

HAWAII MOURNS THE MARTYRED PRESIDENT

THE PEOPLE PAY TRIBUTE

HAWAII JOINS IN HONORING MCKINLEY.

Great Gathering in the Historic Kawaiahao Church in Memoriam of the Nation's Murdered President.

As though the population of the city were one vast family that had lost a loved and honored member, the people of Honolulu today set aside all business and joined together in public expressions of their sorrow over the death of William McKinley.

The closing of business houses was general. Few were open at all, and none had their doors ajar, though in some cases a little business was done in the early morning, behind closed doors.

It is said by old timers that Honolulu has never seen a day of such universal observance as this Saturday. The gloomy adornments of public buildings and private offices, the very general wearing of black by the people and the unanimity with which business men laid aside their ordinary avocations and devoted the day to showing their respect for the nation's third assassinated chief executive, made the day a notable one in Honolulu, and it will be long remembered.

The government band arrived at Kawaiahao church at about 9 o'clock this morning, when people were already gathered to get seats for the service. It took up a place on the grounds, mauka of the black-draped entrance, and began its solemn program with "Nearer, My God to Thee," continuing with funeral marches.

On the stage were Governor Dole, William G. Irwin, chairman of the committee of arrangements, Revs. Mackintosh, Westervelt, Damon, Erdman, Parker and Dyke. The Rev. W. M. Kincaid, who had only just arrived in Honolulu on the Mariposa, occupied a seat in the front at the right.

In the front row at the left sat Justice Perry, the only representative here of the Supreme Court, and family, United States Marshal Hendry, Judge Little, United States Judge Estes, Collector Stackable, Acting Internal Revenue Collector Couzins, Immigration Commissioner J. K. Brown, Judge Gear and Jared Smith and W. Porter Boyd, all federal appointees and the under officials of their departments.

On the other side at the front were members of the Governor's staff, of the Hawaiian National Guard and of George W. de Long Post, Grand Army of the Republic. Members of the other federal staffs also occupied places reserved for them.

REPRESENTATIVE MEETING

ALL CLASSES OF CITIZENS UNITE IN MOURNING.

Every Race and Nationality in the Islands Join in a Common Grief—The Seating Arrangements.

The foreign consuls were seated directly to the right of the stage. Seats had been apportioned to them. By the side of His Britannic Majesty's Consul W. H. Moore, sat Yang Wei Pin and Goo Kim, representatives of the Imperial government of Peking. Saito, Consul General of his Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Japan, was seated by Yang Wei Pin. W. A. Lantz was present as representative of Italy for Consul Schaefer and W. Pfotenbauer was in place of Consul Hackfeld of the German Empire. Consul Vazouas of France was in the row as well.

In the Royal pew were ex-Queen Liliuokalani, with Princes David and Cupid. Delegate to Congress Wilcox and Mrs. Wilcox occupied seats to the left. Members of the Territorial Government who are in the city, also occupied places to the front. Superintendent of Public Instruction Alatau T. Atkinson, Deputy Attorney General J. W. Cathcart, E. S. Boyd, Land Commissioner, Treasurer Wright and B. H. Wright, acting chief of the Department of Public Works, Andrew Brown, Tax Collector, Commissioner of Agriculture Wray Taylor and their assistants and clerks were in front places.

The church was crowded throughout with an audience that showed much of the colors of mourning and a crowd stood outside at the doorways. At 9:45 the edifice was practically filled with the exception of the Territorial and Government officials. In chairs immediately below and to the left of the draped platform embowered in palms and ferns, sat the Japanese and Chinese representatives. The Rev. W. M. Kincaid, who had only just arrived in Honolulu on the Mariposa, occupied a seat in the front at the right.

At 10 o'clock the strains of the band changed to "Nearer, My God to Thee" in solemn and slow movement as the G. A. R. Post marched up the center aisle, the color sergeant bearing the National Standard bound with crepe. Chairs were brought into requisition until the aisles were as crowded as the pews, only the main avenue being left open. The front pews were by this time filled with the government officials and their families.

As the organ pealed its first deep notes Governor Dole stepped upon the platform followed by the speakers of the day and the ministry; the choir following. Everything progressed decorously, the band ceased just as the organ began. The crowd standing at the back unable to gain seats, amid which were the members of the Salvation Army members who stood silently, patiently.

Sable cloth draped the galleries and windows. Crepe drooped in undisturbed in the quiet air from the pillars and clung to the organ. At precisely ten minutes after the hour the Rev. E. S. Timotee in Hawaiian spoke the invocation in musical phrase while the listening crowd bowed their heads in reverent silence. A restless infant cried and was taken out, the sunshine seemed to have hidden itself and Hawaii was clothed in unusual gloom.

W. G. Irwin spoke briefly of the calling of the citizens committee which had resulted in the present meeting and as chairman of that meeting introduced Governor Dole to the assembly to preside over the program. The Gov-

Will Ignore Sectional Lines and Seek The Welfare of all—Expressions Used To Different Public Men.

WASHINGTON, September 21.—President Roosevelt walked early to the White House today from the residence of his brother-in-law, Commander Cowles of the Navy, arriving shortly before 9:25 o'clock. Secretary Hay and Secretary Gage came almost upon his heels and saw the President for a few minutes in the Cabinet room. The doors of the White House were closed to the public, but admission, of course, was accorded to those who desired to see the President personally, and within an hour a score of men, prominent in public life, had called to pay their respects and to extend their good wishes for a successful administration. Among them were Senators Scott and Elkins of West Virginia, Senators Pritchard of North Carolina, Millard of Nebraska and Burton of Kansas, and Representatives Heatwole, McClary and Stephens of Minnesota, Gibson of Tennessee, Livingstone of Georgia and Dayton of West Virginia. All were delighted with the reception accorded them.

Senators Elkins and Scott congratulated the President upon the decision he had made when he took the oath of office. "That simple declaration," said Senator Scott, "immediately restored confidence in the business world."

To the Minnesota representatives, the President recalled the fact that it was in their State he had made his last public utterance as Vice-President, and that in that "confession of faith" as he characterized it, he committed himself to the policy of McKinley, to which he pledged his adherence upon assuming the responsibilities of his office at Buffalo.

Representative Livingstone of Georgia was especially pleased with his reception. The Georgia representative had congratulated the President, had expressed the hope that his administration would be a success and had informed him that as a Southern man and a Democrat he would contribute everything in his power to that end. The President replied that it would be his aim to be President of the whole people, without regard to geographical lines or class distinction; that it was the welfare of all which he should seek to promote.

The President was even more emphatic in his declaration to Senator Pritchard of North Carolina and Representative Klutz of North Carolina and Representative Gibson of Tennessee. "The South will support you most heartily," Senator Pritchard had said, speaking for all three of the Southern men. "The Democratic newspapers are predicting for you and of you, and the feeling of all the people for you, irrespective of party, is most kindly."

"I am going to be President of the United States and not any section," replied the President. "I don't care for sections, or sectional lines. When I was Governor of New York, I was told I could make four appointments in the army. When I sent in the names there were three from the South and the other from New York. They were brave men who deserved recognition for services in the Spanish war, and it did not matter what states they were from."

The President talked in the same vein with Senator Money of Mississippi when the latter called. Senator Quesada and General Nunez Governor of Havana province, both members of the Cuban constitutional convention, called to pay their respects. They talked briefly with the President about Cuban affairs. General Leonard Wood, Cuban General of Cuba, was present during this interview.

NAVAL COURT OF INQUIRY

MRS. MCKINLEY BETTER

SHE DISPLAYS GREAT WOMANLY FORTITUDE.

WASHINGTON, September 21.—The Schley court of inquiry reconvened today, and before it adjourned examined four witnesses. The most important incident of the day was the decision of the court withdrawing a question put by the court itself making a witness to give his opinion concerning a point under controversy.

The witness was Rear-Admiral Higginson, who participated in the Santiago campaign as Captain of the battleship Massachusetts. This vessel at one time was a part of the flying squadron commanded by Commodore Schley and the court asked him to state whether all possible measures were taken to capture or destroy the Spanish vessel Cristobal Colon, as it lay in Santiago harbor from May 27th to June 1, 1898. Counsel for Admiral Schley objected to the question on the ground that a reply would involve an opinion and not a statement of facts. Judge-Advocate Lemly admitted that the precedents were against questions of that character and the court withdrew this interrogatory. It is generally admitted that this decision will have the effect of materially shortening the term of the court, as well as the court's intention to cut out irrelevant questions and all hearsay testimony. In several cases the witnesses were admonished to relate only events coming within their own observation.

Admiral Dewey showed himself a prompt and methodical presiding officer. He called the court to order exactly at the designated hour and adjourned it just as promptly at 4 o'clock. The witnesses today were Rear-Admiral Higginson, who commanded the battleship Massachusetts during the Spanish war; Captain C. M. Chester, who commanded the cruiser Cincinnati; Major Thomas N. Wood of the Marine Corps, who commanded the marines on the Massachusetts and Commander G. B. Harber, who was the executive officer of the Texas, the latter being on the stand when the court adjourned. The attendance of the public was small.

SHE DISPLAYS GREAT WOMANLY FORTITUDE.

The Second Day After The Funeral She Arose Early and Declared She had Slept Well.

CANTON, Ohio, September 21.—Mrs. McKinley was one of the first in North Market street house to arise today. She said she had enjoyed a good sleep and that she felt better than at any time since the fatal night in Buffalo when her husband was shot. To Dr. Halsey she expressed a wish to take another drive today.

"Mrs. McKinley is improving rapidly," said the doctor. "This matter of driving out is a solution of the problem, I think. She needs little or no medicine, but exercise and good, healthy mental occupation will work a great change. I feel a high degree of confidence in her ultimate recovery and an almost certain that the dreaded collapse will not come. Mrs. McKinley's grief is intense. She is doing as well as could be expected, however. Too much encouragement should not be taken at this early day regarding her."

The widow is showing remarkable fortitude and her friends are encouraged to hope but are still apprehensive. There has been no material change in her condition during the past twenty-four hours. It is thought that she may be able to go for a short drive during the middle of the day. She will be encouraged to do so if possible. Her condition is favorable and it is felt the drive would do her good. The day is bright and moon warmer.

THE WHITE HOUSE. Is Being Renovated For The New Occupants. WASHINGTON, September 21.—Mrs. Roosevelt and her six children will join the President in the White House next Wednesday. Pending their arrival the historic mansion is undergoing an interior cleaning such as it has not had since the Cleveland's moved out. New carpets and matings are being laid all over the house. The public parlors have been redecorated and the private apartments, too, are being renovated and partly refurnished. The exterior has recently been given a new dress of glistening white, and the iron trimmings are bright with new gilt. It is likely that the spacious attic will be fitted as a playroom and gymnasium for the Roosevelt children.

The President is now superintending the closing up of her handsome home at Oyster Bay, and like a thorough housewife she will personally supervise the arrangements for the accommodation of her children and servants at the White House. The President will spend his first night in the White House next Monday. His chief office in moving in before his family arrives is to supervise the preparations for their arrival.

KNOX ON HUMPHREYS

THE RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE PRESIDENT.

Review of the Charges Against the Judge By the Bar Association—An Intemperate Newspaper.

Copies of the recommendations of the Bar Association of the United States in the matter of the charges of the Bar Association of Hawaii against Judge A. S. Humphreys were received in Honolulu yesterday. The decision covers 12 pages of printed matter, being much more lengthy than the press accounts that reached here a few days ago.

Attorney General Knox goes over each of the charges made, beginning with the first which is as to the control of a partisan newspaper. He reviews the evidence and exhibits at some length and finally concludes as follows: "These exhibits consist of editorials, paragraphs and articles of news having reference to the political conditions in Hawaii. Many of them are intemperate in language and violent in spirit. They attack with great vehemence the present political government of Hawaii, but Judge Humphreys is not mentioned in any responsibility for them, and there is no evidence to the contrary."

"The first charge has not been satisfactorily established." The second charge, that Humphreys took leading part in bitter political controversies is also expressed, after a review of the evidence. As to the bailiff law and the execution exemption law, the Attorney General said: "Neither of them were political measures, and I know of no reason why a judge, as any other citizen, should not take an active interest in the discussion of legislation which is non-political in character."

The attorney general characterizes Humphreys' charge to the Grand Jury, and alleged to be political, as "vigorous and learned" in its exposition of the rights and duties of a Grand Jury, and adds that it is "entirely correct in opinion as to the justice or propriety of references therein contained to political conditions prevailing in Hawaii before annexation."

The decision as to the third charge, that Judge Humphreys used his position improperly to promote his personal and political aims, is declared to be "utterly without any justification in fact and reckless and intemperate in spirit." The appointment of Hawaiian members of the legislature to the bar of the district courts is declared to be a matter entirely within the discretion of the judge, and as to the charge that there was anything wrong with the court's action in the Gill case, Knox reviewed the evidence and says "It is extraordinary that members of the Bar could prefer so grave a charge upon so insufficient grounds."

In the contempt matters, cited in support on a charge that Humphreys was "harsh, arbitrary, tyrannical and vindictive toward members of the bar," the attorney general generally takes the ground that he is not the judge of such matters. He says that not having been present he cannot judge of the conduct of the trial, and that the charge that there is nothing to show improper or corrupt motives. The cases of Hartwell, Kinney and Bailou are referred to, and the Attorney General says they submitted an affidavit which contained insulting language which was wholly unnecessary and plainly in contempt of court.

The charge of appointing as bailiff a person unfit for the position is declared to be "too trivial to require any comment." The charge that a political Grand Jury called in an account of darkness. Each side had a set to its credit. There will be no play this afternoon. The record of the tournament to date is as follows.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT. In the invitation tennis tournament, gentlemen's doubles, yesterday Adams and Brock played Dillingham and Roth. Play was not completed on account of darkness. Each side had a set to its credit. There will be no play this afternoon. The record of the tournament to date is as follows.

There will be no performance on Monday evening next.

HE OWES HIS LIFE TO THE FORE THOUGHT OF A COMPANION. While on a camping trip in Webster country, Mr. S. L. Stump of Norman-town, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody inflix. FRANK L. HOOGS, Manager.

SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 28, 1901.

A SILENT WORLD.

Had the Hawaiian Islands been in touch with the mainland, the busy hum of industry would have ceased on September 19, just as it ceased suddenly on that day in every city, town and village upon the continent. Manila could hear, and came into accord with the rest of the union, but the Hawaiian Islands, Guam and Tutuila had each to wait for communication by sea.

The complete cessation of all work throughout a continent at the moment of the last rites at Canton, Ohio, was a most remarkable instance of respect, perhaps ever shown. There were services and mourning processions and sermons and addresses, all of which showed how much the dead president had been beloved and respected, but the sudden stillness which fell upon the continent from Cape Cod to Cape Mendocino, the sudden ceasing of the heart throbs of a great nation which never cease day or night, is a subject to call forth wonder, and is worthy of contemplation.

One cannot but regard it as the most remarkable demonstration ever undertaken. At a given signal all car lines stopped, all electric cable messages stopped, the hundreds of thousands of clicking needles, whose beats never cease, stopped. All workmen stopped, pedestrians in the street stopped and remained for five minutes in silent contemplation, while bells tolled sadly, announcing that the burial service at Canton had commenced.

Such a sudden hush upon a single city was possible in the days of medievalism but then the city had to be small, but when we consider that a continent was hushed, at one and the same moment, that from the Pacific to the Atlantic there was for a period no sound save that of the solemnly tolling bells, it brings up a picture before the mind unique in both grandeur and simplicity. Nothing could more fittingly express a nation's grief.

Today we have shown our respect to the memory of the murdered President. Our insular and isolated position made our expressions of regret and sorrow come later than those of our fellow citizens upon the main land, but they are not one whit less heart felt. In loyalty to the great American, in deep sympathy with the national loss and in reprobation of the dastardly crime, no part of the Union feels more deeply than Hawaii. This feeling has been expressed from the moment the dread news arrived, and was untidely expressed today, when all our various nationalities united in the public expression of their sorrow.

THE WATER DEAL.

The great Kohala water deal is, for the present at least, shelved. In view of all conditions this is undoubtedly well. It is of more vital concern to the territory that the great industrial and agricultural possibilities of the Kohala mountains shall be wisely utilized for the greatest benefit now and hereafter, than they shall be quickly utilized.

F. M. Swanzy, who represents large interests upon the Island of Hawaii criticizes the immediate granting of this franchise very severely, and as Mr. Swanzy has had considerable experience with Mr. Gehr, one of the promoters of this enterprise, perhaps he may be regarded as having some authority for what he says.

Two years ago Mr. Gehr got a franchise for the Kohala-Hilo railroad. At that time B. F. Dillingham was desirous of building the road, and had done some preliminary work. But Mr. Gehr was put forward, or rather put himself forward, as the representative of all kinds of Chicago capital, while it was pointed out that B. F. Dillingham would have to find his capital, and with the great desire for getting at foreign capital, the franchise went to Mr. Gehr. The net upshot of the transaction has been that not a rail of that road has been laid. When matters came to be investigated, there had been a vague promise of capital by some one. The railroad scheme had never been subscribed for, and Mr. Gehr had to go to the United States with his franchise in his pocket, to see what he could do with it. He succeeded in doing nothing.

Now we come to this water scheme. The same Gehr appears and the same vague promises about capital are put forward. This time it is "Eastern capital," and the words are whispered as if they were some sort of spell. "Would you drive eastern capital away?" say the promoters. Certainly not. We would welcome the eastern capital, it has been what this country has needed. But the bulk of people after the Hilo-Kohala railway experience would like to know who is the eastern capitalist who is backing the scheme. He may dissipate into thin air as his Chicago prototype did before him, and the promoters will have to rush over to the mainland and hunt up millionaires who will give them a bonus for their preliminary work. This certainly is not what the public want, whether interested directly in the plantations affected or not.

Again, one fails to understand why there should be so much hurry. Why should not they have full time to examine for themselves. The very haste which is urged makes people feel suspicious. There may be no need for suspicion but a burned child dreads the fire, and the history of the Hilo-Kohala

Railroad is not such as is calculated to inspire confidence.

That the Kohala water scheme may have merits The Star has never denied. That the Hilo-Kohala Railroad had merits is also undeniable. As regards the Kohala water scheme, before it is allowed, those immediately interested should have ample time and opportunity to investigate it in all its bearings. If those people are satisfied and desire it, well and good. If they are not satisfied and do not desire it, their wishes should be regarded, and their reasons should be very carefully considered by the granting power.

The granting of franchises is a very serious thing. In nine cases out of ten the public gives most valuable privileges to private individuals for no specific return, yet those privileges can be hawked round and sold for solid cash. To tie up for a franchise extending over a period of ninety-nine years, is to tie up for a period of three human lives according to statistics. We are giving away the rights of people yet unborn, and whether that is justifiable is a question which has been debated again and again.

In the whole of this matter much of the criticism would have been shut off if the promoters would only have shown that they actually had the capital. Vague statements of Eastern capital are not satisfactory to business men, and it is as a business men's advocate that The Star writes.

DREAMS.

Who has been writing to the Fruit Trade Journal about the productiveness of Hawaii. We certainly have a productive soil, but some one must have been dreaming when the following was produced. The journal says:

"How great are the possibilities of Hawaii as a fruit and vegetable growing country will be understood when it becomes known that four crops of potatoes have been produced in succession on the same piece of land within twelve months. Radishes become edible in ten days after sowing. Strawberry vines bear fruit all the year. The berries are of the finest flavor. Cabbage grows all the year, and it apparently makes no difference whether it is planted in the spring, summer, autumn or winter. Parsley once sown grows forever, apparently. Lima beans continue to grow and bear for over a year, and they have to be gathered every week after starting to bear. Cucumbers bear the entire year and so do tomatoes, which, with proper attention, bear for years. Raspberries bear for six months. Pineapples come into bearing when the plants are four months old and bear in abundance for years. Lettuce can be planted at any time, and it develops quickly. The same is true of celery."

We can get two crops of potatoes, and two crops of corn, but the four crops for commercial purpose are mythical, besides potatoes are confined to the upper lands, and Island potatoes as a commercial product do not keep well, though excellent for the spot. One has been longing for years for fine strawberries, our local variety is "not" of the finest flavor. We depend upon California for our celery. Where the local raspberry crop manages to secrete itself, the wearied house-wife would like to know. With care and attention some of these things may be satisfactorily grown in certain localities, but statements such as the above are calculated to do us harm, because they are exaggerated and are sure to cause disappointment to any one who depends upon them.

The beer war has commenced. It was to be expected that it would. The large breweries on the mainland were not likely to allow a local firm to cut into their business without a strong struggle. The initial fight will be in Judge Estee's court.

All the public schools and Oahu College held exercises in commemoration of the death of President McKinley. These exercises had necessarily to be varied. They were made by the various principals to suit the capacity of the pupils. At the High School and Oahu College, addresses were given by prominent people. In the smaller schools the teachers gave sketches of the life of William McKinley and dwelt upon the crime which resulted in his death. There will not be a child in the Territory who has not been fully instructed upon these points in its school room, totally apart from what it may have learned in the family home.

Red tape is one of the worst of evils. It has a paralyzing effect upon everything that comes under its malign influence. The district court will have to dismiss cases against alleged criminals because the monthly pro rata for interpreters has been exceeded. In a polyglot community such as ours the need of interpreters is very great. We have Portuguese, Spanish, French, Italian, Chinese, Japanese, German, Galician, Norwegian, English and Hawaiian among our population. In the district court there is no need of an Hawaiian interpreter, because the Judge is, himself, the best Hawaiian scholar in the Territory, but he cannot conduct cases in Galician, Spanish or French. To insist, as the auditor's red tape machine insists, that only the pro rata of $40 a month be spent for interpreters is simply ludicrous. The next month, not $20 might be spent. However some departments of a government become hide bound and a little medicine is needed to ease them. The prevent the district court from getting interpreters is practically defeating justice. After Judge Wilcox has discharged a few prisoners, some sense in this line may dawn upon the auditor's clerks.

A MAN SENT FROM GOD

"He loved to meet man socially, to clasp the hand in friendly greeting, to enter with them into their joys and disappointments, their hopes and their fears, their ambitions and their pleasures. The interests of the working man were always before him and he studied constantly to ameliorate their conditions.

"In his social life he kept himself pure and unspotted from the world. He was a lover of home life and domestic joys. To his wife he was always the lover, courteous and tender, the active sympathizing partner. Marriage to him was a sacred tie, scandal he abominated and was always ready with gracious tact to silence the busy tongues and heal the threatening rifts in the great circle of social life that surrounded the Capitol and the White House at Washington. He was always a peacemaker in things political, social or commercial, always the first gentleman in the nation as his wife is styled the first lady of the land.

"William McKinley was essentially a patriot, one who loved country better than himself. At duty's call, at an age when his life was just opening to young manhood he shouldered the gun and fought for the cause of liberty and enfranchisement. Such was his military career, and he won promotion from the ranks to the title of Major McKinley, a title by which his old comrades of the Grand Army are so proud to remember him by as that of president.

"The secret of his life. What is it? What but the God given talent, a strong and enduring purpose in life, self mastery and underlying all, the principles of that Master of men who came into the world to reveal to us the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man."

HAWAII LOST A FRIEND

GOVERNOR DOLE SPEAKS OF MCKINLEY.

His Special Knowledge of the Islands, Dating From the Time of His Brother's Residence Here.

Governor Dole began his address by saying that the people of the Hawaiian Islands remembered McKinley specially as a friend of the Hawaiian Islands. "There is no doubt that his interest in the Islands began with the presence of his brother here as consul," said the Governor. "The correspondence between the brothers must have interested William McKinley in the affairs and institutions of Hawaii and the interest was increased by Consul McKinley's term as Hawaiian representative at San Francisco.

"I think no one who has conversed with William McKinley, or who has read the official correspondence regarding the Hawaiian Islands, can doubt that he has always had a warm place in his mind for the people of Hawaii. So I feel that we mourn him largely as a friend of our Islands.

"McKinley was a man of the people. He remained essentially a man of the people to the end. In his White House receptions, which some of his predecessors regarded as a burdensome duty, his was the attitude of welcome to all. I believe he regarded the meetings with the people as a source of inspiration. He met all alike, of every race, with a warm, glad hand shake and a pleasant smile."

WESTERVELT'S ADDRESS

THE PURPOSE ACCOMPLISHED BY THE MARTYRED.

Decorations and Chairs Will be Left for Memorial Services Tomorrow—Special Musical Program.

The Governor introduced the Rev. Westervelt in lieu of the Rev. W. McKinley he having been asked to be excused from speaking although present on account of Mr. Westervelt having already prepared his address.

Mr. Westervelt spoke in ardent approval of the Rev. Parker's speech and drew the attention of his audience to the tributes of Bishop Andrews and other persons, commending the attributes so mentioned to the notice of the young people of the Territory represented by the nationalities present.

"McKinley as testified by Bishop Andrews was the man incorruptible in personal and political integrity, the noblest papers spoken of him as a personality more graceful and winsome than any that ever graced the office of Chief Executive.

"That there was less of partisan feeling and sectional spirit in him than in any other President, that he made greater effort to be more the president of the American people than any predecessor. He was a modest and Christian gentleman, a true American.

"William McKinley," continued Mr. Westervelt, "was well worthy to be placed among the long list of martyrs that have died through all the ages, shedding their blood to bring about universal peace, universal brotherhood the Kingdom of Christ."

As one voice the congregation lifted up their voices in "America" until the roof re-echoed the national hymn. The Rev. J. P. Erdman pronounced the benediction and the people quietly filed out of the church, still evidently impressed with the solemnity of the occasion. Slowly the edifice emptied, the organ playing the Dead March in Saul the strains of which were taken up by the band outside as the crowd dispersed.

The decorations and the chairs will be left over in the church for the memorial services tomorrow which will be as follows. In the morning in Hawaiian, with the Sunday School quarterly review, and in the evening the Rev. Westervelt's English sermon the subject of which will be President McKinley's official text, Kings I, chapter 3, verses 7-9. There will be a special musical program at this service at which the pupils from the Kamehameha schools will assist.

THE NEW PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, September 18.—President Roosevelt is expected to return to Washington Friday morning, when he will call at the White House, where his private secretary, William Loeb, has already been established. The President will probably adopt the plan of visiting the White House from day to day until he shall formally have taken up his residence there.

WAILAUA MAY BE WRECKED

MANAGER LANSING GOES TO INVESTIGATE.

Wailaia Reported by Captain of Ada To Have Been Dangerously Near Kaena Point Wednesday Night.

According to advices brought here this morning by the schooner Ada, there is a very strong probability that the schooner Wailaia is wrecked off Kaena Point. So urgent is the matter that the manager of the Oahu Shipping company consider the news, that he decided to take the first train to Wailaia and try to ascertain the probable fate of the vessel. The Wailaia had a crew of thirty men and if she was wrecked, there is, of course, a possibility that all or some of these men may have been lost.

Captain Charles Gatter of the schooner Ada is authority for thinking that the schooner Wailaia, may have been wrecked. Both the Ada and Wailaia left Kaena Point on Wednesday morning. Captain Gatter says that he saw the Wailaia standing in toward Kaena Point. Vessels sailing from Kaena Point in order to catch the land breeze on the quarter, if they can but make this, it is comparatively easy work beating into Honolulu.

The Wailaia was taking long tacks while the Ada made short ones. The result was that by noon the Ada was ahead of the Wailaia. Toward evening the course of the Wailaia was changed entirely and she took a northerly tack heading well in toward Kaena Point.

It was about 7 o'clock when this course was taken and by 8 o'clock the schooner was standing close in shore and could have made the Point. Captain Gatter says however that by that time, instead of meeting the land breeze which had been expected, the Wailaia encountered a dead calm. With the strong current which sweeps along that part of the coast there was a strong likelihood that the vessel would go on the rocks. The Wailaia is a cranky sort of craft and once she gets in such a position it is almost certain that she will go ashore.

Captain Gatter realized the danger of the vessel and he kept a special lookout for the other schooner. In the morning he saw absolutely no trace of her. It would have been impossible he says for her to have gone past him over toward Wailaia, and he would certainly have seen her had she taken the other course toward Waianae. The Ada skirted the coast coming up from Kaena Point but absolutely nothing was seen of the schooner Wailaia. Captain Gatter seemed to think that the vessel had been wrecked or else was in distress. Manager Lansing seemed to entertain a similar opinion for he said he would take the first train to Wailaia to try and ascertain the fate of his vessel. The Wailaia was in command of a native captain and was fully insured. There is a possibility that her captain may have stood in and gone ashore for the purpose of meeting some native friends.

THEIR PURPOSE THWARTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 28.—The local immigration officers have refused landing to two Japanese females, Yuki Yasamura and Chizu Tsuchimori, who arrived on the Doric, having information that they were sent over for immoral purposes. The former presented a passport which was issued a few years ago by a woman who came over on the Belgic, and when confronted with this evidence the present holder of the document admitted that her true name was Yiru Sato, and that the passport had been sent to her from this country. The other came as the sister of a Japanese who is known as an importer of women, and who finally confessed that she was to be the inmate of a disorderly house.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.

Mail Carrying From Sydney to London.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 15.—A cable from London yesterday announcing the arrival there of Australian mails that left here on the 3rd gave evidence of the final success of a vast attempt at record-making in the carrying of mails. The mails reached London over three days ahead of time, after a journey of 15,675 miles from Sydney.

The mails left Sydney on the Oceanic Steamship Ventura, on August 13. She passed through Honolulu as usual, and hastened to San Francisco losing a day there by reason of quarantine rules which prevented her getting the mails on the evening overland train. From San Francisco the train bearing the mails with which it was desired to make a record had special rush orders, and they got to New York far ahead of time. The entire 15,000 mile journey, across sea and land and including stops at

ASK VIGILANCE COMMITTEE

STRIKERS VIOLENCE LEADS TO SUCH TALK.

Said That the Teamsters Strike Would Soon End But That Workmen Fear Great Personal Danger.

The San Francisco C. H. of September 18 contains the following: The lawlessness prevailing in the city at the present time, and which has created veritably a reign of terror, was the subject of discussion among business men yesterday, and, according to Manager Renner of the Draymen's Association, the opinion was freely expressed that steps ought to be taken for the appointment of a vigilance committee of the same general scope and character as the famous organization which struck terror to and purged the city of the lawless element in San Francisco in 1856. The failure of Mayor Phelan and Governor Gage to provide the relief demanded by the citizens is regarded by many reputable business men as being tantamount to the command to do the next best thing, namely, to appoint such a committee.

Manager George Renner of the Draymen's Association said yesterday that the necessity of stringent measures was generally recognized and that a vigilance committee was widely advocated. He stated that he was in sympathy with the proposition and hoped a movement to that end would be inaugurated.

"A state of anarchy prevails in this city in consequence of the lawlessness of many of the strikers," Mr. Renner said. "Men who are trying to earn an honest living are waylaid, beaten almost to a jelly, and robbed in the bargain. I know of several cases where inoffensive men were attacked and their arms deliberately broken by the assailants. Were it not for the leaders of the strikers the men would return to work within twenty-four hours."

Rheumatism

Two Bottles Make a Complete Cure.

Perhaps your rheumatism is not bad enough to confine you to the bed; yet your muscles and bones ache every time a storm approaches, making you generally miserable. We can bring you positive and prompt relief.

Mrs. Isabella Menzies, of Gishorne, New Zealand, sends this letter and her photograph:

"I took a hard cold which resulted in a severe attack of rheumatism. I tried all kinds of remedies without relief. Then I tried

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

I was not disappointed, for after taking only two bottles the rheumatism all left me and I was cured. I want to do everything I can to make known what a wonderful medicine your Sarsaparilla is for those suffering the severe pains of rheumatism."

To make a quick cure, take Ayer's Pills with the Sarsaparilla. They make the liver active, cure biliousness and constipation.

MOURNING IN SCHOOLS

EXERCISES YESTERDAY AT OAHU COLLEGE.

High School, Normal School and Kaahumanu Schools Each the Scene of Appropriate Observances.

At Oahu College there was an impressive gathering of students and visitors yesterday afternoon to honor the memory of McKinley. The college hall was decorated with black for the occasion. President Smith presided at the meeting, which was opened with a musical selection by Professor F. A. Baulaseyus. After a hymn by the audience the Rev. J. P. Erdman offered prayer and Judge G. F. Little delivered the address of the afternoon.

John Little's address was a very eloquent tribute to the high character of the murdered President and he expressed in most effective language the sorrows and sympathies of those gathered to mourn.

Several other citizens were called upon to speak, and remarks were made by J. B. Atherton, P. C. Jones, W. R. Castle, Dr. Emerson and A. F. Judd. The school sang the national hymn and the meeting dispersed with Chopin's funeral march as a prelude.

At the High School exercises of a similar nature, attended by many pupils and teachers, were held in the large class room down stairs. The following was the program: Hymn, "America." School; Prayer, Rev. Mr. Trent; Hymn, "To God on High." School; Sketch of McKinley's Life, Mr. Lull; Solo, Charles E. Eiston; Lessons of McKinley's Life, Prof. M. M. Scott; Reading, Miss Cartwright; Hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee." School; Benediction.

The Normal School also joined in the general observance of mourning. The program was as follows:

Raising the Flag at Half-Mast, Color Guard; Eugie Galt, C. A. Mackintosh; Song, "My Country, 'tis of Thee." School; Recitation, Ninetieth Psalm, School; A Review of McKinley's Life, Miss Dayton; Recitation, "Crossing the Bar," Miss Freck; Song, "Nearer My God to Thee." School; Address, Theodore Richards; Reading, "Farewell to a Good American," Miss Hopkins; Recitation, "Why Should We Weep for Those Who Die?" Miss Francis; Song, "Lord, While for All Mankind We Pray," School.

At Kaahumanu school about 400 children gathered to take part in similar exercises. McKinley, his career and the sudden end to his life, were treated of by James Biasedell and Adelaide Enos, while Lincoln was the theme of Maggie Bryan. Garfield, was spoken of by Manuel Alvarez. Poems treating of the same general subject were excellently delivered by Helen Sanderson, Callie Lucas and Mary Aylet; the latter reading a very touching little production by Ella Wheeler Wilcox. The program was interspersed with sacred and patriotic songs, in which the entire school joined. The closing address was by the Rev. J. P. Erdman.

The Japanese Young Men's Club rooms on Vineyard street were the scene of a meeting on Wednesday afternoon, when a committee was appointed to draft resolutions to be sent to Washington, in behalf of the Japanese residents of Hawaii. It was also decided that the Japanese should be represented at today's meeting in Kawaiahao church.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEETS.

Resolutions on the Death of the President.

The Bar Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon to take appropriate action on the death of the President. Judge J. L. Kaulukou was chosen chairman in the absence of President Hartwell, and D. H. Case acted as secretary.

P. L. Weaver introduced some resolutions expressing the sentiments of the meeting. Judge Stillman made an address recalling incidents in the life of the late executive. The resolutions were adopted and on motion of George A. Davis it was decided that they should be engrossed and sent to Mrs. McKinley. They are as follows:

"Whereas, the American people have sustained a great loss in the tragic death of President William McKinley at the hands of a cowardly assassin, while extending the hand of cordial fellowship to the common people of the land; and

"Whereas, a brilliant record in international relations, in championing the cause of the oppressed in Cuba and in curbing and moderating the revenge of nations against the Chinese Empire in its extremity, has rendered his name illustrious; and

"Whereas, he has guided the ship of state in stormy and unknown waters, and set her on her new course of prosperity with the hand of a master; only to be stricken down at the helm in the full progress of his voyage; and

"Whereas, the strong hand that has relaxed its hold has always been extended to promote the material interests of the people of Hawaii, and when stricken down was developing a commerce in the Pacific that will benefit Hawaii in particular; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that in the death of His Excellency, William McKinley, President of the United States, this Bar Association and the people of Hawaii have lost a most able President, and a generous and enlightened friend.

"We mourn our loss."
"Honolulu, September 27, 1901."

The members present at the meeting were: Attorneys Kaulukou, Mead, Stillman, McClanahan, Andrade, Atkinson, Andrews, Parke, Melverton, Weaver, Chillingworth, Holmes, Kaulia, Kaneakua, Whitney, Case and Davis.

Jewish memorial services in honor of the late President McKinley will be held at Progress hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted by Dr. Meyer. Kruger will provide piano music and "Nearer My God to Thee" will be sung by Miss Alice Bennette. Some of the members of the Lilliputian company will also take part in the musical program.

SPORTS POSTPONED.

Today being Memorial Day, the following local sporting events have been postponed: Pacific Tennis Club's invitation tournament; Winter League baseball game; Malle Ilmas' practice football game with H. Hackfeld & Co.

Tomorrow evening the Japanese Methodist and Congregational churches will unite in a meeting memorial of the late President McKinley. The services will be held at the Japanese Methodist

POLICE AFTER TRUANTS
DOZEN BOYS ARRESTED YESTERDAY.
Had Been Playing "Hokey" From School—Policemen in Citizens Clothes Will Watch for Offenders.
The police have inaugurated a crusade against school children who play truant. Hereafter any who are caught loading about the streets will be arrested and sent to the police station. Complaint has been made to Captain Parker by several school teachers recently about boys absenting themselves from school and the teachers also reported the matter to High Sheriff Brown. The result was that Captain Parker yesterday instructed his men to arrest any boys who were loafing about the streets. No less than twelve were gathered in yesterday morning. All were locked up at the police station. After being lectured by the officers and warned not to repeat the occurrence again, they were turned loose. The fathers of several of the boys were sent for and asked to instruct their children not to remain away from school. Officers will be specially detailed to attend to this matter. They will wear citizen's clothes and do nothing but patrol the streets looking after truant boys. If any girls are discovered away from school without proper excuse, they may also be taken into custody. These officers will be out in the morning from 9 o'clock until noon. In addition to these specials, the regular officers on the beats will also look out for truants.

Don't be Tormented by Mosquitoes evenings when you can have your room free of them by using the latest invention, the

SKEET-GO

This small device is used over ordinary lamp chimneys, and a teaspoonful of powder will last an evening. It possesses so many valuable features that once used you will never be without a Skeet-Go. They are smokeless, and produce an agreeable odor from a powder which many test owing to its objectionable smoke, injuring the eyes and lungs. All the bad features from burning powder are removed. It is twice as effective as using the powder in the old way.

Get one and spend a pleasant evening without the buzz of these flying tormentors.

Semi-Annual

Sale of Remnants
September 30 to
October 5

Never make Remnant week till we're ready—then we do it carefully,—forcefully—make it an event to be talked about and remembered.
For three weeks we have been busy measuring up every remnant and dress length—Silks to Calicoes, Laces, Lawns, Batistes, Organdies, Cambrics, Ginghams, Sheetings, Shirtings, Table Linens, Ribbons to Linings—nothing but what's carefully measured—yards and price on each in plain figuring; so that you can practically wait on yourself.
There have been no dull times in this store. The last half-year's business amounted to many thousands more than in the corresponding period last year—hence more remnants; and as to price—well, those of you who attended our sale six months ago know what kind of prices we put on remnants. Those who didn't will be well paid to come in during this week.
