AN APPEAL TO LAW.

We trust that Mr. Thurston will be quick and shrewd enough to apply to the United States Supreme Court for an injunction restraining President Cleveland from an illegal and unconstitutional act.

A seizure of this Government by force without the consent of Congress, which alone has the power to declare war, is a proper subject for Supreme Court interference.

Great Britain appealed to the American tribunal in the fisheries matter. Why cannot Hawaii appeal in this one?

THE CASE OF BLOUNT.

The investigation made on these Islands by James H. Blount was essentially one-sided. From the start his latch-string was always out to the Royalist, no matter whether he was a leader, a fish-monger or a hula-driver; and his door was often shut to the Annexationist though he might be a member of the Government or a distinguished leader of the cause.

Blount's investigation was essentially one-sided. From the start his latch-string was always out to the Royalist, no matter whether he was a leader, a fish-monger or a hula-driver; and his door was often shut to the Annexationist though he might be a member of the Government or a distinguished leader of the cause.

We have not told half the story. What was Blount's famous—or infamous—postscript, but an incentive to a Royalist revolt? And what was his visit with Cornwell to Maui but the commencement of a monarchist conspiracy? Suppose Ambassador Eustis had gone from Paris to Corsica with a corps of Bonapartist malcontents; had spoken friendly words to them and sat by while they publicly denounced the Government of France? Would not M. Carnot have sent him his passports and would not the erring diplomat have recalled in disgrace? We can but wish now that the Provisional Government had declined when the Maui trip was made to have further relations with Blount.

Far from coming here as an impartial judge, the Georgia politician came to make political capital for Cleveland against his Republican predecessor. He had a case to make for the prosecution, and he seems to have made it with a lack of conscience and shame which will, we believe, make his name stink in American as well as in Hawaiian annals.

All the birds and beasts of prey on the Royalist roost act as if they wanted carnage at once. Let them keep an eye on the men who go gunning.

Company D has a business meeting tonight. A fourteen-year-old Chinese girl has joined the Roman Catholic church. The Kinau will sail at 5 p. m., and will take the mails for Maui and Hawaii. A very determined foe prevails which it won't pay our Royalist to trade with. The Government will not depart from the purpose of the proclamation of January 10th. The Metropolitan Market announces the receipt of fresh salmon and halibut by the Warrimoo.

The British steamer Champion has been ordered to remain here pending a settlement of political troubles. Prospects for a cricket match next Thursday between the officers of H. M. S. Champion and the local club are good. Smith, the bus man, will put on another line of buses next Monday to run from the corner of King and Fort streets to Waikiki. Judge A. G. M. Robertson has received the appointment of Commissioner of Private Ways and Water Rights for Waialua District, Maui.

Whether the ex-Queen will be restored or not the Honolulu minstrels will give their first performance at the Opera House to-morrow night. The regular monthly meeting of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society will be held to-morrow evening, the 25th inst., at the residence of B. F. Dillingham at 7:30 o'clock.

The steamer China, which left Honolulu on the 17th inst., made the trip to the Coast in five days, fourteen hours and twenty minutes, which is the fastest time ever made between this port and San Francisco. In the District Court this morning Ah Young pleaded guilty of having opened unlawfully in his possession on November 23rd, at 11 a. m., and was fined $30 and costs. He also pleaded guilty to a second charge, on which sentence was reserved.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. T. Stackor and child have gone to Hanalei. Frank Pabis has resigned as District Judge of Koolapoko. The Australian cricket team returns to the Warrimoo from a tour of England and the States. Col. Z. S. Spaulding and C. Stoeckel, the photographer, came over from Kapa yesterday on the James Makee. James Sherwood is confined to his room by injuries to his back and ribs, caused by falling over a piece of timber. Alderman Vaines of Sydney, who has been making a tour of the world, accompanied by his wife, returns to Sydney by the Warrimoo.

THE LINES CASES.

The five libel cases against the editor of the STAR were called in the District Court this morning. In the first the defendant waived examination and was committed for trial at the Circuit Court. The other four charges were continued till to-morrow. One of the ex-Queen's employees at Waialua, named Moses Waikan, who has been afflicted with a large aneurismal tumor over the heart, cut it open last week and died a few minutes afterwards. The STAR is enabled to announce authoritatively that the rumor regarding Attorney-General Smith's resignation is utterly untrue. Mr. Smith has no intention whatever of resigning.

IT IS A WONDERFUL VICTORY.

Says Congressman Thos. B. Reed of the Polling. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Congressman Thomas B. Reed was in the city last evening on his way from Washington to his home in Portland. Concerning the result of Tuesday's elections, he said: "It is certainly a wonderful victory and so universal that it may be safely regarded as a full popular expression which will do the country much good. It will effect even the secret sessions of the Committee on Ways and Means." Mr. Reed assumed his broadest smile here. "The voice is loud enough to penetrate to even where they are," he continued, "but the people must recollect that persistence is necessary to obtain the fruits of victory. They must keep on giving daily voice to their wishes and see that they are carried out. Unless they do so I fear they may not be fully understood. A second election is sometimes needed to interpret the preceding one, and the interpretation yesterday of the election of 1892 is in very large print. It is a good idea, however, to keep it posted on all corners." Asked for his views as to the causes leading to the Republican victory, the ex-speaker said: "Oh, that's too long a story."

CREAN DESQUET.

A Rebellion Against the Government Well Under Way. NEW YORK, November 13.—Leaders of the Cuban revolutionary party in this city say they have private advice which state that a rebellion against the Government is well under way. The movement is thought premature, but enthusiastic Cubans report success. The leader of the revolutionary party in America, Jose Marti, editor of La Patria, says undoubtedly the revolutionary movement in Cuba is worthy of consideration. The Government has kept close watch on all communications from the island, thus revealing the gravity of the state of affairs. Cubans in the United States are anxious to help their country establish a lasting republic. General Canillo, leader of the rebellion, is said to have succeeded in creating a general uprising in the province of Villas. It is not believed that the difficulty has yet extended beyond the central portion of the island.

THE ROYALTY TRIAL.

The trial of J. P. Bowen for larceny in the fourth degree has been going on all day before the following jury: Fred Philip, J. H. Burns, Charles Carter, H. W. Mier, E. O. White, J. M. Tracy, J. M. Webb, George Dillingham, Frank Winery, J. S. Martin, E. A. McInerney and W. G. Brash. The prosecution placed on the stand H. A. Wildmann, James Dadd, Wm. E. Terrell, J. W. Young, Kimiona, J. C. Chancy, J. H. Hunt, B. H. Lewis, C. M. White, E. W. Langley, Moke Kiele, J. J. Sullivan and E. C. Mercadante, the latter being on the stand when the reporter left. W. A. Kinney for the prosecution and C. W. Ashford for the defense.

THE REBELLION SERIOUS, BUT THE RESTORATION OF THE MONARCHY IMPOSSIBLE.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The representative in this city of the United Press to-day had an interview with Baron Penelo, who was Brazilian Minister to the United States for several years, during the regime of the Emperor Dom Pedro. Baron Penelo disclaimed all knowledge of the movements or policy of Admiral Mello, who is in command of the Brazilian fleet, and said that he had no information as to the truth or falsity of the reports that the object of the rebellion was to restore the monarchy in Brazil. He added that the rebellion was not a child's play; on the contrary it was a serious movement. It was difficult to guess what the issue would be. Admiral Mello appeared to possess the sinews of war, although Baron Penelo declared that he could not say where he obtained them. Unlike President Peixoto, the insurgents have not a state treasury at their disposal, and that are spending large sums of money. Baron Penelo further said that he knew Admiral Mello, and considered him strong intellectually and tenacious of purpose. He is a good man, the Baron concluded, and he knows just exactly what he is doing. He is not the sort of man to embark on a chimerical enterprise.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Members of the Brazilian legation here have heard nothing from Rio Janeiro as to President Peixoto's reviving martial law or Admiral Mello's preparing to bombard the city again. They discredit the current reports on both subjects. A dispatch from Paris says that the Brazilian minister there declined to make any statement as to his latest advice from Rio Janeiro. "The Duc de Nemours, Count d'Eu's father, would never advance his son money with which to embark on the conquest of Brazil. I am convinced that the Count has no hopes of the restoration of the empire."

Senator Guancha, formerly Brazilian deputy, and at the same time editor of the Journal de Commercio, in Rio de Janeiro, said to a United Press correspondent in Paris to-day: "I should not be a bit surprised if Admiral Mello began the revolution on his own account. He has no support in the country, and has obtained no money from persons in the republic. Hence, when he opened his hostilities, he must have been supplied with funds by monarchist committees in London and Paris. His go-between in such transactions is Hermanno Ramos, one of his relatives. If any proof were wanted of Mello's monarchist affiliations, his nomination of Sr. Martins as Foreign Minister of the Provisional Government ought to be sufficient. Martins headed the revolution in South Brazil some months since, with the express object of restoring the monarchy. The return to the monarchy is impossible, however, in Brazil. If Mello should take Rio Janeiro and try to restore the old Imperial family, all the richest provinces would declare themselves independent states under the republican form of government. The rich provinces have prospered greatly under the republic. The restoration of the monarchy would cause a decline in prosperity, and they would refuse to make the sacrifice."

THE HISTORIAN, Parkman, is dead. The trial of Mayor Harrison's murderer will take place on November 27th. One thousand people were destroyed by the dynamite explosion at Sautunder. The San Francisco Examiner arranges Cleveland for his obstinacy and Caesarism. Senator Sherman has declared for McKinley as Republican President in 1896. Mexico will rescind all railroad concessions the details of which have not been fully complied with. The Populist members of Congress have issued an address to the people to take up the silver cause. The King of Ashantee was stoned to death recently by insurgents in the streets of Coomassie, the capital. The profits on the Ferris wheel at the World's Fair were $120,805 50. Receipts at 50 cents a head were $736,805 50. It is claimed that 1100 were drowned by the sinking of the transport Rio de Janeiro which was rammed by the Republica. M. Detrovat, representing Le Journal, Paris, sent to interview Bismarck, was expelled from Friedrichshagen by order of the Prince's secretary.

THE "STAR'S" EXTRAS. An extra edition of the STAR, containing the most important of the news this morning, was issued at 10:30, an hour in advance of its competitors. The edition of three hundred was disposed of in 10 minutes. A second edition, containing all the news as of the Hawaiian situation was printed at 12:30 and was soon exhausted.

A Southern California paper cuts that ex-Minister Rollin M. Daggett is editor of the "best and brightest daily in San Francisco."

CLEVELAND IN BAD ODOR.

A Demand for His Prompt Impeachment.

GREAT REPUBLICAN GAINS.

Immense Revision Against the Democracy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—In a report to the President, dated October 18, made public to-day, Secretary Gresham, after reviewing the history of the Hawaiian revolution, declared that the treaty should not again be sent to the Senate. He says in his dispatch to Mr. Foster, of January 18, describing the revolution, that "Mr. Stevens, the committee of public safety having taken possession of the Government buildings, archives and treasury, and installed the Provisional Government at the head of the respective departments—promptly recognized the Provisional Government as the de facto government of the Hawaiian Islands." In Secretary Foster's communication to the President, dated October 18, before him the treaty of annexation, with a view to obtaining the advice and consent of the Senate, he says: "At the time the Provisional Government took possession of the Government buildings, no troops or officers of the United States were present or took any part whatever in the proceedings. No public recognition was accorded to the Provisional Government by the United States Minister until after the Queen's abdication, and when they were in effective possession of the Government buildings, the archives, the barracks, the police station and all the public works of the Government."

Some disappointment is felt in Administration circles at the expressions of public opinion against the restoration policy, but there are no indications of wavering of purpose. There was a meeting between Secretary Gresham and Minister Thurston, of the Hawaiian Government, yesterday at the public building, and the meeting was a friendly one. Mr. Thurston declined to give any information of the intelligence he received from Honolulu yesterday by cipher dispatch, except to say that the Associated Press dispatches seemed to be accurate in what they had had occurred. As to anything to occur he refused to have anything to say. The Secretary made an appointment with Mr. Thurston again at the department, and it is expected that this interview will serve to throw some light on the problem as to what diplomatic relations this Government claims to have with the Hawaiian Islands.

It is learned on good authority that the cabinet is a unit in endorsement of Cleveland's plan for the restoration of Queen Liliuokalani. This fact developed from a public opinion poll taken at a meeting, the Hawaiian question was the chief topic of discussion. The meeting was attended by all the members except Secretary Smith, who is in Chicago. Secretary Morton remained with the President after adjournment and it is presumed took luncheon with him. After the meeting a reporter was informed by a gentleman who participated in the meeting that nothing would be made public to-day on the Hawaiian question as a result of the meeting or otherwise. The cabinet has been considering the advisability of giving Commissioner Blount's report to the press, but it was thought best to withhold it until the next steamer arrived from Honolulu. In view of public clamor for evidence of the truth of the assertions made by Gresham, there is a belief that it may be wise to satisfy the clamor. If the cabinet decides in favor of another official utterance, an abstract will be made of the evidence gathered by Mr. Blount, together with his report or part of it. The evidence covers about 5,000 pages of typewritten matter. The testimony was taken in shorthand and verified. A very large number of people were examined. They comprised pretty nearly every prominent person on the islands, from the Queen down, including Royalists and Annexationists. The trend of the testimony is all one way, to-wit, that the Queen would not have been overthrown but for the intervention of the American Minister. The evidence contains the original letters of Minister Stevens and the original letters of Dole's letter is particularly interesting. It shows by the date and text that it was written and sent to Stevens by the Provisional Government was established by the action of the American minister and the presence of the troops landed from the Boston, and its continued existence is due to the belief of the Hawaiians that, if they made an effort to overthrow it, they would encounter the armed forces of the United States. The earnest appeals to the American Minister for military protection by the officers of the Provisional Government after it had been recognized, shows the utter absurdity of the claim that it was established by a successful revolution of the people of the islands.

These appeals, and the confession by the men who made them of their weakness and timidity. Men conscious of their strength do not make such moves. It is now claimed that the majority of the people having the right to vote under the constitution of 1852 never favored the existing authorities or annexation to this or any other country. They earnestly desire that the Government of their choice shall be restored and its independence be respected. Mr. Blount states that while in Honolulu he did not meet a single annexationist who expressed his willingness to submit the question to a vote of the people, he did not talk with one on that subject who did not insist that if the islands were annexed suffrage should be so restricted as to give complete control to the foreigners or whites, while representative annexationists have repeatedly made similar statements to the undersigned. The Government of Hawaii surrendered its authority under a threat of war. Until such time only as the Government of the United States, upon the fact being proven to it, should reinstate the Government as existed, to exist until the terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon. A careful consideration of the facts will, I think, convince you that the treaty which was withdrawn from the Senate for further consideration should not be re-submitted for its action thereon.

Should not the great wrong done to a free but dependent state, by an abuse of the authority of the United States, be undone by restoring the legitimate Government? Anything short of that will not, I respectfully submit, be the first to recognize the independence of the islands, and it should be the last to acquire sovereignty of them by force and fraud.—Respectfully submitted.

W. Q. GRESHAM.
NEWS AND GOSPEL.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The fear of the friends of the present Government in Hawaii is that Minister Willis will push President Dole to an immediate decision and demand prompt surrender of his authority on the ground that the Provisional Government itself put a limit to the duration of its own authority, and that the limit expires when it is decided that there is no chance of annexation to the United States. There have been rumors from the State Department that the United States has not entered upon the attempt to restore the Queen without a thorough understanding with all the foreign powers, and it is said that the Government has received assurances that no objection will be made to its plan.

Great Britain will unquestionably welcome the restoration of Queen Liliuokalani and the prospect of the early accession of Princess Kaiulani as the best hope of a government distinctively in the interests of the Hawaiian people. By a convention with Great Britain in 1842 England obtained ever annexing the Hawaiian Islands or taking them under a protectorate, but she has never ceased to try to influence control of the local government to her interests.

The restoration of the Queen will affect the United States interest in Pearl River harbor. The exclusive right of the United States to the use of this harbor was recognized by the Hawaiian Government for the free entry of Hawaiian sugar into the United States, but the general free entry of sugar under the McKinley law worked abrogation of the special advantages enjoyed by the Hawaiians, and they have since the rights of the United States in Pearl River harbor were terminated by it.

Some disappointment is felt in Administration circles at the expressions of public opinion against the restoration policy, but there are no indications of wavering of purpose. There was a meeting between Secretary Gresham and Minister Thurston, of the Hawaiian Government, yesterday at the public building, and the meeting was a friendly one. in State Island, now being made ready for sea, and will be ordered to the Hawaiian Islands by the Navy to provide a landing force at Honolulu and to support a landing force at Pearl and Hermes, which will return to Mare Island. The plan is to increase the number of men at Mare Island and give Minister Willis a large force at Honolulu. A rumor was current that Minister Willis is going to Honolulu with the steamer of order to Admiral Irwin from the Secretary of the Navy directing that in the event of recognition of the Provisional Government an uprising Admiral Irwin would dispatch the United States steamer Adams to the United States with any special communication Minister Willis might require to send for information of the Washington City authorities. Admiral Skerrett, who was seen on the matter, smiled and said that while such a course was probable, he had no knowledge of it.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—There will be little or no freight shipped for Hawaii by the Monowai, the steamer which sailed yesterday. It may be said that the care to risk their goods by sending them to a country where there is a chance for a revolution. President Winston of the Provisional Banking Company, with which the Provisional Government has connections, said that no drafts on the Hawaiian Provisional Government had been presented to him. If such a one were presented he would have cashed it.

CHICAGO, November 15.—The Daily News editorial says: Careful inquiry reveals the fact that not a single person identified with the Provisional Government of Hawaii is an alien. Every one is either a native or naturalized citizen. Dole, the president, is a native and an American citizen. Damon, minister of finance, and South, attorney-general, Vice-President Hatch and Minister of Interior King, naturalized citizens. When Secretary Gresham calls these men and others connected with the revolutionary movement aliens he blunders woefully. He might as well say that all except Indians are aliens in this country. If there even was a justifiable rebellion that would justify the owners in Hawaii was justifiable. The Queen and her court were thoroughly corrupt. Misrule was the order of the day. The revenues were squandered, and to replenish the treasury Gresham proposed to legalize gambling and make Honolulu the headquarters of the most gigantic lottery in the world. The deposition of Queen Liliuokalani was an act which the whole civilized world applauded. Yet President Cleveland's Secretary of State proposes to undo the good work and pave the way for another reign of vice and corruption. This course in the restoration is not merely impolitic and undemocratic, but it is disgraceful.

A Times special from Washington says: It is rumored on the best authority that both Secretaries Morton and Hoke Smith would resign their offices as members of his cabinet. The reasons assigned were the radical and emphatic disagreement of the two gentlemen with President Cleveland's Hawaiian policy, and his countenance given the restoration of the Queen. President Cleveland, through Charles and Gresham prevailed upon them to withdraw their resignations, or at least to defer them for a time.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Albert Jaeger, at one time a member of the Hawaiian Legislature, spoken to concerning the situation at the Islands. He said: "The disposition of the people is not favorable to annexation. The natives are opposed to it. If Hawaii were left to herself the monarchy would be restored at once with the constitution of 1888 or one of a like nature. The Provisional Government has little to commend it. It could not long endure if left to itself. As to the talk that some foreign Government, say England or Germany, would get Hawaii, should the United States not annex, there is no sense in it. The people of the Hawaiian Islands are not in sympathy with the United States, and if they were compelled to choose, the United States would be their preference."

CLARE SPECKELS, in regard to Secretary Gresham's letter, said: "I do not find anything further to say than to express my satisfaction over the cheerful news received last night. The men who represent the so-called Provisional Government maintain an impenetrable reserve touching the Hawaiian matter, but showed a willingness to discuss the same in the presence of the Hawaiian minister, Mr. Thurston. Secretary Gresham, however, refused to discuss its contents. Secretary Herbert was equally uncommunicative, and made no comment on the apparently extraordinary fact that the people of Hawaii were in ignorance of the intentions of the Government up to the date of the sailing of the steamer. In this respect some reason to doubt whether Willis is a man of high official credentials to the Provisional Government. A direct query propounded to the State Department officials in regard to the credentials were addressed to the Hawaiian minister, Mr. Thurston, and he recalls the fact that the Provisional Government is supposed to depend upon the action of the United States Government upon the annexation and protectorate question."

DISMISSALS IN THE CABINET.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A story was spread broadcast last night, that the cabinet seems to have had its origin in the gossip at the Metropolitan club of this city, that there were strong dissensions in the cabinet on the Hawaiian situation. Rumor has it that the cabinet was not in accord with the Government, and that they had resigned, or intended to do so. Morton denied the rumor last night, and said he had no intention of resigning. He said further that Morton is in accord with the President on the Hawaiian policy, and Smith has not in any manner given public expression to his disagreement, or given reason to suppose that he entertains opinions differing from those of the Provisional Government.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Ex-Lieut. Stanton, who is regarded as one of the ablest admiralty lawyers in the country, makes the following suggestion as to the possible outcome of the Hawaiian situation: "A naval officer has a right to disobey an order which he knows to be illegal, but he assumes responsibility in so refusing. If on trial the order is found to be illegal, he cannot be punished. But the first trial of the officer is to obey the order and throw the responsibility on his superior who gave the order. In the Hawaiian matter Dole is a simple way of tying Minister Willis's hands. He is to be bound to do so to land him his passport and refuse to have any further dealings with him. Willis becomes immediately a private citizen, and cannot legally give an order to the naval officer. Any act by Willis as American minister after President Dole had sent him passports would be illegal. It takes two nations to make a Minister. Lord Seelye's West ceased to be British Minister when the State Department gave him notice. The President has appointed Wm. D. English as surveyor of customs at San Francisco. James B. Stevens assistant appraiser of merchandise at San Franisco and South Havana (Consular) and James B. Stevens assistant appraiser of customs at the port of Kansas City, Mo.

SENATOR SKERRETT INTERVIEWED.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 15.—A United Press representative interviewed Senator Skerrett, U. S. 25, following his command at Honolulu, that the steamer was lying in the stream. Asked as to the present situation in the Islands, he replied that perfect quiet reigned there, but that no indication of impending trouble. The new United States Minister had arrived and was to submit the Government's ultimatum to the morning of the day that the ship sailed. Up to that time no special effort was made to anticipate the report of his instructions. The country, he added, was prosperous under the rule of the Provisional Government, which possessed the unlimited confidence of the white population irrespective of nationality. Business was moving with its usual quietness, and the merchants were undisturbed by sensational rumors. As to the feeling among the people, he said that personally he had no opportunity to ascertain how they regarded the situation. Generally speaking, however, the Provisional Government gave satisfaction and justified the feeling of security simply because it is a good government. Under the administration of the Provisional Government debts contracted with Claus Spreckels by the Queen have been wiped out. He said that the question as to what would be the effect of the ultimatum of the United States was received, the Admiral answered that he could not state. He admitted, however, that there was some foundation for the feeling of trouble to be felt by the power and the adherents of the deposed Queen. Pressed for further details, Admiral Skerrett said that he had been informed by an attaché of the British embassy that a member of the Provisional Government had said that before the Queen would be permitted to reascend the Hawaiian throne she would be killed. This seems to justify the fears that have been expressed in the western press relative to the maintenance of the Provisional Government. Personally the Admiral had no knowledge of such a desperate state of affairs. When he was asked to give his views on the alleged conflict between himself and Minister Blount, in which it is stated that Admiral Skerrett refused to comply with Blount's request until the Admiral characterized the story as false, he affirmed, on the one hand, that Minister Blount and himself were on the most cordial and intimate terms, and that Skerrett also stated that he had already received the instructions from the Secretary of the Navy relative to Mr. Blount, and that he carried out these instructions. In conclusion he reiterated his statement that he had no knowledge of the alleged conflict, and that when he left Honolulu Mr. Blount, a member of the Queen's cabinet, Mr. Cleghorn, the Queen's brother-in-law and Mr. Wideman came to the steamer to wish him good-by.

SECRETARY'S TRAVEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Admiral Skerrett will be on the steamer China on the 21st inst. to take command of the Asiatic station, leaving his flag on the Lancaster, until that ship is ready to sail. The Admiral is expected to arrive in the morning, and will be the guest of Captain Howison, commandant, for several days. While at the yard he will be examined for promotion from the rank of admiral, as the condition of the officers can be met at once, take the position without coming home.

STEAMER MONOWAI SAILS FOR HONOLULU.

THE report that no freight was being offered for transmission to Honolulu by the Monowai was made by the Hawaiian minister, Mr. Thurston, and Charles T. Wilder, Hawaiian consul, said that up to this morning no bills of lading had been presented to him for signing. As no freight can be sent to Honolulu by the Monowai, it is apparent that cargo for Hawaii will not be heavy on this trip of the Monowai. "There is still considerable time," said Mr. Wilder, "for the steamer to take on cargo, and it may be that merchants here do not care to ship their goods by sending them to a country where there is a chance for revolution, for a revolution might get lost in the sea, and no more of them would be heard of. Besides I heard the Monowai was loading with Australian, homebound goods, World's Fair exhibits, and would have very little space for any other freight. We don't know what cargo matter will take until the Monowai is about ready to sail."

MR. THURSTON TALKS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Minister Lorrin A. Thurston of Hawaii, who has been detained in Chicago closing up the affairs of the Hawaiian exhibit, was seen last night while preparing for his trip to Washington, where he will look after the interests of the Provisional Government. When asked to express an opinion concerning the action of the administration in relation to Hawaii, he said: "As yet I have no official knowledge of any action having been taken and preferred, therefore, to express no opinion concerning the matter." Mr. Gresham's letter to the President urges the American representatives at Honolulu and the members of the Provisional Government with conspiracy and fraud; what have you to say to this? "So far as I know the letter was fully covered last February, both charges and reply, and I know of no new developments since then. The full claim now stated to be the basis of action was presented by President Harrison, by the Queen's Attorney, Mr. Neumann, and duly considered with all the other statements in connection with the subject. I do not hesitate to reiterate that American troops took no part in the movement, and that the late revolution was initiated by the late Queen and forced upon the people of Hawaii, who in self-defense took action, terminating a condition of affairs menacing to life and property which was no longer tolerable. In so far as the question of veracity is raised, I do not fear an impartial responsibility and credibility of the persons making the opposing statement. The course will be the Hawaiian Government preside if the United States Government attempts to restore the Queen? "That is a subject which is not open for discussion. If the United States troops by force attempt to replace the Queen on the Hawaiian throne, there are enough of them to accomplish it, as far as the present issue is concerned, the claim of the Provisional Government is that, in the absence of the Queen, she is not there, and that it is today the only Government in Hawaii, recognized at home and abroad, and that any attempt to forcibly overthrow it by a foreign power, is in the nature of an act of war. I understand, and I am not informed that the President is incompetent to arrogate any such power to himself, and have no right to assume it. The monarchy cannot be restored except by force from without, and if that supporting force is withdrawn, it will be forthwith overthrown. There will be no safety for those who have supported the Provisional Government, if the Queen is placed on the throne, and the monarchy restored. The Queen will be of the greatest character."

Pressed for further details, Admiral Skerrett said that he had been informed by an attaché of the British embassy that a member of the Provisional Government had said that before the Queen would be permitted to reascend the Hawaiian throne she would be killed. This seems to justify the fears that have been expressed in the western press relative to the maintenance of the Provisional Government. Personally the Admiral had no knowledge of such a desperate state of affairs. When he was asked to give his views on the alleged conflict between himself and Minister Blount, in which it is stated that Admiral Skerrett refused to comply with Blount's request until the Admiral characterized the story as false, he affirmed, on the one hand, that Minister Blount and himself were on the most cordial and intimate terms, and that Skerrett also stated that he had already received the instructions from the Secretary of the Navy relative to Mr. Blount, and that he carried out these instructions. In conclusion he reiterated his statement that he had no knowledge of the alleged conflict, and that when he left Honolulu Mr. Blount, a member of the Queen's cabinet, Mr. Cleghorn, the Queen's brother-in-law and Mr. Wideman came to the steamer to wish him good-by.

SECRETARY'S TRAVEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Admiral Skerrett will be on the steamer China on the 21st inst. to take command of the Asiatic station, leaving his flag on the Lancaster, until that ship is ready to sail. The Admiral is expected to arrive in the morning, and will be the guest of Captain Howison, commandant, for several days. While at the yard he will be examined for promotion from the rank of admiral, as the condition of the officers can be met at once, take the position without coming home.

STEAMER MONOWAI SAILS FOR HONOLULU.

THE report that no freight was being offered for transmission to Honolulu by the Monowai was made by the Hawaiian minister, Mr. Thurston, and Charles T. Wilder, Hawaiian consul, said that up to this morning no bills of lading had been presented to him for signing. As no freight can be sent to Honolulu by the Monowai, it is apparent that cargo for Hawaii will not be heavy on this trip of the Monowai. "There is still considerable time," said Mr. Wilder, "for the steamer to take on cargo, and it may be that merchants here do not care to ship their goods by sending them to a country where there is a chance for revolution, for a revolution might get lost in the sea, and no more of them would be heard of. Besides I heard the Monowai was loading with Australian, homebound goods, World's Fair exhibits, and would have very little space for any other freight. We don't know what cargo matter will take until the Monowai is about ready to sail."

MR. THURSTON TALKS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Minister Lorrin A. Thurston of Hawaii, who has been detained in Chicago closing up the affairs of the Hawaiian exhibit, was seen last night while preparing for his trip to Washington, where he will look after the interests of the Provisional Government. When asked to express an opinion concerning the action of the administration in relation to Hawaii, he said: "As yet I have no official knowledge of any action having been taken and preferred, therefore, to express no opinion concerning the matter." Mr. Gresham's letter to the President urges the American representatives at Honolulu and the members of the Provisional Government with conspiracy and fraud; what have you to say to this? "So far as I know the letter was fully covered last February, both charges and reply, and I know of no new developments since then. The full claim now stated to be the basis of action was presented by President Harrison, by the Queen's Attorney, Mr. Neumann, and duly considered with all the other statements in connection with the subject. I do not hesitate to reiterate that American troops took no part in the movement, and that the late revolution was initiated by the late Queen and forced upon the people of Hawaii, who in self-defense took action, terminating a condition of affairs menacing to life and property which was no longer tolerable. In so far as the question of veracity is raised, I do not fear an impartial responsibility and credibility of the persons making the opposing statement. The course will be the Hawaiian Government preside if the United States Government attempts to restore the Queen? "That is a subject which is not open for discussion. If the United States troops by force attempt to replace the Queen on the Hawaiian throne, there are enough of them to accomplish it, as far as the present issue is concerned, the claim of the Provisional Government is that, in the absence of the Queen, she is not there, and that it is today the only Government in Hawaii, recognized at home and abroad, and that any attempt to forcibly overthrow it by a foreign power, is in the nature of an act of war. I understand, and I am not informed that the President is incompetent to arrogate any such power to himself, and have no right to assume it. The monarchy cannot be restored except by force from without, and if that supporting force is withdrawn, it will be forthwith overthrown. There will be no safety for those who have supported the Provisional Government, if the Queen is placed on the throne, and the monarchy restored. The Queen will be of the greatest character."

SENATOR SKERRETT INTERVIEWED.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 15.—A United Press representative interviewed Senator Skerrett, U. S. 25, following his command at Honolulu, that the steamer was lying in the stream. Asked as to the present situation in the Islands, he replied that perfect quiet reigned there, but that no indication of impending trouble. The new United States Minister had arrived and was to submit the Government's ultimatum to the morning of the day that the ship sailed. Up to that time no special effort was made to anticipate the report of his instructions. The country, he added, was prosperous under the rule of the Provisional Government, which possessed the unlimited confidence of the white population irrespective of nationality. Business was moving with its usual quietness, and the merchants were undisturbed by sensational rumors. As to the feeling among the people, he said that personally he had no opportunity to ascertain how they regarded the situation. Generally speaking, however, the Provisional Government gave satisfaction and justified the feeling of security simply because it is a good government. Under the administration of the Provisional Government debts contracted with Claus Spreckels by the Queen have been wiped out. He said that the question as to what would be the effect of the ultimatum of the United States was received, the Admiral answered that he could not state. He admitted, however, that there was some foundation for the feeling of trouble to be felt by the power and the adherents of the deposed Queen. Pressed for further details, Admiral Skerrett said that he had been informed by an attaché of the British embassy that a member of the Provisional Government had said that before the Queen would be permitted to reascend the Hawaiian throne she would be killed.
