Calm and Confident Says Kaneko Is His Government

Japan did not want to have war with Russia. She did everything in her power to avert it through diplomatic channels and was simply forced into it by Russia.

This was the statement made by Baron Kaneko to a Bulletin reporter this morning. The Baron, who arrived here from Japan in the Siberia, is a very prominent man in Japan. He has twice been a Minister in Marquis Ito's Cabinet and, although he is at present holds no portfolio, he is still a man of great influence in the Mikado's realm.

When asked about his plans and his mission, Baron Kaneko pointed out that he was traveling absolutely in an official capacity.

"While I was twice a Minister in Marquis Ito's Ministry, once of Justice and once of Agriculture and Commerce, I am not holding any official position now," said the Baron. "It is my intention to make a stay in the States. I will visit New York, Washington and other large cities but intend to have my headquarters in St. Louis. I am very much interested in the exposition and intend to devote much time in looking after Japan's exhibits there. My principal aim is, however, to promote the commerce between my own country and the Southern States in connection with the Exposition. Eastern fairs and expositions have done much towards developing commercial relations between Japan and the Atlantic Coast States. The Chicago World's Fair gave the trade between my country and the Northern States a great impetus. It is my intention to endeavor to have the St. Louis Exposition work in the same manner towards developing trade between the Southern States and Japan. To accomplish this purpose I shall travel extensively in the South during my stay.

"I intend to be in St. Louis especially at the time of the awarding of the prizes. As this, I understand, will take place in the fall, I expect that my stay will be about six months. I may make a tour around the world in returning, but may, however, possibly come back by this same route."

When questioned about the war, the Baron made the statement quoted above, but had little to say beyond it. The Government people were, he said, calm and confident.

With Baron Kaneko is Mr. Takahashi, president of the Bank of Japan, and one of the most prominent financiers of that country. Mr. Takahashi will go with Baron Kaneko as far as New York. He will remain there a short time and will then continue on his way to London, which is the main point of his trip. Mr. Takahashi's secretary stated that while no absolutely definite plans had yet been formed the main object of the trip was to develop and further the financial relations of Japan with other countries. While this was an important matter which always had to be attended to, it was of especially great importance in time of war. London had been chosen as the main point of the trip for the reason that Japan's foreign financial interests were largely centered in England. However, Mr. Takahashi might visit other financial centers of importance during his travels.

The prominent visitors were met on board the steamship by Consul Miki Saito and a number of the most prominent Japanese residents of this city. Cordial and ceremonious greetings were exchanged, whereupon Baron Kaneko, Mr. Takahashi and several other Japanese who formed their traveling parties were taken to the Japanese club at Waikiki, where they are to be entertained during their short stay in this city. A reception will be given tonight in honor of the visitors.

SAYS HE THREATENED

There was trouble brewing in the butcher shop of the San Chang Lung Co., at the corner of King and Ala streets at about 4 o'clock on the afternoon of February 29, the result of which was the arrest of Chong Chan, who lives at the place of business of the Kong Sing Wo Co. Luke Mosig Wo, the proprietor of the market mentioned, told the following story to a Bulletin reporter this morning.

"At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Chong Chan came into my store and made the remark that he intended to kill Young Pong, a yard boy at the High School and a brother of the butcher in my store, who was present at the time the remark was made.

"I told the fellow to get out of my store but he would not go. He became very angry and said he would procure a butcher knife and kill both myself and my son. I told him that if he did not get out of the store at once, I would call the police and have him arrested. Thereupon, Chong Chan jumped behind the counter and began to fight me. Yee Wo, who was in the store at the time, grabbed hold of him and that ended the fight. I have had the man arrested."

TO BREAK UP MOKOLII.

The old steamer Mokolii, recently purchased by the Young Brothers, is on the marine railway. The proposition is to take the wheel out of the old vessel and then to break her up, using what material is still good and casting aside the remainder.

BRECKONS' FREE PEN

NOT DAVIS' BUSINESS
WHAT HE TELLS KNOX

JUDGE DOLE WILL FURTHER
LOOK INTO ALLEGED WRONG-
STATEMENT IN A BRIEF.

"I rise to say right here that Mr. Davis cannot say nor can this court order what I shall or what I shall not include in my communications to the United States Attorney General. I will say to Mr. Davis that it is none of his business what I write to my superior."

So said United States District Attorney Breckons in Federal Court before Judge Dole this morning when Attorney Geo. A. Davis wanted to argue in regard to a motion that Breckons be ordered to amend his brief in the disbarment proceedings, Davis alleging that the District Attorney had included a false statement.

Davis stated that Breckons had sent on his statement of facts to Washington. Breckons said it was none of Davis' business what he sent to Washington.

Judge Dole stated that, as a whole, Breckons' brief did not convey the idea Davis seemed to believe; of course if parts were cut out and criticized, statements separated, might appear untrue; Davis had made practically the same statement in his brief in regard to the ownership of the reef property that Breckons made in his statement of facts.

"However," said Judge Dole, "I will look further into the matter."

Following is the affidavit filed by Davis today:

I, George A. Davis, counselor at law, make oath and say:

1. That I am the respondent in this matter.

2. That the District Attorney filed a statement of facts on behalf of the United States with the Judge of this Court wherein in substance it is stated and appears "That at the time of the institution of the suit in equity, entitled, Maria S. Davis, next friend of John K. Sumner, vs. John K. Sumner, The Bishop of Panapolis, trustee, et al., and the guardianship proceedings instituted in the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit, Territory of Hawaii, and at chambers before a Judge of the said last mentioned court, John K. Sumner was the sole and absolute owner of the harbor front property and neither Maria S. Davis, nor any other person had any interest therein; which said statement is not in accordance with the uncorroborated evidence and the record; that the record and evidence shows beyond dispute or doubt that at said time the Right Rev. Gulstan F. Roper, Roman Catholic Bishop of Panapolis, owned and had the absolute control of the said property under and by virtue of a deed of trust, and was about to sell the said property to the Oahu Railway & Land Company for $100,000, and had agreed as such trustee to divide the proceeds thereof, to-wit: the sum of $100,000 as follows: $25,000 to the Roman Catholic Church, $50,000 to the Ellises, and $25,000 to John K. Sumner.

3. That said District Attorney served me with a copy of said statement and said he was going to send a copy thereof to the Attorney General of the United States.

4. That said statement is not in accordance with the facts disclosed by

ADVANCE ON MANCHURIA

WAR CORRESPONDENTS In Japan SECURELY BOTTLED UP

G. L. Brownell, author of "The Heart of Japan", which was issued about a year ago and which has been the subject of much favorable comment in both England and America, is a through passenger in the Siberia, bound for San Francisco. He is a great friend of Fred J. Church, manager of the Waldorf Hotel, having become acquainted as opposing center rushes on the Seattle and Tacoma football teams some years ago. Mr. Church playing on the former team. In a conversation with a Bulletin representative this afternoon, Mr. Brownell had the following to say about affairs in Japan:

"I believe that you people in America really know more about the war than we who have just come from Japan. The Japanese Government certainly know their business. They are most secretive and say nothing in response to questions asked by them. "Perhaps it is not generally known that all the war correspondents who have gone to Japan for the purpose of reporting the war are 'bottled up,' as it were, in Tokio and that each one is closely watched. The Government does not intend to take any chance of having their plans divulged. Naturally they are chafing to get away but they cannot. Korea is the destination they are naturally aiming for but the Japanese Government has put its foot down on any proposition of the kind. They may go to Nagasaki and Yokohama and other places in Japan, but they are never out of sight of the secret agents of the Government. There is no telling when they will be able to get away. They have bought all the necessities incident to a campaign in Japan, but they likely they will not be able to use any of them."

"I notice that it has been stated in the papers that Jack London was arrested for taking photographs. This is not a fact. London was arrested while he was about to take passage surreptitiously to sail for Korea from Japan on a small steamer. The Japanese are keeping particular watch on him. "I never in my life saw such patriotism as that which exists in Japan. Everybody wants to fight and thousands of women have applied to the Government to go to the front. The men and women both are willing and anxious to work for the Government for nothing."

Mr. Brownell knows what he is talking about for he has been in Japan off and on for the last twenty years, gathering material for books. He has written a number of books, but his masterpiece is the book which has already been mentioned. He is very sorry he did not make arrangements to remain over at this port but in order to make up for deficiencies, he has promised to advertise the Haleiwa Hotel on every hand.

WANTS TO SHOW HOW WIFE IS LIVING HIGH

Harry Flint, formerly captain of the Harbor Police, was before Judge Robinson at chambers this morning to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt in not obeying the mandata of the court which ordered him to pay his wife temporary alimony.

Mrs. Nina Flint was present, represented by J. P. Hall.

Flint said he was out of work and had no money with which to pay alimony.

He was asked if he was forced to resign from the police or if his resignation was voluntary.

Flint said he had been injured and was off duty many days and was told there was no use in his trying to hang on if he was unable to work. He was not told to resign.

Judge Robinson thought Flint could have gone back on the force if he wanted to and found him guilty of contempt, ordering him into the custody of the High Sheriff until he complied with the court's order.

Here Ball bobbed up and turned on a soothing current of good-will.

He didn't want to be hard, and so forth, but a destitute woman needed the money; suppose Flint be given time to get a job; to raise the funds, Judge Robinson agreed with this idea and tried to say so, but Ball talked at the same time.

Finally it was ordered that the matter be continued till Tuesday next at 10 a. m., during which time Flint is to make application at the police department for a position.

"I have no lawyer," said Flint. "I can afford none. This man Ball has been spying around on me and trying to say that I am living high, when I'm not; isn't there some way for me to get in the evidence that she (indicating his wife) is rolling high out at her place?"

Judge Robinson informed Flint that

The China, from San Francisco, was telephoned shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon and at 3 was still off port. She would have come into the harbor previous to that time but for the fact that the ship John Eua occupied the channel on her way out with a load of sugar. She should dock at about 4.

KINDERGARTEN WORK REPORTED ON TODAY

In the pleasant parlor of the Young Women's Christian Association this morning the Board of Supervisors of the Free Kindergarten Association held its monthly meeting, the first vice president, Mrs. W. F. Allen, in the chair.

The regular routine of business revealed good progress in the kindergartens, in spite of the tempestuous weather of the past month, which considerably lowered the average of attendance and the standard of health.

While there is a surplus in the treasury starting on the new month, those bearing the responsibility of collections have found their tasks very arduous since a number of regular

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The regular annual meeting of the Hawaiian Historical Society was held in the Honolulu Library last evening. The reports of the recording secretary, treasurer and librarian and corresponding secretary, were read.

Raymond H. Anot, of Rochester, N. Y., was elected as a corresponding member and the Right Rev. Bishop Healy B. Restarick, B. L. Marx and Miss Hillebrand were elected active members.

The following officers for the current year were elected:
President—Dr. N. B. Emerson.
Vice Presidents—Judge S. B. Dole, Jos. S. Emerson and W. F. Allen.
Corresponding Secretary—Prof. W. D. Alexander, LL. D.
Recording Secretary—Chief Justice W. F. Frear.
Treasurer—W. W. Hall.
Librarian—Miss Hillebrand.

An amendment to the by-laws, reducing the initiation fee from $5 to $2, was carried.

As a preliminary paper, Prof. Alexander read a letter from H. S. Townsend, former inspector of schools here, and now in Manila. It stated that while there were no relations between the Malay and Polynesian languages, there were a number of verbal coincidences. The Philippine peoples had a decimal system similar to that of the Hawaiians.

Mr. Rowell wanted to know if the Hawaiian decimal system was original. Dr. Emerson replied that it was complicated. It was a system of 4's multiplied by 10. The question of its originality was not at all clear. Judge Dole thought the system had been taught the Hawaiians by the missionaries. Prof. Alexander said the missionaries extended the system beyond counting 40, on to 400,000. It was based on the four fingers of each hand. The Tahitians went by 2's or one finger to each hand. The first ten numbers were common to the Pacific Islands and Madagascar. In answer to a question, Prof. Alexander said he did not attach much significance to the coincidences of names of objects mentioned by Mr. Townsend.

The paper of the evening was read by President Emerson, his subject being "The Poetry of Hawaii." As with all primitive peoples, literary expression took the form of poetry. There was great difficulty in getting the true interpretation of ancient Hawaiian moles. Those who knew their meanings were passing away and the true ideas of the compositions were guarded as sacredly as the bones of ancient chiefs.

Hawaiian poetry was strongly hyperbolic. It did not attempt to describe abstract beauty, but the actuality of beautiful objects in all visible nature.

Get My Book If Sick
Don't Send a Penny.

Don't send a penny. Just wait till you see what I can do. Let me take the risk. Let me prove first what Dr. Shoop's Restorative will do. The Restorative will gain your friendship, your endorsement, if you wait it for a whole month you can use it without the slightest risk.

I will tell you of a druggist near you who will furnish six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month on trial.

I will absolutely stand all the cost if it fails. If you say, "It did not help me," that ends it as far as cost to you is concerned. Do you understand me? I am willing to take the risk, as clearly as I can. I want you to know absolutely and without doubt that this offer is made on honor. I have the prescription that cures. My only problem is to convince you that Dr. Shoop's Restorative will cure—is an uncommon remedy. A common remedy could not stand a test like this. It would bankrupt the physician making the offer. And I am succeeding everywhere and here is the secret of my success. I found invariably that where there was a weakness the inside nerves were weak. Where there was a lack of vitality the vital nerves lacked power. When weak organs were found I always found weak nerves. Not the nerves commonly thought of but the vital organs' nerves. The inside—the invisible nerves. This was a revelation. Then my real success began. Then I combined ingredients that would strengthen, that would vitalize these nerves. That prescription I called a restorative. It is known the world over now as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Thousands are accepting my offer and only one in each forty writes me that my remedy failed. Just think of it. 39 out of 40 get well and these are difficult cases too. And the fourth has nothing to pay. That is a record I am proud of. It is wrong to stay sick when a chance like this is open. If well, you should tell others who are sick of my offer. Don't let a sick friend stay sick because he knows not of my offer. Tell him. Get my book for him. Do your duty. You may be sick yourself, sometime. Sick people need help. They appreciate sympathy and aid. Tell me of some sick friend. Let me cure him. Then he will show his gratitude to both of us. Your reward will be to gratify me. Send for the book now. Do not delay.

Address Dr. Shoop, Box 519, Racine, Wis. Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured with one or two bottles. At druggists.

WHY THE

U. S. Washing Machine Is the Best.

BECAUSE

It is the only Rotary Washer that has revolving steel ball gearing, reducing the friction and thus making the machine light running and almost noiseless. The gear wheel turns right or left, the pin wheel or dasher reverses automatically, turning the clothes back and forth through the hot soap suds and cleaning them without rubbing them to pieces. Over One Hundred Thousand in use. The U. S. Machine have no equal because they wash clean.

RODMAN'S TESTIMONY ABOUT PEARL HARBOR

In view of the contemplated departure of Lieutenant Commander Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., commanding U. S. S. Iroquois, his deposition, in the suit of Clark & Henry vs. H. Hackfeld & Co. and Castle & Cooke, has been filed, in part, as follows:

That Pearl Harbor channel is about a quarter of a mile long, 200 or 212 feet wide and 31 feet deep.

That vessels over 1000 tons displacement would not be justified in going in for cargo. A steamer of 1000 tons or under, could do so.

That there are no obstructions, but the channel is too tortuous for large vessels to make an entrance unassisted by tugs.

That the channel and locks mauka of Waipio Point are open to navigation.

That it is easy for a vessel to enter Honolulu harbor, and extremely difficult for a very large vessel to enter Pearl Harbor.

That vessels of the American-Hawaiian Co., the Pacific Mail Co., or the Occidental and Oriental Co. that now enter Honolulu harbor could not enter Pearl Harbor without difficulty and danger.

That it would take approximately half a million dollars to open Pearl Harbor to commerce.

That any of the vessels of the Wilder or the Inter-island companies could safely enter Pearl Harbor locks.

"Q—Will you please name any other harbors that you know which are treated as open to general commerce, foreign as well as domestic, under conditions similar to those now existing at Pearl Harbor?"

"A—There are dozens of harbors in the United States for instance, that have been opened by dredged channels. Whether or not they are similar to Pearl Harbor is not for me to say, as each has its own individual characteristics and peculiarities."

"Q—Are there any conditions at Pearl Harbor which, while they may require care in handling ships of such large size as sometimes take cargoes of Hawaiian sugar around Cape Horn or to San Francisco, and may require for such ships the use of tugs in rounding some of the projections or spits in entering the harbor after crossing the bar, are sufficient to preclude the use of Pearl Harbor for general purposes of either foreign or domestic commerce?"

"A—Personally I would not venture to take a large commercial steamer into Pearl Harbor except under the most pressing needs. I believe that the large steamers coming to these islands could be carried into Pearl Harbor by using tugs and by observing the utmost precaution, but it does not seem feasible to me to take them in as the channel now stands.

"In time of peace I should hesitate to take in the U. S. cruisers of the size of the before-mentioned vessels, but if in time of war it were urgently necessary, they having twin screws, I believe that by the use of tugs I could take them in, and would not hesitate to attempt it."

PARK COMMISSION AGAINST ARMORY SITE

Erection of the proposed N. G. H. armory in the Capitol grounds is opposed by the Honolulu Park Commission, which met yesterday afternoon and adopted a resolution expressing to Governor Carter the hope that such would not be allowed, as these grounds should be reserved for the executive building and park purposes. It was also suggested that small buildings now on the ground be removed.

The park superintendent was authorized to remove trees broken in Kapiolani park by the storm.

An ancient fence mark of the grand stand at the race track, according to previous resolution, has been removed. A resolution was adopted requesting the Public Works to allow a prison gang to work at Kapiolani park restoring storm damage and in extending grass. H. E. Cooper, as a committee, will meet the Public Works Superintendent and present the request.

A RAPID TRANSIT EPISODE.

This morning about half past ten, a tall lady with a half-sized husband, boarded a King street car, the lady was wearing her husband on her right hand, when they entered the husband looked up, and said to his wife: "You're tall enough to reach a strap, but what can I hold," she said, "if I was as short as you are, I'd hold my tongue," so he took hold of his tongue, the car started and he fell down, whereupon his dutiful spouse hollored, "What's the matter, can't you stand up?" Said hubby, "They both slipped." "Both what," said the wife. "Both my feet and my tongue," said the little husband, but let's get off the car and go and see Bath the plumber and have a look at that new line of Douglass Patent Closets that have just arrived. His telephone is 51 Main.

WINIFRED AND WINFRED.

C. W. Ashford, representing Meheula, Johnson and Kumale in the Territory's case against them for alleged fraud relating to House vouchers, discovers that a woman's name, Winifred H. Babbitt, appears on the jury list and will add this mistake to the causes of challenge of the panel of grand jurors. A young man, Winifred Babbitt, accepted service as grand juror, although summoned as "Winifred." It is said that there is a "Winifred" and that her name was used through error.

Drawn game.

Notes.

(a) Probably the best defense is that adopted by Messrs. Fahndrick and Schlechter, during some consultation games played in Vienna: 8... K-Kt 2; 9 P-Q 4, P-K B 3; 10 P x P, Kt -K B 3; 11 Kt-Q B 3, B-Q Kt 5; etc. Equally interesting is Mr. Fleisig's move of 9... B-Q 3.

(b) Best; less powerful was the move, 11 Castles, played by Marco against Pillsbury, since the reply 11... P-K B 6 gives Black the advantage.

(c) If 15 Q-Q 3, Black would reply 15... B-K B 4.

(d) This ingenious move not only strengthens the attack but it wins two minor pieces for the Rook.

(e) Evidently, 17... Q x Q P ch would cost a piece.

(f) If 18... Q x Q P ch; 19 Q x Q, Kt x Q; 20 R-K 4, P-Q B 4; 21 P-Q B 3, Kt-Q B 3; 22 R-Q sq ch, thus regaining the piece as well as obtaining a strong attack.

(g) Clearly, if 19... Q x Q P; 20 R-K sq ch.

(h) Although Black, in a more simple position, would be a Pawn and the exchange to the good, he here possesses no advantage on account of the position of his King.

(i) Best; if 21... K R-K B sq; 22 Q x P ch; and, if 21... Q R-K B sq; 23 R x R, thus leaving only Queen against Queen, a position more advantageous than any White might have hoped for in this opening.

(j) The black Queen can not move from the Q B file, on account of 23 Q Q B 3 ch.

(k) If 26... K-K sq; 27 R-K R 7, with a very strong position. Black aspires to remain with two Rooks against the Queen.

(l) In this position the Queen is stronger than the two Rooks (that do not mutually support each other) and Black's unprotected King.

(m) Dr. Tarrasch, in the "Local Anzeiger," shows that, by 31 Q x R P ch, White should have won, for he would have captured the K Kt P and obtained two passed Pawns, as follows: 31 Q x R P ch, R-K Kt 2. [If 31... K-K 2; 32 Q-K Kt 5 ch etc.; if 31... K-K sq; 32 Q-K 6 ch, etc.; and, if 31... K-Kt sq; 32 Q-K 6, P-K Kt 6, Q-Q Kt 3, etc.] 32 Q-K R 8 ch, R-K Kt sq; 33 Q-K B 6 ch, K-K sq; 34 Q-K 6 ch, K-B sq; 35 P-K R 5, R-K Kt 2; 36 P-K R 6, R-K R 2; 37 Q-K Kt 6, R-K B 2; 38 P-K R 7, K-K 2; 39 Q-K Kt 5 ch and wins.

(n) This Pawn, shutting in the white King, makes a draw an assured fact.

(o) If 35... R (Kt 2)-K B 2; 36 Q-Q Kt 3 and Black's best Pawn is lost.

(p) Mieses, who is sure of a draw, risks much to win in order to gain some future special prize; such action naturally adds to the value of the parties, since both players are now doing the very best in their power, and the ending is very interesting.—La Strategie.

A Federal weather man will be the more cordially received if he can succeed in fixing the weather.

Query—Will Chief Justice Fear, as secretary of the Historical Society, include his testimony on the Davis disbarment in the annals of Hawaii.

Honolulu and Harbin have a bond of sympathy. Prices at Harbin have increased a hundred per cent and in Honolulu the ability to pay is gradually decreasing at the same ratio.

Russia improves the opportunity of a lull in the war to celebrate the emancipation of the serfs. Victories of peace are the only things Russia has occasion to celebrate at the present writing.

Adachi has arrived and the public will await with interest the information he is believed to be capable of furnishing. As he returns to answer the charge of perjury, it will be difficult to determine when he is romancing.

Governor Carter's conference with the bankers was a closed door affair though matters of serious importance to the Territory at large were under discussion. It is understood that the Star Chamber session was not the Governor's proposition though he consented to it by request.

In obtaining the views and seeking the cooperation of all concerned regardless of political or factional divisions, Governor Carter is adopting a policy that makes for success and the upbuilding of a sentiment for unity of action when Territorial integrity is at stake. It was the attempted government of the Territory by a select few that caused the administration of Mr. Carter's predecessor to be a record of constant conflict.

The Philadelphia Press, edited by Charles Emory Smith, at one time a member of President McKinley's Cabinet, has ably expressed the American principle in connection with the war in the Orient. Referring to the war between Russia and Japan and the possibility of other powers being drawn into the contest, the Press says: "The United States could not watch such a contest without deep concern."

WE COULD NOT, HOWEVER, PARTICIPATE IN ANY SUCH WAR THAT WOULD BE AGAINST ALL OUR TRADITIONS AND PRINCIPLES. The only part of this continent that could be drawn in would be that part which is attached to a European Power, and the only considerable part thus attached is Canada.

TERRITORIAL OBLIGATIONS.

Territorial financial conditions must be dealt with in the same manner business men of integrity would consider their own obligations. It is possible for the Territory to go on allowing its warrants to be discounted, refusing payment for want of funds, piling up the debt that must be met some day.

Business houses, contractors, laborers, Territorial employees might "carry" the Territory by accepting warrants on which cash can be realized only at a heavy discount, but the Territorial government is in duty bound to avert such a situation. The Territory continuing to issue warrants beyond its ability to meet in cash can have but one result. It will soon have more warrants afloat than there is money in the islands to pay, and it will be the same old story of he who grabs first wins. No man of business can conduct his affairs on such a principle. Every government is morally bound to avoid such an example.

STAND PAT AS AMERICANS.

Congressman Burgess of Texas made a speech in the House of Representatives the other day on the Republican "stand pat" text. Naturally Burgess ridiculed the Republican slogan, but he closed with the expression of a few sentiments on the situation, after the fight is over, that should be taken to heart by the electors and officials of Hawaii.

"Let us play the game out like gentlemen; let us have no purchased votes, no intimidated voters, but let every American instead cast his ballot for the right as God gives him to see it. I will tell you right now: I don't care how fast and furious you play the game, how 'pat' you stand, we are going to have a showdown in the next Presidential election. We are going to call that 'pat' hand and inspect it, spread out flat, face upward [laughter and applause], and we don't intend to be bluffed by any 'bob-tailed flush' business."

The gist of Congressman Burgess' remarks is the true American idea. Fight the battle when the campaign is on. When it is over stand pat for the general welfare of the country governed by such parties or men as the people place in control. Accept the result as gentlemen and Americans, and work together till the time for the next struggle arrives.

Governor Carter has now a call for a special session of the Legislature under consideration. The situation seems to offer no other legal alternative. The Legislature has many partisan elements, but the members are in duty bound to place Territorial stability and integrity above imagined opportunity for partisan play.

SIBERIA WITH MANY PEOPLE

The Pacific Mail liner Siberia arrived off port from the Orient early this morning. At about 8 o'clock she started into the harbor. The Siberia came slowly and very carefully up the harbor to the Hackfeld wharf. While her sister ship, the Korea, has twice docked at this wharf it was the first time that the Siberia did it. She overcame the difficulties offered by maneuvering a vessel of her size in the comparatively small space nicely. As she was entering the ship, the breaking of her starboard spring line caused a little flurry, but nevertheless the monster vessel was docked without accident.

Besides Captain Smith, Captain Sebree, formerly in command of the battleship Wisconsin, was on the Siberia's bridge as she came in.

The Siberia had reason to notice that a state of war existed in Oriental waters while she was there. The officers report that a guardship lies outside each Japanese port and keeps close watch of all incoming vessels. After being passed by the guardships this vessel would escort the liner into the harbor. No vessel could enter without such escort.

When the Siberia left Shanghai she passed a Japanese warship which was lying outside the harbor. She had been lying outside for several days watching for a Russian vessel which was inside the harbor. The Siberia's officers were unable to learn the name of either the Japanese or the Russian, but it was probably the Manjur mentioned in

Attempt To Defeat Adachi's Extradition Fails

Adachi is again in Honolulu. U. S. Marshal Hendry returned from Japan in the Siberia this morning with Adachi as a prisoner.

The United States wants Adachi, Si-haro Adachi, for alleged perjury. Adachi knows much about the "ten dollar" club, the society for the protection of Japanese prostitutes and their parasites. He told something of what he knows to the Federal Grand Jury. He is said to have perjured himself in connection with certain testimony.

Said Marshal Hendry this morning: "Accompanied by my young son, I arrived at Yokohama in the America Maru on February 11th and at once communicated with United States Minister Lloyd C. Griscom in Tokio, who had Harbor Police H. T. Yucasa notified."

"On the following day I went to Tokio, where the necessary papers were arranged. That evening I heard that the papers had been received at the Foreign Office. On Saturday I waited. On Sunday Minister Griscom referred me to the Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs S. Chinda. Mr. Chinda treated me with the greatest courtesy. He said he would give the matter of extradition his personal attention. Later Mr. Chinda notified me unofficially that Adachi had been arrested the previous evening."

Minister Chinda assured Hendry that he took peculiar pleasure in giving the matter his personal attention on account of Hendry's good services toward the Japanese people in Honolulu during the plague epidemic, when Hendry was secretary to Dr. C. B. Wood.

COULDN'T GET SAILORS. The American ship John Ena is to sail for New York with a load of sugar this afternoon. The Ena was to have sailed this morning but owing to trouble in getting sailors, her departure had to be delayed.

Among the passengers who arrived from Japan in the steamship Siberia this morning were several of the officers of the purse's and steward's departments of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamships which have been converted into auxiliary cruisers by the Japanese Government. They are on the way to San Francisco, where they will await further orders.

The party included L. E. Bemiss, pursuer of the America Maru; C. Lacy Goodrich, pursuer of the Nippon Maru; E. J. Roberts, pursuer of the Hongkong Maru; G. H. Willy, steward of the America Maru; J. K. Hurley, doctor of one of the boats, and several others. They are all enjoying life on board as passengers, a welcome change from the usual routine duties of their voyages.

L. E. Bemiss, the genial pursuer of the America Maru, the last vessel of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha fleet to reach her home port, had the following to say this morning: "We arrived in Yokohama February 11 and there we completed our career as a commercial vessel for the time being. The Japanese started right in with their work of converting the steamer into an auxiliary cruiser. Before I knew where I was, a lot of fellows were in my room. They grabbed my baggage, pictures, clothes, fittings, anything they could lay their hands on and hustled it off in a moment. "Talk about the changes they made. They ripped the main deck right up, tore all the stateroom partitions out, cut ports for the guns and gutted the vessel generally from stem to stern. The men did their work in wonderfully quick time, too. We arrived at Yokohama late in the afternoon. The next day at 3 o'clock they were hauling off with her. They have mounted guns all over the steamer. Why, they cut a port and put a gun right in my room."

It is not known where the Maru's were taken to after they had been refitted. That they will see interesting service is more than probable. The deck officers and engineers of the steamships are under orders to remain in Japan.

CONFER WITH CARTER B. F. EHLERS & CO.

From all accounts, the conference of the Home Rule leaders with Governor Carter yesterday afternoon at the Capital, was most important since it brought out the fact that a party antagonistic to that to which Mr. Carter belongs is favorable to the administration and means to do all in its power to assist the executive in his earnest endeavors to relieve the stress of circumstances which now obtains throughout the Territory. The Home Rulers present at the conference were as follows: Senator David Kalanika, Curtis P. Iauka, Speaker F. W. Beckley, J. H. Wise, Representative Jonah Kumalae, George Markham, Charles Notley and D. Kalanika, Jr. The Republican party was represented by Senator L. L. McCandless and the Democrats by F. J. Testa, editor of the Independent.

During the conference, the spirit of harmony prevailed and politics were left out of the reckoning entirely. Such a matter as the County Act, which is uppermost in the minds of the Home Rulers at all times, was brought up but once and then only in a casual way, in a question by Mr. Iauka.

In a talk with one of the Home Rule leaders this morning, the following interview was granted a Bulletin reporter:

"We were against Mr. Carter when he was appointed to office by the President of the United States but I can tell you that when we left that conference yesterday afternoon, we were all in favor of the Governor, for we believe he has the interests of the country and the people very much at heart. Our conference was of the most amicable nature and we agreed we would not let politics enter into the doing scheduled for the special session of the Legislature.

"Yes, there has been some talk about bringing the county bill up again and we would have the perfect right to do so but our leaders will instruct the Home Rule legislators to do nothing of the kind but to confine their attention to the question of the financial situation of the Territory.

"The probability of the introduction of measures other than financial was mentioned to the Governor at the conference and he stated that the Legislature would have the right to introduce what they saw fit. He, however, expressed the hope that the lawmakers would finish their session as soon as possible in order that the expenses might be reduced to a minimum. He seems to place every confidence in the fact that we will do the right thing and that is just exactly what we intend to do.

"We are with the Governor, heart and hand, and will assist him in every measure he proposes for the good of the Territory in the financial way."

Governor Carter this morning conferred with Treasurer Kopoikai and Auditor Fisher in regard to the financial situation.

No decision has been arrived at as to a special session of the Legislature. ATTEMPT TO DEFEAT says Hendry, that he was able to get the cable code word "Kirk", meaning "Adachi in custody; will leave on next steamer", through to Breckons here, at a time when war was on and cable messages were closely watched and ciphers suspected.

"Japan has the finest police system I ever knew," says the Marshal. Adachi was delivered to the Marshal at 1 p. m. of February 24th.

"I am glad to see you. I don't want to go back to Honolulu as your prisoner but as your guest," said Adachi when Hendry took charge of him.

"Going over to Japan in the America Maru," said Hendry, "we went 400 miles out of our course and steamed along without lights for two nights. We did not know what the Russians might do and so kept on the safe side.

"As soon as the vessel arrived she was gutted and work was hurried to convert the liner into a cruiser. Work was started the night we arrived.

"There is great enthusiasm over Japanese victories over there and the Japanese are confident of success."

Japanese Police Sergeant Kanagawa-ken of the Yokohama Harbor Police, accompanied Marshal Hendry to Honolulu as a guard over Adachi. He will return on the next boat. Meanwhile he will ascertain what facts are obtainable in regard to the alleged attempt to interfere with Adachi's extradition, for the benefit of his own government.

During the return trip the Marshal and Kanagawa-ken took shifts watching friend Adachi.

Adachi stated today that he was pleased to be back in Honolulu, but Mr. Breckons had said he must not talk to newspapers, so he must remain quiet. He seemed happy as he talked and looks better than when he left.

ACCIDENT TO KINAU AT HILO WAS NOT SERIOUS

The flagship Kinau on her trip to Hilo this week broke down and had to be towed into that port. The news of the accident was received yesterday by the local office of the Wilder Steamship Company.

President C. L. Wight, when seen this forenoon, had the following to say in regard to the matter: "The report that the Kinau broke down and was towed into port is correct. We have received a wireless message which states that there was some trouble with one of the steamer's connecting rods.

"The steamer Hawaii was summoned and towed her into Hilo harbor. "The accident took place last Wednesday afternoon when the Kinau was quite close to Hilo. I do not anticipate that the whole thing amounted to very much. It probably could have been repaired at sea, but owing to the fact that the boat was quite close to Hilo, it probably saved her considerable time to be towed in instead of laying to while repairs were being made. I expect that the accident can be easily repaired while the Kinau is lying at Hilo and that it will not interfere with her leaving Hilo at the usual hour and making schedule time."

At this juncture another wireless telegram from Hawaii was handed Mr. Wight. After reading it, Mr. Wight stated that it was the low-pressure connecting rod which had caused the trouble. The exact nature of the damage had not been given. The Kinau would return on schedule time.

TABLED EVERYTHING

As was stated in yesterday's Bulletin, the long pow-wow of the Home Rulers in headquarters on Maunakea street yesterday forenoon had for the burden of its songs, the consideration of the standing of Curtis P. Iaukea in the party, a resolution of want of confidence in him having been introduced at a recent meeting of the Home Rule executive committee on account of attempts made by Mr. Iaukea to further the fusion movement which has been so much talked of lately. In this resolution, Mr. Iaukea was accused of having written or inspired various articles in favor of fusion in the Hawaiian newspapers of the city.

The resolution was referred to a committee of three and this committee took occasion to report at the meeting yesterday forenoon. The report exonerated Mr. Iaukea and it was unanimous. After a long and heated discussion, it was voted to table both the resolution of want of confidence and the report thereon.

SIERRA WILL BRING SIXTY-NINE TOURIST PASSENGERS

A cable was received today to the effect that the Sierra, arriving here on the 9th inst., has sixty-nine tourists aboard. Whether these are included in a regular touring party under some agency or whether the number is made up of people traveling independently, is not yet known, but it is supposed that the latter is the case since there are no parties of the kind suggested due here at that time. The next regular party of tourists will sail by the Alameda, leaving San Francisco on the 12th inst.

That those sixty-nine tourists are all bona fide tourists goes without saying, for recently the agents of both the Pacific Mail and Oceanic Steamship Companies have been taking the trouble to segregate the number of tourists from kamaainas and people traveling on business bent. Sixty-nine tourists sounds very good indeed, and credit for a large proportion of this number must be given the Promotion Committee for its systematic advertising on the mainland. The number is increasing right along, sixty-nine being the largest on one steamer since the Tourist Committee began work.

There will be a fine concert by the Territorial Band on the roof garden of the Alexander Young Hotel this evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, this concert having been arranged particularly for the passengers of the Korea and China, the latter boat being confidently expected from San Francisco this afternoon in time for her passengers to have dinner in the city. J. N. Cobb, of the Fish Commission, was a passenger from Maui in the Mauna Loa today.

LAZARRE

MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD

(Based Upon the Mystery Surrounding the Fate of the Dauphin, Son of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette)

Copyright, 1901, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

"Poor Mme. Tani! She would have been so much more comfortable in her death if she had relieved her mind," Mme. Ursule said the first evening. "She used to speak to you often, for seeing you made a great impression upon her and she never let us forget you. I am sure she knew more about you than she ever told me. I have an important disclosure to make," she says. "Come around me; I want all of you to hear it! Then she fell back and died without telling it."

A touch of mystery was not lacking to the house. Several times I saw the tail of a gray gown disappear through an open door. Some woman half entered and drew back.

"It's Madeleine Jordan," an inmate told me each time. "She avoids strangers."

I asked if Madeleine Jordan was a relative.

"Oh, no," Mme. Ursule replied; "but the family who brought her here went back to Canada, and of course they left her with us."

Of course, Madeleine Jordan, or anybody else who lacked a roof, would be left with the Grignons, but in that house a hermit seemed out of place, and I said so to Mme. Ursule.

"Poor child!" she responded. "I think she likes the bustle and noise. She is not a hermit. What difference can it make to her whether people are around her or not?"

The subject of Madeleine Jordan was no doubt beyond a man's handling. I had other matters to think about, and directly plunged into them. First, the denouement and Winnebagoes must be assembled in council. They held all the desirable land.

"We don't like your Indian scheme in Green Bay," said Pierre Grignon. "But if the tribes here are willing to sell their lands other settlers can't prevent it."

He went with me to meet the savages on the opposite side of the Fox near the stockade. There the talking and eating lasted two days. At the end of that time I had a footing for our Iroquois in the Wisconsin portion of the Illinois territory, and the savages who granted it danced a war dance in my honor. Every brave shook over his head the scalp he had taken. I saw one cap of soft long brown hair.

"Eh!" said Pierre Grignon, sitting beside me. "Their dirty trophies make you giddy! Do your eastern tribes never dance war dances?"

After the land was secured its boundaries had to be set. Then my own gran demanded attention, and, last, I was anxious to put my castle on it before snow flew.

When we had laid the foundation of the Indian settlement I built my house with the help of skilled men. It was a spacious one of hewn logs, chinked with cut and clay plaster, showing its white ribs on the hill above the Fox.

The men hewed a slab settle and stationed it beside the hearth, a thing of beauty in its rough and lichen tinted bark, though you may not believe it. My floors I would have smooth and neatly joined, of hard woods which give forth a shining for wear and polish. Stools I had, easily made, and one large round of a tree for my table, like an eastern taborer.

Before the river closed and winter shut in Skenedonk and I went back to Green Bay. I did not know how to form my household and had it in mind to consult Mme. Ursule. Pawnee could be had, and many French landholders in the territory owned black slaves. Pierre Grignon himself kept one little negro like a monkey among the stately Indians.

Dealing with acres and with people wild as flocks would have been worth while if nothing had resulted except our welcome back to Pierre Grignon's open house. The grandmother hobbled on her stick across the floor to give me her hand. Mme. Ursule approached me with delaying, and Pierre said it was high time to seek winter quarters. The girls recounted harvest reels and even weddings, with dances following, which I had lost while away from the center of festivity.

The little negro carried my saddlebags to the guest room. Skenedonk was to sleep on the floor. Abundant preparations for the evening meal were going forward in the kitchen. As I mounted the stairway at Mme. Ursule's direction I heard a tinkle of china, her very best, which adorned racks and dressers. It was being set forth on the mahogany board.

The upper floor of Pierre Grignon's house was divided by a hall similar to the one below. I ran upstairs and halted.

Standing with her back to the fading light which came through one fan of window at the hall end was a woman's figure in a gray dress. I gripped the rail.

My first thought was, "How shall I tell her about Paul?" My next was, "What is the matter with her?" She ripped from head to foot in the shiver of rapture peculiar to her and stretched her arms to me, crying:

"Paul! Paul!"

"Oh, madame!" I said, bewildered and sick as from a stab. It was no comfort that the high lady who scarcely allowed me to kiss her hand before we parted clung around my neck. She trembled against me.

"Have you come back to your mother, Paul?"

"Eagle!" I pleaded. "Don't you know me? You surely know Lazarre!" She kissed me, pulling my head down in her arms, the velvet mouth like a baby's, and looked straight into my eyes.

"Madame, try to understand! I am Louis! If you forget Lazarre, try to remember Louis!"

She heard with attention and smiled. The pressure of my arms spoke to her. A man's passion addressed itself to a little child. All other barriers which had stood between us were nothing to this. I held her and she could never be mine. She was not ill in body—the contours of her upturned face were round and softened with much smiling—but mind sickness robbed me of her in the moment of finding her.

"She can't be insane!" I said aloud. "Oh, God, anything but that! She was not a woman that could be so wrecked."

Like a fool I questioned and tried to get some explanation.

Eagle smoothed my arm and nestled her hand in my neck.

"My little boy! He has grown to be a man—while his mother has grown down to be a child! Do you know what I am now, Paul?"

I choked a sob in my throat and told her I did not.

"I am your cloud mother. I live in a cloud. Do you love me while I am in the cloud?"

I told her I loved her with all my strength, in the cloud or out of it.

"Will you take care of me as I used to take care of you?"

I swore to the Almighty that she should be my future care.

"I need you so! I have watched for you in the woods and on the water, Paul! You have been long coming back to me."

I heard Mme. Ursule mounting the stairs to see if my room was in order.

Who could understand the relation in which Eagle and I now stood, and the claim she made upon me? She clung to my arm when I took it away. I led by the hand. Even this slight caused Mme. Ursule a shock at the head of the stairs.

"M's'r Williams!" My hostess paused and looked at us. "Did she come to you of her own accord?"

"Yes, madame."

"I never knew her to notice a stranger before."

"Madame, do you know who this is?"

"Madeleine Jordan."
"It is the Marquise de Ferrier."
"The Marquise de Ferrier?"
"Yes, madame."
"Do you know her?"
"I have known her ever since I can remember."
"The Marquise de Ferrier! But, M's'r Williams, did she know you?"
"She knows me," I asserted. "But not as myself. I am sure she knows me! But she confuses me with the child she lost! I cannot explain to you, madame, how positive I am that she recognizes me any more than I can explain why she will call me Paul. I think I ought to tell you, so you will see the position in which I am placed, that this lady is the lady I once hoped to marry."

"Saints have pity, M's'r Williams!" "I want to ask you some questions."
"Bring her down to the fire. Come dear child," said Mme. Ursule, coaxing Eagle. "Nobody is there. The bed rooms can never be so warm as the log fire, and this is a bitter evening."

The family room was unlighted by candles, as often happened; for such an illumination in the chimney was have quenched any paler glare. We had a few moments of brief privacy from the swarming life which constantly passed in and out.

I placed Eagle by the fire and she sat there obediently while I talked to Mme. Ursule apart.

"Was her mind in this state when she came to you?"

"She was even a little wilder than she is now. The girls have been a benefit to her."

"They were not afraid of her?"
"And who could be afraid of the dear child? She is a lady—that's plain. Ah, M's'r Williams, what she must have gone through!"

"Yet see how happy she looks!"
"She always seemed happy enough. She would come to this house, so when the Jordans went to Canada Pierre and I both said, 'Let her stay.'"

"Who were the Jordans?"
"The only family that escaped with their lives from the massacre when she lost her family. Mme. Jordan told me the whole story. They had friends among the Winnebagoes who protected them."

"Did they give her their name?"
"No, the people in La Baye did that. We knew she had another name. But I think it very likely her title was not used in the settlement where they lived. Titles are no help in pioneering."

"Did they call her Madeleine?"
"She calls herself Madeleine."
"How long has she been with your family?"

"Nearly a year."
"Did the Jordans tell you when this change came over her?"

"Yes. It was during the attack when her child was taken from her. She saw other children killed. The Indians were afraid of her. They respect demented people; not a bit of harm was done to her. They let her alone and the Jordans took care of her."

The daughter and adopted daughter of the house came in with a rush of outdoor air and, seeing Eagle first, ran to kiss her on the cheek one after the other.

"Madeleine has come down!" said Marie.

"I thought we should coax her in here some time," said Katarina.

Between them, standing slim and tall, their equal in height, she was yet like a little sister. Though their faces were unlined, hers held a divine youth.

"Paul has come," Eagle told Katarina and Marie. Holding their hands, she walked between them toward me and bade them notice my height. "I am his cloud mother," she said. "How droll it is that parents grow down little while their children grow up big!"

Mme. Ursule shook her head pitifully. But the girls really saw the droll side and laughed with my cloud mother. I left the room and was flinging myself from the house to walk in the chill wind, but she caught me.

"I will be good!" pleaded my cloud mother, her face in my breast.

Her son who had grown up big while she grew down little went back to the family room with her.

Our singular relationship was established in the house, where hospitality made room and apology for all human weakness.

Nobody of that region except the infirm stayed indoors to shiver by a fire. Eagle and the girls, in their warm capotes, breast with me the coldest winter days. She was as happy as they were; her cheeks tingled as pink as theirs. Sometimes I thought her eyes must answer me with her old self command, their bright grayness was so natural.

SMITH ON FINANCES

George W. Smith, of the Merchants' Association, had the following to say this morning on the present financial situation in the Territory: "I have been studying over the question of the call of a special session of the Legislature for the past two or three days and must say that I have not arrived at any definite conclusion yet. However, I believe that this is the only legal method of handling the situation but I deprecate the necessity, if any exists. For the present, the Governor and his counselors are perfectly able to handle the situation. If the Legislature could be confined to the one subject of revenue, without increasing the taxation rate, then I would believe in calling the Legislature. I would include under the heading of revenue, the making of good license laws. The events of the next few days, including the decision of the Supreme Court in the test case on the appropriation bill now before it, must result in some definite conclusion."
