies struck in Hawaiian sugar by Mr. Horn. With only one assistant the proprietor of the "Pioneer" declares he works as big batches as are manipulated in the largest candy factories abroad. He offers the trade confectionery of his own manufacture, in quantities from one-quarter of a pound to a thousand pounds, at the very shortest notice. The Pioneer Candy Factory and Bakery ranks, as a producing establishment, among the leading industries of Honolulu, and, with true worldly wisdom, the proprietor is not sparing of expense in keeping his business constantly before the public in the columns of the DAILY BULLETIN.

The Belgians lead the way in the matter of humanity to convicts. Eugene T'Kint, the hero of the great Bank of Belgium robberies, has been authorized to let his hair and beard grow as a preparation for resuming his position in extra-mural society three months hence. It is said that England has between 300,000 and 400,000 cyclists. This explains why she no longer ranks among the great Powers of the world. There are now six times as many lunatics in Paris as in 1801, although there are only three times as many inhabitants.

A CONTRADICTION. Referring to the statement in the Press this morning, that the wire lathing being put in the new station house by E. B. Thomas is the first of that article ever used here, we have to say that we put wire lathing in the Government building Kapuaia, about two years ago. Further the tools used in putting up the wire lath referred to above belong to this establishment. HONOLULU STEAM PLANING MILLS. 197 2t

A NEW RIFLE FOR THE BRITISH ARMY.

The results of the labors of the committee appointed to provide a new and improved rifle for the army, which have just been published, show, says the London Standard, that the future weapon of the British Army will, as regards most considerations, be far in advance of the service arm of any other nation. In the new weapon the Martini breech action has been retained, the alteration being in the barrel and the weight of the projectile, the combination being called the Martini-Enfield. Taking the Martini-Henry as a standard of comparison, the diameter of the bore has been reduced from .45 inch to .40, the weight of the new bullet being 384 grains, as compared with the 480-grain bullet of the old rifle. The powder charge, however, of 85 grains remains the same, with the important result that the muzzle velocity of the bullet is increased from 1,315 feet per second to 1,570, thus lowering the trajectory to such an extent that whilst the Martini-Henry bullet in traveling 500 yards rises more than eight feet and a half above the line of sight, the improved projectile would scarcely go over the head of an infantry man if fired from the ground level. This is an important consideration, as it minimizes any errors in elevations which may arise either from excitement or miscalculation. The system of grooving adopted is the ratchet, the number of grooves being 9, as against the 7 of the Martini-Henry, although the latter is the largest number employed in any military rifle in the world, whilst the twist of the bullet has been increased from one turn in 22 inches to one turn in 15, the latter being in excess of anything which has yet been used for service purposes. In addition to the important reduction in the height of the trajectory, the higher velocity of the bullet and the improved rifling have shown remarkably good target results, the mean deviation of the new bullet being only 3 feet and .95 feet at 500 and 1,000 yards, respectively, as against .55 feet and 1.85 feet for the Martini-Henry. Another important feature is that the recoil of the new weapon is considerably less than that of the present service arm, which has caused so much adverse comment. Experiments are also being made to provide the new weapon with an attachable magazine, so that the soldier will be able to deliver a rapid fire of several shots without reloading in cases of emergency.

A SHOCKING SCANDAL.

A despatch from Plymouth, England, Nov. 6th, is as follows:—The Rev. Stewart Ross, formerly rector of Christ Church, Belfast, Ireland, was addressing the Plymouth Young Men's Christian Association last evening when Mr. Charles Joy, a Canadian emigration commissioner, burst into the room and shouted, "You hypocrite, you eloped with my wife." Mr. Ross turned pale and fled from the room. His audience was surprised and greatly excited. In a moment many of them realized what was the matter, they became a howling mob and pursued the lecturer for a mile, yelling all the time. At this point Mr. Ross, who was breathless and driven to bay, turned suddenly and stabbed two of his most active pursuers. Others coming up at the moment seized and disarmed the murderous rector. The police then put in an appearance and arrested Ross. He was taken before the magistrate to-day, when the charges were lodged against him and he was remanded for a week, without bail. It transpires that Ross disappeared from Belfast two years ago, leaving a wife and three children. Mrs. Joy, who was a teacher in his Sunday school, also disappeared at the same time, which led to the report that the couple had eloped. This rumor was confirmed when Mr. Joy received a letter from Ross in which the latter said: "Your wife has undergone malpractice and you had better arrange for obtaining a divorce from her." Mrs. Joy was found in prisoner's lodging and when informed of her paramour's arrest gloried in her connection with the "Lord's anointed," as she called her illicit lover. She attended court to-day and sat in a brazen manner throughout the whole proceedings.

FLEEING TOURISTS.

A gentleman, quite unconnected with any road or transportation line into the valley, remarked to us the other day that if affairs go on for the next three years as they are at present not 500 stage passengers will visit Yosemite in a season. The combination formed by stage men and hotel-keepers to kill off competition and fleece tourists is ruining the reputation of the valley as a place of resort. Tourists had rather let the great wonder go unseen than pay the price of robbery for a sight of it.—Sonora, Tuolumne county, Union-Democrat.
