THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1886.

EUROPE AND AMERICA IN THE PACIFIC.

Great Britain has the largest interest in the islands of the Pacific Ocean. But the Australian Colonies are reckoned rather as a continent. The old definition of an island was a portion of land surrounded by water. But all continents are surrounded by water. Australia, so far as it is occupied by British Colonies, is entitled to the dignity of a continent—Australia proper, New Zealand, the Fijis and a small slip of New Guinea. The three last-named possessions are islands in the ordinary sense, although they may originally have been parts of a continent. There is at present a strong disposition on the part of leading European Governments to divide up all the islands of the Pacific Ocean. This disposition appears to be strongest on the part of Germany and Great Britain. A writer in the November number of The Nineteenth Century affirms, that for political purposes, Germany and Great Britain have agreed, through diplomatic arrangements, that the Western Pacific shall mean that part of the Pacific Ocean lying between the 15th parallel of N. latitude and the 30th parallel of S. latitude, and between the 165th degree of west longitude and the 130th, east of Greenwich. Six months ago important declarations were made, and an understanding was reached by the governments of Great Britain and the German Empire, "relating to a demarcation of British and German spheres of influence in the Western Pacific," and especially with reference to protectorates in the regions described. This understanding relates to such islands as had not at that time protectorates, and were not considered as colonies of either country. The Galapagos Islands were excluded as already belonging to the Republic of Ecuador. But Pitcairn and Easter Islands were included. This diplomatic agreement further stipulates: "For these purposes the area of the Western Pacific was revised as above, and a conventional line of demarcation agreed upon starting from the north-east coast of New Guinea at a point near Miter Reck, on the 8th parallel of south latitude, which is the boundary between the British and German possessions on that coast, and following that parallel to point A, and thence continuing to points B, C, D, E, F and G, as indicated in the accompanying chart. East, south-east or south of this line Germany has engaged not to acquire land, accept protectorate or interfere with the extension of British influence, and to give up acquisitions of territory or protectorates already established in that part of the Western Pacific. Great Britain has entered into similar engagements concerning that part of the Western Pacific lying to the west, north-west or north of the conventional line."

The stipulation here set forth does not apply to the Samoan Islands, with reference to which there are treaties in force on the part of Germany, Great Britain and the United States; nor to the Friendly Islands (Tonga), nor are they applicable to any islands in the Western Pacific now under the sovereignty or protection of any friendly Power. The one fact, however, is significant that the two leading Powers of Europe have settled upon a policy with respect to a considerable part of the island world of the Pacific. One Power is not to interfere with the other. And by inference both are to proceed in the business of acquiring possession of every unoccupied island in the Pacific within the limits described. In the Northern Pacific and beyond the diplomatic agreement here noted are the Sandwich Islands, constituting the Hawaiian Kingdom, having about six thousand square miles. The independence of this small kingdom is guaranteed by England, France and the United States. It is admitted by this English writer that the islands are practically Americanized. Their importance, from the European point of view, is chiefly owing to the advantages of Honolulu as a coaling station.

The Ladrões are a group of about twenty small islands having an area of about 1,250 square miles. The largest, Guagan, is about ninety miles in circumference. These islands belong to the Spanish Government. There are thirty-two groups of islands in the Pacific. New Guinea, in the Western Pacific, is under three European protectorates. Holland has possession of 112,350 square miles; Germany has 68,390 square miles; Great Britain has a protectorate over 86,800 square miles, making a total now in the possession of those three Powers of 267,540 square miles. This classification of islands in the Pacific may be of interest just now.

NOTE—B. denotes British possessions; S., Spanish; G., German; F., French; I., Independent; I. G., independent with German influence; I. B., independent with British influence.

This British writer assumes that the Panama Canal will be completed; and that it will bring all these Pacific Islands into very much closer communication with European Powers than ever before. Never before has this island world assumed such importance in the eyes of European Powers, as at present. Every great maritime nation is now looking out for coaling stations in the Pacific. In nearly all such cases the coaling station ripens sooner or later into a protectorate, and that ripens finally into unqualified possession. The rivalry at present is between the Germans and the English. The former have secured by far the best part by the trade in the Pacific islands. England just now is interested in the future prospect of steamship lines by way of the Panama Canal and with others trading in Pacific waters, with a terminus at Victoria, or wherever the Canadian Pacific Railroad shall have its final terminus. Spain is not reaching out at present for larger possessions, but will cling tenaciously to all the island territory that has thus far been acquired in the Pacific. Germany, Great Britain and France are losing no opportunity to secure protectorates; while in our own country there is just now more than the usual interest in the question as to what is to be the future destiny of the Hawaiian Islands.—San Francisco Bulletin.

A Significant Warning.

The German Gazette, in an exhaustive article on Russia's financial condition, compares it to that of France before the great Revolution. The Russian debt is 5,000,000,000 roubles. The interest has risen in one decade from 100,000,000 to 261,000,000 roubles. The paper circulation is 716,000,000 roubles, of which only 165,000,000 is covered by bills convertible into currency. The Gazette warns Germans to avoid the new Russian loan.

LOCAL NEWS.

A new carriage company is projected with telephone connections on the Merchant street stand.

A case of drunkenness and one of disorderly conduct composed the entries at the Station last night.

The Minister of the Interior calls for tenders up to the 4th prox., to erect a shed at the kerosene warehouse.

Mr. H. R. Macfarlane is going to start with the new year a wagon delivery of the famous Ahulmanu Ranch butter.

His Majesty yesterday received the officers of the Chilean war training ship Pilcomayo at the Palace.

The Intermediary division of the Supreme Court will sit to-day, having a docket of six criminal and five civil cases on appeal.

The seats for the dramatic performance this evening are nearly all taken at Wiseman's office, so that persons not yet placed will have to be spry about it.

Captain Ashford has postponed the regular drill of the Honolulu Rifles till to-morrow night, on account of the dramatic entertainment in the Opera House this evening.

Dr. Robert McKibbin has removed his drug store to Chief Justice Judd's building, Fort street. Mr. Henry Hebbard, drayman, has removed his office to Lucas' Clock building, room lately occupied by Messrs. Laine & Co.

Dr. Webb is reported as having said that he saw a Chinaman probing the Asylum road with a ten-foot pole a few days ago, and on asking him what he was doing was informed by John that he was looking for his hand-cart.

The Honolulu law library has just received the following additions: Boone's Code Pleading, 2 vols., and Corporations; Haw's Jurisdiction of Courts and Parties to Actions; Deering on Negligence, and California Reports, vols. 61-66.

The Christmas entertainment of the Bethel Union Sunday school will be held this evening at the Lyceum at seven o'clock. Besides the children of the Sunday school, their parents and friends are cordially invited to be present.

Both ends of Liliha street have been put on record as in a deplorable state. When the returns are in from the middle section, it will probably be found that the thoroughfare is like Paddy's gun, that could be made as good as ever with a new lock, stock and barrel.

The repairs of damages by fire were done to the Pacific Navigation Company's building by Mr. H. Bertelmann for $650, and the whole amount of insurance due on building and goods, $2,631.76, has been paid in equal shares by Messrs. Bishop & Co. and Mr. A. J. Cartwright.

There were various persons appointed, according to different reports last evening, to the office of Deputy Marshal. The Marshal has not yet, however, selected a man for the office, and until he does so will conduct prosecutions himself in the Police Court and conduct other business of the office.

In connection with the new appointments to the Supreme Court there will also be changes in location of the offices of Judges Bickerton and Fornander, Marshal Kaulukou and Police Judge Dayton. The two first mentioned gentlemen will occupy the room now used by the Marshal, in the Government building, the Marshal takes possession of Judge Bickerton's quarters at the Police Station, and Judge Dayton will occupy a room adjoining the Police Court room.

A terrific storm of wind and rain, accompanied by thunder, broke over the city about one o'clock yesterday afternoon. It only lasted about a quarter of an hour, but made the gutters rivers and the harbor a boiling sea. The brigantine Claus Spreckels, while being towed to sea, was blown foul of the steamer Iwalani, knocking off some of the bracket work on the latter's deck houses. The barkentine Mary Winkelman and Amelia parted their stern lines and had to let go anchor.

Police Court.

The Police Court record yesterday bore the following historical entry:—

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 29, 1886. As Judge R. F. Bickerton having been promoted to the Supreme Bench as third Associate Justice, and his successor not being appointed, therefore all cases for hearing to-day are remanded to the 30th inst.

What a Pardoned Rascal Did.

The Honor that Exists Among Thieves.

Remarkable Disclosures.

Chun Hook, the Chinese burglar recaptured the other day after escaping a third time from penal servitude, has made a statement before His Honor David Dayton, Police Justice, which is given in full below. Fictitious initials are given in place of the names divulged of Chinamen who held communications with the escaped prisoner while he was last at large. This is done by request of the magistrate. Mr. Dayton, the Deputy Marshal, was given information of Chun Hook's movements at different times previous to his successful acting on that given last Monday evening, but at no time till then was there any opportunity for effecting the convict's recapture. The allegation in the prisoner's statement, that his escape was planned and assisted by a recently pardoned convict, is a somewhat startling piece of intelligence. People will ask how many more pardoned rascals are loose in the community without their identity being made known by proclamation; also, what other plans to defeat justice may they not have concocted within the prison walls to be carried out on the first opportunity. Following is Chun Hook's statement:—

Chun Hook states: A. B. and I were in prison and we had a talk, and A. B. was pardoned. Some that had serious charges against them were pardoned. A. B. told me if he was pardoned he would provide means for me to escape, and one day on the Nuuanu road A. B. asked me if I had any chance to escape. So I made up my mind to escape, and I was supplied with clothing by A. B. A. B. gave me these clothes at Manoa.

I left the ball and chain on the hillside on the Pauoa side of the stream opposite the cemetery the same night that I left. Left the ring at Manoa. I filed it off. When I ran I climbed up in a palm tree opposite the Ice Works, and remained there till after dark; then went down the stream, took off the ball and went to Manoa up the creek.

I met A. B. on the road at Manoa and he said his clansmen were to give $100 for me to get a passage to China, and C. D. (of E. F.'s place) told me that A. B. received the $100 and also wanted to lay information so that I would be arrested, and that G. H., I. J. and A. B. were trying to have me arrested. C. D. told me not to go to any place but to come to his place and he would give it to me. I have been there three times. I found afterwards that C. D. was concerned with the others, as I was to meet him there at 8 p. m. on Monday night, December 27th. I was in the banana patch when C. D. sung out to me and I came out. I think the reward should be divided between four parties.

Have not stopped in any house. I helped myself from some of the Chinese cook houses after they had gone to bed. A. B. promised to stow me away in some vessel bound to China. Met him the day I escaped, then met him again at the corner of the cemetery at 7 p. m. and he gave me a file. Then met him again on the roadside at Manoa near the stone wall and he gave me some crackers, and the fourth time A. B. was to take me to a vessel going to China. We were to meet at the corner of E. F.'s place at Pawaaw. I went down and I saw a person and thought it was A. B. So I sung out to him and it turned out to be C. D., and he told me A. B. intended to get the reward for me and that he, C. D., would supply me with provisions. Did not know C. D. before, but found out that he was a member. I am not a member of the Tong Hing Society in Honolulu, but belong to a similar one in China.

Have not had a pistol, knife or any implement. Had a small knife for cutting tobacco when I ran away, but lost it. Have a wife and boy aged eight years, and an aged mother, in China. Have been here six or seven years. I came in the China steamer during the small-pox of 1881. I also was agent. It was about China new year. Have never been in California. Was a blacksmith for tempering stone mason's chisels. Belong to the San On district of the Quang Tong province.

SUPREME COURT.

New Judges Sworn In.

The records of the Supreme Court have the following entries under date Wednesday, December 29th, 1886:—

Hon. Richard F. Bickerton having been this day commissioned as Third Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the oath of office is administered to him by Mr. Justice McCully in the Clerk's office.

Hon. Abraham Fornander having been this day commissioned as Fourth Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the oath of office is administered to him at his residence by Mr. Justice McCully.

STIPULATION.

In the three insurance cases in which C. Michiels is plaintiff, entered for the January term, the following stipulation was yesterday filed by the attorneys: "Stipulated that in the above entitled actions respectively the defendants therein have until and including the 8th day of January, 1887, to plead in said actions."

His Honor.

Yesterday Mr. David Dayton, Deputy Marshal, who has procured unnumbered summons against transgressors during the past many years, was himself summoned to the Government building. There he was served with a writ in the shape of a commission constituting him His Honor the Police Justice of Honolulu and the District of Kona, vice His Honor R. F. Bickerton, promoted to the Supreme Bench. Mr. Dayton has been connected with the police establishment of this island since 1858, first as a policeman, next as Deputy Sheriff and then, when the law creating the office of Deputy Marshal was passed, in 1878, appointed to the new office. He has therefore the distinction of having been the first Deputy Marshal in this Kingdom. In that position he has proved an always cool, calm, collected, imperturbable, judicious and industrious official, those being the very qualifications most required for the place, and that, with a knowledge of the Penal and Civil Codes acquired as public prosecutor in the Court he is now to preside over, will doubtless make him an excellent magistrate.

Knights of Pythias.

The annual meeting of Oahu Lodge, No. 1, K. of P., was held last evening at its hall on Fort street, at which a goodly number of knights were present. Amongst other business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing term. It was proposed to have a public installation of the officers, and next Wednesday evening was fixed as the date for carrying out the proposition. A communication was sent to the sister lodge, Mystic, No. 2, inviting it to take part in the ceremonies, which invitation was kindly accepted. After installing ceremonies there will be a social and dance, for which a committee was appointed to invite the families and friends of the members. Brother Chas. T. Hoyt was elevated to the position of Past Commander. The result of the election of officers is as follows: Chas. H. Clark, Chancellor; Commander; John D. Holt, Vice Chancellor; Chas. W. Hart, Prelate; John C. White, Keeper of Records and Seal; Saml. C. Dwight, Master of Finance; Jules A. Rodanet, Master of Exchequer; John Markham, Master at Arms; James Veary, Inner Guard; Chas. B. Dwight, Outer Guard.

Spoils.

The plunder found in possession of two prisoners charged with robbing McCandless Brothers' premises, while in care of the prison overseers, is made up as follows: 4 white silk handkerchiefs, 1 pair white socks, 1 undershirt, 1 razor, 1 Smith & Wesson revolver, 6 Spanish 1/4 dollars, 1 do. 1/2 dollar, 1 American 1/2 dollar, 1 gold ring with amethyst stone, 11 cartridges. How they could have stowed away so much spoil without immediate detection is one of the many mysteries associated with Hawaiian prison administration.

NOTES.

The bark Martha Davis is discharging her cargo at the P M S S Co's wharf. The schooner Rob Roy arrived yesterday with 600 bags of salt, and will sail again to-day. The schooner Mills Morris had 350 bags of paddy from Ewa yesterday. The brigantine Claus Spreckels sailed yesterday with 779 bags of rice, 400 barrels of molasses, 75 bunches of bananas, and 12 empty gasoline tanks. The barkentine Forest Queen was taken out to sea yesterday. She had 15,348 bags of sugar and 100 bunches of bananas. The bark Nellie May is taking ballast at Wilder's wharf. She will sail for Port Townsend sometime this week. The ship Mercury is docked this side of the P M S S Co's wharf, where she will discharge her cargo of coal. The wind has been more favorable for coasting schooners the past 2 days, and they are taking advantage of it. The bark Martha Davis is the cleanest and brightest looking vessel that has been here for some time.

THE DERIVISHES OF PERSIA.

They are a lot of Conscienceless, Sensualistic Frauds—Higher Grades. Among the religious institutions of Persia the derishahs are the most prominent.

The common beggar derishah is a fellow of pronounced depravity. His appearance is bad enough. He wears rags, begrimed and filthy beyond belief. His beard and hair are left growing, and are unkempt and full of vermin.

The higher grade derishahs style themselves Ahle ahsan, free people, and are generally men of some education, but are, like the other kind, ardent vagabonds, and worse if the opportunity is favorable.

Buffalo Bill's Title. "I earned the title of Buffalo Bill by killing buffaloes on the plains. The Kansas Pacific railroad was being built through the heart of the buffalo country in 1877. Some 1,500 hands were employed at that end of the route. The Indians were constantly on the war path, and fresh meat was difficult to obtain.

Manuscript and Magazines. Mr. Ivan Moran sold a story four or five years ago to Mr. Bunce, then the editor of Appleton's Journal, for $85. That journal ceased to exist before Ivan's story saw daylight in its columns, and Mr. Bunce returned it to the author.

Great Estates Kept For Shooting. Scotch hunting is a gentleman's occupation. The poor dare not shoot the game which runs all about them, and the rabbits are as tame as kittens.

Objecting to the Expense. It is really disgraceful that taxpayers should be asked to defray the cost of all royal passages across the channel. Every time the Prince of Wales crosses to Calais or Boulogne the public have to pay £40, and even the traveling expenses of the Grand Duke of Hess and the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Strzelitz and other members of the family are borne by the country.

Modjeska to Young Mrs. Blaine. This extract from Mrs. Modjeska's letter to the young Mrs. Blaine contains the wisdom of experience: "I shall miss you, of course, but it is far better for you that you are not going on the stage after all. Our life is not all strewn with roses, and the existence of a young, beautiful girl in our profession is something very sad, believe me. You were born to shine—but not on the stage; you will shine in society and be the pride of your husband and yours, and when you are old you will have a circle of devoted friends around which will make your life sweet and easy.

Personalties in France. Sarcey tells, amusingly enough, how The Figaro for years twisted him about the size of his ears. Once The Figaro had a story about him somewhat as follows: A man was seen loitering along the Seine, trying to wrench out of the masonry the big iron rings boats are fastened to. When arrested by the police it turned out to be Francisque Sarcey. What he was doing was searching for earrings for his own adornment.—The Argonaut.

The Queen's Umbrella. Queen Victoria was presented a few days ago with a specially made umbrella from Glasgow. The handle was a round globe of fine gold representing the world, studded over with precious stones to represent her majesty's dominions.

JUDGE NOT.

And he brought the stones down from the mountain. Deep engraven by God's own hand, And they of religion the fountain, But how few have kept their command!

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1886.

EUROPE AND AMERICA IN THE PACIFIC.

Great Britain has the largest interest in the islands of the Pacific Ocean. But the Australian Colonies are reckoned rather as a continent. The old definition of an island was a portion of land surrounded by water. But all continents are surrounded by water. Australia, so far as it is occupied by British Colonies, is entitled to the dignity of a continent—Australia proper, New Zealand, the Fijis and a small slip of New Guinea. The three last-named possessions are islands in the ordinary sense, although they may originally have been parts of a continent. There is at present a strong disposition on the part of leading European Governments to divide up all the islands of the Pacific Ocean. This disposition appears to be strongest on the part of Germany and Great Britain. A writer in the November number of The Nineteenth Century affirms, that for political purposes, Germany and Great Britain have agreed, through diplomatic arrangements, that the Western Pacific shall mean that part of the Pacific Ocean lying between the 15th parallel of N. latitude and the 30th parallel of S. latitude, and between the 165th degree of west longitude and the 130th, east of Greenwich. Six months ago important declarations were made, and an understanding was reached by the governments of Great Britain and the German Empire, "relating to a demarcation of British and German spheres of influence in the Western Pacific," and especially with reference to protectorates in the regions described. This understanding relates to such islands as had not at that time protectorates, and were not considered as colonies of either country. The Galapagos Islands were excluded as already belonging to the Republic of Ecuador. But Pitcairn and Easter Islands were included. This diplomatic agreement further stipulates: "For these purposes the area of the Western Pacific was revised as above, and a conventional line of demarcation agreed upon starting from the north-east coast of New Guinea at a point near Miter Rock, on the 8th parallel of south latitude, which is the boundary between the British and German possessions on that coast, and following that parallel to point A, and thence continuing to points B, C, D, E, F and G, as indicated in the accompanying chart. East, south-east or south of this line Germany has engaged not to acquire land, accept protectorate or interfere with the extension of British influence, and to give up acquisitions of territory or protectorates already established in that part of the Western Pacific. Great Britain has entered into similar engagements concerning that part of the Western Pacific lying to the west, north-west or north of the conventional line." The stipulation here set forth does not apply to the Samoan Islands, with reference to which there are treaties in force on the part of Germany, Great Britain and the United States; nor to the Friendly Islands (Tonga), nor are they applicable to any islands in the Western Pacific now under the sovereignty or protection of any friendly Power. The one fact, however, is significant that the two leading Powers of Europe have settled upon a policy with respect to a considerable part of the island world of the Pacific. One Power is not to interfere with the other. And by inference both are to proceed in the business of acquiring possession of every unoccupied island in the Pacific within the limits described. In the Northern Pacific and beyond the diplomatic agreement here noted are the Sandwich Islands, constituting the Hawaiian Kingdom, having about six thousand square miles. The independence of this small kingdom is guaranteed by England, France and the United States. It is admitted by this English writer that the islands are practically Americanized. Their importance, from the European point of view, is chiefly owing to the advantages of Honolulu as a coaling station.

The Ladrone are a group of about twenty small islands having an area of about 1,250 square miles. The largest, Guagan, is about ninety miles in circumference. These islands belong to the Spanish Government. There are thirty-two groups of islands in the Pacific. New Guinea, in the Western Pacific, is under three European protectorates. Holland has possession of 112,350 square miles; Germany has 68,390 square miles; Great Britain has a protectorate over 86,800 square miles, making a total now in the possession of those three Powers of 267,540 square miles. This classification of islands in the Pacific may be of interest just now.

NOTE.—B. denotes British possessions; S., Spanish; G., German; F., French; I., independent; I. G., independent with German influence; I. B., independent with British influence.

This British writer assumes that the Panama Canal will be completed; and that it will bring all these Pacific Islands into very much closer communication with European Powers than ever before. Never before has this island world assumed such an importance in the eyes of European Powers, as at present. Every great maritime nation is now looking out for coaling stations in the Pacific. In nearly all such cases the coaling station ripens sooner or later into a protectorate, and that ripens finally into unqualified possession. The rivalry at present is between the Germans and the English. The former have secured by far the best part by the trade in the Pacific islands. England just now is interested in the future prospect of steamship lines by way of the Panama Canal and with others trading in Pacific waters, with a terminus at Victoria, or wherever the Canadian Pacific Railroad shall have its final terminus. Spain is not reaching out at present for larger possessions, but will cling tenaciously to all the island territory that has thus far been acquired in the Pacific. Germany, Great Britain and France are losing no opportunity to secure protectorates; while in our own country there is just now more than the usual interest in the question as to what is to be the future destiny of the Hawaiian Islands.—San Francisco Bulletin.

A Significant Warning.

The German Gazette, in an exhaustive article on Russia's financial condition, compares it to that of France before the great Revolution. The Russian debt is 5,000,000,000 roubles. The interest has risen in one decade from 100,000,000 to 261,000,000 roubles. The paper circulation is 716,000,000 roubles, of which only 165,000,000 is covered by bills convertible into currency. The Gazette warns Germans to avoid the new Russian loan.

LOCAL NEWS.

A new carriage company is projected with telephone connections on the Merchant street stand.

A case of drunkenness and one of disorderly conduct composed the entries at the Station last night.

The Minister of the Interior calls for tenders up to the 4th prox., to erect a shed at the kerosene warehouse.

Mr. H. R. Macfarlane is going to start with the new year a wagon delivery of the famous Ahulmanu Ranch butter.

His Majesty yesterday received the officers of the Chilean war training ship Pilcomayo at the Palace.

The Intermediary division of the Supreme Court will sit to-day, having a docket of six criminal and five civil cases on appeal.

The seats for the dramatic performance this evening are nearly all taken at Wiseman's office, so that persons not yet placed will have to be spry about it.

Captain Ashford has postponed the regular drill of the Honolulu Rifles till to-morrow night, on account of the dramatic entertainment in the Opera House this evening.

Dr. Robert McKibbin has removed his drug store to Chief Justice Judd's building, Fort street. Mr. Henry Hebbard, drayman, has removed his office to Lucas' Clock building, room lately occupied by Messrs. Laine & Co.

Dr. Webb is reported as having said that he saw a Chinaman probing the Asylum road with a ten-foot pole a few days ago, and on asking him what he was doing was informed by John that he was looking for his hand-cart.

The Honolulu law library has just received the following additions: Boone's Code Pleading, 2 vols., and Corporations; Haw's Jurisdiction of Courts and Parties to Actions; Deering on Negligence, and California Reports, vols. 61-66.

The Christmas entertainment of the Bethel Union Sunday school will be held this evening at the Lyceum at seven o'clock. Besides the children of the Sunday school, their parents and friends are cordially invited to be present.

Both ends of Liliha street have been put on record as in a deplorable state. When the returns are in from the middle section, it will probably be found that the thoroughfare is like Paddy's gun, that could be made as good as ever with a new lock, stock and barrel.

The repairs of damages by fire were done to the Pacific Navigation Company's building by Mr. H. Bertelmann for $650, and the whole amount of insurance due on building and goods, $2,631.76, has been paid in equal shares by Messrs. Bishop & Co. and Mr. A. J. Cartwright.

There were various persons appointed, according to different reports last evening, to the office of Deputy Marshal. The Marshal has not yet, however, selected a man for the office, and until he does so will conduct prosecutions himself in the Police Court and conduct other business of the office.

In connection with the new appointments to the Supreme Court there will also be changes in location of the offices of Judges Bickerton and Fornander, Marshal Kaulukou and Police Judge Dayton. The two first mentioned gentlemen will occupy the room now used by the Marshal, in the Government building, the Marshal takes possession of Judge Bickerton's quarters at the Police Station, and Judge Dayton will occupy a room adjoining the Police Court room.

A terrific storm of wind and rain, accompanied by thunder, broke over the city about one o'clock yesterday afternoon. It only lasted about a quarter of an hour, but made the gutters rivers and the harbor a boiling sea. The brigantine Claus Spreckels, while being towed to sea, was blown foul of the steamer Iwalandi, knocking off some of the bracket work on the latter's deck houses. The barkentine Mary Winkelman and Amelia parted their stern lines and had to let go anchor.

Police Court.

The Police Court record yesterday bore the following historical entry:—

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 29, 1886. As Judge R. F. Bickerton having been promoted to the Supreme Bench as third Associate Justice, and his successor not being appointed, therefore all cases for hearing to-day are remanded to the 30th inst.

CHUN HOOK.

The Recaptured Convict Makes a Statement.

What a Pardoned Rascal Did.

The Honor that Exists Among Thieves.

Remarkable Disclosures.

Chun Hook, the Chinese burglar recaptured the other day after escaping a third time from penal servitude, has made a statement before His Honor David Dayton, Police Justice, which is given in full below. Fictitious initials are given in place of the names divulged of Chiuamen who held communications with the escaped prisoner while he was last at large. This is done by request of the magistrate. Mr. Dayton, the Deputy Marshal, was given information of Chun Hook's movements at different times previous to his successful acting on that given last Monday evening, but at no time till then was there any opportunity for effecting the convict's recapture. The allegation in the prisoner's statement, that his escape was planned and assisted by a recently pardoned convict, is a somewhat startling piece of intelligence. People will ask how many more pardoned rascals are loose in the community without their identity being made known by proclamation; also, what other plans to defeat justice may they not have concocted within the prison walls to be carried out on the first opportunity. Following is Chun Hook's statement:—

Chun Hook states: A. B. and I were in prison and we had a talk, and A. B. was pardoned. Some that had serious charges against them were pardoned. A. B. told me if he was pardoned he would provide means for me to escape, and one day on the Nuuanu road A. B. asked me if I had any chance to escape. So I made up my mind to escape, and I was supplied with clothing by A. B. A. B. gave me these things at Manoa.

I left the ball and chain on the hillside on the Pauoa side of the stream opposite the cemetery the same night that I left. Left the ring at Manoa. I filed it off. When I ran I climbed up in a palm tree opposite the Ice Works, and remained there till after dark; then went down the stream, took off the ball and went to Manoa up the creek.

I met A. B. on the road at Manoa and he said his clansmen were to give $100 for me to get a passage to China, and C. D. (of E. F.'s place) told me that A. B. received the $100 and also wanted to lay information so that I would be arrested, and that G. H., I. J. and A. B. were trying to have me arrested. C. D. told me not to go to any place but to come to his place and he would give it to me. I have been there three times. I found afterwards that C. D. was concerned with the others, as I was to meet him there at 8 p. m. on Monday night, December 27th. I was in the banana patch when C. D. sung out to me and I came out. I think the reward should be divided between four parties.

Have not stopped in any house. I helped myself from some of the Chinese cook houses after they had gone to bed. A. B. promised to stow me away in some vessel bound to China. Met him the day I escaped, then met him again at the corner of the cemetery at 7 p. m. and he gave me a file. Then met him again on the roadside at Manoa near the stone wall and he gave me some crackers, and the fourth time A. B. was to take me to a vessel going to China. We were to meet at the corner of E. F.'s place at Pawaa. I went down and I saw a person and thought it was A. B. So I sung out to him and it turned out to be C. D., and he told me A. B. intended to get the reward for me and that he, C. D., would supply me with provisions. Did not know C. D. before, but found out that he was a member. I am not a member of the Tong Hing Society in Honolulu, but belong to a similar one in China.

Have not had a pistol, knife or any implement. Had a small knife for cutting tobacco when I ran away, but lost it. Have a wife and boy aged eight years, and an aged mother, in China. Have been here six or seven years. I came in the China steamer during the small-pox of 1881. L. A. was agent. It was about China new year. Have never been in California. Was a blacksmith for tempering stone mason's chisels. Belong to the San On district of the Quang Tong province.

"Johnny," said the editor to his hopeful, "are you in the first class at school?" "No," replied the youngster, who had studied the paternal sheet, "I am registered as second-class matter."

SUPREME COURT.

New Judges Sworn In.

The records of the Supreme Court have the following entries under date Wednesday, December 29th, 1886:— Hon. Richard F. Bickerton having been this day commissioned as Third Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the oath of office is administered to him by Mr. Justice McCully in the Clerk's office.

Hon. Abraham Fornander having been this day commissioned as Fourth Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the oath of office is administered to him at his residence by Mr. Justice McCully.

STIPULATION.

In the three insurance cases in which C. Michiels is plaintiff, entered for the January term, the following stipulation was yesterday filed by the attorneys: "Stipulated that in the above entitled actions respectively the defendants therein have until and including the 8th day of January, 1887, to plead in said actions."

His Honor.

Yesterday Mr. David Dayton, Deputy Marshal, who has procured unnumbered summons against transgressors during the past many years, was himself summoned to the Government building. There he was served with a writ in the shape of a commission constituting him His Honor the Police Justice of Honolulu and the District of Kona, vice His Honor R. F. Bickerton, promoted to the Supreme Bench. Mr. Dayton has been connected with the police establishment of this island since 1858, first as a policeman, next as Deputy Sheriff and then, when the law creating the office of Deputy Marshal was passed, in 1878, appointed to the new office. He has therefore the distinction of having been the first Deputy Marshal in this Kingdom. In that position he has proved an always cool, calm, collected, imperturbable, judicious and industrious official, those being the very qualifications most required for the place, and that, with a knowledge of the Penal and Civil Codes acquired as public prosecutor in the Court he is now to preside over, will doubtless make him an excellent magistrate.

Knights of Pythias.

The annual meeting of Oahu Lodge, No. 1, K. of P., was held last evening at its hall on Fort street, at which a goodly number of knights were present. Amongst other business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing term. It was proposed to have a public installation of the officers, and next Wednesday evening was fixed as the date for carrying out the proposition. A communication was sent to the sister lodge, Mystic, No. 2, inviting it to take part in the ceremonies, which invitation was kindly accepted. After installing ceremonies there will be a social and dance, for which a committee was appointed to invite the families and friends of the members. Brother Chas. T. Hoyt was elevated to the position of Past Commander. The result of the election of officers is as follows: Chas. H. Clark, Chancellor; Commander; John D. Holt, Vice Chancellor; Chas. W. Hart, Prelate; John C. White, Keeper of Records and Seal; Saml. C. Dwight, Master of Finance; Jules A. Rodanet, Master of Exchequer; John Markham, Master at Arms; James Veary, Inner Guard; Chas. B. Dwight, Outer Guard.

Spills.

The plunder found in possession of two prisoners charged with robbing McCandless Brothers' premises, while in care of the prison overseers, is made up as follows: 4 white silk handkerchiefs, 1 pair white socks, 1 undershirt, 1 razor, 1 Smith & Wesson revolver, 6 Spanish 1/4 dollars, 1 do. 1/2 dollar, 1 American 1/2 dollar, 1 gold ring with amethyst stone, 11 cartridges. How they could have stowed away so much spoil without immediate detection is one of the many mysteries associated with Hawaiian prison administration.

NOTES.

The bark Martha Davis is discharging her cargo at the P M S S Co's wharf. The schooner Rob Roy arrived yesterday with 600 bags of salt, and will sail again to-day. The schooner Mille Morris had 300 bags of paddy from Ewa yesterday. The brigantine Claus Spreckels sailed yesterday with 275 bags of rice, 400 barrels of molasses, 75 bunches of bananas, and 42 empty gasoline tanks. The barkentine Forest Queen was taken out to sea yesterday. She had 15,341 bags of sugar and 100 bunches of bananas. The bark Nellie May is taking ballast at Wilder's wharf. She will sail for Port Townsend sometime this week. The ship Mercury is docked this side of the P M S S Co's wharf, where she will discharge her cargo of coal. The wind has been more favorable for coasting schooners the past 2 days, and they are taking advantage of it. The bark Martha Davis is the cleanest and brightest looking vessel that has been here for some time.

THE DERIVISHES OF PERSIA.

They are a lot of Conscienceless, Sensualistic Frauds—Higher Grades. Among the religious institutions of Persia the derishahs are the most prominent.

The common beggar derishah is a fellow of pronounced depravity. His appearance is bad enough. He wears rags, begrimed and filthy beyond belief. His beard and hair are left growing, and are unkempt and full of vermin.

The higher grade derishahs style themselves Ahle ahsan, free people, and are generally men of some education, but are, like the other kind, ardent vagabonds, and worse if the opportunity is favorable.

Fun Among English Aristocrats. The gaiety at dinner sometimes rises into hilarity. On a hot night in June not many years ago I was dining with a young earl.

At the center of the long room the young aristocrats now heaped up in a mass all the movable furniture, sofas, ottomans and chairs. Then nearly every man of the company in turn started from the head of the room to leap over the pile.

These young fellows had not drunk any great quantity of wine; their exhilaration was simply natural spirit, the result of high health, youth and intimate company, and a feeling that whatever they did, their doing it made it appropriate.

Great Estates Kept For Shooting. Scotch hunting is a gentleman's occupation. The poor dare not shoot the game which runs all about them, and the rabbits are as tame as kittens.

These Scottish moors I had always supposed to be something like the American swamp or marsh. I was surprised to find that they are mountainous lands covered with grass and the low bushes known as heather.

Personalities in France. Sarcey tells, amusingly enough, how The Figaro for years twisted him about the size of his ears. Once The Figaro had a story about him somewhat as follows: A man was seen loitering along the Seine, trying to wrench out of the masonry the big iron rings boats are fastened to.

The Queen's Umbrella. Queen Victoria was presented a few days ago with a specially made umbrella from Glasgow. The handle was a round globe of fine gold representing the world, studded over with precious stones to represent her majesty's dominions.

And he brought the stones down from the mountain. Deep engraven by God's own hand, And they of religion the fountain, But how few have kept their command!

AN ERA OF FRAUDS.

How Charity Organizations are Used by Those Too Lazy to Work. The Charity Organization society, which is located in a quiet part of University place, and which is managed by some well known philanthropic ladies, is a society that is doing much good in the way of assisting the worthy poor and in putting them in positions where they can help themselves.

"We do the best we can," said the special agent, whose business it is to receive these visitors. "But I assure you we get just a trifle discouraged at times, and our faith in human nature is frequently and violently shaken."

"What percentage of those whom you assist turn out to be deserving?" "Well, it may seem a strange statement, but as a matter of fact I believe that 90 per cent. of them are frauds. No, it's not drink, although drink in many cases has much to do with it. If I were asked what I find to be the cause of destitution in most of the cases that I am called upon to investigate, I should say that it is laziness, pure and unadulterated. I have here now a letter from a man who ought to need help from no one. We have placed him in good positions three times. He has lost them by carelessness, and now he comes back to us. He is but a sample. There is a class that seem to think that they are entitled to be supported by public charity. But we must deal with all lest the deserving be overlooked. The mantle of charity is broad and covers many things," the long suffering lady continued.

Buffalo Bill's Title. "I earned the title of Buffalo Bill by killing buffaloes on the plains. The Kansas Pacific railroad was being built through the heart of the buffalo country in 1877. Some 1,500 hands were employed at that end of the route. The Indians were constantly on the war path, and fresh meat was difficult to obtain. Hunters were engaged to kill buffaloes for the firm who had the contract for boarding the employees of the road. I had some little reputation as a good shot, and especially at live cattle, so I was engaged at a salary of $300 per month to kill buffaloes. Twelve of these huge animals were required each day. Nothing but the best and largest were eaten. I knew the work would be very dangerous, because the Indians were riding all over the country, indulging in their favorite sport of killing a white man when they caught one alone on the prairie. But I agreed to furnish the meat, Indians or no Indians. I knew I would often be five or ten miles from the road and was liable to attack by the redskins. My success as a meat provider was so great the road hands began to call me Buffalo Bill, and the name has remained with me. Many stirring adventures occurred to me during the seventeen months I hunted buffaloes for the Kansas Pacific road. I killed 4,250 buffaloes, besides some Indians.—New York Mail and Express.

Manuscript and Magazines. Mr. Ivan Moran sold a story four or five years ago to Mr. Bunce, then the editor of Appleton's Journal, for $85. That journal ceased to exist before Ivan's story saw daylight in its columns, and Mr. Bunce returned it to the author. When the Manhattan started, its editor, Mr. Forman, gave Mr. Moran $50 for it. That magazine went the way of all weaklings before they had time to give the world Mr. Moran's story. Last week Mr. Moran sold that story once more, and received $30 for it. The story would fill three columns of a daily paper and Mr. Moran has received $185 for it already! But Mr. Moran isn't always as fortunate as that. Last week he received this from Frank Leslie's publishing house: "My dear Moran: Please find poem enclosed. Its merits are fully appreciated, but the unfortunate fact remains that about $100 worth (cost price, of course) of your poems are still awaiting publication with us. Yours, very truly, Benj. G. Smith."—New York Graphic.

Objecting to the Expense. It is really disgraceful that taxpayers should be asked to defray the cost of all royal passages across the channel. Every time the Prince of Wales crosses to Calais or Boulogne the public have to pay £40, and even the traveling expenses of the Grand Duke of Hess and the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Strzelitz and other members of the family are borne by the country. All these people receive large allowances, out of which they ought to be able to defray such expenses instead of asking the taxpayers in this scandalous manner, especially as the whole of these passages are mere pleasure trips. If the ordinary seamen are not good enough for the royalties, let them hire special boats at their own expense, as they can well afford to do, thanks to the exuberant liberality of parliament.—London Truth.

Modjeska to Young Mrs. Blaine. This extract from Mrs. Modjeska's letter to the young Mrs. Blaine contains the wisdom of experience: "I shall miss you, of course, but it is far better for you that you are not going on the stage after all. Our life is not all strewn with roses, and the existence of a young, beautiful girl in our profession is something very sad, believe me. You were born to shine—but not on the stage; you will shine in society and be the pride of your husband and yours, and when you are old you will have a circle of devoted friends around which will make your life sweet and easy. An actress is only appreciated at the time of her glory; when she has given to the world all that was best in her she is like an empty bottle—no one cares for her any more.—Exchange.

Unique Fence Posts. A Burlington, Vt., man takes railroad rails has them painted black and the flange bored for wires, and then uses them for fence posts. The effect is said to be unique and striking.—Chicago Times.
