A DECISIVE NAVAL BATTLE IN PROGRESS

HEAVY FIRING AT SEA HEARD. HOSPITAL SHIP BRINGS WOUNDED

Hongkong, China, April 17.—Firing is reported to have been heard on April 12th one hundred and fifty miles north of Natuna Islands.

St. Petersburg, Russia, April 17.—News from Rojstvensky is expected tomorrow. It is believed that the fight will occur at the Pescadores, west of Formosa.

Singapore, Straits Settlement, April 17.—Eighteen Russian ships were sighted at Taamrah Bay.

Manila, P. I., April 14.—Admiral Train has been advised from Saigon, Cochinchina, of the arrival there of the Russian hospital ship Orel, with many wounded.

Tokio, Japan, April 13.—No news of any battle. Togo has divided his fleet into three squadrons, flying, main and reserve.

London, April 11.—China has refused to permit Russia to use a port as a basis of operations for her navy.

Lebanon, Ind., April 17.—Judge Neal, author of the Fourteenth Amendment, is dead.

Latest Sugar Quotations.

San Francisco, Cal., April 17.—56° Test Centrifugals, 4.95; per ton, $99.00. 88 analysis beets, 145; per ton, $99.80.

Kinau Passengers.

Honolulu, April 17.—The following passengers were booked for the Kinau up to 2:40 p. m. today. John G. Wooley and wife, A. H. Jackson and wife, A. G. Curtis, J. S. McCandless, J. J. Sullivan, J. W. Mason, J. T. Lewis, and Miss M. Lishman.

Field Preparations Continue.

Tokio, Japan, April 11.—It is estimated that Japan's field force next autumn will exceed one million men.

Tokio, Japan, April 12.—The Russians continue to concentrate troops in Manchuria.

Paris, France, April 13.—The Russian army has been reinforced and is ready to renew the battle.

Democratic Form of Government.

St. Petersburg, Russia, April 11.—A congress of lawyers has adopted a resolution calling for a removal of the autocratic regime and the framing of a democratic constitution.

The Sultan Defies France.

Tangiers, Morocco, April 14.—The Sultan of Morocco has rejected all the French reforms.

Paris, France, April 13.—Germany's efforts to get an international conference to fix the status of Morocco is not supported by the powers.

Trials of Mitchell and Burton.

Portland, Oregon, April 11.—Senator Mitchell has pleaded not guilty to the indictment in the land fraud cases.

St. Louis, Mo., April 13.—Senator J. R. Burton has been indicted again by the Grand Jury for illegally accepting fees.

Venezuelan Troubles Critical.

Caracas, Venezuela, April 11.—President Castro has refused to recede from his position regarding the asphalt and Orinoco steamship cases. It is stated he will not submit the matter to arbitration and would hold his ground even if the North American army came.

Willemstad, Venezuela, April 12.—President Castro has reduced the interest on the Venezuelan debt held by French citizens, thus aggravating the present strained relations with France.

Rainbow Falls Park.

Superintendent of Public Works Holloway sent a wireless message to the Board of Trade asking what is the lowest price the leasehold interest of the 3.7 acres of land surrounding Rainbow Falls, which was desired for a park, could be obtained for. He stated that if the price were reasonable he would ask the Legislature for an appropriation for its purchase and secure a title to the tract. In the opinion of Superintendent Holloway this is more advisable than granting a government lease of the land to the Park Board. For this reason he did not sign the lease of the land, which had been prepared by the Board of Trade and forwarded to him. The leasehold for sixteen years is held by John T. Baker and sublet by him to the Hawaii Mill Co. Mr. Baker has been prevailed upon to accept $200 for the surrender of the tract and the Hawaii Mill Co. have agreed to release the land gratis for park purposes. Superintendent Holloway has been advised to this effect.

Oloha Fiber Samples.

The Board of Trade is having prepared samples of Oloha fiber for the purpose of submitting the same to experts and manufacturers, with a view of finding a market for the product, which is growing wild on the mountain slopes of Hawaii. It is stated that the tensile strength of oloha is equal to the best Manila hemp, and its durability is unexcelled by any other known rope fiber. Specimens of oloha fishline used years ago by native fishermen attest to its durability and strong qualities.

"Civic Development."

A special program has been arranged by the literary committee of the Board of Trade for their regular monthly meeting on Friday, April 28th, at Firemen's Hall. Chas. M. LeBlond has agreed to deliver an address on "Civic Development," which subject will afterwards be opened to general discussion, Rev. C. E. Shields and others promising to speak on the subject. J. W. Mason and H. E. Kelsey will also make fifteen minute talks on the banana industry and the remedy for its development.

HOUSE PASSES COUNTY BILL. SENATE ALSO TAKES ACTION

Honolulu, April 13.—Governor Carter today vetoed the County Bill because of the absence of the taxation feature from the law and other imperfections. The House, by a vote of 27 to 3, promptly passed the measure over the Governor's head.

Honolulu, April 14.—The Senate today overrode the Governor's veto of County Bill by a vote of 11 to 3.

[The following is the substance of the Governor's message vetoing the County Act:

"Herewith I return House Bill No. 1, entitled 'An Act Creating Counties Within the Territory of Hawaii, and Providing for the Government Thereof,' which I am unable to approve.

"The plan of county government presented is simple, and has many excellent features. It is, however, incomplete in that it contains no provision for the revenues of the counties. It is unfortunate that the taxation measure, which this bill shows to be contemplated, is not yet submitted.

"The approval of this bill, while not making it absolutely certain, yet would obligate the Administration to accept a financial plan under which its revenues would be beyond the control of its officials, its credit seriously affected, and its finances involved to such an extent that the harm could never be repaired.

"The plan of allowing each County Tax Assessor to assess property in any manner he might see fit has been tried by many communities, found impracticable, and has resulted in the adoption of State or Territorial Boards of Equalization, with centralized power and authority, under which alone uniform assessments have been brought about.

"I recognize the wide demand for a more representative form of government. I believe that to develop our people, responsibility must be placed upon them. Experience cannot be passed from one community to another any more readily than it can be passed from one individual to another. It must be developed. I can, however, see no reason why our Territorial finances should be involved in the experiences our people are anxious to go through in the development of the county system."

"The Governor made a few minor objections, some of which were that no limitation was placed on the Supervisors regarding the amount of salaries to be paid; a laxity regarding the qualifying of surety companies on officers' bonds; the power of Supervisors to impeach themselves and other county officials; ambiguity regarding payment of election expenses; no alternative on failure of a Supervisor to qualify; the Board of Supervisors also have power to pass laws contrary to Territorial laws.

"The great difficulty," says the Governor, "is that the Territory will be hampered, in that the collection of its whole revenue will be placed in the hands of county officials, the surety on whose bonds may be worthless, and who are beyond the control of the Territory. Our finances endangered, our good faith and credit are injured. To defer to the wishes of the people and accept responsibility for such a measure would be clearly against the plain duty I owe this Territory."

Company Resents Accusation.

The Board of Trade has been advised that the California Fruit Canners' Association, who were considering the erection of a pineapple cannery at Hilo, refuse to entertain the proposition, on account of the growers' dilatoriness and a recent published statement in the Hawaii Herald that the company was an octopus.

Tennis Tournament Begins.

The Hilo Tennis Club are holding a tournament this week and the games are proving interesting to quite a number of people. On Saturday and Sunday the clubs were patronized by a crowd of onlookers. The following games have been played, with results as stated below:

George Hapai won from W. T. Balding in singles.
C. Castendyk won from D. E. Metzger in singles.
E. C. Mellor won from H. Vicars in singles.
J. E. Metcalfe won from H. B. Elliot in singles.
F. Thrum won from James Sisson in singles.

Mrs. Castendyk and J. E. Metcalfe won from Mrs. Baldwin and E. C. Mellor in mixed doubles.
Mrs. Elliot and George Hapai won from Mr. and Mrs. H. Vicars in mixed doubles.

Games will be played every afternoon between 3:30 and 6 o'clock until the finals are played. Visitors are cordially invited to witness the games.

Daughters of Fame.

The ladies of the First Foreign Church have under preparation what promises to be one of the most unique and picturesque entertainments ever witnessed in Hilo. The committees and those taking part in the various scenes and tableaux have been untiring in their efforts to make the affair a success, and neither time nor expense have been spared to make the entertainment thoroughly artistic. The idea of presenting the "Daughters of Fame" to a Hilo audience originated with Mrs. Levi C. Lyman, who on a former occasion on Maui successfully promoted a similar entertainment. But the present production will be more elaborate and contain features not contemplated in Mrs. Lyman's first intention, for which she is indebted to other members of the committees.

Mrs. A. G. Curtis, as the "Goddess," will make a grand entrance, followed by her page, Alice Mumby, and five singing girls, Mrs. Louise Hapai, and Misses Hapai, Ewaliko, Williams and Vannatta. Subsequently and in order will be introduced "Queen Victoria," impersonated by Mrs. G. H. Gere; "Martha Washington," Mrs. L. Severance; "Cleopatra," Mrs. M. Rice, accompanied by her Maids of Honor in the persons of Misses Edna Curtis, Catherine Westervelt, Margaret Scott and Dorothy Stewart, and Boatman, Jeremiah Malua; "Caroline Henschel," Mrs. J. C. Moline; "St. Cecilia," Mrs. J. T. Lewis; "Jenny Lind," Mrs. Chas. Siemsen; "Hypatia," Mrs. C. Castendyk, Mrs. Rorer, Miss Josephine Deyo; "Joan of Arc," Miss Genevieve Venable; "Tabitha Primrose," Mrs. H. B. Elliot; "Queen Louise of Prussia," Mrs. Jas. Sisson; "A Daughter of Hawaii nei," Mrs. Ewaliko; "Mary, Queen of Scots," Mrs. D. W. Marsh; "Mother Goose," Miss Florence Scott; "Harriet Newell," Mrs. W. S. McLean; "Nell Gwynn," Mrs. Henry Hayes; "Pocohontas," Miss Harriet Hapai; "Elizabeth Barrett Browning," Miss Amy Hill; "Carrie Nation," Miss Potter; "Miriam, the Sister of Moses," Miss Lillioe Hapai; "Mrs. Partington," Mrs. E. N. Holmes, accompanied by "Isaac Partington," who will be represented by Max Tracy. At the close of the performance the "Goddess" will bestow a crown upon the lady most deserving to have her name inscribed upon the roll of fame.

The performance will take place at Spreckels' Hall, Tuesday night, April 25th. Reserved seats, $1.00; general admission, 75 cents.

THE SIDEWALKS LAWS.

Representative Harris has introduced in the House a bill amending Section 733 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, as follows:

"Section 733. After the establishment of grades of streets in Honolulu and Hilo, as by law prescribed, the said Superintendent may require the owners of the land adjoining any street, the grade of which has been established, to construct sidewalks and curbing in accordance with the grade of the street and to comply with the regulations regarding the material and construction of such sidewalks and curbing."

The streets of a town, good or bad, give visitors a lasting impression of the place, and no better criterion of the character of its citizens is necessary than the condition of a city's streets. Civic pride should prompt every owner of a city lot or town property to keep the highway and sidewalk in front of his home in presentable condition.

SPENDING AT HOME.

Keep as much of your earnings in circulation at home as you can and do not send your dollars away from where they will never return. Dollars circulated in a community shed their influence in one way or another upon every citizen and taxpayer.

WHAT THE LAW MEANS.

"THE COUNTY government bill which has finally passed both branches of legislature," says the Star, "seems almost certain to become a law, whatever action the governor takes with regard to it."

The company as originally organized was capitalized at $1,000, divided into shares of $10 each. Now that the financing of the enterprise has been accomplished, the company has had a meeting and increased its capital stock to $500,000 divided into shares of $10 each, and has authorized an issue of $500,000 in bonds.

"In view of the imminence of the great change in our form of government, it is time to begin preparations. The act provides that it shall go into effect at once and bring about the formal transfer of many government functions to county officials by July 1.

public duties which are now in the hands of Territorial officials. Friends and enemies of county government must realize alike that it is in all probability to be in effect very soon. Of course the new law may be unconstitutional, but it is reasonable to expect that with the experience of the last law to aid them and with months of study and discussion, a commission of able lawyers and business men has drafted a law that is at least operative as a whole, even though some sections may fail in the courts.

THE sugar parity table appearing in this issue will prove an invaluable aid to sugar men and others.

A JAPANESE LOVE SONG.

A Sweet Bit of Verse From a Japanese Poet's Pen.

HILO, April 13, 1905. EDITOR HILO TRIBUNE, SIR:—I have a great taste for reading the English poetical and literary works, written by Japanese. We often see many English poems in Japanese newspapers and magazines, but I suppose almost all the readers of your paper have not read the Japanese verses.

Queen of love, my beloved! Where in all your isles are you? Sailing on the bluest sea, Nearing Southern stars now, My love and beloved, where are you? Smiling toward Fujiyama, Mirroring on the calmest sea, What have you in your hair? Is it a sweet marriage vow, My love and beloved, where are you?

THE KOHALA DITCH.

The Construction in the Irrigation Canal to Begin. Reports come from Honolulu, that the financing of the Kohala Ditch project has finally been satisfactorily arranged and the work on the project will begin at once.

The company as originally organized was capitalized at $1,000, divided into shares of $10 each. Now that the financing of the enterprise has been accomplished, the company has had a meeting and increased its capital stock to $500,000 divided into shares of $10 each, and has authorized an issue of $500,000 in bonds.

Of the issue of half a million of bonds, Samuel Parker takes $50,000, John Hind $100,000, Mrs. Parker $50,000. The remaining $300,000 has been taken by a San Francisco syndicate headed by the Anglo-California Bank.

LEGISLATURE DOINGS.

Matters of Local Interest Passed Upon. SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5.

The Senate spent much of the day in the debate over House Bill 65, providing for equity of redemption on mortgaged property. Action on bill was deferred until Saturday.

Achi introduced a resolution making inquiry whether the Standard Oil Company was complying with Section 2625 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, requiring foreign corporations to pay a license fee of $150 a year.

The Osteopathy bill permitting the practice in Hawaii, passed third reading by a vote of 13 to 2, Brown and Kalama voting no.

The wide tire bill, House Bill 113, passed by a vote of 14 to 1, the latter was cast by McCandless.

The House by letter announced it did not occur in the Senate amendments to the County Bill, giving the names of a conference committee of seven.

Dickey moved that a corresponding committee of the Senate be appointed, which having carried, the President named Dowsett, McCandless, Woods, Paris, Gandall, Dickey and Hayselden as the Senate conference committee.

The various amendments to the Tax Bill as made by the Senate and House were referred to a special committee with authority, if they found it necessary, to draw up a substitute measure covering the entire subject.

THURSDAY, APRIL 6.

The joint conference committee on the County Bill reported the bill to the Senate with various changes with reference to salaries of county officers, and making Hawaii one county, having seven supervisors. Achi argued that the conference committee had exceeded their powers in introducing new matter into the bill, in which objection both Paris and McCandless joined. A motion to refer the bill back to the committee was lost, and on motion of Dowsett the report was adopted by a vote of 8 to 7. The vote on Dowsett's motion stood: Ayes—Bishop, Brown, Dowsett, Hayselden, Hewitt, Lane, Wilcox, Woods—8.

Noes—Achi, Dickey, Gandall, Isenberg, Kalama, McCandless, Paris—7.

Dickey had voted with the majority, but changed his vote before the result was announced, probably with a view to reconsideration.

The Senate concurred in the joint resolution changing the name of the capitol building to "Iolani Hale."

Senate Bill 104, the livery man's bill passed third reading without dissent.

Senate Bill 107, repealing certain sections of the Revised Laws, passed third reading.

Senate Bill 108, also amendatory of the Revised Laws, passed third reading.

Senate Bill 109, amendatory of the Revised Laws, passed third reading.

Senate Bill 77, making licenses payable on July 1, passed third reading. The Senate agreeing to the House amendments.

Senate Resolution No. 40, calling for information relative to the claims of British subjects against the Republic of Hawaii, was passed.

FRIDAY, APRIL 7.

The order of the day was the third reading of the Senate Bill 113, regulating the drawing of juries, and on motion the bill went to the Revision Committee for correction.

Senate Bill 101, for perpetuating testimony and keeping witnesses out of jail, passed third reading without dissent.

Most of the day was spent in discussing the tax bill 102. Senator Dowsett introduced a resolution having in view the expediting the work of the session (failed). Bishop's resolution to adjourn to a specified time at each session passed.

SATURDAY, APRIL 8.

The Special Committee on House Bill 68, and Senate Bill 176, reported on the two measures. These are the bills for the examination of leper suspects and the committee reported that as the measures were to the same purpose and as the House Bill had already passed third reading, it was recommended that the Senate bill be table. Dickey did not concur in the report.

On the third reading of Senate Bill 56, the act relating to the appointment of district magistrates, the bill passed.

Senate Bill 111, the act to provide a boarding school for girls in Kona, on third reading, was indefinitely postponed.

Senate Bill 116, to maintain boundary marks, on third reading, passed, no vote being cast against it.

Senate Bill 120, an act making appropriations for the Department of Justice, passed without dissent. This is the bill that covers the expenses of the Jones murder trial, among other things, and carries total appropriations amounting to $11,500.

House Bill 156, providing for the extension of terms of the Circuit Courts, on third reading, passed without dissent.

MONDAY, APRIL 10.

At the opening of the morning session a petition was read from thirty-four voters of Hilo asking the leper suspect law be repealed. It was referred to the Health Committee.

The order of the day was House Bill 65, the equity of redemption bill, on second reading. Somewhat unexpectedly, the bill caused considerable debate. Paris and Bishop opposed it. And then the bill failed to pass 7 to 5 on second reading.

Senate Bill 47, the bicycle tax bill, came up on third reading. It passed, Achi and McCandless voting against it.

Senate Bill, 102, the personal property tax bill, providing for exemption and rate to be charged delinquents, was taken up on third reading. The tax on automobiles was raised to $20 and the motion to tax ox-carts $5 carried.

The rice tax was reached, and decision was against levying a tax on the growing crop. The bill passed third reading, unanimously.

Senate Bill 110, amending the jury law, passed third reading without dissent.

On the motion of Bishop, the Senate proceeded with the consideration of Senate Bill 48, the license bill, and the report of the committee introducing a new bill was adopted. Later the Senate sent the report back to the committee.

House Bill 103, providing for raising the pay of jurors to $2.50 per day, was read for the third time, and carried, 11 to 4. Bishop, McCandless, Dowsett and Isenberg voting against it.

Senate Bill 115, the Insurance tax bill, on third reading, was amended. The law, as drawn, makes exemption if the losses amount to more than the income from policies. As it stands now all insurance companies must pay 2 per cent on their gross receipts from all business written. The bill then passed, Achi, Dowsett, Isenberg and Woods voting against it.

And then the order came on the second reading of Senate Bill 48, which is the license bill. An effort was made to put this through in a lump, but it failed, and the bill was taken up and considered section by section.

HOUSE.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5.

At the earnest request of a special committee of the Daughters of Hawaii, Speaker Knudson introduced a joint resolution making the official designation of the Capitol building "Iolani Hale." The resolution passed by a unanimous vote.

The Police Committee, to whom was referred the "spit" bill, reported adversely, recommending the indefinite postponement of the measure, which was adopted.

The same committee also favorably reported on the following matters:

For a mounted patrol and patrol wagon for Hilo, $2,500 (Smith).
For construction of sidewalk curb-

ings at expense of property owners (Harris.)

For equipment of a fire company in Lahaina, $3,000 (Pali).

For the appointment and duties of prison inspectors (Hayseiden).

For payment of Dr. Schwalle of Naalehu for autopsy services, $20 (Holstein).

Smith's bill relating to negotiable instruments, passed third reading without opposition.

The House refused to concur in the Senate amendments to the County Bill, and the Speaker appointed the following conference committee: Fernandez, Holstein, Haia, Harris, Waterhouse, Rice and Aylet. Waterhouse was later excused at his own request, and Kaleiopi appointed.

Rice's bill to amend the Revised Laws respecting juries and trials by jury, passed third reading without opposition.

Governor Carter's message respecting appropriations, with its accompanying act, was received and read.

THURSDAY, APRIL 6.

When the conference report on the County Bill came up, there was objection made from several quarters. Kaniho said the committee had increased one of the amounts in the bill, and Smith also objected to Hawaii being made into only one county, and refused his support to the bill on that ground. He declared that nine-tenths of the people of Hawaii were in favor of two counties and he solemnly accused the House of bad faith in not giving Hawaii what she wanted. Pulaa and Lewis were the others who opposed the bill.

On a vote being taken, the report was adopted by 25 to 4. Andrade being absent. After the vote was announced, he made his appearance and wanted to record his vote, but Speaker Knudsen ruled such procedure as illegal. Those who voted against the bill were Kaniho, Lewis, Pulaa and Smith.

The Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements reported on the following matters:

For new road to school house at Honaunau, S. Kona $200. (Pulaa.) Recommended.

For five hours to constitute a day's work on Saturdays for government laborers. (Broad.) Recommended.

To convert Cocoanut Island, Hilo, into a public recreation ground. (Lewis.) Recommended that 2.4 acres be set aside on Cocoanut Island.

For the care of Mooheau Park $4,000. (Kaniho.) Recommended tabled, provision for the park having been made.

For road roller, Puna, $5,000. (Lewis.) Recommended.

For Ponahawai street, Hilo, $1,000. (Lewis.) Recommended.

Petition for reduction of 75 per cent on Olaa holdings. (Smith.) Recommended refused.

Lane's Senate Bill for the licensing of pawnshops passed third reading.

Harris' House Bill to facilitate the collection of open accounts passed third reading.

FRIDAY, APRIL 7.

Holstein introduced a resolution providing that no new bills should be introduced after April 10, except appropriation bills. The purpose of this, Holstein explained, was to save time and make an extra session unnecessary. Fernandez wanted action indefinitely postponed, and when his motion was voted down, moved to adjourn. The resolution went over until Monday, the 10th.

The Committee on Public Lands and improvements reported adversely on the resolution of Greenwell, appropriating $5,000 for water conservation at Kailua and Napoopoo sections of the Kona. The committee recommended it be considered with appropriation bill.

The Health Committee reported against an appropriation for a hospital at Kohala, introduced by Pulaa.

The Committee on Education reported favorably on Senator Brown's bill for the establishment of a High School in Hilo.

SATURDAY, APRIL 8.

The Governor's veto of House Bill 7, amending Section 1644 of the Revised Laws, especially with reference to the terms of court was received. The December term at Kailua is to be changed to November at Waiohinu, Kau, where the Governor said there were no accommodations for prisoners or witnesses. He believed the bill involved too great an expenditure of public funds. Action on the veto was deferred till Monday.

The Education Committee reported favorably on the petition to appropriate $2500 for a 2-room school house on the Kaumana road.

There was a divided opinion in the report of the Finance Committee on Sheldon's bill to authorize the conclusion of a contract with the Inter-Island Telegraph Company. Harris, Nakuina and Fernandez recommended the passage of the bill granting the wireless subsidy. Rice and Kaleiopi did not concur.

Holstein introduced a bill exempting from taxation for five years all property real and personal used in the production of rice. The bill was read a first time by title.

Holstein introduced a bill amending the act relating to driving or riding over bridges faster than a walk. It imposes a penalty of $5 for infraction of the law provided that such penalty shall not be imposed when no signs have been placed on such bridges.

Senate Bill 23 (Brown), to provide for the establishment of a High School at Hilo, passed third reading.

MONDAY, APRIL 10.

Voters at Naalehu, Kau, petitioned for the building of a school at that place.

Other petitions were:

For the protection of small fish and fish beds. (Smith.)

For the division of appropriations for the district of North Kona. (Holstein.)

From voters of Hamakua asking for repeal of the wide tire act. (Fernandez.) To be transmitted to the Governor, the bill now being in his hands.

The following bills passed third reading:

Bill for reservation of a portion of Cocoanut Island as a public recreation ground. (Lewis.) Passed.

To amend Section 734, Chapter 53, R. L., relating to construction of side-walks. (Harris.) Recommended to Public Land Committee.

To amend Section 2693 of the Revised Laws increasing rate of interest on overdue accounts from six to nine per cent. (Waterhouse.) Passed.

To regulate the conduct of the trial of civil causes. (Long.) Passed.

To provide that five hours shall constitute a full day's work for eight hours pay on Saturdays for all mechanics, clerks, laborers and other employees on any public works whether by contracts or otherwise. (Broad.) Passed.

To provide for the protection of forest land from fire. (Waterhouse.) Passed.

House Bill 96, relating to attachments, was read for the third time.

A bill introduced by Lewis to declare land at Pihonua, Hilo, a public recreation ground was read a first time by title.

Kaleiopi's House Bill 31, authorizing and providing for the sale of licenses to sell opium or preparation thereof, and defining and prohibiting opium smokers' dens, passed third reading with minor amendments.

Nineteen competitors took part in a race in Paris for men with wooden legs. The winner did a mile and a half in twelve minutes.

TRIBULATIONS OF A SKIPPER.

Captain Madsen Delayed Three Days Because of Crew.

One of the least troubles of a shipmaster is the navigation of his vessel, for the control of a crew of seamen is one of the hardest tasks that confronts a sea captain when he is about ready to proceed on his voyage.

Capt. M. A. Madsen, a Norwegian by birth but an American citizen by adoption and naturalization, commands the American ship "John Ena" of San Francisco. All sea-faring men admit she is one of the finest windjammers in the merchant marine, and the captain is so big hearted that too often his crew take advantage of his good nature.

On arrival of his vessel at Hilo about a month ago, Capt. Madsen consented to pay off his men and take his chances on getting another crew in Hilo or Honolulu before he cleared for Philadelphia. The latter task was easier said than done.

Through a Honolulu shipping firm, about a week before his departure, Capt. Madsen secured ten sailors, but his complement called for twenty-seven, and the difficulty was experienced in shipping seventeen local men for the voyage.

There were young men a plenty willing to undertake the trip, but confiding parents would not listen to their son's pleading to be permitted to go before the mast to New York or Philadelphia. The United States Navigation Laws prescribe that apprentices under the age of eighteen years can be employed on vessels only with the consent of the boy's parents.

After obtaining all the available material in Hilo for sailors, Capt. Madsen proceeded to fill up the crew of the John Ena with ordinary seamen or apprentices, exercising care that only young men over eighteen years of age were enlisted for service.

His tribulations began from that time on, until the ship was towed ten miles to sea by the Counselman Saturday morning and set adrift to begin her voyage around the Horn. One young man's father demurred to his son's going and threatened to call on the strong right arm of the law to keep his boy at home.

Pleadings of the young man were unavailing and although a strong lusty fellow, Captain Madsen acceded to the father's demands, when he learned that he had been imposed upon in believing the youth was over eighteen. A second young man, with no relatives to deter his actions, had formed other alliances, and when he went to bid his sweetheart good-bye he found her in tears, and broken hearted if he attempted to shift his affections to the sea. His heart strings were wrenched like a dish towel and he must perform listen to her pleadings. So he sprained his ankle and sent for his clothes which were then aboard the ship.

In his search for a substitute to complete his crew, the Captain came across a strong, sturdy Hawaiian lad, whose parents are prominent people of the community but whose habits had become blunted by dissipation and exposure to temptation. The Hawaiian youth was anxious to try his fortunes elsewhere.

Without apprising his relatives he shipped as a sailor and went aboard the John Ena. When the fond mother heard of her wayward son's final step of wickedness, she immediately corralled the Captain and proceeded to read that good natured sea dog a lecture on enticing innocent boys from homes and mothers' firesides. Captain Madsen has a clever wit and a vein of Irish humor, and soon he had both mother and sister pacified. The boy was twenty years of age and after a promise from the Captain to look after his welfare, the confiding parent departed. Later she indited a brief note to the Captain, which ran about as follows:

"I have spoken to my darling son and asked him to be a good boy and to listen to every thing that you said to him. He has promised to obey you in every way and not to leave the ship. Since I met you and found you were such a nice man, I am happier and I have no further worry about my son. I know he will be safe with you and will be a good boy, while in your care. May God bless you. Etc."

Capt. Madsen was much pleased to receive so sincere a message from a trusting mother's heart and proceeded to have the note framed and scented with rose leaves, when, having hardly wakened from his reverie a policeman boarded his ship with a warrant for his arrest, for kidnapping the "dear son". A thirty cent lawyer had convinced the Fond Parent that she had been imposed upon and forthwith she had proceeded to swear out a warrant to secure possession of her boy. The Territorial laws provide that a young man must obey his parents until he is 21 years of age, and continued wilful disobedience makes him amenable to the law and possible imprisonment.

So little Willie was released from voluntary servitude, and Capt. Madsen enlisted Ted Guard and a Jap to take his place.

The Ship left port Saturday morning, but three days were spent in a vain endeavor to secure a crew. The desertion of the ship's cook left the captain helpless for a brief period, but he finally shipped three cooks in the hope that one would materialize when the ship heaved anchor. The last reports were to the effect that the crew list was full, when he started on his five month's voyage to Philadelphia.

WILL LECTURE HERE.

John G. Wooley, Famous Lecturer to be Heard Wednesday Night.

Hilo citizens will be afforded a splendid opportunity of hearing one of America's famous lecturers on Wednesday evening at the First Foreign Church. John G. Wooley, editor of the New Voice and one time candidate for President of the United States on the Prohibition ticket will arrive Wednesday night en route to the Volcano. He has consented to give a public address Wednesday night. His subject will be "Citizenship" and it is expected a large audience will take advantage of this opportunity to hear him. The lecture will begin promptly at eight o'clock and is free to the public. Mr. Wooley is regarded as the greatest reform orator since John D. Gough. He is spending three weeks in the islands and is making a flying trip to the Volcano, and those who know him are congratulating themselves on being able to hear this stirring speaker.

A Dove Luncheon.
Miss Stella Peck entertained Saturday afternoon a bevy of fourteen pretty girls at a luncheon in honor of her sister Miss Emelie Peck, whose betrothal to Dr. Ormond Wall of Honolulu was recently announced. Only the season's society buds were included in the spread, which was dainty and esthetic, and served behind drawn curtains. After the luncheon the young ladies were entertained at Five Hundred until late in the afternoon. Those present were: Misses Stella Peck, Emelie Peck, Clara Rodgers, Florence Scott, Minna Ahrens, Ivy Richardson, Ruth Richardson, Lillioe Hapai, Harriet Hapai, Louise Hapai, Minnie Schmidt, Franc Eaton, Genevieve Venable and Mary Shipman.

Mackenzie-Butchart.
Miss Nellie Mackenzie and David Butchart were married at high noon Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Moir at Papaikou, by Rev. C. E. Shields. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Butchart and a number of special friends were entertained at a sumptuous lunch at the Moir residence after which the bridal couple left, in a shower of rice, for the Volcano House. Mr. and Mrs. Butchart will reside in the cottage formerly occupied by Book keeper Metcalfe at Papaikou.

When This Comes True We DANCE Too.

THE following, marked "Stolen," is published in a Missouri paper: "How dear to the heart is the steady subscriber, who pays in advance at all times of the year; who lays down his money, and does it quite gladly, and casts round the office a halo of cheer. He never says, 'Stop it, I can not afford it,' nor 'I'm getting more papers now than I read,' but always says, 'Send it, the family likes it; in fact, we all think it a real household need.' How welcome he is when he steps in the sanctum, how he makes our hearts throb, how he makes our hearts dance. We outwardly thank him, we inwardly bless him, the steady subscriber WHO PAYS IN ADVANCE."

SPRING FEVER

Spring Fever is considered a joke—when someone else has it—but the condition is in reality no joke. Spring Fever is one of the terms applied to that general relaxed condition of the system which is so common at this season. It indicates, as a rule, a loss of vitality and a disordered condition of the blood. An effective remedy should be promptly used, because this condition readily becomes chronic. Our

Dr. Blake's Sarsaparilla

Is just the remedy needed. It aids digestion, tones up the nervous system, purifies the blood and increases vitality. We are so sure that it will give satisfaction in all cases that we sell it under a positive guarantee. Your money back if it fails.

HUMAN LIBERTY AND PURPOSES IN RUSSIA.

Dr. Nicholas Russel Begins A Series of Articles on Russia—Thinking Men and Fatalists—The Tendency of Human Thought is Toward Social, Political and Religious Liberty.

Although thinking is considered to be an essential characteristic of the human species, men who really think are rare. They constitute but a small quantity of the mass of people. Anyhow, thinking men are not so numerous nor so frequently met as men with titles, fortunes, decorations, scientific degrees, etc. The rest of humanity leave their thinking to others, following like a herd of sheep. They stick to any established faith, theory or dogma duly set forth and promulgated, provided it frees them from the necessity of any independent mental exertion. And, strange to say, the more incredible the theory the easier it finds followers.

You may easily convince the people that a locomotive, ground into powder and scattered to the four winds, is still capable of pulling a railroad train, but you will meet a deaf ear and a stout resistance in advancing that two and two make four.

If the masses, including the titled, decorated, rich and professional men do not think what do they do? Like our quadruped ancestors they look for grass, for prey, for food. Their attention is so intensely absorbed with questions of fodder and wealth and "success" that there is no time left for thinking. Like those distant ancestors, they continually keep their heads turned down to the mother ground—the resource of all food—till their necks get stiff and fixed forever. A man may wallow in wealth and the question of food may be settled already for the whole of his posterity, but the stiff neck, directed to what they call "business," prevents him from glancing at the heavens, from seeing the distant horizons—the real world of man. They still look for grass—for more grass. Like strayed cattle, they have no definite aim in life, no beacon, no principles. They turn to the right or left, forward or backward, ignoring the compass needle altogether, and are governed exclusively by the sight of a green tuft of grass or of an attractive bush sticking from behind the rock. They call it "business," and their methods "business methods." They contemptuously look upon men whose aspirations go beyond the search of fodder, and call them cranks, impractical dreamers, utopists. Relying upon wealth and power, accumulated by themselves and their ancestors, taking advantage of the fixedness and narrowness of their purposes, using them as a diamond drill, they claim to rule and govern communities, states, nations, to guide the world from behind shop counters "on business principles," as if the whole universe were based on the system of double-entry book-keeping. The idea that other things besides fodder may be necessary to run the world never strikes the minds of unthinking men for the simple reason that they have no conception of anything else. Poor human-looking things, indeed!

But let us turn to the thinking minority. It may be divided into two types, according to the divergent habits of mind. The first, a very predominant one, never looks into the future; does not take any stock in it. The future appears to them as a sort of a blank, on which, when the time comes, the past will write its decrees. Their eyes are turned backward to this very past, which they consider the only reality, the only thing to build upon, the only criterion for guidance. H. G. Wells, in his remarkable article, "The Discovery of the Future," Smithsonian Reports, 1902, calls them retrospective, submissive, or legal minds. In every issue of life they look for some established law, custom, right or precedent. What does not evolve from it is wrong, and has no right for existence.

They most consistently condemn the thing that is only seeking to establish itself. Such is the mind of a trained lawyer. The second, which is a more modern and much less abundant type, thinks constantly and by preference concerning things to come. It is constructive in habit; it interprets the things of the present and gives value to this or that, entirely in relation to things designed or foreseen. This is a masterly type, because it perpetually attacks and alters the existing, established order of things, and is perpetually falling away from the respect of traditions and established institutions of the past. For him the past is dead, and he lets the dead bury their dead. It sees the world as a great workshop, and the present as merely material for the future—for the thing that is yet destined to be, which, by the way, is the only one worthy of interest.

This type is in the active mood of thought, while the former is in the passive. It is the mind of the inventor, the architect, the mind of youth—the mind especially manifest among western nations; while the former is the mind of age, the mind of the Oriental. Prometheus confronted with Confucius!

It is not sufficiently recognized how different in consequences these two methods are. The time we live in is the time of an extraordinary uncertainty and of indecision upon endless questions—moral, economical, political and religious. A very large amount of this uncertainty, which makes all of us feel miserable, is due to the fact that with most of us, these insufficiently distinguished ways of looking at things are not only present together, but in actual conflict, in our minds.

It is not difficult to perceive where the essential difference between these two methods of thinking originates. In the unbroken chain of events, evolving from each other as cause and effect, in strict conformity with the supreme natural law of causality—a new revolting link arises, i. e., human consciousness, human thought, human will and purpose. As soon as born, it refuses to take things as they are or would be, if left to themselves. It finds them uncomfortable and inconsistent with human welfare and human interests. It gives the process of causality a twist and to the events a new direction more in accordance with human purposes. Is that right or wrong?

The question is: Shall man reduce his part in nature and history to the condition of a billiard ball, obeying blindly natural forces acting upon him, as did his ancestors, following the process of natural evolution together with the rest of the animal world; or shall he assert his rights and powers over nature, the rights of a thinking being to liberty, to self-determination. Shall he master these forces, these laws and that of evolution, taking his destinies into his own hands and shaping his future as suits him best?

Events that now take place in Russia are of greater magnitude than the most of us suspect. They represent but the starting, initial point wherefrom the flood will overrun the world, as in 1793. It is like the eruption of Krakatoa, that caused the tidal wave to encircle the globe, that filled the atmosphere with volcanic dust and enabled us to witness those marvelous purple sunsets all over the earth. It simply signifies that the human race has broken camp and has started on the road.

But where? Backwards or forwards? What will be the new moorings? Who is right and who is wrong? Who will win and who will lose in the above dispute, Confucius or Prometheus?

This is the fundamental question now before the Russian people and before the whole world.

I will analyze this question in the next issue, so far as Russia is concerned, from both points of view, from that of past traditions and of future ideals.

NICHOLAS RUSSEL.

[Beginning with this issue the TRIBUNE will print a series of articles from the pen of Dr. Nicholas Russel, bearing on the Russian question from the aspect of a Russian. Dr. Russel was born at Mchless, Russia, but being more or less a philosopher and a free thinker, he was banished from the country and came to the United States. No man in Hawaii is better prepared to speak intelligently on the condition of the Russian people and the trend of national politics.—Ed.]

FLOWER OF RUSSIA GONE.

Disaster and Disgrace Have Ruined Army and Navy.

What has become of the flower of the Russian commanding officers? Of twenty-eight men of the rank of general, with whose name the war has made us familiar, more than half are now out of action. Of fifteen admirals, three have been killed, four are recalled in disgrace, and four are prisoners of the Japanese. The remaining four are almost as a little account. One, Admiral Jassen, commands the sole remnant of the Russian Pacific fleet at Vladivostok, and the other three are loitering about at sea with the various sections of the discredited Baltic fleet. The following list shows what has happened to twenty-eight generals and fourteen admirals since the beginning of the war:

GENERALS.

Stoessel—Prisoner on parole.
Gripenberg—Recalled in disgrace.
Orloff—Recalled in disgrace.
Trusoff—Recalled in disgrace.
Keller—Killed at Motienling.
Kronratshenko—Killed at Port Arthur.
Tserpitsy—Killed at Port Arthur.
Rialinkin—Killed at Shaho.
Smolensky—Killed at Shaho.
Routkovsky—Killed at Liao Yang.
Raskhtalinsky—Prisoner in Japan.
Pflug—Prisoner in Japan.
Bieli—Prisoner in Japan.
Gorbatkovsky—Prisoner in Japan.

Kikitin—Prisoner in Japan.
Fock—Prisoner in Japan.
Kondratovich—Wounded, in hospital.
Sassulitch—Superseded, but resumed command.
Stakelberg—Wounded, but resumed command.
Rennenkampff—Wounded, but resumed command.
Mistchenko—Wounded.
Linievitch—Quarrelled with Kuropatkin. In command.
Bilderling—Reported to have quarrelled with Kuropatkin.
Sakharoff—Still holds a command.
Kaulbars—Still holds a command.
Kuropatkin—Resigned and disgraced.

ADMIRALS.

Alexeff—Recalled.
Stardk—Recalled.
Skrzydloff—Recalled.
Besobrazoff—Recalled.
Makharoff—Killed at Port Arthur.
Molas—Killed at Port Arthur.
Witgeft—Killed at Port Arthur.
Ukhtomsky—Prisoner in Japan.
Wiren—Prisoner in Japan.
Loshchinsky—Prisoner in Japan.
Grigorievitch—Prisoner in Japan.
Jassen—Command at Vladivostok.
Rodjstvensky—Near Madagascar.
Folkersham—Loitering at sea.
Botrovosky—Loitering at sea.

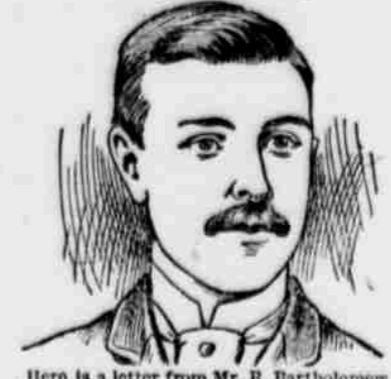

So far as can be ascertained, the Japanese have lost but one officer of the rank of general, killed in the action at Port Arthur, and two of the rank of admiral, both of whom were drowned in the sinking of the battleship Hatsuse. Not one has been captured by the Russians, and none have been recalled.

Built Me Up

Have you been ill? Are you still weak and discouraged? Do not get strength as fast as you think you should? Then take a good tonic, something that will aid your digestion and build you up quickly.

Here is a letter from Mr. R. Bartholomew, Jr., St. Torrens, So. Australia. He also signs his photograph.

"After a very severe attack of rheumatic fever I was left in a very weak condition. It was feared that I could not possibly pull through. I could get no help from any medicine. I feel sure that unless there had been a change just at that time I could not have recovered. But a friend of mine had taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla and knew what a splendid tonic it was. So he urged me to try it. I can now truthfully say that I felt better even after the first dose. It seemed to build me right up from the very start, and in a few weeks my recovery was complete."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's." Promptly correct any tendency to constipation or biliousness. Ayer's Pills are sugar-coated, easy to take, mild in action. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.
