WAS NOT PATRIOTIC

CRITICISM OF YESTERDAY'S CELEBRATION.

Some People Think That Baseball Games Are Improper as Decoration Day Events.

Honolulu's celebration of Decoration Day was not all that could be desired, in the opinion of many Grand Army men and others of the older generation. These are inclined to object to baseball games and other amusements and to take the view that the day should be more devoted to its solemn memories.

"The day should be one devoted to the memories of the soldiers who died in the great war," said one of those who holds this view, "and especially should the younger generation be influenced to think of such things, rather than of a baseball game. Other American cities do not regard the day as one for sports, and I do not see why Honolulu should. Memorial day was not established for such purposes."

"The day is not necessarily one of mourning, but it is one set aside for showing respect to the veterans of the war, federal or confederate, for both fought for what they believed to be right. Flags are half masted, on all buildings, and surely there is an incongruity in holding sporting events beneath half masted flags. It is time that something was done in Honolulu to impress this lesson, especially upon the younger generation, that they may grow up to remember the day for what it is, as those remember it who actually have relatives whose tombs are among those to be decorated."

"Honolulu has exercises in commemoration of the day. It is true, but observed crowded special cars going to the baseball game and it was at the game that the young people were to be found. The children ought to be the ones to decorate the graves. If they are not to be taught to do this and to feel the solemnity of the holiday, what is to become of the Memorial Day of the future? What sort of remembrance will the dead ones in whose honor the holiday was established have, when those who lived through the war have passed away, and the men and women of the period look back to Memorial Day, that were only occasions for sports? It would be better to abolish the day altogether, and have no attempt at observance, than to have a day set aside and then spend it in games."

"The occasion is one that should be observed with the greatest respect. It should be as if the community were pausing from business in respect to the memory of some dead President, or other official. Honolulu had a day for doing honor to William McKinley. How would a baseball game have looked on that day? Yet there is no difference, or should not be. On Memorial Day we pause to remember and honor our soldier dead. It is poorly done when we gather at public sports while the rest of the country is devoting the time to recalling the soldier dead seeking to impress on the youth of the nation the lesson which their lives should teach."

"I hope the future will see the school children doing more on Memorial Day than they did yesterday, and that Honolulu will not again be disgraced as she was yesterday. The schools ought to take the lead, and the pupils should be the ones to lay the flowers on the soldiers' graves."

A PLAGUE PILLOW.
United States Marshal Hendry has the latest thing in fancy pillows. It is a "plague pillow," made of badger skin by him during plague times. There are the badger skin pillows through the quarantine lines, the nurses' badge with a red cross on them, the guard's badge and others. The badger is of different colors, and sewed together on the front of a fancy yellow silk pillow, they make up a very pretty ornament and one that is an interesting reminder of old times. Hendry was secretary of the Board of Health during the epidemic. The pillow was very neatly sewed by Miss Handy, and makes an ornament of which the marshal is very proud.

TO SHOOT STRAY DOGS.
Officer Apana, the dog catcher, announced that he expected to have a dog slaying session at Iwilei this morning. About a dozen stray animals, whose owners had not claimed them, were to be killed.

BASEBALL PROBLEM

A DISPUTE AMONG LOCAL AUTHORITIES.

A Question of Rules in The Great American Game—Disputants Making Bets.

A baseball problem has arisen among local experts on the game and a controversy rages between opposing supporters of two different interpretations of the rules. The all-important question is, Can a man on first retain his base, after a man at the bat has made a fair strike? Local authorities differ on this great problem.

All admit that the man on first must run. When the batter makes a hit he has a right to expect first base to be vacant, and he makes a baseline for first. But suppose he can't reach it, and suppose the man who was on first observes this fact, and having made a start for second, starts back to first and is able to reach first safely, has he a right to do so? There's the rub, and after yesterday's game the dispute waxed fierce among many rival authorities. Jimmie Thompson was one of the starters of the row, and before he got through bets were numerous, but no authority could be found to whom the disputants were willing to defer. The doctors differ. Thompson pulled a book of rules and read them in favor of his view that the man on first is a goner if he doesn't make second, when the man at the bat starts. Others read the rules differently. Sundry bottles of wine and boxes of cigars have been wagered, and now the baseball men want to hear from someone who can settle the question.

The contingency is one that can seldom arise but it is a possibility. The man on first is of course only too anxious to get to second, and he always tries, but now and then the hit might be too "rotten" and he might think he would keep first, certain that the batter could not make it.

The rule on the subject, as laid down in Spalding's official baseball guide for 1902, the standard authority, is as follows:

"If, when a batsman becomes a baserunner, the first base, or the first and second bases, or the first, second and third bases, be occupied, any baserunner so occupying a base shall cease to be entitled to hold it, until any following base-runner is put out, and may be caught at the next base, or by being touched by the ball in the hands of a fielder in the same manner as in running to first base, or at any time before any following base-runner is put out."

SIX DIVORCE CASES

LAST DAY OF THE TERM OF COURT.

Decrees Granted in the Mallan, Harrib and Vida Cases—Silva Case Hearing Is Continued.

Judge Robinson opened court this morning, the last day of the term with six divorce cases on the calendar, all set for hearing today. Three of them were quickly disposed of, and then the judge took up the continuation of the Silva case, which occupied the rest of the morning.

Divorces were granted in the cases of Mary M. Mallan vs. K. C. Mallan, Mary I. Harrib vs. Ernest L. Harrib and the Vida case against H. C. Vida. In the Vida case there were three children. The eldest daughter was given to the custody of the father and the other two to the mother.

The ejectment suit of the Heela Agricultural Company against Frank Pahlia has been discontinued. Allen R. Scrimgeour and Alexander Scrimgeour of Oakland, California, by their attorneys, Russell and Watson have filed a motion to secure a detailed inventory of the estate of the late A. B. Scrimgeour, from David Dayton, administrator.

Rudolph Duncan has filed his answer to the injunction suit of Annie W. Akono. The action was brought to restrain Duncan from removing fences from certain property. Duncan says that the premises are occupied by H. R. Hiltchcock, and that the latter authorized him to move the stuff.

ON GUARD.

Special officers McDuffie and Renear looked after the general safety of the town this morning with the assistance of the remnant of the uniformed members of the "finest," while the rest of the force were drilling and exhibiting their general perfection at Makiki.

PHILIPPINES AND PACIFIC CABLE

THE PHILIPPINES CHAINED BY INTER-ISLAND SYSTEM.

MACKAY CABLE MAY GO TO FANNING'S ISLAND.

Colonel James Allen of the United States Signal Service Talks On Inter-Island Cables.

When the cable reaches the Philippines, a complete system of cable and overland telegraphy will be awaiting the connection. Nearly two thousand miles of cable and between five and six thousand miles of overland wire have been installed by the signal corps within the last four years under the supervision and direction of Colonel James Allen of the United States Signal Corps. The entire group of the new possessions are connected with a network of wires and only a short gap remains to be bridged from the southern end of the system to Borneo and then to the junction with the British cable which it is expected will join the Mackay cable at Fanning's Island and thus create a double communication route from Manila to the United States. The present means of communication exists only by way of the Hongkong-Manila cable and a second route will be a means of safeguard in case the Hongkong cable should break down.

Colonel Allen is intensely interested in the Hawaiian cable both from the Mainland here and between the islands. "I am sorry," he said this morning, "that I am unable to stay over here for a steamer, but my time is up and I have to get back to San Francisco. What is the latest news of the Mackay cable? It means a lot to your islands, I am sure, from all that I have heard about them, not merely from the commercial standpoint, but from the number of wealthy men who cannot afford to take a pleasure trip and get out of touch with the Western Union. I am interested in what you intend doing with your inter-island communication. I hear that you have a wireless telegraph system that has not proved all that it might be. I should think you would find a local cable service much more satisfactory in every way. The wireless system is all right at sea where you can get nothing else, but on land where you can get absolutely perfect service over a cable without any fear of mistakes there is no doubt as to the superiority of the cable. I should imagine you could form a local cable system easily enough if Mackay does not connect all the islands. There is a rubber cable manufactured in New York which we have been using for our inter-island work in the Philippines which costs under $600 a mile and which is eminently satisfactory. You could get almost any steamer fitted up with the necessary laying machinery at a small cost in America and lay the lines with but small trouble. I imagine however that Mackay's people will finish up their line to here by linking the islands. With their equipment it would only take a day or two to finish the entire job."

"Of course any inter-island cables that you will have here will be purely a commercial affair and against the necessity the government was under to get the wires through the Philippines for purely military reasons. It was a hard job much of it, especially the overland wires, and we lost the lives of a number of men of the service in establishing it. The natives are quick to appreciate the value of the talking wires and of their tricks consists in cutting the wire and then ambushing themselves in readiness to snipe the repairing party when it comes along."

"We had no regular cable ship but a boat that was used also as a transport. She was perfectly equipped for our purpose, however, and nearly two thousand miles of cable have been successfully laid. The depth at which most of the lines is something like a thousand fathoms and the American rubber cable has been very satisfactory in its service. We found that there were invariably breaks in the weak places soon after the cable was first laid, but these were discovered and repaired, the service has been excellent."

"There will be little difficulty about landing an American cable in the Philippines. The claimants are the Eastern Extension Company and even if they were allowed all they ask for, it would amount to very little. All they ask is $250,000 a year for twenty years, three or four of which have already passed. Personally I do not particularly desire to see a government cable rather than the one of a commercial company to the Philippines, the government would be able to give cheaper rates beyond a doubt, but the more cables that communicate with the Philippines the less chance is there of the government building one. At present Manila depends on the Hongkong-Manila route for communication, and there has not yet been a break down in service, another route would of course be a great safeguard."

"I understand that the Mackay Company's engineer, Mr. Dickinson, has been making inquiries about Midway Island, although of course they must have had access to the government records which would furnish them with all they could want to know. I am not speaking authoritatively at all, but I hardly expected to see the Mackay cable built directly to the Philippines from here. The impression we have gleaned in Manila was that the Mackay cable would go to Fanning's Island and there connect with the British cable, making the line an international affair. I think you will find that is what they would do."

"If they should not do so, but halt at Hawaii, I should think it would pay your people to construct a line of your own from Hawaii to Fanning's Island. It would not cost more than $1000 a mile."

PEKING WILL BE SLOW

EXPECTED TO TAKE NINE DAYS ON PRESENT TRIP.

Delayed in Sailing—Many People at Wharf to See Friends Depart—Some of the Departing Passengers.

The City of Peking got away for San Francisco a little after 11 o'clock this morning. She was scheduled yesterday to sail at 7 o'clock this morning, but in order to have some repairs made, this hour was changed and the boat was scheduled to get away four hours later. A good sized passenger list departed on her.

Among those who left Honolulu were Andy Brown, who goes to attend the Myrtle Shipper conference in San Francisco.

Captain Gilbert Brookway, the former master of the tug Fearless, was also a passenger. He expects to return on the next trip of the vessel.

Charles Hall, the manager of Hackfeld's store at Kailua, was another passenger. He will pass a vacation in New York.

A large number of people were on the vessel bidding friends aloha. Many leis were given the passengers and the deck of the boat was crowded by the departing people and their friends.

The "All Ashore" gong was sounded some minutes before the boat got away but even then, there were belated people rushing up the gangway to give friends some leis or packages.

Some of the through passengers from Oriental points were so much delighted with the beauties of Honolulu, that they forgot all about the hour of sailing and came straggling along at the last minute. A number of them narrowly escaped being left behind. The Peking will take at least six days to make the run to San Francisco.

HUSBAND USES KNIFE

OBJECTED TO WIFE HAVING A BEAU.

W. Pengelly Cuts and Slashes T. H. Duncan Because Latter Was Too Tentative to Mrs. Pengelly.

W. Pengelly is under arrest at the police station to await the result of injuries which he inflicted on a man named T. H. Duncan who was suspected of paying too marked attention to Mrs. Pengelly. The attack on Duncan occurred at the Pengelly house in Kewalo last night, during the early part of the evening.

Pengelly is employed as a teamster in the grocery department of T. H. Davies & Company. For some months past he has objected to the rather marked attentions which Duncan had been paying to Mrs. Pengelly. Pengelly is 45 years of age and as Duncan is but 45 years old, Mrs. Pengelly appeared to favor the suit of the younger man. For perhaps nearly a year, the acquaintance between the pair had been maintained and finally about three weeks ago Duncan went to reside with the Pengellys at 923 Queen street in Kewalo. Pengelly is said to have repeatedly warned Duncan from continuing his attentions to Mrs. Pengelly but the man continued and finally Pengelly became desperate.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Pengelly took her husband's rig and, in company with Duncan, went riding. They returned to the cottage shortly before 7 o'clock and were met by her husband who remonstrated with her for her conduct. Evidently she was not in amiable temper and resented her husband's reprimand. In fact, Duncan also took a hand in the matter and even informed Pengelly that it was not the husband's business with whom Mrs. Pengelly had gone riding.

This insolence enraged Pengelly and he secured a sharp butcher knife and attacked Duncan. A terrible fight ensued between the men for Duncan received some bad wounds on the hands when he had clutched the knife. He was also cut about the head and body.

Mrs. Pengelly got the injured man into the buggy and drove him to the Queen's hospital where medical attention was given him. Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth was summoned, and after questioning the woman and the injured man, went to the Pengelly house and placed the husband under arrest. Pengelly said that he had expected the officer and surrendered as soon as Chillingworth appeared. Pengelly was covered with blood when arrested but none of the blood appeared to have been from any wounds which he had received in the encounter with Duncan.

Duncan is an Englishman. He was employed in the Honolulu Iron Works. He was resting easily today. Pengelly will be held awaiting the condition of his victim, no charge having been preferred against the prisoner as yet.

BASEBALL TODAY.

The Punahou will play against the Artillery today on the Oahu campus, at 1:30, followed by the Custom House team against the Kamehameha at 3. These are regular league games.

POLICE HAVE DRILL

MARCH IN REVIEW BEFORE ACTING GOVERNOR.

Over Fifty Men Were in Line and They Made Splendid Showing—Drill Held at Makiki.

The inspection and drill of the police department were held this morning and were a success. Eleven mounted men and forty foot officers were in line. Shortly before 8 a. m. the men were assembled in the court yard of the police station. The foot men wore the ordinary fatigue uniform of khaki trousers, leggings, blue shirts, test hats and black handkerchiefs about the neck, while the mounted officers wore the regulation khaki suits. The foot men carried rifles with bayonets, while the mounted men had their carbines. Captain Parker was in command of the foot detachment. High Sheriff Brown held a short inspection of the men in the prison yard and then they marched out onto Merchant street, where the band was waiting and a good sized crowd had assembled.

High Sheriff Brown and Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth were in the parade in blue uniforms, both being mounted on fiery horses. The Territorial Band headed the procession, then came the foot men and then the mounted officers. The column made a fine showing, the men marched well and their equipment was in excellent order. It was universally remarked that a splendid body of soldiers they made. The mounted detachment although small, made an especially striking appearance. The horses were of an even size and were well groomed.

The line of march was Waikiki on Merchant street into King, from where the men turned into the Capitol grounds and passed in review before Acting Governor Cooper and other Territorial officers.

From the Capitol grounds, the men marched to the old baseball grounds at Makiki where several hours were passed. In drill. They were put through the under arms manual and the men were a credit. A large crowd witnessed the drill.

JURY DISAGREED.

Hall Case Goes Over to the Next Term.

The jury in the case of J. W. Hall failed to agree yesterday afternoon. After about three hours of deliberations the jurors were reported to the court by foreman W. H. Babbitt, to be evenly divided. The vote was 6 to 6, and there appeared to be no chance of an agreement. Kinney for the prosecution and De Holt for the defense were both willing to have the jury discharged, having no hope of an agreement, and Judge Robinson accordingly discharged the jurors. The case now goes over to the August term of court, Hall remaining at liberty on his former bond.

Judge Humphreys has changed his mind about calling a special term of the Circuit Court, and there will be no term until the next regular term, which begins in August, unless a special term should be called in July.

THEY WERE TRANSFERRED.

Not Once, But Many, Many Times Last Night.

Passengers on the 11 o'clock Waikiki car leaving Fort and King streets last evening, were treated to a series of transfers, the like of which not even Pain in his most indifferent moments, before conceived. The fares were collected but, at the corner of King and Alakea streets, the Waikiki car was backed into the siding running into Alakea street, where the passengers were kept waiting fifteen minutes until another car came from Palama.

Then they were told to change cars. A wrangle ensued between the two drivers because the driver of the first car had collected all of the fares, while the driver of the car receiving the passengers kicked because his way bill would not show up crowded. The car bowed along for several blocks but soon after leaving Punchbowl street, it ran into a house which was being moved in the street, then there was another change of cars.

Nothing of special interest ensued as the car was going too slow, until the Waikiki turn was reached. Here another car was waiting, and the crowd had to pile out of the car they were on, and scramble onto the new one. The driver went past the first switch on the Waikiki road. Suddenly he brought his car to a stop and began to unhitch the horses. The passengers involuntarily started to get out, but there was no other car in sight. The driver started their rig back to town and then there was a roar. The driver explained that the other car was coming and he had to go back to the switch to allow it to pass.

BANK TO THE RESCUE

TERRITORIAL TREASURY NOW HAS FUNDS.

Bank of Hawaii Agrees to Allow an Overdraft of $150,000 at the Rate of $30,000 a Month.

Warrants on the Territorial Treasurer payable today are being paid at the Bank of Hawaii.

The financial plans for the relief of the territorial treasury have been completed, and people who are creditors of the territory can now get their money.

In response to a communication from Territorial Treasurer Wright, some days ago as to the willingness of the bank to advance money to the treasury to meet fiscal requirements until the taxes shall begin to come in in October and November, the Bank of Hawaii agrees to take up the whole overdraft of $150,000 authorized to be negotiated by the treasurer under the statute. The agreement of the bank was to advance this $150,000 to the treasury at the rate of $30,000 a month for five months, beginning with May 31, today. The modus operandi of securing payments of warrants from this fund is to present the auditor's warrants to the treasurer who endorses on them with a rubber stamp an order for their payment by the bank of Hawaii, Ltd., to be charged by the bank against the treasury on this overdraft account.

This arrangement was made some days ago, warrants payable May 31, being the first to be paid from this fund. These warrants began to come in early this morning and by bank closing time several hundred such warrants had been presented and paid.

In addition to this arrangement for an overdraft of $150,000 the treasury is authorized by law to raise money temporarily by the issue of treasury notes not to exceed $150,000.

VOLCANO NEWS BY THE KINAU

The people of Hilo saw the shaft of fire reported by Captain Townsend of the local police, last Friday night, but were unable to ascertain whether it was an outbreak of the volcano or not, though it seems to be believed it is.

Kilauea is emitting a great deal of smoke, but has not developed other symptoms of activity.

Last Wednesday a severe earthquake was felt at Hilo, and the week before a severe one was felt, all along the Hamakua coast. Considerable small damage was done by these seismic disturbances.

Great curiosity and interest is displayed at Hilo to know the cause of the light seen above Mauna Loa last Friday night was, it is believed to have been an outbreak from the summit crater, but it is not known definitely that it was.

Such is the news just brought by the Kinau which arrived at 12:30 o'clock. The Kinau was anxiously awaited for news of the volcano, and there was a large crowd down at the Kinau wharf when she arrived.

PLANS FOR THE FOURTH.

The various committees of the Fourth of July celebration will meet this afternoon in the throne room at the capitol and the report their generally outlined plans and the amount of money estimated to be needed by the various committees will ask for by far the largest appropriation, but the cost will be lessened by the building of a large lantern on the east wing with lumber belonging to the government which will not be sawn and afterwards utilized for regular purposes. The Public Works Department will look after the building of the lantern and the cost be thus minimized to actual labor. The committees will meet before the chairman of the executive committee, Governor Cooper, at 3 o'clock. The finance committee have preferred to wait for an estimate of how much money would be likely to be needed before discussing ways and means of raising the amount.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

A correspondent with the British Expedition which is subduing the wild Aro tribesmen in Southern Nigeria sends an interesting account to a Scottish contemporary of the advance of the columns into the heart of the country, the surrender of leading chiefs, and the occupation of the principal towns of the Aro country.

Aro-Chuku, or, as the natives also call it, Omo-Chuku—"The Son of God" —consists of fourteen towns situated round the long Ju-Ju, which is under a mile from our present camp, and hidden away in thick forest. The largest of these towns is Isum, practically Aro-Chuku. The next in size is Obo-kio, which was sacked this morning, Christmas Day; but it is in Awan where matters connected with this warship are settled by the native council.

The approach to the long Ju-Ju is through a dense bush, which gradually becomes thicker and thicker until one arrives at the entrance of a deep, oval-shaped pit, 10 feet deep, 60 yards long, and 60 yards wide. One then climbs down the precipitous sides of the rock into a narrow gorge and into running water, up which one wades, passing under two fences, until one finally comes to a place where the water comes out of the solid rock in two big streams, which unite below a small beach, on which are two altars, one made of many guns stuck muzzle downward into the ground, and topped with skulls; the other being of wood, and supporting some skulls, bones leaving, wood, eggs, and other votive offerings to the Ju-Ju, including the head of the last victim. Over the rock, where is the source of the water, is a rock of human skulls, with a curtain, the top part of which is composed of coconuts, and the lower part of native matting. Screening the rock, and hanging just short of the water's edge, the lower part of the rock, and hanging the other sides of this crater, are climbed with mats only. On the left of the entrance, centrally situated, and opposite the isuma, has been newn out of the rock a flat-topped ledge for sacrificial purposes. The water, about 12 feet deep, is full of tame grey-coli-ored fish about 2 feet in length, with long suckers and glaring, yellow eyes, which have a most bizarre appearance as they glide noiselessly through the clear water in the dim light of this cave of fetid lore, which is robed with densely-intertwined creepers. These fish are regarded as sacred.

On the left of the exit lies another pile of human skulls and other relics of Ju-Ju rites, and on the right of the exit sacrifice a white goat trussed up in the branches of a palm tree standing to the left. The long Ju-Ju is probably the best known and most powerful religious center in West Africa, and is visited from hundreds of miles by natives of all sorts and conditions. It is impossible at present to get full and accurate details from the people of the ritual which has been in vogue for centuries in this gloomy cave of savage superstition; firstly, because they are afraid, and secondly, because the priests have yet to be captured. Everything which is sacrificed, such as cattle, goats, fowls, etc., must be white.
The High Priest of the Oracle, who it appears is swathed in clothes, is usually out of sight, and addresses pilgrims in impressive monotone, having previously been made cognizant of every detail concerning the supplicants and their disputes by means of a sort of fetich freemasonry which certainly extends as far as the limits of Southern Nigeria.

The conducting of the visitor to the Ju-Ju is usually a somewhat lengthy process and when he arrives in its proximity he is led by a circuitous route and finally marched in backwards. It would seem to be a fair estimate to put the number of pilgrims down at about 500 annually, all of whom pay dearly for the advice or deceit which is vouchsafed to them.
Probably the number of human sacrifices does not reach a total of 50 per annum, whilst about 200 people are sold into slavery, and the remainder are allowed to go away free.

A CHILLY CORPORATION.
There is hope for suffering humanity in all lands in the news from Dedham that a superior court judge has fined the Old Colony street railway company $25 on each of seven counts for its failure to properly heat its cars last January.

NO NEED TO FEAR.

There are a great number of people who are nervous about eruptions from our volcanoes, and the announcement that there is a possibility of the Kilauea crater becoming active again sends cold shivers immediately down their backs. Then there are a very large number of tourists who have an idea that Kilauea is close to Honolulu, and who expect that Honolulu will be engulfed like St. Pierre. Both sets of people need to be instructed in the chances here as compared with the West India Islands outbreak.

The working of the volcanic forces in the West Indies is from south to north. The worst eruptions have ever taken place at or near the end of the island chain of the lesser Antilles. There have been many eruptions within the historical period and they have resulted in serious loss of life, though never so widespread and fatal as this last one has been.

The working of Hawaiian volcanoes has been from north to southeast. There is no doubt about Kilauea being the oldest island in the group, and Hawaii being the most recent. Indeed Hawaii may be regarded as in some measure in process of formation. If there is to be any outbreak of volcanic force it will be either among the still active or semi-dormant craters of Mauna Loa, or it might be a submarine action yet further to the southeast. Many geologists have predicted this as a possibility.

The flows of lava which have occurred of late years have all come from Mauna Loa, and are traceable to the summit crater of Mokuaweoweo. The summit crater has spouted columns of fire and shot up red-hot rocks, but all this has fallen back into its capacious cup, the outlet has been found in some weak spot in the mountain side. It may be noticed that where the outbreak has been on the lower slopes of the mountain there has been much more earthquake action. At least such are the results as witnessed in 1885 and 1887, both of which came from the lower slopes, indeed sprang into existence in the forest belt.

The 1885 flow, though a very short one, was accompanied with tremendous seismic phenomena, which resulted in the lowering of the coast of Puna some four or five feet and caused an earthquake wave, erroneously called a tidal wave, to sweep along the southeast coast of Hawaii from Puna to Cape Fanning. It was during this eruption that some lives were lost. Part of these were lost through the earthquake wave which swept away the small villages along the coast, and part were overwhelmed in a mud flow which broke out of the mountain side far from Kapapaia Ranch. The total number of deaths was seventy-one. Since then there have been no lives lost through volcanic action.

The flow of 1887 burst out not very far from the site of the flow of 1885, both being on the land of the Kilauea Ranch. This flow was accompanied by much seismic disturbance, and Mr. Jones, the then owner of the ranch, kept a wonderful record of the shocks which occurred. Stone walls were thrown down and other damage done in Kilauea, but there was no widespread destruction.

On the other hand the flow of 1889 started high up the mountain in comparatively close vicinity to the commencement of the flows of 1843, 1852 and 1856. The seismic phenomena connected with this flow were not nearly so marked as those of 1885 and of 1887. The flow of 1889 started in or near the same area, where evidently the mountain side is weak, and again, the seismic phenomena were not remarkably pronounced. None of these flows from the higher levels did any harm. They flowed over old lava flows, and it was merely some covering stone. The flow of 1889 came within three miles of Hilo, but there it stopped. Moreover none of these volcanic phenomena had any effect upon the other islands.

Now with regard to Kilauea. When it becomes active it does not inaugurate sending forth lava flows. In the memory of man there has never been a lava flow from this crater. In ages past there has been a flow from the main crater into Kilauea-Iki. The crater for over fifty years has consisted of a black floor of lava, and the active, it has been confined to the end nearest the sea where so-called lakes were formed. These kept changing both in size and in number, till at last the liquid lava was confined to one lake and finally disappeared altogether. If Kilauea lights up again we can hail it with joy instead of looking upon it with fear or alarm. Many of the scientific observers of our volcanic phenomena regard Kilauea as the safety valve of Mauna Loa. But there is no more agreement among scientists than there is among doctors. However those who are afraid can come being so, and tourists visiting the islands may rest satisfied that there is no volcano overhanging Honolulu, and that they will be more safe from earthquake here than they would be in San Francisco or some of the earthquake centers of Europe or South America. There is no need of alarm even though Kilauea be smoking and Mokuaweoweo is throwing up a small column of fire.

The lack of water in the islands of Martinique and St. Vincent, is more serious than the lack of food. A number of rivers and wells have entirely dried up, and much of the water that is left has become impregnated with sulphuric acid.

Cuba has started her career of independence, and the first snag she has come up against is a shortage of funds. The financial policy of the new Republic will have to be very carefully guided. Many of the inhabitants have looked forward to the establishment of the Republic as a means of getting all the taxes out of the wealthy and having the poorer classes untaxed. There will be an awakening from this dream, and there will be consequent dissatisfaction. President Palma has a very hard position to fill and it may be safely predicted that he will not be as popular at the end of his term as he is at the beginning.

One can hardly pick up a paper or a consular report without some remark is made about wireless telegraphy. The other day Marconi was sending messages from his automobile over a radius of thirty miles. A report from our Consul at Gottenburg, Sweden, tells of improvements in the Marconi system made by a Swedish colonel. Yet here are these islands, with a number of masts stuck up at various points on the islands, and with a full outfit of instruments, together with some considerable amount in cash investment, and an article in Thrum's Annual which tells of the wonderful success, yet we remain at a complete standstill. We neither communicate with coasting vessels nor with island stations. As has been often said in these columns the reason for the failure will become patent some day, though they are not very hard to guess even now.

The Makiki residents are perfectly justified in making an effort to prevent the owners of cattle from permitting them to roam about the streets. There is far too much laxity in this direction and it is not confined to Makiki, nor for the matter of that is it confined to Honolulu. The proper place for cattle is the fenced-in pasture, and cattle have no business in the streets of a town, or upon the high roads in the country. There is no reason why animals should be pastured on the grass which grows by the road side, and there are quite a number in and about Honolulu which are thus fed in part. Moreover there should be stated hours at which cattle should be allowed to be driven along the streets, and these hours should be before people get up. We need strict regulations, and the Makiki people have metaphorically taken the bull by the horns in order to get them.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Mission Children's Society shows the age of organization in the islands. A society started fifty years ago by a small number of young people, has gradually grown into a society of considerable numbers by natural accretion and not by the seeking for members. That they should be present at jubilee meeting members who were among the original founders speaks for the vitality of the mission children. The Rev. Dr. Sereno Bishop is undoubtedly a good specimen of the worker who has spent years at his labors, and yet at the evening of his life is as clear a thinker, if not a clearer thinker than he was in his early years. Fifty years of continual organization is a very respectable period. There are other organizations on the islands which have even a longer life. The Strangers' Friend Society has five decades to its credit. Other organizations formed fifty years ago and earlier, have fallen by the way, notably the Hawaiian Agricultural Society, an effort to revive which or to start a fresh one upon broader lines is even now being made. The meeting of the Mission Children's Society which takes place tonight will be of great interest, and will call up many valuable historical reminiscences.

Robert Wilcox is getting anxious about his re-election and proposes to rush back to Hawaii whether Congress is over or not. He has fooled the Hawaiian voter a good many times and he may fool him yet again, but as he brings no scalps back from Washington, and has fulfilled none of his promises even the blinded Home Rule voter must begin to see that Wilcox is a very broken reed to trust in. When Wilcox was last here he promised millions to the Territory, he has utterly failed in getting any appropriation. Indeed none of Wilcox's bills have passed, while he has steadily lost caste among Senators, Representatives and at the White House. If the Territory wants its interests pushed at Washington it will require a very different kind of Delegate. There will be a strong Republican candidate who will give Robert Wilcox all the running that he may need. Before the primaries are over there are several dark horses who will come to the fore, and some of these have had their friends working quietly for months. Judge Humphreys need not be regarded as a dark horse. No party can secure his election as a foregone conclusion, besides the Dole episode has discredited him considerably in Washington. He has lost prestige with the President and with the departmental chiefs.

BEDS FAIL TO FIT.

Traveling has embarrassing features for King Oscar of Norway. Last week when he arrived at Dinah, France, he had trouble in getting a place to stay. The king is a man of large stature and for some hours was unable to find a bed that would accommodate him. Finally the proprietor of a hotel solved the problem by joining beds sideways till the required length was secured.

STOLE A BELL.

An historic bell, which was cast at St. Petersburg and sent to Chicago as a choice Russian exhibit for the world's fair, has been stolen from the rear of St. Vladimir's Russian church. It was valued at $500, weighing 500 pounds, and in two months was to have been placed in the belfry of a new church which St. Vladimir's congregation is erecting. It was presented to the church by the Russian consul.

GILT-EDGED MORTGAGES

If you are looking for a safe and productive investment, your preference will probably be an 8% note of a responsible and reliable man secured by first mortgage upon choice improved city real estate.

Such an investment when judiciously placed after an exhaustive examination of title, a conscientious appraisal of the property and a careful drawing of the papers is approved by the experience of the most conservative trustees and investors. It is also most productive.

Our experience as agents for heavy investors both here and at the Coast enables us to place such loans to advantage.

FIRST CLASS BASEBALL.

Unexceptional Playing Witnessed at Punahou.

First class baseball, to the results of which A. R. Cunha contributed in no small degree, was witnessed at Punahou yesterday afternoon in the game between the H. A. C's and the U. S. Custom House. The latter team exhibited excellent fielding but the forward end of their battery was harmless while that of the H. A. C's was in first rate trim. Jop never pitched with better speed or control. None of the smugglers got his base on balls, and the great majority of them were beautifully shut out. Cunha caught a splendid game behind the bat and displayed many of those qualities that won for him the right to wear the coveted "Y." He sent a three-bagger and a two-bagger to the outfield with well placed hits and got on to several easily placed hits in shape that had the crowd yelling for Cunha more than once. The score was six to two in favor of the H. A. C.

The good example set in the first game was fully emulated in the succeeding one between the Mallets and Punahou. A few such games as those played yesterday would restore baseball to its old time ascendancy. Good batting was the feature with some sensational catching. The Punahou Athletics finally won with one run to spare, the score being 4-3.

HELD COURT EARLY.

In order to enable Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth to prosecute the various cases in court and then take part in the police parade, Judge Wilcox this morning held court earlier than usual. Court was in session about half an hour all of the cases being completed by 9 o'clock. Only minor offenders were handled.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The finals in the mixed doubles will be played this afternoon on the Pacific courts at four o'clock between the winners of yesterday's games. In the semi-finals Miss L. Ward and A. R. Cunha had to play three sets before they could get the match from Mrs. Gunn and A. T. Brock, who played a hard second set, but collapsed in the third. Miss E. Horner and C. A. Elston won from Mrs. R. Ivers and E. R. Adams in two successive games, the second set running to deuce and being won on form. Elston was wanted by the Customs to play on third base this afternoon, but will play out the tennis tournament, the rules not allowing of any putting off of the finals as the committee considers that tennis is played but once a year and that baseball can better afford to play a substitute than the tennis players to carry the tournament over into another week. C. A. Elston and Miss Horner should win the match this afternoon and the championship of the mixed doubles.

mile or, roughly speaking, a million dollars, and surely a ten per cent proposition could be made to pay. You ought to be able to use up $300 worth of cable messages a day without putting the rate up too high.

"Our inter-island rate in the Philippines is two cents a word between any two islands or four cents when the message has to be sent on farther. These are cut in two to the press. The rates include the payment of every word of the address as well as the message. If the Mackay cable is not built to the Philippines direct but joins the British line at Panning's Island, a line will probably be installed from the southern system on the Philippines, through Borneo to Australia and join the international line. We should not have very far to go, some nine hundred miles, and then communication would be opened both ways.

"The cholera had not broken out in Manila when I left. I have been spending a couple of months in China and Japan. The climate in the Philippines is a bad one for the white man however. We have some lovely islands over there, as beautiful as anyone could wish, but the climate spoils them. I imagine the trouble over there will soon be the same as it is with you, difficulty in securing labor. It is not so much what you have to pay the Filipino, it is the little he accomplishes. There are houses of Chinese who can furnish labor and very excellent labor at cheap rates for the entire world, but they are of course excluded. I presume you have the regular trouble with the Japanese laborer, the little brown men altogether too cocky.

"As we steamed along by the island coming in, the difference struck me forcibly between this territory and Japan in the general appearance, and I attributed it, whether correctly or not, I do not know, to the lack of labor. In Japan everything is cultivated wherever there is any possibility of so doing, and it seemed to me that there were many spots on these islands that would fully repay such work were the labor obtainable.

"I do not know what line of work I shall be connected with next. There is still some Alaskan cable to be done, but the bulk of the work in the States has been laid out. The Porto Rican and Cuban arrangements have I suppose been made over. I suppose the next Pacific cable will be the joining of Samoa to the continent. That will be an easy matter, only needing a jump to Fiji. The Pacific with its many groups of islands and the continents bordering its shores will soon be webbed with a mighty network which geographical features will combine to lay out in a way intensely interesting to the eye of everyone interested in cable service and the spanning of the world with the 'live wire.'

CRICKET AND BASKET BALL.

The finals of the Y. M. C. A. Basketball League will be played this evening in the gymnasium between the Five O'Clocks and the Blue Stripes, followed by the Intermediates against the Diamond Heads.

Scotland was effectively snowed under by the World yesterday afternoon at cricket on the Makiki grounds. The willow wielders turned out in force thirteen men playing on a side. Captain Herbert made his reappearance at the wicket and showed that lack of practice and added weight had not diminished his facility with his favorite bat, off which he scored eighteen runs. The World piled up 100 runs and the Scotchmen fell down with fifty tallies needed to tie the game.

BOYS' BRIGADE SPORTS.

The Kakaako contingent of the Boys' Brigade wrested the banner of victory away from their competitors of Pali in the final holders of the trophy, in an interesting series of athletic sports yesterday morning and afternoon at Kapiolani Park. A competitive drill between the various companies of the brigade was also held, the results of which will be announced this evening at an entertainment in the club rooms when the banner and medals won yesterday will be presented.

Theodore Richards, president of the Brigade, assisted by F. C. Atherton, captain of the Kakaako company and the Rev. J. P. Erdman, captain of the Palamas, were at the helm of affairs yesterday. Major Wilson and Fred Young acting as officials of the sports. The field day generally was considered most satisfactory and an effort will likely be made as a result of the drill to maintain a crack company, providing them with uniforms and lockers. The company will consist of picked men from the entire organization.

GOLDEN WEDDING RECEPTION.

A reception will be held by Dr. and Mrs. Sereno E. Bishop this afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock in celebration of the golden anniversary of their wedding. No cards have been issued on the islands but all friends are invited to add their congratulations to the many already showered on the couple on this occasion of their jubilee. The reception will be held at the Bishop residence on School street.

KINAU SIGHTED.

The Kinau was sighted from Hilo and way ports about 10 a. m. today, off Molokai Point. The wireless telegraph reported her. No trip of the vessel in recent years has probably been awaited with as much interest as is the present one of the vessel. She is expected to bring news of the situation at Kilauea and also to corroborate the report of the crater of Mokuawewe having flamed up last week. The Kinau left Hilo yesterday, so she will have the latest news obtainable from the seat of possible volcanic action.

BAND CONCERT.

The band will play this morning at the police drill, and in the afternoon will attend the reception of Mr. and Mrs. Sereno Bishop on their golden wedding festivities. Tomorrow afternoon concert will be at the Capitol as usual.

Petroleum, now used all over the world for heating and lighting and many other purposes, was discovered hundreds of feet under the surface of the soil. Ages went by before men found, and were able to mine, coal in sufficient quantities to take the place of wood as fuel; and electricity as an available help to us in living, is barely more than half a century old. Among the wonders which patient and hard-working modern science has introduced to the world, is the reconstruction of that grand healing agent, cod liver oil, in the form of

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION.

The reader is aware that for centuries the usefulness of this drug has been impaired, and in many cases nullified by its nauseating taste and smell. In this effective remedy these formidable objections are entirely done away with. Palatable as honey, it contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It is a healer, body-builder and strength-maker beyond rivalry or comparison. By means of it diseases are cured which have hitherto been justly regarded as hopeless. In Fevers, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Influenza, La Grippe, Lung Diseases, all wasting ailments, etc., this remedy is successful after the old style modes of treatment have been appealed to in vain. Both the people and advanced physicians have welcomed it as the solution of a long standing problem in the art of medicine. Effective from the first dose, "You cannot be disappointed in it." Cools the Blood

Hot weather takes the life out of everybody. You become languid, debilitated, nervous, depressed. You lose your appetite and you have indigestion. Your blood becomes impure, your head aches, your nerves are weak, and you are tired all the time. You want something to purify your blood and make it cool and healthy.

Mr. Giovanni D'Nesi, of Parkside, South Australia, tells you how this may be done. He sends his photograph also.
"In this warm and debilitating climate I believe nearly everyone needs a good tonic.
For a number of years I have relied on Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I can strongly testify to its curative power in cooling the blood in hot weather and in toning up the whole system.
It is a wonderful medicine."

AYER'S
Sarsaparilla

There are many imitations "Sarsaparillas."
Be sure you get Ayer's.

Ayer's Pills are Liver Pills. They cure constitution, biliousness, sick headache, nausea, and all liver troubles.

HONORS TO THE DEAD

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT THE CEMETERY.

Universal Decoration of Graves—Hundreds at Nuuanu Cemetery—Oration
By Judge Estee—The farewell volleys.

Memorial Day was celebrated yesterday more generally than it has been for several years. A feature of the day was the practically universal decoration of graves in the cemeteries. In Nuuanu cemetery there was scarcely a grave that did not bear some floral remembrance. The same was true of the Catholic cemetery on King street, and the Makiki cemetery, while many went out to Pearl City cemetery to render like service there. The graves and casket of the royal dead both at the mausoleum up Nuuanu Valley and at the tomb of Lunalilo in Kawaiahaoh churchyard were strewn with flowers early in the day.

The memorial services for the soldier dead under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic were well attended. Hundreds gathered in and about Alakea street where the procession formed and from whence it moved up Alakea and Emma streets to Vineyard and Nuuanu and thence to the cemetery. At the cemetery the memorial services of the Grand Army ritual were held. Following Judge Estee's address, Mrs. W. W. Hall read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Then there was the "Roll call of the Dead;" the bugles sounded retreat, and a detachment of Coast Artillery from Camp McKinley fired three volleys over the graves. All present then sang "America" and the services closed with the benediction by Rev. E. S. Muckley.

Judge Estee's address was as follows:
The thirtieth day of May will always in America, be a day consecrated to the memory of her soldier dead. We all acknowledge our debt of gratitude to the soldiers of the rebellion. Today $8,000,000 of the American people stand uncovered in the presence of three hundred thousand of the martyred dead, who died that this country might live; whose lives were given as a ransom for national life, for freedom, for union and for liberty.

It is forty years since the brave men now silent in their graves, shouldered their guns and marched to the front to defend or to die for their country. No one who has not been tried in the cru-cible of a soldier's life, who has not made long and toilsome marches, who has not paced the solemn sentinels round in the dark and storm by night, or who has not helped to form the first rank in the deadly charge, can fully appreciate what a soldier's life means.
The man without patriotism is a man without a country, and the highest test of a man's patriotism is exhibited when he willingly defends his country in war, for the strength of a nation is in its men. In its ability to defend itself through their devotion to principle and the love among the people for their country. It was this devotion to principle, this love of country, so characteristic of the American people, that called to arms a million of Americans to defend the Union.

In this Republic each citizen is a part of the nation; he shares in its triumphs and in its defeats, for the people are the government. Our country is our home. Without a country we would have no home, no flag, no patriotism, no honored graves to decorate. In America, every national cemetery is a monument to American patriotism.

The Grand Army of the Republic of the United States as at present organized, is the most illustrious veteran association in the world. It has rallied together the living soldiers of past wars and it has glorified its heroic dead.
It has declared all American wars were national wars, and that American veteran soldiers are the wards of the nation. Thus by their influence this government has provided homes for old and disabled soldiers and thereby this generation has shown that it has not forgotten the heroes of the conservatism of the past and the patriotism of the present. The Grand Army of the Republic has no enemies in peace, as it has no politics in war.

They are the friends of the dead whether they wore the blue or the gray.
They stand for all that is American.
And they know that no man can fight under the Stars and Stripes without loving that flag and the country it represents.

In no single instance have the gallant sons of America failed their country in time of peril. The great Republic has always been sustained by the faithful devotion of free men. Wealth may aid in preserving a nation, but it can never alone make it great or fill the ranks of the army.

We meet today in the name of peace.
There is a common brotherhood among the veteran of the war of the Rebellion whether they wore the blue or the gray.
Dead men are not enemies, and happily among the living, the animosities of the rebellion are ended. All were Americans in that war, and we come here now, not to decorate the graves of the Union dead but also the graves of the Confederate dead if there be any here. Mistaken they may have been but they fought a brave fight.

The greatest name which the American rebellion brought prominently to the front was that of Abraham Lincoln.
Though he was in no sense a soldier, yet no man of ancient or modern time possessed so many of the qualities of greatness. Born among the poor, reared on the frontier, accustomed to all the hardships of pioneer life, a self-educated man with all his early friendships among the plain people of the place where he lived he possessed a broad humanity beyond that of any man of his age.

With a remarkable tenderness for human life, and a far-reaching sense of justice, his simplicity was such that it never permitted him to appear to be other than what he was. He had nothing to conceal. His homely anecdotes were parables through which he illustrated his ideas. The speech he de liver ed at Gettysburg which has just been read to you, reached the loftiest sphere of eloquence. His inaugural addresses even now read like inspired words. He grows upon you as time passes; his greatness becomes more apparent as the years roll on. He never placed himself on a plane above other men. He was one of the people and his sympathies were broad enough to take in at once the slave and the master. He realized that both were the creatures of circumstances which they could not control. A deep sense of wrong never inspired him with a hatred of the wrongdoer for he was a "man and nothing human was alien to him." We look in vain among men of ancient or modern times for one man so widely and so tenderly loved as was Abraham Lincoln. The crowning glory of this age is that he lived in it and the crowning glory of America is that he was one of her sons. Washington, Lincoln and McKinley are the most illustrious American characters.

The private soldiers who went to the war to maintain what they believed to be right must never be forgotten. Though their names are lost to the world their deeds are not. To coming generations all who fell upon the field of glory will be famous. These men did not go to war for personal fame. They went for a principle. Whether one reads of them on the march, in the bivouac or the camp, in the storm of battle and the shock of contending forces, they were always animated by the same high impulse to fight for and if need be die for the cause they represented.

The American people have always recognized their obligations to the private soldiers. What would Grant or Lee, Sheridan or Jackson, Sherman or Early, have done without them? The rank and file made both armies. And now, there are no officers or privates as such in the grave. Death is the great leveler.

We come today to monument their dust. No acclaim of victory can reach them now. The solemn silence of the tomb envelops them. But whether they wore the blue or the gray the private soldiers are the un-named heroes of the war. It is a gracious custom to decorate yearly in this public manner, the graves of the soldier dead with offerings of flowers. It is twice blessed. It commemorates the deeds of those who have gone before and it serves to keep alive in the present generation the flame of patriotism, and that love of country which will be ready to respond to the nation's call in her hour of need. The lives of these men and indeed their deaths, reminds us, that "We can make our lives sublime,

And departing, leave behind us, Footprints on the sands of time."

"LIARS ALL."
The Sunday school lesson had been on the beauty of truth and the evil of falsehood and the scripture passage under especial consideration was the story of the sudden demise of Ananias and Sapphira. The study of the lesson ended, a visiting clergyman was asked to speak to the children and point the moral.

"Suppose," he began, "the Lord was to treat everybody that told untruths nowadays the same way he did Ananias and Sapphira—what would be the result?"

Prompt and clear came the answer in the small piping voice of a very little girl:

"Why, there wouldn't be a single person left in the whole world!"

This is no fairy tale, either, for this question was put and this answer given at the Everyday Church, Chicago, a few Sundays ago. Dr. R. Shutter had been preaching for Dr. Perin, and at the latter's request began to address the school as above. Dr. Perin did not state whether the address ended right there, but it is pretty safe to say that there was at least a brief intermission before Dr. Shutter resumed.

THE CORONATION.
Preparations for viewing the coronation procession are proceeding in a great scale in London. Stands have been planned, and in many cases are already half-built, which will accommodate 2,000,000 seated spectators.

Prices for single seats in the best locations in Piccadilly are still absurdly high, 20 guineas being frequently demanded. A huge stand around St.
Mary's Strand, advertises seats at from 10 to 3 guineas, but it seems safe to prophecy that unless there is a great reduction there will be thousands of empty seats along the route, experience having shown what enormous multitudes can stand along a six-mile course.
The demolition of many houses on the Strand which in ordinary course would have been deferred for some time is now being hurried for the sake of erecting stands. The block in front of the Savoy Hotel is now half down.

SEARCHING FOR TREASURE.
People of Herriek, a village in Illinois, believe they have the clew to a hidden treasure, amounting to $7,000,- 000 buried on a small island near Porto Rico, and have raised a fund to send Abraham Fogle and Philo Rood in quest of the treasure.

The discovery of the vast wealth is said to have been made by a friend of Fogle. He told his friends, and the money to make the trip was quickly secured. Fogle and Rood are now on the way.

ONLY MONEY NEEDED.

The man with the hoe was the burden of popular song and story a few months ago. Now it's the man with the scheme, a product of this exposition age. All manner of schemes are proposed for striking exhibitions. The only thing usually lacking is the money to carry out the plan.

A FRENCH OFFER.

PEKING, May 15.—The French Minister proposed to Yuan Shih-kai at Peking to send out French troops to suppress the fresh rising but the Viceroy of Chih declined to accept this proposal. Prince Ching has just advised Yuan Shih-kai under no circumstances to have recourse to the force of a foreign power for the suppression of the insurgents, as the Prince fears that in the event of one power being allowed to send out reinforcements other powers will follow the example, and he added that the most urgent need at the present moment was to dispatch every available force of their own to the front for the pacification of the trouble so as to prevent the Powers from making use of any pretext for the dispatch of their troops. Besides the French Minister, other foreign representatives tendered the same proposal to the Chinese Government but the Department of Foreign Affairs declined their offer.

BOUNDARY BARK UNTOUCHED.

VICTORIA, (B. C.), May 26.—Private advices from Alaska say that Captain Richardson, sent north by the United States Government to investigate a report that Canadian surveyors had removed an old Russian boundary mound, is returning satisfied that the report was without foundation.

A PUBLIC BATH.

The Albany Argus says that "When Albany has its second public bath, it will be in order for the aldermen to consider the advisability of changing the corporate name of the city and calling it New Paradise." No doubt the city needs another bath, but need it be public.

IN THE SWEET MAHOPE.

Mr. Bryan is to attend the inauguration of Palma, but whether Mr. Palma will ever attend the inauguration of Bryan is one of those things that only the future can tell.

JOHN BARRETT'S MISSION.

John Barrett, commissioner general of the Louisiana purchase exposition to Asia, Australia and the Philippines, arrived at Honolulu April 29 on the steamer China, and immediately placed himself in touch with the officials of Hawaii and the leading industrial interests of the island, in order to impart to them the plan and scope of the exposition and to endeavor to obtain from Hawaii as fine an exhibit as possible. Mr. Barrett expected to leave Honolulu about the 8th of May for either Japan or Australia, as instructions from Washington awaiting him would direct.

The invitations which Mr. Barrett carries to the rulers of China, Japan, Korea, Siam and other Asiatic countries are described as exceeding in value and beauty of finish anything heretofore attempted in that line. They take the form of heavy silver plates, the edges made in relief work of brilliant design, and in the center is engraved the invitation to attend and be represented at the big exposition—Washington—tar.

NO LOSS OF TIME.

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. Phelps, Plymouth, Okla., U.S.A. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all dealers.
