RUSSIANS SET FREE TO WORK SENATE RAISES HOUSE $3,000,000 ON NAVAL FUNDS

PROHIBITION IS ISSUE IN U. S. COURT

An unofficial and unpremeditated miniature vote was taken on prohibition in the precincts of the United States district court this morning.

U. S. Judge Robertson occupied the bench. Deputy U. S. Attorney Rawlins appeared to prosecute Harry White for alleged "bootlegging" and Attorney T. Milner Harrison was present to defend White.

White is charged with packing booze of various brands down to the cavalry camp at Leilehua, against the law, in his auto, whether on his own account or as an alleged agent for a local concern remains to be seen.

In selecting a jury from the talesmen gathered, nineteen gentlemen were examined and only one out of the lot, Manuel Pacheco, came out emphatically in the statement that he was in favor of prohibition.

In examining possible jurors, the defendant's lawyer in each case asked:

"Have you formed any opinion as to the prohibition movement?"

Some said they had not formed any opinion and others said that they were against the idea of prohibition. Some said they had not thought about the proposition at all, and others stated that such a question would not enter in their deliberations of the case on trial.

Charles Frazier stated that he had formed no fixed opinion.

"Do you belong to any organization which has taken any definite stand in the matter of prohibition?" asked Lawyer Harrison.

"I belong to a church," replied Frazier, "which I believe has taken a stand against the saloons and in favor of prohibition, but the church's attitude in this regard has not particularly interested me; indeed I have not thought much about the matter. I don't have to accept the opinion of the church. Such situation would have no influence on my consideration of this case."

Mr. Frazier was passed as a juror and sworn in.

Deputy U. S. Attorney W. T. Rawlins facetiously asked Attorney Harrison why he did not inquire of the jurors if they knew anything of the "Hagey cure." Harrison was at one time identified with the Hagey cure here.

TAFT ADVISES AGAINST SUGAR INVESTIGATION

(Special Cable to The Star.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 9.—President Taft, in a message to the House today, says that a Congressional investigation of the sugar frauds at this time would be inexpedient as such course might tend to seriously embarrass the executive department in completion of its own investigation which has already proved productive of exceptionally satisfactory results.

The President also points out that there is grave danger should a Congressional committee undertake the inquisition, of immunity being granted, to some of the highest who may be guilty. In any event, the evidence now being gathered will eventually be sent to Congress.

LONDON, May 9.—Authorized official information as to the exact immediate cause of the death of King Edward is today given out as having been cardiac failure following bronchitis.

DANCE AT THE MOANA TONIGHT

In case the Chiyo Maru remains in port over night tonight, a dance will be given at the Moana Hotel in honor of the passengers aboard. A cordial invitation is extended to those who generally avail themselves of the opportunity to participate in the Moana dances, including army and navy folk.

GOVERNMENT LAWYER OBJECTS TO ADVISING FOR PLANTATION JOBS

Ten Russian men were before Circuit Judge Cooper this morning on charges of unlawful assembly, their cases arising from the recent incipient riots among those of the immigrants who refuse to work on the plantations and have not secured work anywhere else.

Attorney Leon Straus had been appointed by the court to represent the interests of the Russians, and, by a happy program of events, it developed that the defendants would be given all indulgence if they would but cease their agitation and go to work.

The ten Russians entered pleas of guilty, whereupon City and County Attorney Milverton and Attorney-General Lindsay stated that they had agreed with the attorney for the defendants, Leon Straus, that, upon a plea of guilty all around, the defendants should be allowed a suspended sentence.

Straus advised his clients to plead guilty by reason of the difficulty of securing a jury, such advice being given under the above agreement.

It would probably take several venues and many weeks to secure a jury, the members of which could be shown not to have formed some definite opinion in regard to the late Russian excitement.

Sentence was suspended and Judge Cooper informed defendants that, if they behaved, the suspended sentences would be null and void at the end of thirteen months.

Their attorney, Straus, announced to the men that they could obtain work on the sugar plantations, if they desired to go to work.

Attorney-General Lindsay objected to Straus making such a statement in the courtroom, declaring that it might be construed as forcing the Russians to go to the plantations.

However, Lindsay stated that the defendant Russians could find work if they had a desire to do so.

COASTWISE BILL AS REPORTED

Following is a portion of the report of the Committee on the Merchant Marine and Fisheries, presented by Mr. Humphrey of Washington, on the bill to amend the laws concerning passenger transportation between ports of the Territory of Hawaii and other parts of the United States, together with the bill as amended by the committee:

During the past year there have been numerous occasions when the time between sailings of American ships has been from ten to eighteen days, with intervals of ten or twelve days a frequent occurrence. In numerous cases the American steamers calling at Honolulu en route to San Francisco from the Orient have not been able to provide cabin space for more than from 20 to 60 per cent of the passengers booked for those steamers.

No additional vessels for the Hawaiian passenger service are now under plans or building except 1 freight steamer, which will have 15 passenger cabins. The existing lines have declined to contract for any more passenger vessels at present, even though Hawaiian capital offered to take up a substantial part of the cost.

The Hawaiian islands, distant over 2,000 miles from the mainland, are dependent wholly on vessels for travel to the continental United States; yet they have now only 9 steamships available for travel between Honolulu and domestic mainland ports where they had 13 available at the time of annexation.

Five of the present steamers are larger than those displaced, but 2 others are of smaller passenger capacity. When the increase in travel to Hawaii is taken into account, it is evident that the American shipping companies failing of proper encouragement by the Government, have been unable thus far to maintain an adequate passenger service to the Hawaiian islands. The passage of this bill will make available 4 foreign steamers now plying between San Francisco and the Orient, with a total of 20 additional sailings each way per year.

While the total capacity of the American vessels calling at Honolulu is sufficient for the passenger travel during perhaps one-third of the year, the evidence before your committee shows that during the remainder of the year a considerable number of passengers are compelled to either pay the fine of $200 for travel on a foreign ship or else abandon their intended voyage). The effect of the present law and conditions is to place an embargo upon travel for the periods between American ships, with the added hardship that passage is frequently impossible after the passenger has waited.

From the very foundation of the Government one of the fundamental principles of our nation has been freedom of intercourse and commerce between the several States and Territories. That principle is written into the Constitution itself and has been elaborated in countless laws and court decisions and until Congress shall make it possible for the American merchant marine to provide proper facilities for travel between the mainland and these outlying islands we see no alternative but to permit the use of foreign vessels.

The people of Hawaii say, with much reason, that it was never intended to annex those islands to the United States to make communication with the mainland more difficult than it was when they were a foreign country. The insufficiency of American vessels has already compelled Congress to suspend the coastwise laws with reference to the Philippine islands both for freight and passengers. No change of the law as regards freight transportation is asked by Hawaii, nor are lower steamer fares sought; the purpose is only to secure the physical possibility of travel when business or personal reasons demand. The bill specifically provides that its operation shall cease as soon as three additional American steamships shall be placed in this service.

The committee amendment to the

SALOONMAN NEEDS HELP, NOT CENSURE

John G. Woolley spoke last night on prohibition and presented the facts of prohibition and temperance. Previous to Woolley's address an Epworth League rally considered prohibition, which subject formed the text of sermons in nearly all the Hawaiian churches.

Mr. Woolley said in part: "We are at a crisis and finding ourselves called upon to consider an important question we need wisdom. We might consult books on political science and economy and form a judgment in the matter, but there is not enough time. The election comes on July 26. We might consult history and it would show us that the use of intoxicants was altogether bad from the beginning and never did anybody any good. For this, also, there is not enough time, and many of us could not be able to do it."

"But we've got to be wise, and so we can go back to that wonderful old book of Job and read where he says: 'Where shall wisdom be found and where is the place of understanding? The fear of the Lord: That is wisdom and to depart from evil is understanding.'"

"It is not in our mind to censure the man who drinks very much. What is wanted is not criticism. We might get him to sign the pledge and that would help and encourage him to better ways, but the best way to do is to cut off temptation and stop the supply of liquor. Of course, there will be plenty of people who will be able to find satisfaction for their appetites, but it will keep it away from the boys who have not formed the habit. 'I wouldn't close the saloon. There can be had cheap food and a rough and ready hospitality for the homeless or friendless man. But I would prohibit drink—leave the soft drinks perhaps, and the tobacco, but do away with alcohol.'"

"The saloon keeper according to the views of many temperance people, is inclined to be a very bad man. But he, too, doesn't need criticism; he needs help. The drinker and the saloon keeper are both the victims of the bad public policy that has existed. 'We owe a duty to the saloon keeper. To increase his license will not help; to put him out and leave somebody else in isn't fair. But put an end to liquor. The saloon keeper would have to turn to other means of livelihood, where he would, perhaps, not make so much money, but it would be cleaner, and as time passed the saloon keeper and his family would enjoy prohibition more. 'The liquor dealer is not in the business on his own motion, but because he holds a license through the people and fundamentally the people are to blame. 'The liquor traffic is bad for the drinker and the drink seller and we are out to do away with it. It is to be a fight—a war, a long war—but we can do just what that man Job says—depart from evil. Here's a chance to hit and there's only one thing to do, hit it.'"

PROHIBITION NOT THE REMEDY

By C. C. CLARK.

Temperance movements have been in progress at various times in the United States for nearly a hundred years. Millions of people have been stirred and many have taken lifelong pledges not to drink; still at the present time, the amount of alcoholic drinks consumed is greater than at any time in the history of the country. That there is a liquor problem to be considered and solved is conceded by all; that it is a problem of the city and not of the country is obvious from the fact that the amount of pure alcohol consumed in the cities of the country averages about eleven quarts per capita, while that of the rural districts is barely four quarts, annually.

There have been three distinct great prohibition movements in the last century. The first originated in New England, a large proportion of which was made "dry," because at that time they were largely rural. Later, as the cities grew and the foreign population increased these states returned to the license system, excepting Maine, where the rural vote still predominated. The second movement started in the rural districts of Missouri, in the 80's and again receded for the same reason as the first thirty years before, leaving only Kansas and North Dakota dry. This latest, vigorous agitation very naturally had its origin in the rural districts of the South. Thus it will be seen that the rural vote has been used as a means to force prohibition upon the cities.

The present movement is under the general charge of the Anti-Saloon League, a non-partisan, religious body that originated in Ohio living on contributions secured by a large staff of salaried agents. Sub organizations are flourishing in every part of the Union.

The program of the league seems to be to use the rural vote of the States to force the cities "dry" and that they have succeeded in the south is shown by the fact that in the last two years five Southern States have been voted dry, while about one-third of the population of the Middle States are now living "dry." This mainly through the rural vote as practically all the cities were forced into the prohibition ranks against their will, Mobile, Alabama even threatening to secede from the state, so strong was the feeling in that city.

Experience has taught that prohibition hits the brewer far more severely than it does the distiller, as beer is a bulky, perishable article, which cannot be handled with the same absence of ostentation as whisky in a "dry" community. Again there is always the relief to be gained through the medium of the doctor's prescription, and it is wonderful how easily these can be obtained and the great number of people who need alcoholic liquors as a medicine in prohibition communities.

That prohibition does not prohibit in the great majority of cases is an assured fact but is that the fault of the law or in the enforcement of the law? It is one of the fundamental laws of human nature to refuse to be dictated to. The prohibitionist says to his neighbor "Thou shalt not," and that individual, thinking he is being coerced, immediately proceeds to show the prohibitionist that he can if he wants to.

Again it is always difficult to keep a moral propaganda at that high point of enthusiasm necessary to ensure a continued enforcement of a prohibition law. It is bound to be spasmodic. A commercial interest such as selling liquor illicitly, however, is continually and inevitably watchful to protect itself.

The question then arises if prohibition is not the remedy, what is? It is folly to think that a subject which has been agitating the nations for centuries can be settled by one method at a single effort. It will take years of education, and education alone, not only here in America, but throughout Europe to bring about a radical change in the attitude of the general public toward alcoholic drinks.

That the city saloon generally speaking as conducted here in Hawaii, and throughout America, is a menace to the moral and political welfare of the people cannot be disputed, but can anyone show that prohibition has ever worked a lasting benefit?

The state of Massachusetts has probably come nearer solving the liquor question than any other section of the country, at least it is far in advance of the rest. They have in that state what is known as a high license law, but it is more than that. It is a law that protects the saloon man after it has taken his money; a law that can be and is enforced, while the cost of a license is high enough to make it extremely unprofitable for a saloon keeper to disregard the law.

A law of this nature in Hawaii, limited to one saloon to every thousand inhabitants with men of known integrity and responsibility to get the licenses, though it would possibly not be a complete solution, still it will have been a great advance of the present conditions, or over any prohibition law that could never be enforced.

AT THE THEATERS

Outside of the McRae entertainment in the Hawaiian Opera house the Russo-Jap wrestling match at the Art and the appearance of the "Honolulu Students" at the Bonine there were no extraordinary features at the theaters Saturday night. The weather was fine and all of the playhouses were well patronized. As a rule, the programs were new, spicy and interesting, and seemed to be much enjoyed.

AN EXCELLENT SHOW.

La Petite Theatre Score with a First-Class Program. If you want to enjoy finished acting and indulge in a hearty laugh don't fail to witness Mayo and Rowe in that screamingly funny sketch "A Tip on the Races," which goes on this evening at the Novelty Theater. Miss Rose Mayo does some capital acting in it, and is ably assisted in "keeping the fun going" by Mr. Leonard Rowe. The audience is kept in a roar by the excellent work of the team in this laughable absurdity. It will be performed this evening.

AT THE PARK.

Manager Congdon has selected "Expectations" as his feature film at the Park Theater this evening. In addition there will be other excellent films of different kinds. The big card tonight, however, will be some brand new vaudeville talent which will go on for the first time.

JAVA VOLCANO.

Tonight at the Empire will be shown the fire spouters of Java in all their splendor to be followed by a series entitled "Awakened Memories." Excellent dramatic selections are: "The Flight of Monsieur" and "The Cattle Thieves." A special comedy, "The Blue Garter," will be put on. This will be the last week of Miss Donovan at the Empire.

BAND CONCERT.

The Hawaiian Band will give a concert this evening at Emma Square commencing at 7:30. The following program will be rendered: Overture—Titus.....Mozart The Torchlight Procession...Maybeer The Evening Chimes.....Rollinson Selection—Duc Foscarl.....Verdi Vocal—Hawaiian Songs, Ar. by Berger Selection—The Golden Butterflies...Robertson Love Old Sweet Song.....Buccalossi Finale—Au Moku.....Berger The Star Spangled Banner.

MOTHERS WHO HAVE DAUGHTERS

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winchester, Ind.—"Four doctors told me that they could never make me regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. I would bloat, and suffer from bearing-down pains, cramps and chills, and I could not sleep nights. My mother wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking one and one-half bottles of the Compound, I am all right again, and I recommend it to every suffering woman."—Mrs. MAY DEAL, Winchester, Ind.

Hundreds of such letters from girls and mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by its use.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

THE COASTWISE BILL.

Direct support was given by the administration to the Hawaii coastwise suspension bill while pending before the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries of the House. In the committee's report, of which portions are given elsewhere, there is a letter from Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, emphatically recommending the measure. Secretary Nagel mentions the fact that "the prevailing sentiment in Hawaii is undoubtedly in favor of the bill," and he makes these significant remarks:

"Finally, the practical workings of the penalty clause are, to my mind, extremely unsatisfactory. The very fact that we are constantly called upon to remit and to mitigate demonstrates the unsatisfactory condition which now prevails."

At last accounts the case appeared hopeless for passage of the bill at this session. Perhaps the delay will bring about a measure of success in efforts to improve the situation as it stands, so that the necessity for suspension may be less absolute by the time of next session of Congress. If, on the other hand, the demand for accommodation meantime increases in greater degree than the supply, the advocates of suspension will then have a stronger case to present than now. Postponement of the measure will be an additional test of the merits of the controversy.

SERIOUS PLANT PEST.

Another letter has been received from Mr. Hugh Galbraith regarding the plague of cutworms on his farm at Wahiawa. Although they have been gathered in basketfuls, the ground still contains myriads of them. Chickens will devour them, but at the same time destroy the potato stalks. Instead of being new land, it has been cultivated for fourteen years. Others who encountered the cutworms at Wahiawa saved themselves by the cultivation of pineapples, with the aid of artificial irrigation, but for dry truck farming, such as he is engaged in, Mr. Galbraith regards the situation as discouraging. He believes the right kinds of insectivorous birds would greatly help. The mynah is no good, taking only the worms it sees on the surface. The pheasant gets the pest without much scratching, but the hunter and the mongoose have made it scarce. Another good bird that comes here is the plover, but unfortunately it is shot as soon as it lands. Mr. Galbraith would have the shooting season for pheasants begin December 1 and end January 31, while he would not allow a shot to be taken at plover before April.

There is no doubt that the cutworm is a destructive pest, and one that seriously threatens the welfare of the homesteader. Yet it has been successfully fought in these islands and elsewhere. Some of the experts of the Territorial agricultural bureau ought to be able to show the small farmers how to combat such an invasion as that at Wahiawa here reported.

TEST OF THE MONORAIL.

A practical trial of the monorail is to be made in Alaska. If it succeeds there, an exchange says, the presumption is that it will be a success everywhere. That country is rough, and the mountains, canyons and glacial formations are obstacles to cheap railroad building and easy travel; but if the monorail meets its prospects, a great region will be given the inlets and outlets that its development requires. Almost precisely similar conditions exist in these islands, where vast ridges and abysmal gulches preclude not merely railroads but ordinary highways, in parts of the group, where traffic communications are the main lack for developing the country. The paper already quoted says:

The monorail is a single rail on land and a stout cable stretching across rivers or chasms. On this rail or cable runs a wide car, balanced by a gyroscope, which will, the inventor says, hold a coach upright over hill and dale around curves and in any wind, while a speed is maintained which may be forced up to 200 miles an hour. The inventor believes that a safe journey could be made on a monorail between San Francisco and New York in about fifteen hours.

The principle of the gyroscope is shown in the gyroscope top, which keeps itself upright while it whirls, resisting every effort to change its angle while in motion. Applied to a car and kept whirling, two gyroscopes will sustain the equilibrium, and the deep flanged wheels will prevent a jump from the track, even if there could be a tendency that way. Under electrical, gasoline or benzine power, the monorail car will run uphill, downhill or out on a cable, crossing rivers or valleys, and hold its way undisturbed and at the greatest speed known to any agency of transportation.

PARCELS POST TROUBLES.

Members of Congress are between two fires in the matter of the parcels post. A more liberal scheme than the present one is demanded by the farmers, while the storekeepers of towns and villages are up in arms against giving the great advantage involved to the mail order houses of the big cities. It was lately reported from Washington that a compromise measure would be introduced with the purpose of pleasing, or at least placating, both sides. The proposal is to carry between points on the same rural free delivery route—which is in effect between the farmer and his nearest postoffice, town or village, parcels up to twenty-five pounds in weight for the arbitrary charges of one cent on a pound package, five cents on anything to eleven pounds, and ten cents thence to the maximum. This would enable the farmer to send his goods to town and the merchant to deliver his wares to the farm without aiding the dreaded mail order houses. There are anomalies quite ludicrous in the present parcels post system, when it is taken with the postal conventions between the United States and foreign countries. The Chicago Daily News gives the following examples:

You can send an eleven pound package today from Chicago to Berlin by mail for $1.32; to send it back immediately by mail from Berlin to Evanston, Chicago's next-door neighbor, costs 81 cents. The total for two trips across the Atlantic is $2.13.

But you couldn't send that eleven pound package by mail from Chicago to Evanston—say twelve miles—at all. You would have to split it up into three packages, as our limit for one is four pounds. For these three packages, supposing them to contain matter of the fourth class, you would have to pay $1.76, or 44 cents more than for the postage to Berlin, and only 37 cents less than for the double voyage across the Atlantic, and that for a twelve-mile trip. As a matter of fact, the same figures would apply to New York and Hoboken, less than two miles.

The Publicity Bureau of the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, with headquarters in Cincinnati, offers news, editorial and special matter bearing upon the question of prohibition, to newspapers of the United States free of cost. Evidently the trade believes that prohibition does prohibit, just a little bit, or it would not go to trouble and expense in fighting the movement.

bill will prevent the operation of any foreign vessel as a local steamer between Hawaii and San Francisco or other coast ports.

The constitutionality of the legislation is explicitly covered in the case of Dovnes v. Bidwell (182 U. S., 259, et seq.)

Your committee in recommending the passage of this bill as an emergency measure wish to cite the very necessity of this action as additional evidence that Congress should enact legislation that would enable the American merchant marine to properly meet the needs of American commerce and travel.

THE AMENDED BILL.

As it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

That for a period of six years from the passage of this Act passengers may be transported without penalty in foreign vessels between ports of the Territory of Hawaii and other ports of the United States; Provided, however, That whenever by the encouragement of a mail subsidy, or otherwise, three additional American steamships, each with a capacity of not less than one hundred and fifty first-class passengers, shall have been placed in regular service carrying passengers between Hawaii and the mainland of the United States, the provisions of this act shall thereupon cease to be operative: Provided further, That the provisions of this act shall extend only to foreign vessels plying between ports of the United States and one or more of the ports of China, Japan, the Philippines or Australasia.

NEW ESTIMATES SHOW SHORTAGE

The Sugar Factors' Company has received most of the answers to a recent request sent out for new estimates on the sugar crop, and from the returns it looks as though there may be a shortage of about 20,000 of the original estimates submitted by the various managements. Although close enough to the end of the season for pretty accurate figuring, some exceptional circumstances of this year may throw even these latest calculations out a little. For instance, the juice has improved unexpectedly and markedly on many estates and, again—managers have a habit of being exceedingly conservative in their estimates.

It was only a short time ago that shortages were almost openly declared for Ewa, Oahu and Kahuku, while Waiatua was in doubt. Since then there has been such an improvement in the juice that neither of these estates can now fall below the estimates originally made for them. In fact, the only plantation on this island that may not reach the mark is Kahuku, and the shortage there will be small.

On both, Maui and Kauai the situation is quite satisfactory, leaving Maui to bear the brunt of such failure as may become apparent. Cane on Hawaii suffered greatly from drought and, during the winter and early spring was probably injured more or less by much rain when a little would have been better. It is the northern district of Hawaii that has suffered most from adverse weather conditions, and it is there that the burden of shortage will fall. However, reports from that section since the middle of March have been encouraging, and if conditions continue favorable, much of the apparent shortage may be wiped out before the season is finally at an end.

There is one satisfaction on the matter, however—even admitting a considerable shortage: The high price of sugar will ensure for this crop more money than any of its predecessors in the history of the islands; so that the value of the harvest will not be less than that of last year.

A sale of 15 Oahu was made at $35, more being offered at the same bid but only $34.25 being bid. The last previous sale had been at $35, so that the stock must be regarded as weak.

On the board 10 Hawaiian Commercial sold at $41, which was away off, the last previous sale having been at $42.50. At the close $40.75 only was bid, while the stock was offered at $41.

Olaa came in for some attention, 5, 15, 10 and 5 shares selling at $5.375. More was offered at the same, but bidding had dropped back to $5.25.

A sale of 50 Halku was made at $150, the old basis, at which the market seems to be fairly firm.

REPORTS OF DUN AND BRADSTREET

Bradstreet's report (New York) of a week ago yesterday (April 30) contained the following:
Conditions of business are still irregular, but the volume of trade continues heavy. Certain unfavorable developments have apparently been exaggerated and their effect on business sentiment has been out of proportion to their real significance. Much, as usual, depends this year upon the crops.

No concerted action has been taken to curtail production of pig iron, but several more furnaces have blown out their stacks and others are expected to do so. A proposition has been advanced among merchant furnaces in some of the largest Pennsylvania districts to shut down 30 days between now and July 1. Insofar as demand for pig iron is concerned, conditions are, if anything, more than in the preceding weeks, but prices now show some resistance to the declining tendency except in steel making iron.

Producers of coke are curtailing more freely in response to the blowing out of furnaces, and it is estimated the weekly output is 100,000 tons less than at the end of March. In finished lines the situation is somewhat mixed and no great amount of business is being done. Important contracts for structural material are pending. Rail re-hauls have been mainly filled and two export orders call for 28,000 tons.

The primary dry goods markets are steadier, but still generally quiet. Cotton goods are a shade firmer, as shown by an advance of a quarter cent on drills and sheetings and curtailments of production is more pronounced.

A good volume of new orders for the next fall runs have been received by the manufacturers in all sections of the country. Shoe shipments from Boston for the week are slightly larger. Sales of western packers' hides during the last 10 days aggregated about 175,000 hides, and this has served to steady the market.

R. G. Dun & Company (same date) published the following:
Cold weather with snow west and south have checked retail trade and dulled reorder business in spring goods, while the reports of crop damage from the return of winter have tended to discourage fall business pending cleared views of the ultimate crop outcome. The reports from jobbing and wholesale trade lines and industries point to a slowing down demand, and the downward tendencies of many commodities does not seem to have brought out much new business. The textile trades fail to reflect much expansion of demand. The cotton situation is still unsettled and extension of curtailment is being advocated, while the wool market is easier both for old and new supplies. In the iron and steel trades, pig iron production is in excess of the demand, and some furnaces are blowing out. Inclement weather temporarily checked business in building operations, but activity in that line is still manifest. The leather and shoe trades are quiet, but eastern shoe shipments are equal to a year ago.

Prices of commodities have tended downward and food products are generally lower at wholesale.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending April 28 were 189, against 193 last week, 263 in the like week of 1909, 282 in 1908, 163 in 1907 and 139 in 1906.

Business failures for the week in Canada number 21, which compares with 15 last week and 21 in the corresponding week of 1909.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending April 28, aggregate 2,059,239 bushels, against 1,289,272 last week and 896,312 this week last year. For the 43 weeks ending April 28 exports are 122,231,437 bushels, against 150,534,295 in the corresponding period of last year.

DROP IN PRICES IS ANTICIPATED

New York financial writers appear to view the present business situation as somewhat alarming, and predict a depression which may result in a decline of prices all along the line. The following was sent out by the Associated Press from that city on May 1:
NEW YORK May 1.—A number of adverse factors of a special kind converged on the securities market last week and crystallized a feeling of depression that has been growing up for some time, forcing a precipitate decline in prices.

The influence of these factors was held in abeyance until the United States steel dividend had been raised to 5 per cent to see whether that action would serve to sustain the market and ward off the threatened pressure.

When it was seen that selling of United States steel increased rather than diminished after the raising of the dividend the speculation turned conclusively to the side of depression. Dissatisfaction with the general trade outlook has been gaining force in the financial district for some time. The high prices of commodities made the central factor around which this feeling gathered. To these are ascribed the lack of demand in various directions, conspicuous in the case of the shrunken agricultural exports and the curtailment of cotton mill production.

Heavy credit facilities are tied up in the holding of commodities out of the market for high prices. A greatly expanded loan account by the banks is due to this cause, and to farm land purchases and to irrigation projects.

The depletion of cash reserves of the New York banks exhausted the margin of the surplus and induced recall of loans placed in the stock market. The exigencies of the cotton speculation served to divert credit into that market. The consequence was the heavy burden of liquidation thrown upon the stock market.

Another unfavorable factor was the damage wrought to the crops by the unseasonable cold wave.

TANJONG RUBBER HOLDS A MEETING
A business meeting of the Tanjong Olok Rubber Company was held in the offices of the Waterhouse Co. this morning, a majority of the stock being represented.

The principal business dealt with was the adoption of amendments to the by laws and the making of new arrangements with Waterhouse Company who were agents last year.

The Tanjong Olok Company, while doing business in the Straits Settlements is owned and officered in Honolulu, nearly all of the stock being held here.

OAHU SUGAR CO.
The stock books of Oahu Sugar Company will be closed to transfers from May 10 to May 16 inclusive.

Manager Bull, of Oahu Sugar, is in the city today and reports everything as in excellent shape.

STOCK EXCHANGE
10.30 A. M.
Between Boards—$5000 McBryde, $9.00; 60 Hilo R. R. Co. $10.25; 5 Haw. Sug. Co., $57.50.
Session Sales—$1000 Hilo 6s $100;

THE STOCK MARKET OPENS UP SPOTTY

The stock market began the week strong in places and off strength in others according to the opinion or whim of buyers. There were no big transactions and nobody seemed disposed to "bid up" on any property. The old stand-bys were still solid, and while the general tone remained about the same as on Saturday there seemed to be a feeling that the high and advancing price of sugar would soon deprive the market of its bearish qualities.

Hilo Railway common stock was still in demand. Between boards 60 shares sold at $16.25, but this morning the stock was stronger, 50 shares selling at $16.50 and, later, 20 shares at $16.625. At the close of the session $16.625 was bid while holders were demanding 17.

Between boards $5000 McBryde sixes sold at $99, which was the basis of the last previous sale.

Between boards, also, 5 shares Hawaiian Sugar sold at $57.50 and on the board there was a sale of 5 shares at the same. The same was bid for more but $58 was being asked.

On the board & sale of $1000 Hilo 1901 sizes was made at $100 which is the old basis.

A sale of 15 Oahu was made at $35, more being offered at the same bid but only $34.25 being bid. The last previous sale had been at $35, so that the stock must be regarded as weak.

On the board 10 Hawaiian Commercial sold at $41, which was away off, the last previous sale having been at $42.50. At the close $40.75 only was bid, while the stock was offered at $41.

Olaa came in for some attention, 5, 15, 10 and 5 shares selling at $5.375. More was offered at the same, but bidding had dropped back to $5.25.

A sale of 50 Halku was made at $150, the old basis, at which the market seems to be fairly firm.

MORE FILIPINOS.
O. A. Steven, agent of the Hawaiian planters to the Philippines, is a through passenger in the Chiyu Maru for Manila, where he will recruit a large number of Filipino laborers (probably as many as two or three thousand) for the plantations of these islands. From Honolulu Mr. Steven made a flying visit to the Coast.

SUGAR STILL RISES.
Beets sold in New York today at 4s, 11 1/2, or a parity of 5.19 and a fraction for raws. No quotation on raws has been received, but there has evidently been a sharp advance.

CHAMPION OF PUNAHOU DEFEATS HARVARD CRACK

Playing a game equal to any player in the territory, Atherton Richards, the youngest member of the Bereania Tennis Club, and single champion of Punahou in tennis, defeated Alfred Castle on Saturday afternoon in two straight sets in their match for the Wall Cup by the score of 6-4, 6-3.

Two days before the two players met, the older player winning by 9-7, after a set that went to deuce on every game. Castle was obliged to give the schoolboy crack a handicap of one 15, which was a trifle too much considering the form shown by the possible champion of Hawaii. The best playing seen here in many years was witnessed by the young spectators present, and young Richards was warmly applauded at the conclusion of the match.

Castle played a brilliant game, but the handicap he gave was too much for the class of tennis shown by his younger opponent. Both players used back hand strokes a good deal during their match, Richards being especially lucky in making his count.

Captain Low and Noel Deerr furnished the gallery an excellent exhibition of the great game, Low winning the match in two straight sets, 6-4, 8-6, Deerr playing a great game in the back court, but was unable to do much at the net against the crack left-hander from Camp Very.

Theodore Richards and H. S. Gray fought out the last two sets of their match which had started the day before. Richards won his match in two straight sets, 6-3, 6-1. Although Gray was beaten by a large score, his playing was much better than the score indicates. Richards as usual played his net game, for which he is famous, which proved too much for his opponent.

Mrs. Coulter and R. B. Booth furnished the last match of the afternoon, the ex-lady champion winning by a 6-4, 6-2 score, although Booth gave her plenty of work in both sets, showing great improvement in his game of a few weeks ago.

This afternoon Theodore and Atherton Richards will meet in their match for the semi-finals. Mrs. Coulter and Captain Low furnishing the other match to see who will play the winner of the Richards match in the finals tomorrow for the much coveted trophy. The cup, which was won twice last year by Gee, has not yet been returned, but is expected in today's mail on the Chiyu Maru.

PUNS DEFEAT KAMS.

Saturday afternoon on the Kamehameha grounds, the fast baseball team from Punahou defeated the owners of the grounds by a 4-2 score in the last game of the first series for the interscholastic championship.

The largest gathering of students so far present this year at any of the games were on hand to root for their favorites, and as a result both teams played good fast ball.

During the first two innings neither team managed to cross home plate, but in the third inning Hind and Mackenzie romped home, followed by Mackenzie and Hitchcock in the fifth making the only four runs that were made by the team from Punahou, although several times during the remainder of the game the Oahu boys came near adding to their score.

Bal and McGowan scored the two runs for Kamehameha in the last half of the ninth, saving their team from being shut out. Milika pitched a good game and received good support from the rest of the team, which was the only thing that kept the Puns from making a much larger score, as the boys from Makiki district were able to hit the ball, although every hit was not a safe one.

WHEELMEN TO MEET.

Tomorrow and Wednesday night the motor cyclists and bicycle riders will have a chance to decide if they want to have races in the near future.

Tomorrow night the owners of the Yale, Reading, Thor and other makes of motor cycles will meet at 7:45 in Senator Chillingworth's office on Merchant street for the purpose of talking over the proposed round the island race which will probably be held on June 11, if a race is decided on.

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Building, the riders of the foot-propelled wheel will have a chance to talk over the 12 hour race proposed at Kaplalani park, for the gold watch offered by Dr. Hand and other suitable prizes.

Much interest is being taken in these two races according to reports about town, and no doubt a big number of enthusiasts will be present at each meeting.

BARRY'S TEAM LOSES.

Two baseball teams composed of players of the National Guard, and managed by Sergeant Barry, met the Marine and Fort Shafter teams on Saturday afternoon in the Military League series; the Fort Shafter's going down to defeat at the hands of the N. G. H., and the Marines taking the measure of the stretcher carriers in one of the fastest games played so far this season. Hampton was in the box, which probably accounts for the Guards winning the game, as Hampton kept his twirling well under control, and managed to hold the team together at times when it looked as if the Snafertes might score.

The second game was worth going miles to see, as the Marines played the game in a way which won them much merited applause. Williams and Soares were the battery for the "sick tenders," but they were only two units in a team that requires nine and were unable to turn the trick on the crack aggregation from Camp Very.

Hines pitched a good game for the sea soldiers, and received the kind of support necessary to win. Owing to Barry's confidence in his "pets," a big gathering of fans turned out to see the games, and seemed to be perfectly satisfied with the results. Good natured rooting of the kind that counts was used during both games, the civilian spectators enjoying it as much as the men representing Uncle Sam.

The scores of the games were:

Fort Shafter, 1; N. G. H., 5.
Marines, 3; Hospital Corps, 2.

The following is the standing of the teams in the league:

Team	G.	W.	L.	P.-ct.
Cavalry	4	3	1	.750
Marines	6	4	2	.666
Fort Shafter	6	3	3	.500
N. G. H.	5	2	3	.400
H. C.	2	0	2	.000
Fort Ruger	1	0	1	.000

SPALDING CUP RACE NEXT.

Next Sunday at Pearl Harbor, the owners of sea wrens will have an opportunity to meet again in a race for the Spalding cup which was donated a year ago for the fast little yachts.

Ever since the popular little craft were entered in racing events the keenest sort of good natured rivalry has existed among the many owners, and next Sunday's race promises to be a very interesting one providing there is plenty of wind to send them along.

The race will be from an imaginary line between the clubhouse and judges' boat, to the buoy off the peninsula, through the channel to the north and east of Ford Island, to a stake boat off Waialua rice mill, around Ford Island, back over the starting line to a stake boat anchored about a mile away and back to the starting line, all turns to be left to starboard, except the mark off Ford Island on the first leg, which must be left to port.

Entries must be in by five o'clock on Friday next. The race will start at ten o'clock, the preliminary gun being fired at 9:45. The time limit has been fixed at three hours, the wrens only being allowed to carry their main sails in the race.

WILL TRY ONCE MORE.

On Thursday evening at the Young Hotel another and final attempt will be made to re-organize the press league, and if enough members are not present the matter will be abandoned.

Last week a meeting was called at which were present six members, but as several requests have been made to have another meeting, one more attempt will be made to corral at least five representatives from each paper and printing office.

When the subject of re-organization was first mentioned two weeks ago, great enthusiasm was shown, but when it came time for the meeting no one seemed to be willing to get out and help the good cause along. Thursday's meeting will be held in the maiki pavilion at eight o'clock sharp, and every one who is interested is cordially asked to be present.

CRICKET IS POSTPONED.

On account of the death of King Edward VII, the local cricketers have decided out of respect to his memory, to postpone their opening game until Saturday, May 21. The game on that day will be H. C. C. vs. Bishop's Bank at Makiki field.

PRIZES WILL BE CHANGED.

As a result of dissatisfaction among the local runners on the subject of prizes for the fifteen mile race on May 30, Nigel Jackson, the moving spirit in promoting the race, has about decided to make the prizes $100, $50, $30, $25, $15, $10, and $5, which will clear up the threatened piliikia in the ranks of the entrants.

On Saturday last a number of the runners who had intended to enter refused to go in the race if only three prizes were awarded, as Jackson intended. When the race was first mentioned Jackson limited the entries to certain men, the result being that some of the runners not mentioned became worked up over the idea, which seemed to be a scheme to keep some of the best men out, but when Nigel heard how things were going he changed his mind and made it an open event for all comers.

For the sake of public opinion it is hoped that the matter of prizes will be straightened out today by the management of the race, so that the runners will be able to get out and train for the race, which ought to be a very exciting one.

BIG LEAGUE RESULTS.

The following are the results of Saturday's big league games: American League—Chicago, 5; Detroit, 3. Cleveland 4; St. Louis, 1. Philadelphia 5; Washington 0. New York 4; Boston, 1. National League—Brooklyn 2; Boston, 0. New York, 7; Philadelphia, 2. Other games called on account of rain.

ATHLETIC RESULTS

GOLF.
Austen White equaled bogey score of 84.
C. E. Edmunds scored with net score of 89.

BASEBALL.

Asalis, 11; Banzals, 3.
Ewa, 4; Aiea, 3.
Cavalry, 11; Fort Ruger, 6.
Royals, 13; Red White and Blue, 8.

ROLLER POLO.

The Fort Shafter team defeated Fort Ruger in two straight pulls.

YACHTING.

Charlotte C defeated Gladys for the King's Cup by 16 mins. 15 secs. The time for the race was:
Charlotte C., 3 hrs. 27 mins 35 secs.
Gladys, 3 hrs. 43 mins. 50 secs.

Hayes and Jackson were out training yesterday. Both men seemed to be in good condition.

Ayres, Charlie and Fahy are training together daily.
Kao is also seen daily on the road. The "Hawaii Wonder" will soon be here to show how good he is.

Eaton Magoon will enter the 15-mile race and should be very near the finish.
At least fifteen men are expected to enter.

Dr. Hand's time for 10 miles and 1651 yards has never been lowered or equaled here.

It may be, however, on the day of the proposed race.
Berger, Chilton and Magoon are all anxious to have the round the island race. All three are good riders.

Where are the entries for the hill climbing contests on July 4?
This event promises to be like the Automobile Club of Hawaii and Newspaper League meetings.

Why is Honolulu's reputation as a sport-loving city being besmirched?
There is still time, however, for entries.

Tom King has nothing to say. "It's a long lane that has no turning," Tom. Perhaps the Gladys was not clean below her waterline. Drydocking is an excellent thing to remember in the future, Tommy.

Crozier deserves all credit that can be given him. He has a speedy yacht and a home made one at that.

The Hawaii seemed to be making splendid time on the first beat to Diamond Head.

Hawaii's Cup aspirant is a good boat on the wind. It is her best sailing feature.

Wilder, Bowen and Rietow are confident as to the outcome next Sunday in the wren race.

Help boost Hawaii by giving something to the yacht by the same name. A good ballance is still needed before she leaves for San Pedro.

The exact date of her departure will be announced tomorrow.

Before a crowd which filled every seat on the grand stand and bleachers the crack Japanese and Chinese teams of the Oahu baseball league went down to defeat at the hands of the Marines and Portuguese players.

Both games were fast from start to finish, but the winners showed what steady, consistent playing could do and managed to turn the tables over their rivals. Gibson pitched a splendid game and received good support throughout. Espinda pitched a good game allowing no bases on balls and was responsible for six strike-outs.

Surprising the fans as well as themselves, the P. A. C.'s managed to shut out the C. A. C.'s by a 5-0 score in a game that did them credit and proved what they can do when good playing is necessary.

En Sue tried again and again to score for his team but the plucky little player was caught out by the clever fielding of the winners. As a result of yesterday's games all four teams are tied for first honors.

SPORT NOTES

Jack Beiser is the greatest enthusiast in the city at present.

The Country Club is certainly an attraction on Sundays, judging from the number present.

"Emperor" Klebahn says there is no game like golf. How about pin-nocle?

Players report the Moanalua course in excellent condition.

The same is said about Halewa and the Country Club.

The next tournament at the Country Club will be a bogey one on Memorial Day.

On the same day the H. G. C. members will play at Moanalua in a match play tournament.

The Richards match today should be a good one to watch.
Atherton is likely to be the favorite on account of his age.

His father, however, is a hard one to beat, if he is playing the game.
Captain Low should defeat Mrs. Coulter on form and experience.

However, it will be a good match to watch.

Boekus will no doubt officiate as umpire. Gerald is a good one for the job.

Warren is playing a good game considering his lame shoulder.

Cunha may play with Nowell in doubles.

Roth, it is understood, will not play this year in the tournament.

Castle and Low will probably meet Brookes and Wilding in doubles, when they arrive from the colonies.

Deers played a great placing game on Saturday. He forgot, however, that Low can use both hands in tennis.

The Moana hotel courts will soon be ready for play.

Booth and Gray both played their best and were good losers.

Hampton played his usual finished game. It is too bad that there are fewer Hamptons in Honolulu.

Soares did his best but was unable to win the game by himself.

Barry will buy a new hat today on account of eating his on Saturday.

Barry has a patented cure, however, for indigestion.

Hoogs, Mackenzie and Hitchcock were the stars for Punahou.

Both men are good with the stick.

En Sue played his usual good game on Saturday.

Bushnell also played a good game.

Hoogs will probably make the Har-

BRITAIN MOURNS HER EDWARD VII

(Associated Press Morning Service.) LONDON, May 9.—Yesterday, in practically every church throughout the British Isles services of mourning for the death of King Edward were held.

It is thought now that the date for the funeral will be made May 20, any earlier date making it impossible for some of the representatives of the different countries to be present.

The remains will be given their last resting place in a tomb, beneath the Albert Memorial Chapel, the magnificent mausoleum at Frogmore erected to the memory of "the good prince," the father of King Edward, by Queen Victoria, in which was later laid the body of that queen.

LONDON, May 8.—This city presents a solemn appearance with the public buildings, the squares and the majority of the shops and hotels draped in purple and black, the outward manifestation of the grief of the people for the death of their King. All places of public amusement have been closed and all society events have been canceled for the time being.

The remains of the dead King lie in the chamber in which he died and will remain there until Tuesday, when the body will be removed to Windsor Castle, from whence the funeral will be held.

The funeral will be military. Five Kings and an Emperor will follow the remains of King Edward to the grave, making of this funeral one of the greatest gatherings of ruling monarchs in history.

King Albert of Belgium and the Belgium Queen have expressed their intention of being present; King Alfonso and Queen Victoria the latter the niece of the dead King, are also to arrive in England this week; King Manuel of Portugal, King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and Emperor William of Germany have all arranged to form a part of the funeral cortege.

800 DEAD IN RUINS.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 9.—The toll of death in the earthquake that partially destroyed the city of Cartago and brought desolation to neighboring towns and villages has already reached eight hundred.

POWDER WORKS GO UP.

OTTAWA, May 9.—A disastrous explosion occurred yesterday in the powder works of the General Explosives Company, as a result of which fifteen persons were killed and fifty others injured, some seriously. Forty houses in the neighborhood are wrecked and the force of the explosion was such as to damage the Parliament Building some distance away.

LIBERALS WIN.

MADRID, May 9.—The Mendos ministry has been sustained in the general elections held on Saturday, the Liberals winning sixty-nine of the one hundred and three constituencies polled for members of the chamber of deputies.

BRITAIN'S QUEEN IS "MARY."

LONDON, May 8.—Great Britain's new queen is to be officially designated Queen Mary, her name being Victoria Mary.

The new court is to be a simple one, the taste of both King George and Queen Mary being opposed to the display of pomp and to elaborate court functions.

It has been agreed between the leaders of the political parties that a truce will be entered into, to continue during the first few months of the reign of the new sovereigns.

MUST FIT THE CRIME.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Punishment for a criminal offense must be made proportionate to the offense, and extreme sentences can not be passed upon offenders unless the crime of which they may be convicted should be of such a nature as to warrant the maximum penalty prescribed.

Such was the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States, handed down on Saturday in the appealed case of Paul Weems of the Philippines Lighthouse service, under sentence deemed to be out of proportion to his offense.

CONSERVATIVES ACT.

LONDON, May 8.—Signs are not wanting that the Conservatives intend to take advantage of the sorrow of the nation over the death of King Edward to bring the Liberal government into disfavor by charging Premier Asquith and his colleagues with the responsibility of hastening the King's death by their threats of forcing his assistance in their fight against the house of lords. It is being pointed out that one of the plans of the government was to insist on the king creating a large number of new peers, sufficient to swamp the Conservative majority in the house of lords.

OWNERS GET TOGETHER.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Seventy-five theater owners representing 200 theaters throughout the United States and Canada, met in convention here yesterday and perfected the organization.

INSPECTOR BYRNES DEAD.

NEW YORK, May 8.—T. F. Byrnes, former superintendent of the New York police, died at his home here yesterday.

ADDS TO BIG MAJORITY.

PARIS, May 8.—The returns from the voting in two hundred and seventy-six divisions, in the election of a new chamber of deputies, held on Saturday increase the government lead by over one hundred, leaving "Republican Bloc" with a majority of one hundred and thirty-two out of the four hundred and ten seats decided.

PEARL HARBOR CUT.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The appropriation for the continuing of work in the dredging of the channel into Pearl Harbor has been reduced by three hundred thousand dollars by the senate committee.

(Special Cable to The Star.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 7.—The Democrats oppose any appropriation to defraying the expenses of a tariff commission.

(Special Cable to The Star.)

CHICAGO, May 7.—State Representative Link indicted for perjury has made complete confession.

CAPT. BLACK HAS PARALYTIC TOUCH

James L. McLean has received a letter from the sister of Captain J. H. Black, at Philadelphia, stating that the aged Honolulu printer had sustained a stroke of paralysis and was at that writing, in a bad way. Inasmuch as no cable announcement of his death has been received, the assumption is that he is still alive.

Captain Black is one of the best known of the real, old kamaeas. He was quite feeble when he left here last year to visit his sister, whom he had not seen since he was a young man. Some of his local friends were fearful that he would not safely weather the dubious trip to the east, but he arrived in good shape and wrote rather cheerfully of his experiences.

Captain Black was one of the men who made the Hawaiian Gazette and Advertiser what they were in the early days, and for years was a printer in the Merchant street shop of the late Robert Grieve. He began life as a sailor and find an unfailing supply of yarns from the ends of the earth ever at the command of any audience that might be handy when he was in a "talking" mood.

Admiral Rees has been advised that the cruiser Cleveland and Chattanooga will stop here to coal before resuming their voyage to San Francisco.

The Chiyo Maru is expected to arrive early Monday morning.

The Chiyo Maru will probably go to the Hackfeld wharf as she will take fuel oil on board before resuming her voyage to Japan.

FAIR DEAL ASKED FOR COLORED RACE

James Samuel Stemons, in an address before the Colored Baptist Ministers' Conference in Philadelphia lately outlined a plan for the uplift of the negro race in the United States. Speaking on the "Industrial Crisis Confronting Negroes and How to Avert the Same," Mr. Stemons declared emphatically that present conditions, unless ameliorated, "will in less than ten years make the very existence of negroes in this country a physical impossibility."

The speaker then outlined his plan for a monster mass meeting, to be preceded by a two-day conference, when the position and needs of the negro will be clearly defined. He suggested an appeal to every minister, of both the negro and white races, and through the ministers to every church, "for their combined influence in procuring for all men, regardless of race or color, unrestricted opportunities for working to make an honest living."

Mr. Stemons' address evoked a spirited discussion among his hearers and dissent from his view that the negro was retrograding morally. As a result of this, and at the suggestion of the Rev. Doctor Taliaferro, editor of the Christian Banner, and others, the pastors refused to endorse the proposed convention or have any part in promoting it.

Having interested hundreds of Christian men in the movement, Mr. Stemons' plan provides that these persons shall be requested to take the following pledge: "I do solemnly promise to use my influence to break down the barriers which prevent men on account of race, from engaging in various branches of manual labor in this country. To this end I pledge myself never to refuse to employ or work with (as occasion demands) any person because of his or her race or color."

In order to make the remedy thoroughly practical the speaker suggested that committees of representative citizens be appointed to appeal to the proprietors and employes of industrial establishments asking them, in the name of humanity and American civilization, to give to competent negro labor the same opportunity of making a living that they extend to men of other races.

"I make the unqualified assertion that negroes, as a race, are going backward materially, morally, physically and in the maintenance of their rights and privileges as men and citizens of the republic," said Mr. Stemons.

"The race is going backward materially because opportunities for the masses of negroes are becoming fewer and fewer with each succeeding year. No person in this building can name a single branch of labor that is open to negroes today which was not just as wide open to them twenty years ago. On the other hand I can prove that there is scarcely a branch of employment which welcomed negroes twenty years ago which is not gradually excluding them today."

"Within the past year practically all of the best hotels of Atlantic City have dismissed their colored help and substituted white help. Less than three months ago the hotels of Providence, R. I., united in doing the selfsame thing."

"Despite the constant increase in the negro population there are fewer calls for negro domestic and personal servants today than ever before, the only branches of labor in which they have ever found a welcome north of Mason and Dixon's line. There is scarcely a month when some state, either north or south, does not enact some new and strange measure still further restricting the rights and privileges of colored citizens. Only about five months ago an entire crew on a railway mail route in the State of Delaware threatened to go on strike because a colored man, who had passed a higher civil service examination than any white man, was appointed a clerk on that division."

"The industrial hordes of Europe are now coming to this country at the rate of nearly 1,000,000 a year, and they always and everywhere find ready access to employment in which colored citizens are under no circumstances permitted to engage. A well-directed and well-sustained campaign is now being waged by an element of Southern people, aided and abetted by the Federal government, to divert this foreign labor to the South for the undisguised purpose of supplanting colored labor. When this foreign labor is diverted to the South and begins to shove the negro aside in the industries of that section, the race will be standing face to face with physical extinction in this country."

"There are more recklessness, depravity and criminality among colored people today than ever before. There are countless thousands of negro youths, young men and young women, who absolutely refuse to expend time and money in training and fitting themselves for the broader fields of labor, and who are becoming depraved and reckless and criminal because of the persistent manner in which every door of opportunity is being slammed in their faces. If our young men and young women were inspired by the hope that they would be rewarded not according to their race or color, but according to their merit and manhood, in less than five years the shiftlessness and depravity and criminality which have so disgraced and discredited us in the eyes of the public would be reduced by one half."

"Negroes, as a race, are declining physically. Do you ask me to prove it? Fifty years ago the negro was supposed by the medical profession to be practically immune to tuberculosis or consumption of the lungs. Today, with less than fifty years of this flaunted freedom back of him, the negro, representing only 12 per cent of the population of the country, is furnishing nearly 50 per cent of those who die of consumption. But ask these medical scientists what causes consumption and they will answer that it is improper housing, improper clothing, improper food and mental worry—conditions which are fostered by the very disadvantages of which I have spoken."

Mr. Stemons' argument was followed with close attention by the negro pastors, who frequently expressed their approval of his sentiments by outbursts of applause.

DID BURBANK SWIPE CACTUS

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—W. J. Gowan, head of the East Lake conservatories, today called attention to a giant spineless opuntia cactus, which he found already large when he came here fifteen years ago, and expressed the belief that it is the parent of the famous Burbank spineless variety. It is believed the plant was on the ground before the municipal gardens were laid out.

Luther Burbank, who lays claim to having produced the spineless cactus, discovered this monster several years ago, according to Gowan, and has shown the keenest interest since, obtaining hundreds of cuttings. Support is given the supposition that it may be the true original by a report recently spread that Burbank had stated that the stock from which he developed the spineless cactus came from a park here. The specimen shows its age by its size. It is eleven feet high, and covers sixty square feet. It resembles the variety of spined desert cactus from which it probably "sprouted" in every respect except that its trunk and its huge fleshy leaves are entirely smooth.

THAT COMET Mr. Family Man (coming in rather early in the morning, makin as little noise as possible, falls over a chair)—Wife, get up, quick, and see hic the comets—there's hic dozens off 'em hitting the earth!

DEPEW PRAISES PRESIDENT TAFT

UTICA, N. Y., April 19.—Vice President Sherman presided last night at a dinner given under the direction of the Republican Club of this city. It was held in the state armory by permission of Governor Hughes, following a controversy, and was attended by nearly eleven hundred guests.

The armory had been elaborately decorated for the occasion and conspicuous among the diners were two hundred students from Colgate University and half as many from Hamilton College who sat at tables decorated with their college colors and who participated in the ceremonies with songs and yells written for the occasion. Another table accommodated one hundred clerks and carriers from the Utica post office.

Lieut. W. G. Mayer of Waterville, introduced Vice President Sherman as toastmaster, and the latter in turn presented United States Senators Root and Chauncey M. Depew and Representative James H. Watson of Indiana, who delivered addresses. Senator De-not as spectacular and as exciting as their creation."

Leaders of Party Praised.

The senator continued: "We need not lament the good days when we think of the better days either of the republic or of the republican party. Our state, without distinction of party, is proud of its Vice President. We have in the Senate of the United States what has been long needed, a great lawyer, a great diplomatist and a statesman versed in national and constitutional law in our Senator Elihu Root."

"We have at Albany a gentleman who in his brief public career has become a figure of national importance, has secured the passage of wise and beneficent laws and reflected honor upon our state, and whom, if he would permit, the people would gladly continue in an office which he has so highly adorned. I mean Gov. Hughes."

"We are fortunate in our President. In our period of rounding up and perfecting legislation, some of which was wise and some crude, during industrial crises we need for President of the United States neither a militant Washington nor a pacific Lincoln. We need just what we have—Judge William H. Taft."

SENATOR CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

Depew just before going to the dinner visited the Masonic Home and addressed the residents there. He was presented with a large bouquet by the orphan children.

Denounces Pessimists.

"Just now," Senator Depew said in the course of his speech, "there is a remarkable wave of pessimism sweeping over the national administration, he said. 'A dominant and continuing successful party does not frame issues. It frames constructive legislation.'" He called attention to the difficult task facing President Taft and his advisers and to the fact that the first year of the Taft administration had substituted a surplus of $35,000,000 for a deficit of $100,000,000.

"Roosevelt," continued the speaker, "possessed an instinctive intuition in regard to the people's aspirations or fears unsurpassed by any of our statesmen." He reminded his audience that the perfection of statutes already suggested and the carrying out of policies already laid down were

SUGAR FRAUD WAS BARED YEARS AGO

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The sugar trust was subjected to a new attack today. Representative Francis Burton Harrison of New York introduced a resolution asking the President to send to the house all documentary matter in his office and the Treasury Department bearing upon the customs frauds in New York in 1891.

Colonel Hepburn was solicitor of the department in that year and made a thorough investigation. He says he uncovered many frauds, including evidence that a customs official was paid one per cent of all the duties he could save on sugar imports. In one year this amounted to $2,500. There were other frauds. Col. Hepburn does not know his report was suppressed, but it was not made public. No action was taken by the government. Mr. Harrison in explaining his resolution said:

"To me it is astounding that nothing has ever been heard of this report until nineteen years after it was submitted to President Harrison and the then Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Foster. I think Congress and the country should have all the information concerning it now available. It is especially important in view of the fact that Richard Parr is now endeavoring to collect a fee of several hundred thousand dollars for discovering such frauds."

The New Fashion in Hair.

The new hair-dressing is all tending downward in the back, forward on the forehead, and screening all but the tips of the ears. Viewed while the weather still continues cool, the new coiffure is pretty, however. The sides are softly waved and a trifle bouffant and the back formed of a succession of puffs beginning at the crown of the head and descending in a straight line to the neck, where it ends, as a rule, in a bunch of loose curls. With this hair arrangement only the narrowest of tresses in jet, or spruce or cut steel, is worn. Young women, however, will continue to wear variations of the classic hair bands, substituting for the colored one now in vogue another of tulle that matches the hair. This may be secured at each side by a rose, a camellia or a rosette of babyribbon in pale chamois tone, or with Egyptian metal disks; set with coral, turquoise, or emerald.—Harper's Bazar.

New Spring Hats.

Some pretty lace hats and bonnets are appearing. Some are shaped like the Corday, and others are frankly bell or turban shaped. They are stretched first with fine, very sheer batiste, which is afterward covered with circular tiers of inch-wide pleated Valenciennes. At most these lace hats are trimmed with a single big rose or mamella. The thought of such hats naturally suggests garden-parties and pretty parasols. Some of the most novel of the latter have from twelve to twenty ribs, each pointed with an ornamental rib. The handles are all extremely long the Directorate length being that most advocated. Those little carriage parasols with jointed handles which elderly ladies always love are prettier than ever this year. Their average diameter is twenty inches, and many are tiered with gathered lace ruffles.—Harper's Bazar.

MONEY SITUATION

The Financier of April 17 said: The clearing house banks of the city of New York made an extremely strong statement Saturday, the surplus reserve having risen $8,478,300, making the total surplus reserve at the close of the week $14,989,175. This increase was brought about through an actual gain of $4,201,900 in cash, the result of operations on the interior movement and with the sub-treasury, and also as a result of a decrease of $20,116,890 in loans, which brought about a corresponding contraction of $17,106,890 in deposits, this in turn lowering reserve requirements by something like four and a quarter million dollars.

The weekly statement, based on averages showed smaller changes through the list, the surplus reserve in the statement of averages figuring out $10,980,000. The summary of state banks and trust companies not reporting to the clearing house showed a reduction of $2,000,200 in loans, a gain of something over one and a quarter millions in cash and a decrease of $6,145,300 in net deposits. The banks, by their reduction in loan commitments, have fortified themselves considerably against a possible further gold export movement, as they are now in shape to meet future drains on their gold reserve.

VATICAN FEELING PULSE OF PAPERS

ROME, April 23.—The American mail is exceptionally heavy of late at the Vatican. Soon after Colonel Roosevelt left Rome the papal authorities expressed a wish to be favored with a copy of every paper and magazine commenting on the Pope's refusal to receive Mr. Roosevelt, with the result that many copies of newspapers have been forwarded from the United States.

The Vatican's exceptional interest in American public opinion was revealed the other day when the Pope's secretary, Cardinal Merry De Val, said to a high American prelate that the comments of the American press touching the Roosevelt incident had been highly favorable to the Vatican and that the affair only served to strengthen the position of the Catholic church in America.

The visit of Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt to the art gallery of the Vatican caused quite a sensation in Rome during the ex-President's visit to that city. As the ladies approached the sistine chapel an unusual number of American tourists happened that day to be in and around the Vatican.

The rumor of Mrs. Roosevelt and her daughter being there was soon spread and the chapel was soon filled not only with visitors, but with outsiders, merchants, shop keepers, waiters and idlers. So when the Roosevelt visitors arrived it was impossible for them to even get in the chapel. The crowd becoming greater the ladies hurried away to their hotel in a motor car.

The British steamer Tynaric may get away for Australian ports.
