FUSHIMI RECEPTION PRINCE AT THE YOUNG

Flags of Japan, Great Britain and the United States. From the foremast of the Cummins and Pioneer hoisted the British Jack and many of the sampans sported small British ensigns.

The steam-ship Pioneer, loaded to the gunwales with merry Japanese, passed on her outward run near the Myrtle boat-house, to take in tow a string of twelve highly decorated Japanese sampans.

These fishing-boats, with all sails set and covered with dozens of little Japanese flags and pennants and long streamers bearing legends of welcome in Nipponese, strung along in the wake of the iron steam-ship, making a very pretty spectacle. From their tiny decks issued ringing cries of banzai and miniature flags in the hands of their passengers waved heartily welcome to the distinguished military genius of Japan who stood on the after-deck and frequently removed his English cap in response to the storm of enthusiastic salutation.

Aboard sampans and barge and boat and steamboat bombs were exploded.

At 9 o'clock the steamer John A. Cummins left the foot of Fort street with a large number of representative Japanese in frock coats and silk hats. These men represented the local Japanese merchants, medical profession, churches and newspapers. Their number included the following: T. Murakami, Y. Motobiji, S. Sheba, Y. Soga, Y. Kimura, Dr. Asahiwa, Rev. Okumura, T. Mitsuwa, K. Sadayashi, G. Shirada, S. Matsuda, S. Shimizu and T. Onodera. The Japanese newspapers represented were Jiyu shinbun, Hawaii Shinpo, Japanese Daily Chronicle and Nippo Iji.

Aboard the Cummins there were also representatives of the English dailies.

At 9:15 o'clock the Cummins was abreast of the man-of-war at the entrance to the channel and the island steamer circled astern of the battleship, the Japanese committee aboard removing their hats and shouting a welcome. The Prince stood, surrounded by his suite, on the after deck and removed his cap, bowing acknowledgments. He was dressed in black, wearing a white vest across which a heavy gold chain was noticeable. The Cummins passed the Monmouth on her port side and the Pioneer advanced to meet the man-of-war to starboard, turning and following her in.

When the Monmouth docked there were several thousand people outside the gates of the Naval Wharf at which were stationed United States Marines to keep the people back until the vessel had been properly moored. She docked several feet from the wharf and naval boat barges were in the slip on her starboard side ready to give her coal at once.

Automobiles, hacks, carriages and thousands of foot made a thick-packed mob beyond the gates, all clamoring to get within. On the wharf there were none but the marine guards and the dock-men necessary to handle the big shore-lines. Over the sharp-cut fence boards peered hundreds of curious faces and scores of small Japanese flags were waved while "banzai" was shouted everywhere. The three smoke-stacks of the big lead war-painted cruiser towered high and her graceful dimensions were good to look upon as were also the white-helmeted marines of the man-of-war lined up on deck, "soldiers and sailors too."

Prince Fushimi and his staff were the first to leave the vessel, in an automobile, and he was mightily cheered as his machine passed through a living avenue from the naval wharf gate. He was taken to the Young Hotel where he will make his stay while here and where hundreds, the majority of whom were Japanese, were waiting to cheer him.

monstration of the Japanese residents will take place in the form of a monster lantern parade which will traverse the principal streets and end in front of the Young Hotel where the Prince will be cheered.

The royal party is composed of the following members all of whom are officials of high station in Japan: H. T. H. Prince Fushimi, M. S. Nagasaki, S. Baba, Major Hogaishi, Commander Tokouchi, Dr. T. Fwal, S. H. Tokioka, S. Kurosawa, M. Tsuda, T. Gutow and K. Tsumura.

While the party was at the hotel a number of police officers were required to prevent the curious crowd from blocking the entrance. Two plain clothes officers, Taylor and Reeves, who had been detailed by Sheriff Lanke for the purpose, accompanied the royal party while at the hotel and on the streets.

Prince Fushimi went to England about two months ago on a mission for the Emperor. It was purely a matter of national courtesy in acknowledgment of an honor conferred on the Japanese sovereign by the English monarch. Some time since, it may be remembered, King Edward conferred on the Mikado, the English Order of the Garter, one of the highest favors in the gift of the King. In evidence of appreciation, and to fittingly express his thanks, therefore, the Emperor commissioned Prince Fushimi to go to England bearing the royal tokens of thanks.

On the return the Prince and his suite crossed to Quebec, Canada and with one or two day's stop at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Banff and other points across the continent, traveled by special train by way of the Canadian Pacific to Vancouver, from which point the voyage of the Monmouth was begun.

In speaking of the trip of the Prince, Major Higashi, of the party stated that they had had a very pleasant time throughout, at every point of the journey. The Canadians, he said had been especially courteous, and the party had with only one or two exceptions, been allowed to stop for sleep every night of the trip across the continent, their train being side-tracked for their special convenience.

The voyage from Vancouver, which began a week ago today, Major Higashi stated, had been a most pleasant one, the weather being perfect, and arrangements for their comfort being most carefully considered. The reason that the voyage is being made by way of Honolulu, instead of direct course by the Great Circle, as that owing to the uncertainties of the ether in the North Pacific, and the fogs and cold winds likely to be encountered, it was the wish of the British commander to come this way.

Immediately Lieutenant Cushman at the Naval Station sent the following reply: "Your port side will be to dock." H. B. M. S. S. Monmouth is a first-class cruiser built in 1901. She is 9,800 tons of 22,000 horse-power and carries 14 guns. She has a speed of 23 knots. John A. Take is her captain and her naval commander is Henry L. Mawby. She was sent to Vancouver for the purpose of taking the Prince home.

The House of Fushimi was founded by Prince Yoshitomo, son of the Emperor Shuko, who died on the 20th day of the 11th moon of the 23rd year of Oei 1423.

The present representative of the House of Fushimi is Prince Madanaru, an adopted brother of the Emperor. He is the fourth son of Prince Kunizyo and is a member of the Board of Decorations and was promoted to be Lieutenant-General on October 1, 1901. He was decorated with the grand insignia of the Chrysanthemum. He joined the expedition to Wei-hai-wei and later the expedition to Formosa and was transferred, December, 1875, to the command of the first brigade of the Tokyo Army Division. He was born April 28, 1858, and was married on October 6, 1876, to the Princess Toshiko. She was decorated with the first insignia of the Order of the Crown in 1888.

The Prince had three sons, two of whom are living, and one daughter who is the wife of Marquis Yamouchi.

FRANK THOMPSON RAISES A POINT AGAINST THE FORM OF OATH USED.

Matters reached a crisis in the J. Lor Wallach case this morning in Judge Lindsay's court. Frank Thompson is defending Wallach who is being tried on a charge of perjury in connection with alleged illegal registration. Thompson raised a technical point that may result not only in Wallach being discharged, but will have a very far reaching effect, so far as fraudulent registration is concerned. If Thompson's contention be sustained there can not be any prosecutions for fraudulent registration.

The point was raised over the testimony of John D. Holt, Jr., who was one of the members of the Registration Board. Holt testified to having administered an oath to Wallach relative to the latter's place of residence. On cross-examination Thompson asked the witness as to the exact wording of the oath that had been administered. The attorney brought out the fact that the form of the oath had not contained an invocation to the Almighty, whereupon Thompson then declared that no oath had been administered. The lawyer moved to strike out all of the testimony of Holt. This motion will be but the prelude to a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, as it is necessary for the prosecution to prove that an oath was taken by Wallach in order to prove that he committed perjury about his place of residence.

M. F. Promer of the Attorney General's department, who is conducting the case, cited authorities in opposition to the motion. The court took the matter under advisement until 1:30 p. m. The jury was excused until 2 p. m.

THE PHILIPPINES HAVE A VERY DRABTIC LAW ON POSSESSION OF FIREARMS.

MANILA, June 6.—The proposed firearm act to regulate the importation, acquisition, possession, use and transfer of firearms and to prohibit the possession of same except in compliance with the provisions of the said act, has been received from the public printer and is now ready for distribution.

The proposed act makes it incumbent upon all persons, firms or corporations desiring to deal in firearms or ammunition to make application to the governor general for a license therefor, stating therein the facts regarding the amount of business in the purchase and sale of firearms and ammunition intended to be transacted and the class of arms and ammunition the applicant intends to purchase and sell under the license.

The act provides that the amount of bond to be executed by the applicant before the issuance of the license shall be determined by the governor general. The application, after approval by the governor general, is to be transmitted to the director of constabulary and upon his approval the license shall issue.

As regards persons desiring to possess one or more firearms for personal protection, or for hunting or other lawful purposes, the law provides that they shall make application for a license to possess the same. Upon making such application and before receiving the license, the applicant shall make a cash deposit in the postal savings bank in the sum of P100 for each firearm for which the license is to be issued, or in lieu thereof, he may give a bond, payable to the government of the Philippine islands, in the sum of P100 for each firearm; provided, however, that persons who are actually members of gun clubs, duly formed and organized at the time of the passage of this act, who now have a license to possess firearms shall not be required to make the deposit or give the bond prescribed by this section, and the bond duly executed by such persons in accordance with existing law shall continue to be security for the safe-keeping of such arms.

The possession of firearms in violation of the provisions of the act is punishable by a fine of not to exceed P100 and imprisonment not exceeding six months or both in the discretion of the court.

Resolved, By the Board of the Honolulu Mutual Burial Association that said board hereby expresses its sincere respect for the sterling qualities and integrity of the late deceased. Be it further resolved that in the death of David A. the Honolulu Mutual Burial Association has lost a valued and appreciated member whose counsel was at all times good and who did much for the benefit of the association. HACKMAN A SWINDLER.

A local hack-driver is alleged to have swindled a couple of through lady passengers from the S. S. America Maru yesterday. He drove them out toward Waikiki, stopped in a lane and demanded $25 which was given him by the hysterical ladies. He then dumped them near a car line and left them to take the car back to the ship. They reported the matter to Manager W. H. Avery of the steamship company who with his wife, who was a passenger, Avery took the affair to Hackfeld & Co., agents, and so it got to the police. It will go hard with the hackman when identified.

WILFLEY WAS CALLED DOWN

WASHINGTON ORDERS TO ADMIT LORRIN ANDREWS, SAYS F. M. BROOKS.

In connection with the announcement in the Shanghai Times of the admission of Lorria Andrews to the bar by Judge Wilfley, there are reports in some quarters that the Judge had orders from Washington to admit him, as a result of Andrews' recent trip to Washington to make complaint regarding the Judge's former refusal to admit him. F. M. Brooks, formerly of Honolulu, stated in an interview in Manila that this was the case. The Manila Cable News has the following: "Mr. Brooks is one of the lawyers of Shanghai who fell under the scope of Judge Wilfley's unfortunate disbarment order. He was reluctant to discuss the incident further than to say that the action of Judge Wilfley did not injure the business of his firm in any appreciable degree. The matter was so thoroughly understood in Shanghai and volume of the business done by Judge Wilfley's court was so small comparatively that the ruling of the Judge had very little effect. There were no charges nor complaints of any kind made against the lawyers and their characters were in no way impeached or attacked. Mr. Brooks seemed to cherish no resentment against Judge Wilfley, but regarded the matter as an unfortunate error of judgment. The chief objection of the lawyers to the ruling seems to be the unusual discrimination it made against Americans as such. Foreigners were admitted to practice in the court on the certificate of their local consul while Americans were disbarred even though they presented certificates from the supreme court of the United States. Mr. Andrews, Brooks' partner, went to Washington and conferred with Secretaries Root and Taft in the matter, with the result as published in the Cablenews a few days ago, that Judge Wilfley has been advised from Washington to modify his ruling. LET'S HAVE IT STRAIGHT.
It seems to be distinctly up to President Cabrera, of Guatemala, to state definitely whether or not he has been assassinated.—Indianapolis News.

A rehearsal was held this morning at nine o'clock at the Executive Building grounds, and children from the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth rooms of the Kaulani School, from the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth rooms of the Kaahumani School, and from the higher grades of the Royal School took part.

WAR IS COMING SAYS MR. O'BRIEN

THE PROPHECY OF A JOURNALIST WHO HAS STUDIED THE EASTERN CRISIS.

The writer has just made a three months' study of the attitude of the Japanese in California, Hawaii and Japan toward America and has for five years past taken an active interest in the relations between Japan and the United States. His conclusion is that Japan is making ready to fight if necessary some great nation. Her military and naval activities are feverish now when supposedly she should be paying attention to little but the rehabilitation of her finances. She has made or is making ententes or good understandings between herself and France and between herself and Russia. She has an alliance with England and France has one with Russia.

Now what nation stands out as isolated by such agreements? Germany one might say. But Germany has only trifling interests in the Orient. Katschou is merely a naval station.

No. It is the United States which is the object of this solicitude for friendliness with other powers. Japan writhing under the insults to her people in California, its nationals virtually excluded from the United States, and fearful of America building here an outpost of strength, is preparing to bring the matter to the test—if necessary.

It may be years before this necessity arises, but when it does the Mikado's people will be there with the guns.—Frederick O'Brien in Manila Cable News.
