CATHCART SCORNS DEMAND TO WITHDRAW

FLEET IS DELAYED BY HEAVY STORM

Cathcart Will Stay On Republican Ticket

The attempt to force John Cathcart off the Republican ticket has failed. By underhand methods the Advertiser has tried to induce some of the prominent party leaders to kick Cathcart out, as was done to Kaea, but Cathcart will stay put.

The entire matter is enveloped in much mystery, the leaders declining to give out anything at present, while Cathcart says that he is bound to secrecy in the matter, and that he can say nothing until he has been released He did say enough, however, to show that the attempts to force him out had utterly failed.

"I am certainly going to stay on the ticket," said Cathcart. "I shall go on the stump soon."

While the official sources are closed, enough was learned from outside sources to show in general what the Advertiser plot, in which A. S. Humphreys appears to be an active factor, consists of. These facts also explain the veiled allusion made in the Advertiser this morning as follows:

"Today the leaders of the party will confer with Mr. Cathcart on the subject. He will be asked to decide between party harmony and party discord; between victory for Republican policies and his personal pride. Upon his answer will depend things of the utmost party and personal moment."

CRACKED STEAMPIPE DELAYS AORANGI

Accident Occurred Near Brisbane---No One Injured

After bursting the main steam pipe and lying helpless for two days at Brisbane, the Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi, Captain J. D. S. Phillips, arrived in port this morning, 36 hours behind schedule time. The cracking of the pipe occurred a short time before arrival at Brisbane. No one was injured at the time of the accident.

A crack to the main steam pipe which threatened an explosion that would fill the engine room with scalding vapor and possibly cause loss of life, was noticed before arrival at Brisbane, and a delay of two days was found necessary.

More delay was found at Suva, and all prospect of keeping on schedule went glimmering.

During the trip fine weather has been encountered, though stiff trades have been bucked into the last few days, with occasional squalls and showers.

The Aorangi carries eighty through passengers. A large transfer mail of 195 bags, for the China, was put ashore this morning, some of it being composed of letters home from the men of the American Atlantic Fleet.

WILDER SUSTAINS AUTO ORDINANCE

The automobile ordinance has been sustained by a decision of the Supreme Court this morning in the appeal of G. E. Schaefer from the District Court. Judge Andrade found Schaefer guilty of "scorching" in his machine, and he thereupon carried the case to the Supreme Court on the ground that the local automobile ordinance is void as being contrary to the 5th and 14th amendments of the Constitution.

The opinion of the Supreme Court, written by Justice Wilder, confines itself in the main to a discussion of the constitutionality of the Act, and the judgment of the lower court is affirmed. It is a well-known fact that auto drivers in this city are prone to speed their machines at a rate of speed dangerous to the pedestrian.

Counties—constitutionality of automobile ordinance. Ordinance 5 of the County of Oahu, relating to the registration identification, use and operation of motor cars, is not contrary to the 5th or 14th amendments of the Constitution.

More Life In G.O.P. Campaign

New life will be injected into the Republican campaign after today. The leaders have not been quite satisfied with the manner in which things have been going, and although there has been no lack of success, they intend to work things up to the highest pitch. For this reason it has been decided to place Solomon Kaleiopu, a veteran campaigner and a power in the Fifth District, in charge of the actual running of the campaign, such as meetings, statistics, etc. He will stay at headquarters from morning till night, ready to answer all questions and to take up all the details of the campaign as thuey come up He will also take charge of such runners as may be employed. The party has succeeded in getting together enough subscriptions from private sources to be a little more liberal in its expenditures than it has been heretofore, and as a

Colburn Files Petition; Says She Is Not Heir At Law

John F. Colburn has filed a petition in the Circuit Court asking that the contest of Abagail K. Notice is given that a hearing of the petition of John F. Colburn will be held before Judge Lindsay on Monday, October 19.

STORM DELAYS ATLANTIC FLEET

TOKIO, Japan, Oct. 16.—The American Fleet was not reported today. The weather is very stormy and it is believed the Fleet stood off to ride out the heavy weather at sea.

It appears from this that an error occurred in the Associated Press afternoon cable yesterday to the effect that the Fleet had been greeted by Japanese warships.

Fifteen Killed; Loss A Million

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 16.—Fire on the docks of the Calumet river did a million dollars' worth of damage today. Fifteen men perished in fighting the flames.

Storm Delays Fleet; Other Vessels Late

A storm at sea is the cause for a delay of one day in the arrival here of the Second Division of the Pacific Fleet, and presumably of other shipping which was due early this morning and failed to show up. The cruisers will arrive tomorrow instead of this morning, as expected, and the China and Marama, both of which should have been off port early this mofning, are also late.

The news of the storm came to the West Virginia by wireless, the message stating that a delay of a day was caused. It is presumed that trouble was had with the tows in rough weather.

Conditions here have for some time indicated that bad weather prevailed at sea, and the Aorangi, which arrived this morning, had squalls to encounter, with heavy trades, though she escaped the storm.

The China, which is one of the fast and prompt boats of the Pacific Mail fleet, is full due and over. The delay in the arrival of the Marama is no more than might be accounted for under ordinary circumstances.

This morning the cruisers Colorado, South Dakota, and Pennsylvania moved out into the stream, to allow space for the docking of the California, Tennessee, and Washington when they arrive tomorrow. All the coaling of those vessels in port is now through, the men coming ashore as soon as the tidying ship process is over, possibly this evening or afternoon, from most of the cruisers. The West Virginia and the Maryland will remain at the Alakea wharf.

SCHOOL BOYS PLAY TIE

There was a rattling fine game of baseball played on the Kam campus yesterday afternoon, between two of the school teams, the Blues and the Reds. In accordance with the rules agreed on, the game was but seven innings and at the end each team had one run to its credit. The draw will be fought off tomorrow at 4 o'clock.

Tomorrow the game will be enlivened by music from the school band, which will make its first appearance on the occasion.

Explain Kaea Case

The Republican Central Committee has issued a pamphlet containing a Hawaiian translation of the resolution which purged the ticket of Kaea, prefacing it with a translation of the following, addressed to the voters of Oahu:

"The foregoing resolution was passed at a meeting of the Central Committee of the Republican party and transmitted to the chairman of the County Committee. He thereupon called a meeting of the County Committee at which the above resolution was prevented. The Central Committee of the Republican party, on whom the party rules place the responsibility to 'have general supervision of the affairs of the party' has removed from the Republican party ticket the name of George Kaea; and the County Committee, by virtue of the party rules and the authority of the above resolution, have filled the vacancy so created, and have placed in nomination the name of S. P. Maielua as Representative from the Fifth District. We ask the support at the polls for S. P. Maielua from every man who believes in the principles of the Republican party.

HEARST CHARGES HURT

New York, Sept. 21.—The New York Press today has the following news report of the conference between W. J. Bryan, Norman E. Mack, national Democratic chairman, and D. Cady Herrick in Albany:

"Chairman Mack and Bryan talked over the Hearst charges against Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, the treasurer of the Democratic national committee. Parker's advice was sought in this instance. Mack was reticent on his return last night when questioned about Haskell; but he intimated that although Senator Foraker had been driven out of the Taft campaign by Hearst's revelations in connection with Standard Oil, Haskell will not quit so easily.

"He will rest his case simply on a flat denial of the truth of Hearst's accusations.

"It is evident, however, that Bryan, Mack and other Democratic leaders are embarrassed seriously by Hearst's charge that Standard Oil interests are on friendly terms with Byran in this campaign. Bryan, it was learned, intended to make a great play in the west on his assertion that the Steel Trust is supporting the Taft campaign.

Bank Guarantee a Strong Card

"One of Bryan's closest friends said yesterday the Nebraskan will make most prominent hereafter his plan to have national banks guarantee their deposits, as he believes this is a popular cry. Bryan has said confidentially that he believes the bank guarantee plan is one of his strongest planks in this campaign, as it has been well received everywhere he has used it for a text.

"Another change has been made necessary in Bryan's plans. He was preparing to picture Hearst as really 'in cahoots' with the Republicans for a consideration, but Hearst's attack on Foraker and the consternation it has caused in Republican ranks will cause Bryan to go slow in assailing Hearst along the line planned.

"Prominent Democrats advised Bryan yesterday that Hearst is injuring the Republican party even more than he is hurting Bryan, and that it would be best for Bryan to give him plenty of rope and pay as little attention to him as possible."

PEKIN, China, Oct. 3. — Chung Men Yew, the new Chinese Minister to the United States, who is to succeed Wu Ting Fang in December, left here last week with Tang Shao Yi, the envoy of the Emperor, who started on his trip around the world.

The Imperial envoy and his suite are going to America by way of Japan. Tang Shao Yi's mission is to thank the United States Government for the remission of a portion of the Boxer indemnity and to try to enlist the aid of Americans in the development of Northern China.

Minister Wu will receive the envoy and Chung Men Yew when they reach Washington, after which he will retire from his post as Minister. The Chinese Government has denied repeatedly recently that there was any intention of recalling Wu Ting Fang, but the announcement of Chung Men Yew's departure leaves little room for doubt.

New Minister a Harvard Man

The new Minister was the Chinese Consul General at Manila in 1904, and a member of the Chinese Opium Commission. He has spent much of his life in the United States, where he is well known. He was educated at Harvard University and was a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Later he became interpreter at the Chinese Legation in Washington. He served with a number of Chinese Ministers, including Wu Ting Fang, and was then sent to Madrid as charge d'affaires. He afterward returned to China and was given important work in connection with the railway and telegraph development. He is a widower, with one son, who was educated in the United States.

Tang Shao Yi is bringing many presents for American officials, including ten ancient porcelains, relics of the Manchu conquest, taken from the palace of the present ruling family at Mukden, and other valuable porcelains and jades. The Empress Dowager is sending special presents to President Roosevelt as well as several valuable jades to Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the President's daughter, in remembrance of Mrs. Longworth's visit to Pekin in 1905.

Mission Is Politically Vital

The mission of Tang Shao Yi is replete with political possibilities, and its outcome is being regarded with great interest by some of the European Powers interested in Manchuria. Efforts have been made to discredit it, but the send-off given the envoy this morning indicates that no matter what is thought of his purposes, personally he is regarded as a most able diplomat.

Thang Shao Yi has been given plenary powers with the rank of Ambassador, and this, together with the other honors conferred, indicates the importance attached by the Empress Dowager and Grand Councilor Yuan Shei Kai to his mission. A sum equal to that set aside for the entertainment of the American Fleet in Chinese waters has been given Tang Shao Yi to meet the expenses of this mission.

Circuit Judge Kinsey at St. Louis, Mo., has ruled that William Lemp, Jr., the millionaire brewer, does not need to specify in his cross bill to the divorce suit of his wife, "the lavender lady," his particular objections to her mode of dress nor tell the color of her stockings.

WATERFRONT NOTES

THE STEAMER Ke Au Hou arrived from Kauai at 8:30 o'clock this morning, carrying one lone Chinaman as a deck passenger and a quantity of miscellaneous freight. There were no cabin passengers on board.

Washington, September 30.—Dr. L. von Pirquet of Vienna, Austria, the discoverer of the procedure of inoculation of tubercle bacillus as a means of diagnoses, today inoculated more children at the Children's Hospital and also one trained nurse, whose name it was impossible to obtain. This following so closely on yesterday's inoculation of ten children by Dr. Detre aroused great interest among the delegates, and was the main feature of the day. Over 100 physicians, foreign and American, witnessed the tests. Some of the subjects were negro children.

It is said that Dr. Detre's tests on Monday and shown that several of the children inoculated had bovine infection. Others have mixed bovine and human tuberculosis, while still others have only human consumption. This information is highly important to the medical profession.

Tests Harmless is Claim.

Speaking of his tests, Dr. von Pirquet said:

"These so-called tests are only diagnosis. In Berlin we make them thousands of times, to find out the tuberculosis subjects. Having found them out, we separate them from the other patients.

"It does not injure them at all. We apply it to kindergarten scholars in Germany and when we find children suffering from tuberculosis we segregate them."

Dr. von Pirquet said it was also employed in the public schools of Germany, and he has frequently applied the test to his own arm. Dr. G. N. Acker, physician in charge of the Children's Hospital said that the children were doing well and had not been harmed in the least.

Confirms Diagnosis.

"This test," continued the doctor, "is commonly employed in hospitals and has been employed in the Children's Hospital from time to time since the test has been known to confirm the diagnosis of tuberculosis.

"There are three tests. One is known as the Chalmette test, the tuberculin being put in the eye of the subject. Then there is the von Pirquet test, which was made this afternoon at the hospital, the tuberculin being used on the surface of the skin, the same as in vaccination. The third is the Detre test, which was made at the hospital Monday. The latter is made to distinguish between the bovine and human tuberculosis, both human and bovine bacillus being employed."

To many of the visitors the goal of their visit is the rather gruesome but interesting exhibit of live bacilli and microbes.

New York Leads World.

At a section meeting this morning Dr. Robert Koch, the father of Anti-Tuberculosis Endeavor, said that New York city led the world in its handling of the tuberculosis problem, and in its prevention. His remarks were all the more forcible because they were impromptu.

Dr. Arthur Newsholme, one of the biggest medical authorities in England, also took occasion to say that he knows of no city where the total programme for prevention of consumption is so complete as it is in New York. He said that in England the public would not yet permit of such forcible measures as New York uses.

Dr. J. Woods Price of Saranac Lake, New York, contributed one of the rare papers free from terms too technical for the lay mind. His subject was the "Possibilities of infection from table utensils at sanatoriums." He said, in part:

Tableware Danger Slight.

"Forks, spoons, tea cups and milk glasses in constant use by advanced tuberculosis patients were used for these experiments. On the first day thirty forks and twenty-five spoons, tumblers and tea cups were chosen immediately after ordinary good washing but not sterilization and cleansed with sterile 5 per cent sodium bicarbonate solution by means of sterile cotton swabs and the washings distributed among fifty-six guinea pigs by injection. No knowledge of the intended experiment was conveyed to the hospital nurses or maids. All the pigs were killed in forty-one days and found to be free from tuberculosis infection.

"On the second, several months later, articles of each sort, immediately after use and before washing of any kind as described as above and the washing injected into guinea pigs, two pigs to each five articles. These animals were killed in forty-one days after inoculation and all were found to be tuberculosis except those inoculated with the washings from the milk glasses.

"While the sterilization of tableware used by consumptives is not to be discouraged, the danger from infection from that source, when it is not possible, does not seem to be great."

The daylight limited of the Illinois Central railroad between Chicago and St. Louis was wrecked near Springfield, Ill., and a piece of the engine struck and killed Elizabeth Metcalfe, 8 years old, who was playing 200 feet away from the track. Ethel Barrymore, the actress, was dragged through the window of a wrecked car by a porter.

MEN-O'-WARSMEN

Dakota men are sure that their champions will come out the victors as they claim to have the fastest boat crew in the Pacific waters.

When the ships were last in these waters, the prize crew from the South Dakota defeated the West Virginia's crack aggregation and the fans of the ship believe that the performance can be repeated with the Tennessee.

Intense partisanship is being shown among the men of the destroyer flotillas and the race between the crew from the Hull and that from the Truxtun will attract as much attention as the contest between the men from the white ships.

The Hull's racing cutter crew is made up as follows: Wells, coxswain; Gillespie, stroke; Fera, No. 2; Seely, No. 3; Brooks, No. 4. The personnel of the South Dekota's crew has not been made public.

The cruiser Maryland will not enter a boat crew in any of the races here.

Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, national president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and Miss Alma Gordon, vice-president at large, who had started for Chicago, were severely shaken up when the Grand Trunk train on which they were passengers ran into an engine near Portland, Me.

The house committee of the Indiana legislature exonerated Gov. Hanly of the charge of attempted bribery in connection with the passage of the local-option bill, stating that there was no evidence to show that Representative Kulsely was offered inducements to vote for the measure.

In a special message read by Gov. Hanly of Indiana to the lower house of the legislature at Indianapolis, he demanded an investigation of the charge that he confirmed the offer of a $2,000 a year place as a bribe to Representative Kulsely, and a committee was appointed to investigate.

According to the Avanti of Rome, Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, is about to retire. It is asserted the step is the outcome of the representations of American and English prelates regarding the secretary's severe measures against modernism.

THOMAS A. EDISON.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 12.—Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of the electrical world, has arrived in Seattle on a vacation trip which he is taking on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Edison has laid aside the commercial part of his work and announces that he will do no more inventing. His efforts hereafter will be directed toward discovering new things in science, and he will be confined only to the things he likes to do best.

In the Pacific Northwest he is investigating the immense water power which is now going to waste in many places. He advocates the development of water power as a means of husbanding the world's supply of coal. Some day, he says, scientists must discover a substitute for coal, the supply of which is fast diminishing.

Mr. Edison, his wife and daughter, left for Portland today, where they will remain a day or two. From Portland the party will go to Salt Lake and will return East by easy stages. There were hundreds of curious persons at the hotel to see the "wizard." Among those who sought to engage him in conversation were inventors, men with ideas who wanted advice. To all of them he replied that he had finished with invention and that he was not interested.

TAKAHIRA MAKES MYSTERIOUS VISIT

Washington, October 2.—Baron Takahira paid another mysterious visit to the President today. The Baron first met Mrs. Roosevelt but later conferred with the President for an hour. The rumor is insistent that the Japanese government is not satisfied with the plans for the maneuvers for the American fleet.

"I haven't a word to say," said the Ambassador, "It was just a social visit, if something must be said."

At the executive office Secretary Loeb said the Baron had merely called to pay his respects to Mrs. Roosevelt.

EDUCATION IN MORALS

London, October 2.—The first international congress organized to discuss the problems of moral education was opened today at the Imperial Institute.

The object of the congress is to secure the co-operation of the various governments for the improvement of the moral education offered in schools, and seventeen nations, including the United States, were represented officially.

Professor Ernest Sadler, in welcoming the delegates, laid emphasis upon the special indebtedness of the world to educational thought and experiments in the United States.

ANTI-SALOON WORK SCORES MUCH SUCCESS

Denver.—Dr. P. A. Baker, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, who is here to tell the people of Denver what has been accomplished by the prohibition movement, says:

"Nearly 10,000,000 people in the United States now live in prohibition territory."

Dr. Baker says his statement is based upon accurate figures compiled in the league departments, and that the number is swelling daily. Few people, he says, realize that the temperance wave has swept over the country in the past few years with such persistent vigor that now one-half the population of the United States live in territory where the saloon is forbidden.

"The temperance people of this country have been closing saloons in the United States at the rate of thirty a day during the year 1908," said Dr. Baker, "and I believe it will continue at that rate during the rest of the year. About 8,000,000 people abolished saloons last year, and I believe that this year those figures will be duplicated. It is not fully realized by the general public that the temperance has been so universally successful as it has.

"Partly by State abolition of saloons, and to a greater degree by local option, the prohibition territory of the United States has been increased until there are now 10,000,000 people living in places where the saloon is forbidden. Eight States are in the prohibition list, and we hope to put more there. Last spring people living in the State of Illinois abolished 1,500 saloons in one day.

"The Anti-Saloon League is not interested in partisan politics. We have nothing directly to do with the Prohibition party. Our work is carried on by the members of all parties. We have a political department, but it is not concerned with the partisan side of politics.

"I have just reached here after a trip to Salt Lake City and other places in the West. I find conditions there excellent for our cause. In Wyoming Idaho and Utah they are working for a law that will provide for county local option and are seeking to elect men to the Legislatures who will pledge themselves to the passage of such a measure. The Mormons are in favor of the county local option movement and are working for it diligently. The authorities of the Mormon Church are co-operating splendidly in this work and we are securing good organization all through the country."

FRIDAY ..... OCTOBER 16, 1908

If elected, what could McCandless do?

So it is the Philippine land law and not the American land law that the Democrats want!

Wm. H. Taft will be the next President. Why deceive yourself with any Bryan anticipations?

May the boys of the Navy enjoy themselves. There is plenty of hard work ahead at Magdalena Bay.

As usual, the split-ticket publishers of shoader include misrepresentation of the Bulletin on their list.

Who was it said he would form a partnership with the Devil if by so doing he could accomplish his ends?

Republican promises are promises kept. The other fellow is a doubtful quantity. By his own statement, he has never been tried.

Split-ticket voting is always an easy road to racial voting in Hawaii. This is the rock that will wreck self-government in this Territory if anything can.

Straight tickets will carry the Republican candidates through successfully and assure the city and Territory a thoroughly business-like administration.

Straight talk on principle will win more votes than personality although the candidate may be anxious to get at the disbursing agents of false statements and shallow principles.

If a parade by men of the Pacific Fleet means cutting short their shore liberty, Honolulu people will gladly forego this feature of a visit by warships to which they always look forward with particular pleasure.

Intelligent American-Hawaiians do not have to be told that a vote cast on racial lines is a vote for the ruin of Hawaii's good name. History furnishes no other result, and times have not changed on this score.

Brief dispatches concerning the National Democratic campaign fund suggest that the contributions have been entirely harmless. But it seems a shame for the people to spend so much of their money in a losing cause.

Mr. Bryan is a very pleasant gentleman. After election day he will resume his work of telling the people how the country should be run, and entertain his fellow-citizens with his remarkable oratory. The people like him, but realize that he is much better adapted to the lecture platform than the responsibilities of the Presidency of the United States.

No Democratic candidate has promised to support Governor Frear in carrying out a vigorous business policy. As they have not thought of this important matter early in the campaign there is no reason to believe they will follow good advice when it is given. A Democratic Legislature means political warfare for sixty days and nothing accomplished for the people.

The Democratic record on the Oahu Board of Supervisors is marked by a strenuous endeavor to increase the offices and public expense without improving the public service. Democracy had its "trial" and if it had possessed enough votes would have increased the expense burden. Why should the Democrats be voted into office to complete their intended work in this direction?

William Randolph Hearst, Tom Watson, and Eugene Debs have put the seal of absolutely certain defeat upon William J. Bryan's candidacy. Hearst and Watson are out with the declared intention of attracting for their candidates the vote that would naturally go to Bryan and the Democrats. There are not enough disgruntled Republicans to make up for this loss and among even the Democrats Bryan's cause is considered hopeless.

Partizans who spend their time on the stump discussing Charlie Chillingworth's right to a position in the ranks of the missionaries cannot make much of an impression on the voter who wants good legislative work done. If elected they would very likely pass the legislative period in a long argument on whether Senator Chillingworth has any right to be termed a "missionary" leader while W. O. Smith is still a member of the upper house.

ATTACK ON CATHCART.

The movement to force John W. Cathcart off the Republican County ticket is doomed to the same failure that should attend every attempt to heap calumny and personal abuse on a citizen in the furtherance of spite.

The opposition to Cathcart which has been going on since his regular and unanimous nomination by the Republican convention is backed by some of the most disreputable factors this community knows. The charges take the form of a species of blackmail and innuendo. From start to finish the antics of those leading the attack have been illuminated by the fulmination of curious, though appropriate, bedfellows supplemented by violated promises.

It is gratifying that the managers of the Republican party have thus far refused to be influenced by stupid efforts at misrepresentation, and it will be surprising if they allow themselves to be swayed during the later days of the campaign.

The spite-workers against Mr. Cathcart who have been busy in their affidavit mill striving to gain material with which to embarrass the party, have gone so far that the future has one of two courses open to them.

They must either acknowledge their error like men, or carry on their campaign for the election of the independent nominee, Long.

They have yet to show qualities of honorable manhood. They will therefore continue as earnest workers for the split-ticket and Carlos Long.

If it were possible for them to elect Mr. Long, the only possible method by which it could be accomplished is a direct appeal to the racial prejudices of the voting population of this city and county.

In view of what has gone before in the record of the split-ticket crowd, and taking into consideration the associates which they have now taken in their camp, resort to the lowest order of political manipulation, misrepresentation, and dishonest as well as intensely evil advice to the voters may be expected.

The issue will be whether the voters of Honolulu will support malice and misrepresentation or common decency.

The result is not in doubt.

Cathcart will not withdraw, for the very good reason that there is no cause why he should.

Cathcart will be elected attorney for the City and County of Honolulu because he is the ablest and most efficient candidate for the position.

THE DIVORCE QUESTION.

1. Number of divorces granted in Honolulu for the year ending September 30th, 1908?
2. Number asked for by men?
3. Number asked for by women?
4. Nationalities represented, and numbers of each?
5. Causes given—cruelty, non-support, adultery, desertion, drunkenness, etc., etc.
6. Average time from the application until decree was issued?
7. Number in past year compared with ten years ago?
8. Divorce laws of Hawaii, and what changes would be beneficial?
9. Are divorces caused, in part, by faulty marriage laws?
10. How should the issuance of marriage licenses be better guarded?
11. What stand should the minister take on the divorce question?
12. The power of the public press.

Commissioner Wright believes that the careful study of this divorce question and its problems will result in "an enhanced purity, a sublime sacredness, and a more beautiful embodiment of Lamertine's trinity—the trinity of the father, the mother and the child." The home life of our land will be preserved in purity and sacredness.

(GOVERNOR FREAR)

"As I said in my speech at Aala Park, country comes first, party second, as a matter of course.

"This DOES NOT MEAN that PARTY should be IGNORED or that the VOTER should select from the DIFFERENT PARTIES the BEST MEN VIEWED AS INDIVIDUALS.

"Team work is essential to accomplish practical results. Accordingly in politics as well as business it is often necessary to select and vote for men who by working together can accomplish desired results even though they are not men who might be preferred as individuals.

"Of course, there may be men on the party ticket who should not be voted for either for the good of the country or party, but just where the line should be drawn is a matter for individual judgment."

THE CANDIDATE

Consider now the candidate and hearken unto his lamentation.

He ariseth in the morning and beholdeth in the paper a roorback which he starteth out, breakfastless, to squelch; and ere the setting of the sun he hath run into four more, all even worse than the first, and harder to disprove.

He saith in his haste all men are liars, and on second thought he repeateth it with a qualifying adjective.

He learneth from a perusal of the partisan papers that he stole a sheep, even an ewe-lamb, in his boyhood, and a horse in his prime, while the rumor that he exacted tribute from the corporations when he was in public pay hath yet to be nailed.

He cryeth out with a loud voice in the market places, saying, "Behold me; I am not seeking this office, but I am afraid that if I keep still the office may collar some incompetent by mistake, and I am a patriot. I have been urged by my friends to run and in a few more days I shall do so unless things begin to look more favorable."

And he reflecteth bitterly: "Behold, when I started upon this campaign I had the respect of my family and of them that dwell within my neighborhood; whereas now I am become an object of suspicion to my neighbors, and my family will not answer when I address them unless I inclose a stamp for a reply. For have not my wife and my children been reading the partisan papers and am I not a victim of their credulity?

"Of a truth I am undone, also done. For not only hath the enemy found out all the things I have ever done that are not commendable, but he also hath learned of seventeen criminal acts of which I was never guilty, and verily those things I have not done are worse even than the things I have done."

He fain would publish the list of his campaign contributions, but that he fears that if the enemy should learn how little he hath raised his defeat would be easy, and that if it were known how much he hath and whence it came it would be still easier to defeat him.

So it cometh to pass that he beateth his head upon the hardwood floor and cryeth with a loud voice yet again, "Woe is me and woe are all my brethren, for we are even as the two men one of whom was afraid and the other dazzent."

And he longeth for the next few weeks to pass quickly, that the agony may be over and he may begin to recover his self-respect and the respect of his family and his neighbors.

LANE'S LASSO STOPS DANGEROUS RUNAWAY

Richard Lane, the lieutenant of the mounted police, last Wednesday afternoon made a gallant stop of a runaway, in which the usefulness of the lariat now carried by the mounted officers was amply demonstrated. The runaway started from King street near the railroad station, a large, spirited horse attached to a wagon with a load of charcoal, running at a great rate down King street and up Liliha. A little above Vineyard the runaway collided with a horse attached to a milk wagon, throwing it down. The runaway then turned and ran back towards King street.

At this point Lane came on the scene. He was riding down Liliha when he saw the runaway in the distance. He immediately gave chase and came up with it close to Kukui street, just as the outlaw was turning into a space crowded with people. Lane, with the practice bred of many years on the ranches of Hawaii, threw his rope with unerring aim, catching the runaway fair. He threw it to the ground, and jumping to its head held it down until it could be extricated from the harness. Luckily, no great damage was done.

3 OCEANIC BOATS ARE READY TO GO TO SEA

Lloyd Childs stated that he has been assured by Frank Wiggins of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that there is assurance of a Honolulu-San Pedro line within a year.

Cox. A new office of general counsel and manager was created and Mr. Cox was appointed to fill it.

OLIVER RECITALS

"Dr. Luke of the Labrador" was the theme for last evening at the Kilohana Art League. Katharine Oliver, who has long been recognized, both in America and in Great Britain, as the dean of Scotch readers, has attained the climax of her work as an interpreter in an entirely new field—the portrayal of life in Labrador—a life that has been brought wonderfully close to us through the genius of Norman Duncan. "Dr. Luke of the Labrador" was given its initial performance Oct. 13th, 1905, in the presence of the author and his friends, at Washington, Pa., and from that day has been recognized as a remarkable entertainment wherever it has been given, as shown by the following testimonials:

Norman Duncan—I am glad that the publishers of "Dr. Luke" have given you the rights to the public reading of the book, for this assures an intelligent and sympathetic interpretation. Last night I heard you with very great interest and pleasure. You seem to have discovered the spirit of Labrador life and to have found a way to communicate it to your audience. How you managed so cleverly to adapt the book to the very difficult purpose you had in view will always remain to me an amazing mystery. Believe that your interpretation has my approval. Washington, Pa., Oct. 14, 1905.

Katharine Oliver, interpreter. There could be no sweeter, prouder title. On Tuesday, at Mrs. McClarey's, she gave us richly of the wit and wisdom of Robert Burns. . . . The morning recital at Mrs. von Platen's was upon Great Authors. In Books and Out: Confessions of a Literary Pilgrim. . . . Thursday evening was devoted to the recital of Dr. Luke of the Labrador, a powerful study of the isolated souls of that lonely region, and the strange philosophy there evolved. The speaker held her audience spell-bound, smiles alternating with tears as character after character was made to appear before us. Not even the fish-nets and decorations upon the platform were needed to help in creating that wonderful atmosphere in which for the time being we lived and moved. It was a wonderful portrayal and was wisely kept for the last entertainment of this delightful course.—Oak Leaves (Chicago, Ill.), March 10, 1906.

Saturday evening "Henry the Eighth" will be the recital.

SENATOR PERKINS FRIEND OF HAWAII

"I am in receipt of your esteemed favor under date of the 8th instant, enclosing me a copy of the annual report of Mr. James F. Morgan, president of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce. I am sure that I shall read the same with much pleasure and instruction.

"In this connection I would say that I am always ready and willing to do anything in my power to advance the interest of the city of Honolulu and the people of the Hawaiian Islands. In doing so I believe I am working for the best interest of the Pacific Coast States. As evidence of my good faith in the matter I have but to cite you the fact that as chairman of the Subcommittee on Fortifications and Ordnance in the United States Senate my report and advocacy of the bill for the improvement of Honolulu and Pearl harbors secured and made available large appropriations for this purpose at the last session of Congress. As ranking member of the Committee on Naval Affairs, I worked for liberal appropriations for the improvement of your naval station. As a member of the Committee on Commerce I reported favorably upon and secured the passage of a bill for an additional revenue cutter which will enable the department to permanently station one in the Hawaiian Islands. I also favored the appropriation for a lighthouse tender and additional lighthouses for two of the ports in the Islands. It is needless, I am sure, for me to say that if I can be of any service to the good people of your city and Territory you have but to command me.

"With kind regards, I remain, very truly yours,

"GEO. C. PERKINS."

(Special to the Bulletin)

HILO, Hawaii, Oct. 8.—"Keeping watch and ward." That is what the people of Hilo did for a week after the heavy shake, but the expected vibration failed to materialize and the usual quietness, which is only broken in upon by steamer day, has got into the same old rut. But that is not saying that the Volcano has been playing to empty houses in the meantime. From just before the quake up to the present time the changes in the fire pit have been so frequent and magnificent that a good many tourists and an exceptionally large number of townspeople have visited the inferno petite.

The glow from the fires of Kilauea is frequently seen from Hilo, but surpassed any previous attempt in this special line of display. Although there was a fairly good moon and the heavens quite clear, the reflection of the volcanic fires in the sky was simply grand.

The Mole

Mr. Brown, representing Captain Otwell, came to town by the last trip of the Mauna Kea, and lost no time in getting "the lay of the land" regarding breakwater matters. Track laying on the spur from Waiakea to the breakwater site will be completed by Saturday, the work going on regardless of the weather during the past week, which has been positively rotten.

Like the conditions that usually obtain at the focus of any large piece of work of this nature, it is expected that a small village will soon commence to appear. At the present moment, where all was a wilderness a few short weeks ago, there is a scale house, a large office building, a big warehouse, and two water tanks for supplying engines.

One of the massive locomotive cranes started for Puna on Monday under its own steam and drawing a flat car on which has been installed a 16-horsepower gasoline engine and a powerful air compressor. This last named outfit will drive a power drill for blasting out the rock.

Thunderstorm

Thursday was certainly a rainy day in Hilo. The heaviest downpour of the season occurred on the afternoon of that day. The city drains for the superfluous water were entirely inadequate. Streets were flooded and some damage done in the Waiakea district, and a heavy hunderstorm did business to the northeast of Hawaii all the afternoon.

Social

Although social functions are few and far between just at present there are quite a number on tap for the winter. The present quietness in that line is the usual rest between seasons as it were. The next event of importance is the show to be given by the amateur home talent. They have been practicing faithfully for some time and the coming production is looked forward to with much expectation by the lovers of good comedy. The plays heretofore given by this troup are far above the average amateur work.

The dead whale that floated in some time ago and filled the bill as an attraction for about a week has gone to Davie Jones' locker. On account of the advanced state of decomposition of the carcas the city authorities compelled the Japanese who had charge of it to take it further to sea. Hundreds of sharks gathered about the dead whale and feasted to their hearts' content, and it did not take long for them to remove all buoyancy by biting away huge chunks of blubber and flesh, and as a consequence the bones went to the bottom. The owners of the launches reaped a harvest while the whale floated.

The new Episcopal Church on Waianuenue street is about finished and is a very pretty building and adds considerable to the locality. The building that was formerly used by that denomination for the Sunday service is also used as a school house during the week and such an arrangement made it inconvenient all round; hence the new church building.

JUDGE LINDSAY REPRIMANDS ACHI

In the divorce suit of Kalanieha Ah Ngee vs. Ah Ngee, Judge Lindsay this morning had occasion to give the Laborula candidate for Mayor, Chas. Achi, a severe reprimand on account of the miserable manner in which the libel for divorce had been prepared. The libel was an almost unreadable conglomeration, and, though he appears as attorney for the libellant, Achi disclaimed having written the libel.

"Who wrote that?" the Judge asked of Mrs. Ngee, referring to the libel for divorce.

"The United States Attorney, Mr. Manuel," came the rather astonishing reply. As Mr. Manuel happens to be a sort of clerk to the United States District Attorney, there seems to be a mistake somewhere. But Judge Lindsay refused to have anything to do with the suit until Achi filed an amended libel.

CHIEF PETTY OFFICERS' DANCE

Those who have attended the last two dances given by the chief petty officers of the Pacific Squadron will be pleased to hear that they are to give another next Tuesday evening at the Young Hotel.

The last one given there in September was without doubt the most popular dance given here for years, and everyone who attended will again turn out to have a good time themselves and help to give a good time to the visitors.

Prominent townspeople will join with the C. P. O.'s Committee in making arrangements and patronesses will be chosen from Honolulu matrons to add that touch of assurance needed to bring out the very best turnout of the fair sex. Admission will be by invitations, which will be mailed within a day or so.

MISS OLIVER POPULAR WITH BOSTON AUDIENCE

At Association Hall last evening, Miss Katharine Oliver entertained a large audience with a dramatic recital of S. R. Crockett's "The Play Actress." The recital was given under the patronage of Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foote, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Dr. and Mrs. William J. Rolfe, and other persons of distinction; and in the audience were many well-known Bostonians. The sympathy of the audience was won early in the evening, and its appreciation of the ability of the young woman was attested by its applause.—Boston Herald.

Seats are on sale for Miss Oliver's last recital Monday evening in the Opera House, Oct. 19th, at Bergstrom Music Co.

PENNY POSTAGE TO ENGLAND NOW

Anglo-American Letters Are At Equal Rates Of Postage

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 29.—On the basis of the number of letters sent from the British isles to the United States last year it is expected that the British exchequer will lose not less than $650,000 yearly through the adoption of the new postage rate of a penny (2 cents) an ounce on first-class matter which will be inaugurated next Thursday (Oct. 1). It is hoped that a part of this great loss will be recouped through an immediate increase of correspondence, but it must be a number of years before it is substantially made up. If, however, the mail traffic between this country and the United States increases in proportion to that between Canada and Great Britain after the extension of the penny postage to Canada in 1898, by 1912 the initial loss referred to will be more than made up and the reduction will have proved profitable.

Planning on Canadian Experience

"We are making plans based on our Canadian experience," said the comptroller of foreign mails at the St. Martin's le Grand postoffice this morning." In 1907 we received from the United States nearly 25,000,000 letters, we sending to the United States about 1,500,000 less. This represented a gain of more than 11 pler cent. above the previous year on the part of the United States and a gain of about 4 per cent. on our part. If such was the case with the old postage rate it ought to be very much greater with the new rate.

"In the case of Canada there was a gain of 80 per cent. during the first four years after the reduction. If we get a gain of 15 per cent. yearly for the coming four years Thursday's important innovation will have proved a wise step on the part of the Government."

Increase Staffs at Postoffices

Increased staffs are being gathered in the postoffices of all the larger cities of the United Kingdom, particularly in those handling heavy mails for the United States. This is the first result of the new move. Penny postage to America is the last of the series of postal reductions beginning in 1899 with the establishment of penny postage to all the British colonies except Australia and New Zealand and afterward including them and also the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony.

RABID ROASTS ARE HANDED THE G.O.P.

Democratic Candidates Pay Respect To Opposition

The Republican party, Republican policy, Republican platform, and Republican candidates came in for a series of scorching roasts at the hands of the Democratic speakers at Punchbowl last night. Every cardinal sin on the calendar was ascribed to the Republican party and even one single redeeming virtue was denied.

Incidentally the Home Rule-Labor party came in for a considerable amount of villification. Achi, the Home Rulers' Mayoralty candidate, in particular was singled out for notice and when the speakers had finished he had hardly a shred of reputation left.

H. T. Moore, candidate for Senator on the Democratic ticket, had a good deal to say about the extravagant fiscal policy of the Republicans. Said he:

Debts for Descendants

"At the rate that the Republicans are paying off the public debt, it will take 274 years to get rid of our liabilities. That means that the debt already contracted will not be settled until our great-grandchildren shall have passed away.

"This wonderful administration that the Republican party talks about is all hot air. You give us a chance and we will show you what has been going on for the last eight years; we will give you some insight into the financial extravagance of the party which has been in power.

"When you borrow money, you must make some provision for paying it back. The Republican party started borrowing eight years ago and really done nothing toward refunding.

"But there is another matter that must be taken into consideration at this election. We must provide a Democratic Legislature for the Democratic Governor that will succeed Governor Frear as soon as Bryan is elected to the Presidency of the United States."

Joseph J. Fern had a multitude of reasons why he should be elected Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu. His remarks were comparatively brief, but they evidently pleased his hearers. Said he:

"I was nominated by acclamation by my party in convention. I am here to advocate the cause of the Democratic party. There are three candidates, representing three separate parties in the field this year. I ask you to consider carefully which of the candidates is the most worthy of your support—which one will give you the best administration.

Charges Abuse

"The other parties have been abusing their opponents and also me personally. It is up to you to go to the ballot box and think twice before you use up your votes."

Fern made a plea for the vote of the poor man, saying that, as he belonged to that class himself, he has also stood by it. He then passed out some complimentary remarks on the personality of F. R. Harvey and told how he (Fern) and Harvey had always worked shoulder to shoulder in conserving the interests of the poor men and protecting them from the grasp of the monopolists.

Dirty Methods Alleged

He charged that representatives of the Republican party have been practicing dirty politics and going about telling Democrats to scratch out names on ballots with a lead pencil, thereby invalidating the entire vote. He then changed his speech to the Portuguese tongue and devoted several minutes to lambasting Achi. His remarks took the fancy of the Portuguese section of the audience, to judge by the howls of laughter that followed each sally, and when he left the platform he was greeted with a round of applause—from the children in the front row.

Edward Ingham had a bunch of roasts ready for the land policy of the Republican party. He played to the gallery and, in the role of the working man's friend, promised that the Democratic party, if placed in power, would see to it that the Portuguese farmers, who work small patches of land on the sides of Punchgowl, would have an opportunity to purchase the ground at a reasonable figure and not be turned out when some capitalist wants it.

Roasts Land Law.

"The Republicans' land law provides that it shall be leased for a period of fifteen years, being placed up at auction in large parcels. What chance will you have against the capitalists?" he asked feelingly.

M. E. Silva made the statement that the Home Rule and Labor party had been placed in the field for the express purpose of splitting the Democratic vote. He warned his hearers against being deceived and urged them to cast their ballots where they would count and not throw them away.

A. V. Peters spoke in both English and Portuguese. He charged the Republican party with being noteworthy chiefly on account of the man broken promises which it has to its credit and urged the voters to give the Democrats a chance to show how things really should be run.

Talk Chinese.

J. C. Anderson urged the reasons why he should be elected Auditor and promised to look after the affairs of the people with great activity if the desired plum should come his way. He spoke in Hawaiian and English, and then repeated his promises in Chinese, though there was not a son of the Orient visible in the audience.

The meeting was largely attended, though the front rows of seats were all occupied by children. The speaking began promptly at 7:30 o'clock and lasted until the audience began to melt away from sheer weariness.

BOTH SIDES MAKE THE SAME CHARGE

Republicans Score Their Rival Candidates At Moiliili

Last night, while the Democrats were standing on the slopes of Punchbowl and hurling invective at the Republicans for alleged trickery in the matter of advising people to vote the Democratic ballot by scratching names of the Democratic candidates, the Republicans, assembled at meeting at Moiliili, were accusing their Democratic brethren of the very same sort of a trick.

The Moiliili district is a sparsely settled one, and the crowd which assembled was not large. At first it seemed rather quiet, but after a while the speakers got it warmed up, especially Harry von Holt, who by one of his characteristic Hawaiian talks soon had all his hearers in the very best of good humor.

John Bull Presides

E. Nauka opened the meeting with a short prayer, whereupon the quintet club struck up a tune. Chairman J. Kealoha, known by his friends as "John Bull," a champion political presiding officer opened the meeting with a few remarks.

John Kamanaolu, the first speaker, addressed the audience in Hawaiian at some length on the usual campaign topics, including a solicitation of votes for the straight ticket.

Jas. Quinn, the Supervisorial candidate, expressed his sorrow that he was not able to speak Hawaiian.

Quinn and Good Roads.

"I am no stranger to you and you are no strangers to me; we have been in this business a long time," he said. "I am asking for your votes, no matter whether you are Republicans, Democrats or Home Rulers. Practically all Supervisors have to do is to look after the expenditure of the county moneys and after the roads. My hobby is roads, good roads. I run around in an auto and want good roads for it, but that means good roads for wagons, horses and pedestrians. I ask your votes, not only for myself but for every candidate on the Republican ticket."

Hughes Kept His Word.

"Two years ago I was before you as a Republican candidate for Representative," said John Hughes, "and asked you for your votes. I am here tonight to ask you to vote for me as a candidate for the Senate. I ask you to vote for me because of the work I did at the last Legislature, because I was true to my pledges and worked for the best interests of the people. I thought the bill for a home for the non-leprous children on Molokai, and it was passed in forty-eight hours. I brought a land bill providing for the turning over of the public lands to the people, which is what the Democrats are now trying to do. I worked for the increase of the pay of the laboring men and for the reduction of taxation where it presses the poor man the most.

John Jumps Watson.

"I ask you seriously, have the Democrats advanced any argument why you should vote for them. I deprecate personalities. I have never before used a name of a rival candidate, but I must say that at the meeting of the Democrats last night one of their candidates for Senator said the Democrats were working for the laboring men and that the Republican party was composed of gamblers and tinhorn sports. I brand them as lies, and I ask you as intelligent men, is it not an insult to try to get your votes by such methods? You ask the Democrats what they have done for you. Their answer is always: "Give us a trial." I have lived here for over twenty years, and my record is open. I say if any man here can lay his finger on me publicly, or privately, I do not want your votes. The Savior said, 'Let those who are without sin cast the first stone.' The Republican party is the only one which is progressive and is worthy of your votes. If you value your regrets, if you want work, peace and plenty, the only way to get it is to vote the Republican ticket. The Republican candidates can tell you: 'Here is the work we have done. Here is the work we are going to do. We do not have to employ personalities.'"

Trickery Charged.

Ahia, a candidate for Supervisor, asked his audience to vote for the straight Republican ticket. He said that the opponents of the party had sent men to the other side of the island, who advised the people there that if they wanted to vote for the Republican candidates they must make a line across their names on the ballot. Such marking would, of course, invalidate a ballot, and to such methods were the other parties resorting.

Democrats Blow Smoke.

"I appear before you for the first time as a candidate for public office," said Norman Watkins, "and I solicit your votes for the Supervisorship, not for political purposes, but as a business man and because I think my experience as such has qualified me to seek your support. Our Democratic opponents last night told you that the Republican party did not keep its pledges. I want to tell you that since these islands became a territory the Republican party has done everything that has been done in the way of public improvements, and the Democrats have been doing nothing but blowing smoke. The Republican party promised you county government and it kept its pledge, and with county government has come to you here good roads and better lighted streets than you ever dreamed of having. When I talk about good roads and well lighted streets, I know what I am talking about, for I have been traveling over these roads on my way to my country place at Niu for three years. The Republican party as a step in advance of County government, promised you city government, and although the Democrats say we do not keep our promises, we gave you city government. With the coming in of city government I want you to feel that the Republican candidates for Supervisors will do as well by you as the last two boards have done, and mark you,

TO OUR FRIENDS:

We regret exceedingly that during the last thirty days we have been obliged to disappoint so many of our customers who wished certain styles in REGALS; and also those intending trying them for the first time, whom we were unable to fit to our satisfaction: and, too, on our part, losing a large amount of business which would have been ours, had we been able to foresee the enormous demand the "REGAL SHOE" has created in this city. Our sales have been so phenomenally large that it would have been impossible for anyone to estimate the demand sufficiently in advance to take care of them. We desire to state, however, that we have been cabling orders weekly to the factory, together with statements concerning the depleted condition of our stock, and that now we have received in the Korea today double the amount of our initial stock. We have assurances from the REGAL FACTORY that in the future everything possible will be done to rush our orders, so that our advantage in pleasing our trade will be equal to that of any of the 487 REGAL STORES at present doing business in the United States and foreign countries. Our present shipment, to the amount of $30,000 in REGAL SHOES alone, we will open within two or three days, and will include all that is new in the creation of fashionable footwear. All the late models, shapes, and leathers now being shown, for Fall selection, in the fashion centers of the East, will be represented here in the famous quarter sizes of the REGAL, and only obtained in these, thus assuring everyone an absolutely perfect fit.

Yours very truly,

BOTH SIDES MAKE THE SAME CHARGE

these were Republican. In closing I will just say that in this country my interests are the same as yours. All I have is in this country. My home is here, my wife is a daughter of this country, my children were born here, and I intend to live and die in this country."

Cohen Meets Attack.

Joe Cohen mounted the stand with the grace born of long experience on the hourly.

"I wish to introduce myself to you as a candidate for the Legislature," he said. "You should select legislators who are best able to make laws for the interest of all of you. Last night a Democratic candidate attacked me here. I don't want to try to get votes in that way, for if I say that one of my opponents is no good, that does not make any better. If you think that I have the ability to represent you I can promise you to do my work there to the best of my ability and for the good of you all. I do not believe anyone should ask for your votes because he is a haole, a Hawaiian or a hapa-haole. In politics you don't ask what a man's religion is. You want to know what his politics are, and that he will do all he can in an honest way to give you a good administration. It is not the color that counts, it is the man. If he is the right kind of a man it does not matter what his color is. In this campaign we are all brothers. In picking out the party for which you will vote, you should pick out that which has the best men in the field. In picking your candidates for the Legislature pick out those who are best able by education—ability and experience to pass laws that you need, which will meet your approbation and do you all good, and not men who will not know what to do. I am not ashamed to compare the list of Republican candidates to the Legislature to those of the other parties. I know that if they are elected they will do their duty. I want you to give me a trial. I will do what is right, and I speak not only for myself but for all the candidates of the Republican party."

Wm. Kane, a Supervisorial candidate, made a brief speech in Hawaiian.

Logan Wants Harmony.

"I am glad to meet the people of this precinct, to which I belonged before the late division," said Dan Logan, "but though the governor has separated us I am still your neighbor. I pass here every day on my way to my daily toil. But though I am not the representative of any little section, it may be of some satisfaction to you that if you have any grievances or suggestions you do not have far to bring them. I am asking for your votes standing on the Republican platform, which promises you an honest, efficient and economical administration of your affairs. Good government is like the beauties of heaven, it is alike to all. The rain falls on the just and the unjust. Thus good government must be, or it is not worthy of the name. I can claim that we have a ticket beyond which the voters need not go to get a fair and representative government. We have at the head of our municipal ticket John C. Lane, one of the best examples of our young, educated Hawaiians. We have four other Hawaiians on the ticket, most of whom have had experience in office. Then we have three haoles, all of us old residents and with permanent homes here, and we are as much citizens of Hawaii as we are of the United States. Our platform commits us to build a city hall, roads, and to expend every dollar of your money honestly and to a good purpose. I also ask you to vote for all the other county officers and give us a Republican Legislature as we will probably need some new legislation to make this city and county what it should be. One of the essentials of good government is harmony. We do not want to see the time of our government councils wasted in such cat and dog scraps as were witnessed the other night and the way to prevent that is to vote the straight Republican ticket.

Among the other speakers were Lane, Wise, Henriques and others.

PRACTICALLY everything in and about the home can be made to look bright and new and clean with the right paint, varnish stain or enamel. The housewife and the householder can do much of this work with very little expense and a great deal of pleasure. There is, however, one important thing to remember: use a finish that is made expressly for the work you want to do. Do not buy a product that is made for a variety of uses or surfaces.

Sherwin-Williams Brighten Up Finishes are made for finishing tables, chairs, walls, floors, pipes, picture frames, shelving and hundreds of other articles and surfaces in and about the house. Each is a specialty—made for a particular purpose. Each contains the essential qualities that insure good results.

All you need to remember is "Brighten Up Finishes." Come in and we will be glad to give you the particular paint or varnish made expressly for the article or surface you wish to finish.

Ask us about Brighten Up Finishes—what they will do and how to use them. Get a Brighten Up booklet.

FLEET CREWS TO RACE ON SUNDAY MORNING

Challenge boat races between cutter crews from the South Dakota, Pennsylvania, and the destroyer flotilla, are on for Sunday morning. It is customary to get up these races for large side bets, made up by pooling on various vessels.

Each vessel of the Navy is provided with a cutter of regulation build and size for the purpose of racing, and these are kept always in apple-pie order, as any opportunity which offers for racing has to be taken up as it comes.

The usual course is out of the channel for a mile and in again to the starting line, which is arbitrarily fixed.

These men-of-war sailors do some stunts in the rowing line which prove a revelation to the oarsmen used to sliding seats and expensive and frail shells. They row a short but strong stroke, which puts them there in time.

Strong Boxing Card

At Independence Hall

Is Offered Today

SCULLY'S SHOW SET FOR 4 P. M.

Jack Scully's big boxing show at Independence Hall will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The change from the evening hour at first mentioned was made at the request of a large number of sailor fans, who would rather see an event of this sort during the daylight hours. Scully has improved even on the very excellent arrangements he had for the last show, and promises a performance which shall be worth the while of any fan.

The card is undeniably strong. Trinkle of the Maryland, lightweight champion of the Fleet, and Fox of the destroyer Perry, champion at his weight of the flotilla, will go 15 rounds. The bout, from all indications, will be about as fast an affair as the fans here have yet looked upon. The men are both of the slashing, Bill Papke order, going it from the first tap of the gong. Fox's ability was proven at the show which was held during the last stay of the Fleet here, and Trinkle's supporters state that he has the better of the two when it comes to class. In that case, he has lots of class, and no mistake. The boys are to box at 132 pounds.

McFadden, Too

Jack McFadden, the champion of Honolulu, is to go on with Waller of the Pennsylvania, the boy who went to a draw with Jack about a month ago. This Waller put up a rattling exhibition then, and can be counted on to make things hum when he gets in the ring with the fast boy of local fame. They are to box 10 rounds at 130 pounds.

McCollough of Fort Shafter, who has earned in the past few months the title of one of the pluckiest and grittiest men who ever had on the gloves in Honolulu, is matched again for six rounds with "Chuck" Conners, the man who made the fur fly when he and the soldier hooked up recently. The men will weigh in at 145 pounds, furnishing the first preliminary of the day.

Ryan To Referee

It's a fine card throughout, of the sort Scully usually puts on. The Independence arena, being practically an open-air stand, is pleasant for a hot afternoon or evening. The large sprinkling of sailor material on the program will probably have a great number of Uncle Sam's salts out to witness the fun, while the local enthusiasts are very much in the habit of turning out to see any show back of which are Scully or Paddy Ryan—and both are in on this one.

Paddy will be the third man in the ring this afternoon. There was never a better referee than Ryan; judicial, cool, and absolutely impartial, and the sort of a man that the public usually makes no delay in tieing to. The feature of good refereeing alone is a large recommendation for the occasion.

GagnonBoxesWeberTo Replace Young Nelson

Joe Gagnon of the destroyer Stewart will take the place of Young Nelson in the preliminary tomorrow evening for the Orpheum glove show. He will go on with Weber, since Nelson's broken nose, received at the hands of one Joe Leahy, prevents him from taking any part in the show.

This is the last day of work for the men who are to furnish the big fun tomorrow evening. The breaking of Nelson's nose in a merely friendly sparring bout with thickly padded gloves has caused some comment among the fans. Does it mean that Leahy has a horrible smash in his two hands, or does it mean that the glove caught Nelson wrong once? That question may have light thrown on it when Reilly and Leahy hook up tomorrow.

The fans have seen enough of these two men to form some comparison now. Both men are very expert boxers—just as expert as the best in any division of the game. Both are as cool as a small iceberg when facing an opponent. Their tactics are remarkably similar. They both use a left jab, which they follow in so rapidly that they can land three or four times on a less wary and quick opponent before he can move at all. Both are quick as cats, but there comes a difference. Whether right or wrong, there seems to be an impression among some of the fan colony that Reilly is a shade the quicker of the two. Others deny it stoutly. Leahy is fond of in-fighting at times, while Reilly, clever as he is at any range, hasn't been seen much at this sort of work here. Reilly's footwork is probably a wee bit to the good, while it seems that Leahy has somewhat, though not indisputably, the better of the question of punch. He stopped Fox so quickly the other day in sparring that it called down the intense admiration of those who stuck around and saw him work.

The men are wonderfully evenly matched, from all indications, and this is borne out by the fact that these two have boxed two draws already. It is claimed that Reilly has improved wonderfully since he came here. Has he? Tomorrow evening will tell. Whatever is so, it is certain that he is a great little fellow, who has another great little man to tackle in Leahy.
