TROUBLE COMING OVER LANDS

CHANGES IN THE TERRITORIAL DEPARTMENTS

OBJECTIONS TO RESIDENCE CLAUSES IN THE LAND LAW

INDICATIONS OF MUCH TROUBLE IN FUTURE FOR THE LAND DEPARTMENT—MANY APPLICANTS DON'T INTEND TO LIVE ON LAND THEY SEEK—HONOLULANS WANT TO GET COUNTRY HOMES.

"We want land that we don't have to live on," is the cry of callers at the land office, to an extent that indicates a lot of trouble with land settlers in the future. The proportion of applicants for land who do not expect to live on the land they are applying for is very large. The letter recently received from Hawaii, in which an applicant declares that the residence conditions are a hardship, and evinces the opinion that the land office can strike them out, represents the views of many applicants, who fail to realize that Congress has fixed, beyond any local power of changing, the cast-iron residence conditions under which alone can public lands be taken up. Many of the applications received seem to be from citizens who do not appreciate the strictness of the residence conditions. As to most of these applications, the law provides not only for ten years' residence on the lands before title can be secured, but it goes further, and prevents sale or lease of the lands even after the title is acquired at the end of the ten years, except with the consent of the governor and land commissioner. For Oahu lands many applicants are being disappointed in seeking beach lots and other desirable plots, in the hope of maintaining a Honolulu residence while they acquire title to the outside property. There are scores of citizens who would like to acquire nice homes on the other side of the island, on desirable government land, with a view to making them Saturday-to-Monday homes. But there is "nothing doing" under the terms of the land act. Those who apply are told that they will have to make their real homes on the land they ask for. All of these difficulties with applicants indicate a vast amount of trouble and litigation in future, after the settlers take the land. Innumerable proceedings in ejectment are predicted, on account of violations of the conditions of acquiring title, and the Land Department of the government is going to have more pilikia than all the other departments put together.

Joseph G. Liddy Kills A Sailor In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, August 24.—Joseph G. Liddy, engineer and operator of the police launch Patrol, former agent of the Sailors' Union in Honolulu and representative of the local Sailors' Union in the Labor Council, shot and instantly killed Charles Winters, a sailor, at the headquarters of that union, 445

East street, at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The shooting was the result of the efforts of a number of sailors in the hall to jest with Liddy about his powers of arrest as a policeman. There had been no personal quarrel of a serious nature between the two men.

Liddy is 48 years of age and single. He roomed at the Denver House, 223 Third street, Winters was 30 years of age and single. When in San Francisco he made his headquarters at the Sailors Union Hall.

Liddy appeared there yesterday morning considerably under the influence of liquor and quarrelsome. In the office he was made the butt of a considerable amount of good-natured "joshing."

Tiring of fooling with Liddy, several of the men who had been talking with the engineer went into the main hall at the union headquarters. Liddy followed them and their badinage was resumed. Liddy showed his police badge and announced that he was able to arrest them all.

"You couldn't arrest any one," one of the sailors shouted at him.

Refused to Fight.

Winters was standing near Liddy and made another remark about Liddy's power to make an arrest, accompanying the remark with an epithet. He smiled when he used the name, but Liddy evidently didn't see the smile, and took the remark in earnest. He

COMBINE THE LAND AND IMMIGRATION

REORGANIZATION OF GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS PLANNED TO AID IN THE HOMESTEADING WORK—DR. VICTOR CLARK RETURNS TO TAKE UP A NEW LINE OF WORK IN CONNECTION WITH IMMIGRATION AFFAIRS.

Dr. Victor Clark, who returned this morning on the Lurline, to become executive officer of the board of immigration will probably soon be the head of a general land, immigration and agricultural bureau under government auspices, which is to be practically a government promotion committee for giving assistance to homeseekers. The plans involve the establishment of a bureau which will be able to aid applicants in picking out lands suitable for them, and advising them as to crops, etc. Complaints have been made by American applicants for chances to take advantage of openings of public lands here, that there is no way for them to get reliable advice as to where to go or what crops to raise. The land office is prepared to show what lands are available, but claims no expert knowledge as to crops, locations, etc. Dr. Clark's appointment, it is said, involves in the near future a reorganization of the public works, land and agricultural departments. The public works department it is expected, will be completely divorced from the land department. A bureau or department will be created which will deal generally with matters of land, immigration and agricultural promotion work. The plan, which will probably be submitted by Governor Freat to the legislature, involves a combination of the work of the land, immigration and agricultural departments. Instead of the public works and land departments being together, the departments of immigration, land and agriculture will probably be combined.

RIPLEY EXPECTS HARD TIMES

CHICAGO, August 31.—Testifying in rate cases before the Interstate Commerce Commission here yesterday Edward P. Ripley, president of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, declared that he believed the business outlook in the United States for next year is not good.

Ripley stated to the commission, that higher rates on the railroads were just at the present time because wages have increased and that the operation expenses are much greater. He said the burden of expense on the big railroad lines had been increased by the rise in wages.

He was a witness before the commission in a case which involved an increase in rates on the Santa Fe.

SAN FRANCISCO TO HAVE FIRST NO-DECISION FIGHT
SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—Owen Moran and Frankie Burns today will fight ten rounds, and it will be the first no-decision contest ever held in this city. The reason for the arrangement is that since Governor Gillett's action in forcing Jeffries and Johnson to leave the state to fight, the police authorities have forbidden ring contests whenever a decision is to be made.

PROHIBITIONISTS IN LEAD IN SOUTH CAROLINA PRIMARY

COLUMBUS, South Carolina, August 31.—An exciting campaign in this state ended with a Democratic primary election yesterday, and according to returns received thus far Blease, a prohibitionist leads in the race for the gubernatorial nomination.

This State had the dispensary law for several years, which afforded state regulation of the sale of liquor and forbade treating in the dispensaries. That law was championed by Senator Tillman.

KOREAN PLAN TO RESIST JAPAN

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—Delegates to the number of eighty, representing the Korean National Association and claiming to speak for the ten thousand Korean patriots on the American mainland, Hawaii, Mexico, China and Russia, many of whom claim to be political exiles, met in conference here yesterday and announced their intention of never submitting to the yoke of Japan upon their country. They repudiated the action of their Emperor in entering into the treaty of annexation with Japan and announced in stirring language that they would never agree to the cessation of sovereignty.

"The tyrannical compulsion in the methods employed by the Japanese in acquiring the Kingdom of Korea," ran one of the resolutions, which concluded with a pledge on the part of the ten thousand they represented never to give up the fight for complete liberty for Korea and for the independence of their nation.

The Korea patriots call upon the people and the government of the United States to assist them in their fight for liberty.

SAME YOUNG MAN.
Yes, I have a new summer boarder this season, answered the Long Island farmer, and the same young man is one of them.

"Who do you mean by that?" was asked.
"Oh, he's a clerk in a music store. He comes out for the romance of it. He has the soul of an artist, you see. He raves about sunrises, sunsets, the clouds and so on. After supper, when I go out to milk, he plays dairy maid. Wants to show off before the girls. Talks about the beauties of pastoral life, and he wants to milk and brag of it."

"And he milks a cow, does he?"
"He has pail and stool, and he sits down to milk. I have saved that cow on purpose for him. I don't say anything about his being on the wrong side. The girls gather 'round. The young man begins to hum about a life on the meadows green, and starts in. Then something happens."

"The cow kicks, eh?"
"Lifts a foot and sets it agin him, and away he rolls. Sometimes goes 10 feet—sometimes 20. I find him beside the fence. I straighten him out until he comes to. He is off for home next morning, but another one like him takes his place. I have about six during the season, and make from three days to a week's extra board on each one."

"But I should think some of them could succeed in milking that cow."
"Yes, you naively would, but lemme tell you she's been dry for the last three years, and there ain't any milk to get."

PACIFIC COAST WELL DEFENDED

NEW YORK, August 18.—Brigadier-General Arthur Murray of the Coast Artillery is in New York preparing for an extended trip of coast defense inspection, which will extend from Portland Me., to the most southerly point of the Gulf of Mexico.

The main purpose of the trip is to determine just what is necessary in the way of additional coast fortifications to place the Nation in such a position that it may feel safe from successful attack by an enemy. With this data collected, he will go before the various committees in Congress and ask for the needed funds.

"We are in splendid shape on the Pacific Coast and in the islands," says General Murray in a statement regarding his plans. "It is true that we have not a line of continuous fortifications the entire length of the Pacific Coast, which many people erroneously believe to be essential, but we are in splendid shape to resist attack at those points where an enemy would be likely to seek landing."

"In fact I may say that no enemy could assault us at any of these vital points. All of the towns and cities along the Pacific are protected splendidly, so strongly that it would be folly for any one to attempt a landing. Of course there are places where ships of war could land men, but these places are such that it would be an easy matter for our land forces to check an invasion quickly. It would not take long to make an intruder captive."

NO REGULATION TO KEEP WINE FROM WAR SHIP.

WASHINGTON, August 18.—Gifts of wine to war ships of the American Navy are not to be tabooed, despite the protests of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which recently protested to the Navy against the presentation of 100 cases of California wine to the cruiser California by an association of wine men. Acting Secretary Vinthrop today sent a telegram to the San Francisco branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union stating that he had been unable to find a regulation referred to by it as having been issued by former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long for bidding the use of wine on war ships.

DOVER CASTLE HAS AN INTERESTING HISTORY.

Dover Castle, where new military barracks are to be erected at a cost of $16,000, has been endowed with some famous founders by historians, for King Arthur and Julius Caesar have been variously claimed as its originator, says the London Chronicle.

At any rate it seems almost certain that a British stronghold stood on the site long before the arrival of Caesar, and by the time of the Conquest the castle was of such importance that William hurried there immediately after the battle of Hastings.

Perhaps the most interesting fact in the castle's history is that, despite its great strength, it was taken in 1642 by a force of only a dozen men, who contrived to attack from the cliff on the sea side, which had always been deemed inaccessible.

WAIALUA TO TAKE MEASURE OF LAIE

A big game of baseball is planned for Labor Day, next Monday, at Laie, this island, between the champion Waialua team and a picked team from Kahuku and Laie.

Last Sunday afternoon the Laie team went over to Waialua and received a sound thrashing for their daring. What will happen when the Laies get the Waialua on their own ground is hard to say.

"FRAUDS UPON THE PUBLIC"

is what some physicians have called patent medicines, and it is undeniably true that some are frauds and some are even worse, because they are injurious. On the other hand, there are many patent medicines such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and others, which are of real worth, and are recommended by physicians.

Have It Done THE Regal Way

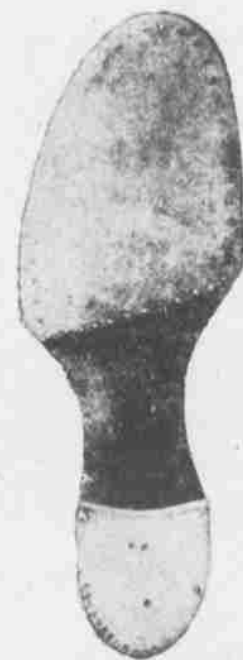

Of course you have your shoes repaired—you know you usually can get a good deal of additional service from them after the first sole is worn out, tho.

But how do you have it done? By the ordinary cobbler's method? If you do, your experience has undoubtedly shown you how unsatisfactory this method is. You most likely get inferior materials and clumsy workmanship. Besides this, the usual method of "tapping"—that is, piecing the sole midway in the shank—gives the shoe a decidedly unsightly look.

Then, again, the nails sometimes used by the cobbler cause no little discomfort to the foot. They are driven clear through to the inside of the shoe, and are clinched on the inner sole.

So, when the cobbler hands you your shoes, they look like the photo below, don't they?

THE ORDINARY WAY OF HALFSOLE REPAIRING.
THE "REGAL WAY" OF REPAIRING SHOES.

Now, take the "Regal Way": First, the work is done by expert shoemakers, using just the same methods by which the first soles were attached at the Regal factories. The old, worn-out sole and heel are removed. A new sole of genuine OAK BARK TANNED leather is sewed on. Bear in mind that this sole is complete—it extends from toe to heel, and it is SEWED on, not nailed. A new heel, built of whole lifts of this same unequaled stock, is attached. All edges are carefully beveled and finished, just as they are in the Regal factories.

When you get your shoes back they are just as comfortable and practically as stylish and serviceable as when you first bought them. And it does not cost a lot, either—no more than any first class Cobbler would charge.

The next time you want your shoes repaired bring them to this store. Tell our salesman you want them repaired the "Regal Way." Then you'll get a job that looks just like the photograph at the top of this page.

Chalmers

MOTOR CARS

A Triumph Of Initiative Rather Than Imitation

In length of wheel base, type of motor, spring comfort and price, the CHALMERS 1911 remains the same. In point of refinement, finish and luxury it is much advanced—thus giving more than ever before, for the same price. Proved by every test, practical and theoretical, the CHALMERS Car today remains the WORTHIEST car built in America, for a moderate price.

In the manufacture of automobiles, BRAIN POWER counts for more than HORSE POWER. Designed by one of the greatest of automobile engineers, the 1911 CHALMERS, detail for detail, is the result of far-sighted initiative, and executive ability to the extent that the CHALMERS HAS NEVER COPIED COMPETITORS, while THEY HAVE ALL COPIED THE CHALMERS.

As a marked tribute to foresight in construction, the CHALMERS will not be "radically changed" or "practically a new car" for 1911, as so many of its competitors are. To be sure there will be changes, but these are simply along advanced lines of refinement, efficiency and luxury.

Many of the principles initiated by CHALMERS' BRAINS two and three years ago are being adopted by competitors for the FIRST TIME in 1911, but here again the CHALMERS leads because in the CHALMERS these principles are proved. Because of these things, and besides these things, the 1911 CHALMERS will give added grace of line, beauty of finish and luxury in equipment at the same price.

1911 Chalmers "30"

POWER.
More power is delivered to the rear wheels than any other car of its size—proved by winding the Glidden tour and many races with strictly stock cars.

CYLINDERS.
The En Bloc mode of cylinder casting adapted by the Chalmers with gasoline manifold integral—remains the same—with envied success.

NOISELESS.
The motor principle unchanged but the valve springs are now encased and noiseless. All the motor manufactured, not assembled, in Chalmers factory.

LUXURY.
Chalmers comfort has always been known—luxury is all that could be added. All tops are specially made and fitted in the Chalmers factory. The upholstery and trimmings are of the finest. All door handles, locks, etc. are massive and beautiful. All models are given the same number of coats of fine paint and varnish as the five and six thousand dollar cars.

DOUBLE IGNITION.
The same high-priced, high-grade double ignition system with Bosch magneto and Helix coil always on the Chalmers, but more protected and simplified. Notice how others are following our example of two years ago.

LUBRICATION.
Chalmers constant level splash system—designed in

Chalmers factory but copied by others—shown on the dash by the Bull's Eye Sight Gauge.

FRAME COPIED.
The famous Chalmers by adding 2 1/2 inches drop frame is simply improved while others are adopting it for the first time.

BRAKES.
The brakes—always good—are improved.

STANDARD TRANSMISSION.
Three speeds forward and one reverse—selective type, sliding gear. New style foot accelerator pedal.

DRIVE.
Direct shaft, with two universal joints running in oil.

CLUTCH.
Bronze and steel multiple disc.

WHEELS.
Thirty-four by four inches.

FINISH.
New straight line body—deeper seats, finer finish—wood trimmings of black walnut—all handied, mouldings, etc. shapely and massive. Richelieu Blue—gray gear and wheels, or cream gear and wheels.

Solid—clear running boards with concealed supports, larger doors.
Battery boxes taken from running boards and placed beneath tonneau floor, away from tampering and injury.

Large size pump and tool box, easily accessible.

FOREST FIRE PROTECTION.

Along with the news about the terrible forest fires comes a bulletin from the Department of Agriculture, entitled, "Protection of Forests from Fire." Its opening paragraph is axiomatic, showing that the first law of forestry is to protect forests from burning. This is what it says: "The first measure necessary for the successful practice of forestry is protection from forest fires. As long as there is any considerable risk from fire, forest owners have little incentive to make provision for natural reproduction, to plant trees, to make improvement cuttings, or to do other work looking to continued forest production." The bulletin tells of great progress lately made in many localities in forest protection organized fire protection having been established in the national forests and in most of the state forest reservations. A good deal has been effected also, through the employment of state fire wardens and the action of lumber companies, to develop fire protection on private lands. Yet the bulletin says: "In spite of all that has been done, however, the fact remains that most of the forests of the country, particularly those privately owned, are inadequately protected from fire. It is probable that in fully 75 per cent of the private forests there is no attempt whatever at systematic protection."

Most gruesome proof of the inadequacy of protection has been given within the past few weeks in the fearful devastation of forests, destruction of towns and loss of life in the northwestern and Pacific coast states, from forest fires. In view of such terrible examples, and in memory of the destructive forest and bush fires in Hawaii some years ago, there should be earnest co-operation of private forest owners with the government in these islands in systematic measures for preventing forest fires. Great progress has been made here in forestry within the past two or three decades. Besides the government work in planting trees and creating forest reserves, which has been particularly extensive within the past few years, several leading sugar planters have been cultivating forests for a long time on lands controlled by them. It would be a calamity if fire should attack any of our public or private forests and wipe out a large amount of the wealth, created or conserved, which we have just begun to recognize as a great asset of these islands.

It is said to have cost Mr. Sibley of Pennsylvania $32,500 to secure the nomination for Congress in his district. He is not in the running now for all this spending, but awaiting trial under an indictment for conspiracy to debauch the voters. The insurgency that is most needed in the nation today is a general uprising of the people against corruption, fraud and trickery of politicians for the embezzlement of power. This latter crime is cropping out right in Hawaii now, and there will be an opportunity to check it at the Republican primary election on Saturday next.

In opening the homestead lands the authorities should insist first, last and all the time that none but bona fide settlers will obtain titles. The amendments to the land sections of the Organic Act made by Congress were never intended to provide country residences, or landed estate, for town folk either rich or poor.

It should be durable pavement for Fort street or nothing. If such paving cannot be done immediately, it is better to wait a while until funds are available. This should not be longer than the beginning of next year. To lay ordinary macadam on the most traveled thoroughfare of the city now would be a waste of money.

Until now the question has been how to shoot hostile airships. Their mode of offense which has been exclusively discussed is the dropping of explosives upon armies, fleets, forts and camps. The latest idea in warfare from the air is to man airships with sharpshooters to pick off enemies upon the ground. Experiments with a view to establishing the practicability of establishing a corps of riflemen on wings are about to be conducted at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., by Lieut. Joseph H. Fitchel in airships directed by Glenn H. Curtiss, a famous airman. By keeping at it on land and sea and in the air the inventors will one day make war quite dangerous.

Fifty-two railroad lines—or one for every week in the year—have pledged their support to San Francisco in its fight for the Panama Canal Exposition. Citizens have put up $6,300,000 and will make it $7,500,000, and the city and state will add as much more to the fund. There may be other celebrations of the canal opening, but there is little doubt that San Francisco will have the supreme exposition.

WIDTH OF ROADS.

Governor Carroll of Iowa believes that the roads are wasteful of land. He proposes to cut down the width of roads in that state from sixty feet to forty feet, calculating that the land thus saved would produce eight and a half million bushels of corn in a year. Commenting on the Iowa governor's proposition, an exchange says there can be no question that sixty-foot roads in some rural districts are what their projectors boasted was a generous scale, on the principle that:

"Highways anywhere, for that matter, should be made to conform in width to the probable demand upon them, and not laid out on any arbitrary scale. A city may need streets a hundred or a hundred and twenty-five feet wide in some sections, while forty feet would be completely ample in others. Some western towns have been laid out on what their projectors boasted was a generous scale, on the principle that land was limitless, and that it could be used without stint in making wide streets. Any traveler across the continent, who uses his eyes and his mind with his eyes, can see plenty of them, with thoroughfares which are wide indeed, but in which their very wideness only serves to emphasize their foolishness. For all practical purposes a narrow street would serve quite as well, or even better, while beauty would be in no way sacrificed. Beauty on an extra wide street is expensive, as asphalt pavement is expensive.

"Of course, no street should be so narrow as to be cramped; but, on the other hand, no street should be so wide as to be unwieldy. After the reasonable limit is reached, every additional foot of width imposes physical and financial burdens which should be avoided. It is evident that the problem of good roads is going to be an expensive one to solve. Nothing that is satisfactory can be any possibility be cheap. Where the use in travel does not make the width imperative, a town had much better establish good highways forty feet wide, than poor ones of sixty."

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

The woes of this life are as many as sands by the wet, wailing sea; no mortal there lives without any; none lives in perpetual glee. We rise from our beds in the dawning from dreaming of gold by the tub, and go to our uncles, a-pawing our watches, to buy us some grub. We blow in for potion and philtre, the coin that we earned by hard knocks, to fix up our works, out of kilter, and sleep, at the end, in a box. The plans that we make are all batty, our schemes are all bughouse and punk; along comes some meddling some Matti and knocks the whole works into junk. Man works like a steer in the furrow, he toils till the heart in him busts; and all of the plunks in his burrow are gathered at last by the trusts. And I might go on till you're weary, explaining how futile is life, how dismal, dodgasted and dreary, how chuck full of sorrow and strife. But life without grief would be futile, and silly and sordid and tame; the world must be ugly and brutal, or there'd be no snap to the game. If trouble should nevermore wound us, we'd shrink to the stature of gnats; no giants would stampead around us, and kick the old world in the slats.

RUSSIA TO ANNEX MANCHURIA AS PART OF BARGAIN BY WHICH JAPAN TOOK KOREA

SAN FRANCISCO, August 24.—The Chronicle says:

The annexation of Korea was probably a part of the agreement between Japan and Russia which Prince Ito went to Harbin to work out with the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs at the time he was assassinated, and which was taken up later by another Japanese negotiator.

The world will now watch to see what Russia may be permitted to annex as her share.

The only territory she can get belongs to China, and that the partition of at least the Manchurian part of the Chinese empire will be brought about soon is the anticipation of all diplomats.

Practically Manchuria has ceased, with the resignation of the Chinese Governor-General or Viceroy, to be Chinese soil. Her cities and railways are held by Russian and Japanese troops, and as soon as the customs are taken over, what of Chinese authority will be left?

After that formal annexation will be the easiest thing in the world.

One may be sure that Mr. Knox will not write any violent notes on the subject, his attempt along another line having been one of the main factors in bringing Japan and Russia together.

As for Korea, while her population contains about 250,000 young men of more or less modern views, who are ardent patriots, the masses are not at all inclined to die for their country and may be easily controlled by Japanese gendarmes.

There will probably be some rioting and a vast amount of intrigue after annexation, but the little brown men will govern the land wisely and so enhance its prosperity as to make friends and conciliate foes.

That is what they did on the Liaotung peninsula when they first occupied it, in 1894-95. They did so well by the inhabitants that, when the time came for them to evacuate the larger part of the region, all the well-to-do Chinese families memorialized the throne of Japan for permission to remove to the latter country and bring up their children under so enlightened a government.

Doubtless similar results will be sought in Korea, where there has never been much native prosperity, but where Japanese enterprise, especially in silk culture, should bring a great deal.

The idea will be to create peace through contentment, as Japan has also done in Formosa, and to this task Japan will apply itself with much sagacity.

CALIFORNIA WILL SEND BACK RUSSIANS WHO ARE INDIGENT

SAN FRANCISCO, August 24.—The Examiner says:

Sixty-five Russian immigrants, seeking work in California, arrived in the steerage of the steamer Wilhelmina from Honolulu yesterday, and presented a new problem for the immigration officials at this port.

The Russians are part of a large number that recently arrived at Honolulu from Siberia, under arrangements with a representative of the plantation owners to work in the sugar fields.

Many of the immigrants rebelled, however, after reaching Honolulu, claiming that the wages offered were not as much as those promised before they left Siberia, and for weeks serious trouble was brewing between the Russians and the police authorities of the island city.

Now the Russians are said to be headed for this city and hundreds of them may, it is said, be expected to arrive here within the next few weeks. Most of them are unable to speak English. The immigration officials expect to have an interesting time examining the Russians. Those who appear to be indigent will be sent back whence they came.

A MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

The body of Mrs. Maria Vierra Bronco, wife of a Portuguese laborer on the Hanamau Plantation, was discovered by a Japanese workman Saturday afternoon, lying in a water ditch containing about four feet of water. The find was immediately reported to friends and relatives of the dead woman, who at once notified the coroner with a view of ascertaining the manner in which she had met her death. There seems no grounds for a suicide theory as she was known generally as the possessor of a cheerful disposition.

As there was no indication of foul play, it is generally presumed that she had gone to the ditch (which supplies the family with water) for a bucket of water, and in stooping, lost her balance and fell in such a manner as to prevent any outcry. Coroner Wm. Ellis, on arriving, empaneled a coroner's jury of the following members, whose verdict was, "Death by accidental drowning," Herman Walters, Geo. Richard, Manuel Castina, Joe Babosa,

Jr., Manuel Amerino and Jacinto Carrero. Mrs. Bronco was 45 years of age and leaves a husband and five children.—Garden Island.

FLAXOAP

FLAXOAP is an absolutely pure Linseed Oil Soap. The United States Pharmacopoeia directs soft soap to be made from cold pressed linseed oil and potash. It is well known that a soap prepared in this way is the best soft soap that it is possible to make. Flaxoap contains no animal fat whatever and no free caustic alkali, consequently it can be used on the finest fabrics without fear of injury. Flaxoap lathers freely in hot or cold, hard or soft water. It is especially adapted to cleaning floors, woodwork and furniture. Owing to the fact that Pure Linseed Oil is the life of all Paints and Varnishes, it is the best cleaner for all painted and varnished surfaces. It will be found most excellent for cleaning automobiles, carriages, windows, mirrors, and cut glass. The housewife will find it particularly valuable in the cleaning of carpets and rugs. Mechanics use it for removing dirt or grease from their hands and clothing.

Pioneer And Olaa Both Higher And Strong

Oahu stock made a further advance in the period since yesterday's session and is now safely over the $32 point. Yesterday the market was $32, although there was a sale of 5 shares at $32.125. Later 10 shares sold at $32.125, after which a big block of 100 shares found a buyer at $32.25. At the close this morning $32.25 was bid for the stock in any quantities, but holders were demanding $32.75. It is a notable fact that some of the men mentioned as bearing the stock a few weeks ago are now referred to as among the buyers. It is passing strange how quickly changes of front are sometimes made.

The other big feature of the morning was the strength of Pioneer although this was not at all unexpected. Sales of 5 and 5 shares were made at $225, after which $233.50 was bid for large blocks and $235 asked. Pioneer is so very high that blocks of any size are untidy, and the small blocks are the more generally sought. In fact Pioneer is just now experiencing a very good argument in favor of cutting the par of shares from $100 to $20. Such a step would, of course, result in far more speculation, but the market value of the stock would be correspondingly increased.

Wailua has been just a trifle erratic since yesterday, although inquiries for it are numerous. Between boards 25 shares sold at $129.50 followed by 20 shares at the same and 10 at $129.25. At the close the latter figure was bid and $129.50 asked for the stock, indicating very slight weakness.

A sale of 10 shares Hawaiian Sugar was made at $42.50, which was probably about the market. The last previous quotation had been $41.85 and $43 asked. At the close this morning $42 was asked for the stock and $43 bid.

A sale of 50 McBryde was made at $5.875, and the stock seems to be remarkably weak. There is no cause for this lack of activity save that attention seems to be centered on other stock at present. For McBryde $5.75 was bid and $5.875 asked.

In interesting quotations without sales were: Ewa, $33.50 bid and $33.625 asked; Hawaiian Commercial, $40.75 bid and $41.125 asked; Honokaa $18.375 bid and $18.625 asked; Olaa, $6 bid and $6.125 asked.

In figuring upon the above quotations it must be remembered that in the case of Ewa the dividend, paid this morning, is off. This dividend amounts to 20 cents a share. Olaa has not yet finished up the crop of this year, and it will probably be two weeks before final returns on the output will be received here. There is, however, no reason to suppose that the original estimates will be very far wrong.

The applications for land, leased by the plantations, for homestead purposes again loomed up as a menace in certain quarters. However, the alarm has not yet had the effect of depreciating the values of or quotations on stocks.

LEAVES IT TO THE GOVERNORS

The annual meeting and dinner of the Commercial club was held last night and was much enjoyed by a number of members and guests. In the absence of the president and vice president E. A. Berndt acted as toastmaster, calling upon Marston Campbell to preside as chairman of the business meeting which immediately followed the dinner.

In accordance with requests made at former meetings, the board of governors presented some changes in the by-laws. One important change which had been asked for was voted down, on objections by J. A. McCandless. It was a provision for election of president of the club by the whole membership, instead of by the board of governors. McCandless thought the board would be likely to make better selections and a majority of those present agreed with him, on a rising vote, the amendment being defeated. An amendment was passed providing for special memberships for commissioned officers of the army and navy, marine corps and revenue service.

John Drew, Ed. Towse, A. Gignoux, Fred Bush and P. M. Church were elected to the board of governors and the meeting also confirmed the appointments of Marston Campbell, J. F. Lansing and James E. Jaeger to the board of governors to fill vacancies caused by death and removal during the year.

GREAT INCREASE IN CONSUMPTION OF SUGAR

While the doctors are disputing about the efficacy of the use of sugar upon the human system without any prospect of arriving at an agreement, the economists are entirely of one on the proposition that its increased consumption is one of the most trustworthy indications that could be had of industrial growth and the improvement of the standard of living.

In 1898 the consumption per capita of sugar in this country was only 39.46 pounds. During the fiscal year just closed it reached eighty-two pounds, the quantity of all kinds, imported and domestic aggregating the enormous total of 7,500,000,000 pounds.

Although the beet-sugar plants and the continental and island sugar fields of the United States are increasing their output year by year, we are still compelled to import nearly one-half of the total quantity of the sugar consumed by our rapidly growing population.

The beet-sugar fields of the mainland produced about one-seventh the total quantity consumed last year, and the cane-sugar product as about one-tenth. The remainder of the American production of 4,100,000,000 pounds came from Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines.

In 1900 the proportion of foreign sugar consumed in this country was 75 per cent; in the fiscal year 1910 it was only 51 per cent. The increase in per capita consumption since 1900, when it was only 35.08 pounds, suggests that the enormous domestic contributions to the available supply played their part in making sugar cheaper and more accessible to the masses.

In using the term "cheap" in this connection we have in mind something else than nominal price. A glance at the tables of consumption prices of sugar in New York will show that Americans have steadily enlarged their consuming capacity year after year and that a rising market was powerless to arrest the increasing use of the commodity.

The tremendous expansion of the industries in which sugar is largely employed, the extension of transportation facilities that enable the product to reach sections in which it was an unattainable luxury, and the almost continuous prosperity of the country have all performed their part in increasing the use of sugar in the United States; but the greatest factor is undoubtedly the domestic contribution to the supply. That, more than anything else has made Americans the greatest sugar-consuming people in the world.

FORMOSAN SUGAR TO BE INCREASED

Willis & Gray's sugar letter says: Referring to the report published by us on June 2d, we give below further particulars regarding the production of sugar in Formosa, as received from friends in Japan.

Season.—From November of the previous year to June of this year. For instance, Season 1910 means from November, 1909, to May, 1910.

Tons.—One ton is equal to 2,240 pounds, or 1,650 Japanese kins, but for convenience sake we made it 1,600 Japanese kins in that statistical table.

Harvesting and Grinding.—The harvesting of the cane in Formosa commences in December and ends in May of the following year. The number of days of actual grinding is about 120 days on an average in one season.

Amount of reduction.—As shown by the table furnished by us, there are eight factories that have been producing sugar in 1910. In 1911 four or five more factories are expected to begin work, and in 1912 another three or four factories will be established. Judging from the capacities of these sugar producing companies, we can easily estimate that the sugar production in 1911 will amount to three million bales, each bale containing 150 Japanese kins, and in 1912 about 4,500,000 bales.

Area.—The area of the field now used for sugar plantation is only 1-5 of the whole field in the island of Formosa available for the cultivation of the cane. Under these circumstances we can conclude that the sugar production in Formosa will continue increasing every year, but the production of the same in the island is greatly influenced by the policy of the Formosan Government, and consequently it is the most difficult to judge to what extent the production will increase. Perhaps the Government will prevent any extraordinary increase in the production, yet it is considered to be probable that the present amount will increase up to six times as much.

MORE CAPITAL FOR KONA TOBACCO CO.

This is the last day for holders of stock in the Kona Tobacco Company to avail themselves of the privilege of acquiring any of the stock in the new, additional issue. To explain, the directorate decided last month to increase the capital stock from $60,000 to $100,000, the stockholders of record at that time being given the preference in taking up the stock. It was required, however, that they take the stock prior to September 1 or their preferred rights would be forfeited and the stock would go to other applicants, if any there be.

The increase in capital was made necessary by the enormous crop increases made by the company this year and planned for next year. There were 25,000 pounds of tobacco on hand at the end of last year, but this is a mere handful compared to the future output expected by the company.

The new money will be used entirely for the development of the plantation and the increase of output. The tobacco now being grown is of very fine quality, commanding exceptionally high prices, and very great success of the plantation is assured.

BOILERS FOR ROCK CRUSHER ARRIVE

Two big boilers, having a total horse power of 300, arrived in the Nevada for the Honolulu Construction & Draying Company, and will be established at the new rock crushing plant in Kaimoili. All of the oil and water equipment also arrived. With the machinery is a special water boiler cleaner which will enable the use of ground water in the boilers. This will not only save the company the expense of taking city water but will put some of the polluted water of Mollili to good uses.

The plans for the main plant arrived in the Korea and the balance of the detailed plans are believed to be in the mail of the Lurline which arrived this morning.

This new rock crushing plant will be the greatest institution of its kind ever introduced here. Rock of any size can be turned out in such quantities that all requirements of the Territory, the city government, private parties and even of the Federal government can be met promptly. It is anticipated, also, that the cost of crushed rock will in future be very materially decreased.

EVERYBODY GETS SOME CASH TODAY

Lots of money came out in the shape of dividends this morning, the purse strings of a number of corporations being loosened and the gold allowed to escape. The following were the principal payments by companies whose stock is listed on the stock exchange:

C. Brewer & Company, $1 a share, or $14,000; Ewa 20 cents a share, or $50,000; Waimanalo, $2.50 a share, or $6,250; Hawaiian Electric, 50 cents a share, or $5,000; I. I. S. N. Company, 50 cents a share, or $14,675; Kahuku, 10 cents a share, or $500; Hawaiian Pineapple, 20 cents a share, or $5,000. The grand total paid was $132,375. Other dividends are to follow on

MAUI EXCURSION IS NOW THE TALK

Encouraged by the success of the excursion of the steamer Mauna Kea around the island of Kauai last Sunday, some enthusiasts on the subject of such outings are working upon a plan for a similar excursion to the island of Maui, to take place about the first week in September.

The idea as it has thus far shaped itself is to leave Honolulu on a Saturday night, and land at Kahului early Sunday morning. From there half of the party would be taken to Waikuku and up Iao Valley, the remainder of the excursionists visiting the various points and hills on the line of the Kahului railroad and taking in the sights in and around Kahului and Waikuku.

Upon the return of the first half of the party from Iao Valley the second half would be taken up, leaving the first half to see Waikuku and Kahului, etc. in the afternoon. Both morning and afternoon there would be baseball games between teams taken from here and Maui teams. Music outfits would be taken from here to enliven the excursion at appropriate points.

Departing again from Kahului in the evening, the excursionists would land in Honolulu on Monday morning in time for work.

The project is still young, but from the way it is working out may result in signal success and a jolly, good time for many people.

LAST RINK RACE OF JOE FORREST

Joe Forrest, the holder of all records for roller skating in Hawaii, will give one grand exhibition of his staying qualities at the Princess rink next Sunday evening, skating a three-mile race with three men, they coming on the track in relays of one mile each.

In other words, Forrest will run all around the first man for one mile, will pick up the second man on the fly and race him to the last leg when he will take on number 3 for the finish.

This is a new stunt, and a good one. It will bring out all the speed there is in the challenger, and keep him humping from start to finish; and if the others make the speed—never mind the wind—they will give Forrest the slide of his life.

Forrest will be expected to race the three men in the following order: First mile, Freitas; second mile, Martin; third mile, Alfred Naphtala.

After that the champion will race one mile again any man who may wish to challenge.

This is positively the last appearance of Joe Forrest on a skating rink in Honolulu. He has booked for the Lurline and will return in that boat to the Coast.

OAHU BASEBALL LEAGUE MEETING

At the meeting of Oahu Baseball League held last evening the adoption of the schedule for the second series was deferred to the meeting to be held on September 5.

A. Q. Marcellino presided at the meeting and the corresponding secretary took the minutes.

M. Paresa and S. K. Moriyama were appointed a committee to engage Chillingworth to umpire the second series of the League's games, and to recommend such assistant umpire or umpires as might be satisfactory to Mr. Chillingworth.

The Yen and J. R. Davis were appointed a committee to confer with the park officials and to have the grounds leveled and a shower put in prior to the beginning of the second series.

The report of the manager showed that something over $7,000 has been taken in during the Waseda baseball team series, out of which routine expenses of something like $440 had been deducted. Some money is still out, and some bills are probably still out.

While nothing was decided the second series will probably begin on Sunday September 11.

MAKING PROGRAM FOR REGATTA DAY

The Regatta Committee and the captains of the two boat clubs have worked down to hard work on the program for Regatta Day, which falls this year on September 17. The oarsmen in the respective crews have been in training for some time and are already in fairly good shape for the contests on the big day that is coming.

As on previous Regatta Days the events will all take place in or from Honolulu harbor. The program of the Regatta Committee will include canoe races, diving contests, swimming races and numerous other sporting stunts of an aquatic nature.

The captains of the boat clubs have arranged the following events, to take place under the joint rules Senior six-oar barge and freshmen six-oar barge; senior pair oar and junior pair oar.

The Regatta Committee in general charge of the day's program consists of T. V. King, Bert Heilborn and Irwin Spalding. They will make all arrangements and see about getting the wherewithal for the prizes.

A new departure this time will be in regard to the receptions to be held at the boat houses. Hitherto the boat houses have been thrown open to the public. This arrangement, while beautifully democratic and all that, has proved objectionable in several ways, so much so that this Regatta Day admission to the boat houses will be by card.

The full program and list of prizes will probably be ready for publication during next week.

HUNTERS READY FOR OPEN SEASON

The members of the Hawaiian Gun Club have ceased all work at the Kaaka traps and taken to the fields in the more interesting pursuit of doves, the open season for which has been on since July 1.

The open season for pheasants, ducks and plover will start September 15, or two weeks hence. Quite a goodly number of plover have already been seen and a few ducks have been reported.

The open season for doves will end February 1, and for plover February 28. The season for plover and migratory birds will continue until April 30.

A strenuous effort will be put forward this season to prevent the ruthless slaughter of game birds. From the very outset the rule requiring that any marksman shall not kill more than fifty birds a day will be strictly enforced, and any member of the Hawaiian Gun Club found violating this rule will be dealt with severely.

Last year the rule was violated in several notable instances; but this year it will be different if the officers of the club have anything to do with the matter.

MANY SPORTING EVENTS COMING

BUSIEST SEASON IN HISTORY OF Y. M. C. A. SCHEDULED FOR THIS AUTUMN.

C. B. Ripley, architect of the new Y. M. C. A. building and designer of the big gymnasium to go in that institution, will return to Honolulu by the Wilhelmina next Tuesday and it is hoped that soon thereafter work on the building may be commenced.

With Mr. Ripley will come Dr. E. B. Hand, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., who has spent a vacation of several months in the east.

The return of Dr. Hand will be the signal for the beginning of all sorts of athletic events in Y. M. C. A. circles. The first thing to be taken up is indoor baseball, practice having already begun and the games being scheduled to begin in two weeks.

In the second or third weeks of September the swimming meet will be pulled off. This will be pulled off in the harbor and will take up a large part of a day. The program will include swimming contests of various lengths, diving, competitions and other aquatic feats.

The soccer football season is scheduled to begin early in October and the teams are already being shaped up for the games.

At Rochester Dr. Hand attended the Playground Conference and there gathered many new and valuable ideas in the work of training younger boys in gymnasium athletics. These ideas will be applied more especially to the boys in the Grammar School Athletic League.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium is in better shape for athletic work than ever before in its history. Early last spring Dr. Hand organized a gymnasium Leaders' Corps, and the members of this body or class have met every Monday evening since that time, studying the interesting art of instructing in athletics and gymnasium work. The result is that upon his return Dr. Hand, in place of having all pupils as before, will have a half dozen well-trained and competent helpers in his field of action.

STEWART WOULD BRING FIGHTERS

Leslie Stewart, formerly of the McRae Company of actors, who has lately taken an interest in sports of various kinds, is discussing with his friends a proposition of bringing five or six pugilists up here from Australia for a series of ring contests to extend over a period of several months. Stewart if from New Zealand, and is personally acquainted with all the principal fighters in the Antipodes.

"My idea," explained Mr. Stewart last night, "is to bring over from Australia about six men—heavy, middle, light and perhaps feather weights—and put on about two programs of sparring exhibitions a month. No present-day champions would be included in the bunch, of course; but there would be good men who have failed by small margins of holding championship honors. At the same time they would outclass anything here."

"I happen to know that they would be glad to come up here for the trip and the experience doing their work on a percentage layout. It seems to me that Honolulu could not ask more than that, and should stand ready and willing to support first-class exhibitions such as would be put on."

PATON AND CORNYN LEAVE FOR COAST

Pat Cornyn and Mike Paton were fellow passengers in the Sierra this morning for the Coast, the former to follow his profession in the prize ring and the latter for a visit to his old home in the east. Paton will be gone about three months.

Cordell and Cornyn will again arrive on the Coast together and it is not improbable that they may mix it some over there.

The departure of this last pair of ring artists leaves Honolulu rather bare of full-grown pugilistic timber. There are some spring chickens around town that can go some, but they have not the following yet awhile to draw a crowd.

AUSTIN WHITE'S BRILLIANT GOLF IN CALIFORNIA

Austin White, the 17-year old son of Major E. O. White of this city, came out second best in his golf match with Campbell Drummond Whyte, Pacific Coast amateur champion and then some, at Del Monte, Cal., on August 23. The Honolulu boy played himself up to the top and then gave the veteran of many links the race of his life for the championship. The S. F. Chronicle of August 24 publishes the following account of the game:

DEL MONTE August 23.—To Campbell Whyte, as he sipped the cup that cheers and manches his toast this morning, the all-important affair of the day was for him to beat Austin H. White from the Oahu Golf Club, Honolulu, at thirty-six holes match play in the final for the Del Monte championship.

This he did, winning by three up and two to play. It was a well-deserved victory and almost to the last stroke the issue hung in the balance because of the plucky game played by the good-looking young giant from Honolulu and the occasional brilliance of the strikes.

During the eighteen holes played in the morning Austin White had made an unusually clever put, holing out with a cut that curved his ball in a big arc round a stymie. Also his all-round play had been so good that he was only two down at lunch time.

Of the first six holes in the afternoon two were halved and each took two up, having retained the lead he took in the forenoon. In fine style he got out of difficulties going to the sixth, which Austin White should have taken but the latter's approach was poor, so it was halved. Campbell Whyte took the seventh in four after his rival had fozzled an eight foot put.

This made Whyte three up in twenty-five holes.

Getting out of a bunker and onto the eighth green, Campbell Whyte managed to lay a stymie for his rival, who pulled off the prettiest jump shot imaginable and won the hole, leaving him only two down again. The ninth was halved in three. Then Austin thrilled the gallery by taking in three strokes the only long hole of the course, the tenth, for which bogey is six.

Again he was only one down, and the gallery was keyed up with enthusiasm. But in the next breath he sliced his drive badly and would probably never have found his ball except for outsiders joining in the search. Campbell Whyte was on the green in two, easily took the hole, and was two up again.

He made it three up at the twelfth, because of Austin White missing a long shot after a poor approach.

A battery of app'ause greeted Austin White when he ran down a grand fifty-foot put and took the thirteenth. But his top drive bunkered him and Campbell was down in three and won the fourteenth. Three up again and only four to go.

Once again fate gave the younger man a fighting chance for a few moments and the situation grew intense. Campbell Whyte sliced his drive and Austin White's second laid him within putting distance. The former's approach was much too strong and it looked like Austin White's hole for sure. But Campbell's grand put rimmed the cup and stymied him and, amid breathless silence, the hole finally was halved in four. Three up and only three to go.

Austin White made a plucky bid for the next hole but he only succeeded in halving it, and promptly congratulated the new champion, who wore his honors with becoming modesty.

Half an hour before this match ended the gallery was joined by William H. Crocker, who had just finished beating R. G. Banford for the third light prize. He was greeted with a rousing chorus of "Did you win?"

"Cinque haut et trois a fuer," replied, grinning amiably.

"What?" exclaimed Mrs. Crocker. "That's my own translation of 'five up and three to play,'" he exclaimed, laughing.

"You silly thing," his dark eyed and handsome wife replied, but she pressed his right arm fondly and smiled so proudly that he declared it better to be a champion among dubs than a dub among champions.

Heart and Home Talks by Barbara Boyd

THE CHANGING NOTIONS OF WOMANLINESS A woman whose husband died quite suddenly, when confronted with re-suiting business matters, did not know how to make out a check.

Yet it is quite within the memory of man, and of some women, when to know nothing of business matters was to be considered essentially feminine. It hasn't been so long since a wall went up that woman would lose all her womanliness by going into business, or by knowing anything whatever about business.

How opinions change? One might bring forward the objection that this executor is a crusty old fellow, suspiciously near to being a woman-hater. But he isn't. He is the father of a family, a great admirer of women, and professionally an opponent of women's work outside of the home.

But when actually confronted with the old-time woman who knows nothing about business, he fears his hair, mutters imprecations and wishes women had some brains.

The wall that woman will lose her womanliness by doing this, that, or the other, is by no means new. It has been raised every time she has taken a step forward. But she has kept on marching, and she is quite as womanly today as she was 100 years ago.

AT THE THEATERS

Exceptionally good audiences favored the various theaters last evening, even though it was a midweek occasion. At all of them there were exceptionally good vaudeville features, so that the programs were rather above the average.

AT THE EMPIRE. Miss Maud Rockwell made an immense hit at the Empire last evening, and will be the leader in the program tonight. She has a most excellent voice and knows how to use it.

NOVELTY TONIGHT. Wise, Milton and Tiedtke will be the star features again at the Novelty tonight. The management of the Novelty has secured the services of a Hawaiian orchestra which is just now rendering very fine music.

A TIME SAVER. Keep Chamberlain's Pain Balm on hand. It is an antiseptic liniment and causes wounds to heal in less time than by any other treatment.

JOSEPH G LIDDY KILLS A SAILOR

 raised his hand as if to strike Winters, but the sailor backed away.
 "You can't pick a fight with me, Liddy," said Winters, laughing as he made the remark.
 Liddy put his right hand in his hip pocket, but of the twenty or more seamen in the room, none believed that he was reaching for a revolver.
 When the weapon appeared in the hand of the intoxicated man no one was close enough to disarm him before he fired. He aimed the weapon at Winters' head and pulled the trigger. The bullet struck the sailor in the right temple and plowed its way through the brain, lodging just under the scalp on the left side of his head. He sank to the floor with a low moan.
 One shot was fired only. Liddy replaced the weapon in his pocket and started out of the hall. A sailor grabbed him and took the revolver from him while another ran out for a policeman.
 Taken Into Custody.
 Patrolman E. M. Owens responded and shackled the belligerent engineer. An ambulance was summoned and Winters was removed to the Harbor Emergency Hospital, but was dead before he reached there.
 Liddy was taken to the City Prison. "He called me a hard name and I shot him," said the staggering prisoner at the prison. He repeated the statement many times, but did not appear to realize what he had done. Further than that he offered no explanation for his act.
 Liddy made himself prominent in Honolulu by his exertions in behalf of Wynne, the slayer of McKinnon on board the oil steamer Rosecrans lying at a wharf, who is now under death sentence but who was lately relieved from execution for ninety days. The Sailors' Union agent wrote passionately to the papers in extenuation of Wynne's act, besides invoking the aid of the San Francisco union for the defense of the accused man in the courts.

AUTO WILL NOT CARRY TRIXIE

When Trixie and her tiny little brother arrived on the Makua some ten days ago, Trixie's manager, after a long search through the local auto livery stables, located and engaged the largest automobile in Honolulu to convey these two heavyweights up to the hotel. When the driver—who by the way is by no means a lightweight—saw the gigantic consignment of fat, done up in two parcels, he refused to carry them both at one time, but consented to conveying them up town singly, either one of them being equal to a full load. However Trixie coyly squeezed through the door, and when half way through she stuck.
 "Try sideways," cried the impatient driver. "I ain't got no sideways," replied Trixie in disgust. The vehicle swayed and creaked, as Trixie lounged against its massive doors, which were swung wide open. Here she encountered difficulties, the door was either too small or Trixie was too large—she tried to enter from all points of the compass, but to no avail.
 No derrick being handy, they could not put the girl through the "roof. Cutting a hole in the bottom, and letting her climb up through it, was entirely out of the question. But her manager being used to such difficulties finally pried her in, and when with difficulty

GOOD COUNTERFEITS NOT LEE YOUNG'S

Lee Young, the Maui Chinese charged with counterfeiting, was brought here on the Claudine this morning. The ten dollar piece he was arrested for passing; also arrived. It proved to be a very bad counterfeit, not at all like the recent counterfeit ten dollar pieces found in Honolulu. Lee is an aid of fender having served a term before. His arrest does not appear to throw any light on the origin of the very dangerous ten dollar counterfeits recently secured here.
 The vehicle moved, it quaked and groaned beneath its heavy load.
 And now the owner of the auto livery from whence this large sized machine came, refuses to haul this exceptional load any more, stating that the springs of the machine are ruined, and that it would take several days to replace them.
 Miss Trixie's manager when seen this morning was very busy in search of a vehicle large enough to carry Miss Trixie and her baby brother to Aloha Park in time for this afternoon's show, and stated that they would be there on time, even if he had to hire a freight truck. These wonderful people remain here on exhibition until Saturday night, when they will leave for foreign parts, continuing their trip around the world.

TOUGH GANGS MAKING BAND CONCERTS UNSAFE

The police raid last night on a large gang of toughs in Thomas square is the beginning of a campaign against various "gangs" of youths and men who have been making it unsafe for respectable people to be abroad in the vicinity of the public parks of Honolulu at night. The fight resulting from the raid was a very lively one. There are many bruised and lacerated heads and faces today as a result,—but none of the injured want to make a complaint. Prosecution will quickly follow any identifications.
 Of late the government band concerts have been the resort of "gangs" of toughs, ranging in age from mere youngsters to men almost of middle age, who insult women and make the parks impossible as places of resort for respectable people. There is talk of a "Kalihi gang," a "Aona gang" and other little gangs, who go together.

MARINES GET SEVERE SENTENCE

One of the four marines accused of assaulting two little girls on Punchbowl was given a sentence of six months—the legal limit for the offense charged—by District Magistrate Andrade this morning. Another was given thirty days while the other two were found not guilty. George Ferreira, the Portuguese youth involved in the affair, was given six months.
 In passing sentence Judge Andrade said he regretted, as to A. Docker, the marine who was given six months, that he could not under the law give a longer sentence. The testimony convinced the judge that Docker had committed a disgraceful assault. He told the marines that the uniforms they wore should be a guarantee that they would not commit such offenses and said that the law was too mild to meet the case of Docker.
 The further testimony produced this morning when Ferreira, who could not be found yesterday, was brought to court, showed, in the opinion of the judge, that Ferreira had deliberately assaulted one of the two little Hawaiian girls. It was Ferreira who, as the soldiers testified, began the assault. O. P. Pohison is the marine who was given thirty days. J. L. Smith and M. B. Mitchell were found not guilty.
