REPORT KING'S ASSASSINATION HONGKONG MARU CASE IS YELLOW FEVER

YELLOW FEVER IN THE HARBOR

Yellow fever, from Central America, was declared today by the federal quarantine officers, to be on board the steamer Hongkong Maru, which arrived last Sunday from Manzanillo, with a case of sickness on board. The quarantine officers took every precaution and the steamer has been in very strict quarantine ever since her arrival in view of their final decision this morning that the sick man has yellow fever, the quarantine officers are glad that they were so strict with the vessel.

This morning Doctors Ramus, Marshall, Sinclair, James and Hobdy met on board the steamer to consider the case, which has been under their observation since the arrival of the steamer. They agreed that it was yellow fever, and acted accordingly. The steamer was kept in strict quarantine. Since her arrival, on account of the suspiciousness of the case, not even first class passengers have been allowed ashore. The quarantine will be kept up until the time of danger has passed.

The case on the Hongkong Maru is the first case of yellow fever that ever came here. The mosquito which carries the disease is here, but has never been infected, and the case on the Japanese steamer has passed the stage where it is thought to be dangerous as far as infection is concerned. The quarantine officials are taking every precaution, and feel confident that the disease will not get ashore.

A Pistol Duel On Fort Street This Morning

Two men who have been carrying revolvers in their pockets for some time, with reason to believe that if they met there might be some shooting, encountered one another at the corner of Fort and Hotel streets this morning, and there was a rapid exchange of shots, with the result that one of them, W. M. McQuaid, who is well known both here and on Hawaii, was very seriously wounded, and the other, V. L. Driver received a not dangerous wound. The shooting was on account of alleged improper attentions of Driver to Mrs. McQuaid. McQuaid started the shooting and shot very wild, and it is considered very lucky that no stray shots hit persons not concerned in the duel.

Consternation reigned in the vicinity of Fort and Hotel street early this morning, when the sound of seven revolver shots, fired in quick succession but with a break of a second or two between the fifth and sixth shots, disturbed the quietness of the hour. Immediately after the shooting, people came rushing up from all directions and in the space of a few moments the scene of the shooting was transformed into a throng of excited people, all clamoring to know what was the matter. In a few words it was briefly told: William M. McQuaid had shot at V. C. Driver and Driver had shot at him, both combatants being wounded. McQuaid lay on the floor of the Baltimore tea-rooms, while Driver, who outwardly bore no signs of injury, was under arrest.

When Driver had got through the car he turned back, and also drew a revolver. Seeing Driver reappearing round the end of the car McQuaid turned to run, and dashed towards the Baltimore Dairy, but before he had gained security two additional shots rang out, and McQuaid staggered through the door shot in the back just below the shoulder blade.

A second later and before he could fire again Driver was seized by Police Officer Peter J. Hoge and the revolver taken from him. The interior of the tea rooms presented a disorderly sight for tables were thrown out of their usual neat line, chairs were overturned, cups and plates were smashed to hundreds of pieces, and salt and pepper pots lay around. Lying in a corner screened from the crowd that tried to press its way through the narrow doorway, was McQuaid. He was receiving first aid, and judging by the look on his face, he was suffering dire agony from the wounds that he had received. An automobile rolled up to the door of the tea room, and McQuaid was quickly conveyed to the hospital, where his injuries were attended to.

The sudden entrance of the two excited men was the signal for great alarm in the tea rooms. The Chinese waiters madly rushed upstairs out of harm's way, but the young lady cashier had no opportunity of getting away from the horrifying spectacle that was thrust before her gaze. She bore up bravely for some time, but was overcome by the subsequent events, and had to be led away through the pressing throng into the open air in order to try to remove the revolting sight that had become photographed in her mind's eye.

After the combatants had been released.

THE SPANISH MONARCHY IS IN CRITICAL DANGER

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

LONDON, November 4.—A rumor has been published here that King Alfonso of Spain, whose wife is a grand-daughter of late Queen Victoria, has been assassinated. The rumor is not confirmed, but has caused much excitement. There is much difficulty in getting news from the Spanish capital, which is regarded as evidence of a serious situation.

MADRID, November 4.—The government has determined to prevent the proposed labor demonstration at Barcelona tomorrow and is amassing troops for the purpose of suppressing the labor leaders if they attempt to carry out their programme. General Weyler, of Cuban reconcentrado fame, is in charge of the military, and has been given reinforcements of 1,500 troops.

BARCELONA, November 4.—The strikers today fired on workers who have taken their places, wounding several. The strikers plan a big demonstration tomorrow and the authorities are taking steps to prevent bloodshed.

CHINA MUST WAIT FOR A PARLIAMENT

PEKING, November 4.—A decree has been announced from the throne declaring that an imperial parliament will be convened in Peking in 1913.

GRAFT NEAR FRISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 4.—Four members of the board of supervisors of San Mateo county have been indicted for bribery and extortion in connection with the expenditures of money for the furnishing of the San Mateo courthouse.

TUESDAY'S SHIPMENTS.

The Inter-Island steamers will leave on their usual schedules on Tuesday, election day, but no freight will be received on that day. Freight intended for shipment on Tuesday's vessels must be delivered in time to be loaded on Monday.

HATZFELD DEAD.

LONDON, November 4.—The Prince Hatzfeld, who married Clara Huntington, of California, is dead.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

PHILADELPHIA, November 4.—A crank today made an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Director Clay of the department of public works.

All members of the military are ordered to report at the drill shed Sunday at 12:30 to attend the funeral of the late Governor Cleghorn.

Doctor Uchida, a former prominent resident of the Japanese community in Honolulu, is in the city, having recently returned from a tour of Europe and America and is stopping over here until the arrival of the Tenyo Maru, November 7, when he will leave for Japan. He will return here next January.

SACHS' SATURDAY SPECIALS.

CLARK IS FINED $200 FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

Judge Cooper this afternoon fined Henry Clark $100 on each of two charges of contempt. An exception was noted.

Henry N. Clark, who has refused to answer questions put by the Grand jury, was again before Judge Cooper this morning.

Attorney Biting appeared for Clark, and said that he was not prepared to make a return at that moment, because the citation had only been served the previous evening, and it was not received until this morning. He asked that the case be continued until Monday next.

His honor did not think it was necessary to make any return. Clark had refused to answer the questions.

Attorney Biting said that a return was necessary in order to have the position placed properly before such court as they might decide to apply to for a writ of habeas corpus, if it became necessary to adopt such a course. It would, therefore, be necessary to make up quite a large attachment of exhibits, and he would not be in a position to do anything until a final order had been made.

His Honor—"I do not see any reason for a postponement. You do not deny the charge."

Biting—"We have never had an opportunity of denying it. We submit to your honor's judgment, but we would like to have the matter postponed until Monday next, because it will be a physical impossibility to prepare a proper return immediately. I am sure that it is not necessary that we should deny intention to be contemptuous by our conduct in this case."

His Honor said that it would be a bad precedent to have such cases continued. He understood that the defendant had been acting under the advice of counsel, who had had all the time to prepare for what was probably coming.

Biting said that they had prepared up to that moment. Would his honor allow until two o'clock?

His honor consented, and the case was continued.

DO IT NOW.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. In fully nine cases out of ten the attack is simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. The free application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm is certain to give quick relief. Try it. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

KUHIO COMING TO CLOSE THE CAMPAIGN HERE

Delegate Kalaniano'le will return to Honolulu tomorrow by the steamer Mauna Kea, ready to finish the campaign in the capital city. The last efforts will be made by the Republicans at Aala park on Monday evening, when there will be a torchlight parade, followed by a mass meeting at Aala park, at which Kuhio will be one of the speakers.

The Democrats asked for the use of the park on the same evening, and the supervisors, to whom the matter was passed up, compromised by dividing the park in half and allowing both sides a chance. Hence there will be two meetings at the park on Monday night.

Wireless advices from Hilo indicate that the island of Hawaii has flopped over. Six months ago it was regarded as almost certain to go Democratic. Opposition to Kuhio, especially on the land issue, had been worked up by years of agitation, but the past few weeks have seen an evident change, and now the Republicans are claiming that island for the head of their ticket. In the case of local offices on Hawaii there is so much trading going on that a mixed result is conceded by all parties.

A large proportion of the candidates are running individual campaigns.

From Maui also come reports that indicate that the McCandless campaign has collapsed, and Kaula is regarded as certain for the Republicans. Tonight's Republican meeting will be a joint rally of the Fourth and Fifth districts at Nuuanu avenue and Jack lane. Tomorrow night the final rally of the campaign at Wai'alea will be held.

BLOWN UP

(Special Wireless to The Star.)
WAILUKU, November 4.—The police are investigating a mysterious explosion which blew up the home of a Chinese at Hana on Wednesday. A heavy charge of black powder was exploded, by means of a fuse saturated with kerosene oil. The house was destroyed. The victim is alive. No arrests have been made as yet.

SAFFERY GETS ONLY A FINE

(Special to The Star.)
WAILUKU, November 4.—Ex-Sheriff Saffery was today sentenced by Judge Kingsbury to pay a fine of one thousand dollars, for embezzlement of public funds. Saffery's defalcation of $1,200 has been made good. The court did not sentence him to any term of imprisonment.

STATE FUNERAL NEXT SUNDAY

The funeral of the late ex-governor A. S. Cleghorn will take place on Sunday afternoon, when the arrangements outlined already in these columns will obtain.

Service will be held in the Episcopal cathedral at two o'clock and the remains will be followed by members of the Hawaiian police, companies of the Hawaiian Guard, territorial and federal officials, representatives of the army and naval services, the consular corps, and the civic body. Invitations to attend will be issued in due course.

The cortege will be headed by the Hawaiian band, and the body will be committed to the royal mausoleum, the burial service being read both in the Cathedral and at the vault by Rev. Canon Ault. The following will act as pall-bearers:

Judge Sanford B. Dole of the United States Court; Judge A. S. Hartwell, chief justice of the Hawaiian supreme court; Col. C. P. Lanke, trustee of the Liliuokalani Estate; Hon. W. O. Smith, of the Queen's Hospital trustees; Rear Admiral C. P. Rees, United States navy; E. I. Spalding of the Bank of Honolulu and Cecil Brown of the First National Bank.

MOTT-SMITH'S TRIP.

Yesterday afternoon Governor Frear received a telegram from Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, granting leave of absence to Secretary Mott-Smith from November 12 till February next. Mr. Mott-Smith will leave here on the 11th instant by the Siberia for San Francisco and will attend the Greater Pacific fleet congress, from there he will go to San Antonio and represent Hawaii at the Trans-Mississippi Congress. Afterwards he will go to Washington where he will discuss many important matters affecting the welfare of Hawaii.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE BEST OBTAINABLE.

This remedy has no superior as a cure for colds, croup and whooping cough. It has been a favorite with the mothers of young children for almost forty years. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. It not only cures colds, and grip, but prevents their resulting in pneumonia. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all dealers Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

THE NEW BEVERAGE.

Not that the liquid itself is new, for it has been known doubtless since Abraham left Ur of the Chaldees to herd cattle in the valley of Hebron. No American farm folk are ignorant of the merits of fresh cold buttermilk. It has furnished a delightful and wholesome drink for millions of people throughout this land—but not for those of the city, who look to the ubiquitous soda fountain for their refreshment.

All of a sudden however that whimsical thing we call popular fancy has seized upon this distinctly rural drink, and the creameries are put to it now to supply enough buttermilk. We hope the fashion will become settled as a permanent habit, for there could be no more harmless, indeed healthful, habit than that of drinking plenty of buttermilk during the hot summer months.

You cannot hurt yourself drinking too much of it. It creates no artificially stimulated appetite for more. It is a nourishing food as well as a cool drink. It is even more than all these—it is like mild medicine for many unwholesome conditions of the human system.—Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald.

NOVEMBER'S CHILL.

November nights are cool, even in the tropics. Nature probably fixes the temperature so as to prepare individuals for the strenuous month to follow. And speaking of strenuousness, what about preparing for it by an occasional trip to Haleiwa where all things are delightful. The climate is all to the good, the table better than any in Honolulu and the rooms and service as good as modern ideas can make them. There is always something going on at Haleiwa. Motorists are there a plenty and golfers find it a most delightful spot.

THE SUMMER WOMAN.

Most of us are, in the summer, for a period brief or lengthy as it may be, a summer woman, so to speak. We are, at home, the same woman we have always been, except with such progress as we are making, however slow it may be, toward perfection. But in the summer most of us leave it and its familiar atmosphere and humdrum cares behind, and go off for a holiday. And then it is that we become the summer woman.

What sort of summer woman do we make? And is she so delightful that it would be well to take this agreeable lady back to the home with us upon our return, instead of installing again the one who customarily dwells there?

Gathered with strangers under one roof, be it summer hotel or boarding house, sometimes it is our faults that come to the surface, and show out most glaringly. There is not there the love and consideration to gloss them over that there is in one's home. Or, we may put our best foot forward, so to speak, in order to make a good impression. We are agreeable, thoughtful, unselfish. In fact, we are rather surprised at what a pleasant person we can be, when we really make an effort. Whether our faults or our good qualities show up strongest, the sort of summer woman we make may help us to improve the every day, all-round woman we usually are.

The new environment, the new outlets for us to express ourselves are full of opportunities for us to develop and to add fresh interests to our life. In the first place, we make an impression by our clothes, and we win or repel by them. If they announce cost without taste, if they proclaim daintiness and refinement, whatever may be their message, they begin at once to form invisibly for us, our circle. If it is formed wrongly, if our clothes give an incorrect impression, we may by means of our personality be able to break through it. But our clothes are the first to begin to make our place. So we should study our wardrobe, not only that it shall be stylish, but that it shall give the right personal message for us. It speaks truly, it will help us to win the congenial companions and acquaintances we wish.

If we make an effort to be a little more thoughtful than we are at home, to inquire after the health of the elderly folk about us, to help amuse the children on a rainy day, we by so much not only make headway in a good direction, but we also, perhaps, entertain angels unawares, and bring into our life some beautiful friendship or enjoyable new interests. It is rather a diverting experience to be a summer woman who is decidedly an advance upon the woman we usually are. And we may find the change so delightful that we decide to make it permanent.

THE LAST MAN HOME.

Blank got home the other day from his summer vacation. When he went away, July 1, he told everybody he was going to take two weeks off. He had a plan in his head. He intended to be the last man home. He stayed through July and August. September brought him the call of the city, but he stayed on. He fished and fished and fished. He got lonesome and he got homesick. Same old days and same old nights; but he stuck it out. October and the falling leaf brought him.

At the depot Blank met Brown. He rushed up and shook hands with him. Brown seemed surprised. On the street he met Smith. Smith also seemed surprised. On the corner he ran across Jones.

"What's wrong?" asked Brown, as his hand was shaken.

"Oh, nothing."

Then Blank overtook Green. He knew Green for a talker and a fish enthusiast. He had thought of him when fishing and had saved the figures of his biggest catches to show him. Green said it was a fine evening. Blank agreed. Green said it might be an early winter. Blank agreed. Green said he had a cold. Blank agreed. Not a word about being away. Not a word about fishing. Finally, it seemed the point of coming.

"Oh, Blank, I wanted to ask you—"
"Yes?"
"Wanted to ask—"
"Yes, wanted to ask you what you thought of Roosevelt as a candidate in 1912."

And the disappointed and disgruntled Blank replied that he didn't think a darned thing.

MARY GOT MARRIED.

"I hear that Mary is married," said the woman with a mourning hat to the one with a flower garden on her head.

"Yes?"
"Married to her boss, I hear."

"Yes?"
"They say he is rich."

"A million, I believe."

"Gracious me, but what a catch for a stenographer. Mary must be very, very happy."

"Well, I dunno. There are offsets."

"You mean he doesn't love her?"

"Oh, I guess he does; but, you see, before the marriage Mary had only half a day's dictation. Now he's dictating to her the whole 24 hours and she gets no wages at that!"

can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle our most skilled physicians, who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field originated Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has proved more potent and efficacious in curing female ills than any combination of drugs known.

THE MUNICIPAL TREASURERSHIP.

There is absolutely no justification that can be pleaded by any Republican for supporting, by influence or vote, the Democratic candidate for city and county treasurer. An undoubted political influence attaches to the office which the Republican party, owning a normal majority, should in civic duty seize and possess. The political folly that was manifested when such men as Waterhouse, Beckley and von Holt were "knifed" by voters of their own party, who believed that upon their party good government depended, should not be repeated in the case of Robert W. Shingle, a man well qualified in capacity and character for the office.

If Mr. Trent has a constitutional or vested right to perpetual tenure of the office, the legislature might as well incorporate the fact in the municipal charter. It would save a lot of trouble. Absurd as this idea is, it is exactly what the Republican supporters of Mr. Trent aid in making into unwritten law. If the office were for life or during good behavior—something foreign to elective positions—it should be such by statute and not custom.

When the Republicans have a good man to oppose Mr. Trent, there is no reason for their sinking of party loyalty with regard to this particular office. The position has done more for Mr. Trent than Mr. Trent has done for the municipality. It has been a valuable advertisement for his private business, and it is contributing directly to the rental of his business premises, while paying him a fair living salary. The actual work of the position is done by subordinates paid by the taxpayers. There is no reflection on Mr. Trent in all this, but neither is there cause why he should forever hold the office. No credit whatever is due to him for the satisfactory condition of municipal finances throughout the present term. That all of the public services under the municipality have been kept going at an even rate of expenditure, within the revenue, so that there has been no interruption of steady employment for the day laborers and never any suspension of cash payment, with registering of warrants, is due entirely to the financial management of the Republican supervisors. Mr. Trent is merely the cashier of the institution, and that, so far as details of work are concerned, through salaried deputies. He has held the office for several terms and it should now be another man's turn.

It is really unnecessary to specify the qualifications of the Republican candidate for city and county treasurer. Mr. Shingle has grown up with the new Honolulu. From his entrance into financial and fiduciary business, more than ten years ago, until now he has taken and held rank with the most astute, fair-dealing, progressive and public-spirited leaders of business. His services to the Territory as a member of last legislature were conspicuously valuable, and, only that the party wanted him to run for municipal treasurer now, legislative honors would again have been thrust upon him. So not only the welfare of the Republican party but the propriety of rewarding public services ought to stand as good reason why Mr. Shingle should receive the full party vote.

On the other hand, there is valid cause for retiring Mr. Trent from office on this occasion, in the fact that he is one of the few influential Democrats who stand by the McAndrews policy of opposition to immigration.

A WEATHER DISTURBANCE.

Among the many institutions coming in for investigation in this year of knocking, the weather bureau has not escaped. This interesting and instructive outfit is under the Department of Agriculture, although the laws of nature would rather make agriculture subordinate to weather. One James Berry lately resigned a job in the bureau—and it was near the end of the berry season—and in his letter to Secretary Wilson he intimated that he could tell things about the weather business which were not right. He had been handling the weather for more than thirty-two years, and he had been advanced in rank by every Secretary of Agriculture since the bureau was transferred thereto from the War Department in 1891. Leaving specifications to "the proper time," when, he trusted, he could state them in "the proper way," Mr. Berry yet went so far as to say that "For some time there has been existing in the weather bureau a deplorable condition of affairs for which mismanagement, extravagance and inefficiency are responsible."

Prof. Willis L. Moore, director of the bureau, gave out a statement in which he explained that, in the interest of economy and efficiency, the division presided over by James Berry at the central office of the weather bureau was recently abolished and his duties were divided between other division chiefs. Another assignment was offered to Mr. Berry, which he refused to accept. "He had served under my direction for fifteen years, and received advancement on my recommendation," the director said, "but he only saw fit to criticize my administration when one of my orders conflicted with his personal interests."

People have been blaming Halley's comet for the freak weather of the past summer, but unless Director Moore can clear himself the blame may be transferred to his administration. In the meantime the matter is liable to become a fresh cause of insurgency. If there is one thing the American people will not stand for, it is monkeying with the weather.

WARNING BROUGHT HOME.

A case of yellow fever has been intercepted at the portals of Honolulu. This is probably the nearest the scourge of middle America has ever come to these islands. It is a visit that has been a subject of warning in all discussions of Isthmian traffic to come hither—first when the talk was Panama canal, then Nicaraguan canal, Panama canal again, and, between the last two, the Isthmus of Tehuantepec route upon which commerce between this port and the Atlantic coast has now for some years been plying.

Fortunately the Federal health authorities, as well as the Territorial, have been alert to the peril from the beginning. There is perhaps no subject that has received more earnest investigation from past and present officers of the United States Marine Hospital and Public Health service in charge of quarantine here. The watch kept on steamers from the isthmus has also been most vigilant, a fact to which is due the halting of the pestilence without the gate by Dr. Ramus and his staff on this occasion. Honolulu may congratulate itself that the maxim "Forewarned is forearmed" is lived up to by the able guardians of the public health whom the United States government assigns to duty at this strategic point.

At the same time, Honolulu must not rely upon quarantine safeguards however efficient they may be. It is well known that the anopheles mosquito is the carrier of yellow fever, and indeed that the disease will not spread without being carried by that insect. Although this is not the species of mosquito that abounds here—plague though the latter is—yet the existence here of specimens of the yellow fever bearer has occasionally been reported. We shall not be entitled to feel easy over the rarity of the anopheles until the whole mosquito family is exterminated. Means to this end thus far employed, it is needless to say, have been inadequate. War to the finish, at any cost, must be waged. Drastic measures should be adopted by the legislature, or else power be given by it to the counties in that regard, for the annihilation of the pest. If the condemnation of property containing breeding grounds for the mosquito be deemed necessary by the medical investigators, let there be no hesitation in providing and applying that remedy.

The mosquito must go.

HONOLULU MAN'S EXPLOITS IN MANILA REACH SUDDEN END

The following accounts from Manila of the doings of A. F. Thayer, who has been credited in Manila as the representative of Dillingham of Honolulu, but with whom the Dillinghams disclaim any connection, arrived by the transport Logan this morning:

September 29.—The end came to Alfred Finley Thayer's exploits yesterday when three of his many creditors, representing claims amounting to P. 3,600, only a small fraction of the total, made application to the court of first instance for the appointment of a receiver for his affairs.

Thayer came to the Philippines several months ago and entered into a deal with the bureau of lands to lease part of the well known and historic Calamba estate in Laguna province for the purpose of raising sugar cane. He claimed to be the agent of the Dillingham interests of Hawaii and told of the intended investment of P. 3,000,000 of Hawaiian capital in the estate.

He secured some local capital amounting to some P. 20,000 and it was believed that a great future was in store for the investors, the Calamba estate being one of the finest pieces of sugar raising land in the island of Luzon. Of late it has been noised abroad that Thayer's affairs were not in the same and sane condition in which they should be, and his sudden departure about ten days ago for Hongkong, caused the stockholders in the enterprise to look into their affairs with the result that they placed the matter in the hands of their attorney, Hartford Beaumont, who yesterday made application for the appointment of an official receiver to tide over the present difficulty.

October 4.—In reply to the court order to appear in Judge Crossfield's court taking with him the books and papers relative to A. F. Thayer's business affairs, Attorney Wolfson appeared yesterday morning and made the startling statement to the court that Thayer kept no books of any kind and that the only papers he had relative to the Calamba estate affairs were the leases entered into with the government.

In reply to a demand for certain correspondence between Thayer and the Dillingham interests, supposed to be in his possession, Attorney Wolfson claimed the protection of professional secrecy and his contention was sustained by the court.

October 5.—The receivers of the A. F. Thayer affairs have accepted the offer of a loan from D. M. Carman, who has secured an option on the Calamba estate which he proposes to purchase for certain capitalists whose identity has not yet been made known. The making of the loan was conditioned on the option and the deal has been sanctioned by Judge Crossfield.

It is understood that the capitalists who will take over the property will develop it in the same manner and to the same degree of perfection that

The inquiries concerning the opium smuggling that has been going on here for some time, have led to the discovery that forged labels have been used. These tins with the false labels were called for at the express company's office by Wong Chong, and he has been taken into custody. Inquiries concerning the matter have been instituted but so far nothing definite has been ascertained. Wong Chong was taken before Commissioner Davis during yesterday afternoon, and was released on $1,500 bail. E. A. Douthitt has been retained to defend Wong.

was primarily intended by Thayer, or at least in the same manner as he claimed the Dillingham interests would develop it.

The property included in the Calamba estates includes valuable sugar lands on Calamba, Sta. Rosa, Cabuyao and Binan.

YEE CHAN TO HAVE BIG BARGAIN SALE

Yee Chan, King and Bethel streets, will have one of the greatest bargain sales of the year, beginning with tomorrow (Saturday) and lasting for ten days only.

One half of a $60,000 stock of merchandise is to be closed out at prices never before heard of in Honolulu. The goods to be sacrificed include clothing, hats, trunks, underwear, suit cases, dress goods and, in fact, almost everything in the line of gentlemen's or ladies' wearing apparel.

This is a bona fide bargain sale, and should be taken advantage of by ladies and gentlemen of Honolulu. See list of some of the great bargains in advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

YEAR FOR DOPE

Young Chin who pleaded guilty to a charge of having imported smoking opium, was this morning sentenced in the Federal Court to one year's imprisonment.

SCHLEMMER CASE

In the case against Max Schlemmer who is charged with having imported Japanese into the Territory, the following jury was empanelled, in the United States Court: T. H. Hughes, J. J. Lecker, J. K. Clarke, Samuel Rogers, A. M. Nowell, Percy J. Levey, John P. Roomanis, P. E. R. Strauch, C. K. Ai, A. L. Soule, A. F. Gertz and S. A. Walker.

The case is proceeding.

LETTERS ABOUT THE EXCURSION FROM SOUND

Owing to lack of a quorum there was not a meeting of the Hawaii Promotion Committee yesterday afternoon, all business going over to a future date. It was a pity, too, for these were interesting matters to bring before the body, one of them being correspondence with organizations and persons in the Sound country concerning the proposed excursion from up there next winter. One of these letters is from C. B. Yandell, secretary of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

The letter from the manager of the Seattle Excursion, Mr. King, is as follows:

"The Excursion on the Prince Rupert from Seattle will be known as the North Pacific Coast Commercial Excursion. This change was made necessary owing to the popular demand of the various commercial bodies located throughout Washington, Oregon and the Boards of Trade in

Few Transactions But Figures Are Better

The stock market is still very slack, transactions being few and there being scarcely a ripple of interest at any hand. Here and there were indications of strength, but this strength was not shown in any actual happening. The slight advance in the price of beet sugar has undoubtedly had some effect, although it is generally felt that this is a freak rise and that the price will drop again as the harvest draws near.

Local brokers are in frequent touch with San Francisco, but have uncovered nothing over there that spells encouragement; and Mr. Politz is just now doing his own whistling.

Oahu seemed to be the center of interest today. The stock was in good demand, and there was apparently a disposition to bid up on it. Yesterday Oahu closed at $4.75 bid and $4.875 asked. Between boards 300 shares sold at the former figure, followed by 10 at the latter. At the close this morning $4.75 was still bid, but holders were asking $5.

Oahu again appeared in the trading, 25 shares selling at $26.50. At the close $26.625 was bid and $26.875 asked for this stock.

McBryde was probably a trifle more solid, 45 shares selling at $4.375, after which $4.25 was bid for more and $4.50 asked.

Interesting quotations without sales were: Ewa, $28.50 bid and $28.75 asked; Hawaiian Commercial, $34 bid; Pioneer, $182 bid and $185 asked; Waialua, 100 bid and $101 asked.

Pioneer, it will be noted, is lower than it has been in a very long while. The cause is undoubtedly the fear that low sugar next year may reduce the amount of dividends.

Grinding will begin at Waialua plantation next week and on the Paia side of Maui about the 15th. Arrangements have already been made to begin shipments of new sugar from that locality early in December.

Oahu plantation and Ewa have both had good rains in the last forty-eight hours, there being quite a downpour Wednesday night. At Oahu the artisan level is once more satisfactory, and Engineer Scoville anticipates no further complaint or rumors about salt in the water.

The official statement that Alexander Morrison will assume the management of Honokaa plantation early in the new year has already had the effect of renewing interest in the stocks and bonds of that corporation. Honokaa is a good property, and if properly handled it will quickly become one of the most profitable estates in the Islands. A man who promises 11,000 tons of sugar and delivers only 7,000 is not the one, however, to keep pace with things as they are done in Hawaii.

VERY HEAVY RAIN DOWN AT WAIALUA

Waialua has been visited by a very heavy rain, all of the cane land receiving a thorough wetting. The storm began there on Wednesday night and for hours it looked as though the district was in for a real old-fashioned kona. The wind was from the south, but appeared to be variable.

For a long time after the start the rain "came down in sheets," the storm being accompanied by bright flashes of lightning and a heavy thunder.

After the heavier part of the storm had passed the rain continued for thirty-six hours, at the end of which time the record showed a total fall of 5.35 inches.

All the ditches were filled and the plantation up to the mountains most thoroughly soaked. Manager Goodale states that the fall of rain was the heaviest for that locality in a very long time. The rain did not let up until noon yesterday. Today it has been clear, but the indications seem to be of more rain before the week is over.

A singular thing about the storm was that most of the rain fell on the lowlands. The big reservoir behind the Waialua dam did not fill very much, indicating that the fall on the mountain tops was comparatively light.

IMPROVEMENTS AT A GARAGE CENTER

The extension of Bishop street from Merchant to Queen will involve several business changes of interest, and when the work is finished the locality will present quite a different appearance to what has been in the past.

For instance, the new street line will take out the entire half of the Schuman Carriage Company's front store and will follow the Waikiki line of the present auto barn at Queen street. On the Waikiki side the new street will cut off 13 feet of the Associated Garage's front and taper down to nothing at Queen street.

The change will necessitate the removal of the Associated Garage's office from the Ewa to the Waikiki side of the present building, as the strip left on the Ewa side will be entirely too small. Workmen have already started on an addition to adjoin the present structure at the Waikiki side, which will be used for storage and other purposes.

The changes will greatly improve the general appearance of the locality, as several old shacks back of the old Gazette building will be torn out, the old Gumpfer lot on the Waikiki side will be made to look better and the whole area will be modernized.

When the work is entirely finished the two garages affected will really have more room than now, and will be equally as well located in point of convenience.

OFFICE EXPANSION.

Williamson & Buttolph, stock brokers, and Dondoro & Lansing, real estate dealers, with offices in the Campbell building, Merchant street, have eliminated the hallway between their respective offices and established in its stead a single, community wall. The object is to gain room, and as a matter of fact both sets of offices have been considerably enlarged.

C. F. Bush, of the Promotion Committee, Merchants' Association, etc., was a passenger in the Wilhelmnia last night for Hilo. He visits the big island partially on business and partly pleasure, and will return next week.

COLLEGIANS MUCH CRIPPLED FOR FOOTBALL GAME TOMORROW

The Higgs and the Parsons will meet for the second time on the grid-iron at the Bay View tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Higgs claim to have played a clean game and they are at a loss to account for the injuries of their opponents.

Parsons' coats served up in a race tomorrow," they say the public will know the reason why.

Captain Marcellino has withdrawn Blart from the high school ranks. Marcellino will occupy a position in the backfield and Blart, who has been coaching the Higgs and who played quarter for that team last Saturday, will fill his old position behind the college lines.

As far as a quarterback is concerned, the Higgs are up a tree. The probability is that Captain Rea may take a try at the position or Anderson G. Dwight.

A better class of football is anticipated despite the crippled condition of the Collegian team. A larger crowd is expected and the Higgs hope a larger number of supporters will line the side lines when the game is called.

PHILADELPHIA BASEBALL MAD DURING THE BIG GAMES

PHILADELPHIA, October 19.—Connie Mack for Governor, Big Chief Bender for Lieutenant Governor, Jack Coombs for any remaining office that he would care to have and a special $75,000 job for Eddie Collins.

Philadelphia has always been a baseball town. But at present the city is simply gone mad. Nearly 40,000 persons, of every type and station, mingled in a vast throng that went out to see the Athletics defeat the Cubs yesterday.

Business simply went to smash. Only Mr. Scrooge stayed in his office, and if the truth be known he took several covert peeps at the newspaper score board across the street. It is not estimated how many clerks who "went to the dentist's" met their employers at the gates of Shibe Park.

Nobody knows how many sprained ankles and dislocated knees kept clerks, stenographers and so forth away from the office. There must have been 1000 "cripples" out at Twentieth street and Lehigh avenue as early as noon.

Phew! Did you ever see that boy Collins straighten out Brown's in-shoot? Did you notice the way Jack Coombs rammed them across? Did I see it? Blew! Blew! Could I miss it?

Strategy That Failed. The horde of cemented Philadelphians who went forth to see the great game made the police work as they seldom worked before at a baseball game anywhere.

The horde of cemented Philadelphians who went forth to see the great game made the police work as they seldom worked before at a baseball game anywhere.

Thousands walked. Happy was the man who lived in North Philadelphia. Bicycles which had not seen the light of day for years were fetched up from the cellar, greased, wiped off and ridden with more or less safety over Broad street and out the humanity-clogged Lehigh avenue.

They raved and threatened, but all that they received in way of an answer was a peremptory order to move further inside. The policemen then kept a close watch on the walls lest the speculators throw their tickets over to friends.

From the Girls' High School, managed to struggle out of the park anyway, and once there became widely scattered because a policeman told them that they would have to get in line with the rest.

At noon the crowd became dense. Unlike Monday everybody seemed to try to get in at once. A pushing, shuffling, milling mob it was and not infrequently the policeman and the ticket takers were shoved aside in the rush for the bleachers seats.

The speculators were ordered off the pavement and to desist from hawking their wares around the park. Several obeyed, but the huge profits to be made by selling prompted some to remain.

KING MAKES BOLD OFFER

The talk of another race for Soldier King still attracts attention in athletic circles. Jackson, Ornelas and Gorman are anxious to give King a chance of making good on his challenge to run ten miles to their nine, Jackson, Ornelas and Gorman to run three each, and as soon as a decision can be arrived at a definite announcement will be made.

UNION LABOR DEMONSTRATION

LOS ANGELES, November 4.—Anxious to show their strength to those who have allied themselves against unionism and who have resolved to spare neither expense nor energy in keeping this city one of the open shop united unionism paraded the streets last night.
Ten thousand men, carrying torches marched through the principal streets, hundreds of illuminated signs being in the line. The men represent almost the total strength of all the unions of the city, while along with them were several labor leaders from other cities of the state.
Hundreds of extra policemen had been sworn in to prevent any disturbances along the route of the union procession, but the crowd that marched and the crowd that watched along the line were orderly.

FATHER HEADS POSSE TO RESCUE DAUGHTER

CITY OF MEXICO, November 4.—Pedro Solvero the Mexican peon who kidnapped Grace Rolph, the sixteen-year-old daughter of a resident of Lincoln, Nebraska, is being closely pursued, the father of the girl leading the posse. The government has ordered the commanders of troops in the districts to aid in the rescuing of the girl and the capture of the abductor. Those who have seen the fugitive and his victim report that the girl has been brutally mistreated and presents a pitiful sight. Her captor forces her to accompany him in his fight under threats of death.

WIND DESTROYS MANY AEROPLANES

BALTIMORE, November 4.—Great damage has been done by storm to the temporary buildings erected on the Hangars aviation field, where contests were about to be run off. The buildings to house the air machines were leveled by the fury of the wind and the aeroplanes, in many instances, have been wholly destroyed. It is estimated that the damage to the machines will total fifty thousand dollars.

BERING SEA IS STORM SWEEPED.

NOME, Alaska, November 4.—A terrific storm is now sweeping across Bering Sea, and great damage is being done along the Alaskan Coast. Reports from the various small towns and landings tell of wharves swept away or damaged, while shipping is in peril.

BRIAND SELECTS TWO OF HIS MINISTERS

PARIS, November 4.—M. Pinchon has been named by Premier Briand as the minister of foreign affairs in the new cabinet being formed, and M. Brun as the minister of war.

LETTERS ABOUT THE EXCURSION

British Columbia. This lets down the bars to enable the Commercial Clubs to send a representative with any advertising matter they may choose to select and without meeting any serious objections enables them to 'hurrah' for their own town. As originally planned, we could not expect the hearty co-operation of all and at the same time give the entire credit to one. After noting this explanation I think you will readily appreciate the conditions all of which have been thoroughly cleaned up now under the plan as outlined above.
The Seattle Commercial Club at their meeting Tuesday night will take official notice of the Excursion and issue a letter of endorsement. Other letters of various commercial bodies throughout the state and British Columbia will come to us within the next three weeks, they were being held up under the old plan.

"Heretofore I have given no explanation to you why we did not include the Honolulu expenses in our passage fares. If we had done this, that would have deprived the hotels of Honolulu of their earnings which naturally should go to them. I hope you will give this publicity where it will do the most good. I would like very much to have the hotel men send us what literature they have descriptive of their accommodations. As I wrote you, we will be glad to distribute the matter."

The Committee's agent for the Northwest, Mrs. Headlee, writes under date of October 22nd.

"The difficulty relative to the excursion has only just today been adjusted and I hasten to notify you. In some ways it is perhaps the best solution of the trouble; in other ways perhaps not what you might have wished, for the Chamber has withdrawn from any active part in it other than to send ten representative business men to accompany it, officially representing the Chamber and to study trade relations. The meeting under the Grand Trunk officials and the Chamber took place yesterday afternoon and Mr. Yandell dictated a letter to you in my presence this morning which will go forward by this mail. While his letter does not state some of the reasons for this action, I will say that the most important influence was that the steamer was under British register and quite a little has been said here through the press and otherwise adverse to the Chamber conducting it. Then another thing was that they said they were not in a position to put up the $25,000.00 guarantee to the Company on December 1st, so Mr. Yandell has turned over to me the cuts you sent and we now have a folder about ready for the press, in which they will be used. He will also turn over the forty names of tentative reservations that have come through correspondence.

"Mr. King claims to have letters from a number of commercial clubs throughout the state endorsing the excursion if the Chamber is out of it. The Seattle Commercial Club will officially endorse it on next Tuesday evening and will send representatives. The name of the excursion will be—The North Pacific Coast Commercial Excursion; King and Ullberg booking agents.
"If the unqualified endorsement of the Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane and Portland Commercial Clubs be secured, as Mr. King insists can be done, then we will be stronger than before. I am sure there will be no trouble in filling the boat.
"No doubt you have received the knowledge ere this of a special excursion from Portland by the steamer 'Queen' I sent some cuts and photographs to them this week. I have been so busy that I have scarcely time to attend to any mail. Every evening but Saturdays and Sundays taken until I leave for Portland and letters in answer to my circular letter for dates in Portland lectures running into January.

ROASTS AND PRAISES NEWSPAPERS

The power of the newspaper is greater than that of the clergy and even greater than that wielded by legislative bodies declared the Rev. Joseph A. Milburn, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, Chicago, in an address last Saturday before the Hawkeye Fellowship Club.
While the speaker picked many flaws in the newspapers, he approved of the Sunday papers which kept young men at home through interest in the pictures or reading columns who otherwise would spend the Sabbath on the streets with bad companions.

"Had I given a little more thought to my subject before announcing it I would have changed it to 'The Latter-Day Autocrat,'" said Dr. Milburn. "For after all, that is what the newspaper is. It is not properly called the 'Fourth Estate' it is the 'First Estate.' Its power is greater than that of legislative bodies. I believe that the papers of England would jeopardize the throne.
"We owe a great debt to the newspaper as a distributor of light. It uses a clear, strong English; a pedestrian English, so to speak; one that walks upon its feet. Its influence in drawing men to athletics and away from other forms of amusement is powerful. I believe in the Sunday newspaper because it affords something for the young man to do on Sunday. He wouldn't go to church, anyway.

"The newspaper stands for religious liberty. So do I. I like to go to mass. I believe that mass is the most wonderfully acted worship ever conceived by the human mind.
"But the newspaper has its faults," continued the speaker. "It expatiates to the public taste, giving it what it wants rather than what it needs. The reporter is liable to change some little item in your interview to suit his purposes and so make your statement ridiculous instead of what you intended it.
"I preached a sermon in which I said that the commercial interests were driving the churches from the business to the residential districts. I mentioned garages in the talk, and the next morning the papers said that I stated the bank bank of automobiles was driving the people from my church.
"The press is guilty of a want of fine feeling or delicacy. It invades the privacy of the home. It enters the death chamber relentlessly and asks for the facts regardless of the circumstances; it tries the banner or railroad man suspected of wrongdoing before he has a hearing in the court; it photographs the young girl and flashes her picture through the streets, adding to the passion she already has for such things."

agin' orders."
"Yes, I suppose so," was the discouraged reply.
"Got a home?"
"No."
"Any money?"
"Not a red."
"No friends?"
"Not a one."
"Sad, sad case, but you must move on."
"No other way?"
"No other."
Then the old man struggled to his feet and looked up and down the cold and deserted street. Then he gave a yell and a kick. Off went the officer's helmet. He yelled and kicked again and the gas lamp was shattered. One more yell—one more kick—and the plate glass window of the shoe store was shattered with a crash. Then the old man fell to the walk and lay there like a log. The officer advanced and bent over him, but saw that it was the end. Death had come to take the old man home.
"Gone to his reward!" sighed the cop. "He was an old foot ball player and he was making his last kick."

HIS LAST KICK.

He was a quiet, harmless-looking old man, and as he sat in a doorway and shivered in the night wind the policeman on that beat felt to pity him and passed him thrice without saying a word. But duty was imperative. At the fourth time the cop paused and said:
"Sorry for you, old man, but it's

Chalmers MOTOR CARS

THE Chalmers "30" is the only medium priced car that was ever awarded the Glidden Trophy

Of all the Glidden Tours, that of 1910 was the longest, and by far the hardest. It lasted for sixteen running days and covered 2,851 miles. It started at Cincinnati and went "by way of Dallas, Texas," through thirteen States to Chicago.
Words and pictures cannot make plain the racking cobblestone roads of Kentucky—the stump-studded forest trails of the Tennessee mountains—the swamps of Arkansas—the deep, treacherous sands of Texas—the mud of Kansas—the bridgeless southern streams or the sweltering heat that punished cars and men alike.
It is the opinion of experts who made this tour that no car in the world could have completed it with a perfect score. Yet, from Cincinnati to Louisville—to Nashville—to Sheffield, Ala.—to Memphis—to Little Rock—to Hot Springs—to Texarkana—to Dallas—to Lawton, Oklahoma—to Oklahoma City—to Wichita, Kansas—eleven consecutive days out of the sixteen, through the hardest part of the trip—and for five days after every other car on the tour had been penalized, not a single point could be assessed against the Chalmers "30"—the $1500 car—$1600 with magneto, Prest-O-Lite tank and gas lamps.
In all the history of motoring, there is no performance like this. The Glidden Trophy has never been won before by a car costing less than $4000.
If you are thinking of buying a car, what better proof could you ask of reliable performance under all conditions than you have in the Glidden Tour record of the winning Chalmers "30"?
The Chalmers "30" has never been defeated in any important motoring event by any car of its price and power class. The Chalmers "Forty" won the Detroit Trophy in the 1909 Glidden Tour. Chalmers cars have won more events of all kinds in proportion to the number entered than other cars.
In addition to perfect mechanical performance, you get in the Chalmers all the beauty of line and finish that you can find in any car.
What more could you ask in any car at any price than you get in the medium-priced Chalmers?
We have never had so large a volume of business as we have now. There has never been so satisfying a demand for Chalmers cars as there has been since we announced our 1911 models. Yet this demand will not affect the Chalmers policy of building cars for quality, not quantity.
We suggest, therefore, that you place your order now, so as to be sure of getting the car that is your first choice. Chalmers cars are the first choice of those who look most carefully into the automobile question and know the most about automobile values.
1911 cars are now on exhibition. Deliveries are being made according to schedule.

In the action to quiet title brought by Henry St. John Nahaolele et al. v. H. A. Heen, Judge Whitney gave his decision this morning and stated that he was of the opinion that title in law had been shown to be in the defendant. Judgment was accordingly given for the defendant.

A PISTOL DUEL ON FORT STREET

moved she was led back to the room, where she sat down, but on hearing that one of the men was likely to die, the tears started afresh, and the horror of the affair seemed to be borne in on her with greater force. The waiters discussed the matter in their native tongue, and almost everybody present seemed to have a different version about the beginning and the actual shooting. No two stories seemed to agree; others, who had seen the whole of the incidents, preferred to keep the story to themselves, and would only tell it to the police.

In the meantime, medical aid was tendered to McQuaid. An automobile was secured and he was hurried to the Queen's hospital, for a superficial examination of his wound showed that it was a very serious one. Driver was taken to the police station, and on his arrival there he informed the police that he was wounded on the hip. He also was taken to the hospital, Chief Detective McDuffie accompanying him. Owing to the fact that McQuaid was in a serious condition Driver was taken before him and McQuaid unhesitatingly identified him as his assailant. Driver likewise pointed out McQuaid as his assailant.

Both men were kept in hospital for treatment, and investigations into the cause of the shooting affray were made by the police.

Though nothing of a definite nature will be given out by the police as to the cause of the trouble, there does not seem any room for doubt. Driver is alleged to have been paying attentions to McQuaid's wife and it is also further said that McQuaid was laying for him with the intention of either warning him to keep away or of forcing him to do so.

The fact that both men were armed conclusively shows that trouble was expected. McQuaid had a Smith and Wesson 38 short caliber revolver loaded in five chambers and each of the five were emptied at Driver. Driver had a six chambered Colt's revolver, also 38 caliber, and it was loaded in all compartments. Only two shots were fired out of it, however, the prompt interference of the police preventing further shooting.

J. H. Osmar, motorman No. 19, saw the whole affair from his vantage point on the car which was then stationary at the corner of Fort and Hotel street. Before a shot was fired he saw Driver running from the sidewalk towards the Nonaka car, followed by McQuaid. In McQuaid's right hand was a revolver and before Driver reached the car a shot rang out. Driver hastily dived into the car, and scrambled through to the other side, while McQuaid continued to fire shot after shot at the retreating man. Only one shot took effect and this did not stop Driver, who gained the other side of the car in comparative safety.

By this time McQuaid had emptied his revolver and when Driver reappeared around the end of the car with a revolver in his hand McQuaid was defenceless for the moment. Driver raised his revolver to fire as McQuaid turned to flee and the first shot from Driver's weapon took effect in McQuaid's back. A second shot fired before McQuaid gained the shelter of the Baltimore tea rooms, into which he staggered and fell on to the floor. Police Officer Peter Hese had by this time arrived on the scene and prevented further bloodshed by taking Driver into custody.

About six months ago McQuaid is said to have started after Driver with a revolver, which was taken away from him by friends. On this occasion McQuaid had seen Mrs. McQuaid late in the evening with Driver and he then declared his intention to kill Driver on sight.

As a result of this and other incidents, it is said, Driver has kept himself armed constantly, expecting to be shot at any time by the husband who felt himself wronged.

McQuaid's friends say that his domestic troubles have long preyed upon his mind to an alarming extent. He has been drinking very heavily at times and trouble was feared by some of those intimate with him.

Driver made a lengthy statement to the police in which he explained how the shooting happened. He arrived back from Hawaii this morning on the Mauna Loa and proceeded at once to his rooms in the Majestic, where he lived with O'Connor. There he mentioned to O'Connor that he had heard that McQuaid had threatened to shoot him on sight, whereupon O'Connor suggested that it would be advisable for him to carry his gun.

Driver replied: "I think perhaps I will," and with that he took his revolver, an army Colt's, out of his bag and put it on, using a shoulder strap. The two men then proceeded down town for breakfast and went into the Baltimore Dairy. Driver had been sea sick coming in from Hawaii and did not feel inclined for eating. Consequently he did not take any breakfast, but ordered some sandwiches to take away with him. When the sandwiches were ready a car bound for Nuuanu passed the Baltimore and Driver ran out to catch it.

Crossing the road to the car he heard two shots and turned round to see McQuaid coming at him with a smoking revolver in his hand. Driver jumped on the car as McQuaid fired the third time. This shot took effect, said Driver, and he fell to his knees. Before McQuaid could fire again Driver had whipped out his revolver and fired, also missing. As McQuaid fired again Driver dashed through the car and out on the other side. He turned and ran round the car and saw McQuaid turning to run down Fort street. He rushed after him and fired a second shot as McQuaid neared the Baltimore Dairy and this shot brought McQuaid down.

Then the police arrested him.

Driver had been expecting trouble with McQuaid for some time; indeed as long ago as July, 1909, he bought an army revolver from E. O. Hall and Sons, the weapon he used this morning. McQuaid seems to have made up his mind to kill Driver on sight and apparently was waiting to do it this morning. Yesterday McQuaid went into E. O. Hall and Sons and purchased a 32 Savage Automatic revolver, but did not procure any cartridges. It being thought that he was under the impression that the cartridges he had for his Smith and Wesson revolver would fit the Savage.

McQuaid was shot in the back, below the shoulder blade, and the bullet is believed to be lodged in the lungs. While his condition is serious he has still a fighting chance of recovering. Driver's wound is not so serious. The bullet entered his back just above his hip, but up to the time of going to press had not been located. Both men are under the care of Dr. Judd.

The Neighborhood Tennis Club will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. F. B. Damon next Thursday evening. The regular annual meeting was to have been held last Wednesday night, but was postponed on account of the rain.

POLICE COURT HAS A CROWD

The fact that the charges of criminal assault against Joe Evans, Eddie Olds and Isaac Ahu were set down for hearing in the Police Court this morning was responsible for the crowded state of the room when District Magistrate Lymer took his seat on the bench at nine o'clock. At the time every seat in the court was taken up and around the back of the standing room was occupied. If the crowd expected to hear the details of the atrocious crime they were disappointed, for this morning's proceedings were of a formal nature.

The presence of the three defendants in the court was regarded with interest by the spectators. Olds and Ahu are only boys in appearance but they appeared to be fully aware of the seriousness of their position, the younger of the two sitting with his head down and his face hidden from view. But the American negro, Joe Evans, gazed around the court with an air of unconcern. He is a full grown man and has a rather bright appearance than otherwise, and he seemed absolutely indifferent of what happened, apparently finding much interest in studying the faces of the spectators.

When the case was called on and the three men brought out into the center of the court, there was a movement of expectation among the spectators, but this died away as County Attorney Brown asked that a nolle prosequi be entered, as the Grand Jury had found indictments against the accused.

Frank Andrade appeared on behalf of the defendants and had no objection to the request of the prosecution.

This morning's proceedings conclude the case as far as the police court is concerned, and the three men will now make their appearance before the Circuit Court.

TRANSPORT LOGAN

After a rough weather trip from Nagasaki the U. S. transport Logan arrived in port this morning, en route for San Francisco. The Logan had eighty-nine passengers in the cabins, forty six enlisted men of navy and marine corps, five hundred and sixty-two enlisted men of the army, twenty-two military convicts, twelve discharged soldiers and four servants on board. The vessel arrived at Nagasaki on the 19th ult., and left on the 21st. For about ten days after leaving Nagasaki heavy weather was experienced, and occasionally the sea broke over the top deck. The trip otherwise was a quiet one, there being no organized amusements.

The Logan expects to get away at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and she is expected to leave San Francisco on December 5 for the Philippines again, taking to the islands the 8th Cavalry.

The passenger list will be augmented by twenty-two from Honolulu, including General Tasker H. Bliss, General Aleshire, Major Blakely, Major Hains and Lieutenants Sheridan, E. Neils, Naughton, Burchfield. In addition sixty-seven troopers will join the Logan here.
