NO NEW CASES SINCE FEBRUARY TWENTY-FIVE.

Fence Around Kahului Completed and Population Removed to Camp Wood—Rat Killing Has Begun.

Quarantine was declared off at Kihel the day before yesterday, just before the steamer Pathfinder left, and business is going on as it was before the plague scare began. At Kahului it is reported that there have been no cases since the death of Miss English, which occurred on February 25. It will be some time before Kahului is done with quarantine, however, as a decision has been reached that the quarantine shall last for thirty days after the last case. There is a week more quarantine ahead for Kahului therefore.

All the people of Kahului originally put in quarantine at Camp Wood, have served out their quarantine period and been discharged. The camp, however, has again been filled up with people. The rat-proof, corrugated iron fence around the town has been completed and the whole of the remaining population isolated in Camp Wood to undergo a quarantine period. The first people to go into quarantine were from the infected Chinatown. Those now in the camp are largely white people.

With the completion of the fence and the removal of the people the rat-killing crusade inside the fence is reported to have begun. Traffic on the railroad was expected to be resumed Monday of this week.

THE HOUSE HAWAIIAN BILL

KNOCKS OUT ALL PROPERTY QUALIFICATIONS.

Confirms Hawaiian Land Laws, and Makes Practically Every Native and American a Voter.

Copies of the House Bill to provide a government for the territory of Hawaii as reported to the House Committee on Territories, were received by the Australia. This bill, which is the Hawaiian Commission's bill as amended by the committee, has been committed to the committee of the whole House on the state of the Union and ordered printed. It is in this committee of the whole House that the bill will be debated and the subject threshed out, and our fundamental law, so far as the House is concerned, takes final shape. After that will probably come the conference committee of the two houses, which will take the bill as passed by the Senate and the bill as passed by the House, and reconcile their differences.

The principal amendments to the House Bill now stands, are as follows: It provides that a special election for members of the legislature may be called on thirty days notice before the time for the first general election and the qualifications for an elector in the bill. By this provision a legislature may be called very soon after the territorial bill is passed. Each house of the legislature, and not the supreme court, is to be the judge of the election qualifications of its own members.

All the disabling qualifications of electors in the original bill are swept away, and the following short and simple qualification is substituted: "That no person shall be entitled to register or vote at any election in the Territory of Hawaii unless he shall take an oath to support the constitution of the United States." The property qualifications are all done away with, and the qualifications for an elector to vote for either senator or representative are that he shall be a male citizen of the territory a year and in the district three months; be twenty-one years of age; have paid one dollar poll tax for the current year, and be able to speak, read and write the English or Hawaiian language.

All officials must be citizens of the territory, and not merely reside there. The governor may declare martial law only until communication can be had with the President, and his decision thereon made known.

The Hawaiian land laws are to remain in force, except that sales, grants and leases and other dispositions of the public domain, and agreements concerning the same shall be reported in writing each month to the Secretary of the Interior, and he shall have authority to confirm, reverse, modify, suspend and annul any of them. But if they do not act on them within sixty days, they are confirmed and ratified. All sales, etc., made in good faith in conformity with Hawaiian law between July 7, 1898, and September 28, 1899, are ratified and confirmed.

Two of the man's victims are in a very precarious condition at the Queen's hospital today and either one or both may die at any moment. They are Kanee, driver for Lewis & Company; and Poal, porter in the store of Hyman Bros. The former was stabbed in the right lung and the latter had a long slash across the back which laid his lungs open. While there is still hope, the men will have a hard time pulling through.

Downing, who is a white man and apparently quite a sensible fellow, has been informed for several days of the condition of the men he sought to slice. Up to today he has felt assured that there would be no death and that he would be lightly charged. Chances are now very much against him, however, and he will probably view the matter more seriously before the case comes up again next week.

The third man cut by Downing is getting along very well and will almost certainly recover. The only things feared in this case are gangrene and peritonitis.

Superintendent Eckardt reported this morning that Isaac Cockett, who was cut by the negro, William Ester, last Saturday night is improving and will recover.

A TOWN-TOWN BURGLARY

GEORGE ANDREW'S BEDROOM RANSACKED.

One of the most daring burglaries ever perpetrated in Honolulu was committed last night in the room of George Andrews over his fruit store on King street next to the Gazette building. The burglar entered the room in which two men were sleeping, ransacked the drawers of a desk took $215 he found in one of them, took Andrews' gold watch out of the vest which was hanging on a chair, took a diamond ring and pin which was in the room, and then went down stairs into the fruit store, broke open the till, and took a number of foreign coins he found there together with what change there was.

Andrews says that he and his employee who owned the ring and pin, went to bed at 9 o'clock last night, and that he woke up at 3 this morning and discovered the burglary.

The room in which the burglary was committed, is on the second floor of the building. It is reached from below by a stairway in the rear but to get to the fruit store, the room opens on to a balcony in front, which can be easily reached from the ground by climbing up a telephone pole, or from the balcony of the adjoining rooms on the same floor of the building. But there is a lattice work partition dividing the balcony of the two parts of the building.

The door from the balcony into Andrews' room stood open. It seems probable therefore that the burglar entered from the balcony, searched the room and then went down the rear stairway to the store below, broke open the till, and then let himself out of the side door into the little passage way that leads from King street to Cunha's saloon.

Both Andrews and his clerk were asleep in the room, the two occupying separate beds. The drawer from which the $215 was taken was within three feet of Andrews' bed. As soon as Andrews discovered the burglary he went to the police station to give the alarm. A native policeman came back with him and looked over the building. Andrews told him he suspected a certain man. The policeman told Andrews that all he could do would be to send for David Kaapa, but Kaapa was not sent for, and neither the marshal nor the deputy marshal was notified of the matter until Andrews went down to the station again at 9 o'clock.

IN DANGEROUS CONDITION

TWO MEN SLASHED SUNDAY MAY SUCCEMB.

Little Hope of Recovery of Kanee and Poal—Downing May Yet be Charged With Murder.

Charles Downing, the slasher of last night morning at the native house on Liliha street, may yet have one or two charges of murder lodged against him. He was arraigned yesterday, charged with assault and battery in three distinct cases and a postponement was taken for one week.

Two of the man's victims are in a very precarious condition at the Queen's hospital today and either one or both may die at any moment. They are Kanee, driver for Lewis & Company; and Poal, porter in the store of Hyman Bros. The former was stabbed in the right lung and the latter had a long slash across the back which laid his lungs open. While there is still hope, the men will have a hard time pulling through.

MAKING THE BEST HARBOR

REPORT OF THE SURVEY SHIP PATHFINDER.

The cable survey ship Pathfinder, Captain Perkins returned this morning from a surveying cruise to Maul, Lanai and Kahoolawe. Captain Perkins reports as the result of his surveys that Kihel harbor is the best at the island of Maul for the handling of freight, having a good deep harbor that only needs a pier to become a convenient center for deep water vessels.

"The harbor at Kihel is a very promising one," said Captain Perkins, "and apparently the best on the island. If a pier were constructed its head would be six fathoms of water. Kihel now has communication with the other side of the island by rail and if there were two or three scows such as the navy department has at Honolulu, a great deal of business could be done there without the pier. The harbor is a broad open one and being on the leeward side of the island is protected against all but Kona, which, from the best information I can gather, have not attained hurricane force in twenty years."

"At Lanai we made surveys to find out the limits of the reefs, and visited the principal places on both Maul, Lanai and Kahoolawe. It was found that the space between Maul and the other island is covered by a great coral reef, over which there is rarely more than 40 fathoms of water. This is very much less depth than is usually to be found the other island channels."

The Pathfinder went to Maalaea bay, Lahaina and other places. There are still important places on the islands that have not been thoroughly examined and the vessel may go there again as well as to Hawaii, which has already been visited by Captain Perkins. Molokai and Kauai channels may also be surveyed.

Captain Perkins is preparing a report to Washington which will be a guide to the authorities in future work at the islands and Kihel people will be delighted to hear of his report on their harbor.

COUNCIL IS IN SESSION

SUCCESS HONEST JOHN

COL ALLEN MEMBER COUNCIL OF STATE.

Appointed to Chair of the Late John Phillips—Street to Be Extended—Relief Funds Pau.

Col. W. F. Allen was today appointed a member of the Council of State and succeeded the late John Phillips. He has accepted and taken office, just in time to sit in the important sessions that begin this afternoon to consider the appropriation bill. Colonel Allen is old in the business of the Government, and his appointment will give general and complete satisfaction.

C. L. Wight, president of the Wilder Steamship Company, was before the Cabinet this morning to explain why the steamer Lehua had not been making regular schedules between Honolulu and Molokai. On February 4 a complaint about the matter was made in writing by J. H. Sharpe. It was affirmed that the steamer received a subsidy from the Government, but did not live up to the terms of its contract. Mr. Wight was requested to place his explanation in writing.

It was decided to at once open up Millian street, running by the side of the opera house from Queen street, to the naval reservation at the waterfront. The lines will cross a portion of the present quarantined district, a small section of which was recently burned over. The street can now be extended easier and at less expense than ever before. Minister Young was instructed to proceed with the work.

Minister Young read a letter dated March 13 from J. P. Cooke, bearing the information that funds for the relief camps were about exhausted.

A SMELL THAT OUTRANKS THEM ALL.

Limu Weed and Dead Fish causes upturned Noses all Over the Harbor and Water Front.

The whole water front of Honolulu and some of the streets up town were filled with an almost intolerable stench this morning. Farther out in the harbor, where ships are lying at anchor, the smell was nauseating and on the reef between the lighthouse and quarantine island it was a match for the worst cesspool in town before the fire. On the wharves, especially at the Waikiki end of the harbor, people held their noses whenever a southerly breeze wafted the strong atmosphere in their faces.

It was the limu that caused the smell. Limu is sea weed that grows along the reef near the lighthouse. When bunches of it get loose and are cast up to dry they give off the odor which a stench made so unpleasant this morning. Added to the weed's own strength, which is not to be underrated there is the smell of quantities of dead crabs, eels and fish, that were caught in the weed and could not get out.

The plant is said to be a non-parasitic, new weed here, only having been seen in any considerable quantity during the past five or six years. There is a lot of it on Hawaii. It grows wonderfully thick in shallow water, becoming so dense in fact that it is said that even eels are often unable to wiggle their way out when low water begins to leave it above water level. The consequence is that fish and crabs die in it in considerable numbers adding their flavor to the fearful stench inherent in the weed.

The south wind this morning brought great bunches of the weed into the harbor and onto quarantine island. Another element that increased the trouble was the dirty water, caused by returning rubbish dumped at sea by the Kaena. Life on Honolulu harbor this morning, or on its edges, was not all roses and sunshine. The limu is rated a first-class nuisance by all who have seen it, but unfortunately, it cannot be cleaned and got rid of at once. The south wind must scatter the weed's unpleasant influence about the city, unless its growth can be interfered with. It is thought by many that cleaning it off the edges of quarantine island, along the pier, would put an end to most of the smell.

The Lehua arrived this morning from Oahu ports. Captain Dover reports that the vessel was not in any danger, and he is not disposed to thank the people who telephoned from the other side of the island that the vessel was ashore and in danger. It was only a matter of tides.

THE NATION'S GIFT.

Mrs. Lawton Receives a Large Check in Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The money contributed by a grateful nation to Mrs. Mary G. Lawton, widow of Major-General Henry W. Lawton, was today handed over to her by Adjutant-General H. C. Corbin. The transfer was made by means of a check, and the amount Mrs. Lawton received was $88,497.07. The transfer of the money took place in the Riggs National Bank. There were present Mrs. Lawton and several women friends, General Corbin and Commissioner of the Western Mail, Newell Lawton and the cashier of the bank. General Corbin explained the purposes of the fund, and then drew a check for the amount, which he handed to the widow. Mrs. Lawton tried to thank him and the contributors, but her voice failed and she broke down. Newell Lawton spoke the thanks in her place. General Corbin wanted no receipt, but Mrs. Lawton wrote out one, which she gave him.

Mrs. Lawton will leave for California on Monday to pay off the mortgage on the family home at Redlands. The mortgage amounts to $7,850.

FAVORS FREE TRADE.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Post says:

President McKinley, in conversation with callers at the White House yesterday, reiterated his belief that the people of Porto Rico were entitled to free trade with the United States. He made it clear this view had undergone no change since he wrote his message to Congress. He still adhered to the sentiment therein expressed. At the same time he said he was unable to subscribe to the theory that the Congress should follow the flag; that the Porto Ricans must have free trade as a necessary legal right. When he found that the House deemed it the part of wisdom the President explained, to impose a small tariff upon condition that the revenues so collected, be returned to the island, he had been constrained to yield to the judgment of the House. The tariff, under such conditions, would be no hardship to the Porto Ricans. Moreover, he believed it advisable at the earliest moment to secure a decision of the Supreme Court on the constitutional question involved. Therefore, he had given his consent to the nominal tariff and agreed to sign such a bill. He left no doubt in the minds of his callers—whom he questioned closely regarding the drift of public sentiment—that Congress, not the Executive, was responsible for the change of policy.

COST OF PHILIPPINE WAR.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—In response to the resolution introduced by Representative Wheeler and adopted by the House of Representatives January 30 last, requesting that the House be informed as to the amount of money expended in military operations in the Philippine Islands between May 1, 1898, and up to and including January 1, 1900, has been partially replied to by Secretary of War Root. His reply to the resolutions covers the period between the time of Dewey's victory over Montojo on May 1, 1898, to and including November 1 of the same year, which shows that during this period the War Department disbursed $48,928,060, the principal items being: Quartermaster's Department, $25,715,891, of which $17,136,564 is for army transportation; subsidiary departments, $8,950,000; medical department, $1,206,137; pay department, $10,833,134; ordnance department, $1,860,239.

A. R. De Fluert, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. JACK AND SAILORS' HOME. AN EXPERT OPINION ON THE SUBJECT. What the Author of "The Cruise of the Cachalot" Thinks as the Result of Thirty Years Experience.

In these days when the "crimp" and the "shipping master" are terms of heated controversy on the water front, and when the subject of the Sailors' Home is of enough importance to occupy some of the thought and time of very busy men of affairs, what might be called expert testimony on the general subject may be of value. "The Cruise of Cachalot," by Frank T. Bullen, first mate, though a comparatively recent publication, is already recognized as a classic in that small corner of literature in which Richard Dana's "Two Years Before the Mast" has for two generations been burning and a shining light. The author spent his life at sea. He knows whereof he speaks; and that he speaks with judgment is seen in every line of a book, which though it describes but one cruise crowds into that the experience of a life time.

Of boarding masters and sailors' homes he says: "The galling thing about the whole sorrow at leaving Vau Vau than ever I did at leaving England; because by the time I was able to secure a berth, I have usually drunk pretty deep of the bitter cup of the 'outward' bounder, than whom there is no more forlorn, miserable creature on earth. No one but the much abused boarding-master will have anything to do with him, and that worthy is generally careful to let him know that he is but a hanger-on, a dependant on sufferance for a meal, and that his presence on shore is an outrage. As for the sailors' home, I have hardly patience to speak of them. I know the sailor is usually a big baby that wants protecting against himself, and that once within the four walls of the institution he is safe; but right there the conversation must come. Why are good folks ashore systematically misled into the belief that the sailor is an object of charity, and that it is necessary to subscribe continually and liberally to provide him with food and shelter when ashore? Most of the contributors would be surprised to know that the cost of board and lodging at the 'home' is precisely the same as it is outside, and much higher than a landsman of the same grade can live for in better style. With the exception of the sleeping accommodation, most men prefer the boarding-house, where, if they preserve the same commercial status which is a sine qua non at the 'home,' they are treated like gentlemen; but in what follows lies the essential difference, and the reason for this outburst of mine, smothered in silence for years. An outward bounder—'straw house' or, as it is grandiloquently termed, the 'dormitory'—is exhausted and who is living upon the credit of his prospective advance of pay—is unknown at the 'home.' No matter what the condition of things is in the shipping world; though the man may have fought with energy to get his discharge accepted among the crowd at the 'chain-locker,' though he be footsore and weary with 'looking for a ship,' when his money is done, out into the street he must go, if haply he may find a speculative boarding-master to receive him. This act, although most 'nearly' in appearance, is often performed; and though the boarding-master, of course, expects to recoup himself out of the man's advance note, it is none the less as merciful as the action of the 'home' authorities is merciless. Of course a man may go to the 'straw house' or, as it is grandiloquently termed, the 'dormitory'—where for a season he will be fed on the refuse from the 'home,' and sheltered from the weather. But the ungrateful rascals do not like the 'straw house,' and use very bad language about it.

"The galling thing about the whole affair is that the 'sailors' home' figures in certain official publications as a charity, which must be partially supported by outside contributions, but it certainly is not so to the sailor, who pays fully for everything he consumes. The charity is bestowed upon a far different class of people to merchant Jack. Let it be granted that a man is sober and provident, always getting a ship before his money is all gone, he will probably be well content at the 'home,' and sheltered from the weather. But the ungrateful rascals do not like the 'straw house,' and use very bad language about it.

THE BOER'S MISTAKE. Retreat From Ladysmith Due to Mistake in an Order.

BOER CAMP BIGGERSBERG, Saturday, March 3.—The Federals have fallen back on the Biggersberg chain that crosses Natal south of Dundee. The retreat from Ladysmith was due to the mistake of a certain commandant in ordering his men to retire from the key of the position without any reason for the move. On the receipt of bad news from the Modder river Wednesday it was resolved to send the wagons back to Biggersberg, and soon long strings of ox wagons lined the roads. Over a thousand wagons took the westerly route to the laager south-west of Ladysmith. Another convoy was sent to the foot of Drakensberg. A large number of tents captured from the British at Dundee and also the ammunition were abandoned. The chief difficulty was in dismounting the "Long Tom."

SUBJECT HAD NO END. One of the leaders of the Greenacre Chautauque in Maine is Dr. Lewis N. James, a scholar who beneath a quiet exterior veils considerable humor. At the recent summer session of that famous institution there were lecturers numberless from all over the world. Meeting a friend, the doctor asked him how he was enjoying himself. "Finely, up to yesterday, when I heard Professor X." "Didn't he lecture well?" "Not at all. He simply told us what he didn't know." "Is he still talking?" queried the doctor as he walked away.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1906.

The success of fumigation seems very limited here, and yet Surgeon-General Wyman speaks of its great success. Whether it is carefully carried out, or what the reason may be it is difficult for an onlooker to judge, but there is certainly something wrong somewhere.

The plague will have cost these islands close on to two million of dollars before we are quite through with it. That is direct cost, and the indirect loss will count up very nearly to the same sum. But the recuperative power of cities is truly wonderful. In a year or so all the leaks will be repaired and the territory and its principal city be advancing to a renewed and a greater prosperity than it has ever enjoyed before.

Certain circles on Kauai seem inclined to stir up the Prosser case. It would, perhaps, have been better had the Attorney General made public the grounds upon which Deputy Sheriff Prosser was discharged. It is always much wiser to be open and above-board in all public dealings. At present no one knows the merits of the case, save the Attorney General and his subordinates. Mr. Prosser has the support of some of the leading men in Kauai, but, of course, they may be mistaken.

Copies of the House Bill, dealing with the Territory of Hawaii, and the amendments thereto, have arrived, and a resume of the principal changes is given in another column. There is one satisfactory thing about both the Senate and the House Bill, whatever changes may be made in the original drafts, the main point is recognized, that Hawaii should be a territory, with the same rights and privileges that other territories have, and the hope of ultimate statehood to spur the islands on to a career of progress.

When J. O. Carter replied to a letter from Senator Pettigrew, supplying him with certain information, he cannot be charged with anything underhand. Mr. Carter sent published documents. That Senator Pettigrew used them against us is not Mr. Carter's fault. Mr. Carter has betrayed no confidence; and as far as Senator Pettigrew's statement goes, made no comment. Politically the Star and Mr. Carter are at opposite poles, but it does not seem fair to that gentleman to assail him because he corresponded with a senator in the United States; nor is he responsible for that senator's intemperate language.

A HARD CASE.

There are some serious cases of hardship among the floating population. Many people who came down for a short stay and had money enough for that and to take them back again, found on arrival that they had practically got into a prison. For once landed they could not leave. It is a case where considerable hardship is involved, and where no one is to blame.

The Board of Health cannot help the position, and the steamship agents are not to blame. The authorities in the United States will not allow the steamers to carry steerage passengers, and the sailing vessels cannot carry passengers at all. The only means of leaving the islands is by first-class cabin passage, and this none of the class alluded to can afford. It certainly is a very hard case.

These people will soon be a burden on the community. They have very nearly expended all their funds, and when these are exhausted, what are they going to do? Employment is not so easy to obtain. Under present conditions many avenues are closed up. Besides many of those to whom reference is made would readily find employment elsewhere, if they could only get away. The trouble is that they can't. This is a subject which will have to be met in some way, and it will be well for us to consider in what manner it can be met. The Star's solution would be to provide government work of some kind to tide over the crisis.

HARD NUT TO CRACK.

It begins to look as if the religious question is going to form a considerable factor in the settlement of the Philippines. If it does it is bound to create a considerable amount of bitterness, for there is nothing people become more earnest and determined over than religious differences. It is also evident that certain political organizations are striving, for their own ends to get the administration mixed up in a controversy which the administration has very carefully steered clear of.

to be the subject of much enquiry and speculation. Already the title of the various religious bodies to their estates is being written upon and argument used to prove that it is not good. This will form a serious subject for the new Philippine commission to consider. The thorough and complete regulation of the Philippine Islands will be a much harder matter for the United States to settle than that of the Hawaiian Islands has been. And even arranging for these islands has taken considerable time, and is not finally settled yet. We have come to the United States with institutions modeled upon those of the Great Republic, speaking the same language and educated on the same lines. In fact Hawaii was a ready-made American Territory, but both the Philippines and Porto Rico are very different. However the United States has tackled harder problems successfully, and she has the statesmen who can handle difficult political questions, both diplomatically and well.

LESSON FROM SYDNEY.

Wherever plague appears it attacks the rats. A letter received from Sydney by the last mail mentions the death of Captain Dudley from plague, and says that five dead rats were found on his premises the day previous to his being taken sick. It also states that hundreds of dead rats were being found around the wharves, and dead rats had been found at or near premises in Pyrmont and Drummoyne, where two suspect cases were found the day before the steamer left.

It does not need that we should be told of the danger from rats, but the above statements from Sydney emphasize the danger that lies in the rodents. We have had practical experience with rats ourselves, and became widely anxious at one time to exterminate them, but we are just as careless about them now as we were for their destruction before.

To get rid of rats requires united action. Individual effort is of little avail. It must be united because any single person cleaning his place of rats really has very little influence, if any, but well directed effort will have influence upon the mass, and as was urged yesterday, it would be possible to clear the island of rats as thoroughly as Singapore has been cleared.

We have spent an enormous sum of money fighting the plague, and our aim is to make the conditions here such that no plague can ever again gain foothold in our midst. We are cleaning, and in process of our cleansing, we are destroying property. We have interfered with the channels of trade; and have caused serious indirect and direct loss to the whole of our mercantile and trading classes. All this has been with the direct view of preventing plague ever recurring again. But as long as we have the rats with us so long will all our efforts be in vain, and the hundreds of thousands of dollars expended be of no avail. A chain is only as strong as its weakest link, and the rats are our weakest link. Unless they are exterminated, we shall always be in danger of plague.

THE INSPECTORS.

The volunteer inspectors laid down their burden yesterday, and a force of paid inspectors takes their place. It is to be hoped that the community will give the same loyal support to the paid inspectors as it has done to the volunteers. In work of this kind, success can only be obtained by the co-operation of those inspected.

The task of house to house inspection which was undertaken some two months ago, has been a severe tax upon quite a number of people. It has been conducted satisfactorily and has carried out its main object with success. Through the inspection, cases of plague have been discovered and centers of infection have been speedily broken up. In this the work done has been invaluable.

As a side issue the inspection has resulted in great improvements in sanitary conditions. Closets have been moved, rebuilt, and put in proper sanitary condition. Cesspools have been cleaned out, and in some cases filled up. Rubbish, the accumulation of years, has been burned, and the idea of the necessity of cleanliness has been inculcated in the great mass of the people. In this direction also, then, has the inspection been valuable.

It is much to the credit of those engaged in the work that it has been carried on with so little friction. It is no light thing for a stranger to go through the rooms of a house, examining all the intimate belongings, to make comment upon cleanliness, to recommend changes to people and insist on their being carried out, whether the people like it or not, and to do all this without friction or complaint. At the first there was a little diffidence on the part of the inspectors and sub-inspectors, and in a few isolated cases there was objection on the part of those inspected, but the former soon understood the importance of their duties, and did them honestly and well, while the objectors soon saw that they were wrong.

The fact that the Board does not consider that there is longer need for regular house to house inspection, and now confines its work to certain classes of the population is satisfactory, in that it shows that the main battle with the plague is over. This will make every one feel more cheerful, and satisfied with the prospect. The fight has been a hard one, and the rank and file, for as such the inspectors and sub-inspectors may be considered, have done their share of the work with care and discretion, and deserve the thanks of the community for their efforts.

KIHEI ANNUAL MEETING

TWO MORE ASSESSMENTS THIS YEAR.

A Small Crop This Year—6,500 Tons Estimated for 1901 and 11,400 for 1902. Receipts and Expenditures.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Kihei Plantation Company was held this morning at the Chamber of Commerce. The treasurer's report confirmed the rumor that has been current for several days that only two more assessments would be required this year. The manager's estimate of total expenditures for 1900 was $589,325. Four assessments of 10 per cent each will yield $600,000. Two of these, the 5th and 6th, have already been levied, leaving only two more to be levied for the year. The estimated expenditures for the year, all levied expenditures for the year, have been $2,107,011.43 including $1,500,000 represented by paid up stock, paid for land. In operating expense account $33,777.59 has been spent for material and $30,824.92 for labor. In stock expenditures account $335,686.77 has been spent for material and $45,308.77 for labor. Four 10 per cent assessments have yielded $599,597.00.

The manager, W. F. Poque makes full reports on the construction and operating activities of the company since its inception. The water supply, he says is abundant, but he further says: "I would strongly recommend lining up all waterways or main ditches, as the saving of water thereby, where water is as expensive as it is on this estate, will very soon save the outlay for lining up."

In his estimates of crops the manager says: There is a surplus left over of cane planted for seed of thirty acres which will be ground this spring." The estimated crop for 1901 is, 30 acres cane, 225 tons sugar; for 1901, 783 acres plant cane, 8,000 tons, 67 acres ratoons 500 tons, total 6,500 tons; for 1902, 1200 acres plant cane, 10,000 tons sugar, 200 acres ratoons, 1,400 tons, total, 11,400 tons sugar.

There were 37,000 shares of stock represented at the meeting. The old officers were re-elected. They are: H. P. Baldwin, president; E. E. Paxton, vice-president; L. A. Thurston, secretary; J. P. Cook, treasurer; J. B. Castle, auditor.

DISGUISE WAS COMPLETE.

Made Up As a Mendicant and Was Arrested.

Attorney C. W. Biting appeared in the prisoner's dock in the district court this morning in a pair of slippers a shirt without a collar, an old coat with holes in it and a black slouch hat.

This was the disguise in which he was arrested last night on King street, near the Executive building. The charge against him in court was soliciting alms in a public place. The case was continued until tomorrow, and he was released on bonds of $100.

Biting says that yesterday he shaved off his beard and moustache, and a friend seeing him, said his nearest friends would not recognize him. In a spirit of adventure he took up the idea and decided to see if they would. Putting on the clothes in which he appeared in court, he went out in the evening and accosted friends in the guise of a mendicant. Sure enough, his disguise was complete. Then he accosted Mounted Patrolman Bryan, whom he mistook for Officer Fox. Bryan at once arrested him.

NO MONOPOLY IN NEWS.
The Inter-Ocean of Chicago, became involved in a bitter controversy with the Associated Press, which is an Illinois corporation. Out of this fight was evolved a suit in which the Associated Press took the ground that no member of its association could buy news from anybody but members of the association. The Inter-Ocean had a news arrangement with the New York Sun, and since the Sun was not an Associated Press newspaper, and was declared hostile to that organization the Inter-Ocean was refused news services under a rule adopted by the Associated Press.

Without recounting the legal steps involved, the contest narrowed down to the question whether the Associated Press, under its charter, could enforce such a rule. The lower court held that the rule was proper, but the supreme court held that the Associated Press had secured for itself a practical monopoly of the news business; that any newspaper in the United States that would pay for the Associated Press could get its news from any source it desired, without forfeiting its Associated Press franchise.

While the decision is of great interest to all newspaper publishers in this country, it is of greater significance as showing the trend of courts toward monopolies. As the court very properly observed, the enforcement of the rule in question would limit all Associated Press newspapers to its service, and so prevent them from getting anything but such telegraphic news as the executive officers of the organization might choose to send out. As a matter of public policy, the court held such a limitation would be injurious to the public welfare. In a country where the press has such enormous power in the formation of public opinion, the control of a great news gathering concern like the Associated Press would carry with it practical control of political affairs—a power more effective and far-reaching than the control of armies in a free country like this. The Illinois court has fallen into line with public sentiment on the monopoly question.—Salt Lake Herald.

PATRIOTISM.

Many Republican leaders, Senator Hanna among the number, have set up a new standard of patriotism in this country. They have founded the school of statesmanship upon the cornerstone of selfish interest and weaker people are held, as Spain regarded them three centuries ago, subject to the whims and wishes of avarice—represented then by royal greed and today by syndicates nourished at the expense of the government.

Every speech made in congress in favor of Philippine retention has been an appeal to covetousness as base as that which satan made to Christ upon the mountain top. "Behold the marvelous richness of the islands," says the typical Republican Senator.—Salt Lake Herald.

STATE DISPENSARIES.

Another governor of South Carolina is increasing the state dispensary law in his annual message, and the protests of the opposition are less violent than usual. Apparently the law has come to stay. Meantime Alabama has just put in force a similar plan of state operation of the liquor business.—Springfield Republican.

THE MONTH'S WEATHER

METEOROLOGICAL RECORD FOR FEBRUARY.

The artesian well level fell during the month from 34.25 feet above mean sea-level to 34.05. THE PROSSER CASE.

The Editor Star—There has been considerable comment in your and other Honolulu papers as to the dismissal of Deputy Sheriff Prosser from the police department for alleged disobedience of orders, but so far nobody seems to have been able to learn what the orders were that Mr. Prosser disobeyed. As far as those in charge of the plantation know, Mr. Prosser has been a most successful officer, ever on the alert, impartial and of the not-to-be-bought sort, and it would please Kaula people if the Attorney General could be induced to inform the public what the orders were that Mr. Prosser is supposed to have disobeyed. It would also be interesting to see in print what information Mr. Cooper received from men like S. W. Wilcox, Judge Hardy, Mr. Cropp, Mr. Farley and others, relative to certain police matters in this island.

Professor George Frederic Wright of Oberlin College, the distinguished theologian and geologist, has started on a journey around the world, in which he will combine geological research with studies of religious and social topics. The results of his journey will be published in magazines and later in book form. Among the questions to be investigated during the trip across Siberia is whether the trans-Baikal region was covered with glaciers during the glacial period.

The cleanest, brightest, safest and really the longest running, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."

This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

"Man's Strength and Woman's Beauty."

Before and since the days of Samson this is what has been said of every luxuriant growth of hair.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR preserves and beautifies the hair, giving it length, strength, and luster. It restores the natural color to the hair in every instance.

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and thus removes one great cause of baldness. It makes a better circulation in the scalp and thus checks the hair from falling out.

If your blood is poor and thin and filled with impurities, the Hair Vigor cannot do its best. You should take a thorough course of treatment with Ayer's Sarsaparilla at the same time you are using the Hair Vigor. This will cleanse your blood, invigorate your nerves, and improve your health in every way.

VIEWS AT WASHINGTON

E. C. WINSTON'S STAY AT THE CAPITAL.

E. C. Winston, who returned yesterday on the Australia from a trip to the states spent some time in Washington during the present session of Congress. Mr. Winston says that a number of representatives with whom he talked were all quite confident that the Cullom bill will have a speedy passage through the House. "The friends of the measure are not expecting any trouble for it," said Mr. Winston. "It was the opinion when I was there that the debate would be limited to a short period. If there are amendments made now that the bill has passed the Senate, there will have to be a conference committee, of course, and this will take some time."

Incidentally, Mr. Winston devised a scheme of his own for getting into the halls of Congress. It was during the debate over Congressman Roberts, who was charged with polygamy. Mr. Winston was not able to find any of the men with whom he might have entered. After trying in vain to get into the visitors' gallery, he turned his attention to the five galleries for ladies. The rules allow ladies to enter with their escorts. Mr. Winston had no lady friends available, and the only thing to do was to make some. So he took up a position near the ladies' entrance and waited for a member of the fair sex who didn't look as if she would get insulted at being asked to escort a stranger. "I thought it best to wait for old ones," explained the capitalist. Two "old ones" soon came, and consented to take the Honolulu man in to the ladies' gallery. When they got tired he bashfully edged up to another lady, but she should be thought to be a man alone in the place.

HARRISON IS PRO-BOER

HE SYMPATHIZES WITH OOM PAUL.

He Does Not Wish to Be Quoted Because He Does Not Like to Embarrass the Administration.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A special to the World from Auburn, Ind., says: Ex-President Harrison has been interviewed by many public men of Indiana in regard to the Boer-British war, and he makes no words in expressing his sympathy for the Boers, although he persistently refuses to be quoted lest his words would embarrass the McKinley administration.

General Harrison contends that there is no occasion for gratitude on the part of the Government toward the British. He thinks the British were guilty of inhuman practices during our Revolutionary War, and that their attack on this nation in 1812 had no justification from any international standpoint, while their conduct toward the U.S. during the Civil War was also reprehensible.

He sees no occasion for enthusiasm over the friendship of the English during our war with Spain, as it was a war against cruelty and clearly for humanity. There was no reason why the British or any other nation should not have been with America on this proposition.

If the British were suppressing cruelty in South Africa, or remedying conditions that interfered with humane government, the United States would be justified in lending its sympathy. On the contrary, General Harrison thinks, here is a public fighting for its home and its own government, a cause as just as the American had in their great war of the eighteenth century.

THE CHRISTIAN DAILY.
Thousands of Subscriptions for the Topeka Capitol.

TOPEKA, Kans., March 6.—The rush of subscription orders for the Sheldon edition of the Topeka Capitol has broken all the records of the local post-office, the number of subscriptions received in the last two days being upward of 60,000. These orders came in 5,000 letters. Most of the orders have been received through the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society, the Epworth League, the religious press of the country and other religious societies and organizations. Nearly every important country in the world is represented in the subscription list for the week, as well as all of the states and territories of the Union.

Subscriptions still continue to pour in to the Capital by the last mail today, notwithstanding the published request that all should be in by March 5. Intense local interest in felt in the Sheldon experiment.

LANGTRY'S HUSBAND ILL.

CHICAGO, March 6.—Captain Hugo de Bathe, husband of Mrs. Langtry, is dangerously ill in the British military hospital at Cape Town. A telegram to this effect has been received by Mrs. Langtry. Captain De Bathe, who is a member of Colonel Kitchener's staff, was stricken with fever shortly after the relieving force entered Kimberley.

WATSON COMING HOME.

He Will Return By Way of the Suez Canal.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—On account of the delicate condition of Admiral Watson's health he has been authorized to transfer his flag to the Baltimore, which vessel is to be detached from the Asiatic squadron, and to proceed home by the way of the Suez canal and Mediterranean sea, stopping at such European ports as he deems proper, as was done in the case of Admiral Dewey. He will probably arrive in Europe in the summer, and will return to the United States and visit the Paris Exposition.

Rear Admiral George C. Remey, at present in command of the Portsmouth (N. H.) navy yard, will be ordered to succeed Rear Admiral Watson in command of the Asiatic squadron. Captain Wilde of the Oregon, sent off next to Admiral Watson, will command the station in the interval between Admiral Watson's departure and Admiral Remey's arrival at Cavite.

FUMIGATION AGAIN FAILS

UNSUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENTS AT AALA.

Last Trial May Turn Out All Right in the End—Pratt's Report on Iwilei Stables—Routine.

Dr. Hoffman in his letter to the Health Board in regard to experiments at fumigation made in the warehouse at Aala, has the following to say:

March 13, 1900.

Dear Sir: There have been given to Mr. Ingalls for testing fumigation in Aala warehouse on March 7, two tubes containing living bacilli cultures, and, according to his report he placed tube No. 3642 in the folds of a piece of cloth in a part of the room where the fumes go last, near the door on the right hand side, and placed tube No. 4461 on a beam opposite door on mauka side, three and a half feet from floor in the Aala fume room.

Fumigation started at 2 p. m. on the 7th instant and the room was opened at 8:10 a. m. on March 8. The replanting of both fumigated tubes showed active growth of the same bacilli. Fumigation a failure.

On March 10, Mr. Ingalls placed three petri dishes charged with culture mura containing living bacilli (in a small quantity) and a tube with a living culture, all open, in different places of the fumigation room. Fumigation started on March 10 at 2 p. m., doors were opened at 7:30 a. m. on March 12. The petri dishes have been covered with the tube has been lying on the floor with removed plug. On the replanting of these there has not been any growth up to today.

Respectfully,

DR. W. HOFFMANN.

Inspector J. S. B. Pratt has reported to the Board of Health in regard to the sanitary condition of the stables in Iwilei, opposite the premises from which Ah Jan came last Sunday. He finds that the place simply cannot be rendered sanitary, and recommends the complete destruction of the stables and tent by fire.

Battery camp, which was used for quarantining persons from infected premises, is no more. Yesterday and this morning all the people were removed to Kalia, where they will remain until the end of their quarantine period. Battery camp has been closed to save the expense of an additional force of guards, etc.

Dr. Wood has received a letter from Minister Mott-Smith, head of the military department, tendering the use of the fumigating depot on the drill grounds for service as a public dispensary.

MAGUIRE ACQUITTED.

"Jock" Maguire, who was his own attorney in circuit court yesterday, in a perjury matter, obtained a verdict of not guilty at the hands of eleven men and was discharged. The defense did not put forward any evidence, but rested on a statement of the defendant in person to the jury. In the Maguire case that in police court he believed he was telling the truth. Since then he had been told by three responsible men that he was mistaken. His mind being refreshed on several matters he was of the opinion that he was mistaken, though honestly mistaken, in his former testimony.

FIRST FRUITS OF THE PLAGUE.

Tai Cheong Fined for Violating New Building Regulations.

Tai Cheong is the first man to bump up against the new building regulations of the Board of Health. In bumping up he got hit with a $100 fine.

He was in the district court yesterday, and when the evidence had all been heard it was proved to the satisfaction of Judge Wilcox that he had violated the building regulations which were enacted as a result of the fearful experience of the plague, and was fined accordingly.

DEPOSITS WASHING COMPOUND.

A natural soap mine and a paint mine are two of the latest curiosities which have been discovered in British Columbia. Several soda lakes have been found in the foothills near Ashcroft, B. C. Their bottoms and shores are incrustated with a natural washing compound containing borax and soda. It is quite equal to the washing powders in common use for cleaning purposes. About 275 tons of the compound have been cut and taken out of one lake. It is handled exactly the same as ice. One lake alone contains 20,000 tons.

A GOOD THING.

There's one good thing when they feel dry. That business men cannot pass by. For far and wide it's fame you hear. They stop to drink of "Rainier" beer. On draught or in bottle at Criterion.

The Merchants Exchange, corner King and Nuuanu streets, received a consignment of Bock beer by the Australia.

Gus Schuman has filed an assumpsit suit against Capt. T. B. Murray and the Club Stables Company. The claim is $88.63.

The flag over the Y. M. C. A. was at half-mast yesterday out of respect to the memory of the late Henry Waterhouse Jr.

Hundreds of people gathered in the grounds of the Executive building last evening to hear the concert by the Hawaiian band.

The Sun Chong Kwok Co., Ltd., with office at corner of Nuuanu and King streets, has a business announcement in this issue.

Lee Tit has entered suit in ejectment against Ching Fook to recover the lease of a small parcel of land on King street, and damages in the sum of $500.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Frank Cooke had a house full of jolly people at their King street residence last evening. They were nearly all Central Union people, and a large number were comparatively newcomers on the Islands. Tests of all five senses were ingeniously made, as a part of the evening's entertainment.

NOT SUSPICIOUS CASE.

Today—Plague deaths, 6; plague cases, 9; suspicious cases, 0.

The sick Japanese at Ocean View, near the bridge at Kapiolani park, has fever and not plague. There was a slight suspicion at first yesterday, as there is in all fevers, but this was soon dispelled. The man has not been removed from his house and will not be. He is resting easy today.

Seu Kam, the Chinaman from Battery camp, who came from the stables in Leilei, is probably afflicted with plague. His case is very suspicious to say the least. He did not come from the stables that were burned Tuesday, as first reported, but from the stables on the other side of the street, which Attorney Henry is trying to have. There is hardly a doubt but that the Health Board will this afternoon vote to burn the stables.

Mr. Levy is, if anything, improved. Temperature and pulse are both nearer normal and he is quite in good spirits.

LAHAINA'S QUARANTINE.

WAILUKU, March 10.—As an illustration of the strictness with which the quarantine is enforced at Lahaina, the Mother Superior and two Franciscan Sisters, who had been engaged in works of mercy at the leper settlement at Molokai came from there to Lahaina on the Lehua, where they were refused permission to land. To the credit of the captain of the Lehua, he steamed round to Kihel and landed his passengers there.—Maui News.

For years I have suffered with dyspepsia. Ordinary food did not agree with me. I learned of Taroena, a cooked food prepared from taro, and tried it. It was just the food I needed. I began to improve at once. In three days I have gained two pounds, and have had no recurrence of my old complaint—dyspepsia.
