TERRITORY WANTS ITS DUES.

Garnishment Suits Against Delinquents About to Begin.

Honolulu, Nov. 16.—By order of the Treasury department Assessor Pratt and the assessors on all the other islands are beginning suits against all persons whose taxes are delinquent long enough to make actions legal. In the next two months the department proposes to collect all taxes due. It is said that this action is in order to get all the tax money possible into the treasury before the end of the year, when the counties take hold of the tax bureaus.

There are large sums due the Territorial treasury which it is the intention to get in if possible before January 1. In Honolulu there will be over 400 garnishment suits, it is stated, unless many citizens pay up voluntarily. The papers are already drawn and within a short time will begin to be filed.

In the meantime many persons are paying up, in order to avoid the cost and annoyance of a suit.

Many of the prospective suits are for taxes due two years ago. A large portion of these are income taxes. The amounts vary from insignificant sums to $500 and over.

The Commissions.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14. Evening Bulletin, Honolulu.

Governor Dole's Commission as United States Circuit Judge was forwarded from Washington on November 3d. Carter's commission as Governor is still here.

These commissions are good during this session of Congress pending confirmation by the Senate.

No protests are on file against the confirmation of either of the appointments.

No Superintendent After Today.

Honolulu, Nov. 16.—The resignation of Superintendent of Public Works H. E. Cooper will take effect with the retirement of Governor Dole, which is expected to occur tomorrow, and the post now held by Cooper will be vacant for the time being. Governor Carter stated this morning that there would be no immediate appointment and that he had not yet made a selection. The office will probably be left without a head until Carter is commissioned as governor and makes general selections of department heads.

The names of J. W. Pratt, W. E. Wall and C. S. Holloway are most often mentioned among those being discussed for the office. There are many reports that Carter has about decided in favor of Pratt, but no official statement is given out.

Simla, Nov. 16.—Gen Kitchener was today thrown from his horse and suffered a fractured leg. The horse became frightened in a tunnel.

Moscow, Russia, Nov. 16.—Russian troops have been dispatched to the East. This move of the Russian government is said to be directed against China.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—Following orders received from the German government the German Consul has opened relations with the new Panama government.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Quartermaster General Humphries in his annual report makes the recommendation that Honolulu be made a regular port of call of the transport service in the Pacific.

IMPORTANT TO HAWAII.

Wharves, Breakwater and Public Buildings for Hawaii.

In an interview in Washington, Senator Mitchell said:

"The three most important things for us to accomplish for Hawaii at the regular session of Congress are the taking over of lighthouses by the government; the improvement of harbors in the islands, and the erection of suitable public buildings. I shall do all I can to bring legislation on those matters about. I have heard that the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor is taking steps to place the lighthouses under Federal control. I strongly favor that. Of course, in the end, it depends upon Congress, which must vote the necessary appropriations. We have heretofore asked for appropriations for that purpose, but I sincerely hope the request will now be heeded. The commerce on the Pacific, that touches the islands, is large. There is great need of new lights for Honolulu harbor and for the establishment of a good modern lighthouse system for all the islands that figure in ocean commerce."

"I regard the improvement of Honolulu harbor as likewise very important. I shall urge the erection of a breakwater at Hilo and the immediate appropriation of the money for public buildings in both cities."

Keep Machinery Going.

Honolulu, Nov. 16.—Secretary Carter was asked this morning whether, on becoming acting-Governor with the retirement of Mr. Dole to take the Federal judgeship, he would immediately make his appointments of heads of departments, or whether he would defer such action until his commission as Governor of Hawaii was received from Washington.

The Secretary stated that he had not yet made up his mind on this point. One thing was certain, however, it was absolutely necessary that the machinery of the Government be continued as far as possible, uninterruptedly. There are many matters more or less held up at present and it is Mr. Carter's idea to get everything going again as soon as possible.

It is understood that Mr. Carter will lose no time in making appointments when he takes charge of the administration.

London, Nov. 16.—The Colombian government has cabled a protest against the action of the United States and European governments in their recognition of the Panama revolutionary government.

Washington, November 16.—The House of Representatives today agreed to vote on the Cuban reciprocity bill Thursday next. The discussion will be largely an outline of policy on the part of opposing party leaders.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Following are the scores of the big football games played today: At New Haven—Princeton, 11; Yale 6. At Philadelphia—Pennsylvania, 6; Carlisle Indians, 16. At Cambridge—Harvard, 0; Dartmouth, 11.

Bogota, Colombia, Nov. 14.—The Colombian Government claims that it will resist the United States in the protection given the Panama Republic. Colombia expects that it will have the moral and active sympathy of all South and Central American States.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Senator Mark Hanna is slated for the chairmanship of the Canal Committee in place of Senator Morgan. Hanna has been the leading advocate of the Panama route and it was largely through his activity that negotiations were switched from the Nicaragua route.

GOOD RECOMMENDATIONS

In Governor Dole's Report to the President.

Governor Dole gives estimates of harbor works at Honolulu and Hilo to cost $1,356,000. The proposed works include deepening Honolulu harbor and channel to 34 feet, low water. Hilo's breakwater is put down at one million dollars. A list of 52 needed lighthouses with estimated cost of structure and dwelling, as recommended by Lieut. Commander Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., is appended. Their aggregate cost is $74,400.

He also recommends: Reserve Coconut Island, Hilo, for a free public pleasure ground, its aforesaid use, as the Federal authorities do not now desire it for a quarantine station.

Require warrants of the auditor for the payment of legislative expenses.

Federal Government assist the Territory in the scientific study of leprosy and search for remedies.

Amend Organic Act to make Territory's bonds redeemable in ten years and payable in twenty, twenty-five or thirty years.

Make payment of taxes for year previous to general election a condition of the voting franchise.

Establish a tariff duty of 2 or 3 cents a pound on foreign coffee.

Admit a limited immigration of Chinese laborers, subject to deportation on their ceasing to serve at agricultural or domestic labor.

Recognize authority of Chinese consuls to administer estates of Chinese dying intestate in the Territory.

Maintain an expert forester in the Territory, to act with local authorities.

Federal Government assume management of Hawaiian lighthouses and improvement and care of Hawaiian harbors, or, alternatively, transfer sufficient of the customs revenue collected at Hawaiian ports for these purposes to the Territory.

Refund expenses of lighthouses and harbors from June 14, 1900, to the Territory.

Erect buildings for Federal officials in Honolulu and Hilo.

Construct a breakwater for the protection of Hilo harbor.

Washington, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt today sent to the House the correspondence dealing with the Panama government. This correspondence was called, for by Congressman Hitt of the Foreign Relations Committee the first day of the extra session.

Colon, Panama, Nov. 16.—The Colombian Peace Commissioners arrived in Colon today and were formally received by the officials of the Panama Government. The U. S. S. Dixie landed additional Marines immediately following the arrival of the United States battleship Maine, which came into port today.

London, Nov. 16.—The Colombian government has cabled a protest against the action of the United States and European governments in their recognition of the Panama revolutionary government.

Washington, November 16.—The House of Representatives today agreed to vote on the Cuban reciprocity bill Thursday next. The discussion will be largely an outline of policy on the part of opposing party leaders.

Washington, Nov. 10.—A petition from the Filipino Chamber of Commerce at Manila was presented to Congress today calling for the abolition of tariff charges on all Philippine products.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Cuban bill making the reciprocity treaty effective was reported in the House this morning. Action was delayed in order to give the minority time to prepare its report.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Senator Morgan, who has been a vigorous antagonist of the Panama isthmian canal route, will not hold the chairmanship of the reorganized canal committee of the Senate.

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Roosevelt's message to the extra session of Congress was read in both Houses this morning. The President confines himself exclusively to a request for legislation that will insure reciprocity with Cuba.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—The street railway strike has caused a general blockade of traffic in the city but has not thus far been marked by untoward incidents. A few cars have been run over the lines and although strikers have made demonstrations no serious difficulties have arisen.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Roosevelt's Cuban message was today referred to the Ways and Means Committee of the House. Chairman Payne introduced the administration measure which makes effective the reciprocity treaty ratified at the last session of the Senate and later accepted by the Cuban Republic.

Anti-American Tumult.

Colon, Nov. 13.—The announcement that Panama had declared its independence and that other foreign powers had recognized it, created an anti-American tumult in Cartagena. There were street cries of "Death to Panamans and Americans!" United States Consul Ingersoll shut himself up in the consulate. At Barranquilla Vice-Consul Lovelace was stoned but escaped unhurt. There are fears for the safety of Americans and other foreigners.

Cartagena and Barranquilla are two ports on the Caribbean Sea coast of Colombia, situated about 300 miles from Colon and are the ports from which Colombian government troops for service in the Panama district would embark. Cartagena is a city of about 20,000 people, and the other port has a population of about 40,000. In 1898 an Italian squadron blockaded Cartagena until the government settled an arbitration award made by President Cleveland.

TERRITORY AND COUNTY ITEMS.

What Secretary Thinks of Demand Under Loan Act.

Honolulu, Nov. 11.—Secretary of the Territory Carter was seen this afternoon by a Bulletin reporter with reference to statements made by him in connection with territorial and county items in the loan bill. Asked what he believed to be territorial as opposed to county items, Mr. Carter said: "I consider any item that is for the benefit of the territory as a whole and which will result in any increase in the assets to be a territorial item."

Continuing, Mr. Carter said: "County buildings which pay no rent to the Territory, which are turned over to the respective counties with the land upon which they are situated and which are not assessed behind the bonds, are purely county affairs."

"The sewerage system, with charges based on 6 per cent of the capital invested and the revenues of which go to the county and the expenditure being for one county, of the others, is hardly a proper expenditure of the proceeds of our bonds. To expend money raised by loans in that way might raise a question as to the validity of the bond itself. Capital in New York up to the point of the expenditure of the money is perfectly satisfied but it must pay some attention to the expenditures itself."

"Personally, so far as the establishment of county government is concerned, I should desire to see it a success. It will allow freer expression of the wishes of the people and will permit of local legislation by the supervisors in many matters without the necessity of awaiting the biennial session of the Legislature. It will mean the handling by each county of its own affairs and will mean the development of the people into citizens more interested in the public affairs of their own respective counties."

"However, from the start, the two forms of government—territorial and county—should be separate and distinct. If territorial money is to be expended on county matters why should not county money be expended on territorial matters? The two forms can be operated as independent of each other as the Federal is from the territorial."

"We have to pay two cents on each letter sent out from this office and yet the taxes of the community through the customs go toward the support of the Federal Government."

"A taxpayer on Kauai pays one-half his taxes to the Territory and one-half to the county. He certainly expects to get different matters attended to by the two different governments and I claim that it is not a matter of indifference with the taxpayer of Kauai how the money he pays in is spent. If it were, then where would be the good of keeping the money separate."

"Now then as to purely territorial items. Under this head you have the public buildings, including the school buildings. The appropriation is $537,000. The insane asylum is a good illustration since it would benefit every part of the country."

"The appropriation of $447,500 for harbors is purely territorial. This, you see, will not be exclusively for Honolulu. It would affect every nook and corner in the territory. Here again is another territorial item pure and simple."

"The point where the decision is difficult and hard to differentiate is the question of roads and bridges. It is my belief that where a new road or bridge opens up new land and results in development, the item should be territorial, although in time such a road might be turned over to the county. Primarily, the assets of the Territory as a whole have been increased. A road which rebuilds or relocates an old one is what I would call under county items."

"I might say in conclusion that I took up this matter with Mr. Dole before he signed the loan act but he does not seem to remember it. I developed my ideas about the matter and had them shaped into a letter and sent to Washington August 5th, shortly after Mr. Dole signed the bill. You can see, therefore, that this is no new idea with me. I did not make it public then but when I came back a banker came to me and called my attention to the matter, asking me my opinion. I then told him I had gone into the matter and would be glad to take it up with him. His point was unquestionably the effect of the nature of the expenditures on the bonds and since he was a possible bidder, he wanted to know just where he stood."

KILAUEA LUNCHEON.

Party of Tourists Cook Meal in the Volcano.

About 3 o'clock last Sunday afternoon there started out for the crater of Kilauea, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brown of Honolulu, Miss Olive Block of Springfield, Ill., Mr. Geo. Keeney and Mr. Cass of Puunene, Maui, and Miss Jessie Robertson of Santa Rosa, California. Following later on horses were Mrs. Block and Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair Bidgood, our genial host and hostess at the Volcano House.

The climb down the six hundred feet to the crater floor was soon accomplished, and an easy pace set over the lava beds, broken for an occasional snapshot, or tour of inspection. The blow hole "Little Beggar" was looked at; a picture taken in "Pele's Picture-frame," and the hot cracks received their due attention.

Reaching the crater rim, we laid down on the rocks and peered in, watching in horrified wonder, the great volumes of sulphur-laden fumes pouring from the cracks and crevices in the pit beneath. Next, we tossed stones over the brink and watched them speed to the bottom, followed closely by numberless companions that had been loosened by their mad career, listening with shivers to their wailing and mournful cry, reverberated from wall to wall as they were lost to view in the horrid pit below. What a scene! Fit for a carnival of devils and fiends incarnate!

Soon the mounted party reached us, and we hastened on to the cavern beyond, clambering through a hole in the floor, and down a ladder into the very nether world, vacated for the moment by Pele and her attendants, but for all that, filled with their hot uncanny breath. Lighting candles we wandered on through rocky corridors, ever increasing in heat, where we gathered Pele's curls from the walls, as well as a few beautiful crystals that found their being there. Finally with rejoicing we found ourselves once more on top of earth.

We sauntered on to "Pele's Kitchen" to find the kettle boiling. At least we judged so by the mighty jets of steam issuing from below. We had no time for tea—a gentle pressure of Madam Pele's hand was quite sufficient. Sometimes a welcome can prove altogether too warm!

The hot cracks were soon reached, and we were comfortably seated watching with interest the process of cooking before us. Iron rods across a crack made a safe support for the kettle, and in a few moments it was boiling merrily, promising with glad tidings, a welcome cup of tea. A frying pan was then placed over a crack, and soon the delicious odor of frying bacon and eggs reached us. What a wonder! The first party in the history of Kilauea, so they told us, was utilizing fires of the nether world for the very human necessity of a cooking stove. No need of a mechanical knowledge of drafts here! All done to order! No careless fireman here to forget the fuel and extinguish the flames! From the cracks came the faint glow of the fires below, and the red hot rocks only a few feet below the surface, fascinated the on-looker, for he realized with horror the nearness of that mighty cauldron. Like snake charmed birds we drew nearer and still nearer to gaze, the while wishing ourselves far beyond the fury of that never-sleeping giant. One of the party soon realized the proximity of a hot crack to her chosen seat, but for a time was persuaded that it was but the result of her fancy. However, upon her change another of the party utilized the fine crack then discovered for heating his plate and cup—to his discomfort as he discovered later. Wierd, like an intrusion into another world, the scene impressed itself upon us. By the faint light of two lanterns we sat eating. Did anything ever taste better? First was passed delicious hard tack, followed shortly by bread and butter sandwiches. Nectar, known as coffee, hot and delicious, filled our cups—for a time. But to crown all, what more delicious than a sandwich of gloriously hot crisp bacon? Nothing dear friends. You still have something to live for!

Soon we faced homeward, the foot party leading the way. The moon, taking pity on the foot-weary travellers, smiled out from behind the clouds that had been generously supplying us with a cooling mist, lighting our not any too smooth pathway, and adding, for our pleasure, a perfect lunar rainbow, to replace the beautiful one supplied earlier in the day by the sun. But all is not told. We reached the crater wall only to find a climb before us, through sand and stones. But who minded a little thing like that? Out over the dark trail behind us came the call of the horse-men, which, taken up by the crater walls, was echoed and re-echoed with beautiful clearness. We, too, careless of our wealth of breath, answered back with gay abandon—for a little while. But where the top? And why the heat? Off comes coats, but still no cooler. Every downward step was taken with protest for was not the top like the pot of gold at the end of a rainbow? "How near and yet how far!" A final clamber and the top was attained, and then we stood to gaze. Such relics of a day gone by.

Refreshed, and in changed clothes, we gathered around the fire for a chat, where a feast completed a day of pleasure, unmarred by even the shadow of a desire unfulfilled.—J. S. R., in Evening Bulletin.

Burningham's Clothes.

Honolulu, Nov. 10.—"Jerry" Burningham, the well-known and popular purser in the employ of the Wilder Steamship Company, will soon have to go about arrayed in a scriptural fig-leaf if his hard luck continues. It seems that Jerry's taste in clothing and fit just suits some mysterious gentleman who depends on this excellent taste in selecting apparel, and then appropriates it while Jerry is rocking in the cradle of the deep.

Some months ago a dress suit and several other suits of clothes and other articles of clothing were stolen from Burningham's domicile, the cottage at the corner of Union street and the convent lane.

Jerry collected a new wardrobe and his surprise and chagrin can be imagined when on returning to Honolulu a few days ago he found that his new outfit had also been "lifted."

The thief had evidently entered the place during the afternoon by means of a key. The clothes belonging to Mr. Scott, who lives in the same house, had not been touched. Evidently they do not fit the thief. Poor Jerry had been relieved of five or six pairs of trousers, a tuxedo and a lot of new silk handkerchiefs. The thief very considerably allowed Jerry to keep some old things and his week's washing.

A cocktail shaker and several other similar necessities of life had also been taken. Burningham has reported the matter to the police and is in hopes that he will get at least some of his rayment back.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—The City Railway employes began their strike wrecking cars by which many people were injured. The service has been abandoned.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious and there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly! The Hilo Drug Store Sells it.

JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

The Hilo Tribune.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1903.

Entered at the Postoffice at Hilo, Hawaii, as second-class matter.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY. L. W. HAWORTH - Editor.

IN A NUTSHELL.

"Personally, so far as the establishment of county government is concerned, I should desire to see it a success. It will allow freer expression of the wishes of the people and will permit of fiscal legislation by the supervisors in many matters without the necessity of awaiting the biennial session of the Legislature. It will mean the handling by each county of its own affairs and will mean the development of the people into citizens more interested in the public affairs of their own respective counties."—Geo. R. Carter.

THE PROPER WAY.

The free hand, open and positive utterances of Geo. R. Carter, published in the Honolulu papers have the true ring. It is an innovation in Hawaii for a high public official to talk straight, unequivocally and earnestly—for publication. Geo. R. Carter is sounding the note of a new era and if we mistake not has divined with excellent instincts the way into public confidence, the way to a solid pedestal as governor, from which nothing but inconceivable mistakes can remote him. Mr. Carter is winning the confidence of the public by taking the public unreservedly into his confidence. It is the frank American spirit which wins in America only as it wins any where, when men in position are strong enough and bold enough to rely upon the common sense of the people. These methods clear the atmosphere of doubt, suspicion, stealth and vacillation and promote understanding and public confidence. When mistakes are made under such a general policy of frankness and directness, the public is usually generous.

When Geo. R. Carter becomes well settled in the office of Governor the people of Hilo would like the opportunity of giving him the glad hand. During four years, Governor Dole came once to this town and traveled then incog. He has never been in official touch with Hilo. He paid social visits in outer districts but this whole Island knows him more as a venerable citizen than as an official militant.

It will be different with the virile and active present incumbent. Hilo is ready to be good regardless of factional or even party lines, and will contribute all she can to the task of injecting a Twentieth Century spirit into the administration of Hawaiian affairs.

CARTER'S SUCCESSOR.

According to a statement made by Secretary Carter Tuesday morning, the names of J. G. Pratt, formerly of Hilo and J. Castle Ridgway of this city are the only, or at least are the leading candidates for the office of Secretary of the Territory. Mr. Ridgway is a gentleman whose training and experience well fit him for the place and should he secure the position, Hilo will have a loyal representative on the Governor's Council. Mr. Pratt was also once a Hiloite and can be depended on to do all he can, should he be made Secretary, to further the interests of the city and Island of his first residence in the Territory. Both Mr. Ridgway and Mr. Pratt have influential friends near the President but the chances are that whichever of the twain commands the support of Carter will land the Secretaryship.

THE report of Governor Dole to the President recommends for Hilo a breakwater in the bay, new public buildings and asks that Coconut Island be made into a play ground park. Senator Mitchell of Oregon, in a recent interview states that he will leave nothing undone this winter in Congress to have appropriations made for these and other improvements in Hawaii.

OUTSIDE REPRESENTATION.

There should be little or no doubt of the proper representation of Hawaii on the roll of "Department Heads" under the new administration. Governor Carter will be as quick as any one to feel the general sentiment in this regard and no one knows better than he that competent and strenuous material can be found in country districts. On this point the Honolulu press speaks as follows:

In appointing new heads of departments the next Governor will scarcely overlook the claims of the other islands. At present Hawaii and Kauai are not represented in the larger offices of the Territory though the taxes they contribute entitle them to a share of the good things. Hawaii, especially should have some encouragement.—Advertiser.

Outside island representation is a problem that will be up to Acting Governor Carter in framing his plans for department heads under his administration. All things being equal the other islands have a right to serious consideration. The complaint has ever been that Honolulu takes everything, and while county government will largely do away with the old time feeling, it will be a gain to the Territorial administration if outside districts are made to feel that they stand on something like an equality with Oahu.—Bulletin.

THE report by the Mauna Loa that G. H. Gere had been decided upon for the office of Superintendent of Public Works, went long enough uncontradicted to show that in Hilo such an appointment would have met with no adverse criticism. Mr. Gere has been working on this Island for more than a year almost constantly and has established himself in the confidence of the people.

A careful perusal of the utterances of Geo. R. Carter indicate that as Governor, he will not carry on a policy of discrimination against the Hawaiian, a fear that was held by many who had observed his political associations since annexation.

Teachers' Reading Circle.

The meetings of the Teachers' Reading Circle this year are as interesting as formerly and as well attended. The meeting Tuesday night was devoted to a number of topics all of which were very instructive. Miss Lampman gave a resume of the events of the past fortnight in Europe. Miss Deyo gave a brief talk on the early history of the British Isles, and English history will be one of the main lines of study this year. Miss Potter told an exceptionally interesting story of her experiences in Italy giving especial attention to a description of the leaning tower of Pisa.

Mrs. F. L. Nash had a paper on Milan treating in detail of St. Marks Cathedral and the painting by da Vinci of "The Last Supper." Mrs. Nash's paper was particularly appreciated because she is soon to leave Hilo and while a resident here she has been one of the most zealous members of the reading circle.

HIS OLD TRICKS.

Practical Joker Once in Hilo Still Gamey.

The R. B. Williams in the story below is supposed to be the former Hiloite, who was always good with original pranks. San Francisco, Sept. 30.—To have his bride kidnaped and carried off less than an hour after being married was the misfortune that last night befell Harry Dunning Lee, a young assayer from Portland, who has been acting as chief chemist of the Confidence Cyanide Plant of Tuolumne County, last night.

The young man had just been joined in wedlock to Miss Geneve Jones, of 1529 Ninth avenue, in Oakland, and while friends were congratulating the bride, the young husband stepped into another room for a moment to speak to his mother-in-law, Mrs. W. T. Jones.

While he was absent, the bride was enticed to the front door on the pretext that there was a message for her, when a shawl was thrown over her head and she was picked up by Dr. R. B. Williams, who carried her to a waiting carriage. Miss Helen Lloyd, a cousin of the bride, and Fren Le Balister, entered the carriage with them and they were quickly driven away.

It was after midnight that the frantic young groom found his wife after informing the police department and threatening to alarm. He encountered her at home after returning from a fruitless search.

The bride is the daughter of the late W. T. Jones, a well-known mining man of West Oakland.

The bride party will be the swiftest ever seen in Hilo and the wedding reception will be in full blast when the sale begins. The groom will be correctly dressed in swallow tail, white vest and immaculate tie. The bride will be a dream of loveliness. Cinderella and her prince will be there, so will Little Bo-Peep and Red Riding Hood. They will all be dressed to kill. Mary and her Lamb will look upon the scene and Mother Goose will have something to say. The Tennis Girl and a fetching Spanish senorita, the chief of the MacAlpin Clan, tartan clad, and a delegation from the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution will be in the company. Costumes will accord with the time and place from which each of these aristocratic midgets come. The children of these children's children will give a May Pole dance.
 The dolls have been dressed so exquisitely because the ladies of the Guild have taken great pains and have had valued assistance from several on the outside.
 The sale at the fair this afternoon will be in charge of Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Holland. They will be assisted by Misses Crow and Loebenstein.

NOVEMBER TERM.

Business of the Court Proceeds With Dispatch.
 The November term of the Fourth Circuit Court convened Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Gilbert F. Little presiding and the regular officers of the Court in their usual places. The list of grand jurors was called showing all present except four which had been excused. In calling the trial jurors, the following were excused: Ottor Reinhart, on account of deafness; A. Lidgate, government official; W. A. Carpenter, government official; T. A. Dranga, statutory cause.
 The charge of the Court to the Grand Jury was read and A. Richley was appointed foreman; Kaiama bailiff. Chang Chong was sworn in as Chinese interpreter and Florentine Souza, Spanish interpreter. Two trial jurors, Messrs. L. Turner and Harry Wicks were excused on call.
 After calling the calendar, Thos. Black and Geo. Herriot in due form transferred their allegiance from King Edward VII and became citizens of the United States. Later, Mr. Claus Johnson was made a citizen, renouncing allegiance to King Oscar.
 Wednesday afternoon the case of Chew Nim vs. Pilipo Kumulae, trespass was called up for trial. At the close of the plaintiff's testimony, a motion by the defense for a nonsuit was disallowed by the court. At three o'clock yesterday, the testimony for the defense closed and argument before the jury was begun. LeBlond & Smith for Plaintiffs; Smith & Parsons for defendant.
 In the case of Ah Quoy, under sentence and indictment for rape, a nolle prosequi was entered by prosecuting Attorney Matthewman and the prisoner was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff under the old sentence.
 A nolle prosequi was also entered in the case of Kumulae, indicted for forgery. The forgery consisted in adding names to a petition for the removal of Mr. Wilson, a school teacher at Kalapana. The case was disposed of under instruction from the Attorney General. A dismissal, under instruction from the Attorney General, was also entered in the case of Choy Tong Soon, charged with practicing medicine without a license.
 The suit of M. S. Grinbaum vs. U. Kanai et al. was dismissed at cost of appellant, the defendant below.

CHARGE TO GRAND JURY.

Full Text of Judge Little's Instruction Present Term.

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:—It is prescribed to me by the duties of my situation to apprise you of the law applicable to and which shall govern your deliberations and define your duty as grand jurors for this term.

Your particular attention is called to the importance of your station and the dignity and solemnity which should attend every minute detail of your deliberations. Justice, truth, sound judgment and mercy should guide and be ever with you in the consideration of any case.

The performance of any duty required of you as grand jurors should not be influenced by politics or political associations, since an American court of justice, which of course includes a grand jury and a trial jury, is not a political tribunal, and all matters connected with them must be measured not by political considerations, but by the rules of equal and exact justice—hence perfect freedom from any racial, social or political influence is absolutely essential for the proper exercise of its functions. Truth, justice and mercy should be your only guide.

In the United States the Constitution is our rule and guide. It is the "Supreme Law" of this land—there is none higher. The laws of our states and territories must conform to its provisions and the official or citizen who knowingly and wilfully misconstrues its plain words or winks at a violation of its requirements is not an honorable official or a worthy citizen.

The supremacy of the law cannot be questioned by you, not even for the purpose of finding "talk and discourse," nor is it proper that you should lend yourselves to harsh oppression by being over zealous, or permit indifference to destroy your usefulness.

The Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States provides among other things that "No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces or the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger."

In a free government, regularly operating in its legitimate sphere, no imaginable condition of things suspends for an instant the Constitutional privileges or safeguards of the citizen and in determining the probable necessity for the presentment of an indictment of a citizen his Constitutional rights should not for a moment be lost sight of.

Under these instructions you are to examine fully and fairly all matters called to your attention by the Court or prosecuting attorney, or should any member of the grand jury have cognizance of any matter or thing necessary to have the attention of the grand jury, it is his duty to present it and to give all information necessary to a proper investigation.

You must not permit the accused or his attorney or his witnesses to appear before you, or to discuss with you at any time or place any matter which may have been made, may be or become a matter for your investigation. You have no discretion in this matter; a juror who reveals any part, detail or circumstance which has or is taking place before that body, except to the Court or the prosecuting attorney—except as otherwise heretofore provided for, is amenable for contempt and severe punishment. The reasons for such restrictions you will at once recognize as necessary, but it is not a subject which you, as grand jurors, can discuss—it must be implicitly obeyed.

The prosecuting attorney will advise you as to the law in any case excepting on matters relating to his department or any department in which he is interested, officially or otherwise; then it is your right and duty, if you require further instructions on any such matter, to ask the Court for such instructions under the law and to exclude the prosecuting attorney, if he be interested, from your presence during such deliberations. In all other cases he will examine witnesses brought before you and prepare judgments, when you shall so direct, for the signature of your foreman and to be countersigned by himself and in due season returned into Court by your foreman and in your presence.

In the consideration of any case, if in your judgment the unexplained and uncontradicted evidence before you would justify the jury in convicting, you should find and present an indictment.

You will exclude all persons from your presence while deliberating and acting upon any matter which may come before you; and, if for any reason the presence of the prosecuting attorney or any interpreter which you may permit to be present retards your successful examination of the witness, you will promptly exclude him or them, or should any member of the grand jury be interested in any subject under investigation before you, your foreman or, in case he be the interested party, any member of the grand jury shall cause him or them, if more than one, to be excluded from the room and all rules shall operate against him or them in like manner as if he or they were not a member or members of the panel during the consideration of this particular matter. And, if anyone thus requested to retire should refuse to comply with the order or should attempt to reveal the facts under consideration to anyone outside the jury room or should attempt to restrict, hinder, delay or obstruct a full, free and fair examination upon any subject under investigation, you will promptly report him to this Court.

I charge you that any person summoned before you as a witness or for any purpose where he or she shall answer questions to be put by you under oath, who shall testify falsely, you should promptly indict them for perjury.

The foreman, and in his absence any member of the grand jury, may administer the oath to witnesses or others sworn by you.

Should any witness, duly subpoenaed by you according to law, refuse to appear before you, or appearing refuse to answer any questions which should properly be put to them by you, you should also report them promptly to the Court.

To find an indictment there must be a concurrence of at least twelve jurors.

In addition to the foregoing observations, you will be furnished with a copy of the rules provided by our Supreme Court under the provision of Section 83 of the Organic Act, which will guide you in the transaction of such business as may come before you as to the swearing of witnesses, presenting indictments, your attendance, etc. In making your final report you may make such observations and suggestions as in your judgment public justice and the good of the community require.

[Signed] GILBERT F. LITTLE, Judge.

PHILIPPINE FINANCIAL MIX-UP.

Sadly in Need of a Single Standard of Money.

Mental arithmetic seems likely to become a popular study among the Filipinos, to judge from the editorials and news items in the columns of the Manila papers. Mexican dollars, Spanish coin of all kinds, American gold, silver, and paper,
and, last of all, the new American Philippine pesos, commonly called "conants," circulate in unrestrained intermixture in the Philippines;
and as the market values of gold and silver fluctuate, so does the value of one kind of money fluctuate in terms of the rest. As a result, the number of pesos in a
"conant" and the number of centavos in a dime are matters of daily doubt, and the "money sharks," we are told, are making fortunes at the expense of merchants and others who are not lightning calculators. Counterfeit "conants" are adding to the confusion. The insular authorities have issued orders attempting to regulate the rate of exchange, but the money market does not appear to obey our Philippine government, and the Manila papers express the fear that unless the importation of Mexican money and the exportation of "conants" are barred, the latter will disappear.
The Manila American says: "Only when the Administration forces the payment of revenue in the Philippine coin will there be any prospect of the general circulation of the new money. Force is about the only remedy for evils existing in this beautiful bunch of trouble.

"The prospect of a slump in Mexican coin is imminent, altho yesterday's quotations show a slight advance. The arrival of the Zafiro with a cargo of silver and the prospects that the Rubi will carry the white metal for ballast next trip indicates that the Philippines will continue to be a dumping-ground for bamboo money.

"In the mean time the conant is slowly becoming the popular coin.
The insular government can consistently demand that all revenues be paid in Philippine coin and cut the Mexican silver out entirely. Only when this is done will the new money be properly circulated. The attempt made by the Government to maintain a ratio between United States currency and Mexican silver is the only obstacle now in the way of giving the conant dollar general circulation."

The Manila Freedom condemns
the Government's attempt to regulate the rate of exchange, and calls for a heavy import tax on Spanish and Mexican money. It says: "The government attempted to regulate something of which it had little or no expert knowledge or experience, and, where import and export taxes might easily have been levied upon gold and mex respectively, to keep the one in and the other out, the Government threw wide the doors of the islands and practically invited every body with a silver dollar, be it bad or good, to bring it in and get his part of a good dollar, as a result of which we have shipped to China several hundred thousand good American dollars, either in gold, silver, or bills. In return for this, we have taken in a lot of comparatively worthless dhobes, which have been going up and down like a jumping-jack.

"There is still time, if the Government be so minded, to impose that tax on mex that is imported.
If a duty of ten per cent. (a tremendously heavy impost, it is true, but an effective one) is placed on all the mex that is desired to be brought into these islands, the rate at which it will stop coming in will jar the authorities considerably, and after a few weeks the tax will be a dead letter, because there will be nothing like a dhobe for it to be imposed upon. Let a tax be also placed upon the gold and the new conant peso to keep them from being taken from the country, and they will speedily be discovered by the money-changers to be worthless for foreign use. That is what we want precisely. No American cares whether our local currency is good for the uses of the customary peso

in Hongkong or Singapore, so long as it is good here for its face value.
As for the dollar, we can not afford to have it exported in any quantity, large or small, and that is all there is to the matter. If some such measure is not taken or adopted, the local currency, chosen for its peculiar merits as a strictly local currency and medium of exchange and barter, will begin to go out, and the mex will pour back. Should the insular currency by any chance go to pieces or begin to fluctuate, due to arbitrary valuations imposed upon it in spite of such things as sales for bullion in outside ports like Hongkong, there will be, in the words of Dr. Holmes; 'the devil to pay.' What we want is some means of keeping the currency straight; we do not want any more experiments with it by anybody;
we need financial stability on all hands, and we can not have this if we are to be at the mercy of the well-meaning but ill-advised perpetual experimenter."

France and Columbia.

Paris, France, Nov. 11.—American Ambassador Porter and Minister of Foreign Affairs Delcasse held a conference today on the situation at Panama. The conference was harmonious and it is authoritatively stated that France is well satisfied with the course taken by the American Government in its attitude toward Colombia and the revolutionary Panama Government.

Bogota, Colombia, Nov. 11.—A mass meeting was held in Bogota
today at which demands were made for a new Government. Recent events in Panama have stirred the Colombians to a high state of excitement. The Government is held responsible for the failure of the canal treaty and consequent loss of Panama and all benefits to be derived from the canal.

CARTER WANTS CLEAR SLATE.

Cooper Says Only as New Governor Can Carter Secure Information

Honolulu, Nov. 10.—It was said this morning that Secretary of the Territory Carter had been approached by various business men who expressed it as their conviction that some action should be taken, either by popular demonstration in the form of a mass meeting or taking the matter into the courts by injunction or other proceedings, to restrain the present administration, about to retire, from entering into large contracts in matters of Government work, entailing questions of financial policy and possible confusion between Territorial and county interests.

Secretary Carter was seen and asked concerning this report and he stated that he had been approached by several of the business men of the community with a view to preventing the Government from taking upon itself responsibilities which might prove a burden to the coming administration and which would not meet with the satisfaction of the taxpayers.

In regard to what might be done the Secretary could not say. In answer to the direct question he stated that any taxpayer, he thought, had a right to bring proceedings, if he so desired, to restrain any action on the part of an officer of the Government.

"As far as the office of the Superintendent of Public Works is concerned," said Secretary Carter, "I have nothing whatever to say as to what shall be done or what shall not be done; but it does seem, in the light of my soon having to assume the duties of Governorship, that I should exhibit some interest in matters that are likely to materially affect my administration."

"The Superintendent of Public Works may enter into as many contracts as he likes between now and the time he retires, but, for the benefit of my own administration and that it may not be responsible for possible mistakes, I cannot help but interest myself in these matters."

"It does not seem right that big contracts should be entered into when it is uncertain as to where the Territory stands financially."

"We should be able to start clean, knowing where we stand. There will be most emphatic objections if money is spent, for example, on the counties which belongs by right to the Territory."

"We must not confuse Territorial and county affairs."

Secretary wrote to Superintendent Cooper yesterday afternoon referring to the statement of the latter in the morning's council meeting that the only contracts under the Loan Act were those of the Diamond Head Reservoir and the storm sewer. Carter stated in the letter that he had been informed by Manager Low of the Honolulu Plantation about road work in Ewa for which Ewa and Oahu plantations and Manager Low had paid advances under the assurance that they would be reimbursed from the loan fund. Secretary Carter was satisfied by this, he said, that the Government had no proper understanding of the obligations of the Territory. Mr. Carter requested a showing of the financial status as a matter of much importance.

Manager Ballentyne of the Rapid Transit Co. called on the Secretary to urge the completion of the South street storm sewer.

During the interview with Ballentyne the Secretary went out to see Superintendent Cooper. Carter stated later that Cooper had given him a reply to the effect that as far as Cooper was concerned, Carter could obtain the desired information about the Territory's financial status when he took office as Governor.

Sunberg, Pa., Nov. 12.—Judge Ausen handed down a decision today that will have a far-reaching effect throughout the anthracite coal region. Judge Ausen holds that the decision of the Arbitration Commission appointed by President Roosevelt does not have the force of law. It is held that the Commission was not a legal body and its findings are not in the nature of a legal contract between the parties interested.

GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE.

Charges of Fraud in Oahu Election Will be Proved.

Honolulu, November 10.—When Judge Gear's criminal court commenced work this morning Attorney Clarence W. Ashford, who was a candidate on the Home Rule ticket for Supervisor in the Fourth District, asked the attention of the court and spoke as follows:

"May it please your Honor, I wish to draw the attention of the court to the election held a week ago today for county officers. I am in possession of information secured from very credible sources to the effect that, in numerous instances which I have cited in this paper which I hold in my hand, direct and very serious violations of the election laws were committed."

"There was false personation of voters, men voting in the names of dead and absent voters and perjury was committed in swearing in such votes. And there was fraud in the matter of the rejection of ballots."

"Ink-stained fingers were used to mark ballots with fraudulent intent to deface them so as to justify their exclusion or rejection."

"Certain employes under the Department of Public Works were dismissed from service because of the way they voted or refused to vote."

"I have written out a number of such instances, naming witnesses who can be called upon to substantiate the facts alleged in this paper."

"I call this matter to the attention of your Honor as the presiding judge with the view that your Honor will submit the matter to the grand jury for investigation."

Here Mr. Ashford passed a type-written document up to Judge Gear, the Judge proceeding to look over its contents.

Continuing, Ashford said: "My information is to the effect that the Attorney General and one of his deputies were most persistently engaged in coaching a certain man attempting impersonation, this man having sworn that he was another voter."

Judge Gear here stated that it seemed that the members of the grand jury should take up the matter themselves, the Attorney General's department, to a certain extent, being implicated in the charges.

Deputy Attorney General Peters did not see that any charge had been made; Ashford had merely made an ex parte motion. "I do not know," said Peters, "that there is here any charge against the Attorney General's department that your Honor should intimate that the Attorney General could not act in conjunction with the grand jury."

Judge Gear—"When the court charged the grand jury it did not give any matters especially into their charge. The Attorney General was to wait on the grand jury and that body was charged to look into all such matters as might be brought to their attention by the Attorney General."

"There has been an attitude on the part of some of the community to severely criticize the grand jury because certain matters pertaining to the Territorial Legislature were not investigated by that body. If matters needing examination have not been looked into it is because of the failure of the Attorney General to bring such matters before the grand jury. The court plainly stated that anything brought up by the Attorney General was to be investigated."

"Now this paper calls for a vigorous investigation of certain matters. I will not now give out the contents of this paper. It seems to me that under the circumstances the members of the grand jury should act for themselves."

Deputy Attorney General Peters—"I do not believe Ashford has any right to refer as he does to the Attorney General's department. If Ashford has any complaint to make against this department he has a method of redress; he can take his complaint to the District Magistrate."

Judge Gear—"He can get redress here!"

Ashford—"I was not referring to Mr. Peters. He is not implicated at all!"

Peters—"I know I am not implicated!"

Ashford—"I don't know how you can know it unless I tell you."

Peters—"I certainly know it, as far as any crime is concerned."

Ashford—"I was simply giving you a certificate to the effect that you were not implicated."

Peters—"I don't want any certificate. I don't need any."

Judge Gear—"The grand jury has adjourned until Thursday, has it not, Mr. Attorney General?"

Peters—"It has, your Honor."

Judge Gear—"On Thursday, then, at 1 o'clock, the grand jury will appear for further charge. This matter will be attended to."

CARTER WILL REFORM.

Old Executive Council Methods Must Go.

Honolulu, Nov. 10.—Secretary Carter was asked this morning if he would continue the present system of executive councils when he became Governor.

"I have been considering the matter," replied the Secretary, "and, while at present I have formulated no definite plan, there are, it seems to me, a number of disadvantages in connection with the present system. For example as it is now in some cases, the minutest details of any proposition are submitted in executive council, the head of the department submitting these details, taking up all the time of the council, clogging the progress of business and really forcing to the attention of the council much that might just as well have been formulated beforehand and submitted as a whole. Others having business are delayed in their work. Then every member of the council cannot always be present and matters of importance requiring, perhaps, the attention of other heads than the one submitting the proposition, are delayed or not thoroughly treated on account of this absentee."

"I certainly believe that, in all matters, two heads are better than one and consultation must be had, of course. I mean to keep in touch with the heads of all departments but, these heads, being men of trust, must, as far as many details are concerned, have their business in such shape that it can be brought to completion without unnecessary going over."

"I have not formed any plans but I think it is safe to say that such work as is now performed by the executive council will be much simplified."

Beardslee Dead.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Rear Admiral L. A. Beardslee died here today after a short illness.

Rear Admiral Beardslee was very well known to the people of Honolulu, he having spent considerable time at this port when in active service. His longest stay was in 1895, when he arrived in the cruiser Philadelphia, Captain Cotton, flagship of the Pacific Squadron, shortly after the troubles of the Wilcox insurrection. Beardslee served with honors during the Civil War and was retired February 1, 1898, after thirty-eight years' service in the Navy.

Congress is Slow.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Very little work was done in either House of Congress today. In the Senate the time up to noon adjournment was taken up with the introduction of bills and receiving petitions. No business was done in the House of Representatives.
