The First Local Mint.

One of the institutions here which has the special attention of tourists as well as the local people is the Mint, which is established on Nuuanu street, opposite Queen Emma Hall. It is interesting to enter the large main working room, where general manager McDonough and his corps of assistants are at work. The cool and large lansi is a proper resting place and the vaults, where the "bars" to be minted and beer are kept present a very tasty spectacle. The Mint is open from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and during those hours the work never ceases. Visitors after looking over the place will find first class refreshments and the purest of liquors

THE GOVERNOR'S SPIEL.

Mr. Dole has again succeeded in making an exhibition of his fading mental powers. He appeared yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Health, and endeavored to have his Minister of Interior submit to the arbitrary opinion of the Board of Health, a subordinate branch of the territorial government. We cannot see, why the Governor should be present at such a meeting? He was usurping a power, which might have been alright under the P. G. regime, but which is not "Americanism," any longer. He made the same mistake, as did an acting Attorney-General a few days ago, who sat on the Supreme Bench as a judge, and forgot that under our new regime the different branches of the governments shall not be mixed up.

The Governor wanted harmony, and "smoothed" matters. Why doesn't he resign, and thereby smooth matters permanently or call an extra session of the Legislature?

Mr. Boyd acted like a man and an honest official, while Dole with his medical letters acted like a fool. The Board of Health might have resigned, and we doubt that any harm from such an action would have resulted to the taxpayers. "Dr." Mott-Smith seems to be the working member of the Board and the sidesman of the Governor. The suggestions he makes, would make a wooden image laugh. We like Dr. Cooper because, at every meeting of the Board of Health, he wants to adjourn. And that is the only lucid and redeeming phase in the doings of that would-be boss body of public servants.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Will the adorers of Humphreys make a fool of the Judge when he arrives by the Alameda this evening or tomorrow, by giving a public reception to him at the dock and drag him into town accompanied by the noise of brass and drums? We have heard of such a program having been arranged, but we think we can assure the enthusiasts that a May-pole reception will not be appreciated by the man, who simply returns to his duties after a short vacation to the Mainland. If the Judge wants to go into politics, he will undoubtedly appear on the stump in due time and be from in the columns of the paper, he says he doesn't control of course. If he wants a reception, let the boys give him a good one. The American League flagpole may be available, and he may be induced to climb to the top of it to show his—return, to the Territory for the benefit of Colonel Mazuma and company.

John W. Kalua has been awarded a contract to supply paiai to the Leper Settlement. Is the contractor the U. S. Circuit Judge for Maui? Excuse us for using the title invented by brother Abe? If it is Judge John W. Kalua who has been given the contract, we can again see the finger of Governor Dole in the Board of Health pie.

J. Alfred Magoon seems to have plenty of trouble. His friend McCants Stewart wants a fee from him on a law case, the persons who have been his wards want a settlement, and their lawyers want fees. As a matter of fact the learned attorney should in the future be known as "fee-simple Magoon." That of course reminds us of an instance when Magoon entered the Court room with 203 law books (more and less) under his arm and Paul Neumann who was on the "other side" remarked that it would be expediting matters, if the learned Magoon had his law in his head and not under his arms.

We hear a great deal about the slavery of Asiatic girls in Hawaii. If such conditions exist we certainly be the very first in the field to fight any outrages like those to be investigated by the federal grand jury, under the instructions of Judge Estee. We do not know where that gentleman comes from, but presume that he is an American of high standing and some experience. Permit us to ask whether there are no "slavery" among Asiatics as well as whites in the United States? Will the Judge, who we know is acting conscientiously, deny that the slavery in the expensive brothels in Denver, Chicago, New York and New Orleans, is of a less gross nature than the slavery among Asiatics alleged to exist here? Of course the Judge will say that two wrongs do not make one right but he should remember that charity begins at home, and that during his long public life he should have tried and succeeded in protecting and liberating from so-called slavery the women of our race, living under his Stars and Stripes. The judge good and virtuous as he undoubtedly is, cannot change the opinions, customs and ideas of the Asiatics by a charge to a Grand Jury. We who understand conditions here know that the Japanese "slave" is not dissatisfied with her life, because she doesn't understand the lofty sentiments of the learned Judge. The white "slaves" in the brothels in America, where the Judge should have done his missionary work, go into the river eventually, but no Grand Jury bothers about them.

The Cole Concert.

There was a fair sized audience at the Opera House last evening, and Mrs. Cole and Mr. Pechotseh, the two performers received a cheering welcome.

Mrs. Cole possesses a fine contralto voice and Mr. Pechotseh uses his bow with great vigor and display of technique. Honolulu is by no means filled with critics, or objecting to being classed as a provincial town, but the performance last night was not up to, what we are used to, probably because we cannot forget Trebelli, Van Zandt, Wienawasky and Sarasate. Professor Ballas-yus was, as he always is, brilliant as an accompanist.

Good Openings.

Here is a good opportunity. A Cambridgehire clergyman requires a steady man who can milk a cow, having a good voice, and accustomed to take a part in a choral service. This is as good as the advertisement of the clergyman who wanted an organist. "One having some knowledge of music preferred," and the other announcement of a vacancy for a curate who had "a passable knowledge of English grammar."

From The Settlement.

The following report was read at the Board of Health meeting yesterday:

KALAWAO, Oct. 8, 1901.
Dr. H. C. Sloggett, President Board of Health, Honolulu:
Dear Sir:—I herewith forward to you my report for the quarter ending September 30th, 1901.

There have been thirty-seven deaths of lepers during this period and two deaths of non-lepers.

An epidemic of fever has visited us during the last two months; an ordinary continued fever and a relapsing fever; lepers and non-lepers alike have been attacked, but in every case when the subject was a leper, the fever has been accompanied with erysipelas of the head or face, and occasionally of some part of the body. The fever has generally been mild, but in some relapsing cases, the temperature was high. In all, the number of fever cases was 103, with five deaths.

There have been four births in the settlement, one male and three females, and one clean child has been sent to Honolulu.

Bathing has been as usual. Visits to the dispensaries average thirty-five daily. I am,

Yours truly,
RICHARD OLIVER, M. D.,
Resident Physician, Leper Settlement.

Empress Frederick.

The death of the Empress Frederick has caused a division among her younger children of the funds of her marriage settlement (about £300,000), and of a large sum in which she had a life interest under the will of the Emperor Frederick.

All the money passes to the respective trustees of the marriage settlements of Prince Henry of Prussia, the Hereditary Princess of Saxe-Meiningen, Princess Adolphus of Schaumburg-Lippe, Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse-Cassel, and the Duchess of Sparta. When the Empress Frederick was married in 1858 she received a grant of £40,000 from the country (with a life allowance of £8,000 a year), and a dowry of £100,000 from Queen Victoria.

The late Empress has left Count Seckendorf a legacy of $1,000,000 as a mark of esteem and regard.

The Murphy Union.

At a special meeting of the Francis Murphy Temperance Union held last evening for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, the following gentlemen were elected:

H. P. Baldwin, honorary president.
C. J. Austin, active president.
N. H. Trombley, first vice president.
Moses Nakuina, second vice president.
Geo. Boole, third vice president.
Board of Directors:—H. H. Ham, J. F. May, C. A. Yarick, E. J. Wilson, A. B. Wallace.
Secretary and acting treasurer, F. G. Noyes.

The Last Analysis.

She understand the rule of three,
And eke spheroids oblate,
And miracles with x, y, z,
Performs she while I wait.
But oh, 'tis sweet her little feet
The while to contemplate!
Her wit is like a needle's point—
She sharpens it on mine;
Her logic racks mine out of joint,
When she may so incline.
But oh, her eyes are like the skies
When June is most divine!
She emulates Demosthenes—
A man I should avoid;
With eloquence she aims to please,
Till I am fairly cloyed.
But soon she slips, for oh, her lips
Are otherwise employed!

Could Not Face Disgrace.

The Wife—I understand that the man they rescued from the burning building tried to commit suicide.

The Husband—No wonder. He had on a pair of pajamas his wife had made for him.

The Secret Out.

Why the ways are blue and sad, The poets have not told us yet; Perhaps they sob and feel so bad Because they feel so very wet.

The ballet girl cannot be charged with affectation; she puts on less than anyone else in the company.

De Sappy—My wife had a hard time getting me.

Miss Sharpe—I understand she went to a lot of trouble for nothing.

A Practical Hint.

I suppose if one saw a serpent lying close by one's feet, in the long rank grass,

One might perchance think twice ere trying

Along the side of his nest to pass.

One would hardly take the beast and set it

Where one's own brotcher was sure to go,

Or take it home and softly pet it, Because it seemed chilly and shivered so.

It's a rough and ready way of saying That Brother Jonathan and John Bull

Ought for ever to give up playing At being foes—for our hearts are full.

Full of joy, because above us (Let who will at the old faith fast)

Heavenly Powers were at work who love us,

And held the pistol from someone's breast.

Yet still our hearts are full of sorrow

Because of someone wounded sore

By a bullet sped in reckless madness—

Payment for some imagined score?

But— isn't it time we took to reason,

We and our brothers across the sea,

And together swore to settle treason Close by the foot of the gallows tree?

Why should we wish such vermin palter,

Or treat them as being fit to live!

A stout oak branch and a hempen halter

Are surely all that we ought to give!

Leave a few of them there to dangle—

It wouldn't take long to clear the pest

Let the common hangman the first few strangle,

And we needn't worry about the rest. MAUGE ST MAURY.

The Gordons.

Some time ago Lord Kitchener sent to the King, who is Commander-in-Chief of the Gordons, the following telegram:—"As Colonel-in-Chief of the Gordon Highlanders, your Majesty might be pleased to know that Commandant De Villiers, who was present, and has just surrendered, informs me that on the attack on the train on July 4 at Naboonpruit the guard of Gordon Highlanders, under Lieut. Best, who was killed, behaved with the utmost gallantry after the train had been captured by 150 Boers. The last four men, though completely surrounded and with no cover, continued to fire until three were killed and the fourth wounded. On this Boers asking the survivor the reason they had not surrendered, he replied, "Why, man, we are Gordon Highlanders!"

Those Women.

He asked his love to marry him, By letter she replied;

He read her firm refusal, Then shot himself and died.

He might have been alive today, And she a happy bride,

If he had read the postscript Upon the other side.
