TAFT WILL ASK $10,000,000 FOR WATERING WEST

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

SPOKNE, Washington, September 28.—President Taft spoke here today in favor of the national conservation of natural resources. He stated that Secretary of the Interior Ballinger agreed with the views he expressed and went on to praise Chief of the Forest Service, Pinchot, for following the policies of President Roosevelt in this regard. The President announced that he would ask Congress to authorize the issuance of ten millions of dollars, in bonds, that the irrigation projects for the west might be completed.

RIOT JURY IS HANGING

Out a full twenty-four hours and nothing doing as to verdict is the record made up to noon today by the jury in the second trial of Jotaro Mikawa and nine other Japanese for riot at Waipahu on June 8 last.

Seven to five for conviction, was then the latest speculation around Judge De Bolt's courtroom, but new instructions having been given them the jurors may be in a different position by the time this is printed.

When word was sent into the jury room at 12 noon that the jurors might go out to luncheon, they sent back a message to the effect that they would like to stay in a little longer. A hurry-up call was made for counsel which brought Deputy Milverton in place of City Attorney Cathcart for the prosecution, together with Lightfoot for the defendants, to court inside of a quarter of an hour.

Judge De Bolt then made an order that counsel for both sides must remain in constant attendance while the trial pended.

At 12:14 the jurors filed into the box. Judge De Bolt informed them, in reply to questions they had asked, that upon consideration of the court's instruction upon the relative gravity of the offenses of riot and unlawful assembly was withdrawn. They were directed not to consider it.

On motion of Lightfoot he read to the jurors the statutes describing unlawful assembly and riot, and further instructed them that they had nothing whatever to do with the penalty the court might impose in the event of conviction. Also he instructed them that the indictment charged the defendants only with creating danger to persons and not with causing danger to property.

NAVY BOYS SEEK IN VAIN FOR FISHERMEN

A swim for life through the breakers, a rush overland to the telephone at Puuloa, a message to the police department to the effect that two men were clinging to an overturned sampan two miles off shore near Barber's point, a vain endeavor on the part of the police to communicate last night with the naval station authorities, and finally a word to an officer aboard the cruiser West Virginia that help to save life was needed; then a wireless spark over the bay and beyond the reef to the armored cruisers outside and soon four powerful speedy launches were scouting into the northwest in search of the poor chaps who could not swim and who were left clinging to a topsy-turvy bottom.

The lighthouse tender Kukui also joined the search, but like the launches, returned to port early this morning without having seen a sign of the capsized fishing boat.

A Samoan, Eotola, and two Porto Ricans, one named Sam Palma, the other's name being unknown, left Puuloa yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock to go fishing in a sampan. The Honolulu police station was telephoned and from there an attempt was made to notify someone connected with the naval station, but no one could be reached by phone. Then word was sent to the West Virginia, in port, and she wireless to the cruisers outside the harbor and they dispatched four launches at once, carefully searching a strange coast for the unfortunate fishermen. Though moonlight prevailed, there was nothing to be seen.

CHIEF CLERK'S OFFICE MAY BE ABOLISHED

The statement published about the chief clerkship is premature, Governor Frear stated at the noon hour.

"No, there has not been any appointment. There may be a reorganization in the work of the Executive department so that it may not be necessary to appoint a chief clerk."

The Governor assented to a remark that the handling of the election business and of the legislative expenses accounts were among the weightiest matters for a chief clerk, adding: "After the first of July the work of the office will be reduced, as the

LAME CRUISER MAY BE DELAYED; DUTCH AND YANKEES ASHORE

U. S. S. WEST VIRGINIA CRACKED A PISTON COMING FROM HAWAII AND MAY NOT GET AWAY THE DAY THE FLEET SAILS—AMERICAN TARS TAKE HOLLANDERS AS COMRADES IN THEIR VARIOUS DELIGHTS ON LAND.

Whether the cruiser West Virginia will go out with the rest of Admiral Sebree's armored cruisers on October 5th to the Admiralty Islands, is at present undetermined.

After the top speed test to the leeward of the Island of Maui a week ago tomorrow, the West Virginia, just before starting on the return run to Honolulu, cracked a piston and the engine room force does not believe it possible to make the required repairs in time to get away with the rest of the fleet on Tuesday next.

The cruiser Colorado, she who had an accident to her boilers coming down from San Francisco, will be in condition to leave with the others. In the event of the West Virginia not being ready to get away on October 5, the rest of the squadron will not wait for her, but will proceed to Nares Straits where they will be coaled from colliers from Newport News and Manila, and the West Virginia will probably catch up before coaling is complete.

The Yankees and the Dutch. While not as exciting as Saturday night, last night was very much alive with the presence of men-of-war-men ashore. Several thousands of the sailors from the fleet were landed, and, in addition, there were ashore about two hundred men from the Dutch man-of-war, the Noorbrabant. They were practically taken in charge by the men of the American fleet, who put them on to the ropes as far as the ways of the city were concerned. They advised them in regard to prices; directed them to places of refreshment; made up parties in which there were both Americans and Hollanders; joined with them in automobile parties, and, in more than one instance, went marching through the streets, singing with them. The best of camaraderie prevailed and the Dutchmen appeared very happy to find the Yankee tars ashore to show them around and have a good time with them.

The turned-up, stiff, straw hats of the Dutchmen, as compared with the soft canvas devices of the Americans, distinguished the Netherlands from the United States service men at a distance. There were a few among the American boys who could talk Dutch and some among the Hollanders who could speak English, so they got along well, indeed; not that language was necessary, for there are certain universal signs impossible to misunderstand. To take hold of the sleeve of a blouse and gently lead a man toward a beer is incapable of misunderstanding, as is also the act of handing him a cigar.

"Get on to the Dutch," cried a youngster who felt called upon to be funny.

"Oh, shut up!" cried an older shipmate. "They're all right, and don't you forget it."

Purser Hart of the steamer Nihaui arriving yesterday afternoon from Punaiaui reports the glow from the volcano as having been unusually brilliant on Sunday night. HOW TO PREVENT BLOOD POISON.

Carelessness and neglect are the chief causes of blood poisoning. A cut or bruise, however slight, should have immediate attention. A good liniment and one that not only gives prompt relief from pain, but being anti-septic, heals the wound without maturation, is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When this remedy is applied all danger from blood poisoning is avoided. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, September 15.—It

$10,000,000 available, and there is immediate demand for $25,000,000. Unless some method is provided for increasing the amount to be expended next season, the work of the Reclamation Service will be seriously crippled, and many settlers now residing on unfinished projects will be subjected to more or less hardship.

When Secretary Ballinger was in Spokane, attending the Irrigation Congress, Senator Borah discussed with him the advisability of a bond issue to raise ten millions or as much more as might be deemed necessary. The Secretary did not commit himself then,
and since his return from Spokane has not been willing to make any public statement with regard to the proposition. But it is known that he appreciates the importance of augmenting the reclamation of hastening the completion of the unfinished projects, and it is assumed that if Congress calls upon him for his views, he will cordially endorse any proper legislation to this end.

Whether or not there shall be a bond issue is purely a congressional question. Beyond pointing out the condition of the reclamation work,
and the urgent need for more money,
it is not the function of the Secretary of the Interior to act. But a sufficient number of Senators and Representatives from the West will be interested in the subject to see that the right kind of bills are introduced, and once introduced, will see that they are referred to Secretary Ballinger for report. If anything, there is likely to be a superfluity of legislation proposed; the trouble will come in selecting the best bill from among all that are offered. Senator Borah, having taken the lead in this bond-issue movement,
and having discussed it with Secretary Ballinger, will probably offer the first bill of the kind in the Senate, and because of his reputation as a lawyer, and his understanding with the Secretary, it is probable that his will be the bill chosen for adoption.

Any bonding legislation that is undertaken, if it is to be successful, will probably have to provide that the bonds issued shall be redeemed from the reclamation fund. Any plan which proposes to redeem these bonds out of the federal treasury is likely to be met with opposition. When the reclamation act was passed it was so ramped, at the insistence of eastern members, as to guard against future demands being made for direct appropriations to augment the reclamation fund. A failure strictly to observe the terms of that law in the apportionment of funds in times past has brought about the present shortage, and that fact alone will make it difficult to get through any bill which directly or indirectly or indirectly attempts to take money out of the federal treasury, for use in the construction of irrigation projects.

PEOPLE WILD TO SEE PARADE

NEW YORK, September 23.—Governor Hughes spoke yesterday at the dedication of the new Palisades park.
The ceremony of laying the cornerstone for the Hudson memorial monument was performed by the Governor in a drizzling rain. Despite the inclement weather, the attendance at the ceremony was enormous. The crowd was the largest that has ever turned out in New York for such an occasion.

Tickets for seats from which to witness today's parade are in unprecedented demand. Single seats in the grandstands are selling at $25, while rooms with windows fronting on the line of march are in big demand at $100. Persons owning buildings on the streets along which the parade will pass are reaping a rich harvest.

Despite the efforts of those in charge to provide ample accommodations, it will be impossible to supply seats to all applicants. Many persons who purchased their tickets early are disposing of them at a handsome profit, relying on catching a glimpse of the parade from walls and curbs.

TAFT UNDER GROUND.

BUTTE, Montana, September 23.—
Clad in a linen duster and a slouch hat and swinging a lantern as though he had been accustomed to such things
all his life, President Taft yesterday descended twelve hundred feet into a copper mine. The President was accompanied by Secretaries Ballinger and Hitchcock. After the party returned to the upper levels and emerged into the light of day, the President expressed his appreciation of the unique experience underground in enthusiastic terms.

EARTHQUAKES PREDICTED.

MESSINA, September 23.—Today, tomorrow and Thursday are likely to see seismic disturbances throughout the world, according to Frank A. Per-ret, the volcanic expert. Perret says that the unusual relative positions of the earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and the moon during the next three days will be most favorable to earthquakes and like disturbances.

JOLLY TARS FRIDAY.

There is no mistaking it, the sailors on a warship are constantly rehearsing songs and dances and reach perfection in consequence. And they do not do this with the view to entertaining the public but to excel other boys in the ships company. They have a lot of "off time" while the ships are in port and while at sea and doing stunts is one of the diversions.
The boys comprising the "Jolly Tars" minstrel company have been working together for months, some of them for years and they are always rehearsing new business, not old. It is said there will not be an old act in the program for Friday and Saturday night and even if there was there is no doubt the boys would do it so well that it would not be recognized.

It is said there are more and better dancers with this company than have ever been seen in a warship crowd of boys before and there are more genuine comedians, men who make you laugh because it is their nature rather than because it is their business and that is the kind of fun that is enjoyed. The company is a large one and the men are to take part in the circle or olio so the program will be a long one and as good as it is long. The costumes used in the first part will compare with the gorgeous affairs that used to characterize the old Primrose and West Company years ago. No expense has been spared to secure the best and most modern stage effects so the result will prove most satisfactory. The performances are to be given or the benefit of the Associated Charities because the boys are not allowed to play for their own financial benefit.

Seats are on sale at Bergstrom Music store. The demand is quite satisfactory to the beneficiaries.

THE MEN OF THE FLEET.

It is an old story now, congratulating the American fleet upon the behavior of the men ashore, but it is good to repeat it. The men we have with us now, have repeated their good record. It might be said that they made a specially creditable showing on last Sunday, because of the unusual conditions of the day, conducive to trouble. It is well known that liquor is a great cause of such trouble as was so common in the old navy, and equally well known that drinking in blind pigs, or privately around a wholesale supply, leads to larger consumption than open indulgence at a bar. Last Sunday Honolulu actually had barkeepers on the streets soliciting orders for liquors,—accosting companies of sailors on the streets with offers to secure them beer. The result was a lot of large purchases, and many a company of sailors was abroad with barrels of drink. Yet even under these circumstances, the day passed quietly. The sailors, on the whole, behaved themselves well. They were more lawlike than the community which permitted such wholesale forbidden sales. Honolulu again extends her hearty compliments to the officers and men of the Pacific fleet. They are a splendid credit to the nation.

WHICH POLE IS HARDEST TO REACH?

Lieutenant Shackleton some time ago got over any financial troubles arising out of his last Antarctic expedition, being amply repaid. His recent concern is over funds for another expedition. Now that the North Pole has been reached by Americans, the money should be easily obtained, for the British will probably be specially anxious to "get" the other Pole. Without such aid as Cook and Peary received from friendly Eskimos, the task may be harder than theirs was.

One of the stock arguments of the opponents of the liquor traffic has long been that it is lawless and in contempt of law,—that, unlike other business, it schemes to violate, evade and flout regulations rather than to respect them. It would be hard to find a better example of such a disposition than the local beer men's Sunday scheme.

The theory that the unusual relative positions of the earth, Mars and other planets may be a cause of earthquakes is a plausible one. Possibly the unusually near approach of Mars has had something to do with recent disturbances.

Speaking of Peary's questioning of Cook's polar record, where is the verification of Peary's former record of "farthest north," or of his present record of reaching the goal?

Peary's friends had better recast the old words of wisdom and say he that ruleth his own tongue is greater than he that reacheth a North Pole.

May the Eskimos are having a controversy too, as to whether Etukishuk or Ahwelab got to the Pole first. If so they are certainly worse off than we are. The name of their journal is given as Atuagagdliutit nalinginarnik tusaruminasassumik unikyvat. Imagine writing to the editor of that.

FINANCIAL VALUE OF SCHOOLING.

An interesting effort was recently made in Brooklyn to find the value, in dollars and cents, of education. Figures secured by a special investigation showed the weekly earnings of children who left school at fourteen (the end of the elementary course) until the end of their twenty-fifth year. Those who left school at fourteen began at $4 a week and at the end of the twenty-fifth year were receiving $12.75 a week. Those from the high school began at $10 a week and at twenty-five were receiving $31 a week. The total earnings of the elementary school boy in the twelve years were $5,722.50, while those of the high school boy in the eight years were $7,377.50. This is the showing that might have been expected.

The Duke of Abruzzi has broken the Himalaya mountain climbing record, having explored to a height of over 24,000 feet. But of course he will have to show Peary.

The controversy rages from Pole to Pole.

There is little doubt that the community will respond readily to the Y. M. C. A. building movement. The generosity of the late C. M. Cooke provided $50,000 as a starter and the work of the Association is of such evident value that the building enterprise should have smooth sailing.

BY L. D. TIMMONS

Although a number of deals were reported and there was considerable doing on 'Change this morning, the market, as a whole, was a trifle sleepy. No stock disclosed notable strength, but, on the other hand, the general tendency was backward. There is nothing in the situation to warrant a lapse of interest, the principal cause probably being that this is mail day and that the attention of the street has been temporarily drawn aside. Such lulls are just as apt as not to be followed by periods of exceptional activity.

Oahu came in for most of the trading, off and on the board. Street sales were 60 shares at $33.125, while on 'Change 10, 30, 35 and 100 found purchasers at the same figure. On the Twenty shares of McBryde changed hands at $3.875 and more was offered at the same. The bidding was at $3.75.

A bond sale of interest was $1,000 Hawaiian Irrigation sixes at $98. Hawaiian Sugar came up a trifle weak, although 25, 10, 10 and 10 shares sold at the old basis—$50. For the stock $49.875 was offered and $7.25 asked.

ON HILONIAN'S RUN.

The Lurline, which sailed last night for Kahului, will leave there Wednesday night for Hilo and will arrive back here Sunday morning. She will leave Tuesday morning, October 5, for San Francisco, on the schedule of the Hilonian, the Hilonian to sail the following day, October 6th.

CONTRACT FOR FILLING.

The contract for filling the Bishop Estate lands at Waikiki, the particulars of which were published in this column some days ago, will be carried out in conjunction with the filling to be done for the United States Government. About 30,000 square yards of valuable land will be reclaimed. The effort to have the land mauka of the car line at the same point filled in has been blocked by the refusal of the tenants of the land to come in on the proposition. The owners of the land are more than willing, but the Chinese duck ranchers out there have long leases, and are legally the bosses so long as their leases run. It is generally conceded to be a misfortune that all of this property cannot be filled at one and the same time.

The basis of sale of the cargo is $4.23 1/2. There is one more Magellan cargo still out and due to arrive at Delaware Breakwater in about a week. It is per the Texan, and is also a full cargo.

DIRECTORS TO INSPECT.
The directors of the Oahu Railway will go down the line in a special car tomorrow for the purpose of inspecting the new spur of the road over the Waipio lands. This branch line was completed during the summer and is now being used for the first time. The party will be piloted over it by Walter Dillingham and others.

MILK AND DAIRY ORDINANCES PASS

MEASURES FOR A PURE MILK SUPPLY MEET STRONG OPPOSITION AND CARRY BY CLOSE SHAVE AFTER A STRONG FIGHT—THE STREET DIGGING ORDINANCE PASSES IN AMENDED FORM—THE SCHOOLS RECEIVE ADDITIONAL THOUSAND.

Several very important items of business, along with much routine were despatched by the Board of Supervisors last night.

After a sharp fight the health committee carried both the dairy and the milk ordinances by a bare majority. This was final passage, the ordinances going to the Mayor for his signature.

An amendment to the ordinance for regulating the digging up of streets by corporations was adopted, and the amended bill passed on first reading. By one amendment the inspection fee is reduced from $1 to 50 cents, and instead of being applicable to a single hole the fee will cover 300 lineal feet of disturbed locality.

An additional appropriation of $1,000 for maintenance of schools and for school supplies was made in a resolution that passed first reading with only Kane's negative vote.

Two McKinley high school teachers appeared before the Board to advocate a request that the boys of the school be allowed to practice football on Makiki recreation grounds. They said that police officers had ordered the boys off the field that afternoon. Logan stated that the ground was dedicated to recreation many years ago, and athletic organizations had always had the use of it under the rule of first come first served. Kane said the trees and grass had been planted lately and it was on a complaint that the boys were damaging the tender growth that officers had been sent out to interfere. Chairman Quinn of the road committee in moving reference of the matter to that committee, said they had found the ground a garbage dump and were making it look respectable. More than a hundred trees had been planted around the border and new grass put down. However, the use of the compound as a playground could not be stopped and he promised that the committee would not do anything in that direction. He felt sure that the committee would arrange matters to satisfy the boys. The motion carried.

When the milk and dairy ordinances were called up McClellan, to allow whom to study the bills they were deferred at the previous meeting, rose and opposed the ordinances as having too many details and being liable to drive the small dairymen out of business.

Logan in reply stated that the ordinances had been under consideration for months past. Two hearings had been given to the dairymen, besides which they had held a meeting of their own in the assembly room of the Supervisors. At the latter meeting no member of the Board was present and the dairymen appointed a committee to draw up amendments to the ordinances, but it had proved that there was no amendment on which the dairymen could agree. The Board had therefore awaited in vain any united expression from the dairymen. An amending ordinance had been submitted by the committee for passage immediately after the approval of the original ones, which covered the only two objections of real hardship in the ordinances. A modification of the temperature provision was offered which was two degrees higher than the dairymen asked. There was nothing besides in the measures which most of the small dairymen were not already living up to, under the Board of Health regulations, or which could not be complied with at but slight trouble and expense. The provisions in fact were mild in comparison with the milk ordinances of progressive cities on the mainland. One of Honolulu's leading dairymen within the past few days had told the speaker that the ordinances were excellent and that the dairymen had found it impossible to agree on any objections thereto.

Cox spoke strongly against the ordinances, arguing that the provisions would not be enforced, therefore they would only be an addition to the large amount of dead letter laws passed by the Legislature. So far as they would be enforced they would merely drive poor men out of the business.

Kane also spoke against the ordinances.

McClellan stated that Paul Isenberg said to him in San Francisco that the ordinances would drive the small dairy men out of business. In answer to a statement that Mr. Isenberg before going away had based his opinion entirely on the temperature provision, the speaker said that in San Francisco Mr. Isenberg mentioned other objections to the measures.

Chairman Aylett of the health committee said he had picked holes in the ordinances from the beginning, but it was economy to pass the measures as they stood and amend provisions that did not work satisfactorily as the occasion arose. Unlike an act of the Legislature a municipal ordinance did not have to stand for two years before its defects would be cured.

Logan in closing the debate referred to the great importance the cities on the mainland were giving to the milk question. With regard to the objections against these ordinances, he recalled the fact that similar ordinances, alleging hardship and discrimination, were made against the plumbing and automobile ordinances, yet both of these were proving acceptable to the community and fruitful of public benefits. The milk ordinances were only intended to regulate those who needed regulation. Under the Board of Health regulations it was not until the fines against certain persistent offenders had been twice raised that they ceased watering their milk, and it was due to even the imperfect regulations enforced by the Board of Health that Honolulu's milk supply in general had improved 100 per cent.

J. J. Dias appeared as a champion of the small dairymen. When questioned as to where the hardships in the ordinances existed he said they required the small dairymen to build expensive milk houses. It being pointed out to him that there was no obligation to build any houses, but only regulation of sanitary conditions in houses that might be built or owned by the dairymen, he said that the questioner knew what the objections were from Attorney Watson's speech before the committee. Pressed to indicate a single requirement that would be a hardship, he mentioned the provision for a white apron on the milker.

The ordinances then passed by identical votes as follows:
Ayes—Aia, Aylett, Logan, Quinn—4.
Noes—Cox, Kane, McClellan—3.

A. numerous signed petition to have a road built from King street at Moanalua to the Oahu Railway station at Punloa was referred to the road committee. Petitioners stated that it would cost "$1,000 a month," but did not mention the number of months. Perhaps it was a clerical error for $1,000 a mile, which would be a very cheap road.

The additional appropriation of $2,000 for advertising passed second reading.

Lot Lane's appointment as fish inspector had its legality questioned by McClellan, in explaining his minority report against paying salaries of sanitary officers. Debate elicited an opinion from Deputy Attorney Milverton, to the effect that the vote of three to two, with one member excused from voting, did not constitute a majority of those present, therefore the appointment was not legal. Nevertheless, as Lane was the de facto incumbent performing the duties the payment of the salary to him was legal. An effort to reconsider the appointment was made later but failed.

Aylett, the question of appropriation having thus been opened, brought up the matter of Charles Clark's appointment as inspector on the Kalaupuu beach road contract.

Engineer Gere stated that he had followed the recommendation of the board in appointing Clark, who was now performing the duties.

Reference to the law and the minutes showed that the engineer had the independent power of making the appointment, that the board's nomination of a man was not binding on him and that, if the board's former action of authorizing the engineer to appoint a man without naming one, the required number of five affirmative votes was not obtained.

To make the business regular, a motion by Quinn carried to authorize the engineer to appoint an inspector.

A question to the road committee put by Logan, as to whether there was an hope of early attention to Palolo road, was answered by Chairman Quinn with a statement that work would be done there as soon as it could be reached, the speaker giving a list of roads on which the department was now pushing repairs and construction.

Aylett took occasion to put up an urgent plea for the widening of Hotel street between Alakea and Richards streets.

The meeting adjourned about 10:30 to Friday evening at 7:20 o'clock.

NAVY DANCE BIG AFFAIR

The ball to be given tonight by the officers of the First Squadron of the United States Pacific fleet, for the residents of Honolulu, promises to be the most brilliant affair of its kind that has taken place in years.

The decorations and electrical effects will be of a most elaborate nature and the Alakea street wharf will for the time being resemble a veritable fairyland.

The cruisers Tennessee, West Virginia and Pennsylvania are lying together, the Tennessee being on the Ewa side of the wharf. Dancing will take place on the quarter-decks of all three vessels, the odd numbers being danced on the Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

The dance numbers will be displayed on each cruiser as well as on the wharf.

Berger's Royal Hawaiian Band will be present and there will be two naval orchestras, one of which will play for the West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and the other for the Tennessee.

Cloak-rooms will be established aboard the Tennessee and West Virginia.

The receiving stand will be at the makai end of the wharf.

Two admirals and nine captains will act as receiving party.

Refreshments will be served during the evening from booths erected on the wharf.

Thirteen hundred invitations to the function have been issued but many more than this number are expected to be present as a large number of invitations are of a double nature.

Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock and will continue till 11 o'clock.

No conveyances will be allowed on the wharf and all rigs and automobiles will be stopped outside the wharf-gates.

The British steamship Romera, a new vessel, is expected here from Norfolk, Va., about November 5 with 7000 tons of coal for the naval station.

The schooner Helene left for San Francisco yesterday.

The S. S. Pleiades left for San Francisco at 6 p. m. yesterday.

The S. S. Alameda leave for San Francisco tomorrow at 10 a. m.

The S. S. Kilchattan is expected to arrive from Norfolk, Va., about November 15, with 6000 tons of coal for the Navy.

The lighthouse tender Kukui may leave for Kaula today or tomorrow or Kaula with officers of the fleet. The Kukui made quite a jaunt last week. She left here for Maunaloa bay with mail for the fleet and from there took Admiral Sebree and wife and Mrs. Leighton to Lahaina. After returning to Maunaloa Bay she took Messdames Sebree and Leight to Hilo, returning to Honolulu on Saturday and arriving the same time as the U. S. S. Tennessee. Lieut. Comdr. Houston, the inspector of lighthouses, made the trip with the visitors.

BOXERS TO MEET AT ALOHA PARK

REILLY TO TACKLE MCKARLEY TONIGHT—KID NELSON GETS A CHANCE—'IROQUOIS' TERRY TO MIX WITH McDONALD OF THE TENNESSEE—CREAM OF LOCAL BOXERS MATCHED WITH THE FLEET'S BEST GLOVEMEN.

The park is an ideal place for fistie encounters and no effort will be spared so far as the accommodation of patrons and the furnishing of sterling sport is concerned.

There are any quantity of boxers with the fleet and they seem to have been getting in shape for the Honolulu game for some time past.

Charlie Reilly, the recently-arrived San Francisco lightweight, appears to be the objective point of the naval lightweights and challenges to box him are being hurled in all directions.

The heavier divisions are also to the fore with defts and "Hurricanes," and "Thunderbolts," are as thick along Hotel street as bill collectors round the government buildings on the day when the ghost walks.

The gentlemen who are after Mr. Reilly's scalp will be accommodated to the limit. Charlie says that he came down here to box and that he is ready and willing to go into the ring tvery night this week if necessary and he is able to do so.

There will be three bouts tonight. The main event will be ten rounds at 128 pounds between Reilly and Jack McKarley on the U. S. S. West Virginia.

McKerley is one of the best lightweights with the fleet and boxed a lot round San Francisco under the nomme de guerre of Jack Evans. He fought three battels with Johnny Murghy, securing two draws. In all he has had sixty-seven battles and in the great majority of them he has pulled down the long end of the purse.

Another attraction tonight will be a go between Kid Nelson of Honolulu who recently issued a sweeping challenge, and Harry Scholl of the U. S. S. California. Nelson is said by those who have seen him box to be the goods and Scholl is a crackerjack at 105 pounds.

Perhaps his best go was a six-round draw with Ah Wing, the Chinese wonder, at Sacramento, to whom he was conceding several pounds. Tomorrow night the boys will box at 195 pounds.

Scholl is said to be one of the best men of his weight in the country and has been in the habit of tackling men several pounds bigger than himself in order to get a match.

The other preliminary tonight will be ten rounds at 120 pounds between Kid Terry of the U. S. S. Iroquois and Macdonald of the U. S. S. Tennessee.

Kid Terry is one of the most promising local youngsters in his division and should be able to make the sailor hustle. He has improved a lot since Jack Mcadden beat him and has spared no effort to learn all he could about the fistie game.

Tonight's card is a most attractive one and should draw a big crowd of civilians as well as the men of the fleet.

Charlie Reilly has always been a favorite here and there are a great many who have followed his recent fights in San Francisco through the columns of the press and who are anxious to see for themselves just how much he has improved.

The Aloha Park, where the bouts will take place, is situated on Hotel street right across from the Empire theater. Comfortable dressing rooms have been provided, an up-to-date ring erected, and the place has been excellently lighted.

Manager Fred Smith intends to give Honolulu a season of good, clean boxing, and it certainly looks as if he were going to succeed.

The referet o all the bouts will be H. M. Ayres, and the valuable services of the one and only Chalmers Graham have been secured for master of ceremonies.

The card for tomorrow night will be as follows: Bugler Sarconi of Camp Very vs. John Laron, U. S. S. West Virginia; 10 rounds at 130 pounds.

Lawson, U. S. S. Washington, vs. Thunderbolt Huggins, U. S. S. Washington; 10 rounds at 142 pounds.

Barnam, U. S. S. West Virginia, vs. George Nelson of Camp Very; 10 rounds at 155 pounds.

Sarconi should make a very good fight of it with Laron, Bob White, his manager, thinks very highly of the Camp Very boxer and is trying to secure another match for him during the week.

Tomorrow night the highly-touted "Thunderbolt" Huggins will go up against Lawson of the U. S. S. Washington and some line on his class can be obtained.

The third contest tomorrow night will

BACKERS OF JAP SANGUINE

The local Japanese are taking great interest in the match Marathon between Nigel Jackson and Tsukamoto which takes place at the Athletic Park next Sunday afternoon, commencing at 1:30 o'clock.

They are helping him with his training and have got together a fund of several hundred dollars with which to back their countryman.

The Japanese have it figured out that Tsukamoto is going to win the race and are organizing rooting choruses and manufacturing Tsukamoto banners by the hundred.

It will be a big banzal business if the Jap gets away with Nigel on Sunday.

And it certainly looks as if that would be the outcome of the race. Jackson's trainer is feeding him raw beefsteak till the runner's stomach revolts at the are and, while running him off his feet every day, doesn't seem to care particularly what time his charge gets to bed.

It would appear to anyone that knows anything about the running game that Jackson needs building up instead of running down. He stated the other night that he had lost seven pounds since starting to train for the coming Marathon. A man of Jackson's physique shouldn't lose weight that way.

His trainer should let him eat what he relishes, see that booze and smoking is cut out, and insist that he is between the sheets every night by ten o'clock.

His work on the road and track should be judiciously planned and on no account should he be allowed to over-run himself. It was this which cost Jackson the Oiaa race. Killing bursts of speed should be avoided religiously and the ten or fifteen-mile job be the order of every other day.

Jackson has speed and gameness; what he wants is condition and staying power. And to this end his trainers should bend their efforts.

SPORTS EDITOR, HAWAIIAN STAR.—I read with much interest a couple of items in your valuable paper about shooting out of season, and heartily concur with what was said. I think, however, that both you and "Nimrod," overlooked one important point. It is the law that wants altering if game is to be properly preserved. At the present moment there are plenty of pheasant chicks not over two weeks old. I have known cases where the hunters have shot the poor mother as she flew from her nest, leaving half a dozen or more tiny chicks to die of cold or starvation. No, sir, the present is no time to shoot pheasants. You can't blame the hunters, however; it is the law that is to blame. Instead of the season in Hawaii opening on Sept. 15 it ought to be made two months later. The birds are not plentiful anyway. Then a bounty ought to be given for the mungoose. He kills more pheasants than the hunters. Do this and make the opening season two months later and there will soon be plenty of pheasants and other game once again, the same as there was twenty years ago. There were good times for hunters in Hawaii in those days. I will go a little further than Nimrod and sign my name, which is

O'ROURKE IS PAU BETTING

John O'Rourke writes the Sporting Editor of the Hawaii Star to the effect that he will surely race a stable of horses on Maui next Fourth of July, provided the purses offered by the Maui executive are large enough to form an inducement for him to ship his string from Hilo.

He says in part: "If the Maui folks are going to give decent purses, that is, purses that will pay the expenses of training and shipping, I will send over some horses and will try to get other Hilo owners to do the same thing. Big purses will bring good horses, and good horses will bring the people. If the Maui Racing Association will give a purse of a thousand dollars for a tree-for-all running race they can get half of that amount back in entrance fees. I will enter two horses for such a race. If they put up a good purse for Hawaiian-breds I will enter two horse in that race also. Brughelli will give them an entry in the free-for-all trotting and pacing race. Horner is sure to send some horses over and so will McLennan, if I go. Banonica is being galloped on the beach and seems to be in air shape though I'm afraid that she will never be the same mare she was before her fall.

"One thing is certain, and that is that I won't bet a cent on a horse if I do ship to Maui but will race for the purses and for the sport of the thing. I had enough betting at the last Hilo meeting to last me for a long time."

There will be a mile race at the skating rink tomorrow night starting at 9:30, between Mead and Lovejoy for the championship of the U. S. S. Maryland.

SPORTDRIFT

The U. S. S. West Virginia nine beat the U. S. S. Pennsylvania nine yesterday by the score of 2 to 0, and their victory gives them the right to meet the U. S. S. Colorado in the final for the Hongkong cup.

Mead defeated Garnett in a mile skating race at the rink last night in the good time of 3 minutes 1 second.

A mile inter-cruiser skating race for a purse is being planned.

FIVE KINGS

Apropos of an anecdote related of the King of Hawaii.

The king of the isles, the Hawaiian isles,

Was a gambler of great repute.

He'd play bridge and poker with 'most any onlooker.

What he won—well 'twas hard to compute.

He got into a game of poker one night

Where the limit was the ceiling or sky.

He'd had varying luck as the tiger was bucked

For the cards seemed to go all awry.

A jackpot was made up and they all came in—

The gambler, the banker, the "kid,"

And the pot was a large one, about ten or twelve thousand,

And for it each one made his bid.

The monarch had threes which he filled on the draw.

The kid had the four aces pat;

The gambler and banker each said, "No, sir, we thank ye,

We won't play till we know where we're at."

When the pot had been swelled fifteen thousand or so

The kid said, "Why, I'm not to blame

But I've got four aces," and the king

Down to cases

Said, "Well, boy, you'll go down to fame.

"For this is the first time in all my existence

(And I've travelled around this world some)

That I've seen five kings baten without any cheating."

But now I'm convinced—and I'm done."

NO TYPHUS IN HAWAII

President E. A. Mott-Smith of the Board of Health desires to correct an erroneous statement published to the effect that cases of typhus had appeared in these islands.

"It is typhoid fever that the Board of Health has been called to deal with, which is much less a malignant disease than typhoid. The name of typhoid indicates its minor gravity as compared with typhus."

Mr. Mott-Smith stated that there were five cases of typhoid in the Industrial School at Waialae at last accounts. Dr. Pratt and Food Commissioner Duncan are going over there tomorrow morning to make a further investigation of the water. There are too many albuminoids in the water, which are indicative of impurity and liable to encourage typhoid.

WOODRUFF

save one. That one was George W. Woodruff, then Assistant Attorney General for the Interior Department; now federal judge in Hawaii.

This co-operative plan, under which settlers were given the opportunity of working out part of their water payments, was conceived by Director Newell of the Reclamation Service. As first proposed, it was an utterly impracticable scheme which even Garfield could not endorse. In time, however, it was whittled into the shape in which it eventually was adopted, and in that shape was submitted by Secretary Garfield to the various lawyers of his own office and of the General Land Office. One and all, with the exception of Woodruff, held that the plan could not be legally adopted by the Department under the terms of the reclamation act. Yet in face of this overwhelming advice, on whom he was supposed to rely, and acted upon the advice of a single man whose opinions were in harmony with his own.

Woodruff, before becoming Assistant Attorney General for the Interior Department, was legal advisor to Chief Forester Pinchot, and was sent to the Interior Department at Pinchot's request. Through Woodruff, Pinchot was able to keep his hand on the pulse of the Interior Department, and it was in this way that he had much to do with shaping the policies of that Department. Pinchot was in entire harmony with Newell; he believed the co-operative plan should be adopted, regardless of the law in the case, and Woodruff's opinion suited his chief. Woodruff was overruled by the Attorney General of the present administration.

In the good old Garfield-Pinchot days law was interpreted in the Interior Department and Forest Service to suit the ideas of the heads of those two branches of the federal service. Woodruff served his apprenticeship under Pinchot, and during that apprenticeship learned to twist the law to suit the emergency. In other words his function, as legal advisor to Pinchot, was to render opinions which would sustain his chief, regardless of the language and intent of the statutes. When he went to the Interior Department, he was an adept at that sort of thing. His "opinions" have returned to pierce the present administration, and are, almost without exception, being overruled as fast as they come up.
