HIS MAJESTY'S VISIT TO CALIFORNIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER.

SIR: In order to correct any mistaken impressions, or any misapprehensions, which may exist in regard to His Majesty's visit to California on the U. S. Flagship Charleston, on Tuesday next, I state most authoritatively that His Majesty's journey will not extend beyond California, and that it has no relation to business, either of a public or private nature, of whatsoever kind, but has been projected solely in the interest of His Majesty's health.

J. A. CUMMINS, Minister of Foreign Affairs. Foreign Office, November 20, 1890.

THE Paradise of the Pacific for November has been issued in season for the outward-bound mail. Some of its articles are new and well describe current events. But we regret to notice a disposition to indulge in personalities, and make it a partisan sheet, which it has never before been, and to aid in which the Legislature would not have voted assistance from the public treasury.

MR. BURCHARDT may or may not have said all that the Washington Post puts in his mouth, but if he did so, it shows indiscretion, and we publish the interview chiefly to illustrate how easily persons from these islands may say too much, and that it is generally better to say nothing, than to run the risk of being misrepresented. The trade between Honolulu and San Francisco will not show much falling off, nor will that port be a loser in the trade. Should a treaty, providing for full reciprocity between the Hawaiian Islands and the United States, be concluded, which is among the possibilities of the near future, the trade with San Francisco and the Pacific Coast will expand very largely and rapidly. So far as we can ascertain, there will be no diminution in the area of cane planting on these islands on account of the abolition of the sugar duties in the United States; on the other hand, every planter will strive to increase the quantity of sugar turned out, as an offset to the decreased value of his crop.

DREDGING THE BAR OF HONOLULU HARBOR.

By S. S. Australia this day Mr. G. F. Allardt, C.E., the engineer, who in addition to several costly and important works for private companies on this and other islands of the group, has surveyed the bar of this harbor with a view to its removal, is going to the States to make further inquiries as to procuring the necessary machinery for clearing a passage of thirty feet deep through it, thereby enabling the heaviest ocean going ships to enter, and, when other projected improvements are carried out, to berth alongside the wharves of the city, and discharge and ship goods as easily at twenty-nine feet draft as they now can at twenty-one feet.

Mr. Allardt is of opinion that from the time his final instructions reach him to getting fairly at work on the bar might be within, say, four months, and that given the rate of progress already realized under very similar circumstances in San Francisco and Oakland harbors, twenty-five working days of eight hours each night suffice to clear the entrance.

The first thing to be done after the plans and specifications of the dredge itself have been prepared will be to build the scow here, whilst the machinery is in course of construction in San Francisco or elsewhere, so that neither shall have to wait for the other, but as the engines arrive from the Coast they may be set up here, and the work of dredging be begun at the earliest possible time. Another preliminary to be carried out here will be preparing a place of deposit for the material raised from the bottom.

An area of about ten acres will be selected on the coral flats east of the harbor channel, and this is to be surrounded by a suitable retaining wall and levee; on its exposed sides a wall similar to those built round fishponds, and on the sides not exposed to the action of the waves Mr. Allardt considers a suitable embankment would be sufficient. If the site at present proposed be selected, about 2,500 feet of pipe will be required to carry the material from the dredge to the place of deposit.

The "modus operandi" is thus described in Mr. Allardt's report to the Minister of Interior, dated July 19th last: "The work is to be done by what may be termed 'the hydraulic method,' that is, by pumping up the material in suspension, and transporting it by water carriage through sheet-iron pipes to its destined place of deposit, where it may be allowed to settle. The machine proposed to be used is the Von Schmidt Patent Dredge, and consists of a powerful steam engine and a centrifugal pump mounted upon a large scow. From the bow of the scow is suspended a heavy boom with movable joint, having at its outer end a rotary plow armed with a number of steel shares or cutters fastened to its periphery. When dredging is going on, the boom is lowered to the bottom, and the plow is made to revolve with considerable velocity, in that way loosening the material to be dredged. The material together with a large percentage of water is then sucked up through the suction pipe by means of the centrifugal pump, then forced by the same power through the transporting pipe to its final place of deposit," there it is enclosed by the levee or wall for holding back the debris laden water until it has time to settle, and then the clear water runs back to the bay by one or more openings left in the levee.

"In this way large tracts of lowland on the shores of San Francisco Bay were effectually reclaimed." The total cost of removing the bar by this system is placed by Mr. Allardt at $98,000 or if it be found advisable to carry a part or the whole of the material to a more distant spot—a proportionate increase of cost for extra piping, etc., or as Mr. Allardt points out, having the scow and dredge at their disposal, the Government having cleared away the bar can turn round and deepen the entire harbor to a uniform depth of thirty feet at low water, by the expenditure, in all, of something under $200,000, and at the same time have an efficient dredging plant on hand for future work such as widening the channel on the bar if necessary. The present estimates are for a straight channel 200 feet in width—and keeping the harbor free from the debris annually discharged into it from the surrounding hills.

This vast improvement then may actually be accomplished within the next half year. The Legislature have done their part in voting the money $200,000 and the Minister of Interior seems ready and anxious to do his part.

The works already done by Mr. Allardt for the Railway, and Land Company and the great flume for the Makaweli Plantation prove him to be an eminently safe and successful engineer, his calculations showing great foresight, and a keen appreciation and provision for the circumstances, prices and innumerable considerations to be reckoned with by an engineer, make his estimates thoroughly reliable. We wish him every success, and we hope to see the great White Star ships and the heavy ironclad warships that have hitherto been obliged to lie rolling outside, steam fearlessly in and take up their bulks at the new wharves yet to be provided concerning which we may have something to say before long.

MARITIME CANALS.

(From our special correspondent.) Ex-Mayor Macaulay of Indianapolis has just returned to this country from Greytown. He says that thus far about $3,500,000 has been spent on the Nicaragua Canal and up to the present time the expenditures have in no case exceeded what was estimated on the work. No engineering difficulties were met that were not fully anticipated. Three thousand laborers are employed and excavation is about to begin.

La France Financier says that "if work has seriously begun at Greytown as reported" it is dangerous to attempt to raise any more funds for the Panama ditch. The Panama Company has expended 1,600,000,000 francs and the work has hardly been begun, comparatively speaking. The South Sea Bubble and the schemes of John Law are not to be compared with the Panama scheme in the matter of total loss.

The official liquidator of the Panama Canal Company denies that the negotiations of Pyse with the Colombian Government for the extension of canal concessions have been ruptured. He admits, however, that the process of effecting a settlement with Columbia is slow and full of difficulty. Reliable advices from the isthmus describe the canal works as wrecked, and say that even the traces of the excavations are vanishing. The construction machinery is stated to be worthless now, and its condition is so bad that it will not bring the price of iron.

The Corinth Canal across the Isthmus of Dorinth which severs the Peloponnesus from the Greek mainland is approaching completion. It is four miles long and follows the line laid down by the Emperor Nero. It is to be ninety-six feet wide and thirty-six feet deep and at Corinth it will be crossed by a railway bridge 164 feet high. The cost is $14,000,000.

Reported Discovery of a Cure for Consumption.

The discovery by Professor Koch of the Berlin University of a method for the cure of consumption by inoculation with attenuated tubercular bacillus is still exciting the greatest interest among the medical profession and laymen. The National Zeitung says it is probable a motion will be introduced in the Prussian Diet looking to the establishment of a Bacteriological Institute, which will be under the direction of Professor Koch. Emperor William is deeply interested in the discovery, and receives frequent reports from Professor Koch regarding the progress he is making in his experiments. The Professor declares he is not desirous of deriving any material advantage from his discovery. He says he will make public his method for the benefit of humanity. Professor Koch is making experiments at the present time in Professor Senator's wards of the Charity Hospital in this city on eight slight cases of consumption.

From a reliable source a reporter learns that the great difference between the lymph used to fight small-pox and that used in the battle against consumption is that Professor Koch inoculates only persons who are already stricken with phthisis. This fact proves it is not a preventive, as the small-pox lymph is.

Professor Koch will announce his invention by means of an illustrated lecture, which will be delivered before the Medical Society some time within the next six weeks. The statement that the lymph contains metallic substances has been corroborated.

Two new sorts of tea are reported from abroad. In England fashion has taken up a mixture of dried and cured hops. In Germany they are using strawberry tea, decocted from the young leaves of the strawberry plant, after they have been dried and prepared like Chinese tea.

PETITIONS TO THE BISHOP OF HONOLULU.

We have been requested to publish the following copies of petitions recently sent to the Bishop of Honolulu:

1. One with 52 signatures of members of the First Congregation calling upon the Bishop to dismiss Rev. W. H. Barnes, rector, and re-instate the Rev. H. H. Gowen and Mr. C. H. White, organist.

2. To the Right Reverend, the Lord Bishop of Honolulu: We the undersigned members of the Cathedral congregation desire to express our great grief at the condition, which seems to us most lamentable, of the work of the Anglican Church in Honolulu, and our strong opinion that no satisfactory changes can occur during your Lordship's continued presence in the diocese. We beg, therefore, respectfully, and in what we earnestly believe to be a sincere desire for the best interests of the church here, to ask you to consider whether the time has not arrived for you to resign the oversight of the diocese into other hands. [Here follow 87 signatures.]

3. My Lord: We, the undersigned members of the Second English Speaking Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Honolulu, feel it to be our duty to express our entire accord with a large number of our brethren of Your Lordship's Cathedral congregation in the wish that you may see the desirability of resigning the superintendence of the Anglican Mission in Hawaii. We do so in the firm belief that whilst Your Lordship is in charge of this diocese, peace and harmonious work cannot exist therein, and the well-being and hoped-for extension of our church in this country is impossible. [Here follows eighty-nine signatures.]

AFFAIRS IN HAWAII.

Mr. E. W. Burchardt, a member of the Hawaiian Islands Congress, arrived from Honolulu last night, and when asked at the Arlington for the news from his part of the world, responded readily.

"The leading issue with us," he said, "is the preservation of Hawaiian autonomy. The masses of the people—and I do not mean merely the natives, but Americans and Englishmen—want no other country to tamper with our affairs or seek to annex the islands. I was elected to the Legislature mainly on that issue, and got a large percentage of the American vote.

"You read all sorts of rumors here about uprisings and revolutions, but take my word for it, nothing of the sort will occur. Bush and Wilcox, two half-breeds and chronic agitators, are endeavoring to call a constitution of that crop on the people, being to abrogate to the people the property qualification for suffrage, and they made some threats of revising the constitution by force, if necessary. It was only talk, though some amendments are likely to be made. The house is divided into two classes, nobles and representatives, all sitting, however, as one legislative body. To be eligible as an elector for noble one must own $3,000 of taxable property, and it is this restriction that the agitators want abolished, so as to increase the strength of the native vote.

"I am fearful that the McKinley bill will do a great deal of harm to our sugar interests, and this is the feeling of all our planters. For one thing, it is sure to curtail the production of that crop on the islands. A friend who accompanies me to Washington, Mr. McFie, a large planter, intended cultivating 700 acres of cane this season, but owing to the new tariff law, only put in half that area. This is the case all over our country. But the bad effects of the law will not only be felt over there. San Francisco is certain to be loser. The trade between that city and Honolulu growing out of the sugar traffic is a big thing, and was mutually profitable. Now it will be largely checked by the admission of free sugar from other countries. I think the United States Government will find out in the long run that Mr. Blaine was correct in his opposition to free sugar without reciprocal concessions.

"The present order is not likely to be disturbed. King Kalakaua enjoys but little popular confidence or respect, but there is no desire for his dethronement. He is in a bad way financially just now, being heavily in debt, but as the crown lands are good for his obligations his creditors are not uneasy. He has a good income outside of his salary, but manages to spend it rapidly. * * * Socially he is well liked, and is a very plausible talker. His sister, Mrs. Dominis, a native Hawaiian, married to an American, would be queen in the event of Kalakaua's death."—[Washington Post.

Some of the illustrations in the new book are very fine specimens of the photographic process of engraving, and accurately represent the scenes portrayed.
