STANFORD DEATH
PiRHAPS NOT BY POISON

It was stated this afternoon that another bottle, one containing strychnine, was found among the effects of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford in the room at the Moana Hotel occupied by the unfortunate lady at the time of her mysterious death.

This theory, of course, leaves Mrs. Stanford's dying words: "They have poisoned me!" unexplained and is not likely to receive much attention from the police, still the reported presence of the second bottle adds to the basis of investigation and something may be revealed at the coroner's inquest which is to be held at the Moana Hotel tomorrow morning.

'Frisco And Honolulu Working Together On Stanford Mystery

High Sheriff Henry has been working all morning upon the Stanford mystery, to the exclusion of all other business. Inquiry has failed to elicit any information from him further than that he favors the theory that Mrs. Stanford was poisoned in order that the miscreant might be profited thereby.

Mrs. Stanford's Will Not Yet Published

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 2.—The last will of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, who died suddenly in Honolulu under suspicious circumstances on the 28th of February, has not been published. The police are anxious to ascertain the contents thereof, believing that, in the light of the Honolulu tragedy that there may have been some motive for a crime and that the Poland mineral water poisoning case in this city may have been more significant than was thought here at the time.

YEAR END PROSPECT WEAK

Willitt & Gray's weekly sugar report, February 16, has the following to say: RAWS.—We have had two holidays during the week, and business during the remainder of the week under review has been limited to a few transactions on the same basis as last week's quotations, say 4.94c. per lb. duty paid for 96 degree test Centrifugals. A notable feature, however, is that on the present decline, new Cuba business for shipment became very light, with planters declining at the close to offer February-March shipment at less than 35-Sc. c. and f., which is about the parity of 5c. duty paid and, in fact, nearly all sellers at this quotation have withdrawn from the market.

AUGUST ITEN'S REPLY

Editor Evening Bulletin:—I fully subscribe to the very words of Mr. McStocker when he says: "If we are to approach this subject, let us at least do so in a fair spirit as certainly nothing is to be gained by misrepresentation."

It was not my intention to enter into any long newspaper controversy about the raising of cane by the small farmer, but for the reason that the Pinkham Commission, acting in a sort of semi-official capacity submitted a list of questions to me which I answered as fully as the nature of the document would permit and such brief replies having been published, against which I have no objection, I deemed it proper to submit for publication a detailed account of my cane crop, which the Bulletin kindly published; although in the publication a very laughable mistake occurs, viz:

"Fertilizer ..... $ 1.00"
"Spreading Fertilizer ..... 12.00"

Of course it was readily apparent that I did not spend $12.00 spreading $1.00 worth of fertilizer on an acre. The copy which I sent the Bulletin read:

"Fertilizer ..... $12.00"
"Spreading Fertilizer ..... 3.00"

I had no intention of casting any reflection on Mr. McStocker, who was then manager of the Oloa Sugar Company, and I am aware that the contracts given by the Oloa Company are more liberal than those of any other sugar company in the Territory so far as I have been able to ascertain, but that does not settle it nor does it refute my claim that the mill does not give the small farmer a fair share. It is the system (as Jared Smith puts it) not the Oloa Company or its manager.

Furthermore, when the Planters' Association passes and publishes a resolution expressing solicitude for the small farmer, it looks like "rubbing it in."

Now deduct $4.75 from $17.37 and we have $12.62 mills profits yet unexplained except that he presents other items as follows:

CLEANING AND DYEING.

Mr. Jas. Sheridan has opened a repairing shop at 1168 Miller St. cor Beretania. Charges reasonable. A number of second-hand pianos in good condition, cheap. Orders may be left at Haw'n. News Co.

Premiums to be given in The Evening Bulletin $1000. contest are now on display in the windows of the Schuman Carriage Co., Ltd., Young Bldg.

Cost of fuming, watchmen, delays, etc. .... $2.00
Handling fume boxes, haulage, installation and removal, waste, etc., say ..... 4.00
(None of the latter item was expended in my case.)
Take that $6.00 off and there would still remain $6.62 mills profits unexplained.

If it cost $6.00 per ton of sugar for the items named above to remove one crop of 20,000 tons or $120,000, no wonder that the company would "broke."

I can not see where it is material to go into the cost of my land, houses, fences, machinery, etc., etc. I took my land from the government at $3.50 per acre which was just that much too high as it costs more than its worth to clear it, but that has nothing to do with this mill profit on the small farmer proposition.

Respectfully yours,
AUGUST ITEN.
Mountain View, Hawaii, Feb. 23, 1905.
