POACHERS BROUGHT BY THETIS

FLEET VISITORS TO DANCE TO-NIGHT AT THE YOUNG HOTEL

The ball arranged by the Merchants' Association in honor of the chief petty officers of the Pacific fleet will be given at the Young hotel this evening, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. An opening concert by the Hawaiian band will start at 7:30 and have continuance until the ball is in full swing. There will be a quintette club in each of the large pavilions to play for the dancing. C. C. Von Hamm is chairman of the committee of arrangements for both tonight's ball and the big reception at the Moana Saturday night. Ed. Towse is head of the sub-committee on floor arrangements. The other members of the latter committee are as follows:

Mauka—E. A. Cheatham, F. H. Armstrong, Loyd Childs, A. B. Clark, Jr., M. M. Johnson, James P. Lynch. Makai—A. Mackintosh, F. B. Angus, W. Thompson, Robert McCriston, Ralph Johnstone and Walter Dillingham.

Through the courtesy of Manager Ballentyne, the committee has succeeded in arranging the following late car service:

Punahou line, King and Fort streets (this car will connect with Manoa car) 11:50 p. m.

Nuanu Valley line, King and Fort streets, 11:57.

King street west, connecting with Liliha street, Bishop and King streets 11:33.

King street east, Bishop and King streets, 11:57.

Emma street, Ho'opili Alakea, 11:48.

Waialae, Hotel and Bishop streets, 12:00.

Mrs. A. G. Hawes, chairman of the special committee of patronesses, and General Chairman C. C. Von Hamm, request all patronesses for the blue-jackets receptions at the Moana and Seaside hotels on Saturday evening to meet them in the parlor of the Young hotel at ten o'clock tomorrow morning for the purpose of shaping out the details of the balls referred to.

The entertainment committee of the Merchants' Association urgently requests the ladies of Honolulu to cooperate in securing as large attendance of the gentler sex as possible upon the several entertainments. The large balls of Saturday night will be carried on simultaneously at the Moana and Seaside Hotels, and will be very elaborate functions. Admiral Sebree has proffered the services of a detachment of men from the fleet to assist in the work of decorating, and will also loan such signal and national flags as may be required in the scheme of adornment. Something like 1500 men will be entertained at the two places.

The committee on decorations consists of C. S. Crane, G. F. Bush and E. A. Berndt. They have the matter now well in hand.

A board walk is being laid to connect the Moana and Seaside hotels for use during the evening. The Hawaiian band will play at the Moana, and quintette clubs will supply dance music at both places. Ed. Towse is chairman of all floor committees, and he will be assisted Saturday night by the following:

Moana—Frank Armstrong, A. Mackintosh, Walter Dillingham, William Thompson, M. M. Johnston, C. Waterman. Seaside—George Angus, E. A. Cheatham, Ralph Johnstone, A. B. Clark, Jr., Loyd Childs, M. Brusch and Samuel Walker.

No invitations have been issued, but the committee, through the patronesses, will endeavor to have a large attendance, and will try to make the evening a record social one for Honolulu.

ANOTHER LICENSE ALAMEDA FOR 'FRISCO TONIGHT

That under section 1418G, Revised Laws, "a license is required for the sale of fish at a fixed place of business is the gist of the first decision of the reconstructed Supreme Court, which was handed down this afternoon. It is by Justice Perry, signed also by Chief Justice Hartwell and Justice De Bolt.

It is in line with a string of recent decisions upholding the collection of license fees from various branches of business, which Deputy County Attorney Milverton has won in the appellate court. Choy Dan, keeper of three stalls in the Honolulu Market, was the appellant in this case, represented by Douthitt & Coke.

Defendant's contention was that Section 1418G, reading in part, "The annual fee for a license to sell goods, wares and merchandise shall be $25," was to be read as though it contained an exemption in favor of sales of fish, to be consistent with Section 1418H, which makes the annual fee for a license to peddle merchandise $50, "providing that no license be required of persons peddling fish, fresh fruit or vegetables." The court thinks the circumstances rather favor the contrary view, reasoning in part:

"It shows that the legislature in passing the act appropriated that the term merchandise as used in license statutes includes fish; and yet with that knowledge it failed to express any exemption in the preceding section. Nor is the distinction between the two classes of licensees unfounded in reason. A person maintaining a fixed

Max Schlemmer Thought To Be In Poaching Deal

With twenty-three Japanese arrested on Laysan and Lisiansky islands for destroying birds for plumage, contrary to American law, the U. S. R. C. Thetis, Captain W. V. E. Jacobs, this morning returned from an extended policing of the numerous westward islands. It was her first duty in the Hawaiian "reservation" and complete success has crowned her effort.

Today twenty-three Japanese, who were but the tools of a Japanese company having agents in Honolulu, and who made no resistance to capture, are in Federal prison awaiting trial, and 259,000 birds' wings and 2 1-4 tons of loose plumage are being transferred from the hold of the Thetis, the feathers being valued at $112,000.

At any moment the "King of Laysan Island," Max Schlemmer, one of the best-known men of these islands, is likely to be placed under an official examination in regard to his identification with the traffic. When the prisoners were landed, Max Schlemmer declared to U. S. Marshal Hendry to the effect that if these Japanese were the Laysan island lot, then he was responsible for them. So Max may have to answer for illegally bringing aliens into the United States (into Laysan), as well as for whatever part he may have had in the business of destroying birds, individually or as representative of a company, local or otherwise. The Federal authorities will at once open an investigation the result of which will likely be that others than the Japanese will be made to suffer. Incidentally the Japanese government is interested in results and inquiries in Japan will probably end in the Honolulu connection being exploited.

A cloud of small boats met the Thetis when she swung into the stream about 9 o'clock this morning and she was before her moorings were made boarded by representatives of the Customs, Immigration, and U. S. Attorney's departments and members of the press.

Twenty-three Japanese, old and young, bearded and clean shaven, smiling or non-committal, all bronzed, were lined at the rail in the waist, gazing shoreward, apparently unconcerned. There were the bird-poachers, skin-stealers, plumage hunters or feather pirates of which so much has been said of late and concerning whose depredations there has been much cabling between Honolulu and Washington. They were the little brown men who brought the Thetis to this station. They had behaved well on the trip.

It may go hard with them for what they have done, but it appears that they were but the tools of a great company, whose headquarters is in Japan and which has agents in Hawaii. A Honolulu man, a white man, is supposed to know all about their business and he will have much to explain if not to answer for.

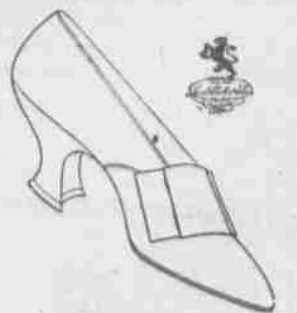

Spick and span, man-o'-warlike in discipline and appearance aboard it was good to greet the Thetis. Captain Jacobs was congratulated extensively but passed up all that and invited his callers, official and otherwise, into his spacious cabin, where after passing cigars, he responded to the inquiries of the press to the following effect:

BIRD ISLAND EMPTY.
"Acting under instructions from Washington, to investigate the conditions in the Hawaiian Islands reservation in regard to the operations of plumage hunting, we headed first for Bird Island. There we saw no sign of human habitation, nor were there any birds except a couple of albatross. The surf was high there and we could not have landed without great difficulty if we had seen any signs of depredation.

NECKAR AND GARDNER ISLES.
"For Neckar Island next we steered our course, and made a stop there, but there were no more signs of birds than there had been on Bird Island. No landing was possible; a strong E. N. E. breeze prevailed. Then we went westward to Gardner Islands. Gardner Island is an inaccessible rock about 200 feet in diameter and 200 feet high. A few albatross were hovering around. I doubt if a landing could be effected except by swimming.

STARS AND STRIPES FLYING.
Laysan Island was our next call. As

MISS HELEN TAFT, SUFFRAGETTE, SYMPATHIZES WITH GIRL STRIKERS AND WILL "SPEAK TO PAPA"

PHILADELPHIA, January 18.—The local waistmakers' strike has taken social honors, for Miss Helen Taft has enlisted in the cause of the strikers and has declared that she certainly will speak to papa about the conditions under which these poor girls are compelled to live.

Miss Taft was at the home of Mrs. Henry La Barre Jayne, at 1035 Spruce street, yesterday morning when fully 100 society women and a score of Bryn Mawr College girls listened attentively to Mrs. Raymond Robbins rehearse the ill and thrills attending the life of a maker of shirtwaists.

Miss Taft did not arise in the meeting and ask questions. She just listened to Mrs. Robbins and at once fell deeply in sympathy with the 5000 odd girls who are now striving to improve their condition.

And that isn't all. Miss Taft is a suffragist. She is a charter member of the Bryn Mawr College Suffragist Club, so rumor asserts. Miss Taft may not be quite certain of her status on matter of franchise, for she is loath to talk thereon, but this much she knows: "The striking shirtwaist makers are deserving of every bit of sympathy that can be gathered together."

She isn't very well versed in matters economic. This phase of the factory workers' existence is quite new to her—has opened the doors of a world that she knew only in theory. But now Miss Taft is quite ready to take the platform if necessary, and repeat all the things that she heard Mrs. Robbins say.

Miss Taft's appearance at the meeting was more or less in the nature of a surprise. She had been reading the Public Ledger, she said, and she felt "just too sorry for the little Russian girls who had to live or starve on 39 cents a day." She took a seat way back in the rear of the Jayne ballroom. Near her sat Miss Fannie Cochran, who is quite well versed in shirtwaist conditions. As the lecture lengthened, Miss Taft became more interested evidently, for she made hurried whispered inquiries of Miss Cochran and always there was a horrified shake of the head.

"Yes, I certainly sympathize with these poor little girls," said Miss Taft after the meeting. "I never knew that they were so downtrodden. Really, I'll never put on a shirtwaist again without a shudder. I really know little about women workers, although I have several friends who trim their own hats, and one of them makes her own clothes. But to think that these poor creatures have to work 10 and 12 hours a day, suffer agonizing headaches because they have to watch a dozen needles flash up and down a thousand times a minute and then get but $5 a week is too awful."

Here Miss Taft took out a book in which she had made notes.

"Yes," she nodded, "a thousand times a minute and $5 a week—that's what Mrs. Robbins said. I am going to know more about this affair. Lots of the girls have been coming in to the city and listening to the speakers tell of the lot of the girls, and I am coming too, hereafter."

"I read the story about the girl who was told by her employer, 'If you do not work you do not live.' The girl told him, 'I live not much on 39 cents a day anyhow.' That was one of the little incidents that won me to the cause. Besides, I was down at the pickets' headquarters and heard all about it from the girls themselves."

"Are your sympathies aroused to an extent that will prompt you to do picket duty?" she was asked as she hurried down the street.

"Well, I don't know I'd like to. And oh—and here she drew a big breath. Her eyes opened widely and she laughed. "Oh, suppose I was to be arrested like Miss Cochran was."

The thought was too much. Miss Taft laughed merrily. "Wouldn't it be terrible?" Shudders ran through the entire group of college girls.

"Well," she concluded, "I certainly shall speak to papa about the terrible conditions under which these poor girls work. I know that he will be sorry for them. Why, it's just like reading Nietzsche, isn't it?"

And then Miss Taft and her friends boarded a Thirteenth street car and went to the opera.

LOOKING AFTER FLOOD VICTIMS

Subsidence of Water Exposes The Material Damage Done in The Gay City.

MORE TRUST INVESTIGATIONS.

American Aviator Has Fatal Fall—Minister Calhoun Travels to Peking Next Month.

(Associated Press Morning Service.)

PARIS, February 2.—The swollen waters of the Seine have fallen four feet, exposing in many of the city streets the damage done to buildings, sewers and pavements by the torrent during the past week. While it is too early as yet for the authorities to make any definite examinations, it is regarded as certain that the estimated damage placed at two hundred millions of dollars will be exceeded when the final toll is taken.

The work of caring for the refugees has assumed tremendous proportions, taxing the energies of the army officials in charge. Yesterday an army of a quarter of a million people, from the flooded districts of the city and from the neighboring country, were fed from the relief stores, and it is probable that many days will elapse before the bread line grows shorter.

Throughout the ruined district the work of seeking out and burying the dead is being carried on as expeditiously as possible and every effort is being bent to prevent the outbreak of an epidemic.

Outside assistance, in the form of money and supplies, is pouring in, much coming from foreign countries.

The authorities believe they have the situation well in hand now. The summary execution of looters at the hands of the mob has struck terror into the hearts of the apaches and the criminal element is keeping quiet.

FLYING MAN FALLS.

CAIRO, Egypt, February 2.—Mortimer Singer, the American aviator who has been giving exhibitions here, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured yesterday as the result of the falling of his machine. The aviator was making an ascent when his motor failed and a wing support broke, with the result that machine and man fell. Singer struck the ground heavily and when examined it was seen that both his arms and both his legs had been broken. Internal injuries are also feared.

HIGH LIVING PROBLEM.

WASHINGTON, February 2.—The high cost of living and the excessive prices charged the consumers for meats are to be made the subjects of congressional investigations, if resolutions introduced into the house yesterday are carried.

Congressman Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee, introduced a resolution asking for an investigation by his committee of the excessive cost of living, while Congressman Coudrey asked by resolution for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the beef trust.

MINISTER CALHOUN.

WASHINGTON, February 2.—William J. Calhoun, appointed by President Taft as minister to China, to succeed Charles R. Crane, whose diplomatic career ended before it had begun, is to leave for the Orient and his post of duty early next month. He is boked to sail from San Francisco on the S. S. Mongolia, sailing from San Francisco on March 8.

BROKERS GO BUST.

NEW YORK, February 2.—Fisk & Robinson, prominent brokers, have gone into bankruptcy, with liabilities of over a million dollars, a received being appointed to take charge of the firm's business. Speculation in the stocks and bonds of the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad, and the recent shrinkage in the value of those securities, is responsible for the failure.

NEW SPANISH AMBASSADOR.

MADRID, Spain, February 2.—The transfer of Senor Don de Villalobar, Minister to Lisbon, to be Ambassador to Washington, has been gazetted. He will replace Senor Don Remon Pina, who has been stationed in Washington for some time and who has been recalled.

MINING DISASTER.

DRAKESBORO, Kentucky, February 2.—Thirty-five miners are dead as a result of a gas explosion yesterday in the Browder mine.

REOPENING CHERRY MINE.

CHERRY Illinois, February 2.—The

AT THE THEATERS

The weather was cool and damp last night, many people foregoing the pleasure of the theaters for more cozy corners at home. However, the sailor boys were ashore in large numbers and they took up about all the vacant chairs at the play houses. After the first of the ships of the Pacific fleet have finished coaling, the theaters will likely come in for a very large patronage by the sailors.

THE PARK THEATER.

Monday night the boys from the Pacific fleet almost tore the roof off the Park theater with their cheers, and last night the same things occurred. The program was a good one, the Jackies enjoyed it and they insisted on letting everybody know that fact. May Wallace and Bobby Way, who recently came from the Far East, know how to please the boys in blue, and they kept them in an uproar of laughter and good humor with their funny stunts and special ties. The launching of the "Voltaire" will be the feature film this evening. This will show the process of getting a big ship from the ways into the water. Another good film will be training bulls for the arena. The little Melotte sisters will again appear, and there will be excellent orchestral music.

AT THE EMPIRE.

"An Awakened Conscience," a simple and interesting story picture, will be a feature at the Empire theater this evening. This is one of the finest pieces of monochrome work ever seen in motion picture efforts. The effect is of extremely fine platinum print. "Romeo and Juliet" will be another leader for this evening. The comedies will be: "Spring has come, or Weary Willie gets a job" and "Magie Cartoons." The celebrated baritone "Umberto Tauna," and Eva Alva, song and acrobatic dance artist, will again appear. Harry Weil, a noted pianist from the Orient, will lead in the instrumental stunts.

A new floor has been laid in the Princess rink and the place will be reopened on Thursday evening. A band will be in attendance and the old prices of admission will prevail. Miss Weiner will again appear in fancy skating stunts.

AT THE BONINE.

Mr. Bonine has a number of the choicest selections from abroad for his patrons at the Bonine theater this evening. The expect is working on several new, local films, which will be ready in a few days. Sibly Campbell Reid and L. C. Shreve will again appear in specialties.

AMATEUR NIGHT.

This will be "amateur night" at the popular Art theater, a number of strictly local favorites having been engaged to appear. The best buck and wing dancers of the town will appear in the program. The feature film will be "Walls of Sing Sing." A number of comics will be shown and good music will be the order.

NOT ASKING MUCH.

The multimillionaire was uncertain. "But how do I know you can support my daughter in the manner in which she has been accustomed?" he demanded dubiously.

The imported nobleman smiled blandly. "I will go ze test," he volunteered. "What test?"

"I will lift with you one year and see how she is accustomed and zen I will know what to say."

But just then James, the footman, liberated the $5,000 bulldog.

Cherry mine, which took fire after an explosion on November 13 and which had been sealed up with the dead bodies of a hundred and sixty miners entombed, was reopened yesterday and the work of recovering the bodies for interment has commenced.

DIPHTHERIA—HOW IT MAY BE AVOIDED.

Diphtheria is usually contracted when the child has a cold. The cold prepares the child's system for the reception and development of the diphtheria germs. When there are cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood children that have colds should be kept at home and off the street until recovered. Give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they will not have to remain at home long. It also cleans out the culture beds, which form in a child's throat when it has a cold, and minimizes the risk of contracting infectious diseases. For sale by all dealers. WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1910

Though scientists, especially astronomers, are assuring us that there is nothing in the old superstition that the approach of such a body as Halley's comet may affect earthly affairs, it is not an impossibility that science may, on the other hand, give a sound foundation for the superstition, as it has for some others. It is easily conceivable that the nearness of a comet might produce atmospheric changes, just as it is generally conceded now that the sun spots, or rather the storms by which such spots are made, affect the earth.

The following is an extract from General Woolley's address before a Senate committee on the proposed federal Prohibition law for Hawaii:

"I assert, without any fear that anybody who knows the fact will ever contradict it, that a very large majority of the native people of the Islands will favor this bill or such a bill."

This is what The Star has stated several times in the past two or three years, and, from the Woolley point of view at least, it does not justify his other statement that the people here are not fit for self-government in this matter. He says it would be impossible to get the legislature to submit to the people the question of local option, etc. It is not necessary to get the legislature to do it. The political parties are the ones to do it. In view of the utter route of the liquor interests here in the last legislature, and the passage by a former legislature of the present law, drafted by the anti-liquor campaigners themselves, the following remark of Mr. Woolley's is a strange one: "The (liquor) lobby feels confident of controlling the legislature under the present conditions and it proposes to keep the present condition there."

The liquor lobby is so far from controlling the legislature that it was really without a voice in the House at all. Mr. Woolley's own statement shows that if he had made his fight at the polls here, he thinks he could have won. Here is the place to make it.

CIVILIZATION AND SELFISHNESS.

Commander Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, is not supposed to be a sociologist or authority on religious or philosophical subjects. But he furnishes in his opening chapters of his story of reaching the Pole, as nice a subject for discussion in these fields as could be asked for. Peary pleads for letting the Eskimo alone. He asks that the missionaries refrain from attempting to convert them, and teach them, but instead leave them to live happy in their barbarism and dirt and ignorance, and he climaxes the request with the following vastly suggestive sentence about missionary efforts:

"Such efforts, if successful, would destroy their primitive condition, which is necessary to preserve their existence. Once give them an idea of real estate interest and personal property, rights in houses and food, and they would become as selfish as civilized beings."

Quite a proposition, that, to spring in the middle of a story of Polar adventure and exploration.

SUSPENSION FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, having secured a complete suspension of the coastwise shipping regulations as soon as they hit that port, in the case of the steamer Cleveland, is surely not in a position to oppose Honolulu's request for suspension. San Francisco has set a precedent, and she is a city which benefits the year round from the regulations. They preserve to her the commerce up and down the Pacific coast, centering in her harbor. Yet the minute they threatened to do her an injury, she secured a suspension, for that is what the Cleveland ruling amounts to.

The arrival of the Thetis here again gives Hawaii a good deal of national attention. There is no reason to regard the case of the men she brought here as differing from any other ordinary federal criminal prosecution, but the opportunities for the yellow newspapers are large. The case should take its course through the court without any complications other than those which counsel may raise. As a matter of course the Japanese consul will watch the case. It is one of the things consuls are for.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST HONOLULU

The following from a San Francisco paper of January 24th—the very day when the steamer Cleveland was here and her passengers were notified that they could not land in Honolulu without paying a fine of $200 each—is worth careful reading in view of the complete fulfillment of its every prediction:

"The Hamburg-American liner Cleveland, which has traveled around the world from New York with a party of 700 tourists and is expected to reach San Francisco within the next few days, will be allowed to land her passengers without paying a fine. The shipping laws provide that a fine of $200 must be paid by any foreign ship for every American passenger carried between American ports, and it was feared that the owners of the Cleveland, having carried their party from New York to this port, would have to give the government about $140,000.

"However, the local office of the Hamburg-American line has received word from its New York headquarters that the government has given its assurance that there will be no trouble over the landing of the passengers. If the payment of the fine had been insisted on it is probable that the vessel would have been diverted to Vancouver so as to avoid the impost. This would have meant the loss of much valuable trade to San Francisco—anything from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 it is reckoned.

"Collector of the Port F. S. Stratton did not want to see this money diverted to Canada, and he thought it was unnecessary to insist on the fine. He advised the Department of Commerce and Labor that, according to his view of the law, it was not intended to prevent such cruises as that of the Cleveland, but only to keep foreign steamers out of the American coastwise trade.

"Collector Stratton spoke rather mysteriously about the government's decision this morning. The passengers will be landed here and there will be little trouble," was all he would say. He would not tell how the government had interpreted the section of the law so as to save the Cleveland from paying the tax; in fact he could not admit that it had been definitely decided not to collect the tax."

Commercial News

BY L. D. TIMMONS.

Another batch of Irrigation bonds were sold between boards since yesterday, two of the transactions being a part of the deals previously reported. Three blocks, $75,000, $20,000 and $4000 were sold at $100. The larger one, $75,000, was a sale by the Waterhouse Trust Co. to the Bishop Trust.

Ewa and Oahu were both up and strong this morning. Between boards 30 and 100 shares of the former were sold at $34. On the boards the same was bid for more, but holders had gone up to $34.125. A hundred shares of Oahu changed hands at $34.50, after which, however, $34.75 was bid and $35 asked.

Between boards 100 and 150 shares Onomea changed hands at $55.50. More of the stock was offered at $56.

Oiaa and McBryde both reappeared after a little rest. Of the former 10 and 15 shares sold at $6.50. More was offered at the same, but $6.375 was all bid. Of McBryde 90, 50 and 100 shares sold at $7. The same was bid for more this morning, but holders demanded $7.125.

Side sales were 100 shares Rapid Transit common at $100.50 and 50, 5 and 6 shares O. R. and L. Co. at $145.

MYERS TO HILO.

Zeno K. Myers, of the Hawaiian Trust Company, has been offered the management of a new trust company recently formed at Hilo, and has accepted. The directors of this concern are: C. C. Kennedy, John Watt, John T. Moir, Carl Smith, Dr. Grace, Adam Lindsay, William Pullar, F. S. Lyman and H. V. Patten. It is expected that C. C. Kennedy will be president, Mr. Myers manager and Carl Smith director and legal adviser. Mr. Smith is now in Honolulu and will file the articles of incorporation of the new trust company in a day or two.

Mr. Myers has been a strong working arm of the Hawaiian Trust Company for several years, some of the largest of that company's deals having been put through by him. Many of the larger stock transactions of recent years have been negotiated by him.

SUGAR ADVANCES.

Late yesterday the Waterhouse Trust Company received a cable from Ed. Pollitz & Company stating that sugar had sold in New York at 4.15. This morning an official report came in of sales at 4.155.

PARADE DAY FUNDS.

The finance committee on floral parade is sending out the following self-explanatory letter:

"Dear Sir:—Please inform us, on enclosed postal, the amount you will place in the fund for our 1910 Floral Parade.

"By this means we are reaching about 1000 citizens and if each will pledge a moderate sum there will be a total ample for all necessary expenses.

"The usual method of providing money for Honolulu's big holiday has been to circulate a few subscription lists, reaching a very small number of people. The system used this time contemplates aid from practically all thus making the event a community enterprise or institution in fact as well as in name.

"We trust that you will respond promptly and make your portion as liberal as your interest may be in the pleasure and usefulness of the day.

"The day's program given by the Floral Parade committee is for the entertainment of everyone living in and visiting Honolulu.

were taken aboard peacefully. They had no weapons. At Lisiansky, as at Laysan, it took us nearly two days to get the plumage aboard by means of boats.

"Pearl and Hermes reef was next on the itinerary, westward again, but there we found no trace of human habitation.

"There were many large birds to be seen and some seals which were inclined to be fierce in their behavior. We saw no indication of there having been any deprivations there, we continued westward to Midway Island.

"Midway is not in what is known as the Hawaiian reservation, but we went there to deliver mail and to communicate with Washington by cable. Then, still westward, we moved to Ocean Island, the westernmost of the Hawaiian reservation and anchored off the reef.

"On our return we again stopped at Midway Island to pick up mail for Honolulu and beyond, from the cable people, and then, to assure myself that the bird skins left behind had been destroyed by the elements, we stopped again at Laysan Island on the homeward run, finding that the exposed plumage had deteriorated and was of no value.

"Then we steered our course for Myro and Dowsett reef, but there found no land above water, though there were a few birds hovering about in spite of the fact that there was no land for rookeries.

"Eastward then we made our passage to French Frigate Shoals and sent a boat to the main islet of the shoals. There were many birds, but no landing. It is not possible to land there except in summer time.

"Thence we headed for Honolulu, and here we are!

"No, the Japanese arrested carried no documents or permits purporting to come from the Japanese government; they were permits or authorities from private parties, from a Japanese company.

"I am not at liberty to state, in answer to your question, whether or not any local man is involved. Yes, we have had some pretty rough weather; nasty weather. Yesterday we were chased by a gale, when we went about ten knots—with the gale behind us.

"Nothing was sighted on the trip. There were two pulling boats at Laysan and two at Lisiansky, where we arrested the Japanese, but we saw no others.

"We were informed by the Japanese that they had been taken to the islands by a Japanese schooner, the Tempou Maru. Six men were left on Laysan in April of last year and nine were left there in August of last year. The men found on Lisiansky were left there last August. They all expected to be picked up and returned to Japan about April of this year.

"They told us that they killed the birds with sticks, sometimes catching them with nets. One method of killing is to strike the head of the bird on the sand.

"We have 259,000 wings on board and about two and a quarter tons of loose feathers.

PRIZES FOR THE MARATHON RACE

Nigel Jackson was around all of yesterday hustling up prizes for the Haleiwa Marathon, and last night reported excellent progress. Although the merchants of the city were hit pretty heavy last year for prizes and contributions, they seem to take kindly to the big Marathon idea. The prizes secured are not expensive, but will be numerous in order that every man making the distance will be rewarded in some way.

The intention had been to hold a meeting last night and talk further over the plans; but it was deemed best to wait until success in the matter of prizes is fully assured.

Jackson claims that forty-five runners have expressed a desire to make the race, but it is not likely that anything like that number will try it.

DIAMOND HEADS FINISH BUSINESS

The Diamond Head Athletic Club held a meeting in the Odd Fellows building last night and finished up a large lot of routine business. The attendance was quite complete. President L. Petrie was in the chair and J. K. Clarke officiated as secretary.

Extraordinary matters taken up was a letter from the floral parade committee, inviting the club to put a float into the big affair of February 22. Something comical was suggested. The matter was fully discussed but was objected to on the ground of the large expense. Everyone present expressed a desire to assist the parade program in any and every way, but did not feel that the treasury of the club would stand the outlay.

A proposal of Prof. Baron to have the club rent a portion of the Aloha boat house, now occupied by him, for club purposes was also turned down, although the proposition seemed desirable in several respects. The members of the club felt, that as most of them belonged to one or the other of the boat clubs the move would mean too large extra expense for the benefits to be derived.

The reports showed the club to be in fine shape in every way and the members are very enthusiastic as to the future.

IMPORTANT GOLF MEETING TODAY

A meeting of the greens committee of the Honolulu Golf Club is being held in the offices of S. G. Wilder, Judd building, this afternoon at which highly important business affecting the club and the sport will be transacted. Among other things, a schedule of games will be made out and plans for the new season adopted.

The sand brought from Midway Islands as ballast by the schooner Fluorence Ward has been acquired by the club and will be used to good purpose on the links. In a couple of weeks (barring further heavy rains) the grounds will be in fine condition.

The rains of the past several weeks has played havoc with golf and upset all plans. The links at the Country Club and Moanalua have been rendered useless, and Halielwa has been little better a part of the time.

PREPARING NEXT SURFING PROGRAM

The surfing program to be offered the next Cleveland party less than two weeks hence will be far more elaborate than the one attempted for the crowd coming via the Orient. The experiences of the former attempt taught the participants a number of things, and the next time they will be prepared for the real business.

Mr. Ford is in charge of the program and is working it up in such way that it cannot be a failure. He is being ably assisted by the members of the Outrigger Club, who are better prepared than ever for a showy series of events.

As before, the contests will be for the Clark cups. Other prizes will also be put up with a view to making the events the more exciting.

It is stated that Mons. L. P. Bonville, who is here representing Pathe Freres, the famous French motion picture company, is deeply interested in the subject of surfing and will take a number of films for display in foreign lands. He will take pictures on ordinary occasions and also on the day of the special program for the Clevelanders. The Outrigger Club will have the use of these pictures for a while before they are taken away.

OTHER GAMES IN HANDBALL SERIES

Another game in the match handball series was played off at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, and it was a good one from start to finish. The contest was between Cushingham and Ewaliko, and resulted in a score of 45 for the former to 42 for the latter. It is plain from the score that the battle was a good one.

This afternoon, beginning at four o'clock, there will be two games played off, and both of them promise to be fast and furious. The first will be between Fook On and St. John, and the second between Sing Hong and M. G. Johnston. All of these players are veterans and they may be depended upon to play the game to the limit.

Dr. Hand requests it stated that the public is cordially invited to witness the contests this afternoon, as well as the remaining matches of the series.

SCHOOL TEACHER AFTER WRIGHTS

The San Francisco Examiner of January 23 says:

A conference will it is expected, be held today between Glen R. Curtiss, the aviator, Professor John J. Montgomery of Santa Clara College and Raymond R. Blackeslee, a New York attorney representing Curtiss in injunction proceedings which the latter is contemplating against the Wright brothers. It is believed by Curtiss and Blackeslee that Montgomery's patent for curved planes for airships antedate all other patents and that the original "bird man" was a Californian.

It is understood that Montgomery would have taken no action at this time to establish his claim to priority of invention except for the fact that the Wrights had enjoined Curtiss about six months ago. Montgomery discovered a method of rectifying an alternating electric current by means of a simple device, and since then he has been occupied in perfecting his contrivance to the exclusion of other work.

One who is acquainted with Professor Montgomery's discoveries said yesterday:

"The Wright brothers, with all others who have succeeded in navigating the air, use in the construction of their heavier-than-air contrivances the wadded and curved wing surface. These two formations were perfected by Professor Montgomery and most of the ingenious devices by which the

THE YACHT CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Hawaii Yacht Club will be held in the McCandless building on the evening of February 4 at 7 o'clock. Reports will be read and officers for the ensuing period elected. The meeting should be quite interesting, as the members have not had an opportunity of touching shoulders in some time.

On the evening of February 10 the annual banquet of the club will be given at the Young Hotel. All members and a number of invited guests will be present.

proportions were maintained were secured by United States patents.

"The whole structure of the plane is planned after that of the wing of a bird and the curve by which the equilibrium is maintained or secured is the result of years of investigation and experiment by which the correct curve ratios were obtained.

"It is explained by Professor Montgomery that the beginner in aviation starts with a flat-surface wing, believing it to be the correct solution, but soon finds a curve necessary. Then it becomes incumbent on the experimenter to find the nature or curve necessary and eventually he arrives at the conclusion that a copy of the wing of the bird is the proper solution.

"This is the parabolic curve and Professor Montgomery's invention is covered by his patents and the only successful shape so far used."

CHESS PLAYERS PAU TPURNAMENT.

The chess tournament at the Y. M. C. A. came to an end Monday night, after quite an enjoyable and interesting season of it. The tournament has done a great deal to awaken interest in this popular game, and it will undoubtedly be followed by others.

J. W. White won the championship, having a perfect score. Bunched close together were D. J. Whitney, E. E. Dessar and J. D. Hill for second place. Another group, bunched likewise, was made up of Robert Anderson, W. G. Hall and C. H. Medcalf. Below those the men forfeited one or more games, putting them out of the contest. The standing of the respective players was as follows: White, 10-0; Whitney, 8½-1½; Dessar, 8-2; Hill, 7-3; Anderson, 6-4; Hall, 5-5; Medcalf, 4½; Blanchard, 3-7; Ingalls, 2-8; McGarvey, 1-9; Barnhart, 0-10.

There were fifty-five games altogether, each man having played each other man once. Each game won counted one, and each tie game a half of one point for each player.

The winner of the championship will have his name engraved upon the prize cup and also receives the special Y. M. C. A. watch fob prize.

ARTHUR BALFOUR MENTALLY COLLAPSED, SAYS W. T. STEAD

A. J. Balfour

By William T. Stead in the Examiner.

LONDON, January 22.—Apart from the result of the polling the most outstanding features of the general election has been the evidence it has afforded of the intellectual collapse of Mr. Balfour. It is little short of a national disaster.

In America one party remains in power so many years in succession that the party in office ceases to regard the maintenance of a high standard of the leaders of the other side as a matter of national importance. But in Britain this is not so. It is regarded as almost a normal rule that every six or seven years the Government and the opposition must change places. The leader of the opposition becomes prime minister with the destinies of the empire in his hands. Hence it is a matter only second in importance to the maintenance of your own leaders in a high state of efficiency to see to it that the leaders of the opposition are fit and proper persons to be entrusted with the welfare of the realm.

Until this election we have fondly believed that although the wit of the leaders of the opposition is miserably second rate, we had in Mr. Balfour a statesman of the first rank.

FAITH IN BALFOUR SHATTERED.

That faith has been shattered by the melancholy spectacle which he has afforded us by his speeches during the campaign. They have been lamentably lacking in every respect. They have shown neither courage nor eloquence. They have shown an almost inconceivable incapacity to expound a definite policy to explain his own position or even to rouse his own followers to enthusiasm. A distinguished publicist who was lamenting this only too obvious fact today remarked that the only explanation that he could suggest was that the constantly recurring attacks of influenza, to which Mr. Balfour is subject, had at last affected injuriously the gray matter of his brain.

Mr. Balfour has not faced a single vital question. He has left the country entirely in the dark as to the policy he would pursue if he were returned to power. And on the one serious danger which threatens England abroad he has spoken in such a way as to increase the menace without affording the nation any clear guidance as to how he would strengthen it against its possible foes.

CRITICISM OF MINISTERS.

Mr. Balfour's reference to a possible war between Germany and England has excited the liveliest feeling of resentment and alarm in Germany, feelings which might find disagreeable vent if the electors had made him once more first minister of the crown. Carping criticism of ministers who have faced the dissatisfaction of their most active supporters in order to maintain the supremacy of the fleet, have been relieved by no clear declaration of his determination to support them if they decided to adopt the standard of two keels to one.

He has repeated fantastical nonsense about Germany being determined to set a policy of tariff reform, and while insisting upon the need for ships he actively supported the Lords in depriving the government of means to pay for them. Such heedless rhetoric; such unworthy recrimination! Such inflammatory alarmists are scandalous in a man who has been once and who aspires to be again first minister of the crown.

GERMANY NOT WORRYING.

The Germans are not worrying their heads much about the English. They keep on sawing wood. But they are mightily worried concerning the American tariff, and they are beginning to

MARVELS OF OCEAN STEAMERS OVER THREE TIMES AS LARGE AS THE MANCHURIA

London, January 22.—Great strides are being made at Harland & Wolff's shipyards, Belfast, in the construction of the two White Star leviathans—Olympic and Titanic, which are to surpass in tonnage and size the Mauretania and her sister ship, the Lusitania. The Olympic will be ready for launching in August and the Titanic at the end of next year. The following are the dimensions of each vessel compared with other gigantic liners:

Table with columns: Ship Name, Length, Tonnage, in Feet. Rows include Olympic, Titanic, Mauretania, Lusitania, Adriatic, Baltic.

The new vessels are not to be built for speed, but for the comfort and convenience of passengers. Each ship will be able to carry 5,000 persons, and the crew of each will number 600.

There will be a swimming bath sufficiently deep to permit of diving, and the cabins are to have private shower and slipper baths. Other features will be a large gymnasium and playrooms, decorated with panels representing be worried about Mr. Knox's proposal to internationalize the Manchurian Railway. There seems to be every prospect of a severe tariff war between Germany and the United States. The German agrarians who pocketed $8 in increased prices upon their agricultural produce for each single dollar levied upon American foodstuffs, refuse absolutely to allow German manufacturers to purchase admission to the American market by a reduction on German duties on American meat. It is a very pretty quarrel, and if it should lead to a prolonged tariff war between the two protective countries, free-trade England will find much profit and many valuable lessons in watching the strategy, which consists in cutting off your nose to spite your face.

fairy tales and popular fables. An extensive ballroom and a large skating rink will be provided.

The principal dining room will seat 600. Another will be a replica of the Cheshire Cheese chophouse. Gardens with cool avenues of Oriental palms are to occupy a prominent position in these leviathans.

MASTER PROTECTS FIVE MINORS

A master's report has been filed on the first account of David Dayton, guardian of the five Kahookano minors, by John Marcellino, who finds the account correct excepting in the items of commissions. The guardian charges himself with $2225.25 and asks to be allowed $1981.73.
 A list of I O U's, notes and mortgages ranging in amount from $2 to $100 is given as having become outlawed during the period covered by the amount, on which the master comments: "If the guardian can convince this court that he has made sufficient efforts to collect the foregoing debts due the estate they should be allowed, otherwise the guardian should be surcharged with these amounts." The total is $241.
 Another criticism is upon the failure of the guardian to invest the cash on hand, the master saying it could at least have been deposited in a savings bank where it would have drawn interest. He says he will not recommend that the guardian be surcharged with interest on the uninvested funds, but does recommend that the guardian be allowed only $50 commissions for his services and surcharged with $107.50, the balance of the commissions found due to the guardian.
 The period of the account is from July 25, 1901, to Dec. 31, 1909.

NOT TOO RAINY.
 To the strangers who have been here during the past few weeks it appears that Honolulu is a very moist place; the weather reminding them somewhat of that experienced by Portland folk. Down at Haleiwa, which is really a very delightful place, the rainfall is considerably less than in the city and the temperature is higher. It is a pleasant place to stop for a day or a week and being within a short ride of the city by auto, or train it has all of the conveniences of a city hotel. Post office and telephone on the premises.
