

PARROTS ON MAUI BEGIN OVER AGAIN

LOOK PRETTY BUT MAY PROVE UNDESIRABLE.

Foresters Consider Them Menaces. Grosbeaks Will Have to Fight Against Hawks on Hawaii.

Those who have lamented the lack of birds of brilliant plumage such as are usually considered, in all well accredited story books, as the proper attributes of the tropics, are likely to find their desires appeased by a visit to Maui, where if the birds let loose on the slopes of Haleakala proper, there will soon be a numerous and noisy progeny of green parakeets or paroquets as they are often more stylishly spelled, which have lately been let loose by somebody who evidently thought that they would look pretty flying through the trees. The parakeets were observed by naturalist R. C. L. Perkins so that there is but little hope of their having been a mistake made in their identity.

The parakeet has long been kept from our shores by a rigid rule prohibiting the parrot tribe from investing and infesting these islands. Love birds, another species of parrot and other cage birds of this family have only been allowed to land when the officers have been satisfied that there was no intention of using them for breeding purposes.

The parakeet has a wedge shaped tail and the variety known as the Carolina parakeet was not so very long ago plentiful in Florida from which it has now been practically exterminated although the bird at one time flourished to the Great Lakes of North America. Parrots are generally classed by naturalists as being found in "all warm countries," but hitherto they have not populated Hawaii. In Australia, even close to the cities, they are numerous, flying in vast flocks and defending passers through the forests with their shrill and discordant cries.

They feed mostly on fruit and are accounted a menace to forestry. They are not insectivorous and in the plan of Nature seem to belong to the destroyers class of those animals that eat the fruits of the earth without destroying their enemies, unlike other birds, which, while they fancy ripe fruit once in a while, take it only by way of dessert to their regular meal of fat caterpillars and other insects.

While the grobeaks, in their favor, there is every probability of Maui being soon burdened with parakeets, which while they may look pretty will soon prove nuisances in more ways than one unless measures are promptly taken for their extermination.

Eben Low who has received the Virginian grosbeaks on the Sierra and will introduce them in Hawaii as assistant insect destroyers, is afraid of the hawks that are quite common in the big island and who have the small birds and even chickens with a persistence that is discouraging to any newly introduced bird struggling to get along and rear a family in a fresh habitat.

However the grosbeaks and their ancestors probably can tell a "hawk from a hand saw" by virtue of their States experience and, it is trusted will circumvent the wiles of the sky pirates. The grosbeaks are members of the finch family of which the well known cardinal bird, familiarized by the story of "A Kentucky Cardinal" is a close relative. They are considered very useful in getting after crawling and creeping things although they will not affect the borers.

LOOKING FOR A SHAW. The relatives of A. Shaw, a young man who was employed as an illustrator on a local publication in 1899, are making inquiries for him. Shipping Commissioner Boyd has been asked to secure trace of Shaw. The last seen of Shaw was about the time of the opening of the Waiakoa hotel in 1899. He disappeared completely as if swallowed by the earth.

KAMALO PLAINTIFFS HAVE A BAD DAY.

Judge Humphreys Holds Himself Disqualified—New Trial Altogether, Before Judge Little.

A ruling given this morning by Judge Humphreys, if sustained, will force the attorneys for defendants in the famous Kamalo sugar case, Hitchcock et al, vs Frank Hueste et al, to begin the entire proceedings over again. The case came up this morning after having been remanded by the Supreme court to the first circuit court for the taking of further testimony. Judge Humphreys, after hearing argument declined to take jurisdiction. The attorneys for the plaintiffs will ask the Supreme court to issue a writ of mandamus to compel the judge to hear the case.

When the case was called Attorneys McCants Stewart, F. M. Hatch, J. Alfred Magoon, A. G. M. Robertson, F. W. Hankey and E. B. McClannahan were present, representing the various parties interested. The question of whether Judge Humphreys, having heard the original trial, should sit again after the case had been remanded, was raised at once. All the lawyers present talked on the subject. McClannahan, Hankey and Robertson contending that a new judge ought to hear the case and Magoon, Hatch and Stewart that Humphreys should proceed. It was argued by the plaintiffs' counsel that the case itself had never been really heard on appeal, the Supreme court, without hearing the merits of the case, having granted a preliminary motion, ordering the lower court to receive further evidence on a certain point. The attorneys pointed out that a new judge could not hear this additional evidence alone, but would have to take up all the case.

Judge Humphreys held that under section 84 of the Organic Act he was disqualified. The section declares that no judge shall sit on appeal, or new trial, in any case in which he may have given a previous judgment. While holding that a new trial of the Kamalo case had not been ordered, technically speaking, the court said that the new proceedings would be virtually a retrial, the court stated that the decision had been reversed and that a new one would have to be found. "It may be that the Supreme court thought that as a matter of convenience and economy the case had better be heard by the first judge," said the court, "but it does not appear that the matter was specially considered, or that the Supreme court's attention was called to section 84 of the Organic Act. Under the decision it may not be necessary to hear the entire case again, but evidence is ordered taken on vital points which I have before decided. A new trial is virtually awarded. The parties, either plaintiff or defendant, should not be embarrassed by being compelled to bring their case before a judge who has already rendered decisions as to the issues. I do not believe I have jurisdiction and I decline to proceed further in the matter."

The plaintiffs' attorneys at once began proceedings to bring the matter before the higher court. If a new judge is to hear the remanded case, it will have to begin all over again, as the judge will have to sign a new decree. If Humphreys hears the case he is in a position to decide after hearing simply the new evidence which was ordered taken.

Judge Gear is disqualified, having been a member of the firm of Davis and Gear when the suit was brought, the firm appearing for plaintiffs. If the Supreme court holds with Judge Humphreys, and refuses to mandamus him to hear the case, Judge Little will probably be sent for to sit in the matter.

WATERS OF KOOLAU SIMPLY AWAITING CONSERVATION AND USE.

Ditches Would Utilize a Great Deal of It. While a Reservoir System Would Greatly Augment It.

W. O. Aiken of Hamakua, who accompanied Land Commissioner Boyd on most of the latter's tour of Maui, speaks in the most enthusiastic terms of the possibilities of water supply in the Koolau district of Maui.

The Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company, he says has a lease of water rights through Hamakua and has a ditch which collects these waters and carries them to the plantation. This ditch extends as far east as Honomani gulch. Between Honomani gulch and Nahiku, Mr. Aiken says there is a more abundant and perennial supply of water than the region under lease to the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company. All it requires to utilize it is a ditch to carry it to where it is needed. The Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company's ditch carries the water so that it can be utilized on all lands up to an elevation of 3,000 feet. This water supply could be greatly augmented by an extension of this ditch through the Koolau region. The waters of Koolau could be utilized to irrigate lands higher than 500 feet, but to do so would require that the ditch be carried at a higher level and be extended through Hamakua paralleling the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company's ditch. The rains are so constant in this region that ditches alone would conserve an immense supply. This of course could be greatly augmented by a system reserved whenever the development of the tributary region would warrant the expense of such a system.

Mr. Aiken says that Boyd's tour of Maui was very thorough and complete, and made more graphic than maps and reports, the immense amount of government land there is on the island of Maui.

A NEW LINE COMING

AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN STARTS IN JANUARY.

Will Inaugurate a Local Run Between San Francisco and Honolulu and Kailua Next Month.

On or about January 4, the local service of the American-Hawaiian steamship company will be inaugurated. The steamship Hyades has been specially chartered by the company and will be dispatched from San Francisco on or about that date. She will arrive here the morning of January 13. It is the intention of the company to run the Hyades but a couple of months, however, as they will then have their own vessels to put on the run.

Some time ago when the idea for establishing a steamship freight run between these islands and San Francisco was broached, the steamship people agreed to inaugurate the service by the first of 1902. Two vessels, the Nevada and Nebraska, vessels of 5,000 tons capacity each, were under construction especially for this service. Owing to the big strike of the steel workers and ship builders in the United States this year, it was found impossible to complete these vessels in time for the service between Hawaii, San Francisco and back again to San Francisco. With the advent of the new boats, the Hyades will be withdrawn and the service increased to semi-monthly. It is planned to later take in Hilo. The new boats have been specially constructed with a view to island trade and will have facilities for handling live stock. Ample sugar contracts have been made already by the company. The vessels have been fitted with cold storage apparatus.

E. Morse the general freight agent of the company, was sending out circulars today to the various express houses and shipping firms of the Territory announcing the inauguration of the service. He says that the new boats are expected to be in commission by April 1. They will make the trip from San Francisco in eight days.

KALUA A GOOD THING FOR DEFENDANTS TRIED BEFORE HIM.

Only One Conviction at His Last Term of Court—In Other Cases Juries Instructed to Acquit.

The Second Circuit Court, presided over by Judge Kalua, of Maui, is piling up what is asserted to be a very queer judicial record, and complaints of Maui citizens, as well as of Honoluluans, are plentiful. At the term just ended Judge Kalua succeeded in arousing great indignation among some jurors and in causing a disgusted Assistant Attorney General to nolle pro in favor of Kamaka, against whom were four charges of a most infamous crime. The only convictions were on pleas of guilty.

Judge Kalua set aside one verdict on the ground that the jurors had reached their decision under influence of improper motives. A motion for a new trial was granted on this ground and the jurors expressed themselves about it very freely. The case was that of Achew, found guilty of selling liquor without a license. When they found themselves declared from the bench to have been influenced by improper motives, some of the jurors swore that they would never sit before Kalua again, claiming that there was no evidence to support such a ruling.

Kamaka against whom were four charges of a most infamous crime, was found in the place where he was declared to be plying the criminal vocation, at about 2 o'clock one morning. He was actually caught by C. B. Olsen, manager of the Lahaina store. In Olsen's house, though he escaped physical detention at that time by jumping out of a window. Judge Kalua instructed the jury to acquit on the motion of Panui's attorney on the ground that it had not been proved he was in the house with the intention of stealing.

Judge Kalua is declared to have said on the Lahaina wharf, after the term of court was over that the Japanese who pleaded guilty had made a fool of himself by doing so, as, if he had pleaded not guilty, he would have got off.

It is said by people in attendance at the court that the reason for Judge Kalua's conduct about which there is so much talk and criticism, is that he felt his dignity offended because the Attorney General had not sent an older practitioner to represent the government in the prosecution of the cases on the criminal calendar.

When the evidence against Kamaka was all ruled out and his four cases had been nolle pro, the court discharged him, at the same time telling him not to commit his crime of incest again.

Ah Choy et al., charged with gambling, the jury was instructed to bring in a verdict for the defendants. All in all six cases went to the jury and three were taken out of the juror's hands by the court. The only defendants sentenced during the term were men who pleaded guilty, and as to one of these the court is quoted as saying that the man was foolish to plead guilty and that if he had pleaded not guilty he would have got off.

"After all," remarked a lawyer familiar with the Maui court, "it is not so surprising that George Davis was driven to drink at Wailuku."

TWO FIRES TODAY. The fire department was called out about 12:45 a. m. today to extinguish a small fire in the basement of the Coyne Furniture Company in the Progress block. Considerable water had to be put into the cellar to smother the fire which could not be exactly located on account of the smoke. It is thought either a discarded cigarette or crossed electric wires caused the fire. The damage is not known.

A red hot rivet set fire to the floor in the boiler department of the Honolulu Iron works this morning about 6 o'clock. The department put out the fire. The loss was nominal.

DIVORCE WANTED. Alexandra Fernandez has brought suit for divorce from Manuel Fernandez on the ground of failure to provide. The couple were married in August, 1887.

KONA ROAD'S ROUTE BUST OF KALAKAUA

ALL PRELIMINARY SURVEYS COMPLETED.

Work of Final Location Will Begin at Once—Terminal Harbor as Yet Undecided—Plantations Reached.

By the Mauna Loa next Friday W. A. Wall accompanied by A. J. Storm and Jacob Cooper will leave for the Kona coast of Hawaii and the work of making the final location for the line of the Kona-Kauai railroad will be begun. All the preliminary surveys have been made and exact maps of several hundred miles of the line showing the contour of the country have been prepared. This line begins in North Kona and runs through that district, South Kona and Kauai to Pahala. In a general way the line of the road is proposed to be run somewhere near the 1400 feet elevation. This will carry it through the part of Kona which has already a comparatively dense population which it is estimated will furnish from the very start a large passenger traffic. This is also the part of the country capable of the most development.

The proposed line will not encounter any lava flows until Kauai is reached. The existing plantations the road will reach are the Kona Sugar Company for which M. W. McChesney & Sons are agents; the South Kona Agricultural Company hardly an existing plantation as yet, but upon which some development has been done; Hutchinson Plantation with its mills at Honou and Nahahe; and the Hawaiian Agricultural Company with its mill at Pahala.

At just what points or landings the road will reach the sea has not yet been finally decided upon. The final determination will depend somewhat on the final surveys now to be made, and the final location of the line of the road. The surveys and work now to be undertaken will include the final location of the road bed and the driving of stakes to guide the contractors in construction. This work will include the driving of six stakes each at points twenty-five feet apart along the entire length of the road. These stakes will show the center of the roadbed, the sides of the roadbed and the cut or fill to be made.

The surveys already made include a line run along a proposed elevation with survey stations every hundred feet with contour lines along every ten feet elevation above and below this line for fifty feet on each side. The maps already made show all of this work. The right of way for the line now to be located has practically all been secured. The failure of the legislature to pass the act asked for, in cases where the corporation affected it only to the extent that it has not the right of eminent domain and cannot condemn private property for its own use. The right of way therefore must be secured by negotiation with the owners of the land over which the road will run. This, it is said, has all been practically done, so that no hindrances are anticipated in this direction.

The corporation is now fully organized with the following officers: Carl Cooper, president; Jacob Cooper, vice-president; Charles T. Wilder, secretary; Harry Armitage, treasurer. These with W. G. Cooper and Gardner K. Wilder constitute the board of directors.

MUST SHIP CREWS TOGETHER. Shipping Commissioner Boyd has adopted a rule requiring, in cases where a new crew is desired, that all of the men be shipped at the same time. He says it is a very annoying both to him and the masters of vessels, to ship sailors one at a time, only to have the men desert by the time the entire crew has been secured. In cases where only a few men are desired, this rule does not, of course, apply. Frank Turk has about secured a crew for the ship Ioukou which will probably leave tomorrow for San Francisco.

LOOKING FOR NIPPON MARU. The local agents of the Japanese steamship company are looking for the Nippon Maru to arrive this afternoon from San Francisco as usual. When that vessel was in port last month, her officers said that orders have been issued from the head office in Japan, to reduce the running time in future and arrive here on the morning of schedule time, instead of the afternoon before. Inasmuch as the local agents were not officially apprised of this order, it is possible that it will not go into effect with the Nippon Maru.

TAX ASSESSMENTS. The Board of Equalization met yesterday with Treasurer Wright. Another meeting will be held on March 3, by which time all taxation reports will be in, and assessments will then be made.

HAWAII'S LAST MONUMENT FUND RAISING.

Movement to Raise $10,000 Brought $1,800—A Bust Without a Home of Its Own.

In the rooms of the Kiloohana Art League is a bronze bust of the late King Kalakaua, which was the result of the last effort in raising funds for a monument in Hawaii, by small subscriptions. The movement, which has been recalled by the effort now being made to secure funds for a McKinley memorial, ended in failure in spite of earnest efforts, and the final result, a bronze bust instead of a $10,000 monument, is without even a home of its own.

In 1891 the movement to get a Kalakaua monument was begun with Mark P. Robinson as treasurer. This was shortly after the death of the King, and it was thought that $10,000 would be raised in subscriptions of $1 each. Receipts were printed and certificates gotten up, to be supplied to those who made donations. There was diligent work throughout the Islands, but somehow or other the subscriptions did not mount very high. After $1,800 had been raised, the original project was abandoned, and it was decided that the money on hand should be used for a bust of the late king.

"The bust was offered to the executive, to be given a niche in the capitol building," said Mark P. Robinson, "but we never got any reply to our offer. The Kiloohana Art League had a place for the bust, and it was put in the league's rooms, where it remains today." It is thought that the smallness of the subscriptions in the Kalakaua monument case was largely the reason for the failure to get money enough. The fact that 1,800 people made subscriptions showed a good deal of interest in the project.

MAUI'S NARROW ESCAPE. Had to Cut Cable to Get Out of Papeaia.

The steamer Maui had quite an exciting experience at Papeaia last Wednesday. In addition to one of the sailors being drowned while trying to swim ashore with a line, the vessel narrowly escaped going onto the rocks herself.

There is a long cable running which is attached to the vessels and used for hauling freight to and from the boats. This cable was attached to the Maui as usual. Toward the latter part of her stay at Papeaia, the weather freshened up considerably and the stern lines parted. This swung the steamer around. Captain Bennett saw that there was danger of his boat being swept onto the rocks if he did not move further out to sea, so the crew was ordered to get loose from the cable. They were unable to execute this order though, and finally the cable had to be cut before the boat could be gotten loose and headed for a safer anchorage.

KINAU SAILED TODAY. The steamer Kinau sailed shortly after noon today for Hilo and way ports. She took a good sized load of freight and a number of passengers. Weller, Prince David's creek race horse, was sent over to be prepared for the coming races at Hilo. With the rough southerly weather now blowing, it is expected that the trip will be quite rough.

AN OLD JOKE

The Home Rulers are playing the same game this December that they did last. The same stories of agreement and of friendly talks to the party are being circulated, and the same story of the preparations and discussion of bills which will go through the Legislature without discussion is being repeated.

One has only to look at the record of last Legislature and the history of the two months previous to it to realize what the Home Rule party cannot do. Last year one was disposed to take the Home Rule party seriously.

The realization was a revelation. Those who had taken the party most seriously, first felt anger, then slight annoyance, and lastly joined in the chorus of laughter which echoed from Ka Lae to Napali.

POSSIBILITIES

From various parts of the Islands and from all classes of thought comes the protest against restricting the sugar areas of the Islands. The unbaked theorists of Honolulu have few supporters outside of the city, because those outside the city know where the wealth of the country lies and know the only way in which it can be exploited.

The whole fabric of this Territory rests upon sugar now, as it rested upon whale oil and bone forty to fifty years ago. Take away the sugar industry upon a large scale and the whole fabric will come tumbling down.

Take away the sugar industry and there would be the need for the import of such quantities of hay and grain which come down shipload by shipload, gathered from the farms of California and Washington and Oregon.

And where would the small farmer be. At the present time, as long as sugar prosperity lasts, the small farmer finds a comfortable niche for himself, and The Star has always advocated that it was necessary that there should be more small farms, though there are quite a number now.

It is the same with the homesteads of Hamakua. They exist and are fairly successful because they have their market close to them in the plantations of the lower belt. Not only have they a market for their product, but they have a market for their labor. Many a Hamakua homesteader leaves his homestead to the care of his wife and his children, while he himself, goes to the plantations to earn liberal wages, which he sends, and which enable him to improve the condition of his homestead.

There is a great deal of difference between the man who knows practically, and the man who knows theoretically. It is some satisfaction to see that the men who know practically realize that the sugar plantations are the life blood of the Territory. It is purely a question of economics. The best use possible should be made of the land. If the best use possible were small farms, The Star would advocate that policy, but it is not the best use possible and experience has shown us this fact.

THE POST OFFICE

The increase of postal facilities throughout the world is remarkable. When one looks back even during one's own life-time the improvement is wonderful. When one goes back into history it is startling. There was a time during the century just closed, when people could not afford to pay for letters, but used just to look at the envelope, know that the correspondent was alive and return it to the post man.

The annual report of the First Assistant Postmaster-General which is quoted in Bradstreet's gives some interesting facts and figures relative to the advancement made in our postal system during the last five years.

It appears from this report that since 1896 the presidential post offices have increased in number from 3,651 to 4,489, or 23 per cent.; the salaries of postmasters have increased from $16,908,384.35 to $19,949,515, or 18 per cent.; the carriers have increased in number from 12,834 to 16,389, or 28 per cent.; the cost of the service has grown from $12,713,861 to $15,752,600, or 24 per cent., and the gross receipts at free delivery offices have increased from $52,567,604 to $74,295,394, or 41 per cent.

Within the period mentioned also the rural free delivery service has been established. The carrier force in this branch of the service numbered 4,301 men on June 1 last, and by December will comprise 6,000 men, who will deliver mail daily to 4,000,000 people. In the same period, also, the transactions of the money-order branch of the service increased from $188,071,956.27 to $294,618,680.59, or 56 per cent., and similar records of advance are disclosed by the statistics of other departments of the service.

But however satisfactory the work on the mainland has been, the postal arrangements on the Islands have been much out of gear. This is chiefly caused by necessary changes and the establishment of rules which are not fully understood by the people of the Territory. Then again, distribution into boxes is slower than it used to be and this is especially true of newspaper mail, which in an isolated community like this is some times highly important. But all will come right in time.

PROFIT SHARING IN BUSINESS.

According to the view of the Washington Post anything like a general system of profit sharing is utterly impracticable. If all great industrial enterprises could be safely relied upon to yield a certain percentage of profit every year it might be practicable to divide it between the owners and their workmen. But that would not be the best plan. An increase of wages so as to make a fair division of profits between labor and capital would best meet the just demands of so happy a situation.

If, as is always the case in a great manufacturing establishment, some men render service of exceptional value it were better to pay them accordingly than to hold out the hope of a gift. Let such men be their own bankers. But there is no absolute certainty of continuous success in any business. Hard times follow good times. Large profits are succeeded by small profits, and the latter dwindle until losses show up. Many a corporation has carried on a business for months, and even years, without making a cent, and that experience must, in the nature of things, be repeated.

Every wage worker has a right to as high wages as he can get, and there his pecuniary claim ends. No man who is not bound and able to meet his share of losses has any right or reason to expect a share of profits. Only those who respond to assessments can be permitted to take dividends.

Polo seems to have taken full hold upon our sporting enthusiasts, and games are very popular with the spectators, who crowd to see them. There is probably more variety and dash to a polo match than to any other form of athletic amusement.

The Circuit Court has taken a well earned vacation. Of course this applies to jury men and officials about the court. The judges have both enjoyed well earned vacations during past year. When there is a third circuit judge the well earned vacations of the judge can be considerably lengthened. The Star congratulates the court officials and the interpreters.

SECRETS WRESTED
from nature. Nature's most valuable things where they are hard to get at. She concealed the Kimberly diamonds in solid rock. Petroleum, now used all over the world for heating and lighting and many other purposes, was discovered hundreds of feet under the surface of the soil. Ages went by before men found, and were able to mine, coal in sufficient quantities to take the place of wood as fuel; and electricity as an available help to us in living, is barely more than half a century old. Among the wonders which patient and hard-working modern science has introduced to the world, is the reconstruction of that grand healing agent, cod liver oil, in the form of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION.

The reader is aware that for centuries the usefulness of this drug has been impaired, and in many cases nullified by its nauseating taste and smell. In this effective remedy these formidable objections are entirely done away with. Palatable as honey, it contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It is a healer, body-builder and strength-maker beyond rivalry or comparison. By means of it diseases are cured which have hitherto been justly regarded as hopeless. In Fevers, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Influenza, La Grippe, Lung Diseases, all wasting ailments, etc., this remedy is successful after the old style modes of treatment have been appealed to in vain. Both the people and advanced physicians have welcomed it as the solution of a long standing problem in the art of medicine. Effective from the first dose. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by chemists everywhere.

Nerve Tonic

Builds up the System, Strengthens.

This warm climate is very trying to all. The blood easily becomes impure and the nervous system greatly debilitated. But you can retain your health and keep your nervous system strong. This is the portrait of Mr. William Fanning, of Deaconsfield, Fremantle, Western Australia. In his letter he says:

"Upon arriving in Western Australia three years ago, I found that my blood was in bad condition and my general system all run down. I suffered greatly, especially from indigestion. I had heard so much about

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

I thought I would try it. I did so, and only three bottles restored my strength, built up my system, and cured my dyspepsia. And I have also found it a great nerve tonic."

If you are bilious, constipated, or are troubled with headache, take Ayer's Pills. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

BAND GOES TO HILO

RAINY CITY TO HAVE TEN DAYS' MUSIC.

TRIP WILL COST $100 AND THIS WILL BE CHARGED AGAINST HILO'S ANNUAL MUSIC PROVISIONS.

The Territorial band under the artistic guidance of Captain Berger leaves for Hilo the last of the month arriving there in time to play for the races on Wednesday and Thursday. The steamer will be played off on Friday, the band remaining to give the Hiloites all the music that is in it for a week in the week which will be taken up by evening concerts, afternoon concerts, concerts during the noon hour, Sunday concerts and other concerts, in the pavilion opposite the hotel until the repertoire of even the Kappalmasters is exhausted and the cravings of Hilo music lovers satisfied.

Flotadon will of course be included and it is safe to predict that every small boy, and many of the larger ones of the rainy city, will be humming and whistling the air of the popular sextette in January.

Captain Berger is anxious to let it be distinctly understood that the band is asking no favors, that the trip is paid for by the legislature including all expenses. Of course this does not mean that the gallant captain or his musicians will refuse the gift of an umbrella or turn aside from a bright glance or winning smile. Carnation and lime-juice will be deemed acceptable and the band will acknowledge these courtesies by the strains of the ever popular band of "all around my hat."

Captain Berger wishes to state that the Hiloites are not contributing directly towards the expenses of the present trip.

The various islands are by reason of their taxes entitled to certain visits from the territorial musicians, and the New Year trip to Hawaii will be set down against their share of the music.

The Hiloites considering themselves fortunate to get the band at so opportune a time.

Thirty men and the two lady singers of the band will go to Hilo for the ten days, the total expense aggregating about $100. The expense of living is calculated at $2 per diem which, added to the $12.50 for steamer fare, the steamship company making a round trip rate of a single fare, means $2.50 for each of the thirty-two members comprising the excursion: $1600 in all besides incidental extras.

The trip to Maui will be made in February, most probably and the good news will be published in the Maui News of this week.

Tonight the band will add to the attractiveness of the Hawaiian Hotel Tuesday dance, by playing between dinner and the evening walk and intermittently between the numbers. Tomorrow night it plays at Thomas square.

WEDDED TO BAD LUCK

HANKER HAD BEEN WRECKED MANY TIMES.

In a Fit of Anger at His Uncle, He Voluntarily Started on Career of Misfortune.

In the death of George Hanker at the Hilo Hospital at Hilo December 7, there passed from this earth, a man whose whole life appeared to have been fraught with misfortune. He was of German extraction and had been a seaman since 1846. He died at the age of 72 years.

Hanker was in his early life very prosperous. He stood high in the esteem of the Hamburg-American steamship company. He asked to be made master of the new vessels, but when he solicited the influence of his uncle, the latter refused. In a fit of passion young Hanker tore the chevrons from his uniform and dashed them at the feet of his uncle and declared he would ship before the mast. Young Hanker left his wife, son and daughter and shipped as a common seaman in the brigantine Alabama.

In 1847 the vessel was wrecked in Australian waters, all hands on board, but Hanker, being drowned. He was rescued after two days and a half in the water by a schooner and put ashore. After regaining his health he tried to walk overland to Melbourne but lost his way and lived for four months with the bushmen. He shipped to Cuba and in 1848 was in China waters. He was in three vessels, all of which were lost. He went to San Francisco in 1849 and bought a schooner and started in the oyster trade but the schooner was lost and with it, all of Hanker's savings.

He shipped to South American waters but on his second vessel, the "Margarita," was wrecked off the Peruvian coast. The next vessel, the "Katherine," a collier founded off the Chilean coast. He tried mining for a while but got fever and returned to Hamburg, only to learn that his wife had died five weeks before his arrival and his son had shipped to sea. After arranging for the care of his daughter, Hanker went to America, shipped in the Katherine, which was wrecked near the African coast. He reshipped in other vessels and finally got to this part of the world. He was wrecked on Midway Island with the Walkers in 1881 in the "Wandering Minstrel." Since the rescue of that party he had lived about Hilo, supporting himself by odd jobs of agricultural character. He was injured by being struck by a falling tree some time before his death, and finally had to be sent to the hospital.

He was a man of sterling honesty and pride and always cringed at the prospect of accepting charity. He supported himself even when ill in hospitals at various places, by painting. He was an artist and could paint some really fine pictures.

ONE MAN AT WORK

AGRICULTURAL STATION HAS NO
FUNDS.

United States Commissioner Jared Smith Temporarily Transferred to the Bureau of Irrigation.

With only one laborer at work on the big tract of land on Tantalus which is being cultivated by the United States Agricultural Experiment Station, work
does not progress very fast, and station has lots of seeds to plant and a great deal of work has been done, some of it already promising to show good results, but there is not money enough in the hands of Commissioner Smith to work
the tract of land as it should be worked.
The only laborer there now is a lonely Hawaiian.

The station expected some help from the legislature of the Territory, but the help was not forthcoming. The station was organized during the session of the legislature, and though an appropriation was proposed, it did not receive much attention. It is customary for the states and territories to add appropriations to the laws set aside by the national government for such stations.
Commissioner Jared Smith has been transferred for two months to the Interior, with instructions to make an investigation of the water supply and irrigation methods in Hawaii. He will be nominally in charge of the agricultural station just the same, but his time will be devoted to the irrigation work, and his pay will come from this department.

Smith will visit all the islands, and make a thorough report to Washington,
as to water supply, rainfall, irrigation schemes, etc. His report will be included in a report to be issued at Washington.

The bureau of irrigation at Washington has been receiving a number of inquiries as to irrigation and pumps in Hawaii, from parties who, it is understood, propose to float enterprises here, and their inquiries are the occasion of the present investigation.

Incidentally the information to be supplied by Jared Smith may be of great use in the matter of S. B.
Parker's Kohala scheme, which is to be discussed at Washington during this session of Congress. The Kohala situation, as well as the state of affairs in other parts of the islands, will be dealt with by Smith.

ATTEMPTED HOLDUP.

HILO, December 23.—Last Saturday night Albert Horner was driving home
at Kukaia, in a buggy from a trip up in the hills. He was passing along a road through a dark place in the forest when suddenly three men emerged from the bushes. One of them, the leader, grabbing the reins and at the same time
calling on him to throw up his hands, Horner saw a "second bandit" by the front wheel at his right and a third one approaching from behind. Without a word he descended a semicircle with his whip hand, striking his horse with the lash and at the same time landing
his clenched fist in the face of the man standing at his right. The brigand at the wheel toppled backward as if kicked by a mule. The startled horse reared and broke from the grasp of the man at its head and sped along the road leaving the three Porto Ricans to recon-ciliate at their pleasure.

Mr. Horner made no report of the matter to the police as he could not be able to identify his assailants.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

HILO, December 23.—The Japanese woman living on Front street who either took or was given ant poison last week, died Saturday. A coroner's inquest was held last Sunday by Sheriff Andrews. Considerable testimony was taken and the inquisition continued one week. Meanwhile the husband is held in custody on the charge of assault and battery.

SPEEDY HORSE S.A.D.

C. S. McKenzie has sold Katie Shaw,
one of his speediest importations, to A.
M. Wilson of Waikanae. This roadster has no mark yet but is said to be a likely candidate for honors against Vanuata's Ewey. McKenzie has also sold Ned McGowan, another promising colt, to John Fitzgerald.—Hilo Tribune.

HILO GRAND JURY.

HILO, December 23.—The members of the Grand Jury for the January Term of the Fourth Circuit Court are as follows: John F. Baker, L. M. Whitehouse,
H. Olney, Frank L. Wilson, Charles E.
Wright, E. N. Holmes, B. F. Schoen,
Henry M. Henshaw, W. H. Shipman, C.
A. Stobie, W. H. Beers, John T. Moir,

liam Pullar, Peter Gibbs, A. E. Sutton,

lanison, Arthur M. Richardson.

DOCKS AT HILO.

HILO, December 23.—The Hilo Dock Company held a meeting last Tuesday morning at the First Bank of Hilo and decided to go ahead with their enterprise. A committee consisting of Messrs. McStocker, Lambert and Peck was appointed to look after the matter of filing articles of incorporation at once. Mr. Lambert, as superintendent of construction was authorized to make plans and call for bids upon the work.
Bids will be asked from both Hawaiian and Coast firms.

The unanimous sentiment of the directors was favorable to building the best docks possible. The quality of the work will not be slighted in the interest of economy. The committee on incorporation was also authorized to make proposals to the Territorial Government and if possible reach some basis of agreement which will result in wharf facilities for Hilo.

MAUI WANTS THE BAND.

It has been definitely decided that the Hawaiian Band will go to Hilo for the holidays, and there is no good or valid reason why they should not stop off
and spend a week with us on their return. But they will not do so unless authorized, and steps should at once be taken by the citizens of Waikuku to intervene with the authorities on the matter.
It is not believed that the plan will meet with strenuous opposition in Honolulu,
but the people of Waikuku must make their wishes emphatically known in the matter, if favorable action is desired.—Maui News.

CHARITY WARD.

Cannot something be done in the matter of establishing a charity ward in Maui? It is not right nor fair that the support of these people should be left to a few generous people and to the Salvation Army. On Sunday a sick Porto Rican father with three or four little children was seen on the streets of Waikuku, the mother being at Kihel, too sick to come here. The immediate wants of the father and children were relieved by the generosity of a few citizens, but hospital accommodations
should be provided for such cases.—

SKAGWAY.

The Daily Skagway News, in its issue
of November 23, says:
A report of more friction between American institutions and the Canada
customs agency, maintained in Skagway, comes to light, and while it is not officially made known and is ex parte, there is sufficient evidence that the story is true.

The substance of it is that the Canadian authorities, or some of them,
intend to insist that in Canada customs forms Skagway shall not appear as
"Skagway, Alaska" but as plain "Skagway." In other words, the Canadians do not propose to recognize the American ownership of the place.

Some time ago the Alaska Pacific Express Company had printed, under orders from E. S. Busby, supervising officer of Canadian customs, a quantity of stickers for pasting on express packages. The slips bear the legend: "From Skagway, Alaska, to Dawson, Y. T."
The slips were intended to facilitate the handling of the matter at the customs house. Now, according to the report, which does not come directly from the express company, Mr. Busby has notified them that the slips must be destroyed and new ones printed without the work Alaska upon it.

The demand has created no little talk on the street among those who have heard of it.

YOUNG SOLDIERS.

Passengers on the train to Oloa Saturday morning had something to interest them. The principal of the Japanese school, which is held in the Japanese church every afternoon, was taking thirty-nine of his pupils for an outing in Oloa.

The boys, from four to eight years old were dressed in khaki, and carried guns and side arms; the girls wore the insignia of the Red Cross Society. Before the train left they were drawn up in line near the depot and went through a drill in good form. On the way up the tote sang in Japanese, and when Oloa mill was reached they left the train,
and when they were drawn up in line
they sang the Japanese national anthem as the train left for Keauau. The school has an attendance of 87.—Hawaii Herald.

The cause is a parasite in the hair-

TO AID THE TERRITORIES.

The fact is that there is no honest reason why all four of the territories should not be put on the footing with such states as Rhode Island and Nevada before Congress adjourns, and as President Roosevelt appears to be inclined to disregard old party precedents and is very kindly affected toward the "cowboy" country, he may be disposed and able to give the four candidates some effective help when Congress comes to consider their application.

TARIFF REVISION.

That there is a certain element among republicans—typified by congressman Babcock of Wisconsin—favors reasonable tariff reduction and reciprocity—cannot be successfully denied. It looks, however, as if nothing but the fear of impending republican defeat at the polls would work to secure any degree of consideration in Congress for the views of Mr. Babcock and the few of his political party who "think with him" on the tariff question.—Boston Globe.

WALL, NICHOLS CO., LTD.

A WOMAN'S PRESENCE.

Is often pleasantly foretold by the aroma of some dainty perfume. In times long gone by the choice scents were made into unguents spread upon the hair and body. Then came the art of distillation and the odoriferous drops were sprinkled on the handkerchief or mingled with the water in which my lady laved her dainty limbs and face.

Not until modern times came the most perfect way of applying the perfume—the ATOMIZER.—Now no toilet table is without one.

OUR SELECTION OF ATOMIZER IS COMPLETE. THEIR SUITABILITY FOR A CHRISTMAS GIFT, PERFECT.

Perfect sprayers, made in choice designs of cut glass or dainty porcelain. Not expensive and thoroughly acceptable.

KODAKERY.

Everybody looks upon a Kodak nowadays as they look on an umbrella—a necessity. Still, many do not possess them and many more are dissatisfied with the results from their cameras.

The perverted aphorism "There is no Kodak but an Eastman Kodak" is a true one. You are absolutely secure in buying any article in photographic appliances when the name Eastman shows as manufacturer. Thoroughly reliable and the best of material, they always give the best of satisfaction. It is hard to devise a better Christmas gift in this land of unrivalled scenery than a KODAK to those who do not already possess one or, having a camera by some less careful manufacturer, are dissatisfied with its results.

EASTMAN KODAKS AT TWENTY PER CENT OFF. USUAL PRICES.
