Davis Appointment As Supt. of Instruction Confirmed By Senate

DICKEY PROCURES IMMEDIATE ACTION.

FORTIETH DAY. A surprise was sprung on the Senate this forenoon when Secretary Atkinson brought in a message from the Governor appointing School Inspector J. C. Davis as the successor of A. T. Atkinson, as Superintendent of Public Instruction. The moment the message had been read, Dickey was on his feet as quick as a shot with a motion to act on the matter immediately. Achi opposed this strenuously and wanted the matter deferred until the message with the recess appointments, which has been postponed from time to time, was taken up. A motion to this effect failed and McCandless and Bishop both came to Dickey's support with strong arguments. Dickey added to his original motion one to confirm the appointment, which was carried, ten Senators voting for it and none dissenting. Achi still fought on with a new motion to reconsider the motion made yesterday to postpone the recess appointments message, and to take them up right away, but this was also lost.

Amended License Law. House Bill 156 passed first reading by title. The Lands Committee reported on the sections of the license act which had been referred to it. It recommended the following amendments: The annual fee for a license to slaughter and sell beef shall be one hundred dollars for the district of Honolulu, fifty dollars for the district of South Hilo and the town of Wailuku, and twenty dollars for each other district. The annual fee for a license to sell beef shall be ten dollars for each Taxation District. The annual fee for a license to sell milk shall be ten dollars for the district of Honolulu and two dollars and fifty cents for all other districts. No Tobacco for Minors. The Judiciary Committee reported on House Bill 144, providing for the voting of a qualified elector who has failed to register, stating that while the object of the bill was a good one its provisions were contrary to the Organic Act, which it introduced admitted. It recommended that the bill be indefinitely postponed. The report was adopted.

The same committee reported on the sections of the license bill which had been referred to it. Among the recommendations was one providing a fine for any dealer selling tobacco to minors under 15 years of age. The conference committee on Senate Bill 37, providing penalty for taking or mutilating public records, stated that it had agreed on amendments as made by the House. The report was adopted and the bill passed unanimously. Wide Tire Act Again. Dickey moved that House Bill 118,

ALIENS MUST PAY FOR LICENSES MORE THAN CITIZENS

The special committee appointed to investigate the economical and industrial conditions which exist in consequence of the presence of aliens ineligible for citizenship in this Territory, and to which was also referred H. B. 129, an act to protect life and property from injury resulting from the operation of steam boilers, engines and the licensing of engineers, made report. The members of the committee, while in accord with the bill, believed it to be in violation of the Organic Act, the bill embracing two subjects. The committee recommends that the bill be tabled and submits a bill which covers most of the objects sought to be attained by Bill 129. This committee submits laws for the regulation of barbers, mechanical trades, for the payment of tuition fees of children over 15 of alien parents ineligible for citizenship and a law amending the license law. One scale of license is fixed for citizens, and another for aliens ineligible for citizenship. Report adopted. A desire to take up the County bill was manifested, but Hawaiian printed copies are awaited before such action.

Majority Refuses To Sign McCandless Report WANT PERSONALITIES CUT OUT

The report of the famous "Iwilei Committee" of the Senate, which was appointed under the Achi resolution to investigate the relations of certain authorities to Iwilei and the manifestations of the social evil in the peninsula suburb, was not made at this forenoon's session of the Senate. It is not even in sight. The reason for the delay of the report is a disagreement of the members of the committee, which will probably cause still further delay. The committee has been in session for a couple of weeks and has held numerous meetings, during which many witnesses of all kinds and descriptions have been called to testify. The leading spirit of the committee was its chairman, Senator McCandless, who left no stone unturned to secure evidence. The investigation proper has been completed, however. No more witnesses will be called. The report has been made. It was ready yesterday morning and might have been submitted to the Senate, had it only been signed by all the members of the committee. But here came the hitch. The members disagreed regarding the contents of the report and refused to sign it in its present shape. The members of the committee are Senators McCandless, Lane, Hayselden, Hewitt and Gandall. To those who have attended the meetings of the committee and have heard the examination of the witnesses, the stand which the individual members took with regard to the matter has been very easy to see. Senator McCandless was the moving spirit. He conducted the examinations in chief and secured practically all the evidence and saw that

SENATORS ARRANGE BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY HOUSE

The Senate in the absence of work this afternoon bused themselves with preparing for the coming baseball match with the House. It was found that the Upper House could not supply enough material for a team so Prince Cupid and Messenger Nahale were pressed into service. The Senators will play in the following positions: Lane, pitcher; Hayselden, first base; Kalamia, left field or catcher; Bishop, second or third base; McCandless, shortstop; Dowsett, center field or third base; Woods, third base or pitcher; Prince Cupid, right field or catcher; Nahale, catcher; Isenberg, captain and substitute. The Senators realize that as the House had a greater choice of material it had good chances of victory. In the event of a defeat the Senate may, however, challenge the House to a tug-of-war, feeling that with men as Isenberg and Brown on its end of the rope victory would be assured.

EXTRA SESSION IS INEVITABLE

An extra session of the Legislature looms on the political horizon. It is considered inevitable. It is anticipated that Governor Carter will call an extra session at the expiration of the present regular term, an extra session for the consideration of appropriation measures. Today is the forty-first of the sittings of the House, the fortieth of the Senate. But nineteen days of the regular session of the House remain. Wednesday, the 26th instant, will be the last day of the regular term. The required ten days will elapse and an extra term will then have for its work the arrangement of money matters. Governor Carter can, of course, authorize an extension of the present session, but this is not likely; it is said, and, further, is not considered wise in view of the fact that no extra remuneration would go with an extension, while an extra session, whether it endures ten or sixty days, means $200 more in each legislator's pocket; the laborer is worthy of his hire, say those talking of the probable extra term, and when one is working overtime, as it were, for nothing, he cannot be expected to get in and dig very hard, and appropriation bills call for a lot of work. Said a member of the House this morning: "What I am and have been hammering for is to work for an amendment to the Organic Act to the effect that legislators can be paid so much for regular and extra sessions, as the latter becomes necessary, inclusive; then the work would go along with some considerable speed. I hope we will get to it, some day."

ELKS MINSTRELS DEFINITELY SET

The date of the Elks' minstrels has been definitely set for April 27th and 29th. Everything has been in readiness for some time, and the performances have been postponed on account of the Lenten season only. The program will begin with a spectacular first part, in a full double circle. "The end men," two of whom are ladies, will be six in number. When it is stated that Miss Gertrude Hall and Mrs. J. G. Pratt are to manipulate the bones and tambo, the innovation of ladies as "ends" needs no explanation. The gentlemen on the end will be J. H. Howland, Paymaster Brown, Walter Doyle, and last but not least except in size, the irrepressible Guy Livingston. A. E. Murphy will be the interlocutor. The balance of the program will include a Burlesque Quartet, consisting of Messrs. Livingston, Howland, Dougherty and C. Schwartz, who will endeavor, among other things, to show how popular songs should be illustrated in order to obtain absolute realism. This will be succeeded by a sketch entitled "A Happy Pair" and the performance will conclude with a farce which has been arranged by H. D. Couzens, called "A Country School." Tickets will be on sale at Wall, Nichols Co. on April 29th.

PARIS CHESS MATCH.

Paris, March 4.—After three days' rest, D. Janowski, the local chess expert, and Frank J. Marshall, of Brooklyn, resumed play at the Cercle Philidor, in this city, when the former was called up to open the sixteenth game of the match. Much to the surprise of the onlookers, Janowski, who had only played queen-side openings in the beginning of the contest, fell back to this opening, selecting not a gambit, but simply P-Q4, followed by K-K B3. This led to a rather tame game, and when an adjournment was taken at 6:30 this evening, the position was perfectly even. In the evening session, however, Janowski managed to get the better position by excellent play, Marshall being fully outclassed, and after fifty moves the latter resigned. Present score: Marshall, 7; Janowski, 5; drawn, 4.

J. C. DAVIS SUCCEEDS ATKINSON AS SUP. OF INSTRUCTION

Governor Carter this forenoon appointed J. C. Davis as Superintendent of Public Instruction to take the place of A. T. Atkinson. Davis had evidently been notified to be at hand for before 10 o'clock he was to be seen waiting outside the Governor's office. Shortly afterwards he had an interview with the Executive and before noon his commission was lying on the clerk's desk. The Senate immediately confirmed the appointment and Davis is now in charge of the Department. The race for the position has been a lively one and applicants have been calling on the Governor in legio ever since A. T. Atkinson resigned from his office. Among those most prominently mentioned were Mr. Anderson, formerly of Punahou; School Inspector Davis of Oahu and Kaula; and School Inspector Baldwin of Hawaii. While many thought that chances were in favor of Baldwin the Kaula contingent worked very strongly for Davis, who has now finally won out. The new Superintendent was graduated from Fish University where he attained the degree of B. A. in 1885. He secured a life certificate as a teacher from the State of Texas in 1891 and a similar certificate from the Republic of Hawaii in 1897. This morning before Davis had received his ap-

KILLING TIME TO SAVE MINUTES

Territorial Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson, a rich, red rose in his buttonhole, conveyed to the Speaker's desk at 10:27 this forenoon a message from the Governor, his presence having been first duly announced by the Sergeant-at-Arms. Atkinson's brief flights, as a messenger, through the Hall of Representatives, are as impressive as they should be and never fail to attract attention. Jack bore a veto from His Excellency, a veto which was precipitately sustained. The message was as follows: Governor's Message. "Herewith I return S. B. 8, an act to amend Sec. 1815 of the Revised Laws, which I am unable to approve. "The bill attempts to give any district magistrate the power, when justice may require, to stay an execution. At present this authority is restricted to Judges of Courts of Record. "There has been a question heretofore as to whether an execution issued by a district magistrate could be stayed before Davis had received his ap-

SUSTAINED THE VETO

The Senate at its session yesterday afternoon received a message from the Governor vetoing Senate Bill 8, the bill giving district magistrates power to stay executions. The Governor gave as his reason the fact that bill allowed such magistrates to stay execution issued by the Circuit and even the Supreme Court, which would result in confusion. The veto was sustained unanimously. Even the introducer of the bill, Senator Achi, voted for it, thereby causing some surprise, as this is the second time he has voted to sustain the Governor's veto of his own bill. Among those Achi is spoken of as the Governor's agent.

CHARITIES EXEMPT FROM TAXATION

After some debate the section regarding exemption on income tax, the taxation bill being considered in Committee of the Whole, passed as originally drawn in the House yesterday afternoon. The committee rose at 5:30 and asked for time in which to submit a written report. In the section relating to the enforcement of payments an amendment to the following effect was made:

"Provided, however, no property, real or personal, shall be sold under such execution for the payment of said taxes, penalties, costs and interest for less than half of the assessed value of such property."

On Rep. Harris' motion the Lunallio Home and Home for Incurable were exempted with the Queen's Hospital, Kona Orphanage and other charities.

On Rep. Coelho's motion a new section was introduced to exempt for five years all property actually used in producing tobacco, rubber, cork, oak, Manila hemp, sansevieria, Salonicia hemp and cacao.

Rep. Coelho read a bill for controlling and regulating the running of electric cars.

A special committee, Holstein, Rice and Kalelopu, was appointed to translate the County Bill, received back from the Senate and pass it to the Printing Committee.

Rep. Sheldon introduced a bill to provide for a $500 license for foreign corporations, other than insurance companies, which do not invest capital here.

CHINA OFF FOR ORIENT. The Pacific Mail steamship China got away for the Orient at 10:10 this morning. The crowd on the wharf was unusually small owing to the fact that there were no Honolulu people among the passengers. F. J. Haakin, the eastern newspaper syndicate man, who has been in the islands for several weeks, was the only passenger from Honolulu.

The China had no freight to discharge at this port and had no difficulty in making her sailing hour.

Amusement was furnished the departing passengers by a belated Chinaman, who, after the gangplank was down, shot up from the hold of the vessel and ran frantically about the decks. Finally he climbed through the rail and gingerly slid down a rope. Some one grabbed him by the heels and he landed safely on the dock, where he was promptly laid hold of by an immigration officer. His papers proved all right and he was permitted to go ashore.

The China carries no freight from this port. The cargo, about 2,000 tons, consisting partly of cotton and machinery, goes through from San Francisco.

THE HONOLULU ORDERS CONTRADICTORY TO REGULATIONS OF BOARD

A large part of the proceedings of the Senate Molokai trip investigation committee's session last night was taken up with a vindication of the steamship officers, especially Captain Naopala, who had been accused of drunkenness by previous witnesses. C. L. Wight, of the Wilder's S. S. Co., was present accompanied by H. E. Cooper, who called several witnesses and examined them on this subject. After the committee had expressed itself as thoroughly satisfied with the proof offered the steamship people left and Pinkham had his innings. He finished with all his witnesses. Tonight he will read statements from Molokai and argue his case.

Senator Lane was the first witness called. He was examined by H. E. Cooper. He had seen Captain Naopala on board the Kinau. Lane first had the impression that he was under the influence of liquor. The committee ordered the steamer to go to Waikolu but instead it anchored at Kalawao. This disobedience to the committee's orders made Lane think that there was something radically wrong, and he expressed an opinion at the time that Naopala was drunk. Lane thought it was queer that Pinkham could land, but that the officers told the legislators that it was too dangerous for them to land. He thought Naopala was putting up a job on them. Later on, however, he had a conversation at Kalaupapa with Naopala and then found that he was mistaken. Naopala was not drunk. Louis Self, the first officer of the Kinau, was not under the influence of liquor either.

Pinkham asked Lane what connection there was between his landing and Naopala's condition. Lane answered that there was a rumor that Pinkham did not want the Health Committee to land. He did not know how true the rumor was.

Senator Woods called Captain Clarke, Louis Self and the second mate, Sanders, to stand. Lane recognized Clarke and Self. None of them were under the influence of liquor. There was a stout Hawaiian officer who was drunk. Lane understood he was an officer of the Likelike.

Secretary Atkinson was called by Cooper. Captain Clarke, Captain Naopala, Mate Self and Mate Sanders he knew. He thought Naopala was in charge. Every one of them was sober. An officer of the Likelike was rather talkative. This, he thought, gave rise to the impression that some of the officers were drunk.

C. A. Brown was called by Cooper. He saw Captains Clarke and Naopala, and Mates Self and Sanders. They were sober.

Senator Dowsett knew and had seen all the officers mentioned. They were all perfectly sober. Some of the passengers were under the influence of liquor, but not badly so.

Mrs. Nakulua did not know if she could tell when a man was under the influence of liquor. The officers were as sober as they always were.

Dickey stated that the members of the committee had come to the conclusion that all the officers were sober. Senator Woods added that the committee in its report would exonerate the Kinau officers and Captain Naopala from all blame.

C. L. Wight, president of the Wilder's S. S. Co., stated that Captain Naopala held a very fine certificate. Self also held an excellent master's license. Both had worked themselves up by hard work and were sober men. The United States inspectors spoke of both as being exceptionally able.

Woods called Acht on the stand next. He had seen none of the officers under the influence of liquor. He saw two passengers, Freeman and David Carter, who were under the influence of liquor.

Pinkham now started his case by reading the following affidavit by Captain Naopala:

My name is Moses Naopala. I am captain of the S. S. Likelike, which steamer is on the regular weekly run to Kalaupapa, Molokai.

Capt. Clarke requested me to go on the trip to supervise the handling of passengers in boats as the Laper Settlement.

I am familiar with the landing at Kalaupapa. I know it to be a very dangerous landing at times, and at some seasons of the year and certain directions of the wind to become impossible to land.

The month of March is within the dangerous season, and the wind on the 19th of March was in the right quarter to cause a sudden and dangerous increase of the ocean swell and consequent impassable breakers on the shore and landing.

The Kinau arrived and anchored off Kalaupapa, Molokai, at about 4 o'clock the morning of March 19th. In the dim light I saw the sea was breaking heavily on the shore, and, as the day dawned the heavy breakers could be clearly seen.

About 6 o'clock it was decided best to ascertain the exact state of the landing. I ordered a boat and crew, started ashore, and landed through very heavy breakers. I remained about an hour conferring with Superintendent McVeigh, when a second boat put out from the steamer to ascertain what had become of the first boat.

I ordered my boat to pull out from the landing. We met the second boat, which turned about, and both boats were rowed to the Kinau and quickly hung on their davits.

Superintendent McVeigh stated it was too dangerous to land a single passenger and directed that no one be allowed to attempt to come ashore, and I so reported to Captain Clarke.

I was most firmly of the opinion that no one should be allowed ashore and that it would be foolhardy for any person to make the attempt. I told the people on the Kinau it was impossible to land them through the breakers.

The Kinau lay at anchor awaiting a change in the sea. At 8 o'clock there was no abatement, but the President

HERE IS LOGIC.

Does the question of "light" concern you? If you own or intend building a home, it probably does. Electric light is the only modern, twentieth century light. A few people still persist in using the Parlor Oil Lamp. It is a relic of antiquity and should be relegated to the attic. It is dirty and bad for the eyes. There is also danger of explosion. It also requires matches.

Electric light is a pure white light—far pleasanter and safer in every way. It is clean, reliable and economical. No dirt, no matches, no uncertainty, no worry. For the library—for the ball—for your bedroom—for the parlor—electric light can not be equaled in any sense of the word.

Austin Wadsworth, Mrs. Wadsworth and R. K. Wetmore. They will take passage on the Pacific Mail steamer Manchuria on the morning of July 1. The steamer will touch at Honolulu, Yokohama, Kobe and Nagasaki, and then go straight to Manila, where the party will remain ten days. In addition to the other questions, the determination of railway problems made possible by the Cooper law, which was passed at the last session of Congress, will be accomplished. Secretary Taft, ex-Secretary Root and Colonel Edwards have had much to do with this question and it is expected that the details will be worked out and a definite proposition submitted for the approval of the Secretary of War by the time the party returns.

The party will then take a Government transport and spend twenty days visiting the points of interest, especially the commercial ports in the southern islands, and returning on the Pacific Mail steamer Korea, which will touch at Manila and take the party home, stopping at Hongkong and probably at the same Japanese ports in reverse order and sail from Honolulu, arriving at San Francisco about October 1. It is said that the members of the party will pay their expenses to and from San Francisco except the railroad fare. The expenses of the trip will be borne by the Philippine Government, as the party visits the islands as the guests of that Government.

AUTOS FOR HIRE AT CLUB STABLES

The Club Stables has added an automobile department to its livery business. C. H. Bellina, in his determination to keep his business right up to date, has put in, through Gus Schuman, a Ford auto of the latest make, carrying three passengers, and has ordered three more to carry four persons each. They are expected to arrive here very soon. They will add greatly to the facilities for accommodating tourists, and will enable them to get about seeing the sights in the same way as they do on the mainland or in Europe.

The automobile now running from the Club Stables has been here several months, and has given great satisfaction to all who have ridden in it.

The ease and speed of auto travel is so fascinating to a person that it is difficult to settle down to the horse and phaeton after the luxury of an auto ride. The run to the Pal, to Diamond Head, and to Moanalua affords a person a delightful spin, and tourists are enthusiastic over it. The Government is rapidly improving the roads all over and around the Island. In a very short time one will be able to leave in an auto out of the Club Stables in the early morning, and breakfast at a point half way around the island, and be back to luncheon in Honolulu.

Mr. Bellina says that he finds that many of our people, who do not care to undergo the expense of purchasing an auto, would order one at a stable for temporary use just as they now order a horse and carriage; and he will be able to accommodate them.

MAHELONA GAVE ORDERS CONTRADICTORY TO REGULATION OF BOARD.

(Continued from Page 3.) of the Board of Health insisted upon making alone a personal attempt to land. I warned him not to take the chances, but on Captain Clarke's orders called boat No. 1 crew, which taking the mail, succeeded in landing the President of the Board safely.

Later the Kinau steamed as far as Waikolu, and there landed five persons. We returned to Kalaupapa and in the afternoon, the sea having moderated somewhat a few boat loads of people were landed. One of the boats was thrown upon the rocks, whereupon two boats in the offing, having passengers on board, turned back to the Kinau.

The landing of passengers ceased until the boats put out to bring passengers back to the Kinau. A few took advantage of this to go ashore for a short time.

As to who were responsible for the safe landing or return of passengers, beyond each for himself, I do not know.

The committees were giving orders, but where their responsibility began or ended, I do not know.

The officers of the Kinau refused to be responsible.

I considered conditions such at any moment the sea might run still higher and the breakers might become so high none of the people on shore could be brought back to the Kinau on the 19th day of March.

A. M. Burns of The Star was the first witness called by Pinkham. He wanted to go into a boat when the Kinau returned to Kalaupapa. He asked Secretary Atkinson for permission to go in his boat, but Atkinson said he had no authority. Burns got into another boat. Two policemen told him he must go back on board. Burns said he would not and a man on the steamer said something in Hawaiian whereupon a police lieutenant said he would have to go on board. Burns refused and after some one on the vessel had given some directions in Hawaiian whereupon he was allowed to go ashore.

In answer to a question by Senator Woods, Burns stated that Capt. Naopala was not drunk.

Lieut. Luahiwa stated he was the officer who had interfered with Burns. He got word to do so from the ship; he could not say who said so. He obeyed "a voice" from the ship but who it belonged to he was unable to tell.

Anton Manuel went ashore where Superintendent McVeigh took his permit. McVeigh told him to wait until he had taken up the permits of all who came ashore, when he would conduct the visitors to his house; on the way to McVeigh's place Manuel saw several lepers. He saw some of the visitors, among them Abraham Fernandez, shake hands with lepers. A leper named Clark refused to shake hands. Senators Lane and Achi were present. Lane asked Clark why they were so strict. Clark gave an explanation which Manuel did not hear.

While Manuel was at McVeigh's place the rumor started that no more passengers could go ashore. Lane and Achi then passed a resolution allowing all passengers to come ashore at their own risk. They signed it and sent Manuel on board with it. Manuel saw officers with white badges at the landing. They told Luahiwa that they had been instructed that they should look after the lepers, while the Honolulu officers should look after the visitors. At that time Waiamau was taking up their permits. Mahelona told Waiamau in a very decided tone to refrain from collecting the passes but to let the visitors go and see their relatives. The men with badges were trying to enforce segregation.

Senator Dowsett was at the head of the Senate Committee. After Naopala had returned after his first trip ashore he told Dowsett that it was not safe to land. He saw Pinkham go ashore. The officers refused to take any responsibility to land passengers all the day through. Dowsett spoke with Captains Clarke and Naopala. Both said they would land people at their own responsibility. Dowsett said he did not think the steamship company could refuse to take the responsibility. Beckley advised Dowsett to refuse people to land and he did so.

"If the Board of Health had sent out word to the people to come ashore and there had been an accident would it not have been held responsible?" asked Pinkham.

"Certainly," said Achi. Pinkham asked if it did not seem then that the Board had some responsibility in the matter.

Achi now interrupted and would not allow the question. Dickey said it should be allowed.

Dowsett answered that it seemed that there was no one responsible. The ship's officers should really have been the judges of the question of landing. Dowsett first did not consent in allowing the people to go ashore. In the afternoon the sea had abated and Dowsett told the people to be patient and later on told the people to go ashore in lots of eight and ten and advised the women to stay on board. Dowsett saw no instance of personal contact between lepers and clean people.

In answer to a question by Achi, Dowsett stated that Pinkham had not told him anything about arrangements made at Kalaupapa. Dowsett thought probably 200 people got ashore. The visitors were directed to McVeigh's place. They talked to the lepers across the fence of the yard. He saw several people rather the influence of liquor on the Kinau, but no one who was really drunk.

Admiral Beckley gave evidence regarding the conditions of the surf at Kalaupapa. There was danger that the surf would rise and prevent the people from returning to the steamer. Beckley thought about 200 people got ashore. Lots of people had rows and fights on board, among them were Carter and Freeman. The people were crazy to get ashore and jumped into the boats promiscuously.

Geo. T. Kluegel got ashore in the middle of the afternoon. He saw only one instance of the rules of segregation being broken, that of David Carter and his brother. The lepers kept away.

Dr. C. B. Cooper Discusses Moral and Physical Problems of Social Evil

(Concluded from Yesterday.) Naturally the very thought of acquiring property for such a purpose, would awaken an outcry beyond measure. But when the public once is educated on the dangers of venereal diseases, the protests will change place with hearty approval. There are many heart-broken fathers and mothers in the land who would today give all they possess to further any reasonable plan for the limitation of prostitution. Many will do so surreptitiously, lest they reveal that the prison, the hospital, the insane asylum or the grave they visit, contains what was their once beloved, healthy child. Who will attempt to count the lives that were wrecked by prostitution?

Education, as roughly outlined, and sad experience as suggested, will even approve the city's leasing houses in the prostitutes' districts. The rentals received therefor could be used by the city for defraying the expenses of controlling the district.

Naturally, a large number of well-meaning people will object to such quasi-official recognition of the existing prostitution, as is entailed by the plan sketched. Discussion of this aspect of the matter reduces itself to the choice of the lesser of two evils. It may safely be asserted that it is better to confine within certain districts, say 1,000 prostitutes, than to have 100,000 men infected annually. Moreover, the carrying out of such a plan of segregation would in itself be a vivid object lesson on the dangers of illicit intercourse, and thus indirectly limit the patronage of clandestine prostitutes.

It may be argued that in our country, the medical profession, as a body, has shown indifference to the momentous question. That was true until, on May 23, 1904, when Prof. Prince A. Morrow prepared for the New York County Medical Society a paper entitled: "A Plea for the Organization of a Society for Moral and Social Prophylaxis." The senior writer of this paper had the honor to move the official approval of the formation of such a society, which motion was carried.

It is expected that the society will

DR. C. B. COOPER DISCUSSES MORAL AND PHYSICAL PROBLEMS OF SOCIAL EVIL.

(Continued from Page 6.) soon be formed and become a powerful organization for the public good. In it the Health Board will find an active coadjutor.

Gentlemen, no pretense at anything like completeness is made in the preceding rough sketch. The fact that you have invited this contribution to your work, demonstrates your serious intention to grasp this most difficult of problems.

But when men like you attack them, the difficulties will melt like snow before the sun, and in less time than now can be anticipated, your work will be crowned with success.

The reduction of venereal diseases will then give our country healthier and consequently better citizens.

May the benefit of your learning, courage, and noble endeavors within our lives become evident to the entire world.

SUMMARY OF SUGGESTIONS.

(1) All measures adopted by the authorities with the object of preventing venereal disease and of contending with the melancholy consequences of prostitution should be sanctioned by law and placed under police control, supported by departments of public health.

(2) Segregation of prostitution to a district which is least offensive to residents, should be sanctioned, in order to render the practice of prostitution possible, at the same time depriving it as far as possible of its publicity.

(3) Prostitutes placed under supervision of the police should be subservient to the instructions of that department as regards their domicile and the practice of their calling.

(4) The sanitary supervision of these women should be entrusted to a Sanitary Commissioner who is responsible to the High Sheriff and whose duty it is to keep accurate data regarding the health of each prostitute, issuing a card to those in good health. A weekly examination should be enforced and when a woman is found diseased, treatment in hospital, or free clinic where unable to pay, or by some reputable physician, should be compulsory. If possible, expense of this work should not fall on the taxpayers, but a moderate fee charged for services rendered.

CONCLUSION.

While awaiting the time when prophylactic measures shall diminish prostitution, let us for the present devote every energy toward the institution and perfection of such means as in our judgment will tend to minimize its pernicious effects.

CHINA FROM THE COAST

The China had trouble in getting docked yesterday afternoon. She was sighted from San Francisco shortly after 2 o'clock but it was after 4 before the Pacific Mail liner was safely tied up at Hackfeld's wharf.

The waves and wind outside the harbor were high. The pilot's little row boat had an exciting voyage back to shore. It was fastened to the China's bow, and the little craft jumped from the top of one wave to another with a speed and force that threw sheets of water over the pilot and his ornaments.

The Alameda had difficulty in shifting from Railway wharf to Oceanic wharf this morning. A stiff wind held her out from the dock until a long headline was finally fastened to the dock and the steamship slowly warped in.

The Kaimuki Zoo Bears will be at home to the public, in their new and roomy house, from and after Saturday, March 11th, at 1 p. m. They moved into their new quarters Friday evening.
