RESTORED TO HEALTH

BY THE USE OF
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Mrs. M. A. Cunningham, of Yarraville, Victoria, Australia, says:

"About a year ago, I had a severe attack of influenza, which left me very weak, without energy, appetite, or interest in life. Obtaining little or no relief from doctors, or from the many remedies recommended to me, I finally tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and from that time, I began to gain health and strength."

I continued the treatment until fully recovered, and now have very great pleasure in telling my friends of the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and the happy results of its use. I consider it the best blood-purifier known."

ABOUT WAGES IN JAPAN.

SOME OF COMMISSIONER ARMSTRONG'S DISCOVERIES.

A Few of the Facts That Literary Pirate Would Have Incorporated in His Report.

A recent editorial in the Advertiser on the subject of wages in Japan contains the following:

"During his recent visit to Japan, W. N. Armstrong collected considerable material for a report on the labor and industries of Japan with the end in view of showing to what extent the prices and systems of labor may affect the relations of that country with these islands. It was the intention to incorporate the facts obtained in a report of the Labor Commission but the termination of the Commission by law prevented its presentation."

"Consul-General McIvor of Yokohama kindly favored him with the scale of wages prevailing in Japan. The foreign merchants also furnished statistics which show that the scale of wages is rising in that country. * * * It is to be hoped that Mr. Armstrong's report will be made public, as the tendency of the labor market in the East is a matter of vital importance to the industrial future of this country."

As stated in the columns of this paper the facts with which Consul-General McIvor of Yokohama kindly favored him were published in the Consular Reports of the United States in July last, and several copies of the report were to be had in this city a month afterwards. Indeed it would seem that the Advertiser writer had a copy of the report before him, for note the similarity of these expressions:

"The Advertiser says, 'The foreign merchants also furnished statistics.'"
Consul McIvor says, 'Table 2 relates only to wages paid in the city of Yokohama; it was prepared by one of the secretaries in the Kencho (prefect's office) from data obtained from the police department and the various trade guilds.'"

The Advertiser man concludes with the hope that Mr. Armstrong's report will be made public, but seems to have lost its anxiety since the BULLETIN exposed the source of Labor Commissioner Armstrong's reported information. This paper has waited patiently for two weeks for the Advertiser to do what it hoped would be done, but nothing has come even though the BULLETIN pointed out where the information could be easily obtained.

With the Advertiser the BULLETIN believes that whatever information Mr. Armstrong obtained while acting in the capacity of Labor Commissioner belongs to the Hawaiian people and should not be withheld from them. The BULLETIN presents an extract from Consul McIvor's report which will be found of special interest to sugar planters and laboring men alike.

The following table shows the occupation of artisans or laborers and the highest and lowest wages paid them during the year 1892 in yen, the average value of the yen in that year being 68 cents in United States money; in the month of January, 1895, the average value of the yen was only 48 cents:

In table 2 Mr. McIvor has computed the average daily wages of artisans in Yokohama per working day of ten hours in American money, January 18th of this year being selected, and the computation made on the exchange value of the yen on that day, viz: 48 cents. It is as follows, only the common trades being given here:

Servants in foreign houses received as follows: Males, six to fifteen yen or $2.88 to $7.20, and females five to ten yen or $2.40 to $4.80.

From the above tables, which in Consul McIvor's report are accompanied by the names of the cities from which the data is obtained, no general idea of the cities in which the highest wages are paid can be obtained, as every locality seems to have a scale of its own for each class of labor. For instance Tokyo pays more for masons than Yokohama and less for oil pressers and so on. If any exception be made it would appear from the report that Tokyo, Yokohama, Kanagawa, and Hokkaido pay the highest wages and Hiroshima, Akita and Tokushima the lowest.

ANGUS WON THE RACE.

TOMMY KING SPURT A LITTLE TOO SOON.

An Immense Crowd Gathered at Union Square and Saw the Finish—Police Arrangements.

Yesterday's race could more properly be termed an exhibition of bicycle riding in fancy underclothes, judging from the time made by the winner, 37½ minutes. Everybody knows that either of the riders could have beaten 28 minutes if he wanted to, as the roads were good, and the weather was perfect, with a total absence of wind.

Union square was crowded with people to see the start and finish of the race and hear the band play, but they grew very tired after waiting half an hour for the boys to get back, and many supposed that the contestants were piled up in a heap somewhere along the road. But they were not; they were simply jogging leisurely along while the crowd waited. There was no race until Thomas square was reached on the return trip, when King made a spurt and took the lead by 150 yards, but he could not maintain it and at Kawaiahao church he was passed by Sylvester and Angus, the former leading well. But Angus had been reserving his strength for the last and exerting it at this point passed Sylvester in a flash and crossed the string four seconds ahead.

In its account of the race the morning paper makes it appear that the riders were about equal. It must be borne in mind, however, that Tommy King never rode a bicycle until four months since and has never been in a race. The others were old hands at the business and have had plenty of experience. Such being the case King is entitled to much more credit than has been accorded him. If Ruby Dexter had been well enough, he would have ridden a Tribune wheel and the result would probably have been a better race.

Marshal Brown and Captain Parker deserve credit for the police arrangements, which were excellent.

THE HARBOR WORKS.

No Public Improvements Ahead of These.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—An evening paper states, "Dredging operations are carried on at a moderate cost, and good progress is being made in the work." In a former issue it seems to invite criticism on improvements made and those under way. Is this a case of "Save me from my friends" or is the writer sincere? We will take it that he is sincere, and unintentionally makes statements that, to say the least, are misleading. Can it be called good progress to pump in a given time about 1000 cubic yards of mud, when if the dredger was worked to her capacity it would be treble that amount in the same time, even allowing for the time lost pumping undiluted water through pipes that were allowed to choke through (to be charitable) an oversight? Is it economical to have a large force of men building, tearing down and rebuilding retaining walls? Or is it common sense to have armed men patrolling round the fill after a government physician has stated that there is not the least danger to the public health? Microbes are I believe impervious to lead or powder, and nearly everyone is aware by this time that anything of value that the dredger raises is given to the government.

Mr. Lincoln once made the remark: "You can fool some of the people all the time, and all the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time." Vague and indefinite assertions carry no weight even if given editorial prominence. A tabulated statement, such for instance as the Minister of Finance gives, stating work done, in what way done, and the cost, would satisfy all.

These islands have a future and it lies with the men in power to lay the foundation for future greatness. A good harbor cannot be made by newspaper talk, neither can it be made in the picayunish manner by which the present work is being carried on. Harbor improvements are the most important of all public works. Good docks, easy of access, draw shipping. Who would have predicted 60 or 70 years ago that the city of Liverpool would enjoy the commercial supremacy she does today, all through a deepened harbor and good docks? Let the President appoint a commission of seafaring men, with one or two harbor experts. If the latter are not here get them. In that manner we will get a harbor that will not only reflect credit on this administration but will remain as an enduring monument to builders and designers.

EDUCATIONAL ITEMS.

Training of Hawaiian Teachers—Increased School Attendance.

The following paragraphs are from the Progressive Educator: There seems to be a flourishing colony of normal departments in Honolulu just now. There is one at Kamehameha School for Boys, one at Kamehameha School for Girls, one at Oahu College, and one at the new High School. And it is hardly safe to say that there are no others. They are springing up with bewildering rapidity. All this shows the trend of educational thought and activity.

There is hope for the Hawaiian race in the training of Hawaiian teachers. The most hopeful feature in negro education in America is the part taken in the work by such negroes as Brooker T. Washington. If our friends of the Kamehameha schools, who are devoting themselves exclusively to training Hawaiians, can develop one such leader they will more than justify all the expenditures ever made for those institutions.

Reports from all quarters indicate a considerable increase in the attendance at the government schools. At last accounts the attendance at Holoaloa had reached almost a hundred. Last year this was a one-room school. The attendance now indicates that it was an error to provide for only two teachers in the building recently erected there.

The coming legislature will have a larger school attendance to deal with than its predecessors; and this will call for larger expenditures. The provision in the new Constitution that no public money shall be expended on schools not wholly under control of the Board of Education is in some degree responsible for the increased attendance at public schools; but for the most part it represents an increase in the total school attendance of the country.

THE LATEST BICYCLE TIRE

DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW INVENTION.

It Cannot be Punctured and May be Run Over Razors with Perfect Safety.

The committee who have charge of the Bicycle Voting Contest were otherwise occupied at noon today and could not attend to the counting of the votes. In addition to that the gentlemen having possession of the key of the box has gone out of town temporarily; consequently no votes can be counted until his return.

As will be seen in a communication in another column, Mrs. Renner today withdraws her name from the contest.

By way of making up for the non-counting of the votes, the BULLETIN presents its readers to-day with a cut of the latest invention in the shape of wheel-rims. The tire here illustrated has been patented by a Canadian. He claims that it may be ridden over tacks, glass and even razors, without fear of puncture. The invention consists of a series of elliptical steel springs set at right angles to the rim and riveted to it. A steel rim passes round the outer circumference of the tire thus formed, which is riveted to the springs, forming a strong, resilient and "quick" tire. It may be covered with rubber to keep out dirt and water.

It is said that several American firms have entered into negotiations for the use of this tire.

SATURDAY'S RACE.

Complete List of Contestants and the Handicaps.

The entries for the five mile road race of the Athletic Association were kept open until 5 p. m. yesterday, and closed with ten names, the handicapping of which has been arranged by Davs Crozier as follows:

Geo Angus, scratch; H Giles, 13 seconds; D G Sylvester, 18; V King, 30; E H Paris, 34; E H Turner, 42; P Lishman, 49; H Wilder, 53; H Espinda, 1 minute; A Giles, 1 minute and 40 seconds.

The race will be from Campbell's place at Waikiki to Union square, and the club will arrange to have ropes stretched from Kawaiahao church to the finishing place, so as to keep the crowd back and not shut out any of the contestants as was the case yesterday.

FAREWELL DINNER.

Given to Japanese Officials by Prominent Merchants.

At Sans Souci tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 a farewell dinner will be given to the retiring Japanese consul, Mr. Shimizu, and his secretary, Goro Narita. It will also be in the nature of a welcome to the new Consul-General and his secretary. Covers will be laid for forty-two, and the guests will consist of prominent Japanese merchants and officials.

TECHNIC AND PRACTICE.

Helpful Hints Based on the Long Experience of a Successful Pianist.

Technical practice should be free from timidity. Careful thought and strict method should never cramp endeavor. The pupil should venture, nothing doubting, and the teacher should kindly encourage his self trust. Good tone is greatly the outcome of muscular plasticity.

Equality of finger power is to be attained, firstly, by a horizontal hand, always avoiding the shed roof dip toward the little finger, and, secondly, by much practice of ascent exercises in various positions, and especially in scales and arpeggios, as in Mason's method. The practice of full arpeggio chords, with clear, even, rapid movement, holding down every finger struck until all are raised simultaneously, is very useful. Pure finger strokes should be cultivated to the ability of playing even powerful chords with them alone. The flexible independent action of the thumb is very necessary and should be sedulously attended to. To remind amateurs that it should be always over the keyboard may seem needless, but in thousands of cases it is not.

Power of tone is to be sought in swift suddenness of stroke, not by bearing on the keys with the weight of the shoulders and body. A baby's hand with a spasmodic hit would bring out a louder sound than would the slow tread of an elephant's foot. The left hand should be well trained not only for its own work's sake, but because it will be less liable to hamper execution with the right. The bass strings require more strength of touch than do the treble. The lowest note of a chord in the bass should be well heard, and eighths and inequalities in the other notes should be avoided by putting each key promptly and entirely down. In ordinary chord playing both hands should strike exactly together. In slow movements amateurs are quite apt to let the left hand lead.

Waste of motion on staccato notes and chords should be shunned. The hand should not, after rising, fall with a threatening motion toward the keys, but rather retain its upwardness for the next stroke. Elastic upward spring in short touches and piquant notes should be under full command, and the hand never allowed to fall on them like a lump of putty. Extensions should be patiently done a little every day, with a very gradual increase of width, until after several months or a year the fully grown hand can play a fourth easily with any two fingers.

As to the number of hours one should employ in technical practice much will depend on the physical endurance of the player. When freshness and vigor seem to wane, it is best to take an intermission. One hour of work with intense attention and studious tact is worth more than four hours of drowsy dawdling.

A Novel Utensil.

The latest novelty in way of kitchen utensils is the new chopper. The old straight bladed chopper is unbearably noisy and the round curved blade not much better, so the present patent will be welcome.

This is not a chopper, but a sharp circular knife which revolves upon a steel pin and is simply used by rolling it backward and forward over or through the substance under treatment. This is a great advantage over the clumsy straight machine, with which the up stroke was practically wasted. The cutting edge is keener and the action is naturally absolutely silent. Finally, the fact that it is rolled instead of beaten down upon the board produces much lighter mincing, and in the case of herbs, etc., retains the flavor and freshness of the leaf without bruising it, as a heavier instrument would do.

Canning Peas.

Select sound, perfect fruit, and be sure it is not too ripe. Peel and cut in halves or quarters as you prefer. Remove the core and throw into cold water; prepare a sirup, allowing a pound of sugar to 4 pounds of fruit; use twice as much water as sugar for the sirup. If the peas are very hard, steam them a few moments before putting them in the sirup; if they are mellow, put them in the sirup and cook slowly until tender; lift out carefully and put in glass jars and screw covers on after the can is filled full of fruit and sirup.

To preserve the peas: Prepare the same as for canning. Weigh the fruit, and allow nearly as many pounds of sugar as of fruit, dissolve with a little water, and when it comes to a boil skim well, add the fruit and cook slowly. Watch closely that it does not burn. Fill glass cans or small stone jars with the fruit and sirup. If in jars, cover with white paper sealed over the jar.

THE CHINESE MURDERER.

Waives Examination and is Committed for Trial.

In the District Court yesterday Wong Look was brought up before Judge Perry and waived examination on the following charge of murder in the first degree:

"That Wong Look, a foreigner by birth, in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on November 10, 1895, with force and arms, feloniously, wilfully and of his deliberate premeditated malice aforethought, and without authority, justification or extenuation of law, did kill and murder one Shik Yok, and did then and there commit the crime of murder in the first degree and did make an assault with a certain knife on the said Shik Lok, and did then and there strike, stab and wound the said Shik Lok, then and there and thereby giving to the said Shik Lok certain mortal wounds, of which the said Shik Lok died on the 11th day of November, 1895."

Judge Perry committed the defendant for trial at the Circuit Court without bail.

For the Horse.

While Henry E. Dixey was sitting in the office of the Columbia Theater yesterday reading over a new part he was suddenly brought back to earth by the clanging of the telephone bell.

"Hello there!" he answered. "What is it?" "Who are you?" "Who are you?" "This is Fodder & Hays' grain-yard." "That's good," replied Dixey. "Send up two bales of hay and three sacks of oats. Be lively about it." "Hello there! What did you say?" "Send up two bales of hay and three sacks of oats." "Three sacks of what?" "Sacks of oats. Do you understand?" "Yes. But who is it for?" "Look here, young man, don't get gay. It's for the horse." "Whir-r-r-r! Bang! Zip! Click! Mr. Dixey smiled and went back to his study."

Regulations of the Board of Health.

HONOLULU, November 13, 1895.

The taking of fish, shell-fish or any product of the sea, or water of any pond, stream, creek, inlet, bay or harbor, or upon the sea to a distance of two miles from the shore within that portion of the waters of the district of Kona, Oahu, lying between a line formed by the east wall of the enclosure for dredging at Kakaako to its southwest corner, thence to sea in a straight line with the spar buoy, on the east, and on the west by a line running from junction with shore of the west wall of the Kaili Kapu fish pond near Moanalu to its most western point, thence straight to sea in line with the most western point of the islet known as Kahakaalana, in the District of Kona, Oahu, and from mountain to sea is strictly prohibited.

The sale of fish and of all products of the sea is prohibited in the District of Honolulu, excepting at the New Market building and such other places as are specially permitted, where scale fish, oysters, clams and lobsters from water outside of the above limits may be exposed for sale under supervision of Inspectors appointed by the Board of Health.

Such Inspectors shall have power to seize, condemn and destroy any fish or product of the sea exposed for sale, or brought to the market, which they shall have reason to believe was taken from the locality prohibited by these regulations, or which shall appear to be unfit for food.

The regulation of the Board of Health relating to the taking and sale of fish dated Oct. 11, 1895, is hereby rescinded.

By order of the Board of Health,

JOHN T. WATERHOUSE, President.

OBSERVATIONS.

Upon investigation made by the Government, it appeared that some Chinese immigrants were signing engagements "not understandingly." This wrongful action was stopped when it was discovered. But surely the Chinese were all informed before leaving Hongkong that they could not land here unless they entered into labor contracts. Lau Chong is shrewd enough to know that deception in that respect would defeat the object of his mission. When these last few arrivals of Chinese, who have come under the new understanding, shall have sent word back home, that it is no use scheming to get away from the bargain at Hongkong, there will not be likelihood of much more trouble with fresh Chinese laborers on their arrival.

Stress is laid by a correspondent on the value of harbor improvements to the country. It would be hard to calculate how much money has been put in circulation here, in consequence of the deepening of the channel which allows the large steamers to and from China to come into the harbor. When those large vessels had to lie away off in the roadstead, few of the passengers cared to come ashore.

Nearly the latest news from Cuba tells of a battle considerably heavier than the skirmishes that have usually formed the staple of intelligence from the seat of war. It was fought a few days more than a month ago, near the headquarters of the eastern division of the insurgent army at Puerto Principe. The result was a rout of the Spanish, with fearful loss including the death of a general. A thousand insurgents under General Maceo, who were well disposed in an old sugar plantation, attacked six-hundred Spanish cavalry and at the first attack about a quarter of the Spaniards fell. The remainder retreated but, on meeting reinforcements, returned and renewed the battle. After fighting through an afternoon the Spaniards were again driven back, having lost fully five hundred killed and wounded for the day. General Saledo, who was aide-de-camp to Captain General Campos and who led the Spanish forces, died late in the afternoon from wounds received in the battle. If the insurgents continue as successful as most of the news would indicate they have been, they will not obtain recognition as belligerents from the United States much sooner than they have earned that consideration.

An unnamed missionary, who has spent fourteen years on the Congo and just returned to England, has in an interview described a reign of terror prevailing on the Upper Congo. "The valley has been desolated by the tyranny and exactions of the officials, whose sole aim is to raise revenue. If the natives resist the extortionate demands that are made upon them expeditions are sent to burn their villages and slaughter the inhabitants. Incredible cruelties are practiced by the officials." So darkest Africa is being enlightened by the flames of its poor inhabitants' homes.

It will be seen that country schools are becoming crowded as well as city ones. Education will be crying out for more money, like every other important public service, at the regular session of the Legislature.

When the steamer Australia arrives it may be seen whether the cholera scare has seriously affected the prospects of tourist travel here this winter. If we are to be left all alone with ourselves through the season, this will be a dull town both for business and recreation.

It is said that Senator Sherman disagrees with Mr. Reed and other Republican leaders on the question of opening up the tariff at the coming session. He is reported as saying that tariff revision is necessary because the treasury is need of money. Another session of tariff tinkering would mean the setting back of the better times that have started. Probably that is what the shrewd old warhorse wants, to make capital against the Democrats in the presidential election. If so, it is highly unpatriotic; it is treason to the country.

Lately a train on the London and Northwestern Railway ran nearly three hundred miles without a stop. The speed was more than fifty miles an hour, and the distance is the greatest ever made without stopping. There was coal to spare in the tender, at the end of the journey, and the engine's journals were all cool.

Another powerful dredge has been added to the Liverpool harbor equipment. It is a sister vessel to one that has been in use two years, and in that time removed more than eighteen million tons of sand.

DENTIST DERBY TALKS.

On the Prospect of the Southern California Orange Crop.

This issue contains the business announcement of Dr. A. J. Derby, D. D. S., who has opened an office at his residence at Judge Bickerton's former home on Alakea street, between Hotel and Beretania. He is a graduate of the Boston Dental College, and comes from Riverside, California, which has been his home for the past fifteen years.

The doctor visited here last June, and has spent the summer and fall upon Kauai, making a complete tour of that island.

Speaking of the last winter's orange crop in southern California, Dr. Derby says that the hard freeze, which ruined a number of the Florida orange growers, was expected to be a great godsend to the California fruit raisers. As a consequence the California people withheld a large portion of the crop, expecting a great raise in prices. Mediterranean growers took advantage of this and before the Californians could get their fruit to the Eastern market it was flooded by the European fruit men.

"Mamma, said Willie, 'do you suppose they will let me ride a bicycle when I go to heaven?'"

"What makes you ask such a question as that, dear?'"

"But I don't believe I'll be any fun," pursued Willie, pensively, "if they sprinkle the golden streets as they do ours."—Chicago Tribune.

Timely Topics

The able address by Mrs. Sturtevant-Peet, president of the California Woman's Christian Temperance Union, on the occasion of the annual convention of that body in San Francisco, contained a passage which takes strong ground on the benefits of the bicycle. In speaking of physical culture and the relation of the clothes to the subject, she said:

"All know the value of a strong unhindered body. For this reason the banishment of the corset and restricting bands is a foregone conclusion."

"Dress reform has pressed its claims for forty years, with little progress till the bicycle, that graceful, silent steed of motion, dashes through and bursts open the door of prejudice. This mystic wheel that we meet on every road and street is the mute but telling advocate of dress reform."

It has its virtues as well as its charms. It invites, yea, demands, simplicity in dress. It encourages physical exercise and utterly refuses to carry a drunken rider. Unlike the horse, it balks when touched by the hand of inebriety. It inconveniences and discourages the use of cigars and cigarettes to the number of 65,000,000 a year. In short, the wheel is a reformer, and, though, it came not through the virtue of moral conception, we should welcome its presence as we do the advent of every new invention and corporate edict bearing the balm of sobriety, with the promise of stronger and better men and women."

This is a straightforward expression from an able woman who led the California forces of one of the greatest National organizations ever instituted for the uplifting of the race. The dignity and earnestness which characterize her opinion cast into the shades the hollow objections which some physicians have made to the bicycle. Mrs. Peet gives us to understand that in the sole aspect of requiring women to dress sensibly this simple instrument of locomotion has accomplished more at a dash than the preachers on sensible dress for women have been able to bring about in nearly half a century. With so eminent an indorsement as this, even the most timid woman who is not held in what amounts to physical restraint by father, husband or brother from obeying an instinctive impulse to dress rationally and enjoy life and health on a bicycle, may at least console herself with the reflection that her impulse was right and lament that she was born a few years too soon.

In addition to the above Mrs. Peet might have mentioned the saving in labor attained by the patent sprocket attached to the Tribune wheel, which amounts to over 15 per cent, no small desideratum when ladies are concerned.

The Tribune is the wheel par excellence for ladies' use, it has the newest patents and improvements and can be run with 15 per cent less work than any other wheel in existence.

DRY GOODS

In Honolulu there is always something that demands the attention of the fair sex. More especially is this true when good bargains are offered. In catering to the wants of the Honolulu ladies, the merchants must buy judiciously and select only the most artistic designs. Especially is this true of white dress goods. I received by the AUSTRALIA a new line of these goods that are very pretty. They must be seen, however, to be appreciated. I also received a fine line of Ladies' Shirt Waists and Corsets. Now that the Cholera is over and life, socially, has resumed its normal condition, the dry goods business must increase materially in the next month. Anticipating this demand I have laid in this fine stock of goods and they are now ready for your inspection, and can be purchased at a reasonable figure.

TORTURED AND SHOT.

Cruelties to Political Prisoners in San Salvador.

San Salvador, Oct. 15.—Though denied by the Government, a report is current, on what seems the best of authority, that fourteen political prisoners were forced to work on the road near La Libertad, and after being most cruelly treated, and even subjected to tortures to make them confess the names of persons implicated in the conspiracy against the Government, were shot Saturday afternoon.

A number of other prisoners, who protested and made other signs of grief and disapprobation at the fate of their comrades, were cruelly beaten by the soldiers, as a result of which three died. Cases of cruelties to prisoners, often resulting in their death, are daily more frequent. The press insists that the Government order an investigation of these cruelties. The country is flooded with new Ezeta revolutionary proclamations dated Acapulco.

There is not a day without arrests on suspicion of being implicated in some supposed revolutionary conspiracy, and it is even claimed that a plot to assassinate President Gutierrez and a number of his principal adherents has been discovered. Troops are being constantly forwarded to the principal points on the coast. Desertions from the army continue, and yesterday afternoon the guard at the artillery barracks in this city, to the number of twenty-six, deserted in a body, taking their arms with them, and orders have been issued that deserters from the army are to be shot whenever captured.

President Gutierrez is again reported to be anxious to resign and go abroad, but his partisans, fearing that if he goes, Vice-President Prudencio Alfaro will make all entire change of the Government and place his own partisans (Liberals) into power, oppose this move on the part of Gutierrez. The army is entirely favorable to Alfaro and opposed to Gutierrez. A rumor is now current here that the Conservatives, with Jacinto Castellanos at their head, have proposed a coalition to General Manuel Rivas against Alfaro, offering to place Rivas in power provided he ride them of Alfaro. It is furthermore claimed that the clergy all over the country favor the plans of Castellanos, and have bound themselves to preach to that effect. The reports current here for the last few days that the Liberals had been offered support from Guatemala in case of trouble are officially denied by both parties. The Government claims that the most harmonious feeling now exists between the Governments of the two countries.

It is officially denied that this Government has requested that of Mexico to take any steps against General Antonio Ezeta, who is now at Acapulco. A prominent official here told the correspondent that an emissary of Antonio Ezeta made propositions to the Government here that he (Ezeta) would go to Europe and never trouble the Government if given a sum of money, but that President Gutierrez rejected this proposition with indignation, and told the emissary that he should be glad to see Ezeta invade this country, for an indignant people would soon lynch him. It is also stated that this emissary was ordered to leave the country within forty-eight hours, which he did.

"Just listen to that parrot. Isn't it a shame?" "Oh, the bird does not know what it is saying." "I know he doesn't. That is where the sorrow of it comes in. Just think of being able to swear like that without appreciating your gift."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Born a Genius Disease Threatens to Cut Short a Noble Career

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Restores Good Health.

Little May Bentley is an accomplished elocutionist and natural born speaker of only 12 years of age. She is the only child temperance lecturer before the public. Her genius, however, did not exempt her from an attack of a disease of the blood. Her own words best tell the story: "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. I heartily join with the many thousands that are recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla. I had been troubled from infancy with gatherings in the head. I was compelled to leave school upon the doctor's advice. He thought it was the only thing to save my life, but I

Continued to Grow Worse.

I was persuaded finally by a friend to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The use of one bottle acted effectively upon the blood and I began to improve. After the use of three bottles the gathering ceased and I am cured of my former trouble. I owe my life and will always remain a true friend to Hood's Sarsaparilla." CAUGHT A POP-EYED MONSTER.

A Creature That Never Sleeps and Prefers Cold and Darkness.

The Fish Commission's steamer Albatross has returned from the North with a pop-eyed denizen of the deep that is certain to be the wonder of the naturalists the world over. It is a fish, but utterly unlike anything ever caught before, and in no way resembling ordinary fishes. It was scooped in by a dredge that was at the time traveling along the bottom of the ocean a mile and a half deep.

The officers of the Albatross, who ought to know what they are talking about, say that water a mile and a half deep has many strange things about it. Water in those depths is in total darkness, or what would be called total darkness on earth. It never moves from one year's end to another, or if it does move, the currents are imperceptible. The deeper miners dig under the surface of the earth the hotter it gets, but on the contrary, the deeper a thermometer is lowered into the sea the colder it becomes. Water a mile and a half deep is about one degree above the freezing point, the same in the tropics and in the Arctic seas.

The fish that the Albatross brought here to forward at once to the Smithsonian Institution was constructed to like that sort of a situation. It was perfectly contented in darkness and had no objection to freezing cold water. Moreover, the immense pressure at such a depth was just suited to it. The queer creature was happy enough at a depth where the pressure was so great per square inch upon its surface that were it an ordinary pint bottle it would be shattered to pieces.

Professor Townsend, the learned man who had a fit of the ecstasies when this peculiar marine monster was removed from the net on the deck of the Albatross, is of the opinion that the fish would not have been able to live much higher up in the water than where it was found. Such is the make-up of the slimy fish that the professor imagines it must have felt sharp pains whenever it came anywhere within a mile of the surface of the sea.

When some men climb to the tops of the mountains they have the strange feeling of nausea, the bleeding from the nose and the fainting spells that tell them to get down as soon as possible. It is supposed to have been the same way with this fish. When it got up higher in the water where there was less pressure than in its deep submarine home, it is the idea of the naturalist that it had warning aches to tell it to swim down again.

Certain it is that the very act of bringing this fish near the surface of the sea killed it. When the enormous pressure was taken off its vital organs its heart and everything else within it began to puff up. Its bladder was forced partly out through its mouth and its eyes were driven forward out of their sockets. Doubtless it died long before this occurred.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR CHOLERA—When promptly and properly treated a recovery is almost certain. This was fully demonstrated during the prevalence of Cholera in New York in 1866. Go to bed as soon as the first symptoms appear, remain as quiet as possible, and take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in double doses until the pain ceases, and then after each operation of the bowels more than natural. Send for a physician, but take this remedy in this way until he arrives. The remedy should be kept at hand ready for instant use. It should be taken within five minutes after the first symptoms appear. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the most successful medicine that has yet been produced, not only for the milder forms of bowel complaint, but for the most virulent forms of Asiatic Cholera. TO ALL WHO USE PAINT:

The undersigned, L. C. Ables and H. P. Walton, purchased from Charles J. Wagner, the inventor of Peerless Preserving Paint, the exclusive right to manufacture, use and sell the PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT in the Hawaiian Islands.

On the 26th day of September, 1895, the Republic of Hawaii granted to L. C. Ables and H. P. Walton, a patent No. 110, granting them the exclusive right to make, use and vend PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT throughout the Hawaiian Islands.

The Republic of Hawaii has also granted to L. C. Ables and H. P. Walton the exclusive use of the words PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT as a trade mark throughout the Republic of Hawaii for the term of 20 years.

Certain parties in San Francisco have recently been sending to Honolulu under the name of PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT a spurious article not only inferior to the genuine paint, but one which is positively injurious to any metal to which it may be applied.

We hereby warn all persons against being defrauded into using any but the genuine PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT, which can be obtained only of Ables and Walton.

We also hereby warn all persons against buying, selling or using any article under the name of Peerless Preserving Paint, except that sold by us, as such buying, selling or using will be a direct infringement of our patent and trade mark, and a violation of our rights, subjecting the persons buying, selling or using such paint to a claim for damages by us in accordance with the Hawaiian Law.
