WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. Seigel's Curative Syrup acts like a charm in this class of complaints, giving almost immediate relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation the article is held.

John Archer, Hartill, near Sheffield.—I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of my customers, who have derived great benefit from the Syrup and Pills. The sale is increasing wonderfully.

Geo. A. Webb, 141, York Street, Belfast.—I have sold a large quantity, and the parties have testified to its being what you represent it.

J. S. Metcalfe, 55, Highgate, Kendal.—I have always great pleasure in recommending the Curative Syrup, for I have never known a case in which it has not relieved or cured, and I have sold many gross.

Robt. G. Gould, 27, High Street, Andover.—I have always take a great interest in your medicines and I have recommended them, as I have found numerous cases of cure from their use.

Thomas Chapman, West Auckland.—I find that the trade steadily increases. I sell more of your medicines than any other kind.

N. Darroll, Clun, Salop.—All who buy it are pleased, and recommend it.

Jos. Balkwill, A. P. S., Kingsbridge.—The public seem to appreciate their great value.

A. Armstead, Market Street, Dalton-in-Furness.—It is needless for me to say that your valuable medicines have great sale in this district—greater than any other I know of, giving great satisfaction.

Robt. Laine, Melksham.—I can well recommend the Curative Syrup from having proved its efficacy for indigestion myself.

Frickheim, Arbroath, Forfarshire, Sept. 23, 1882. Dear Sir,—Last year I sent you a letter recommending Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have very much pleasure in still bearing testimony to the very satisfactory results of the famed Syrup and Pills. Most patent medicines die out with me, but Mother Seigel's had a steady sale ever since I commenced, and is still in as great demand as when I first began to sell the medicine. The cures which have come under my notice are chiefly those of liver complaint and general debility.

A certain minister in my neighbourhood says it is the only thing which has benefited him and restored him to his normal condition of health after being unable to preach for a considerable length of time. I could mention also a great many other cases, but space would not allow. A near friend of mine, who is very much addicted to costiveness, or constipation, finds that Mother Seigel's Pills are the only pills which suit his complaint. All other pills cause a reaction which is very annoying. Mother Seigel's Pills do not leave a bad after-effect. I have much pleasure in commending again to suffering humanity Mother Seigel's medicines, which are no sham. If this letter is of any service you can publish it.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) William S. Glass, Chemist.
A. J. White, Esq.

15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesbury, Wilts, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly,
(Signed) N. Webb,
Chemist, Calne.

THE BRITISH SCIENTISTS.—NO. 2.

Lord Rayleigh, the President, in his opening address, took up the important question of the power of ships to force their way through the water. He referred to the experiments of the late Mr. Froude, proving that the only appreciable resistance offered to a fairly-shaped body in passing through the water was the resistance caused by friction on the "skin" of the vessel, and, in cases of high speed, the loss of energy from the surface waves caused by the ship herself. Mr. Froude has proved the truth of Rankine's statement, which was greeted with such surprise twenty years ago, that friction is the only legitimate resistance to the progress of a well-designed ship; but the nature of skin friction is different according as the surface is rough or smooth; but there is no reason to think that a surface could be constructed so smooth that there would be no friction whatever. These results of scientific investigation are commended to our shipwrights and boat-builders, as disposing of some superficial notions that are practically illustrated in the emasculated models of many kinds of craft, which fail in yielding the speed sought by narrowness and sharpness, because by going deeper they present more "skin" or surface to the water than more corpulent-looking hulks. An evidence of the correctness of this scientific conclusion, which Lord Rayleigh is not reported to have cited, is recent in the case of an Atlantic steamship—we forget name and line—built upon a stout model, which in her initial trip this year made the best time on record. Then there are the old-fashioned, squat river paddle-boats of New York, which made about double the speed attained by the average slim propellers of to-day. Experiments made by Mr. Tower for the Institute of Mechanical Engineers, on the friction between oiled surfaces, show that when the oiling is sufficient, the friction is nearly independent of the load, and much smaller than is usually supposed. When the layer of oil is well formed, the pressure between the solid surfaces is really borne by the fluid, and the work lost is spent in shearing, that is, in causing one stratum of the oil to glide over another. Coming to the question of optics, Lord Rayleigh referred to a question that happens to be now engaging the attention of contributors to the Hawaiian Monthly. Abbey, Langley and Boquerel had been experimenting, and Langley shows that if we could get up above our atmosphere the sun would have a decidedly bluish tint. He described a beautiful plan by which Cornu is able to discover whether any particular ray of light is due to the sun or to our atmosphere. Regarding the velocity of light, Young and Forbes had come to the conclusion that the blue rays travelled two percent faster than the red. But Michelson has arrived at the conclusion that no difference of anything like that exists. The actual speed of light may be taken as about 186,290 miles per second. Upon this branch of his subject the President observed that it was remarkable how many of the playthings of our childhood gave rise to questions of the deepest scientific interest. The top is, or may be, understood; but a complete comprehension of the kite and the soap bubble would carry us far beyond our present stage of knowledge. In spite of the admirable investigations of Plateau, it still remains a mystery why soapy water stands almost alone among fluids as a material for bubbles. The beautiful development of color was long ago ascribed to the interference of light, called into play by the gradual thinning of the film. In accordance with this view the tint is determined solely by the thickness of the film, and the refractive index of the fluid. Some of the phenomena are, however, so curious as to have led excellent observers like Brewster to reject the theory of thin plates, and to assume the existence of various kinds of coloring matter. When the thickness of a film falls below a small fraction of the length of a wave of light, the color disappears and is replaced by an intense blackness. Professors Reinold and Rucker have by two independent methods determined the thickness of the black film to be between seven and fourteen millionths of a millimetre (a millimetre being about one-thirtieth part of an inch), so that the thinnest films correspond to about one-seventieth of a wave length of light. The importance of these results, in regard to molecular theory, the President observed, is too obvious to be insisted upon.

HOW OREGON WAS WON.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean tells a graphic story of the way in which Oregon fell into the Union instead of into British possession. Prior to 1842, the United States and England were in joint occupation of the Oregon region. It was generally understood that the country would be English or American, according to the tide of immigration. The Hudson Bay Company, a British chartered company, occupied Fort Walla Walla as a trading post. In 1836, Dr. Marcus Whitman and his partner, Spaulding, with their wives, went to Oregon under the auspices of the American Board. In October, 1842, Dr. Whitman was called on a professional errand to Fort Walla Walla, twenty-five miles from his home. At his arrival the Company was holding a trade banquet, and he found himself the solitary American at the feast. In the midst of the festivity, an express courier rushed into the fort and shouted that an English colony of 140 persons was on its way up the Columbia. A young Englishman excitedly jumped to his feet and exclaimed: "Hurrah for Oregon! America is too late! We have got the country!" As soon as possible the doctor excused himself and, mounting, was in two hours before his cabin door upon his foam-flecked steed. He made known the English plot before dismounting, and his determination to set out for Washington and return the next summer with a caravan of immigrants. None could dissuade him; he must go; the Webster-Ashburton Treaty was pending; the Oregon question must be settled before Congress adjourned on the 4th of March; Oregon must be saved! In less than twenty-four hours he was in the saddle, galloping for "Washington and Webster," attended by a select companion and a guide. Home and wife were behind him; winter and 4,000 miles before him. The story of his journey through wood and wilderness, over mountain and river, cannot be excelled in an equal amount of fiction for determination, endurance, heroism and pluck. His guide and companion both were left by the way. Once he was saved from death by the instinct of a mule, that led its driver to his rescue when he was lost in the snow. All along the way scattered rumors of an immense emigration to Oregon in the Spring. "Meet us at Westport on the Missouri next June—good wagon road," was his cry in every settlement when he had got half-way, after three months in the saddle. He arrived in Washington on March 3rd, just five months from the day when he spurred down the valley from Fort Walla Walla. The treaty had been signed and proclaimed as the law of the land two months before he had set out, and ratified while he was lost in the mountains. This weather-beaten, frost-bitten man was, however, not going to have his four thousand miles' ride for nothing. He rode about Washington, proclaiming a great Oregon emigration as he had done through the mountains and valleys. President and secretaries became infected with his enthusiasm. The British Premier proposed to hold Oregon for English emigrants. If Marcus Whitman could get his emigrants there, Daniel Webster proposed likewise to stand by them. On the banks of the Missouri in June, people were gathering from the north, east and south. It must have been a proud moment for the doctor when he saw 200 wagons wheeled into line, with 875 emigrants and 1,300 cattle headed for the distant, half-mythical Oregon. The Government detailed Captain John C. Fremont, with several companies, as an escort, but the vigorous doctor preceded his escort by forty-nine days. Eleven months from the day when he set out, he returned to his home. There followed him into that splendid valley in little companies, and in long, weary file, jaded and battered, and mended after mountain style, 200 emigrant wagons. They emptied their families here and there, the women and children; and scattered all about were cattle and dogs, while lank backwood-men, with the inevitable rifle, lounged and strolled. And they continued to arrive even after the light snows of the country had come. It was the army of occupation for Oregon. The question was settled; Oregon was saved, and in three years made the subject of a satisfactory treaty. But alas! for her savior and his noble wife! November 29, 1847, and about a year after the treaty, they were massacred by the Indians.

TWO CARRIAGE ESTABLISHMENTS.

Mr. W. H. Page's carriage manufactory at 128 and 130 Fort street—dividing those premises with the Honolulu Carriage Repository, owned by Mr. F. J. Higgins—is one of the first of the kind in the Kingdom. As Mr. Page, the proprietor, and Mr. Higgins are affiliated in business although not in partnership, it will be convenient for us to speak of the two establishments at once. Entering the yard, as may be done from either Fort or Union street, a great array of derelict vehicles first attracts the attention—from the lumbering omnibus to the simplest sort of cart. It is not necessary to be told that an extensive repairing business is done, for a more miscellaneous collection of wheeled craft, waiting to have every conceivable kind of damage remedied, can nowhere else be seen. There is also some new work out in the yard, awaiting the finishing processes or ready for delivery. Here is Mr. Fasset's break, broad, strong, and well-reinforced for the burly form it must whirl over the rough as well as smooth ways of Honolulu. A California buck-board, built on the premises for Mr. James Gay, displays some excellent original points in improvement of that popular class of rig, to make it suit the requirements of its owner. It has leather dash-board and top, is furnished with removable curtains and boot which ensure entire immunity of the occupants from rain, and has a comfortable, adjustable foot rest for the lady's use. Our reporter was a day or two too late to inspect a very handsome cut-under phaeton, made to the special order of H. R. II. Princess Liliuokalani. A wagonette for the Fashion Stables, seating ten persons, is also a recent master-piece of this factory, remarkable for strength and style. Before leaving the yard we must not neglect a thing of beauty, as well as of utility, in the shape of a vast spreading shade tree, under which work is done with greater comfort than under a roof. Inside a shed finished work of various classes is stored, one article being a San Leandro village cart (top), an elegant-looking and substantial vehicle. There is also an Openheimer carriage, of perfect finish in every respect, which is transformed from single to double-seat, or the reverse, simply by a turn or two of the wrist. It looks as graceful, too, one way as the other. There are expresses, passenger and baggage, of the most approved pattern, which the establishment turns out at the shortest notice. A visit to the woodshop and adjacent stock rooms reveals the very best and freshest of stock, some in the hands of the skilled artificers, and the rest neatly and systematically stowed away. Besides rims, shafts, top frames, spokes and hubs (Brown's), the best the market affords, there is a full stock of seasoned carriage lumber unworked. The blacksmith shop is roomy and convenient, and well-stocked with imported carriage iron of all sorts—order being the first law here as all over the place. In the trimming room a costly and varied stock is carried—in metal, leather, cloth, hair, moss and fibre. Some of the leather and cloth coverings shown us are superb, and the proprietor assured us that no better stock was used in any carriage factory anywhere. Seat and back springs in spiral copper are kept on hand, and it is only necessary to refer to the work in this department as a proof that nobody can go further and fare better. Carriage springs of superior quality and make are imported from Philadelphia. The branches owned by Mr. Higgins are the importing of carriages and the painting department. In his warehouse, conspicuous on Fort street, may be seen a large stock of carriages, including the cut-under rockaway—the prevailing style of passenger express; the English coach phaeton, a substantial and respectable-looking rig; other phaetons, buggies, carts, etc. His paint shop is full of new and old carriages, in different stages of decoration. The work done is artistic to a degree, the principal painter being a thorough master of his profession. His work will prove to any competent inspector that our words are not mere puffing. Mr. Page keeps ten men at work, besides working like a Trojan himself all the time. Mr. Higgins employs four, which makes the number of workers in the combined establishment sixteen. The place being on the telephone circuit, persons meeting with mishaps to their turnouts may depend upon speedy relief by ringing up No. 214.

THE Advertiser states this morning that the Honolulu Yacht and Boat Club's new boat was christened last evening. This is entirely erroneous. The facts are, the new six-oared boat for the Honolulu Boat Club was taken yesterday, soon after noon, from the Oceanic Co.'s wharf, put in to the water and rowed to the new boat house. At five o'clock a crew went out in her on a trial trip. She will not be christened until after the November regatta, and will be known until then as the Unknown, though Capt. Wilson informs us a name has been selected.

OBSEQUIES.

THE funeral services for the late Mr. Henry May, took place yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, at St. Andrews Cathedral. The opening sentences as the body was being carried into the church were read by the Bishop, the Rev. George Wallace reading the impressive lesson. The choir rendered, with much feeling, the 90th Psalm to a minor chant, and sung two hymns, Rock of Ages and Brief Life is Here our Portion, which were particular favorites of the deceased. The church was crowded with friends and acquaintances of the deceased, and the coffin was covered with some most beautiful floral offerings. His Ex. Gov. Dominis, H. B. M's. Commissioner Major Wodehouse, and the French Consul Monsieur Feer, occupied the front seats. At the conclusion of the services the sad procession started for the Nuuanu cemetery in the following order: Cathedral boy choir in surplices, the Bishop and Clergy, Undertaker Williams, the hearse with the body, the following gentlemen acting as pall-bearers: Hons. C. R. Bishop, A. S. Cleghorn and W. F. Allen, Messrs. Theo. H. Davies, J. T. Waterhouse, Jr., Alex. McKibbin, E. W. Jordan, S. Savidge, P. C. Jones, Jr., and A. T. Atkinson. Then came the chief mourner, Mr. T. Rain Walker, and following a large number of carriages. The Royal Hawaiian Band was stationed at the cemetery, and received the body with a funeral march. The service at the grave was read by the Bishop, with the exception of the part where the body is committed to the earth, which was feelingly read by the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh. The boy choir then sang the hymn, Thy Will be Done, and the Bishop pronounced the benediction. Thus was laid at rest one of our best citizens, a truly good man, and one whose loss will be long and deeply felt by the community.

Bazaar was bred at the great Woodburn Farm, near Lexington, Ky., by the late R. A. Alexander, and was sold to W. L. Pritchard, of Sacramento, Cal., for $5,000. He stands 15 1/2 hands, weighs 1,065 lbs., and is a bright chestnut color. During his racing career he downed many a favorite, and won many a hatful of money for his owners, and proved himself one of the greatest of horses over a distance, most of his races being at two and four miles. He has already sired several colts in California that are winners, among which are Lizzie Dunbar, Young Bazaar, Sophia, and another called the Bazaar Minerva Colt, he being out of Minerva by imported Leamington, the sire of Parole and Iroquois. Lizzie Dunbar greatly distinguished herself last year in her two-year-old form by defeating one of the largest fields of two-year-olds that ever started in California, among which were the two beautiful fillies brought here last Spring by Mr. Agnew, distance 5/8 mile; time, 1:04 1/2, the fastest time on record for two-year-olds at the distance. This year she has won several important events, and has proved herself to be a crack three-year-old.

Bazaar has now been brought back to Honolulu, and will remain here the balance of this year, and breeders, horse owners and stock raisers should avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain his services while they have the chance. Terms, $40. Payable at time of service.

The imported Clydesdale Stallion Donald Dinnie, Jr., will stand at the same time and place at $20 for the season. He was bred in Canada, sired by imported Donald Dinnie, and out of an imported Clydesdale mare. He is a beautiful dapple grey, 16 hands high, and weighs 1,400 lbs.; is very active, and as fine a large horse as could be found anywhere.

Also, the fine large imported Kentucky Jack Sampson. This is one of the largest Jacks that we could find in California, and is an animal of immense bone; is a very sure breeder, and should be liberally patronized, as he is one of the very best animals of his kind. Terms, $30 for the season.

The public are cordially invited to call and inspect the above animals.

AN ALARMING DISEASE AFFLICTING A NUMEROUS CLASS.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints; but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there a fullness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment, soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter agonizing disorder. The origin of this maldigestion is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Farringdon-road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Market Place, Pocklington, York, October 2nd, 1882.

Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines, I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the results they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so.

Yours respectfully, (Signed) R. TURNER.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I felt quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly, Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16th, '82. Mr. A. J. White.—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT. 15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesburg, Wilts, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly, (Signed) N. WEBB, Chemist, Calne.

September 8th, 1882.

Dear Sir,—I find the Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "God-send to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours, (Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS, Chemist-Dentist, Merthyr Tydfil.

Preston, Sept. 21st 1883.

My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible.

The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."

The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.—I am, dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. BOWKER.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The system is struck, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels are constive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes closed, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), 17, Farringdon-road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

Spanish Town, Jamaica, West Indies, Oct. 24, 1882.

Dear Sir,—I write to inform you that I have derived great benefit from "Seigel's Syrup." For some years I have suffered from liver complaint, with its many and varied concomitant evils, so that my life was a perpetual misery. Twelve months ago I was induced to try Seigel's Syrup, and although rather sceptical, having tried so many reputed infallible remedies, I determined to give it at least a fair trial. In two or three days I felt considerably better, and now at the end of twelve months (having continued taking it) I am glad to say that I am a different being altogether. It is said of certain pens that they "come as a boon and a blessing to men" and I have no reason to doubt the truthfulness of the statement. I can truly say, however, that Seigel's Syrup has come as a "boon and a blessing" to me. I have recommended it to several fellow-sufferers from this distressing complaint, and their testimony is quite in accordance with my own. Gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the excellent preparation, prompts me to furnish you with this unsolicited testimonial.

I am dear Sir, Yours ever gratefully, (Signed) CAREY B. BERRY, A. J. White, Esq., Baptist Missionary.
