CONGRESSIONAL PARTY VISITS ISLAND OF MAUI

Many Distinguished Persons Among Them.--Are Delighted With the Beauty and Grandeur of our Mountain Scenery.

NEW WAIHEE DITCH IS OPENED.

New Water System Has Nearly Three Miles of Tunnels
Through the Mountains.--Will Carry Eighty Million Gallons of Water Daily.

CONGRESSIONAL PARTY VISITS MAUI.

The members of the Congressional party arrived in Kahului Wednesday morning and were greeted by the committee appointed to receive them.

As soon as their baggage could be looked after most of the members came to Wailuku where arrangements were made to care for them while they were here and later show them the new mill of the Wailuku Sugar Co. after which they went to the Wailuku School where patriotic exercises were given by the school. The children marched out carrying flags and sang Hawaii Pono.

The address of welcome was made by a little Chinese girl, Ah
Ing who is but eleven years of age.
The address in full is as follows:--

Address of Welcome,
Ah Ing, 11 years,
Ladies and Gentlemen of the Congressional Party:-- The teachers and pupils of the Wailuku Public School welcome you to our little island. We are glad that you take enough interest in us to come so many thousands of miles to see us. We hope that you will enjoy your visit with us, and that you will carry home pleasant recollections of Hawaii and the Hawaiians.

Our parents are of many nationalities, but we are all good Americans. We are here in school not only studying reading, writing and arithmetic, but also learning lessons of patriotism and good citizenship so that when we grow up we may become useful citizens of our great and glorious country, whose flag floats over our school every day.

The address of welcome was followed by a flag drill that was greatly appreciated by all of the congressional party and was a revelation to them as they had not expected to see such excellent work done.

Harvey Cornwell recited the poem "1492" that was cheered by the members of the party.

"1492"
Harvey Cornwell.
I think of all the things at school
A boy has got to do,
That studying history, as a rule,
Is worst of all, don't you?
Of dates there are an awful sight,
And though I study, day and night,
There's only one I've got just right
That's fourteen-ninety-two.

Columbus crossed the Delaware
In fourteen-ninety-two;
We whipped the British fair and square
In fourteen-ninety-two.
At Concord and at Lexington
We kept the red coats on the run.
While the band played "Johnny Get Your Gun"
In fourteen-ninety-two.

Pat' Henry, with his dying breath--
In fourteen-ninety-two,
Said Give me liberty or death!"
In fourteen-ninety-two
And Barbara Frietchie, so 'tis said, Cried, "Shoot if you must this old, grey head,
But I'd rather 'twould be your own instead,"
In fourteen-ninety-two.

The Pilgrims came to Plymouth Rock
In fourteen-ninety-two,
And the Indians standing on the dock Asked, "What are you going to do?"
And they said "We seek your harzened rear,
That our children's children
dear
May boast that their forefathers landed here
In fourteen-ninety-two."

Miss Pocahontas saved the life,
In fourteen-ninety-two,
Of John Smith, and become his wife
In fourteen-ninety-two.
And the Smith tribe started then and there
And now there's John Smiths everywhere,
But they didn't have any Smith's to spare,
In fourteen-ninety-two.

Hawaii was discovered by Captain Cook.
In fourteen-ninety-two,
And the first missionaries come to have a look
In fourteen-ninety-two.
George Washington, I think, was born,
And Uncle Joe Cannon first blew
his horn,
When Congress voted to adjourn
In fourteen-ninety-two.

The following poem was recited by Edith Naone a little Hawaiian girl age 10 years.

OUR FLAG.
O flag of a resolute nation,
O flag of the strong and free,
The cherished of true-hearted millions,

WAIHEE DITCH OPENS.

The new ditch for the Wailuku
Sugar Company and the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company that has been in process of construction for the past two years has been completed and the water turned in the ditch on Wednesday May the 15th at the new dam that has been built at the mauka intake in the Waihee river.

The water was turned in at twelve o'clock noon. F. F. Baldwin, C. B. Wells, Congressman Keifer E. Faxton Bishop and a few others were present when the water was turned in.

It took just three hours and forty-five minutes for the water to reach the end of the ditch where the two companies are interested in the division of the water.

There are twenty tunnels in the new enterprise of the following lengths, No. 0, 320 ft., No. 1, 1354
ft., No. 2, 2246 ft., No. 3, 1662 ft.,
No. 4, 1433 ft., No. 5, 476 ft., No. 6, 1168 ft., No. 7, 1140 ft., No. 8, 654
ft., No. 9, 647 ft., No. 10, 617 ft., No.
11, 320 ft., No. 12, 342 ft., No. 13,
400 ft., No. 14, 886 ft., No. 14a, 305
ft., No. 14b, 155 ft., No. 15, 206 ft., No. 17, 439 ft.

Making a grand total of 15,841
feet of tunnels.
There are 1886 feet of flumes and 13389 feet of open ditch and 1253 feet of pipe lines which brings the length of the system up to 32,- 369 feet.

The head of the ditch is at an elevation of 649.5 feet above sea level and is 4600 feet above the Spreckels Waihee ditch intake the head of which is at an elevation of 424.76 feet above sea level.

The new enterprise will make possible the cultivation of lands on a higher level than has been possible in the past and as more of the system is tunnels it will be much less liable to washouts and other damage by storm.

The Wailuku Sugar Company has extended the system beyond Waikapu for its own use a distance of 23736 feet.

TAX APPEAL TAKEN.

An appeal has been take by the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company from the decision of the Tax Assessor lowering the deductions of the company in its returns by which the company would be taxed $24,389.84 on its income tax instead of $20,665.88 as claimed is just by the company. The income tax returns as made by the officers of the company show a gross profit of $2,677,362.91 from which was deducted for running expences and depreciation of plant the sum of $1,644,068.60. The latter figures were not allowed by the Assessor who reduced the same to $1,457,- 870.89.

If the Tax Assessor is correct then the income tax of the corporation would be raised to $24,389.84 or two per cent of its net profits.

The papers in the suit have been drawn by Attorney James L. Coke who represents the plaintiff.
The taxation value of the realty and personal property of the company as fixed by the Assessor is not questioned by the corporation.

We hallow thy colors three.
Three far-reaching emblems of glory,
Our hope for the coming time.--
The red, white, and blue in their beauty-- Love gives them a meaning sublime.
The red is the deep crimson life-stream

Congressional Party The members of the Congressional party who visited Maui this week made a most favorable impression on all whom they met and left the universal impression that they were here to learn our needs and ambitions and by personal observation be in a better position to promote our interests by judicious legislation.

They in turn were outspoken in their praise of the cordial hospitality and universal courtesy extended which is characteristic of the Hawaiian people.

It is however to be deeply regretted that the limited time at the disposal and the many details necessary for the sub-Committee made it impossible to let the people know the plans of the committee and consequently many persons did not have the opportunity to meet the members of the party and feared that they would be intruding should they attempt to attend the luau in Iao valley especially was this true of the Hawaiians whom the gentlemen especially desired to meet.

The members of the party spoke in the highest terms of the efforts of the entertainment committee here, all of whom did every thing possible to make the day an enjoyable one for all. They also spoke repeatedly of the services of Mrs. W. H. Field and Frank Sommerfeld who assisted the committee. They were disappointed however in not having the opportunity to meet more Hawaiians, and Portuguese.

There will be a public luau at Kahului to-day (Saturday) at 11 A. M. to which all are cordially invited.

Exercises of the patriotic excises of the Wailuku Wailuku School. school held Wednesday for the purpose of showing the visiting Congressmen the nature of the training of the young people in the ways of patriotism is deserving of the highest praise. The work was a revelation to the visitors as well as some of the parents of the children of the school and some of those who had criticised the exercises before having seen them were ready to acknowledge their error and spoke in the highest terms of the work being done by the teachers of the school.

During the afternoon and evening many of the Congressional party including the ladies as well as the gentlemen repeatedly spoke in the highest terms of the exercises which they all declared better than they had ever seen in their lives at any previous time.

Probably in no school in the United States is there so many races and Nationalities and combinations of the same as in the school here and to find them so advanced in the knowledge of American history and so imbued with the spirit of patriotism is enough to gladden the heart of any American.

From years of personal observation and instruction of the young people of the Territory we are satisfied that the course of training of the young people here will result in making a patriotic class of people as we have in any part of the mainland with the one exception, the Japanese, whom we believe will always remain Japanese and true to the flag of the flowery kingdom.

We feel that too much praise can not be given Principal Copeland and his corps of assistants for the able work being done by them.

Ancient Mariner Crushes Mutiny.

Captain Larsen of the ship Marion Chilcott has a belaying-pin handy for any drunken sailor or other man who goes aboard with the impression that he may run the ship as he likes.

On Friday night last several of the crew returned to the ship more or less excited by liquor. One man in particular undertook to call the captain a long list of horrible names, none of which were true and all of which were violations, of the rules of politeness.

In addition to the insults, the sailor ventured to lay hands on the master of the vessel, remarking that if it was not for the skipper's age he would shove his head down his throat.

Captain Larsen, some three score years of age, stepped to the side and lovingly fingered a belaying pin.

"Belay that foul chin music or I'll belay you," said Larsen, in effect. The sailor, nevertheless, approached and moved to strike the captain, whereupon the master tapped him a smart rap on the headpiece with the pin and the sailorman took a tumble.

Others were following in the wake of the trouble-maker, but the undaunted captain gathered another belaying-pin in his left hand, and double armed, sailed into the crazed bunch of mutineers, right and left.

"You have raised a breeze on my head, that's evidence," cried one coward. "Here's another to keep it company," chuckled the skipper, laying a ridel mark alongside the first scar: "Want any more?"

Alone and unaided, although assistance arrived after it was all over, Captain Larsen held the ship against half a dozen toughs half mad with drink. The men were arrested and taken to jail but later released, the Sailors' Union taking up the matter with a view to dealing with the mutineers, if so they prove to be, in a manner in which they are not likely soon to forget.—Star.

Boys Luka for Laysan.

Max Schlemmer, King of Laysan Island, has purchased the schooner Luka from Allen & Robinson.

During the summer months she will be run in the guano carrying business between Laysan Island and this port. During the winter she will engage in coastwise traffic in these waters.

Within a week the Luka will be ready to sail for Laysan. Captain Mansfield will go master of her and her passengers will include King Max, his brother-in-law and perhaps another.

The Misses Mary and Otilie Schlemmer, who accompanied their father from Laysan in the U. S. gunboat Annapolis will not return in the Luka. Miss Mary Schlemmer takes up musical studies on the mainland and Miss Otilie Schlemmer goes to school in this city. Miss Gertie Schlemmer also being in Honolulu.

Captain Schlemmer said today that it was on account of freight rates being altogether too high that he concluded to buy his own vessel. Over three hundred tons of guano are a waiting shipment on Laysan.

August Ahrens has Succeeded D. Forbes.

The directors of the Pacific Sugar Mill Co., of Kukuiahae, Hawaii, held a meeting May 13 for the purpose of considering the resignation of David Forbes who has been manager of the plantation for the past fifteen years. After deciding to accept the resignation, August Ahrens, formerly manager of Waianae and Oahu plantation, was selected by the board to succeed Mr. Forbes.

It seems that there has been some dissatisfaction with the management of the place for some time and the first move of the company was to retire the head luna, Mr. Black. This was not satisfactory to Mr. Forbes, as it was apparently done without consulting him, and after considering the situation, he decided to tender his resignation. It is said that prior to the dismissal of the luna the directors made a big cut in the salary of the manager but he was willing to stand it as the returns to the company had not been as satisfactory as he had wished.

The retiring manager has been considered one of the most satisfactory men on the plantations of the island of Hawaii. He is recognized as a hard worker and one who always paid a great deal of attention to the details of the cultivation of cane. Mr. Ahrens has been engaged in the business for many years and has always met with great success in the conduct of the companies in which he has been interested.

The Classes and Masses in England.

Beginning with the well to do classes, the Colonial discovers that England is absolutely subjugated by the desire always to be in "good form"...

To be unobtrusive, restrained, in dress and in manner like everybody else, is obviously the one aim of higher education in this country...

I notice, indeed that while in the West End of London there is, to the Colonial mind, an extraordinary toleration of persons of notoriously vicious character...

And it never occurs to the Englishman that he is wrong. Your newspapers are full of little slighting comparisons, little patronizing jokes about the peoples who have not attained to your own height of self-suppression...

And the self satisfaction of your ruling class is not only quietly assumed by itself, but is also almost joyfully acknowledged by their poorer brethren.

There is no form of fiction so popular in your country as that which has for hero the slight, handsome, exquisitely dressed and fair-mustached aristocrat. Factory girls read with delight of his victories over his many rivals for the hand of the equally picturesque lady he loves...

Political institutions in England may be democratic; the laws may be made according to the will of the great mass of the people; but the social life of England is almost as much dominated by caste as is the social life of India...

Elbowing Us Out of Asia.

"How about our Oriental commerce?" asked a reporter of James J. Hill the other day. "We haven't any," was Mr. Hill's reply. Like other intensely practical men...

"The commerce of the Orient" is a rich, mouth-filling phrase, and when orators have nothing better to say it is easy to work up passing enthusiasm with a picture of big-bellied argosies whitening the Pacific...

The Japanese, however, are to blame for the whittling away of the small commerce that has been enjoyed by Americans in the Orient. They are cutting down imports into Japan and, at the same time, are increasing their exports to China...

So, in wholly and partly raw materials, as in manufactures, Japan is rapidly elbowing the United States out of Asia.—Washington Post.

Make War Upon Cornell Co-Eds.

ITHACA (N. Y.), May 3.—The male students of the College of Arts and Sciences of Cornell University started a formal campaign to-night in favor of the segregation of the sexes in the university...

I am certain that if the governing class in England has become, through excessive conceit, incapable of properly leading the people, it has become so largely through the wild idolatry of the rest of the nation.

In the Colonies there is a good working theory of equality. Jack does actually believe that he is every bit as good as his master and his master is of the same opinion, and he would consequently be as little inclined to patronize Jack as Jack would be inclined to tolerate the patronage.

THE INGENIOUS MILITIAMAN. Little or nothing was known about guard duty by the National Guard regiments which went to camp at Peekskill in 1883. On one terrible night when it was raining cats and dogs the call came...

No. 13 went to the guard tent under arrest. Arrived there, he remarked: "Thanks! Just exactly what I wanted."—Army and Navy Journal.

HE HAD THE COUNTERSIGN. Lieutenant-Colonel Thurston, when guard inspector at the New York camp at Peekskill, approached one night a German sentry, who simply looked at him and marched on.

"Well?" inquired the Colonel, intending to remind the man of his duty.

"Vell, vell! Vot iss it?" "Don't you want the countersign?" "No, dot's all right. Der feller in der guard's tent give it to me. I got it."—Army and Navy Journal.

A PARTRIDGE TEST. An English squire was examining an Irishman on his talents for the position of gamekeeper. At last he asked how Pat would tell an old bird from another of later birth.

"By the teeth, sor." "But partridges have no teeth." "Begorra, I have."—Judge's Library.

USELESS QUESTION. "Ebenezer," called out Mrs. Jagway from the floor above at 3 A. M., "is that you?"

A REAL DILEMMA. It was a steep grade in a mountain division, and the old lady was a fidgety, highly sensitive person. She said to the conductor as he punched her ticket:

"Conductor, is it a fact that the locomotive is at the rear of the train?"

"Yes, madam," the conductor answered. "We have a locomotive at each end. It takes one to push and one to pull to get us up this grade." "Oh, dear, what shall I do?" moaned the old lady. "I'm always traisick if I ride with my back to the locomotive!"—Kansas City Times.

HUBBY'S TALES FROM HOME. The fond husband was seeing his wife off with the children for their Easter in the country. As she got into the train he said: "But, my dear, won't you take some fiction to read?"

Judge Gear Died Sunday.

Judge George D. Gear died at the Queen's Hospital Sunday afternoon at 1:10 o'clock. There were present at his bedside, his wife, his brother A. V. Gear and a number of intimate friends. The sick man never regained consciousness from the time the attack was first observed by his wife early Saturday morning. Cerebral meningitis was the cause of death but it was not until a post mortem examination had been made, that this fact was determined, the illness being diagnosed at various times as ptomaine poisoning and diabetes.

On Friday afternoon Judge Gear did not appear to be very well. He complained at his home, that he had a severe headache. He retired and about 3 o'clock Saturday morning, Mrs. Gear noticed that he seemed to be suffering pain. She tried unsuccessfully, to arouse him and then summoned Dr. Herbert. The physician diagnosed the case as an attack of ptomaine poisoning supposed to have been caused by eating salmon at a restaurant and applied restoratives but the patient did not regain consciousness. Judge Gear continued unconscious and finally, it was decided to remove him to the Queen's Hospital and perform an operation. This was decided upon after consultations by Drs. Herbert, Wayson, Wood, Walters, Judd, Rogers and Osmer.

On Saturday night, the police patrol wagon was sent to the Kaimuki residence of Judge Gear and removed the patient to the hospital. Diabetes was supposed at this time, to be the nature of the sickness. Dr. Wood performed the operation.

The patient did not improve and at 11 o'clock yesterday morning the physicians announced that they had no hope of the patient recovering. Saline injections was given the unconscious man, in the hope that he would regain consciousness but he did not rally to this extent, passing away at 1:10 p. m. A post mortem examination was then held, showing that death had been due to cerebral meningitis caused by an abscess behind the ear, for which Judge Gear had undergone an operation about six weeks before.

Judge Gear was 39 years of age at the time of his death. He was born at Quincy, Plumas county, California on March 21, 1868. His education was received in the state of Ohio, but he returned to California and studied law in the office of his father, H. L. Gear of San Francisco. In 1892, the younger Gear was admitted to practice by the Supreme Court of California, the examination being taken in Los Angeles. He at once began practicing law with his father. He assisted his father for some years in law reporting, the elder Gear being a recognized authority on text law book writing. "Landlord and Tenant," is one of his best works.

In 1894, George Gear went to Guatemala where he remained two years, after which he came to Honolulu and located. He was recognized as one of the ablest attorneys of the Territory and has participated in some of the most important island litigation. He was appointed judge of the first circuit by President McKinley succeeding R. D. Silliman. Upon the expiration of his term on March 3, 1905 Judge Gear resumed private practice. One of his most notable legal triumphs was his successful defence of Commander Lucien Young, U. S. N., on the occasion of the court martial of Young, over the fatal explosion on the gunboat Benington at San Diego.

Gear had an especially keen, alert legal mind. One of his strongest points was the discovery of flaws in the statutes and in this way, his influence helped most materially, to cause needed revisions of our laws. A history of the points raised by him while on the bench and while practicing law, would be a valuable work in showing the application of the American laws here and their points of variance with the former Hawaiian statutes.

Gear was a member of the Republican party and had aided the organization in many ways, both as an orator and adviser, but he declined to accept any nomination. As a speaker he was very witty.

Gear was a man of much personal charm. He was affable and companionable to an unusual degree. His friends, he numbered not only among those whom he had personally aided but among the men who had been his opponents, politically as well as professionally. The expressions of sorrow over his death have been universal.

Judge Gear was for many years a member of the Masonic order and held the thirty-second degree. He was a member of the Scottish Rite and also of the Mystic Shrine. He also was a charter member of the local lodge of Elks and a member of the Knights of Pythias. Judge Gear left the following relatives, his widow Mrs. George D. Gear, of this city; two brothers, A. V. Gear of this city and Louis Gear of Oakland; his sister, Mrs. Emily Spencer of Granville, Ohio, and his father and mother, Mr. Mrs. H. L. Gaar of San Francisco.

Delegations from the Masons, Knights of Pythias and Elks Lodges held a watch over the remains of their former member at the undertaking parlors of H. H. Williams on Fort street. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. Services were also held at the Nuuanu cemetery. The remains were incinerated.

And leaving no servile stain, Thy white is a proud people's honor,

Kept spotless and pure as light, A pledge of unfaltering justice, A symbol of truth and light.

The blue is our nation's endurance, And points to the blue above, The limitless, measureless azure, A type of the Father's love.

Thy stars are God's witness of blessing

And smile at the foeman's frown; They sparkle and gleam in their glory.

Bright gems in the great world's crown.

This was followed by a presentation address by Miss Daisy Apo.

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Congressional Party:—In ancient times the Hawaiian Islands were divided into several petty kingdoms each ruled by a hereditary chief. About the year 1795 Kamehameha the Great consolidated the group into one kingdom which endured for a century. The rule of the early kings was of course rude and absolute, that of the later sovereigns became liberal and Constitutional. The first Constitution was promulgated by Kamehameha III in 1839; and in 1844 an American, Mr. Ricord of Oregon, was appointed the first Attorney General of the kingdom. In 1893 the monarchy was abolished and the Republic of Hawaii organized; this in turn becoming a possession of the United States in 1898. In 1900 Hawaii became a Territory, and in 1905 county government was established. We have four counties: Hawaii, Maui, Oahu and Kauai. Our county officials are: The Board of Supervisors; the Sheriff and his deputies; the Treasurer, Auditor, County Attorney and County Clerk. These are all elected by popular vote, and we think for honesty and ability our county officers will compare favorably with those of any part of the United States. As a part of our preparation for citizenship, we have organized a School City among the older pupils of our school, and are trying to put the principles of free government into practice in our school life. The School City voted, at its last meeting, to present you with a copy of our Constitution as a souvenir of your visit to Wailuku. As presiding officer of the School City and in behalf of my schoolmates, I take great pleasure in handing you this document.

Representative Campbell replying paid the school and the pupils the highest compliments. He said he had never seen any patriotic exercises to compare with those of the Wailuku school in any part of the United States nor in any other school of the Territory.

He thanked the children on behalf of the Congressional party praised their exercises and said at no time in his life had he heard the songs that all Americans love so well sung as here in Wailuku. He spoke of the tender nature of the Hawaiians and their poetic disposition and assured his hearers that there was not a man in America but would sacrifice his life on the field of battle for the protection of the Hawaiians nor was there a dollar in the treasury of the United States that was not ready for the defence and to maintain the liberty of the people of Hawaii.

This seemed to be the sentiment of the whole party and they one and all warmly congratulated Principal Copeland and the teachers for the excellent work done here. Old gray headed men said it brought tears of joy to their eyes to see the patriotic exercises of the children here of so many nationalities by birth but evidently as true Americans as any of the children of the mainland.

The party started up Iao valley about noon and on reaching W. H. Fields home where a luau was being prepared for them they insisted on going further up the valley. All but three of the party went as far as the Needle while many of the party went up on top of the table land.

They were delighted with the trip and the grandeur of the scenery of the surrounding mountains and waterfalls.

The luau was a pleasant one and at its close Representative A. B. Capron of Rhode Island made a short speech and called on C. B. Wells who as usual called on Attorney J. L.

Coke who after a short address passed the buck to W. J. Coelho who sang a song and declared Judge A. N. Kepoikai the logical candidate for Governor. General Keifer, the oldest member of the party in years but the youngest in activity and application described his recent trip to Jamaica and Panama but declares that he was more delighted with the Hawaiian group than any insular possession of the Government he had visited. He announced he was here to ascertain our wants and see what could be done to better the conditions of the people in the Territory.

Judge A. N. Kepoikai made one of the best speeches of the day setting forth his reasons for being out of the gubernatorial race and support of the claims of the people here to the refund of revenues collected by the Federal Government.

Representative Edward L. Hamilton of Michigan, Chairman of the Committee on Territories was the next speaker. He said he was one of the many friends of the Refund Bill and hoped to satisfy the reasonable wants of the people of the Territory taking into consideration of course due regard of the rights and wishes of the other territories. He said Mr. L. A. Thurston of Honolulu had made it plain while in Washington that the island group occupies the cross roads of the Pacific and when the Panama canal is completed there will be a great impetus to trade and travel by water with the Hawaiian group.

He spoke at length of the needs of harbor improvement and of the need of fortifications for Oahu.

Delegate Kubio said a few words and was followed by Senator Chillingworth who spoke of the feeling that existed in the past that was a natural consequence of the taking down of the flag that all Hawaiians had learned to love. He said this feeling was fast disappearing and many of the Hawaiians now counseled the support of men for office regardless of race or color and that he believed that the white men and the Hawaiians were as true friends as were the members of either race.

Representative Edwin Y. Webb, a member of the Committee on Territories and the lone Democratic member of the South who is here twitted the chairman of the same committee for having stated he was in love with rig and poi. He said he was not in love with any log but was sure some of the party had fallen in love with the Hawaiian women and warned the people that they stood a good chance to lose some of their most charming women when the party sailed for the mainland.

He was followed by Representative Ralph D. Cole of Ohio who is a member of the committee on Irrigation, Agriculture, and Territories, who made one of the most dramatic and forceful speeches of the day.

After the speeches were over most of the party went to the residence of W. H. Field and were treated to many selections of choice Hawaiian songs by W. J. Coelho and Mrs. T. B. Lyons.

As none of the party had seen a hula a Hawaiian volunteered to dance the same for them.

In the evening an impromptu dance was gotten up and a number of the members danced with our Hawaiian girls until nearly midnight.

On Thursday morning the party left Wailuku for a trip on a train to Kihui. At noon they were entertained by the people of Paunene and left in the afternoon for Olanda where they will ride to the crater.

Some of the party will visit Keanae and all will return to Kahului Saturday and leave in the afternoon for Hawaii.
