WHAT TO DO FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

What are we to do with our unemployed? Their number appears to be on the increase every day. Some of them may be of that class who "seek for work and pray they may not find it." But after allowing a sufficient margin for these, there are many poor fellows who apply daily at the local labor agencies, almost begging for something to do, at any price not less than a bare subsistence. It may be said that they can find employment by going to the other islands. Perhaps so. But name precisely the place, and tell them how they are to get there. They cannot reach the other islands without money to pay their fare. This is not a country like the United States or Australia, where a man can shoulder his swag and march on until he finds employment. Here he has to travel by steamboat or schooner, and money is a prerequisite. The unemployed are right here in the city, and many of them destitute of the means to get out of it, and if they were not, they do not know where to go with any certainty of finding work. What can be done for them? The various benevolent societies are taxed to their full capacity, and are doing their utmost to relieve the needs of individuals and families. Business houses and mechanical establishments, in the present depressed condition of trade and stagnation of private enterprise, have insufficient work even for their permanent employees, and are, in some instances, retaining them at a loss to themselves, rather than turn them adrift. This is thoughtful, humane, and generous. True, there are some rich people in the town, with large accumulations of spare cash, who might, if their souls were not shriveled up to dollars and cents, very easily make work for the employment of those who are needy and willing to do anything, until the return of the "better times" which "are coming." But, as we have said in previous issues, the Government should provide a measure of relief by the inauguration of public works. The harbor, the wharves, and the roads, all demand attention. They are all provided for in the Loan Act. The government professes to have a portion of the loan within reach, immediately available for the objects defined by the Act. Then why are these necessary public works not undertaken at once, and employment thus furnished to all who are willing to accept it? This is a practical method of "killing two birds with one stone," or of serving two interests by one act—relieving the needy and benefiting the country.

MUTUAL TELEPHONE CO. RATES NOT INCREASED.

From a proposition, framed by a stockholder of the Mutual Telephone Company, as a suggested addition to the by-laws of the company, published in the Advertiser and the BULLETIN several days ago, and adopted by the company at its meeting yesterday, the impression seems to have got abroad that the price of telephones in the Mutual company is to be raised. The impression is an erroneous one. The proposition was clearly explained at the meeting as intended to establish a maximum which the rates should not exceed under any circumstances, for a period of three years. Not that the regular rates should be increased to the maximum point, but that in the event of an increase being found necessary or deemed advisable, within the next three years, the rates should not exceed the figures named—$4 per month for mercantile and other offices, and $3 per month for private houses. Upon this explanation, the proposition was adopted by the meeting, almost unanimously. Our understanding of the matter is this: That the charges for instruments may be raised to $4 and $3 per month; but it is not now thought necessary or desirable to increase the present rates, $3 and $2 per month, and they are, therefore, to remain as they are.

LILINA STREET REPAIRS.

The lower end of Lilina street, about which there has been so many bitter complaints and hard words, is now in good repair, up to the brow of the first rise. A thick layer of lumpy coral has been placed at the bottom, faced with a pulverized covering of the same material, and thoroughly rolled with the steam roller. It would not be hard to point out some faults of construction, but neither the paper which specially espoused their cause nor the residents of the neighborhood are going to growl about that now. The quagmire has disappeared, a good thoroughfare passes over its site, and those most concerned are satisfied. Rain or shine, wet or dry, the people now have a respectable road, and can get to and from their residences with comfort, without the risk of being stuck in the mud up to their middles. From being about the worst bit of road around Honolulu, it has become about the best. It affords us pleasure to record the fact. Work is still in progress up above the brow of the first rise, and the intention appears to be to renew the road to where repairs terminated, coming down, two or three years ago. But the specially bad part of the street has been fixed, and although the remainder needs repairing badly enough, it is good in comparison with the lower part of the street as it was a few weeks ago.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE GENTLEMEN.

Smoking may be a bad habit—senseless, hurtful, and costly—a habit better not acquired, and if acquired better abandoned. Nevertheless, it is a habit which has become pretty prevalent, and no amount of lecturing and talking is likely to break it up in a hurry. There must be something gratifying in smoking to smokers, otherwise they would be more ready to abandon the practice when mature years bring sober reflection. They say they find comfort and soothing in puffing the smoke of the dried weed. And so long as the habit prevails, and the demand for tobacco in its variously manufactured forms exists, so long will someone be found to supply the demand and furnish the desired article. In Honolulu, the devotees of the habit have a wide range of places from which to procure their supplies, and every mentionable class and kind of the smoke-generating material to select from. Among the best known and most popular of these establishments is H. J. Nolte's Cigar Divan, at the Beaver Saloon, Fort street, and there can be found at the present time a new importation of everything that a smoker can wish. Pipes, tobacco pouches, cigar cases, cigar and cigarette holders; tobacco cut and in plugs; cigars of many brands and funny names—Hunters' Selection, Conclave, Henry Clay, Boss Punch, Quiet Girls, Little Kids, and Aromatic Cheroots; cigarettes, put up in pretty colored silk wrappers, &c. &c. Take your choice, gentlemen. There is a big spread to select from, and if you cannot find something to suit, you must be hard to please indeed.

SUPREME COURT.

DECISION OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE.

THURSDAY, March 23d.

Nakamura Munaturo vs. A. W. Haalilio, Deputy District Justice of Hamakua, Hawaii. Petition for mandamus. The petitioner, by his attorney Katsura, applied to me for a writ of mandamus, setting forth that on the 10th of February, 1887, the petitioner sued out from respondent, who was Deputy District Justice of the District of Hamakua, Hawaii, a summons against one W. H. Purvis, of Kukuhaele, Hamakua, Hawaii, the master of said petitioner under a written labor contract, to cancel said contract on the ground of a breach thereof, also praying for costs, etc.

Both parties were summoned by said respondent to appear before him on the 14th of February, 1887, and they duly appeared, but the said respondent refused and declined to hear the case, and forfeited the costs deposited by petitioner. The petitioner prayed this Court to issue a writ of mandamus to show cause why the said trial should not be held.

The Court issued a writ on the 5th of March, commanding the said respondent to hear the case without delay or show cause why he should not within ten days after the service of the writ upon him.

On the 21st of March an answer came from respondent, admitting that he issued a summons on the 10th of February, 1887, against W. H. Purvis on the said Nakamura Munaturo to cancel the labor contract between them, and the respondent on the 14th of Feb. as a Deputy District Justice of Hamakua to hear the case. The petitioner claimed that he was a servant bound to serve W. H. Purvis, the defendant, under a labor contract, and alleged that the contract was broken by defendant and the law of masters and servants violated, and asked the Court to annul the contract and to award damages and costs to plaintiff, in accordance with section 1,423 of the Civil Code.

Counsel for the defendant, J. K. Kaunamano and Z. Paskiki, urged that the 1,423d section of the Civil Code was repealed by an Act of the Legislature approved on the 13th of July, 1874; also, that this is a civil case, and the amount of damages is not laid in the complaint; also, that Nakamura Munaturo had brought suit against his master, W. H. Purvis, before J. P. Mian, District Justice of Hamakua, to cancel the contract, on the ground that his master owed him, but the District Justice had not decided the case.

The answer further says that respondent decided not to hear the case because he was of opinion that as the Act of July 13, 1874, repealed "all laws and parts of laws consistent therewith," it repealed section 1,423 of the Civil Code, and the Court has now no jurisdiction to try cases for infringement of contracts, between masters and servants. Also, that as the District Justice had entertained the case of the plaintiff against defendant and decided against him in part and held the case as regards the suit $18 wages, the respondent decided the case in favor of the defendant and ordered him to pay costs of $3.50.

The petitioner demurs to the answer, and avers that the Act of 1874, referred to in the answer, only regulates the general jurisdiction of District Justices with regard to civil cases founded on pecuniary demands, and has nothing to do with the relations between masters and servants, and over which the District Justices have by law jurisdiction conferred upon them. Also, that a pending suit for wages between the same parties in the same Court is no bar to an action to cancel the contract.

By the Court—it is to be regretted that the respondent has not appeared by counsel or person, but relies upon his answer. I find from the statement of petitioner's counsel that J. P. Mian, District Justice, declined to allow the joining of the two actions, one for wages and one to cancel the contract, and that is all that was done by him, and the Deputy Justice A. W. Haalilio, who acted in the absence of Mian, heard the points of defendant Purvis' counsel, and merely declined to try the case. It is very strange that any misapprehension should exist in the mind of the Deputy District Justice in regard to his jurisdiction. By section 1,423 of the Civil Code jurisdiction is conferred upon Police and District Justices, whenever a master shall be found guilty of any cruelty, misuse or violation of the terms of contract toward any person bound to service, etc., to examine into, hear and determine the complaint, etc., and if the complaint is sustained, to discharge the laborer from all obligations of service, and he has power to punish the master by fine, etc.

Section 915 of the Civil Code gives jurisdiction to District Justices to hear and determine all civil cases whenever the amount in controversy or the amount of plaintiff's demand does not exceed one hundred dollars, etc. This was amended by the Act of July 13, 1874, which merely increased the limit of jurisdiction to $200. This law, which has proved a stumbling block to the respondent, does not conflict with the law conferring special jurisdiction on District Justices to try the cases of complaints against employers of labor on the part of their bound servants. The two laws are upon different subjects. The two jurisdictions exist concurrently.

I can hardly conceive how any lawyer could make such a point or any justice entertain such a view of so plain a law. As regards the other point, that a civil suit for wages is still pending between the same parties, this is no bar to the suit to cancel the contract. Arrears of wages might be recovered even after a labor contract was annulled.

I deem the cause shown to be insufficient, and a peremptory mandate made may issue to the said respondent to proceed to hear and determine the complaint of the said petitioner, Nakamura Munaturo, against the said W. H. Purvis, his master, giving reasonable notice to both parties, and to pay the costs of these proceedings.

THE GERMAN AND FRENCH FRONTIER.

It is curious to know that the frontier of Germany and France is more distinctly marked than that of any other two countries. The frontier line is so arranged that it crosses every road at right angles. On the German side is a large post twelve feet high, painted like a barber's pole—red, black and white—with a cross piece on top with the word in black letters on white ground "Grenz!" Diagonally opposite is a cast-iron post twelve feet high painted grey. On an iron cross-piece is the word "frontiere." These posts are only placed on the roads and railway lines indicated "across the country" by stone blocks projecting about a foot above the ground at intervals of fifty yards. On the French side is cut with a chisel the letter "F," and on the German side is the letter "D" for Deutschland.—[Toronto Globe.

It seems that Lord Tennyson's last volume has not exhausted all his unpublished pieces. One of the manuscripts still in his portfolio is a rhymed epitaph on his former neighbor at the Isle of Wight, the late Dr. Ward, a man famous at Oxford some forty years ago as a Tractarian leader, and later as the very Ultramontane editor of the Dublin Review. The epitaph, as well as reminiscences and correspondence furnished by Lord Selborne, Prof. Jewett, Dean Church, Cardinal Newman and John Stuart Mill, will appear in the biography of Dr. Ward, which is in preparation by his son.

EXTRAORDINARY EVICTION SCENES IN KERRY.

An extraordinary scene which took place recently at Ballyferrier, county Kerry, where the Sheriff attempted to carry out five evictions, is thus described by the correspondent of the London Daily News: "The resistance offered by the populace compelled the evicting party to return without getting within a mile of the houses they had intended to make tenanted. It having become known that the families to be evicted would not be readmitted as caretakers, the people became highly indignant, and all in the district determined that the proceedings should be rendered as inconvenient as possible to the evictors. True to their intention, the people assembled in extraordinary numbers, and showed such a spirit of determination that the sub-Sheriff decided to abandon the evictions, notwithstanding that he had seventy armed policemen at his back. The whole force left early in the morning, and some exciting scenes occurred en route.

The first evidence of determined resistance was experienced shortly before 10. So bitter is the feeling in Dingle that no cars would be supplied to the police. A bridge at Ballynaw was rendered impassable, and the police had to make a detour to the Ventry route, which caused some delay. As they passed along horns were blown from the surrounding hills. At Ballyneaning, on a bend of the road, a huge ditch of stones was formed, rendering it impossible for those in charge of the police, who were on private cars to proceed farther. The party were brought to a standstill. A conference was held, and the district inspector resolved to send the cars back to Ventry. All then proceeded on foot. Here an immense crowd was seen pouring down the hillside and gathering together. Nearly all were armed with pikes, clubs, sticks, etc. Several women in the crowd also carried sticks. The police formed into line on the road and divided into three companies, one being ordered to draw their batons while others fixed swords.

The crowd became very threatening, and the police were ordered to load their rifles with buckshot. Nothing dismayed, the crowd roared defiance. Mr. Dissett, a member of the local National League, jumped on the ditch and appealed to the crowds to give the police no excuse, as they only wanted to beat them down. This had a quieting effect. Having removed the obstacle on the road the police proceeded on to Shanknock. The crowd in the meanwhile had swelled to about fifteen hundred, who kept constantly cheering and groaning. At Shanknock another huge obstacle was encountered, a pile of weighty stones being placed across the road. After this difficulty had been surmounted it was ascertained that fifteen similar obstructions were placed along the roads. In consequence of this information those in charge of the evicting party held a consultation as to whether it was practicable to carry out the evictions.

The crowd, with their pikes, etc., became very threatening, and several times it was feared that a collision would result, many of the more hot-headed of the crowd being anxious to attack the police. This was fortunately averted owing to the presence of some of the local leaders of the National League. After some time the evicting party decided to retreat, and the crowd cheered enthusiastically again and again.

THE TRUTH OF A DREAM.

Miss Irene Merriman, aged 18, lives with her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Berrian, the widow of Cornelius Berrian, in a cottage in Lelan avenue, New Rochelle. Mrs. Berrian is a sister of ex-Recorder James M. Smith. On Thursday morning Miss Merriman reported to the police at New Rochelle that she had been robbed of a gold watch, $27 in cash, and that the burglars had packed up a seal plush sack, a brown dress trimmed with brocade, belonging to her, her aunt's brown cloth dress and a shawl, all of which were left on the floor. After she had reported the robbery she stated to Captain Conkling, the Chief of Police, that she had dreamed during the night where the watch was and had gone out and found it in the fork of an old apple tree. She said she did not dream where the money was and did not find it. Captain Conkling did not take any stock in the story and did not make any effort to investigate the affair.

Yesterday a reporter visited the cottage. Miss Merriman said that at 12:30 a. m. she was disturbed by a rattling of a newspaper in her room, but she fell asleep and dreamed that the house was being robbed. She remembered in her dream that the robber was a good-looking, medium-sized, fair-haired boy with a blonde mustache, splendid figure and acted in the most gentlemanly manner. She dreamed that he took a long stick, poked under the bureau where the money and watch were kept, pushed them out and hugged them to his breast. Then she dreamed that he went down stairs and packed up the articles. She then had another scene in her dream where she saw the burglar hide the watch in the apple tree. Then she says she woke up and went to her aunt's room and said: "Aunt, the house is being robbed: come down with me." The aunt, she said, was timid, but she went alone, where she said she found everything as she saw it in her dream. Then she called up her nearest neighbor, George Schirmer, by firing off a revolver, and he came in and saw the condition of things as she describes them. She then went out and found the watch in the tree. The money was not found. She did not dream where it was.

This is the third time that burglars have been reported in this house. The last time was in August. It was then reported that the girl had been chloroformed and the house robbed of $40. Two weeks later the girl heard burglars again and went to the window and fired off a revolver, which so frightened them that they did not come in the house. There were no evidences of a forcible entry into the house yesterday. There was a pane of glass out in a window in the kitchen. This had been out some time. Miss Merriman explains that the burglar put his hand through the broken pane and removed the fastening.—[New York Tribune.

We should Blot Out Disease in Its Early Stages.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and in fact the entire glandular system; and the afflicted drag out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints; but if the reader will ask himself the following questions he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted:—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling, attended by drowsiness? Have my eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the sides and back? Is there a fullness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys highly colored, with a deposit of sand in the morning, accompanied by flatulence or belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against the latter agonising disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure, and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is Seigel's Curative Syrup; a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, drives it, root and branch, out of the system. Ask your chemist for Seigel's Curative Syrup.

"East-street Mills, Cambridge Heath, London, E. C., July 24th, 1882

"Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favour of your valuable Syrup as a curative agent. I had suffered for some length of time from a severe form of indigestion, and the long train of distressing symptoms following that disease. I had tried all possible means to get relief, by seeking the best medical advice. I had swallowed sufficient of their stuff to float a man-of-war, so to speak, but all to no avail. A friend of mine, coming on the scene in the midst of my sufferings, brought with him a bottle of your Seigel Syrup; he advised me to try it, stating he felt confident it would benefit me. Being weary of trying so many drugs, I commenced it before trial, thinking it could not possibly do me any good, but ultimately determined to take the Syrup. After doing so for a short time it worked such a change in me that I continued taking it for nearly two months, and I then felt thoroughly cured, for I have discontinued its use for five weeks, and feel in the best of health, and can partake any kind of food with ease and comfort. I am therefore thankful to you that, through the instrumentality of your valuable medicine, I am restored to the state of health I now enjoy.—Yours truly, W. S. FOUSTON.

Those who are in the "Asthma Furca" should lose no time in obtaining relief by the use of "The Rosiweed Tar Mixture"; but do not use the medicine unless you will follow all the directions "to the letter."

Poor Asthma sufferers, who are strangers to "fired Nature's sweet restorer, lalmy sleep," should make use of "The Rosiweed Tar Mixture." Quiet refreshing sleep will follow its use.

"Waterloo House, London Stile, Chiswick, February 17th, 1882.

"Messrs. White and Co., London.

"Gentlemen,—It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Seigel's Syrup. For years I had been suffering from bilious attacks, which began with giddiness; they at length would come before my eyes, so that I should not be able to recognise any one or anything at the distance of a yard or two from my face. This would be followed by excessive trembling of my knees, so that I could not stand without support; after which a severe headache would occur, lasting often two or three days. I have tried various remedies for these distressing symptoms, but until I tried Seigel's Syrup I had no relief. Since then I have had excellent health in every respect, and if ever I feel a headache coming on I take one dose of the Syrup, which arrests it. Hoping that this testimonial may be the means of inducing others (who suffer as I used) to try the Syrup, as I feel sure they will receive the benefit and ultimately be cured, I beg to remain, yours faithfully, "A. H. HORTON."

Seigel's Operating Pills prevent ill effects from excess in eating or drinking. A good dose at bed-time renders a person fit for business in the morning. If you have Asthma use "The Rosiweed Tar Mixture."

Let me have a mild CIGAR

THE ABOVE REQUEST IS HEARD daily in cigar stores, saloons and other places where cigars are sold, for it is an undisputed fact that most smokers prefer a mild cigar and that those who have for a long time smoked strong cigars, principally Imported Manillas, will, after having thoroughly injured the stomach and impaired the nervous system, surely want a mild cigar, if they could find the right kind.

Now many thousands of smokers who suffer from loss of appetite, headache, nervous irritability, asthma, etc., and who have tried all possible remedies without success, might be cured if they knew that their sufferings were caused by the immoderate use of strong cigars, and that they should only smoke mild and properly prepared ones.
