

DEATH OF THE PRESIDENT

FOR A WEEK HOPE REIGNED, THEN DEATH.

A Stricken Nation Unites in Mourning For Its Loss—Honors Paid The Dead The World Over.

THE FINAL MOMENTS.

BUFFALO, September 14.—President McKinley died at 2:15 this morning. His last breath passed calmly and almost imperceptibly. Peace and forgiveness were written on his white face. He had been unconscious for several hours before the end came, and his death was free from pain.

Secretary Cortelyou made the announcement. He came out of the Milburn house and walked slowly down to the newspaper men, who were congregated behind the rope barrier.

"The President died at 2:15 o'clock," said he, in an even voice.

All night the President battled with death. At 10 o'clock he was alone in the combat. Science, skill, infinite tenderness, were beaten and hopeless. Surgeons and physicians measured his brief span by moments. They had no hope and offered none. Mystified, baffled and defeated, they stood aside and left William McKinley alone to face the inevitable.

BEGINNING OF THE END.

Bulletins of the First Day of Unfavorable Symptoms.

BUFFALO, September 12.—The following official bulletins tell the story of the President's progress through the day and evening:

6:20 A. M. The President has had a comfortable night. Pulse 122, temperature 100.2.

9:30 A. M. The President has spent a quiet and restful night and has taken much nourishment. He feels better this morning than at any time. He has taken a little solid food this morning and relished it. Pulse 120, temperature 100.2.

3 P. M. The President's condition is very much the same as this morning. His only complaint is of fatigue. He continues to take sufficient amount of food. Pulse 126, temperature 100.2 degrees.

8:30 P. M. The President's condition is not quite so good. His food has not agreed with him and has been stopped. Excretion has not been properly established. The kidneys are acting well. His pulse is not satisfactory, but has improved in the last two hours. The wound is doing well. He is resting quietly. Temperature, 100.2, pulse 125.

Midnight. All the unfavorable symptoms in the President's condition have improved since the last bulletin. Pulse 120, temperature 100.2.

THE FIGHT FOR LIFE.

The long Useless Struggle of September 13.

BUFFALO, September 13.—President McKinley commenced wearing away a little before 3 o'clock this morning. Throughout the day and evening hopes of the attendants, physicians and friends oscillated as the pendulum beat here and there.

During the day President McKinley was conscious when he was not sleeping. Early in the morning, when he awoke, he looked out of the window and saw that the sky was overcast with heavy clouds.

"It is not so bright as it was yesterday," he said. His eyes then caught the waving branches of trees, glistening with rain, and their bright green evidently made an agreeable impression upon him.

"It is pleasant to see them," said he, feebly.

Mrs. McKinley did not take her usual drive today. She saw the President only once before night and then only for a moment. No words passed between them. The physicians led her to the bedside of her husband, and after she had looked at him for a moment, they led her away.

As fast as steam could bring them the President's secretaries, the members of his family and his physicians, who had left convinced that the President would recover, were whirled back to this city. They went at once to the house in which he was lying, and information which they obtained there was of a nature to heighten rather than relieve their fears. At night the doctors worked to keep the President alive.

THE CITY IN MOURNING

HONOLULU GRIEVES OVER THE SAD NEWS.

Citizens and People of All Nationalities Join in Sorrowing Over the Nation's Great Loss.

The private offices of the lawyers and professional men generally, closed this morning with the banks, positive notices on their doors to the effect that they were closed out of respect for the death of the late president. The doctors were performed obliged to keep their regular hours.

"Probing the general feeling there will be a large mass meeting at the drill shed tonight besides a heavy attendance at the hall in Castle and Cooke's building this afternoon.

A general air of solemnity and silence broods over the city today. Even in the Oriental quarter there is a distinct observance of the fact that something has happened of international disaster.

The initiative given by the leading merchants was speedily followed by others and by noon few houses remained open. The general feeling of sadness that reigns throughout the city is intense if quiet.

Perhaps nowhere in the city is the feeling manifested more visibly than along the water front. Those that go down to the sea in ships are proverbially sensitive where sympathy is called into play and there is not a rigging in the harbor that does not display its national ensign flying at half mast and mutely signalling to the breezes the tale of disaster and death. Ensigns of all nations show their sympathy with the irreparable loss sustained by the Republic in whose harbor they are trading.

At the various consulates and over stores the standards of America, England, Germany, France, Portugal, China and Japan notify respect and friendship to the Republic. In some instances flags stars have been hastily erected as a means of showing publicly the sense the owners of the building have of the national bereavement.

The stores generally closed at noon today in recognition of the news. There is a movement on foot to include tomorrow as well as this afternoon in the period of closure but nothing definite had been arrived at before lunch today. The merchants generally agreed that the stores would of course be closed on whatever day was selected to be set apart for Memorial Day and that aside from this, unless there was a general and spontaneous movement, the present closing arrangements would be sufficient. The Stock Exchange adjourned at 10:30.

At the churches this evening, while no special meetings have been called the regular prayer meetings will take place and memorial services. There will be a mass memorial meeting at the Central Union Church on Sunday evening, by which time the Rev. Kincaid will have returned.

A committee was appointed this morning to wait upon the Governor and has consented to address the meeting.

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED.

Memorial Exercises Will Be Held on Friday.

The public schools will be closed today out of respect to the memory of the late President.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Atkinson has announced his desire that all teachers on Friday September 27 shall hold exercises in their several school rooms in which they will instruct their pupils of various grades as to the calamity which has befallen our Republic and the heinousness of the crime which has been committed.

Where singing can be used the Superintendent would suggest the introduction of the hymn "Nearer, my God to Thee" whose words were uttered by the dying president as he was passing to the great beyond.

It is further suggested that the exercises be not made too lengthy and that after their conclusion the regular order of work for the day be taken up and carried through. School will be held tomorrow as usual.

A FAST TRIP.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 15.—A fast trip of fourteen days from Honolulu was made by the American ship Emily Reed, arriving yesterday from Honolulu with 16,404 bags of sugar.

HALF HOUR GUNS.

Half hour guns were fired at the naval station today from sunrise to sunset, out of respect of the memory of President McKinley. The flags were also displayed at half mast.

HOUSES GOING UP.

Purchasers in College Hills are beginning to build; three residences are in course of construction, another begins next week. Plans for others are in the hands of local architects.

The "Allston" will prove the most popular shoe here. It's new to Honolulu and can be had at McNerny's.

Practical Skirt and Waist Hangers. Every Lady should have them. Also, Practical Trousers' Hangers and Press, Coat Hangers and Slipper Holders.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

PUBLIC MEETING BEING HELD THIS AFTERNOON.

Invitation Extended to all Citizens—Resolutions Expressing the Sentiments of Hawaii in This National Loss.

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was called early this morning for 2 o'clock and the utmost endeavors were made to give publicity to the notice. The invitation to attend was extended to all citizens. The meeting was called to be held in the assembly room over Castle & Cooke's.

The purpose of the meeting was to adopt suitable resolutions in memory of President McKinley. W. G. Irwin, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Secretary Spencer took their seats a few minutes before two o'clock followed shortly afterwards by about twenty-five of the members of the Chamber. At two o'clock private citizens began to come in rapidly and the supply of available seats soon ran out. Secretary Spencer remedied the matter by drawing attention to a supply of chairs in a neighboring room.

The room was very hot and little conversation was held between those arriving who all wore the earnest faces of those who are assembled with a fixed and universal purpose. Delegate Wilcox stood outside the building but stated that he was not going to join the meeting.

P. C. Jones made a motion that the chairman be authorized to appoint a committee of seven to arrange for the memorial services. This was seconded by J. B. Atherton.

George R. Carter suggested that it would be a wise plan to authorize the committee to determine the exact manner in which the services should be conducted and how the general public would manifest its sorrow. The committee should determine how long and whether houses should drape with mourning and how long a period of mourning should be observed. Mr. Jones said that this was the idea which he had had in mind. The entire work was to be left to the discretion of the committee. Those who had come to the meeting had done so unprepared with any plan and he thought matters could be expedited if the work were to be entrusted to the committee.

Rev. W. D. Westervelt of Kawaiahae Church said that the Ministerial Union had held a meeting and come to a general scheme of memorial services. It was first intended to hold the services on Sunday evening but afterwards Mr. Macfarlane had suggested that it would be far more impressive and indicative of the great sorrow which was felt over the death of President McKinley if some regular business day were to be set aside and all business houses and stores close then. The idea of the Ministerial Union had been to confer with some committees from the Bar Association or the Chamber of Commerce and agree upon the best plan for Memorial Services. Mr. Westervelt stated that Rev. Parker of Kawaiahae church had announced officially that that church would be open at the disposal of the public for such services. Mr. Erdman had also made a similar announcement regarding Central Union.

Bishop said that it would be an excellent plan for the meeting to send a telegram of condolence to Mrs. McKinley and to the people of the United States or rather to the Secretary of the Interior expressing the great sorrow which was felt here in the demise of President McKinley. Mr. Bishop said that he had written the message to the Secretary of the Interior and was that all Territorial matters were sent to that department. The message should, he thought, be drafted without delay as the steamship Aorangi would sail this afternoon for the Coast.

This suggestion was well received and it was decided to leave it to the committee to draft the proposed telegrams of condolence.

F. M. Swamy made a very beautiful tribute to the late President. The committee increased its members and the following were selected: W. G. Irwin, F. M. Hatch, D. Kanuha, Rev. W. D. Westervelt, W. F. Allen, J. B. Atherton, F. M. Swamy, William Mutch and W. Pfofenbauer.

The meeting decided upon a telegram of condolence to be sent to Washington and also decided to hold a meeting for memorial service next Saturday. The service will be held in the morning, beginning at 10:30, at Kawaiahae church.

The committee will meet at W. G. Irwin's office at 10 o'clock tomorrow to complete arrangements.

ANGLICAN CHURCH MEMORIAL.

At the Anglican church on Sunday morning the regular services by the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh will be special memorial services, beginning at 8:45. There will be hymns and other music appropriate to the occasion. "Nearer, My God to Thee," will be among the hymns sung by the choir. There will be an address by the Rev. Mackintosh.

DRAPING CAPITOL BUILDING.

The draping of the Capitol building is being done this afternoon. G. W. R. King is in charge of the work, assisted by A. E. Murphy. The building will be thoroughly draped with black.

THE SUMMER LEAVES.

The United States Transport Summer sailed at 9 o'clock this morning for Manila. There was quite a crowd at the wharf to see her off as Captain Lynam, First Officer Dunbar and her other officers and passengers have made many friends here during the stay of the vessel.

EXPRESSIONS OF GRIEF

THE BAND GIVES A SOLEMN CONCERT.

Mass Meeting at the Drill Shed This Evening—Draping the Government Buildings.

"Nearer, My God to Thee," the dead President's favorite hymn and the one that he partly sang on his deathbed only a short time before consciousness left him for the last time, was played in solemn measure this morning at ten o'clock in front of the Capitol building by the government band. It has a new meaning and popularity among Americans now. In today's concert it followed the mournful strains of the Dead March from Saul. To a crowd of people seated in the shade of the trees the beautiful hymn called up the heart-rending death-bed scene at Buffalo as probably nothing else could have done, and the musicians gave the solemn strains, those present felt the sadness of the occasion to the utmost. Close by, the flag on the Palace building fluttered at half-mast. At every window in the building were closed shutters and every office in the building, soon to be draped with black from top to bottom, was closed, save that of Governor Dole, who was in his room ready to co-operate with citizens who were arranging for public expressions of grief over the terrible tragedy at the Buffalo exposition.

With the well known favorite hymn of the New Martyr-President, Kappelmeister Berger alternated "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "The Sweet Bye and Bye." The beautiful strains, played soft and low, sounded their funeral mournfulness throughout the big building and across the peaks of Mauna Loa and closed throughout, and to the Bungalow where work had already begun on the gloomy decorations appropriate to the occasion. People sat on the benches in the little park and thought of the murder of a great man as he walked through the streets with the man who struck him down, and then they thought of the assassin and there were very fierce expressions of anger, and of hopes for speedy vengeance.

In addition to the hymns, the band played the Dead March by Chopin, Wagner's March, the Funeral March by Hartman, "The Last Watch" by Pilsuit, Wagner's "Prayer from Tannhauser" and Berger's "Pau-ah-Funeral March." The mournful concert lasted for an hour and a half. It will be repeated this afternoon, beginning at three o'clock with a similar programme.

All over the city were half masted flags. Not only the government buildings, but private business blocks on every hand, had their Stars and Stripes lowered. Some places were closed, and signs on the doors announced a suspension of business, out of respect to the memory of the deceased leader of the American nation.

Honolulu expressions of sorrow over the nation's loss, and sympathy for the bereaved widow whose life may also be charged to the terrible account for which the assassin was not only hanged, were universal and were the all-embracing topic of the day. The unexpected news of the fatal result of the cowardly attack upon "the greatest American since Lincoln," received yesterday afternoon from the transport Aorangi, had sent a shock to the people of Honolulu than to the residents of any other city in the Union, or in the world, for all over the world elsewhere, news bulletins for nearly two days had forecasted the inevitable end, while in Hawaii, as with Colonel Roosevelt hunting in the mountains of the State, the possibility of the President's death was not much thought of. He was supposed to be recovering.

The Warren was sighted off Koko Head with her flag not half-masted, and this was at once accepted as indicating that the President was not dead. A matter of fact the steamer did not lower her flag because she had already done so before, and the President's funeral was over. Today, at the dock, the Warren had her flag half masted like other vessels.

The Territorial government will probably wait for further orders due to the Doric tomorrow afternoon, before arranging for more official observances than those already undertaken. Governor Dole stated this morning that he would not at present take any further action than had been taken. The draping of the buildings has been ordered, and the closing of offices and other similar marks of respect and mourning were all that would be undertaken until at present.

The courts and all the government offices were closed. The court of fire claims met at the usual hour, and immediately adjourned. A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was called for two o'clock this afternoon, and the various churches which are to hold prayer meetings this evening began preparations to make the services conform to the occasion.

This evening there will be a mass meeting at the Drill Shed. It will be a gathering of citizens to express their sorrow at the nation's loss. The government band will be present and it is expected that the meeting will be generally attended. No programme has been arranged, and there will not be any. Anyone present will be at liberty to address the meeting.

The drill shed is being draped for the occasion, by order of Colonel J. W. Jones. There will be crepe throughout, and the stage will be suitably arranged for the occasion. The chairman's table will be covered by an American flag. On the right will be a picture of the dead President, mounted on an easel and draped. Behind on either side will be the regimental colors of the Hawaiian National Guard and stand of arms, with knapsack, haversack, bugles, etc. The stage will have quite a military appearance.

Indications are that the meeting will be a very large one. On every hand citizens of all ranks announce their intention to go. The gathering will undoubtedly be a historic one in many respects, and the drill shed's seating capacity is likely to be taxed to the utmost. T. McCants Stewart was the originator of the idea of the meeting, which was at once taken up on every hand. He is taking an active part in the arrangements, but says that he will

TO RAISE DRAUGHT MULES

HUMULULA RANCH WILL GIVE UP HORSE BREEDING.

Sheep Clip This Season Brings Satisfactory Returns and Fetches a Good Price—Annual Increase Heavy.

WAIMEA, Hawaii, September 20.—The Humulula ranch has decided to raise horses no longer and will cut down their stock to 300 of the best brood mares. The male will take the place of the equines, Manager R. W. Jones having decided that the mule is the more serviceable and satisfactory animal for the climate of these islands. Mule breeding will be indulged in extensively for draught purposes.

Humulula's wool clip this season amounted to 80,000 pounds of first class wool which has been sold to a New England firm at 14 cents a pound delivered free in Honolulu. The Humulula wool is particularly free from burrs and the cool climate of the plateau adds much to the quality and quantity of the clip.

The experiment of introducing California bred sheep on the ranch this season culminated most successfully in a clip of eight pounds of wool per head. The market annually takes about ten thousand head of sheep, last year Honolulu taking 5,000 head from Humulula. The yearly increase of the ranch exceeds the sales by twenty per cent.

The breed of sheep is Merino crossed liberally with island bred animals and has proven most satisfactory. The ranch itself is 24,000 acres in extent and is largely owned by Samuel Parker. It is run in the most modern manner throughout, every corner of the big acreage being controlled by telephonic communication. The position is that of a natural table land situated between the peaks of Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea and the temperature runs down to 32 deg. with hour frost on the pastures in the early morning.

Judge Gear refused to issue citation to Attorney Davis, ordering him to appear before the Grand Jury. The difference between the attorney general had no right to forestall proceedings by taking the matter before a Grand Jury and shutting out the defendant's chance of freedom.

Judge Gear said he was already convinced that the course of the prosecution was right and that it was therefore no use to issue a citation and hear the case. Stewart was invited to try Judge Little, but he decided not to do so, and the case went before the Grand Jury.

BEN NAPHTHALY DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 15.—Ben Naphthaly, known in his day as the "king of the Police Court shysters," last night came to a sudden end. He last night came to a sudden end. He was about 10 o'clock, and at a point near the entrance to the Russ House was attacked by a series of hemorrhages from the lungs. Almost simultaneously with the occurrence of the first one he lost consciousness, and then rapidly sank into death. Pedestrians carried him from the sidewalk to the hotel steps and there he lay until he was taken to the Russ House where he died in twenty minutes from the time the illness came on him.

Naphthaly returned from Honolulu seven or eight months ago. In the days of Chris Buckley and Bill Higgins and the other big political bosses when the Police Court was in the old City Hall, on the site now occupied by the Hall of Justice, Naphthaly did politics and carried a graft in his peculiar way of practice that had never been equaled. It was a poor day when he did not clear all the way from $300 to $500 in fees. He followed the motto of "Easy come, easy go," and that he lived as long as he did was considered marvelous by those who knew the life he led. When the old Hall was abandoned and the Police court moved to the big building at Makiki and McArthur street Naphthaly's star set.

He used to say that the new City Hall's sanitary condition was too modern for a good practice. Naphthaly was about 60 years of age.

FIRE CLAIMS ALL FILED.

The opportunity for filing claims for damages resulting from the plague fire of 1900 closed yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The grand total of all claims presented number 5,739 and amount to $3,209,000 or $1,700,000 more than the amount appropriated by the Legislature to meet the purpose. It is expected that the appropriation will be ample to cover the amount of allowed claims in view of the exorbitant prices and often fraudulent claims presented.

CUTS AND BRUISES QUICKLY HEALED.

OBJECT TO GRAND JURY

STEWART TRIES TO KEEP OUT A CASE.

Asks Gear to Restrain Attorney General From Presenting It to the Grand Jurors.

The case of Joe Davis, one of the syphagisters charged with shooting a Chinese at Waipahu some weeks ago, was brought before the Grand Jury yesterday afternoon and as a result Attorney T. McCants Stewart had a lively argument with Judge Gear, in an effort to prevent the case from coming before the inquirers. Stewart claimed that Deputy Attorney General Davis had not played fair with him, having agreed to having the case set for preliminary hearing before Judge Wincox on September 28. He wanted an order restraining Davis from taking the case before the Grand Jury.

The difference between the attorney general and a Grand Jury inquiry is that at the District Court hearing the defendant and his counsel can be present, with their witnesses, and may make a defense, which may result in the discharge of the defendant. At a Grand Jury hearing there is no chance for defense. Only the evidence against the accused is heard, and if he is indicted he is arrested and held until he can have a circuit court trial.

Judge Gear refused to issue citation to Attorney Davis, ordering him to appear before the Grand Jury. The difference between the attorney general had no right to forestall proceedings by taking the matter before a Grand Jury and shutting out the defendant's chance of freedom. Judge Gear said he was already convinced that the course of the prosecution was right and that it was therefore no use to issue a citation and hear the case. Stewart was invited to try Judge Little, but he decided not to do so, and the case went before the Grand Jury.

TO EXPEL WELLINGTON.

The Senator Who Didn't Care About McKinley.

NEW YORK, September 12.—A special to the World from Washington says: When Congress meets in December an effort will be made to expel George L. Wellington of Maryland from the United States Senate. If the feeling at that time regarding his outbreak against President McKinley is what it is now there seems to be little reason for doubting that he will be ousted.

ESTEE ADJOURNS TO MONDAY.

In the United States District Court this morning a number of attorneys gathered to express their sorrow at the death of the President, and move that the court adjourn in his honor. Resolutions had been drawn up by Circuit Judge Little. They were adopted and ordered spread on the minutes of the court.

Tom Fitch, J. J. Dunne, F. M. Hatch and T. McCants Stewart made remarks. They were followed by Judge Estee, who gave an eulogy of the deceased President.

"The court adjourned till next Monday."

THE BEST METHOD.

The best method of protection yet devised is life insurance. Every man, rich or poor, owes it to himself, his creditors his family some measure of indemnity against loss, in proper proportion to his means, and commensurate with his responsibilities. Life insurance is a necessity, not a luxury. As a check against income it is quite as legitimate as taxes or fire insurance. Take out a policy in the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society. A. YACHTING ASSOCIATION FORMED.

A score of local yachtsmen met at the Hawaiian Hotel last night and subscribed themselves as charter members of a yachting association which would be distinct and apart from the rowing association of this city. A committee was appointed to draw up an outline of rules and regulations. The age limit was fixed at sixteen and it was further decided that the directors and the two chief officers must be whole or part owners in a boat yacht. The officers will consist of commodore, vice commodore, secretary, treasurer, port captain and measurer. There will be five directors including the commodore and vice.

BANNISTER ASSESSED $2500.

A verdict of $2500 was arrived at in the case of Asbu Brown vs. Andrew Bannister in which $500 damages were asked. The two had been living together as man and wife owing to these promises on the part of the defendant, the woman and two children having been finally deserted by him upon his marriage to another woman. The jury took but a short while to deliberate and wished to be allowed to have the amount of the damages placed in trust for the support and education of the children. This under the terms of the suit could not be allowed.

SUGAR FROM HONOLULU.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 16.—A trip occupying nineteen days was made by the schooner Rosamond, Captain Johnson, which has reached port with a cargo of 29,746 bags of sugar. The report that the Rosamond struck a whale during the trip was not confirmed by Captain Johnson. The Rosamond, while lying at anchor off Alcatraz island yesterday evening, dragged her anchor and collided with the ship Berlin. The tugs Monarch and Sea King went to the rescue and cleared the Rosamond before any serious damage had been done.

ROSAMOND IN TROUBLE.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 16.—The schooner Rosamond had a narrow escape off port last Saturday night. She ran into a sleeping whale and for a moment Captain Johnson and his officers thought they were on the Paralones. Soon after the shock all hands knew what had happened and the pumps showed that the schooner had been as little injured as the whale. Captain Johnson is of the opinion that the mammal is the same that went asleep in front of the Bonita and caused dire disaster to the pilot service.

Between Men's and Boy's Clothing...

We make no difference in the case and furnish all attention to detail. There is no sweat-shop work on any of our suits. Is not this worth the thoughtful consideration of mothers? Isn't it worth paying a trifle more to have your boy's suit made in a proper manner. If the wife were consulted, wouldn't she insist that the husband avoid wearing sweat-shop clothing?

We have just received a new line of STAR WAISTS, with and without collars. Just the thing for the school season.

Also a fine line of EXTRA PANTS FOR MEN AND BOYS. Extraordinary efforts have been made by us to find and prepare the things needful for your good appearance and comfort—the very best SUITS FOR MEN AND BOYS; SHIRTS, HATS, OUTFIT FLANNELS, ETC.

All these are worthy of your attention, being fashionable in cut and stylish in appearance. Our TWO BIG STORES and their service are at your command. No orders too great for prompt attention; none too small for the strictest care.

Feel Your Pulse. Watch your pulse for about five minutes. Count the beats while sitting and then while standing. A healthy pulse beats from sixty to seventy-five times per minute, a little faster while standing than while sitting or lying down. If your pulse beats too fast or too slow, if it is weak or irregular and sometimes skips a beat, your heart is weak or diseased, and you are in danger of heart failure at any moment. Pains about the heart, palpitation, smothering or fainting spells, shortness of breath, inability to sleep on left side, are further evidence of a dangerous condition which demands immediate attention. You have it in your power to overcome heart weakness if you will profit by the experience of others. Mr. S. T. Oviatt, of Arlington, Iowa, says: "I had heart failure and would have spells when I would gasp for breath and become totally blind for the time, often falling unconscious wherever I happened to be standing. It took ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to restore my heart to a healthy and normal condition." Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold at all druggists on a positive guarantee. SAN FRANCISCO, September 16.—The barkentine Planter sailed for Honolulu yesterday with a full cargo of merchandise.

HUMPHREYS GOES FREE

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL ABSOLVES HIM.

Recommends to the President That the Petition for His Removal be Denied. What Knox Says.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—Attorney General Knox has concluded his investigation of the charges filed by the Bar Association of the Hawaiian Islands against Abram S. Humphreys, first judge of the Circuit Court of the first judicial district of Hawaii. He has prepared his findings and will submit them to the President as soon as practicable.

The conclusion reached is that Judge Humphreys has done nothing which would justify his removal. The attorney general finds that some of the charges were not satisfactorily established, and to the others that they were purely matters of innuendo, uttered without justification in fact, and reckless and intemperate in spirit.

In conclusion the attorney general says: "Members of the bar as officers of the court should be loyal to the court. Where there is a fair reason for believing the judge is acting improperly it is the duty of the bar to declare it openly, but a member of the bar is faithless to his high calling when he assails a judge and impeaches his integrity upon no facts even remotely justifying the attack, but upon vague suspicion and unfair innuendo. That these and many of the charges against Judge Humphreys to which allusion has been made were preferred by members of his own court, clearly shows the difficulties of his position and the severity of the ordeal through which he has passed. It is obvious that the task will not be an easy one, and where judges selected by you discharge their duties with courage and integrity and reasonable ability, they should be sustained, even though they are attempting to solve the difficult problems which present themselves at times, some consideration must be had for the difficulty of their position."

"Having fully considered the complaints against Judge Humphreys and his answer thereto, I am entirely satisfied that not only the judge has done nothing which would justify his removal, but that he has met heavy responsibilities with great courage and unquestioned integrity. I therefore recommend that the petition for his removal be denied."

PROVE VERY ENTERTAINING.

The Lilliputians had but a poor show last night. The performance however was well worthy in many respects of a large audience. The dancing being particularly good. The stage setting of the first part was prettily arranged and the costumes most effective. A good deal of the humor is peculiarly Colonial and the orchestra still stands in need of improvement, but the entertainment as a whole was thoroughly appreciated by the house and applause liberally bestowed. The vaudeville program tomorrow night will be well worth a visit.

FILED IN COURT.

The petition of Hannah H. protestant against the appointment of Ching Hong Wa Ahn as administrator of the estate of Ching Ahn, was filed Tuesday. Petitioner alleges that Hee Lee is not the widow of deceased; was never the wife of deceased. The estate is valued at $67,400.

John Wailehua is appointed guardian of the Kalamakee minors. The inventory of the Ehlers' estate was filed Tuesday, showing the value to be about $40,000.

The list of interrogatories to be propounded to S. Floodpage in the case of Marconi's Wireless Telegraph Company vs. F. J. Cross was filed Tuesday. They simply go into the payment by defendant of any moneys due to the plaintiff.

HE OWES HIS LIFE TO THE FORE THOUGHT OF A COMPANION. While on a camping trip in Webster country, Mr. S. I. Stump, of Norman-town, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy."

Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times such places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith, & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Islands.

"IT IS GOD'S WAY."

Death, the final attribute of our human nature, death, whom the poet of Rome two thousand years ago said knocked at the palace gate as he did at the cottage door, death, who has cut the strings of high policy and as easily left a small family destitute, has stricken the head of our Republic. Death has not come to him when wasted by disease and worn by the cares of State. It has struck him in the very zenith of his powers. It has come to him from no natural cause, it has come from a foul blow generated by a foul brood. President McKinley has died a martyr to the cause of liberty and order, as opposed to the cause of license, disorder and the filthiest and vilest of moral pollution.

Hope—we had hope when the last steamer arrived. We feared, but we hoped. The President seemed to be progressing to recovery, and then his failure came swifter and swifter and finally death claimed him for his own, and the name of William McKinley became emblazoned in the historical banner of his country as few names are emblazoned on the banner of any country.

Who can read dry eyed the last scenes at that illustrious bed side. It is true that the death of each individual may be sad, and harrowing, but each individual belongs only to himself and an infinitesimal circle. The death-bed of the President, while it belonged in part to his family, belonged yet more to the nation. There is no lack of respect or delicacy in lifting the curtain around the late President's death-bed, and letting the people see and know. It was the death-bed of the people's hope, the death-bed of the man who had but a few short months before been chosen a second time to guide the fortunes of a mighty nation.

The simplicity, the tenderness of that death-bed scene must go to all hearts. The stricken wife is brought to him, she clasps his hand, the hand that years ago clasped hers in wedlock, and which had so sturdily fenced her life from carking care and from every breath of unhappiness as far as lay in its power. William McKinley was a devoted husband. To those who know and appreciate the beauty of love in old age, no more touching picture can be drawn than that of the stricken president passing to the life to come, and his wife who must, alas, soon join him, clasped hand in hand, without the power of speech but uttering soul thoughts to one another in the falling and feeble clasp.

Impressive scene! True type of that home life and purity of living of which William McKinley was the exponent! Thirty years had these two journeyed through the vale of life, every honor that the husband had won was laid at the wife's feet, the two had buried their hopes of offspring in the graves of two little daughters, and now was the end, a rally, a feeble smile of recognition, a few moments with hands clasped for the last time on earth, and then the two are parted till they meet again in the glory of regenerated life eternal, where there shall be no sorrow, and where all is peace, perfect peace.

The Christian spirit of the late President was manifested in his last return to consciousness. When in the full tide of his great intellectual power he addressed his fellow citizens in Buffalo, laying out the policy which he felt and was certain could carry his beloved country to the highest pinnacle of greatness, his mind was occupied with patriotic schemes and plans. When the assassin's bullet had stricken him down, and he realized that the end had come, his mind turned to God. Others would carry on the glorious plans he had instituted, others would follow the paths which he had shown and would reach the heights he had dreamed of, but as far as he individually was concerned his work was done, cut off even in the midst of the most brilliant and engrossing work, he accepted the will of the Almighty. He never challenged the right, he never considered whether such an end to such a career was just or unjust, he bowed to the Lord's will. In his last few moments of consciousness he murmured the words of a hymn, always regarded as beautiful, but now to be embalmed in every true American heart.

Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!
E'en though it be a cross
That raiseth me;
Still, all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!

And then followed his last words "It is God's way. His will be done." Noble death words, grand words, grand in their simplicity, in their faith and in their resignation.

This is no time to discuss the career of William McKinley, to show how he rose gradually by dint of application and energy from an obscure position, to that which was the highest and grandest that the nation and perhaps the world has to offer. It is no time to show him toiling as teacher in a country school, or taking up his rifle as a private to defend his country, or plodding at law and winning fame as a forensic orator, and then winning more fame on the political platform and thus reaching the pinnacle of earthly glory. While one likes to dwell upon the brilliance of the career, it is the man himself which must occupy our thoughts.

William McKinley, a man of exalted gifts, a man who never failed to take advantage of his opportunities, a man of remarkable political foresight was above all a true Christian gentleman, and no higher title to the respect and love of their fellow men can have King or Kaiser, President or Potentate, than this. The ideal knight of the days of Chivalry was the "Chevalier sans peur et sans reproche," the knight who was "fearless and stainless." Our ideal is the true Christian gentleman, he has to be fearless and stainless too, but he has a higher spiritual ideal than the knight of the middle ages. The true prototype of the Christian gentleman of modern times is to be found in the days of Elizabeth, to be found among such men as Sir Philip Sidney, Spenser, Raleigh and Grenville. Of such type, and such fibre was William McKinley, and the nation which mourns, the millions who mourn his to us untimely death, must be proud that its choice has been so well justified and that it had as its head so noble and so great a man.

The touchstone of life is death. Young in his Night Thoughts said "a death-bed's a detector of the heart" and again "a Christian is the highest style of man." Judged on these views, apart from all the glamor of office and of high position the late President stood upon the highest plane. He was a true Christian gentleman, and as Hare says: "A Christian is God Almighty's Gentleman."

THE NEW PRESIDENT.

Theodore Roosevelt is now President. The assassin's bullet which struck down the Chief Executive, only put another Chief Executive in his place, and it is fortunate for the country that so able a man as Roosevelt steps forward to take the position which McKinley held. An old hymn says "God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform," and truly it seems so. It has been seldom, in the history of our Republic that so forceful a man as Roosevelt has occupied the Vice-Presidential chair. Roosevelt is a man to meet a crisis, and he will guide the nation through it with care and with judiciousness.

The new President has had a brilliant career and is known both to the East and to the West. He has had the most valuable of experiences in learning to know men, by being a man himself among rude untutored men, and proving himself their equal and their superior in energy, and vigor, as he was superior in intellect and cultivation. His experience in the legislature of his State, his experience on the police commission, his experience as a reformer, his experience as Governor of New York are all things which have supplied him with arms and panoply to gird himself with as President of the United States.

Theodore Roosevelt will be the youngest president that has ever guided the policy of the Republic. But we of the West have long since learned that age does not always mean wisdom, nor does youth necessarily mean folly. Mr. Roosevelt comes to the presidency with all kinds of prestige. His gallant raising of the Rough Riders and his manner of handling his troops has endeared him to the hearts of a class it is sometimes difficult to reach. The professional politician does not like Mr. Roosevelt, it is true, but the new President has urbanity enough to win even the professional politician.

There are three years and six months of power before the President, virtually the whole term of office, for the main policy of the administration will be considered at the ensuing session of Congress. During these years Theodore Roosevelt will be judged, and there is no reason to think that his administration will be other than brilliant and successful.

The Court of Claims will have to do some heavy cutting down if the said claims are to come within the appropriation. That there will be cutting goes without saying, for some of the claims are fraudulent on the face of them, others though evidently fraudulent will be difficult to prove so. The commissioners do not have a very easy task before them when they come to the adjudication of the claims.

The America Cup Yacht races will most probably not be sailed, or will at least be postponed. Sir Thomas Lipton has of course the right to insist on the races, seeing that he has expended half a million of dollars in getting ready for the race, but it may be freely stated that Sir Thomas Lipton would rather lose his money than commit such a breach of taste as to insist upon his right under present circumstances.

There are many rumors in the papers as to conspiracy and a deliberate tracking down of the President. There may or may not be true, only time and evidence will tell. One can quite believe in such a conspiracy, however, having its ramifications from San Francisco to St. Petersburg. An anarchist is a fanatic, and a fanatic is a mad man. A mad man can become merely a wild beast, and it is as a dangerous wild beast that an anarchist should be regarded and treated.

The foreign nations throughout the world have shown their respect for and their grief at the death of the President. Drooping flags and solemn services have marked the event from East to West.

STEEL STRIKE IS ENDED

AGREEMENT SIGNED BETWEEN THE PARTIES.

Exact Terms are Not Known But the Trust Yields Nothing—San Francisco Strike Playing Out.

NEW YORK, September 14.—The great steel strike, which began on June 20, was brought to an end at a conference held today by the leaders of the Amalgamated Association and the officers of the subsidiary companies of the United States steel corporation.

The full terms of the settlement were not divulged and it was announced that this was in accordance with an agreement by the parties to the conference to the effect that no statement would be made until President Chamberlain of the Amalgamated Association issued his order to the men to return to work.

San Francisco, September 16.—The expectations of the employers are realized this week with show a radical change in the strike situation. They confidently expect a break in the ranks of the strikers and freely predict that many of the men will desert the unions and return to work.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

You know the story—how good Queen Bess, pointing to the beautiful hair of a peasant girl, said, "There's a real royal crown. I would trade my golden one for it." That was long ago.
Now you can have a "real royal crown"
of your own, simply by using Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the hair grow thick and long and stops it falling out.
When your hair is rich and heavy,
and when the closest inspection fails to detect a single gray hair, you will certainly look a great deal younger, and you will be much better satisfied with yourself, too. Isn't that so?

and administered restoratives. Little by little she came back to her normal condition, and at 3:30 was clear-minded and in full possession of her strength.
Several ladies were with her, and in their sympathy she found succor. To one she whispered: "I will be strong for his sake."
An attempt was made to persuade Mrs. McKinley to retire to get some rest. She refused. She said that her duty was there, and she would remain within call of those who were with her husband.
Mrs. McKinley was again summoned to the bedside of her husband at 10 P.
M. He roused sufficiently to recognize her and made a feeble movement as if to clasp her hand. Then his lips moved.
"Good-bye all, good-bye. It's God's will. He will be done," was his farewell utterance, both to his stricken wife and to life itself.
Then he sank into unconsciousness, and as Mrs. McKinley was tenderly led from his side she plainly realized the coming of her great sorrow—the crowning affliction of a life full of grief, bravely borne.
As the minutes slowly passed her strength began to give way, and at 11 o'clock she was in a state of almost complete prostration. She seemingly did not know what was going on around her, and was at once placed under medical treatment.
When the President breathed his last
Mrs. McKinley was in an adjoining room.
The President was practically without nourishment all day. His relapse of Thursday night was warned his doctors against solid food. In despairing anxiety they resorted to stimulants, and all morning yesterday they fought off the impending collapse. It was shortly after daylight that he opened his eyes, and, looking out of the window opposite his bed, said: "It is not as bright as yesterday."
His heart rallied a little in the morning hours, but it was his indomitable courage and not the drugs which spurred it on. Till noon he held his own and the anxious doctors told the world in guarded words that there was yet hope. It was past midday when he entered upon his final struggle. The thousands gathered at the Pan-American Exposition, the Nation and the outside world, were not prepared even then for a realization that the worst was at hand.
At half an hour past midnight
Coroner Wilson arrived at the Milburn house and another unfounded announcement of McKinley's death was quickly telegraphed to all parts of the country.
As the unconfirmed stories of the President's death flew from mouth to mouth in Buffalo, an enraged and sorrowing multitude gathered and swept toward the prison where the assassin lay. Barriers were hastily thrown across the streets, mounted policemen, State troops and marines were hurried to the scene and for hours after night fell the jail was like a threatened fortress. In the streets, cafes and public places men met and talked with bated breaths. All day they talked of the President's heroic struggle, his gentleness and his cheerfulness. But when they knew that these were all in vain, they raged silently and forgot everything but revenge.
NEVER WAS ANY HOPE.
Autopsy Shows the Wound Necessarily Fatal.
BUFFALO, September 14.—The following report of the autopsy upon the remains of President McKinley was issued at 5 o'clock today:
"The bullet which struck over the breastbone did not pass through the skin and did little harm. The other bullet passed both walls of the stomach near its lower border. Both holes were found to be perfectly closed by the stitches, but the tissue around each hole had become gangrenous. After passing through the stomach the bullet passed into the back wall of the abdomen, hitting and tearing the upper end of the kidney. This portion of the bullet's track was also gangrenous, the gangrene involving the pancreas. The bullet has not yet been found. There was no sign of peritonitis or disease of other organs. The heart walls were very thin. There was no evidence of any attempt at repair on the part of nature, and death resulted from the gangrene which affected the stomach around the bullet wounds, as well as the tissues around the further course of the bullet. Death was unavoidable by any surgical or medical treatment, and was the direct result of the bullet wound."

PROTECTING CZOLGOSZ.
A Buffalo Mob Gathers At The Jail.
BUFFALO, September 13.—The city,
not only in those parts near the Milburn house, but all over, and even out in the exposition grounds, went into a state of ferment when the news of the sudden collapse of the President was announced. The bad news of the early day had been somewhat softened by the later afternoon announcement that there was a slight improvement, and the sudden announcement of his approaching dissolution came as a great surprise.
With one impulse the crowd started for the station-house where Czolgosz is confined. Telephones were utilized and the police notified, and when the crowd arrived they found the police out in front. Superintendent Bull, anticipating trouble, called out the entire force, and in addition asked the Fourth Bridge headquarters to be in readiness to assist. Colonel Welch, in charge, answered by ordering two companies each from the Sixth, Fifth and Seventy-fourth regiments to their armories to await immediate call.
Around the station-house at 8 o'clock
it was estimated that at least 4000 people were gathered.
BUFFALO, September 15.—At 12:30
this (Sunday) morning, Superintendent of Police Bull issued the following notice to the press:
"To relieve the heavy police detail

at No. 1 Station, that their services might be used for other important details, it was decided, on consultation with District Attorney, to remove the President's assassin from the headquarters building, which has been done."
Nothing is known as to where the prisoner is now confined. There are two places where the prisoner could be taken, to the jail or to the penitentiary, and it is likely that Czolgosz is now in one of these places.

ROOSEVELT SWORN IN.

He Will Continue McKinley's National Policies.
BUFFALO, (N. Y.), September 14.—In this hour of our terrible national bereavement I wish to say that I shall carry out unbroken the policy of President McKinley for peace, prosperity and honor of our beloved country."
With these words sworn upon his lips Theodore Roosevelt at 2:35 o'clock this afternoon took the oath as President of the United States.
Quite as important as the declaration that he would carry out McKinley's policy was President Roosevelt's request to all the members of the Cabinet and to Secretary Cortelyou that they remain in office.
The new President did not get within reach of the railroad train in the Adirondacks until 5 o'clock this morning. He has traveled continuously all night from the most distant clubhouse of the Tahawus Club, wearing out three relays of horses to make the journey.

The new President entered the house and a platoon of mounted police and a squad of mounted Signal Corps and the guardsmen drew up on either side of the avenue near the house. As soon as he entered Roosevelt was told that it had been planned for him to take the oath of office at once. This agreement had been reached at a meeting of the Cabinet held in the forenoon at the Milburn residence. The President failed to mention it as an agreement. He declared that he was not ready to take the oath yet. "But, Mr. President," he was expostulated with, "everything is in readiness; don't you think it would be far better to do as the Cabinet has decided?"
"No," retorted the President. "It would be far worse."

"I intend to pay my respects at William McKinley's bier as a private citizen and offer my condolence to the members of the family as such. Then I will return and take the oath."
In the face of such an emphatic stand by the new Chief Executive all arguments availed nothing, and President Roosevelt had his way. He left the house about 2:30 o'clock and entered his carriage alone. As his carriage got in motion the mounted policemen and the members of the Signal Corps wheeled in to act as his escort to the house. Instantly the President stopped his carriage. He stood up and shouted:
"Get back, I want no escort. I will have no escort. I am now on a mission as a private citizen."

After the visit to pay his respects to the dead President, Roosevelt was sworn in, the oath being administered by Judge Gazel. It is as follows:
"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

CABINET CHANGES.

Elihu Root Likely to Be Secretary of State.
CHICAGO, September 14.—Telegraphing to the Record-Herald from Buffalo, Walter Wellman says: "I am able to foreshadow a most important affair of state, one which gives a key to the policy of the new head of the Nation. Elihu Root, now Secretary of War in the McKinley Cabinet, is to be Secretary of State in the Cabinet under President Roosevelt."
"All the members of the present Cabinet, acting individually, will immediately present their resignations to President Roosevelt."
"Having tendered their resignations they will continue their work for a time or until their resignations shall be acted upon by the President. Three of them—Secretary Hay, Secretary Long and Postmaster-General Smith—will soon insist upon retirement."
"Three others are quite likely to be found in the Cabinet of President Roosevelt—Root as Secretary of State, and Attorney-General Knox and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson at their present posts. General Francis V. Greene of New York is looked upon as the coming Secretary of War. The only change that appears thus far to have been decided upon is that Root is to take the post which John Hay has filled with such signal ability and devotion."

THE FUNERAL DAY.
CHICAGO, September 15.—It is a singular coincidence that the day selected for the burial of the late President McKinley at Canton, O., will be the anniversary of the death of President Garfield at Elmhurst, N. J., twenty years ago. Garfield shot his victim July 2, 1881, but death did not come to the relief of President Garfield until shortly before midnight Friday, September 19, 1881. President Lincoln was shot by the assassin, Booth, on Good Friday night, April 4, 1865, but was unconscious from the time the bullet entered his brain until he breathed his last, Saturday morning, April 15, 1865. President McKinley was shot Friday September 6, 1901, and the change for the worse in his condition came Friday morning, September 13, 1901.
President McKinley will have a state funeral.

LONDON. September 14.—King Edward is considering the advisability of the Duke of Cornwall and York's attending the funeral of President McKinley. The uncertainty which exists here as to the date of the ceremony and the lack of knowledge of the attitude of Roosevelt and others toward such a visit, have prevented anything definite being decided upon. The foreign office indorses the suggestion, subject to the approval of the United States Cabinet and the consent of King Edward.

DEATH MASK TAKEN.

BUFFALO (N. Y.), September 15.—A death mask of the President's face was made today. The mask was taken by Edouard L. A. Pausch of Hartford, Conn. Pausch has modelled the features of many of the best-known men who have died in this country for several years. The mask is a faithful reproduction of the late President McKinley's features.

ALTGELD CZOLGOSZ'S COUNSEL.
CHICAGO, September 14.—Word was received tonight from Ex-Gov. Governor John P. Altgeld would defend Czolgosz when his case comes to trial. The authority on which this statement was made could not be ascertained.

An Eastman Kodak has been lost. Edward H. returned to this office. On Friday Jas. F. Morgan will sell a large selection of Hawaiian calabashes.

There will be no meeting of the Board of Health this afternoon on account of the President's death. The stock ledger of the Waimanalo Sugar Company will be closed to transfers from the 28th to the 30th inst.

No transfers will be made on the stock books of the Kahuku Plantation Company the last two days of this month.

The Chamber of Commerce met at 2 o'clock this afternoon to take appropriate action in memory of President McKinley.

A list of "Love Letters" that have recently appeared in the Literary World, is advertised by Wall, Nichols Co., Ltd.

The schooner Mary E. Foster arrived from San Francisco late yesterday afternoon with a general cargo of merchandise.

The ball to be given by the Red Men on Thursday has been indefinitely postponed on account of the death of President McKinley.

The sale of government lots 117 and 118 advertised to take place today has been postponed until 12 o'clock noon Saturday September 28.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth took the oath before Judge Gear on Monday as an attorney to practice in all the district courts of the Territory.

E. O. Hall & Son have a card in this issue expressing their appreciation of the prompt manner in which their insurance claims were adjusted by local agents.

The invitation tournament of the Pacific Tennis Club will commence this afternoon at four o'clock. The sets will be gentlemen's doubles, eighteen entries for which have been made.

The Governor directed that in testimony of respect to the memory of the late President of the United States, all flags on public buildings be placed at half mast until further notice.

William Clark formerly freight clerk on the steamer W. G. Hall has been made purser of the steamer Waiakale. Mr. Clark is a very popular young man and a very wide awake purser. He is rapidly making friends on his run to Kona ports.

There will be no senior barge race Saturday between the Myrtle and Honolulu crews to determine which should receive the trophy for the disputed race of Regatta Day. Today was the date in which both clubs had to reply. The Myrtles refused to race while the Honolulu crew expressed their willingness to do so.

THE CRUSADE OF VIRTUE

The police have inaugurated a crusade against the denizens and visitors of Iwilei. Last night, seven people were arrested. Three of them were women, three were men visitors and the seventh was a disreputable Porto Rican fellow who has been living off the earnings of some of the women. One of the other men arrested was a member of the Sumner's crew but he secured his release upon depositing $50 ball and sailed away with his vessel this morning.

The police intend to break up the prostitution which is conducted in that district. Thus far, the raids have been directed principally against the white and Porto Rican women residents of that disreputable quarter but after while, the attention of the officers will be given to the Japanese.

It is very difficult for the authorities to arrest the Japanese women and secure any suitable evidence against them, on account of the large number of Japanese men who hang about that locality and act as lookouts.

The cases against the crowd will be called tomorrow morning in Judge Wilcox's court. Two Chinese will also be arraigned before Judge Wilcox to answer to charges of conducting disorderly houses.

The cases against two women and a male visitor were nolle prossed before Judge Wilcox yesterday.

POLICE HAVE CLUE.

The police think they have secured track of the miscreant who placed the large rock on the Liliha street track of the Electric car company last Saturday night. Alexander Lazarus a boy, was arrested yesterday afternoon on complaint of C. S. Stephens who claimed that the boy had placed a small rock on the track the other night. The rock was not very large and was removed before the car hit it. Lazarus was charged with malicious mischief and injury. Lazarus claimed that he knew the identity of the man who placed the big rock on the electric car track last week. The police are investigating the affair.

Shirt Waist Collars Style and Comfort Comb'ned BE ADVISED AND TRY ONE! "My dear," said the groom, "Why do you insist on turning in the neck of your shirt waist like that? It isn't at all artistic." "Because, John, its so hot here," said the bride, "And, besides, low neck is all the style in the East now." Two good reasons; true ones, too; but we wonder if that bride had been introduced to the SHIRT WAIST COLLAR. Made of dainty laces and ribbons it can be worn with any shirt waist, adding prettily to the appearance of that garment, and taking away the unfinished look which it has when the neck band is merely folded in. They don't cost much either. A quarter will enable you to try the experiment. WHITNEY & MARSH, LTD
