BREKSTONE - STIFFENER

One teaspoonful of powdered white sugar, one wine glass of Rum, one teaspoonful of spices (allspice and cloves not ground), and a small piece of fresh butter. Dissolve the sugar in a little boiling water, add the rum, spices and butter, and fill the glass two-thirds full of boiling water. I've hunted down the lion. I've tracked the tiger's spoor. I've used the shooting-iron To drop my brother Boer. I've scrambled up the Andes, I've roused it in the bay-- But that's nothing to the snakes That this Backbone-Stiffener drives away.

Note.—The rum used to make this delicate drink should be of the best. We handle it.

AFTERNOON ARGUMENT

During the afternoon session of Judge Gear's court yesterday, in the County Act case, Attorney Davis presented argument on the submission that the return showed sufficient cause for dismissing the writ of mandamus, in that Act 31, produced during the morning session by Secretary Carter, was absolutely null and void as it conflicted with the Organic Act. He continued in this argument from 3 to 4 o'clock at which time court was adjourned till this morning.

Prior to Davis' argument the contest over the admissibility of the Senate and House journals as evidence had occupied much time in the afternoon, continuing intermittently from 9:15 in the morning. As announced in yesterday's Bulletin, the evidence was allowed under objection, Judge Gear taking the matter under advisement.

Clerk of the Senate Savidge identified Senate Bill No. 1 for purposes of exhibit and said he could not produce the journals of the regular session complete, as parts were in the hands of committees. The Court gave him until Monday morning at 10 o'clock to produce the documents for comparison with copies of the bill exhibited. Superintendent Cooper admitted that Senate Bill No. 1 was the only one passed by the Senate on three separate readings and that the one signed by the Governor had never passed three readings. Savidge said that a 45th day's minutes produced were incomplete, requiring insertions of reports. Attorney General Andrews requested that witness be required to bring the Senate rules with him next time he appeared.

McClanahan announced that respondent would put on no more evidence for the present, but was ready to proceed with argument on other points. The point under advisement by Judge Gear is whether the journals of the Legislature can be admitted as evidence, the Supreme Court of the United States upholding an Arizona Supreme Court decision that such documentary evidence is inadmissible.

Gentlemen:—We thank you very kindly for your prompt attention in sending one of your men to open our safe this morning. We also wish to congratulate you upon the quality of your burglar-proof safe, as the burglars who entered our place must have worked all night and could not open the doors, and left without accomplishing their purpose. When the detectives arrived this morning to inspect the work they claimed it was done by professional crackmen and told us that if it had been a safe of any other make the burglars would have got in by the way they worked on our safe. We thought we would write you this good news, as we consider ourselves fortunate. We will send the door to your factory this afternoon, and kindly see that it is repaired and returned to us as speedily as possible. We remain,
Yours truly,

UNPAID BILLS ACT PRISON MEMORIAL DAY

ALMOST COMPLETED BY THE HOUSE YESTERDAY

ALL AFTERNOON SPENT IN DISCUSSION OF PAIJI ITEMS OF JUDGE KALUA—ONE KILLED.

HOUSE.

Extra Session.

Twenty-ninth Day.

At the opening of the afternoon session of the House Mr. Kealawa presented a resolution asking for $2,000 to be inserted in the Loan Bill for the construction of a road to be run through the District of Kamali, Puna, Hawaii, to meet the Hilo Volcano road. Referred to the Hawaii delegation.

Another resolution by Mr. Kealawa called for $1500 to be inserted in the Loan Bill for the construction of a new road to be run through the Pahoa Homestead at Pahoa, Puna, Hawaii. Referred to the Hawaii delegation.

The committee on Miscellaneous Petitions reported verbally, recommending the insertion of an item of $500 in the Unpaid Bills Act for the services of Rev. Manase at Oahu jail for twenty months at $25 per month. Report adopted.

The House then went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the Unpaid Bills Act, the palal item reported on during the morning session, being taken up.

The whole afternoon was spent in a discussion of the palal contract held by Judge Kalua and the claim of some $1500 which he put in before the Legislature for reimbursement for palals spoiled by dilatory delivery at the settlement.

The various items in the claim were finally put with the following result: 600 palals, $641.75 (this including all expenses attached thereto), carried by a unanimous vote of 25; 500 palals, $623.30, carried by a vote of 17 to 8; 156 palals, $213.05, carried by a vote of 16 to 9; 46 palals, $34.50, lost by a vote of 13 to 12. Total amount of claim allowed $1468.10, this after deducting $10 for auction sale of damaged palal.

The committee passed the last section of the bill and the enacting clause and then took a recess to allow the clerk to get the total amount of the bill in order to be able to pass the first section.

During the recess the members of the House, the officers and newspaper men, nearly all of whom had taken ten-cent chances on the Canadian coin dropped into the hat the other day when a collection was being taken up for the leper settlement, gathered around the clerk's desk and drew slips of paper out of the box. Interpreter Coelho was the lucky man. The money gathered from the House at various times, for the unfortunates at the settlement, amounts to over $25. This will be handed over to Superintendent McVeigh.

Upon reconvening, the first section of the Unpaid Bills Act was read, the total amounting to $205,700.86 and then the committee arose after having decided to recommend to the House the passage of the bill in second reading. However, when the House was called to order, the members did not feel disposed to accept the verbal report of the committee of the whole on the various amendments, as there was a question of irregularity. Chairman Harris therefore reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

The recapitulation shows the following:

Judiciary department	$ 12,560.80
Treasury department	7,530.35
Department Public Works	168,999.80
Department Public Instruction	8,589.03
Board of Health	3,745.38
Secretary's office	126.50
Attorney General's office	4,149.00
Total	$205,700.86

The House then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

BAR ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Bar Association was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering many matters in connection with the future of that body. The new committee consists of the following: R. W. Breckons, H. A. Bigelow, A. F. Judd, Frank Andrade and J. W. Cathcart. Messrs. Judd and Hemenway were appointed a committee to take up the matter of a dinner with various caterers. There will be a meeting of the association on Monday afternoon, at which time will be settled the question, as to whether there shall be a dinner on June 20 or during the fall, perhaps in October.

Among the arrivals from Hawaii and Maui ports in the W. G. Hall this forenoon were the following: F. H. Hayselden, F. H. Hayselden, Jr., Mrs. George Clark, Miss Emily Mossman, M. F. Scott, A. Cockburn, R. W. Single, Sheriff Nahale, Matt McCann and W. Ashford.

EXERCISES WERE HELD UNDER THE BIG TREE

ADDRESS ON LIBERTY—NOTATIONS BY VISITOR—NEED FOR PAROLE ACT—PRISONERS' SINGING.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day was fittingly observed at Oahu Prison. Having secured the consent and approval of Warden Henry, a committee arranged a program of exercises. The features were an address, singing by the Prison Quartet and recitations. Mr. Behrens, of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, was the speaker. His subject was "Liberty and the text was 'Peace on Earth, to Men Good Will.'" The remarks were earnest and instructive. Mr. Behrens did not allude to the loss of personal liberty sustained by his auditors excepting to declare the principle that whoever might interfere with the proper rights of another would surely be punished. The orator told in a stirring manner of the struggles of enlightened peoples for freedom and privileges of citizenship from earliest English history down to the emancipation of the Cubans. Mr. Behrens closed with a well-voiced tribute to the heroes of the American Civil War and "Old Glory," visible to the prison inmates—floating from masts-heads in the harbor.

That most beautiful poem, "The Blue and the Gray," was recited with genuine elocutionary effect by one of the men of the prison.

There was organ music and the solo, "Where Will You Spend Eternity?" was given by Mr. Anderson by special request.

There are three darkies and a Hawaiian in the quartet. The singing was something fine—worthy the occasion. The Hawaiian—second tenor—was the leader. Several patriotic songs were given. The writer has been ten years in Hawaii and knows the South from having sojourned at New Orleans. Much sweeter—more appealing—is the voice of the Hawaiian than that of the negro. Besides the Hawaiians know music better. This is the judgment of one who as a lad learned to love the plantation melodies and the "black mammy" croonings, but who until last Saturday never heard Hawaiian and darkey voices together.

One of the darkies in that quartet—he has the family name of the warden, by the way—should be pardoned. He is from the South, went with the army of occupation to the Philippines and has an excellent military as well as prison record. It's mighty easy for any man to get into trouble and almost as easy, in certain levels of society, for men to get into jail. This Henry, an honest, intelligent fellow, liked the islands and settled to live on Kauai. Quite innocently he became involved in a luan row. Several liquor-crazed men pounced on him and believing them evil-intentioned as the islanders he knew in the Philippines, he drew a knife and did some slashing with it. This was at the period the immigrant negroes and Porto Ricans were terrorizing several districts and this offender received a heavy sentence. He is contented as a real man can be in his position. I did not get this story from him.

Quite all the prison notables were under the spread of that wonderful tree in the yard for the memorial day service and all of them must have been touched and bettered by the thoughts suggested by the program numbers. I know not if Memorial Day exercises are held in prisons elsewhere, but I am sure they are well worth while.

At the regular session of the Legislature there was not time for consideration of a prison parole act. We should have revision and enlargement of the statutes pertaining to those institutions known as penitentiaries, but which should really be, for those detained, places of correction and proper education. If names of those interested in this phase of social activity be left at the Bulletin office addressed to the undersigned, only the best use will be made of them.

VISITOR.

FLOOD INCREASING.

The Missouri, in reckless pace, is destroying hundreds and hundreds of homes, laying waste to and damaging property, and turning out into the cold world those who have worked for years to establish a home for themselves and their progeny. The river is still rising and even more disastrous floods are imminent.

In contrast to this horrible scene we in the "Paradise of the Pacific," are beholding a flood of quite a different type. A flood of happiness, inasmuch as the flood takes the form of quantities of Douglas Patent Closets, making homes happier and insuring against the annoyance of running water. Bath makes no attempt to stem the tide.

FRIDAY JUNE 5, 1903.

Tragedies of what is classed as ordinary business manipulation are always intensified by the pinch of hard times.

A few more Bulgarians have crossed the border for the blessed privilege of reducing the population and marching back again.

Roosevelt gets home tonight. Not the least of the souvenirs of his trip is the assurance of the Republican nomination for 1904.

Should the Federal authorities take the Channel wharf for their very own it is to be hoped they will be good enough to pay the price.

Just thirty days remain before the dawn of the Fourth of July when the Pacific cable will be landed. And the city hasn't begun to wake up.

Uncle Sam will be a long time recognizing Venezuelan insurgents as belligerents while Bowen holds the latch string for Castro's official household.

If Myron T. Herrick on a Roosevelt-Protection platform does not sweep the State of Ohio next fall, Chairman Hanna will be called upon to explain why.

Free-Rural-Delivery Maches, with an indictment for bribery handed out to him, can't complain that he has been slighted in the investigation he requested.

When Colombia becomes peaceful enough to pass the canal treaty, it is the signal that the wise men about Bogota are satisfied that the price named by Uncle Sam is final.

The Mississippi river at St. Louis has been passing the danger line for the past four days. Hawaii will join with St. Louis in hoping that the Mississippi will speedily fish or cut bait.

Disastrous floods have scheduled Kansas for a period of hard times that will excite general sympathy till the fighting Kansas mind decides that the party in power is responsible for all its woes.

Discussion of the Journal question in the Senate would indicate that the honorable body would be justified in requesting its officers to do a little overtime work in keeping the regular session details up to date.

It is good news for the Kona district that its sugar properties are neither wholly lost nor forgotten. Revival of the plantation should give the railroad an additional ray of hope, and possibly give Kona residents a feeling that their cake is not all a-a and pahoehoe.

It stands to reason that no question of department ownership or authority over a wharf will be allowed to interfere with the proper protection of the port in handling Oriental cargoes. The Government is not in the business of impeding the traffic of any port.

No fleet on a peaceful mission is followed with closer interest than Lip-ton's yachting combination now crossing the Atlantic. Convinced that Lip-ton has only a hard fighting chance of returning with the pennant of victory at the fore, half the Americans are hoping he will get what he comes after.

According to the morning press a House Journal is not a Journal when printed in another office, and now the Attorney General claims the House Journal is not a Journal when it is in court. Meanwhile the Governor is said to have his lightning rod out for legal fluid that will assist in the violation of a contract. It is not so surprising that Hawaii's ship of State drags on its course when the so-called politicians spend their time tumbling over picaresque technicalities.

Hilo's cowboy event in its Fourth of July celebration is a happy thought that ought to become popular throughout the islands and develop a line of good sport generally neglected. This territory possesses as good cowboy riders as any part of the country where bronco-busting contests are the event of the year. Hawaii's cowboys are lacking in the Western proclivity of shooting up a town, but they can ride. Besides, knowledge that this Territory has real strenuous cowboys would, judging from his past policy, raise Hawaii wonderfully in the esteem of the President and provide a new flat of candidates to be placed on his preferred list for official favor.

COUNTY ACT TANGLE

ments submitted were complete. McClanahan wanted it to go on record that Andrews held these papers were not the journals of the House because there were no certifications. Judge Gear said the Attorney General had a right to prove there was no journal if he wanted. The rules of the House were sent for at this time, Andrews asked if there was any record of certification of minutes. Thiel answered that there was not.

Judge Gear asked for what purpose the portions of the journal had been offered in evidence.

"To impeach the bill," answered McClanahan.

Andrews said it would be impossible to impeach on fragmentary evidence. Cooper contended that the evidence offered covered the bill in question. McClanahan decided to offer in evidence the whole House Journal. Thiel said that when he spoke of the journal he should have used the word "minutes," therefore Andrews objected to the records going in as the House Journal, when the documents were only minutes.

The Judge asked witness if there was any House Journal.

"None complete," said Thiel.

The question went back to the beginning of the journal controversy. The contest was renewed as to whether there was a journal and, if so, what constituted the journal.

The House rules arrived and Judge Gear held that the documents offered could not be the journal unless they contained all reports together with everything else which should be contained therein. McClanahan renewed his offer; Andrews renewed his objection. McClanahan said they were the journal; Andrews declared they were the minutes.

The rules were again examined and argued over. They were then offered and admitted in evidence and Judge Gear finally admitted the much-fought-over documents as the House Journal.

George Davis cited a case and read, continuing an argument he commenced yesterday, adding emphatically that the attempt to create a Board of Public Institutions under the guise of the County Act rendered the Act null and void.

McClanahan started to address the Court about 10:20 and was still talking at noon when recess was taken until 1:30 p. m. He informed the Court that when it came to decide the case three principal instruments would require its consideration: the Newlands Resolution and by it the cession of all Hawaiian public property to the United States; the Organic Act, and Senate Bill No. 1 or Act 57 of the Territory of Hawaii. He argued that the Organic Act provided for the appointment of any and all boards by the Governor. Quoting a portion of Section 80 of the Organic Act, referring to the powers of the President of the United States and the Governor in relation to the appointment of various Territorial officers, of the Governor's power to appoint certain boards "and any other board of a public character which may be empowered by law," McClanahan, using the quoted words as his text, argued that the Governor was therefore empowered to appoint any board subject to ratification by the Senate, even to a County Board of Supervisors.

Judge Gear said that when the United States Congress provided for a government for Hawaii and provided for county government it certainly did not provide that county government was to be without the privileges and powers of county government. It did not place the power belonging to county government in the hands of the Governor and the Senate. What was the use of county government if the Governor and the Senate took its powers to themselves. Such a view of the proposition was not American.

McClanahan said that perhaps Congress meant that the Territorial Senate should run the county government. At 2 o'clock this afternoon McClanahan resumed his argument, having jocularly remarked out of court that he would consume the rest of the afternoon and all of Monday with his few remarks.

In the wind up of the ladies' doubles in tennis yesterday, Miss Ethel Horner and Miss Lucy Ward, last year's champions, defeated Mrs. C. A. Elston and Miss Rose Cunha, this year's runners-up. The score was 6-4, 7-5, 6-3, showing that the contest was a hard

STAPLE PRODUCTS HAWAII'S SALVATION

Editor Evening Bulletin:—The writer of a recent editorial in the Advertiser which opines "that the old Spanish Hidalgo was not a believer in the profits of agriculture in California" etc., is telling more than he knows, and in the telling has strayed far afield from his Bancroft.

The facts are that nearly everything which has been done in agriculture and horticulture in California has been based on the demonstrations of the Spanish occupancy.

The modern developments of California record nothing so wonderful as the sagacity, enterprise, and accomplishment of the Spanish Missionary Fathers in California—who were indeed the pioneers of California and who sowed the coffer of Spain with gold from the great wheat fields and wineries of San Fernando, the orange and olive groves of San Gabriel, etc.

The modern American settler in California has never for one moment despised except to his own destruction, the solid foundation of Spanish achievement in California. What grape is still the best grape grown for wine and table use? The "Mission" grape; imported, extensively planted, and handed down by the Spanish Missions.

What are still the great staples of California? Wheat, oranges, wine and olives. All established and produced on an immense and profitable scale by the Spanish Missions over a century ago.

The basis of any parallel between the small farmer idea in Hawaii, and the wholesale development of California agriculturally in recent years is therefore eliminated.

American occupancy of California built upon the achievements of the Spanish for success.

The "Great American Desert" ceased to be a desert when increased rainfall made it habitable.

While the small farmer idea in Hawaii is supposed to build for its success on the ability of the American "newcomer" to transcend the wisdom of his predecessor so considerably, that through the radiance of his own genius and the scientific illumination of the United States Experiment Station he can establish himself in a wilderness of wild lantana twenty miles from any market, and engage successfully in market gardening, dairying, hogs and strawberries it may be, since "The science of agriculture supersedes the old vocation of farming."

Now that this is all the purest rubbish it is not even necessary to say, since practically every one knows that it is. And the editor of the Advertiser does not strengthen his position by promulgating impractical vagaries. No! the longer the Wahiawa farmer lives in Hawaii the more respect he has not for idle vapors, but for the testimony of the men who have made the islands the agricultural success which they are today.

The editor of the Advertiser cannot seriously suppose that a Wahiawa colonist opposed to the emigration of agriculturists to Hawaii, would not take effective means to discourage it.

How would he do this? He would address simple, unqualified statements of his experiences in small farming in Hawaii, the deprivation of his family of a good school and other much prized advantages of the American community, to the great American journals.

How effectively this can be done has been shown by Miss Coman in such journals as The Boston Transcript and Los Angeles Times.

Listen to this seductive appeal to possible American settlers in the Los Angeles Times, from the pen of Miss Coman:

"Upon virgin soil, covered with a tangle of wild lantana and rank green growth these 'newest event' pioneers built their simple homes fifteen miles from Honolulu five years ago. Having tried and investigated the practical commercial value of a number of crops during this time, the hope of the colonists now lies with the pineapple, which they grow almost exclusively.

"For several years past their agricultural ventures have proved failures owing to insect pests. One year water-melons which were fondly expected to yield handsome profits, were ruined by the cutworm, another year broad acres of garden vegetables were destroyed in the same way.

"Another year a heavy trade wind injured the citrus trees, while another year the peach-crop was lost because of premature blossoming.

"At present the sugar industry is at a standstill, the exporting of the excellent Kona coffee has yet to be developed, the growing of rice is almost exclusively in the hands of the Chinese; the adaptability of the island for cotton and silk culture has yet to be proven and the market for citrus fruits and vegetables is wholly local and necessarily limited; so these men of the colony, led by the trained judgment of Mr. Clark, pin their faith to the pineapple.

"This little colony has seen discouraging times and fully half of the Wahiawa settlement have had to abandon their holdings, through financial and family uncertainty."

The great journals of America speak to the possible American settler in Hawaii.

Does anyone for one moment suppose that because some one thinks that the hope of the country is small farmers, that persons previously interested in the islands even, are going to leave prosperous, delightful, California to face the catalogue of meagre, beggarly, pitiful experiences set forth by Miss Coman?

This is what, with our different ideas of public duty, we would call effective opposition to emigration to Hawaii. It is the kind of so-called friendly advertising which kills; and which makes the well-wisher of Hawaii ejaculate "Deliver me from my friends!" As an act of kindness it is misdirected, and in questionable taste.

Sensational personalities grouped about an assortment of aborted facts do no cause any good.

If Miss Coman desired to demonstrate a real interest in the increase of the American agriculturist in Hawaii she could have done so by setting forth the facts that under the terms of the Right of Purchase Lease in Hawaii valuable lands can be acquired upon the payment of $3 to $5 per acre and a two years' residence. That under this lease 1200 acres have recently been acquired by an American colony at Wahiawa which is now worth $200 per acre for sugar, bananas, pineapples and possibly sisal and coffee. That the government desires American settlers in Hawaii, and demonstrates this desire in such practical ways as building expensive bridges, and assisting the col-

T. THOMAS FORTUNE SHOCKED DIGNITY OF AMERICO-FILIPINO DICTATORSHIP

The Manila American of May 6 gives this story of T. Thomas Fortune's experience in Manila:

T. Thomas Fortune, the great specially deputized commissioner of one of the departments at Washington, has been arrested.

T. Thomas Fortune is a black man who came to the Philippine Islands to do a little personal investigation of the conditions existing in Uncle Sam's eastern possessions. He had with him, it is claimed, when he landed, letters to show that he was a commissioner of some sort of some department in Washington.

But all his papers and his special commissionership did not keep him from getting into the clutches of the law. The other day, he together with some other American negroes, were arrested on Calle Rosario and taken to the Analogue police station, where the deputized black man of the Roosevelt administration made things warm. He relied upon his authority to get him out of the jail and said in a loud voice and in a boastful and vain manner with his head thrown back: "I am T. Thomas Fortune. I am the special agent of the United States Treasury. That's who I am."

Somebody has evidently heard before about T. Thomas Fortune and laughed.

But all the bravado of the Special Agent of the U. S. Treasury (at last the department which he belongs to) did not avail him anything as he was thrown into a cell along with his other companions.

His case came up yesterday for trial before Judge Liddell, but just as the case was to be heard a special messenger from Vice Governor Wright came in with a note and asked for a postponement. This was granted.

When the case comes up this morning at the Police Court there is likely to be something doing if the proceedings are not nolle proes. In the meantime.

T. Thomas, according to witnesses, was treated with far more courtesy than even a white man has any right to expect and he evidently thought that the police of Analogue street station were a lot of "po whit trash" and that he was their equal.

But when the strong arm of the law got next to the gentle "little black brother" the representative of the down-trodden slave of the Southern States, the cause of the racial trouble in Dixie land, Mr. T. Thomas soon found out where he fit.

T. Thomas Fortune, "Special Agent of the U. S. Treasury—that's-who-I-am" was talking to another little black brother on Calle Rosario. The other negro was in a carriage and was blocking the traffic. A policeman ordered him to move on which he refused to do, whereupon the policeman asked him to go to the station house and let the authorities decide the much vexed question as to what was the original cause which produced the effect of the carromatas and carriages not being able to move on Calle Rosario at that particular moment.

The policeman had evidently run against a few rough customers in his day and generation and so used a little moral suasion and took his man to Analogue station house. Fortune and two other negroes followed and when they got inside the station Fortune tried to prevent the policeman from getting to the railing around the desk of the sergeant.

It was a bad move for Fortune. It was a case of where his fortune was mixed. When the policeman tried to enter his complaint against the occupant of the carriage "T. Thomas Fortune—that's-who-I-am" interrupted and said that he wanted to enter a complaint against the policeman. He was told in no gentle manner that in fulfilling his esoteric cogitations and articulating superfluous vasmotiles he must beware of getting babbled and asinine affection.

This was just a little too much for T. Thomas. He thought he was it and programs have been varied and have called in the assistance of a goodly number of ladies. We have been glad of the presence of Mrs. Hyde with us on several occasions.

The valuable papers from Honolulu have either been read before the Society or sent around for neighborhood reading and then forwarded to Maui. Mrs. O. P. Emerson's on the needs of the Hawaiians was especially noteworthy.

The October meeting, the one at which Mrs. Nash first presided, took the form, after the short opening service, of a reception to Mrs. Hyde, then lately arrived from Honolulu. She was greeted by a flutter of handkerchiefs as she rose to give us interesting sketches of W. B. affairs in the group, and notes of late European travel. During the latter part of the afternoon refreshments were served at small flower-decorated tables, and the ladies, about thirty in number, had the opportunity of meeting both Mrs. Hyde and our own new president.

opportunity of meeting both Mrs. Hyde and our own new president.

The thanksgiving meeting in February was another occasion of special interest. Our president made short introductory remarks and explained that the term thanksgiving was derived from an annual Jewish offering recorded by that name in the Mosaic code of ancient times.

For the dainty motto-bouquets and the pleasant entertainment following—nearly musical—the society is indebted to a dozen or more ladies who are not members, but who kindly gave their services under the president's efficient leadership.

The announcement that the little basket had gathered $106. In fact or by promise, created enthusiastic applause. The meeting ended with light refreshments.

We learned from the Honolulu February report, and with much regret, that Mrs. Hyde had tendered her resignation to the Parent Board. We were glad to hear later that she had been induced to reconsider her resignation.

In June last the annual kindergarten reports were rendered, and the following committee has since served: Mrs. Terry, treasurer, Miss Ellen Lyman, secretary; Miss Deyo, Dr. Frances Wetmore, Mrs. W. Baiding. The committee now reports a full and flourishing school, children doing well, average attendance nearly sixty. Fifteen were promoted in April to the Government school, Miss Huggins o. Oakland is this year the bright and efficient leader, assisted by Miss Mealoa Uli and Miss Helen Kaina. The funds for the school are raised by the exertions of the committee in the community, and by occasional donations from friends outside of town—sometimes from Honolulu.

The interesting sewing school in Waialakea goes on as formerly under the direction of good ladies, one or another of whom is always found ready to slip in and fill a gap. The girls make clothing and keep it for themselves. The materials are provided by gifts of money or the cloth itself. They miss the efficient leadership of Miss Harriet Hitchcock, but Mrs. N. C. Willifong has been asked to step into that breach. She has long been working in the school.

The Japanese have no Bible-reading: the funds heretofore given by the W. B. in that quarter are for the present given to Mr. Yajima in aid of an afternoon Christian day-school in the Japanese language. That, too, is a part of Waialakea mission work.

The W. C. T. U. have now assumed the whole of a small monthly payment to Hawaiian Bible readers—a work which the W. B. formerly assisted.

The real, daily mission work in Waialakea among any or all of the neglected and needy, has been taken up by the strong hands and willing heart of Miss Iola Wight. This step is the consummation of much earnest labor and hope on the part of Mrs. L. C. Lyman and others long active in that mission. The W. B. has not pledged any set sum to that cause, but is glad to aid with a mite when able, and always most interested and delighted in the progress of the good—the cleansing and healing, physically and morally.

Mr. C. C. Kennedy is a liberal donor to the cause, and is remarkably successful in interesting other men in the same.

Miss Wight spends her whole time and strength among the people, and has their affection and confidence. The Hawaiians, always rather wary about foreign remedies, are perfectly willing to trust to her ministrations. She has had the training of a nurse, and they recognize her affection, earnestness and skill, affection first of all. God bless her and her loving labor.

Though Miss Mary Green's sphere of work was not directly among us, we have too long known the work and recognized its usefulness and beauty not to add here a word of mourning for her loss from the ranks. God called her last October to a quiet passing, and she awoke on the other side of the river.

The officers of the Society for the past and the coming year are as follows: Mrs. F. L. Nash, vice-president; Mrs. L. C. Lyman, last assistant; Mrs. W. Terry, present assistant; Mrs. L. Severance, treasurer; Miss H. F. Coan, secretary.

Plenty of Home Talent.
 There was plenty of home talent and none but Hawaiians could be employed in the work because there were none others competent. However, the day would come when others would be qualified to fill the places. In the meantime, the power was in the hands of the Hawaiians and while it was admonished every one to use it, no matter what the Advertiser or any other like paper might say.

Gandall Wants Information.
 Mr. Gandall said that as a representative of the people from Kaula, he had no objection whatever to the speeches that had been made with reference to the item, but, before voting thereon, he would like to secure more information.
 One of the members had said that the clerks of the office under discussion received higher wages upon their threatening to resign. He thought this was a way out of the difficulty. The clerks should all strike in a body and then their pay would be raised.
 In considering the matter, one of the members had stated that some of the money appropriated by the Legislature had been used to purchase books and other things from the book store of the present incumbent of the office of the Registrar of Conveyances. He wished to know more about this matter. He would ask some member to enlighten him with reference to the manner of paying the clerks and others in the office. Did the head of the department draw the money himself and then pay the employees or was each man paid by warrant?
 Mr. Kalama said he could enlighten the member, but, it being 12 o'clock, he would ask that the House take a recess until 2 o'clock, when he would make the answer to the question asked.
 Mr. Gandall said he was in favor of this plan, provided he could have the floor again immediately the committee sat. There were "kokuas" from all over the House and then the committee rising, reported progress and asked leave to sit again. The report was adopted and the House took a recess until 2 o'clock.

VENTURA HAS SAILED
 Wm. G. Irwin & Co., agents for the O. S. S. Co.'s steamers, received a cablegram this morning telling of the departure of the Ventura from the port of San Francisco, bound for Honolulu, at 10 o'clock last night. According to this, she should be here on Thursday next, in the forenoon. The Ventura is full of passengers for this port and the Colonies and carries a hold full of freight.

CABLEGRAM FROM WASHINGTON

 ing of the Channel wharf would affect his department, Mr. Brown stated that in case the vacating of the wharf should take place and consequently the rooms which the steamship companies have provided for the inspection of immigrants should be rendered useless, one of two things would happen. Either the steamship companies would have to furnish a similar place in another location or the immigration officers would have to inspect the immigrants on board the steamers in which they arrive. In the event of the latter happening, the steamers would necessarily be delayed.

Dr. Cofer, chief of the local branch of the United States Marine Hospital Service, when seen this morning, stated that he had received a letter from Captain White. He had cabled the state of affairs to Washington but had not taken any further steps.

It is understood that the quarantine service will probably be more affected by the proposed vacating of the Channel wharf than any other department. The Quarantine Service was given the exclusive custody of the makai half of the wharf by the Territorial Government. In this place has subsequently been erected an expensive and extensive fumigating plant, which is used to fumigate certain goods—exports and imports—and which is further used to fumigate vessels.

The removal of the fumigating plant would be an expensive and laborious job as the machinery is of the very bulkiest kind. It would probably take more than a week just to take the plant out.

Another point which enters into the consideration is the coming erection of a Quarantine Service wharf. Congress recently appropriated the sum of $50,000 for the construction of such a wharf.

The local Quarantine people have not received any notification as to when the construction is to commence. The sum mentioned will be available July 1 and it is possible that if the Quarantine Service finds it necessary to vacate its present headquarters in the Channel wharf, the building of the new wharf may be hastened in order to furnish accommodation as soon as possible.

The new wharf will be somewhere near the present station on Mauiola Island. The exact location has not been decided on yet as estimates from engineers concerning the amount of dredging necessary in the different locations, will have to be at hand before a site can be definitely decided upon.

As far as the Quarantine Service's fumigating plant is concerned, there are two things possible. Either the plant may be taken away from the Channel wharf and placed temporarily in some other locality or it may be taken out and stored away until the new quarantine wharf can be completed.

Besides its fumigating plant, the Quarantine service has in the Channel wharf its launch landing and the quarters for the crew, which will also have to be removed in case the vacating of that wharf is insisted upon.

Mr. Kiebahn, of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., agents of the Pacific Mail, Toy Kisen Kaisha and Occidental & Oriental steamship lines, was also seen. He stated that the firm has received the communication from Captain White. It had not cabled to anyone and did not intend to make any move in the matter. Developments would be awaited. The steamship lines represented by H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., will be decidedly affected by the vacating of the Channel wharf. While they will continue to dock at the Bishop wharf, as has lately been the custom, the inspection of the immigrants will have to be carried on aboard the vessels, since the present inspection quarters are on the Channel wharf.

This will necessarily delay the steamers considerably. Furthermore, the steamship companies have their detention quarters for Orientals who are refused admittance to the Territory, on the Channel wharf. Another place will therefore have to be provided to keep these people while they are waiting for the arrival of a steamer to take them back to the Orient.

As far as the goods which have to be fumigated are concerned, Mr. Kiebahn could not state what would be done. The large bulk of freight is, however, not affected.

New stock of kodaks has just been opened by the Honolulu Photo-Supply Co. Kodaks rented for any occasion.

SENATE WANTS A WEEK'S HOLIDAY

SENATE.
 Extra Session.

Thirty-first Day.
 Senate Bill No. 9, the eighteen months' current expense measure, was called for third reading in the Senate this morning, when Senator McCandless suggested an adjournment as barely a quorum was present, only nine, including the President, being in the Chamber.

President Crabbe suggested that, inasmuch as there were other matters to be considered, the Senator should change his motion to the effect that the reading of the eighteen months' bill be deferred until Monday's session. The Senator readily consented and President Crabbe went on to refer to the inconvenience occasioned the Senate by the requirement of the Clerk of the Senate and the Senate Journal in court in the County Act case before Judge Gear.

He said that the production of the journal on any certain day was difficult as it was not all together and proof readers and others would have to be looked up before it could be gathered together. He had forbidden Clerk Savage to take the journal into court.

The matter was discussed until Senator Achi arose to suggest that the Senate was out of order, that the journal referred to was that of the regular session and the present extra session was solely for the consideration of appropriation bills. The President thanked the Senator for reminding the Senate of the fact of being out of order and the subject was dropped.
 It was recommended that the Senate ask permission of the House to take a week's vacation as there was no sense in sitting around doing nothing waiting for the House to act.
 The consideration of this matter of a holiday was deferred until Tuesday morning, until which time the Senate adjourned after a session of less than twenty-five minutes.

A communication was received from the House, replying to one from the Senate, asking what had been done with Bill No. 3, saying that the measure had been deferred until today.

HOUSE.

Incident of Nakulua.
 Thrum could not touch him or Mr. Kumalae, who were both members of the Legislature and therefore on an independent basis, so his stepfather, Mr. Nakulua, had been given two minutes' notice to get out of the office, by way of revenge upon himself; this, too, in the face of the fact that he was a strong Republican and working against his own stepson.

Mr. Beckley said he made these statements just to show the members the system of carrying on the business of the office of Registrar of Conveyances. He wanted his colleagues to feel that upon their return to their respective homes, they could be assured of the fact that the men at work in the office under discussion would receive the pay which had been voted them.

With Reference to Color Line.
 Only a few days ago, the morning paper had stated that the members were drawing the color line. He wished to contradict that. The majority represented the people and the Hawaiians were in the majority. He was not speaking along political lines. When his stepfather was in trouble there was not a Republican outside of the Attorney General who came to his assistance. In the House he was out for the interests of the people without regard to political party, but outside of the legislative hall he was a Home
