CHINESE TAKE ACTION

There was a meeting of prominent Chinese residents at their clubhouse yesterday. It was well attended. The business was to devise means of raising a fund to promote a bill in Congress for removing the restrictions against Chinese immigration to the United States. It is understood that the measure is similar to the McIntyre bill of last session which failed of a favorable report. This was a short document, providing for the free admission of any Chinese, upon equal terms with any other nationality, who can read the United States Constitution in either the English or the Chinese language.

Depression of Shares.

American Sugar Company's shares have declined in a month fifty for paid up and fifty-five for assessable. Stock brokers asked for an explanation say that a large amount of American has been sold by holders who wanted the money for other plantation stock. Another cause assigned is that affecting stocks in general—the stringency in the money market. Nobody has knowledge of anything intrinsically wrong with the American plantation.

Government Handbook.

Proofs of the illustrations in the Hawaiian Book of Information have been received in bound form at the Foreign Office. There are more than sixty pages of up-to-date pictures, many of them printed in colors. Minister Cooper and Secretary Potter selected the photographs. There will be from 50 to 100 pages of letter press. The cover will be a work of art in colors, both front and back.

MAKAWELI DEAL IS OFF

After negotiations between Mr. Hecht, representing the mainland syndicate, and Senator Baldwin, the local shareholders, lasting all the week until today, "the Makaweli deal" is declared off. The local people refused to sell the 10,000 shares on which they had given an option at $225, because the syndicate would not pay the option price for the entire amount. Mr. Hecht is booked to leave for home tonight in the Moana.

"MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING."

Good Work of Janet Waldorf and Her Company Last Night.

Although the audience at the Opera House last night was not as large as those that greeted the Janet Waldorf Company on the first two nights of its appearance in Honolulu, still they were none the less enthusiastic and appreciative over the work of the players. Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" was admirably interpreted by Miss Waldorf and her able support. Undoubtedly there were weak points in which one or two of the players showed a decidedly amateurish bit of acting but these instances were not at all numerous. It would indeed take a person accustomed to find fault with everything in existence to find cause for criticism of those who took the leading parts. The play was cleverly presented and much enjoyed.

Mrs. W. O. Lackland, who has been in the Colonies for a long time, returned in the Moana this forenoon. She was met at the wharf by a large number of her friends.

All the people booked to sail for San Francisco in the Moana will not be able to get away as there are a large number of through passengers who of course have the preference.

FIRST AMERICAN BANK OF HAWAII

Scheme of Its Organization---Has Powerful Connections---Saving and Trust Co. as Adjunct---Branch Bank for H. O.

Colonel Geo. W. Macfarlane, who is directing the preliminaries for organizing a new bank, was visited by a BULLETIN reporter at his office in the Judd building, and, while at first reticent as to giving out uncompleted details of progress, ultimately unfolded the following particulars:

"I am trying to reserve stock in the projected bank to the amount of $300,000 for the local public, $100,000 of which is intended for the small subscribers. Messrs. Brown and Hatch have only just completed the papers which are to go up today in the Moana for signature. As soon as the papers are executed before Consul General Wilder they will be returned to Honolulu, when the Bank will be organized forthwith. "P. N. Lillenthal, one of the managers of the Anglo California Bank, will after the San Francisco signatures are obtained to the incorporation papers take the first steamer for Honolulu to complete the organization, and the Bank will immediately start in to do business. All the United States capital will be brought here by him.

"A site has not been selected yet for the Bank, although there have been three or four offers of good sites. The selection has been left to Mr. Cecil Brown, one of the attorneys of the Bank. One or two pieces of land have been offered to us, and it is possible, if it meets the approval of Mr. Lillenthal and the directors, the Bank will build its own Bank building.

"My instructions from the Anglo-California Bank, Mr. Seligman, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Heath are to place one block of stock for popular subscription here. The entire capital stock of one million has been subscribed, but applications for shares, for a portion of first issue of $500,000, will be received from the Honolulu public and allotments made to such intending subscribers as have facilities and willingness to show their good will by bringing business to the bank, and NOT LOOKING UPON THE SUBSCRIPTION AS A SPECULATIVE INVESTMENT.

"The proposition as it stands at present, is to organize the First American Bank of Hawaii, with an authorized capital of one million dollars (privileged to increase to five million dollars), with a first issue of five hundred thousand dollars, fifty per cent immediately called up, the remainder in 25 per cent assessments as soon as the directors may decide it is needed.

"While the preparation of papers, including the charter, has been proceeding I have been feeling the pulse of the public on this proposition. And although it is the wish of the Seligmans and others to popularize the bank as much as possible, I do not see my way at present to offer more than a $200,000 block for the public, but I shall, in order to prevent the larger subscribers from absorbing it all, place a limit on the amount that any one subscriber can take, as my instructions are to keep the stock out of the hands of speculators and confine it to bona fide investors and those who will bring business to the bank.

"The business of the bank will probably be in full swing within eight or ten weeks as a local bank and doing business under Hawaiian laws. Meanwhile it will be the fiscal agent of the United States Government until next December, when it will be incorporated as the First National Bank of Hawaii and become the United States depository for all its revenues and disbursements in Hawaii. At that time its capital stock will be increased, when a further issue of shares will be authorized, but it is probable that none of this will be issued under a premium of twenty per cent, and this premium will be used for the benefit of the bank and go into the bank's treasury as the nucleus of a reserve fund. I confidently expect, after the business of the present bank is transferred to the First National Bank, these shares will go to 150.

"Our idea, in view of the altered state of affairs we labor under from the fact of Congress having adjourned without passing the necessary territorial laws for Hawaii, is that this bank should have an adjunct in the shape of a Savings Bank and Trust Company. We believe the innovation of such a trust company, backed by the influence and means of its present starters, would result in bringing a great deal of new business with which this country is yet unfamiliar. And it is almost decided to organize such a company, which would be known as the Savings Bank and Trust Company of Hawaii.

"As I have already said to the press, this bank will be run as an American institution and on American lines of business, and we think the many interests here can be brought together, and the bank largely benefited by everyone's goodwill, if we make the subscription a popular one at home.

"I may say that the title of First American Bank of Hawaii was suggested by the Secretary of the United States Treasury, Mr. Gage, to Mr. Perry S. Heath and the Messrs. Seligmans, as a title to organize under, pending the adoption of such laws by Congress as will permit the establishment of a First National Bank in Honolulu, for which Mr. Heath now holds the charter, granted to him, by the administration at Washington, and approved by the President.

"I am very glad to find that there is a field at present large enough for not only one bank but for two or three, and whilst the main object of establishing this bank will be to give more banking accommodation to the Hawaiian Islands there will be no attempt to cut down the rates of interest or to slash into the business of other banks. It may, however, result in a lowering of the rate of exchange between here and San Francisco, which to me seems abnormally high when we consider our immense exports and the balance of trade so largely in our favor."

"The BULLETIN has heard, that it has been said by some that the bank will not be able to control the sugar exchange that the other banks control."

"This will cut no figure with our bank in the selling of exchange either on San Francisco, New York or London. The Seligman connection and the United States Government connection will enable this bank to draw against government exchange and the capital of the Seligmans in America and Europe, as we will have large credit with those connections and, unlike private Banks who have not this large credit with the banks abroad, we are not obliged to send sugar exchange and place a credit by those means with the foreign banks to draw against.

"Independently of these financial connections, the Seligmans have old established houses in San Francisco, New York, London, Paris and Vienna, and with their

SAMOAN REBELS STILL HOLD OUT.

Skirmish Continues About Apia and Business is Suspended—No Further Casualties Among British and Americans—Rebels Won't Accept the Proclamation.

Samoans of the Mataafa party are still holding out against the British and American forces. They hold the proclamation granting amnesty to all who will return quietly to their homes as an evidence of weakness. Skirmishes with rebels continue. No additional injuries among the officers and bluejackets.

The Samoan Herald of April 15 reviews the situation in Apia as follows: On the morning of April 1st, Senator L. W. Osborn, United States Consul General at Samoa and Tonga, took over the treasury, and assumed the duties of President, pending the arrival of Dr. Wilhelm Salf who we understand has been appointed by the three treaty powers to the office of President to succeed Dr. J. Raffel recently removed.

On Saturday the Royalist arrived with about 250 natives from Tutuila who had come over to reinforce those which had arrived the week previous. Just as they were landed it was reported that the natives were fighting at Vailima, and that the Malietoa natives had surprised the rebels in a fort which they had built on Vaea, and 3 Mataafa and 1 Malietoa native had been killed, also that they had captured several guns belonging to the rebels. The bluejackets were soon mustered and went out along with reinforcements of natives from Malinuu among which was Lieutenant Grant's squad, but on their arrival near the scene of action they were met by the Malietoa party who were returning as the Mataafa forces had made off. The Royalist afterwards threw shells in that direction so as to clear the bush.

The weather which had been excellent all through March, broke on Friday night, and regular torrents of rain fell during the night and on Saturday and Sunday. This must have been very trying to the bluejackets ashore who had to stay in the trenches with wet clothes.

The German warship Falke and H M S Royalist left the harbor on Saturday, but the Royalist returned on Monday morning early.

The Porpoise which had gone around the Island, returned on Sunday morning with about 250 natives on board, which she had brought down from Falealili to join the King's party.

Monday was all quiet throughout the day and night, the weather breaking a little in the morning, but towards noon the rain came on and prevented a movement that was intended by the government troops to dislodge the rebels from the position which they had taken up at Vaea, and which they had surprised the day previous, the rebels had returned, reoccupied and strengthened.

Tuesday, the German warship returned to port. Everything was quiet throughout the day and night.

The Tauranga went on Monday to Safata and returned to port on Wednesday morning with about 250 men who have joined the Government party.

The Porpoise, which had gone out the same morning returned to port in the evening, and whilst at Falefa they had a brush with the rebels which resulted in the death of three of the Mataafa party, and one on the Malietoa side being wounded. The rebels held a strong position behind a stone wall and around the Catholic church, but were repulsed after some sharp fighting by Lieutenant Gaunt's squad. Thursday morning the Malietoa natives went out and came in collision with the rebels. A fight ensued and resulted in 6 being killed and a number wounded on the Mataafa side, and 1 killed and two wounded on the Malietoa side. The Mataafa party retreated inland, leaving a number of guns which the Malietoa natives captured.

The Falke again left port with Consul General Rose on board. Her destination is supposed to be Mulifanua.

The United States Flagship Philadelphia left port on Thursday for Tutuila, where she has gone to coal. This necessitated a change of her men ashore for the time being, Lieutenant Field taking charge of Malinuu Point in place of Lieutenant Brown, Navigating Officer, who went aboard.

The Royalist which went out on Wednesday returned to port on Friday morning, after a cruise to Savaii.

An important event transpired on Friday, March 31, between the rebel forces and a party of 30 American marines with five Malietoa chiefs, in charge of Lieutenant Perkins. While on patrol on the road near Fagalii, they were attacked by a large body of Mataafa's and a general engagement took place. The marines divided 15 of which took to the bush and the remaining 15 kept to the main road and covered their retreat. Owing to the Colt gun getting out of order, they were placed at a great disadvantage for a time, as the natives had almost surrounded them. Fortunately the gunner was able to get the gun to act, which soon cleared the rear, the natives retiring. The road party was led by Dr Odell, who fully proved that he was the right man in the right place, for he and Lieutenant Perkins displayed great courage and tact in getting the men out of a most dangerous position.

The last Samoan paper was issued in Apia on the 15th inst. From that time up to the date of sailing of the Moana from Apia quite a lot took place. There were no more whites killed after the terrible event in which Lieuts. Lansdale and Freeman and Ensign Monaghan as well as ten others fell into the hands of the Matafaans. However, quite a number of natives on both the Mataafa and Malietoa sides were killed in different fights.

On April 17 there was a big fight in the vicinity of the former home of Robert Louis Stevenson at Vailima. The rebels were in two trenches near the place and had quite a large force. Flying from a pole over the trenches was a German flag under which the Matafaans were fighting.

The date has now been determined for the Spring Exhibition of the Kilohana Art League.
Canvases, carving, china, all contributions, are to be sent to the new rooms of the League on the 10th day of May. On the 18th of May will occur the opening reception. At the business meeting held yesterday afternoon several new members were added to the roll, and other business transacted.

The Sunday School rally that was set for the 6th of next month has been postponed to take place a week later. This was done because there will be two foreign steamers in on that day, requiring the close attention of the business men of the city and making it impossible for them to be in attendance. The arrangements have all been completed and a very successful rally is expected. The children who are to take part in the procession are all very enthusiastic.

THE BREW OF OLYMPUS.

THE "HOFFMAN," corner of Hotel and Nuuanu streets, claims to be the "Banner" resort for gentlemen and holds the flag. L. H. Dee, the proprietor, has attained success in his line, by specially supervising everything connected with his establishment. He now introduces to his patrons "Olympia Beer." This brew is from the "Capital Brewing Co." of Olympia, the capital of the State of Washington, and was received by the "Garonne." Mr. Schmidt, the leading spirit of this corporation is a practical Chemist and Brewer, and after years of search and investigation located his plant at Olympia, on account of the peculiar virtues of the water of the Tum Falls, a stream that is noted for its distinctive qualities of clearness, coldness and lack of mineral and decaying vegetable impurities.
Pure beer can only be made with pure water, and Tum water is traditional in Washington with the Indians and original white settlers. The "Olympia Draught" is under the special control and agency of Mr. Dee and he invites his patrons and friends to a personal test and is willing to abide by their judgment on the merits of his latest venture.

Scrofula

Swollen Glands, Scrofula Sores, Hip Disease, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions Tell the Story—Dreadful Consequences of Impure Blood.

Certainly scrofula, if anything, may be called the advertisement of foul blood. It is the scourge of the world—offensive, painful, debilitating, stubborn. Outward applications do not cure. Emollients may palliate, they cannot abolish the evil. There is one sure way out, and that is to eliminate the taint from the blood. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is absolutely without an equal.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofulous humor and impure blood and am now almost entirely cured of the eruptions with which I have been afflicted for the past year. My face, chest and back were badly broken out." FRED B. ORNDWAY, Woodstock, Vt.

BIG PUMP COMBINE

A New York despatch to the Boston Herald says: Within a short time the International Steam Pump Company will be organized under the laws of New Jersey with a capital of $27,500,000. The capital will be divided into $12,500,000 6 per cent. cumulative preferred stock and $15,000,000 common stock.

The new company will acquire the control of the business of the following corporations:
Henry R. Worthington Corporation, with a factory at Brooklyn and a foundry at Elizabethport, N. J.; assets, $6,148,355; foreign business in 1898 stated at $1,350,000. Blake & Knowles Steam Pump Works, limited, with works at East Cambridge and Warren, Mass.; assets, $3,178,000. Dean Steam Pump Works, with factory at Holyoke, Mass.; assets, $1,155,000. Laidlaw-Dunn-Gordon Company, with works at Cincinnati; assets, $800,000; Snow Steam Pump Works, with works at Buffalo, N. Y., assets, $700,000.

These five companies have been brought under one head for the purpose of carrying on the manufacture of steam pumps. The combined assets are $11,981,355, and the net earnings of the five are given at $1,211,973.

Each of the five companies now maintains agencies in the principal cities of the United States, and it is estimated that they do about 90 per cent of the steam pump business of this country, exclusive of high-duty engines. The Worthington and Blake companies have stores and carry stocks in London, Paris, Hamburg, Vienna and other cities. All the agencies in this and other countries will be consolidated.

Out of the authorized capital there will be set apart enough preferred stock at par for the retirement of the $2,400,000 7 per cent cumulative preference shares of Henry C. Worthington and $1,150,000 6 per cent preference shares of the Blake & Knowles company.

The president of the new company is to be Charles C. Worthington and the treasurer Max Nathan. The proposed directors are: Charles C. Worthington, William L. Bull, Theodore F. Miller, Max Nathan, Charles L. Broadbent, Marcus Stine, Lewis E. Bellows, John G. Mackintosh, Robert Laidlaw, John W. Dunn, Daniel O'Day, James H. Snow, Philip Lehman and Edward F. C. Young.

FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1899.

Despatches from the Philippines, both official and general, are of a nature that put the people in the way of not being surprised whatever happens.

In addition to his other duties Secretary Alger is kept busy denying rumors that he will resign. The manner in which the President stands by his secretary is a magnificent contrast to the attempt to dislodge a member of our local cabinet.

Nothing is more amusing in the labor discussion than the official organ's desertion of its "bankruptcy and ruin" cry of some months ago when the organ sought to create a local war cry against a gubernatorial candidate.

Senator Matt Quay of Pennsylvania is, in the language of the street gamins "up against it." His enemies have succeeded in preventing his re-election to the Senate, although unable to break his hold entirely and elect a successor.

THE NEW BANK.

Notwithstanding all that has been said of the rings and combinations that control business affairs in this territory, the business men here greet with satisfaction any new enterprise that has sound capitalists behind it and offers a guarantee to the business men of conducting business on a straight forward business basis.

The First American Bank of Hawaii will enter this field under highly favorable conditions both as regards the high standing of its promoters and the timeliness of its inception.

competition with the now established houses. Col. Macfarlane, the leading local promoter says, it is not the intention to start in slashing the local interest rates, but the people have the satisfaction of knowing that the bringing in of new capital will, in the natural course of events, tend to the general lowering of interest rates on good investments and aid materially in greasing the wheels of commercial activity locally and in our relations with the great financial centers of the world.

The probably selection of J. O. Carter as manager will guarantee conservative administration as well as a prompt recognition of the necessities of the local financial situation. Mr. Carter knows the industrial and financial conditions of Hawaii from A to Z. He will not be found endorsing wild cat schemes or withholding from a liberal policy toward enterprise that makes for, and keeps in touch with the sound progress of the territory.

Policemen's Wages Raised. There was a short inspection of the police in the station house yard this morning. Attorney General Cooper, Marshal Brown and Deputy Marshals Hitchcock and Chillingworth were present. Marshal Brown announced that the wages of the $40 men would begin with next month, be raised to $45 dollars a month. With this they would be expected to pay for their shoes and uniform. Hereofore the Government allowed the $40 men $3 every six months for shoes and $12 a year for uniforms. The raise in wages will make a difference in salary of $60 a year for each man. Taking from this the $18 for uniform and shoes, there would still be left a difference of $42. It is needless to say the police are very much elated over the action of the Police Department. They certainly do deserve more money than they have been getting.

Beretania Street Schoolhouse. Mr. Hoffmann of San Francisco wanted $700 added to his contract price for building the Beretania street schoolhouse. This was on account of the rise in lumber. The Government will inform Mr. Hoffmann that if do not proceed with his contract he must take his medicine—in other words, forfeit $1000 on his bond. John Ouderirk of Honolulu will not be awarded the contract in place of the gentleman repudiating the award. The second lowest bidder is Mr. Mills, another San Francisco man.

Sewerage Contracts. Following are the contracts for the sewerage system material thus far awarded: Portland cement, W. K. Grace & Co., San Francisco. Sewer pipe, Glading, McBean Co., San Francisco. Cast Manhole covers, Sessions Foundry Co., Bristol, Conn. Steel pipe, Risdon Iron Works. Dirt buckets, Risdon Iron Works. Valves, Risdon Iron Works. Gate valves, Adams & Co., York, England.

Sad News to Mrs. Miner. Mrs. F. L. Miner received news by the last steamer of the death of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Atcherley, Leamington, Warwickshire, England. Mrs. Atcherley was in her 76th year.

It is in the play that Miss Waldorf and the members of the company display their most beautiful costumes. Seats for the farewell week are now on sale. The repertoire is as follows: Tuesday, "Ingomar;" Thursday, "Sheridan Knowles;" "Hunchback;" Saturday matinee, "Camille;" Saturday night "Romeo and Juliet."

Not the least beautiful of wonders nature has lavished upon Hawaii is the variety of fishes in the surrounding waters. Some of them grotesque in form and others most marvelously colored. KING BROS., have a fine collection of water colors.

MANY LAND DEALS.
 Government Domain Surveys in Olan
 -Other Hilo Items.
 Mr. Carter will return by the Wednesday boat, at which time
 he will probably bring with him
 the Hilo share of the Olan plantation stock, amounting to about $50,000, which has already been over-subscribed.
 Pauline Ruttman has brought a petition before Judge Wilder this week for the guardianship of her infant child. Enoch Brown had previously been appointed guardian by Judge Hitchcock and the appointment was confirmed by the Supreme Court. This is an entirely new case.

Kaumana is prepared to show up about ten or twelve thousand acres suitable for sugar culture, and some Hiloites have already secured options upon most of this tract, and have pretty nearly completed arrangements for the disposal of it to a syndicate of Honolulu capitalists.

The Hilo Tennis Club is organized with these officers: Dr. Eliott, president; Miss Ivy Richardson, vice president; C. K.
 Hyde, secretary and treasurer.
 Mrs. Dr. Elliott, Mr. Carl Smith and Mr. Humburg, court committee.

Had the contract for the five sections of the road between Papaloa and Honohina been awarded to Wilson & Whitehouse, the first part of the year would have seen the completion of this work. As it is, the fifth section, which is the one connecting the two roads, is being constructed by prison labor, which with the help available, will require two years to complete.

The Tribune has every reason to believe that the negotiations for the Wakefield tract on Keauau, covering an area of nearly 2000 acres have come to a successful issue.
 The price paid for this tract as well as for the section covered by the Lobenstein option, the two of which were pooled into one proposition is in the six figures.

The Tribune, from which these items are obtained, appears in a complete new dress. Manager
 Steele is to be congratulated.

GAMBLING WITH ELECTRICITY.
 New York, April 8.—A cable to the Sun from London says: The week's chief gambling was done over a new electric call board erected in the Stock Exchange.
 Formerly a stentorian waiter shouted out the names of the brokers whose clients were waiting outside. Now an experimental board has been erected. It is covered with white ground glass with squares on which are black figures from one to fifty, representing that number of firms.
 When a brilliant electric light shines behind a figure the representative of that firm knows that a client is waiting.

The idle brokers immediately
 saw the speculative possibilities of the board. A bank was formed, and odds at first of 44 to 1 were offered against a particular number. Then it was seen that certain numbers showed frequently and the odds against them were shortened, the chance on odd or even numbers showing is quoted at even money, but the favorites are mostly odd, and the bookies are now asking a shade in their favor. As the call board is proving a success from the point of view of the Stock Exchange arrangements, its uncertainties are sure to provide a constant opportunity for speculation.

 dies, but none gave the least relief. When this remedy came to hand, I gave as directed, and in

influence in steamship companies we can always ship the coin by steamer at a special rate of freight (if forced to protect ourselves), and leave a margin of profit on our exchange. So that any combination to prevent a share of this country's sugar exchange being given to this bank could be easily overcome."

"The BULLETIN has also heard that this Bank will establish a bank in Hilo?"

"It is the intention, as soon as this bank is organized and under way, to start a branch bank in Hilo, and when the business conditions of Maui warrants it a similar bank will be established there.

"The establishment of this bank prevented the Anglo-California bank from establishing their own bank here and, had we not organized, this community would not have been without a new bank, as one or two other foreign Banking Institutions had it in contemplation, but were not disposed to start unless they could secure the financial agency of the United States Government."

"Can you say anything about the administration, Col. Macfarlane?"

"The present intention is to have seven directors. Five will be selected from the principal Honolulu stockholders. Of the other two, one will represent San Francisco and the other New York, but these directors may not be resident."

"Mr. James Campbell, who is one of the principal subscribers to the original syndicate, has asked that the position of manager be tendered to Mr. Joseph O. Carter and this appointment, which is really the only definite one made yet, has been approved by all parties interested. It remains simply for Mr. Joseph O. Carter to accept if the terms of his appointment suit. It was thought better to have a local man for the management of the bank than a stranger from abroad, as it would be a sort of protection to island subscribers, and Mr. Carter's extensive commercial knowledge, his ability as an accountant and his well known conservatism, in the opinion of the syndicate eminently fit him for the position."

"In conclusion, I will say that I regret that the bank is not already established here and doing business, as I find on my return here that the money market is in a very stringent condition, while the capital at this bank will relieve the situation very much. There is no question that the present banking capital of the islands is far below what is required to meet the growing expansion of business of all kinds in these islands that has developed since annexation, and particularly in the sugar industry line. I can see that all good investment sugar stocks paying dividends have been checked in advancing in price owing to the great scarcity of money, and although prices of these stocks have been sustained there is no active trading in them even in the good dividend paying stocks."

"While speaking of sugar stocks, I will only add I was greatly impressed with Mr. Lillenthal's concluding remark, in his letter of instructions addressed to a few of my conservative friends, who are identified with this bank. His remark was that 'he trusted that the bank would be conducted and managed on most conservative lines and that our island directors would not be swayed by the extremely speculative conditions which now existed in these islands.' I do not believe there is one-third of the capital in the country required to properly develop its great sugar resources, and any banker would be very narrow who would not welcome the establishment of another good bank here."

SAMOA REBELS STILL HOLD OUT.

drilled by Lieut. Gaunt, rushed the place and took the two trenches, killing a large number of their enemies. As the bodies were borne off, the exact number could not be told. The Malietoans lost about twenty-five killed.

When the place was taken the Malietoans rushed forward to pull down the German flag. A woman who was employed in the work of carrying water for the Malietoan warriors as is the custom in Samoa, succeeded in getting in the lead. She tore down the flag and rushed back to the Malietoans with it. As she was doing this, an Englishman who was behind the Malietoans with the American and English from the men-of-war, grasped the flag and, throwing it on the ground, began to trample it in the dust. He was immediately called to his senses by Captain Sturdee, who told the fellow that the German flag must not be insulted under any circumstances. There was no fight against Germany. He did not believe that the German Government took the stand that its representatives in Samoa had taken. The flag must be respected. This put a damper on any more work of the kind. However, the fact that the Mataafans had fought under the German flag created a great deal of bitterness and made the relations in Samoa between the Americans and English on one side and the Germans on the other, still more strained, if such a condition could be possible.

Continuing the story that is given above Mr. A. D. Hendricks, a man who has lived for three years in Samoa, who has been with the Americans and English in nearly all of the skirmishes and who is now on his way to America in the Moana, said to a BULLETIN reporter:

"There was another big fight near Fagali the day before we left. In this the Mataafans lost sixty-five and the Malietoan men about nine, as well as two or three wounded."

"On the day after the Moana left, there was to be a still bigger fight in which the Malietoans were to have some four hundred men in line. They were to march out into the bush protected by the guns of the American and British men-of-war. It was expected that this would be a very bloody battle as the Mataafans, on account of lack of ammunition, had decided to make a last stand and to attempt to get back what they had already lost."

"People who say the Samoans will not fight do not know what they are talking about. They fight like demons and do not know what it means to give up. Both sides fight well."

"The shelling of Apia and the surrounding country has been continued by the American and British men-of-war. The Philadelphia is not doing much work in this line as her shells have been found to be defective, exploding prematurely. She however is doing all in her power. The Tauranga was doing the best work."

"The British have the Royalist, Porpoise, Tauranga and Torch at Samoa. The Tauranga is a cruiser and is the ranking ship of the British. The Americans only have the Philadelphia. The Torch arrived in Apia from Sydney just a day before the arrival of the Moana at that place."

"The Americans and British are not doing much of the fighting in the bush. This is left for the natives who are better acquainted with the country and the method of warfare. Their attention is devoted mostly to guarding the towns and seeing that all is well along the water front. The greatest watchfulness is kept up by the men: They do not care for a repetition of the Lansdale affair."

"Just after the Americans and British were killed at Fagali, Hoffmacher, a German resident of Apia, was arrested and taken aboard the Royalist for safe keeping. He was charged with leading the Mataafans in the fight. He was kept aboard the Royalist for several days but was finally delivered over to the German commander of the Falke and there kept."

"The day before leaving Samoa, I had occasion to call on King Malietoa and gained from him some very important points about his part in the trouble that is now stirring up all Samoa. The King's words were as follows:

"I am sorry that this trouble has come to pass but there seems to be no help for it now. My men will fight to the bitter end."

"Last night two natives from Malietoa's forces were brought in to me. They said that their ammunition was about used up and that most of the Mataafans were for surrendering but they were afraid of their chiefs who had sworn to fight until the last man dropped. To surrender under such circumstances would mean sure death."

"I did not care to be King of Samoa. I would have preferred to keep out of this thing altogether, but it was forced upon me and I had to accept. It was the decree of all my chiefs and people as well as the Americans and British."

CORMORAN ASHORE.

Passengers in the Moana report that the Cormoran, the German man-of-war that was sent out from China to Samoa, went ashore in New Guinea. It was also reported that she had been able to get to Adelaide, where she was to be fixed up. She was quite badly damaged.
