MEN WHO WERE PRESENT TELL OF BECKLEY'S ATTACK ON THURSTON PROHIBITION PLAN

"The article which was published in the Bulletin yesterday is about correct and far more correct than the Beckley story which appeared in the Advertiser this morning. The story is way-off."—W. C. Achi. "The Bulletin-Beckley story which was published in yesterday's Bulletin is substantially correct. What the Advertiser published this morning as coming from Beckley, is wrong."—A. S. Kalelopa. Achi and Kalelopa, who were present at Aala Park last Monday night, stated positively that Beckley did attack Thurston as being instrumental in misleading the Hawaiians in order to get a "government by commission." They declare that Beckley said that Thurston was agitating the prohibition proposition so that the Hawaiians, who know of Thurston's attitude in the past, might vote against the Thurston-Woolley proposition.

HUNDREDS ON WAY TO COAST

Four hundred and two persons left Honolulu for San Francisco this morning. This represents an outlay of at least $20,000 paid the steamship companies today. They were passengers by two large Pacific liners, and their departure was witnessed by at least a thousand people, who thronged the wharves of the Matson Navigation and the Oceanic steamship companies. The sailing of the steamers Wilhelmina and Sierra was a notable occasion. "Steamer day" at Honolulu has generally resulted in bringing out a goodly gathering at the wharf. Today was an exception, and between the hour of nine and ten this morning the downtown streets presented a decidedly deserted appearance.

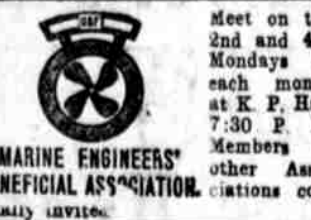

"The Prohibitionists will not lose a vote by my departure. I am against the proposition." (Continued on Page 2)

BULLETIN PARTY LEAVE FOR COAST

The remainder of The Bulletin party of ladies are making their first trip to the United States. With the exception of Mrs. Beggs, they have never been outside the Territory of Hawaii.

Upon arrival at San Francisco next Tuesday morning, The Bulletin California-Yosemite party will be met by representatives from Hotel Manx. The party will be entertained in a lavish manner at the Golden Gate city for a week to ten days before taking up the rail journey to Central California and to the Yosemite.

There will be nothing too good for The Bulletin party while they remain the guests at the palatial Hotel Manx. Every attention will be shown them. The leading theaters and places of amusement of the "Paris of America" will be at their command. There is not a member of the party but has a host of friends along the Coast or in San Francisco. These will, of course, vie with each other in adding to the pleasure in store for the members of The Bulletin party.

Nothing will escape The Bulletin party in touring the Yosemite. They will be the recipients of special attention and favors from guides and also the United States officials who have to do with looking after the Federal reservation.

The Bulletin party is due to return to Honolulu by the Matson steamer Wilhelmina, arriving here on August 8.

The ladies occupied as fine cabins as the Wilhelmina possessed. There were but two members of the party placed in a room, and in consequence the party were not crowded in the least.

The Territorial band rendered some special airs in honor of the departure of the distinguished party of young people.

In traveling across the twenty-one hundred miles of Pacific Ocean as passengers on the good ship Wilhelmina, The Bulletin party will occupy a prominent place at Captain Peter Johnson's table.

Their departure was an auspicious one. Even nature smiled as they steamed out the harbor, waving aloft to the throng on the wharf.

Yes, The Bulletin California-Yosemite party is off on a trip, the memory of which will never become effaced.

ILL-LUCK FOR SHIP BABCOCK

Officers connected with the Canadian-Australian liner Makura that arrived at Honolulu bring a story of additional and far more serious plights in which the American ship has just figured. On July 2nd and two days prior to the departure of the Makura for Honolulu the ship Babcock put into Port Jackson in distress. The vessel is in a bad way, having suffered some damage in a hurricane in the Pacific, during which she lost her deck cargo, amounting to 200,000 feet of timber.

The ship left Port Townsend as far back as January 20, and had a hard tussle with the elements after clearing the straits, the result being that she put into Honolulu with her rudder damaged and the hull knocked about. Repairs were completed in a fortnight, and the ship then resumed her voyage. All went well until reaching latitude 34 degrees south, longitude 151 west. Here a cyclonic storm of hurricane force burst on the ship, tossed her on her beam ends, and threatened to send her to the bottom. Mountainous seas swept her fore and aft, and the deck cargo was washed clean away. For six hours her position was extremely critical. The weather then moderated, but the conditions continued more or less rough for three days. Oil was used to calm the troubled waters with good effect. Eventually the ship emerged from the encounter in a crippled condition. The heavy working of the vessel had caused her to leak freely in the topsides, and showed that the foremast was sprung and the foreyard and foretopmast yard were carried away. In this condition it was not deemed prudent to proceed on the voyage round Cape Horn, and the captain decided to bear up for

GOO WAN HOY IS ON TRIAL

This morning at the police court, the case of Goo Wan Hoy, who is charged with gross cheat, was started and the defense was undertaken by Lightfoot and Humphries, Deputy County Attorney Milverton prosecuted, and he elicited the fact that the manager of the City Mill Co. had been ordered, by Goo Wan Hoy to make three bedsteads. The price was to be $50, and when the articles were ready, Goo Wan Hoy is alleged to have handed over a check for the amount and ordered that the bedsteads be sent by railroad to a Chinese.

According to the manager of the mill, the check was returned when presented at the bank, and as Goo Wan Hoy would not square up the matter, the gross cheat charge was made.

The defense maintained that the bedsteads were not according to agreement, and that they were wrapped up in paper and string when shipped. Upon examination it was found that the furniture was not as ordered.

The case was not finished at noon and was continued till tomorrow morning.

CONFERENCE ARE HELD TODAY

Both this morning and afternoon conferences are being held with Governor Frear by Republican and Democratic leaders relative to the appointment of election boards of registration and the Governor stated today that he hoped to make the appointments tonight.

The Russians are quietly flocking to the coast upon the first available transportation. They are willing to pay the thirty dollars required for a steamer passage to San Francisco. All seem to be well supplied with funds and they generally proffer the money for their fare in gold coin.

The Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina, sailing for the coast this morning, carried thirty Russians. Most of these arrived here from Haliu from the other islands for the past week or so and booked for the coast.

The Oceanic steamer Sierra sailed this morning and had eight Russians among her stowage passengers. A number of Portuguese also left by the latter vessel.

There is a constant drain of the laboring element going on, according to those who have carefully kept tab on this phase of the immigration question during the past year.

That the coast employment firms are making a campaign for laborers here is pretty well established by the present exodus of immigrants.

The Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina was the first to get away. Captain Peter Johnson gave orders which released the Wilhelmina from her wharf promptly at 10 o'clock. Ten minutes later the Matson vessel was majestically steaming across the harbor, her flag dipped as a parting salutation to the Sierra.

The Oceanic boat left her berth at twenty minutes after 10 o'clock and followed close in the wake of the rival liner. The Sierra is expected to arrive at San Francisco at least five hours ahead of the Matson steamer. The Sierra carried one hundred and twenty-four sacks of mail, of which was some sixty sacks from Australia, transferred from the Canadian-Australian liner Makura.

There will be no attempt at a race between the two liners. Each will proceed across the twenty-one hundred miles of intervening sea at the regulation speed. The Wilhelmina is well laden with cargo, this vessel having secured nearly five thousand tons, according to the statements of her agents.

The Sierra left Honolulu rather light so far as freight was concerned, but what she lacked in Hawaiian products she more than made up in the throng of passengers who swarmed her decks.

The Sierra carried the record list of outgoing passengers for that vessel since she has been placed on a Honolulu-San Francisco run. There were one hundred and seventy-five in the cabin, and seventy people took passage in the steerage. Of the latter were principally Japanese, Portuguese and a few Russians.

The Wilhelmina left with one hundred and seven comfortably ensconced in her passenger cabins. Fifty departed in the steerage, and of these thirty were Russians who had been brought to the Territory of Hawaii at the expense of the immigration board and the taxpayers.

A number of Porto Ricans took leave of the "Isles of the Blessed" by the Wilhelmina route.

The Matson vessel secured a goodly cargo. This was made up of 4900 tons of sugar, 10,000 cases of pineapples and juice, 2000 bunches bananas, 2000 sacks rice, and a quantity of sundries, including hides, honey and fruits.

Both vessels sailed from the port with plenty of room for additional passengers. On board the Wilhelmina were several fine staterooms with no one to occupy them. Practically all the cabins on this vessel contained but two passengers each. There was no crowding on the Wilhelmina this trip.

The same condition obtained on the good ship Sierra. This vessel has accommodation for two hundred and twenty-five people in her first class. Thirty or more staterooms were vacant as the vessel steamed out the channel and headed for the California coast port.

Both the Oceanic and the Matson agencies are to be congratulated and complimented upon the greatly improved facilities provided for the embarkation of passengers and baggage.

At the Matson wharf, three large gangways handled the business for the Wilhelmina. The after runway was for the accommodation of steerage passengers and their personal effects. A larger gangway at midships was used by the hundreds who went aboard the vessel either in the capacity of passengers or friends. At the forward portion of the ship was a wide gangway upon which moved a constant stream of baggage and express mail.

At the Oceanic wharf the crowd was ably handled. There was a special runway for mail and heavy baggage. By the arrangement of a barrier, visitors were kept off the vessel after the advertised time set for closing the gates. A double gangway led to the saloon deck of the vessel, and by this method a congestion was pleasingly avoided.

It was a busy morning for the Territorial band. Herr Berger and his musicians divided the honors. They played a program of melodies at the Matson wharf until about twenty minutes before the departure of the Wilhelmina, and then moved to the Oceanic wharf, where another concert was given. The crowd in the main followed the movement of the band.

To offer special mention of those who took their departure for the

WATERFRONT NOTES

THE DETAILS for the transfer of the local marine railway from the possession of James Lyle to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company are said to have been completed and the concern will now be operated under the new management. As the Inter-Island steamers have heretofore largely figured in the work done at the yards, the Inter-Island Company takes over the lease from the government.

ABOUT FIFTY passengers succeeded in securing hooking and getting away for the mainland by the Canadian-Australian liner Makura. The vessel completed the discharge of a small general cargo and sailed from Alakea wharf at half past eight last evening. While at this port a quantity of cargo was left which will be transferred to the Marama and by that vessel be carried to Fanning Island.

UNDER THE auspices of the Civil Service Commission an examination of applicants for the position of stenographer and typewriter will be held at Honolulu on July 26th. All applications for the position must be before Collector of Customs Stackable by 4:30 p. m. on July 25th.

THE CABLE supply steamer Fluorance Ward sailed from Midway today. The vessel is bound for Honolulu after having discharged a quantity of supplies for the cable colony at the mid-Pacific station.

IT IS EXPECTED that a mainland mail will arrive tomorrow morning by the Matson Navigation chartered steamer Nevada. The vessel is bringing down a fair general cargo for island ports.

ACCORDING to information received in this city the Japanese liner Chiyu Maru sailed from San Francisco at noon yesterday. The vessel is enroute to the Orient by the way of Honolulu.

SMOOTH SEAS and fine weather have been met with by the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria reported last night by wireless as 435 miles off the port enroute to San Francisco.

Blanchard was on his way down to the steamer this morning when word reached him that he was expected to take up his new duties at once. This sudden change left the number of Guardsmen shy one, but as there are three alternates with the team, everything will be alright.

ROAD BOARD IS DE-LIGHTED

Highways On Windward Oahu In Good Condition

The City and County road board takes occasion to extend felicitations to itself at the completion of the greater bulk of road work on the other side of this island.

A special trip of its members under the guidance of Chairman Quinn was made the other day. A report concerning what the Supervisors found there provided one of the matters taken up for consideration at last night's meeting of the County lawmakers.

In submitting his report which document was supported by other members of the committee, Chairman Quinn among other things says:

In regard to the trip around the island for the inspection of the Kahana Beach Road which is now about completed, which was referred to your Committee on Roads, Bridges, Garbage, Parks and Public Improvements, we would state:

We made the trip around the island inspecting the different places. We were very much pleased to find the work at Kipapa Gulch going along very rapidly; also at Waialua the road is completed to the Haleiwa Hotel; also the work in the Koolauloa District is progressing very rapidly. We expect in a very short time to have the road completed to the Hauula Court House. We find at Kahana that the contract for the Kahana Beach Road is about completed. We find it to be a first class job in every respect. The only thing which remains to complete the contract at the present time is the building of a short strip of fence and the painting of a bridge, etc. We would recommend that as soon as this is completed, the City and County Engineer, on behalf of the Board of Supervisors, accept the road as finished.

In regard to a Petition from the Hauula Improvement Club, relative to the improvement of roads in and around Hauula, and also the home-stead road, which was referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges, Supervisor Quinn reports that the Hauula Improvement Club in their petition, wanted one half of the money being spent in that district at the present time, which is $2000 a month, to be spent in the Hauula district. We are doing better than that. We are spending the whole $2000 a month in that district and working towards Hauula, and in a very short time will have the road completed to Hauula, and we hope before the end of the year to have the road completed to Kahana. We would recommend that the road from the Railroad Station down to the beach, which is approximately 1,000 feet, be macadamized or graveled.

In regard to the Homestead road, we find that in first class condition, as it has been graded and the grass has grown all over the road. There is very little traffic on this road and it is in very good condition at the present time.

To the appointing of another luna or a deputy road overseer for that district, we think it is unnecessary and would be a waste of money, as Mr. Adams, the Road Overseer for that district, has full charge of his district, the same as all other overseers and we think he is the best just whether or not he needs an assistant. The Committee also wish to compliment Mr. Adams for the good work he has done in that district as he is building a road for about $3,000 a mile, and at that rate, it will not be many months before all the roads in the Koolau district will be macadamized.

EMERSON IS EXONERATED

The City and County Committee on Sanitation and Health have given Dr. Emerson what might be technically known as a "clean bill of health." This was handed to the County police surgeon at the meeting of the solons held last evening.

In a report offered the Board and adopted by unanimous vote the health commissioners state that we held an investigation and questioned Dr. Emerson and Sheriff Rose about the case with the following result, viz.:

Odo, the dead man, some time before his death went to a Japanese doctor, who treated him for yellow jaundice. Later he got drunk and slept outdoors all one night. The following day he was sick and retired to his room. The day before his death he complained of being sick. He died unattended in the night and his death being reported to the police. Mr. Rose removed the body to the undertaking rooms.

Dr. Emerson found pneumonia in the lungs and concluding that this was the cause of death certified accordingly.

It appears that the Territorial health authorities took alarm at the report of pneumonia, a great many cases of death from this cause having been reported within a short time previous, and an epidemic of pneumonia being regarded as the forerunner of bubonic plague. They accordingly made a further post mortem examination and it is said discovered evidence of the plague.

Dr. Emerson frankly admitted that he might have carried the examination further than he did, saying he would not take any chances again. It may be mentioned that the Board of Health had given no notice of the suspicious prevalence of pneumonia. Neither did its physicians invite the prison surgeon to attend the additional autopsy.

In view of the facts, your committee does not attach any blame to the police surgeon, as he had ascertained the probable cause of death from reasonable evidence.

The committee on sanitation and health submitted the following report concerning this phase of the work at its meeting last evening.

WEDNESDAY JULY 20, 1910

"It is all very well to say: 'The law punishing theft does not prevent stealing.' The cases are not analogous. To steal is by all men acknowledged to be a crime against society. To drink a glass of beer or wine is believed to be admissible by millions; yes, by a vast majority of the best men and women, and millions of the best Christians in the world. Prohibition prohibits that which a majority of men do not believe to be wrong. This will always make it difficult of application. This is shown by the way in which, in the past sixty years, States have passed and abolished prohibitory laws. In 1859 when John Stuart Mill wrote his 'Essay on Liberty,' nearly one-half of the United States had prohibitory laws. State after State has tried and has rejected such laws. Many of the Southern States because of the negro population have recently adopted prohibitory laws. Already the signs are that the experiment will not last long and that other methods will prevail."—Bishop Rensick.

Prohibition for Hawaii? Vote with the majority, Aole No.

Woolleyism must go. It is the same brand of agitation that brought about a labor crisis a year ago.

Prohibition has failed everywhere it has been tried. No sensible man wants to saddle a failure on Hawaii.

Kaui has proved that a Prohibition law is not required to close saloons, and thus given the lie to the principal claim of the Prohibitionists in Honolulu.

There's nothing unusual about Prohibitionists calling one another names. That is all they do when speaking of their opponents, and the custom has become a habit.

Prohibition would bring about a thriving business in rotten concoctions labeled as gin, and every Prohibitionist knows it. Why vote for the rotten concoction labeled gin.

BECKLEY AND PROHIBITION JAGS.

Perhaps Mr. Beckley, the orator for the Prohibitionists, did not know what he said at Aala Park in connection with Mr. Thurston and his advocacy of Government by Commission. It is quite a common thing for Prohibition orators to become so thoroughly intoxicated with the fervor of their radical speech that they do not know what they are talking about. In fact the majority of the voters of this Territory may be said to be fully convinced by this time that the Prohibitionists are either ignorant or do not care. They appear to be ready to say anything.

Hilo seems to think it has discovered some kink in the Plebiscite proclamation. Let the technicalities take care of themselves. Get out and vote Aole No, next Tuesday. That will take all the kinks out of the proposition.

W. H. McNerny is a pretty good citizen and generally respected by the community. He says that Prohibition and Woolleyism are ruinous. Woolley says, "Against us are only the guerrillas of evil and timidity." It is your duty to support the honorable men of the Territory as against the insulting wreckers of the Woolley brand.

The Morning Mother of Blind Pigs must have thought it was turning one of its Prohibition falsehoods when it hatched the silly yarn of a faked cable in connection with the yacht Hawaii. As a matter of fact the morning paper has waited for the Bulletin to get all its news of the yacht race. Although the race started from San Pedro Sunday, it was the Bulletin of Monday afternoon that gave Honolulu the first news of it. And the special Associated Press cable to the Bulletin the following day reported the Hawaii becalmed off Catalina.

KAUI WILL VOTE AOLE-NO.

Sheriff W. H. Rice of the County of Kauai is a pretty good citizen and a generally admitted honest official.

He makes the statement today, less than a week before the people go to the polls in the plebiscite, that Kauai will vote against Prohibition.

Of course there is no telling what the Prohibitionists may call Mr. Rice since he has been free to express his mind on what he has observed, but the average citizen of this Territory will accept Mr. Rice's judgment, and the Woolleyites will have to invent a new batch of nasty names.

The particular value of the observation from Kauai is its proof that Prohibition in this Territory has developed no enthusiasm whatever, and its only hope of success today is that the opponents of the Woolley scheme—hatched in the secret corridors of the Government-by-Commission crowd—will feel so sure of the result that they will not take the trouble to go to the polls.

The certainty of Prohibition's defeat in the County of Kauai is the best possible answer to the claim of the Prohibitionists that a vote for Prohibition is a vote against the saloon. Kauai decided that it did not want saloons and it proceeded to do away with them under the present license law.

Kauai people know that they have no necessity to vote for the overthrow of an effective law in order to eliminate the saloon. They know from their own experience that the claims put forward by the Prohibitionists are false. They will consequently vote down the proposition which has nothing more to recommend it than any other freak experiment with something that has failed elsewhere.

Every citizen who believes in the competence of Hawaii to manage its own affairs should be on hand at the polls Tuesday next to cast his ballot against Prohibition. Let every County make the same answer. Let the vote demonstrate that we of Hawaii have confidence in our own abilities, and our own home made laws.

Thus will we command the respect of Congress and of all Americans. Thus will we put a quietus on the secret missions to Washington for the purpose of working off experiments on the people of Hawaii—in order that Woolley may draw his salary.

RYAN'S RECEPTION

In the few weeks that the Casino Musical Comedy Company has been playing at the New Orpheum it has gained the reputation of giving something better with each change—every production is better than the last. So that "Ryan's Reception," which will be the offering at the popular Hotel street playhouse tomorrow night, promises full of bright, catchy musical numbers, dainty dancing and singing chorus girls, to say nothing of the fund of fun that Producer Elvir has in his train and the excellent cast of principals. "Ryan's Reception" is said to be a corker. It has a plot that does not wear out so long as the songs are new, the jokes palatable and the girls pretty and well-gowned—all of which is promised tomorrow night in "Ryan's Reception." All of the principals will introduce new and novel numbers.

Some men are like eggs—too full of themselves for anything else.

California Oil Investments

As shown by the official statement of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, over $1,400,000 were paid by the listed oil companies for June. Some remarkable records have been made by some of the oil companies promoted by U-I-Illinois Crude, for instance. This company has paid $9400 an acre in dividends already and is producing now about 50% more oil than it did a couple of years ago.

Through our long experience in California oil we are able to select only good companies for our hundreds of clients. We may mention Premier, Sexton Six, Palmer, Yellowstone, Cresceus, etc., which are all heavy producers. Amongst the low-price stocks WE RECOMMEND THE IMMEDIATE PURCHASE OF SHARES OF THE "VENTURA OIL DEVELOPMENT CO.", which, according to present indications, will become our banner company.

The shares are offered now AT 15 CENTS EACH, but the price will be ADVANCED ON JULY 22. Make therefore your investment now, and reap the benefit of the advance in price. We have sold a great many shares, and we want you to join us in the road to success.

In my opinion, conditions would be far worse under the operation of a prohibition law than under the licensing system. If the people do not want saloons they can wipe them out under the present law.

While I was a Deputy Sheriff on Kauai during a period of absolute prohibition there were more arrests for drunkenness than there have been under the operation of the existing statute. The Hawaiians would club together and send for a keg of wine, and when they started in to drink they would not be content until they had finished the supply. It would be the same now under a prohibition law.

The importation of liquor cannot be stopped, and the enactment of a prohibition law would practically amount to class legislation.

Kauai is satisfied with the present law, and I believe the voters will support it.

SUGAR CANE IN LIBERIA

Crude Methods Employed Give Small Yield — Prospects Good Under Proper Cultivation and Capital.

The following information concerning the possibilities of the sugar industry of Liberia is furnished by Charge d'Affaires George W. Ellis, of Monrovia:

Liberia is well adapted to sugar cane, which flourishes along the St. Paul, Cavalla, and other rivers. On the Cavalla my attention was called to cane 20 to 30 feet in length, which, as it grew, became so heavy that the stalk was bent over until it touched the ground in two or three places, and taking root wherever it touched the surface continued its mammoth growth. In the early history of the Liberian Republic much sugar was manufactured, and during the civil war large quantities of brown sugar were shipped to the United States. Along the banks of Liberian rivers are thousands of acres of land that could be profitably utilized for the culture of sugar cane.

For forest land, the undergrowth is cut in January and the large trees felled about February 1. After two or three weeks the dried vegetation is pulled up and the debris burnt off. The land is dug up with hoes in rows about 6 feet apart. As a rule, in planting cane tops are utilized, being stripped and laid in the rows lengthwise, touching each other and exposing the joints upward. In three months the cane attains a height of 3 or 4 feet. The stalks are killed with hoes, and nothing is done afterwards except to keep down the grass between the rows with cutlasses. On nine or ten months the cane is ready for cutting, which is done with cutlasses, and the tops, with three or four joints, are preserved for replanting. The same planting will give a good crop for at least three years before it begins to deteriorate, and while the average crop grows only 6 to 8 feet high, in some localities it is allowed to reach astonishing lengths and sizes.

ROAD IS BAD, BUT THERE IS NO MONEY

Chairman Quinn and other members of the city and county road board are willing to admit that the condition of Ninth avenue, Kaimuki, is such that the thoroughfare should receive attention from the repair gang. But there is a big deficit in the city road coffers and therefore nothing can be done until more money is at hand for carrying on such improvements.

There is a proposition in New York to make the Governor's salary as large as that of a big league president—Toledo Blade.

Go ye therefore into the land of Kaimuki, and say thou unto Mr. Pessimist that I shall buy a lot and profit thereby, and upon that lot shall I build a house, and in that house shall I dwell, high above the sea, and enjoy the Koko Head breeze forever more.

OLD BURGLARY BEING TRACED

Sheriff Pua, Of Hilo, Looking Up The Matter

HILO, Hawaii, July 15. — Sheriff Pua returned this week from Kau where he went to investigate the matter of an interesting and mysterious burglary which occurred in Thomas C. Wills branch store at Kealwa. The burglary took place as far back as June 16, but amateur detectives took the matter in hand for some time before reporting to headquarters, and the Sheriff was not notified of the affair until some time after it had occurred. As a consequence he was much hampered in his efforts to solve the mystery.

According to the facts obtained by the Sheriff, the burglary took place some time during the evening of June 16. The store building is divided into two rooms, one of them the store itself, and the other the living room of the Japanese who runs the store. The two rooms are separated by a partition without a door. Both rooms have doors facing the veranda. On the night in question the Japanese storekeeper and his wife were entertaining a fellow countryman in their room. The door to the laund was open. The door from the store was closed, but had not been locked. At some time between 10 and 12 p. m. the storekeeper locked this door, but did not notice anything unusual. It was only the following morning that he discovered that the cash drawer of his desk had been left pulled out, and on investigation he found that cash amounting to $650 and some drafts had been taken therefrom. He believed that some one had entered the store during the time when he was entertaining his friend, although neither he, his wife nor the friend had heard anyone do so.

The storekeeper notified neighbors of his loss, and the amateur sleuths immediately went on the hunt. They found in an adjoining cane field two cigar boxes which had contained the money, as well as all the drafts, the latter have been thrown away by the thieves. A coin sack, in which had been some of the money, was found appended like a flag from a cane stalk. Of the money which was taken the larger part was the property of the Japanese, only a comparatively small portion of the total belonging to the store.

PINKERTONS TO LOCATE GRACE

High Sheriff Henry Is Hot On Trail Of Negro

No sign of Anderson Grace having been discovered by the local police and High Sheriff Henry being determined to get the man if possible, a description of the much-wanted negro has been sent all over the world. Pinkerton's famous body of detectives has taken up the matter, and as Grace once described can never be mistaken, the probabilities are that the great sleuths will drop across him somewhere—if he is out of Hawaii.

Since the day Grace walked off from the prison gang at Kapiolani Park some months ago, no word has been received of him although many false reports were turned into the police, and wild goose chases were made all over the country.

The cold-blooded murderer of watchman Mahu disappeared completely and there are people who think that Grace, who suffered badly from rheumatism, was crippled by a fall in the mountains, and that he died miserably from want of food and water.

Others think that the negro got clean away on some vessel leaving for the Coast or Japan, and that he is now safe in some distant land. However, High Sheriff Henry still has hopes of getting the murderer who was set to cut grass a week or so after his life sentence was received.

CLAUDINE TESTS NEW WHARF

(Special to Bulletin.)
WAILUKU, Maui, July 15. — The steamer Claudine went alongside the new wharf at Kahului last Tuesday afternoon, a sight which made the oldest residents almost dance with delight. It is the opening of a new era for Maui, for this is the first record in history of the coming alongside of a wharf of a steamer of the size of the Claudine in any of the Maui ports. Small island steamers used to land and take in freight alongside of the long pier at Kaunakakai, but the Claudine could never be accommodated there not for the next hundred years at least unless unexpected new industries are started in the Land of Hina. It was less than thirty years ago when a magnate of industry declared that a vessel a little longer than the Claudine could not enter Kahului harbor, and that declaration is now proven to be an illusion.

KANHO FIRES HOT SHOT

WAILUKU, Maui, July 15.—Hon. H. M. Kanho, Thos. Clark and Senator W. J. Coe'ho spoke at Lahaina last evening. The famous "cannon ball" of Kohala after firing a few of his bombshells among the entrenches of the prohibitionists, left for Honolulu last evening almost certain that not a single prohibitionist will survive the cannonading which lasted several hours. Senator Coe'ho and Mr. Clark both returned to town last night. Tomorrow afternoon they will hold forth at Waikapu.

On Sunday afternoon July 24th the Prohibitionists will hold a Rally and Parade in Wailuku for the promotion of Central Maui from Hamakua to Kahakuloa will participate in this big rally. The children will march along the streets singing prohibition songs.

FOUR THOUSAND WANTED, BUT IT'S NOT THERE

Four thousand good old iron dollars are wanted by the residents of Waianae district for the building of a road from Waianae towards Ewa. The county road board, over which Supervisor Quinn presides, has come to the front and center and told the people of that section that there is nothing doing in such heavy finances just now. However, the county is building a road out of Waianae in the direction of Lanikula, and it will be a matter of but a few months before this section of the highway is completed and ready for traffic.

CHINESE CONTRIBUTE TO ROAD REPAIRS

The offer of certain Chinese living along the Wahee-Kahaluu road, who agree to build a highway for something like $300, has proved acceptable to the members of the city and county Board of Supervisors, and the road board was instructed to go ahead and enter into the necessary agreement with the Chinese, provided that they build 2200 feet of road, two feet in width, covered with six inches of gravel. The money to cover the cost of this work will be taken from the appropriation for Koolau-poko road.

THE STORY OF GREAT NATIONS

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Take the story of the great nations, as showing the emptiness of the prohibition argument. Though they have risen and they have fallen, drink has never played a role in their fall. Greece was a religious country; was it ever said that it was drink that brought Athens to the dust? Today, Hawaii is a religious country! Need we ever fear that drink will make this growing country a shame to the world?

Take Rome, the pride of the world at one time. Her empire has melted away. Philosophers have tried to account for the fall of the Roman empire and have said it was slavery, irreligion and poverty, but no one of them has thought to suggest that it was drink that brought about the conditions that caused Rome's downfall.

No country has had such a checkered career as France. The magnificent city of Paris was deluged in blood during the fearful Commune misery, but it was not brought about by drink.

No nation has been crazed by drink as were the nations of France and Spain crazed by religion. The liquor question has had nothing to do with the fall of nations nor the disruption of communities.

Non-drinking nations are as prominent in history for black horror and misery as other nations whose people have been drinkers, and the nations whose people have been drinkers were never brought to the dust through drink, as above shown. For thirteen hundred years the Mohammedan countries have practiced prohibition, but the grass grows in the maris of Constantinople where dogs share the thoroughfares with the citizens.

Prohibition has not made the Mohammedans less lazy, less brutal, less stupid.

When the Romans first invaded the Teutons they found the Teutons were great drinkers, and yet the Romans were compelled to admit that the Teutons were virtuous people. Their domestic purity was remarkable and the chastity of the women was above reproach. Although the Germans, today, are a drinking people, yet in science and culture and in art they stand shoulder to shoulder with other great nations of the world.

Alas, that prohibition should put such nonsense in the mouths of cranks as to make them cry out against all men drinking because they, themselves, cannot stand a glass of beer.

HAWAII IN LATE FORTIES
Thurston Tells Tale To Reporter In Washington
 From Washington, D. C., Herald comes a story of early days in Hawaii and threatened occupancy of the Islands by Great Britain, told by one John G. Thurston of Honolulu to a Herald reporter.
 This is the tale:
 John G. Thurston of Honolulu, an exporter and planter, who was seen at the Raleigh last night, in speaking of the history of Hawaii, said that in the early '40's of the last century, when King Kamehameha III was upon the throne of Hawaii, the British consul, Richard Charlton, and Lord George Paulet, captain of the British frigate Carysfort, conspired to take advantage of the internal tribulations of the little kingdom to turn it over to the British government. Thereupon Lord George made certain demands upon the old King which he knew could never be complied with, but he was backed by his powerful frigate, and the King had nothing to do but to yield to the demands or abdicate his powers temporarily. He chose the latter course, retiring to the neighboring island of Maui. The way now seemed clear to British occupancy. The Union Jack was run up and all Hawaiian flags were destroyed, and it only remained to acquaint the outside world with the enforced revolution and obtain recognition for the new government.
 "A vessel had been chartered by an American firm, but had not yet started on her voyage," said Mr. Thurston. "As Lord Paulet was very anxious to secure her, he offered to send an American agent to England if the owners would give up the charter. The Americans were only too eager to accept this offer, for they had been trying to devise a plan for getting one of their own number to London and Washington. In the meantime, the Americans were not lazy. By the dim light of a candle in the royal tombs one dark night, using the King's coffin for a table, a remarkable document was drawn up, giving a young American clerk named Marshall full credentials as Ambassador to the United States and England. The self-exiled King was secretly brought from his island of banishment, and at midnight, on the shores of his own loved island, Oahu, he signed Marshall's credentials and then departed again for Maui. The plan was entirely successful. Marshall acquitted himself creditably, for his statements at Washington and London prevented Lord George from obtaining the recognition he desired. The result was that Kamehameha was reinstated, the Hawaiian flag again took the place of the Union Jack, and both Great Britain and France bound themselves by a mutual declaration never to take possession of those Islands."

PROPRIETARY MEDICINES PRESCRIBED BY DOCTORS
 Examination of the formulary departments of leading drug stores throughout the country has proved that a very large percentage of the prescriptions filled for doctors are for proprietary medicines.
 This is because the average doctor of today is unable to devise prescriptions equally as efficacious.
 Such standard remedies as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound are prescribed over and over again by fair-minded physicians throughout the country.
MALAY RUBBER.
 The following is the Malay rubber market as given by the Weekly Consular and Trade Report:
 The export of rubber for last year was 1077 tons from Singapore, 959 tons from Penang, and 1322 tons from Port Swettenham. The direct trade at the latter is growing rapidly. Of the estimated future export of rubber from Malaysia—10,000 tons in 1910, 20,000 tons in 1911, 20,000 tons in 1912, and 45,000 tons in 1913—about 40 per cent. will go from Port Swettenham.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The much-talked-of report that in the Territory of Hawaii Russian peasant laborers imported by the Sugar Planters' Association were being held in peonage was exploded today, when M. Kerberge, Russian agent for the Councillor of State, filed his official report to the Federal authorities.

Kerberge investigated conditions in Hawaii after the labor union had called upon Congress and President Taft to enforce the laws against persons alleged to have been guilty of holding the Russians in peonage.

He said also that the Russians in Hawaii did not want to return to their own country, but planned to get money to carry them on to California and to Canada.

The charges were first brought to the attention of the country by reports sent from Hawaii by agitators. Later the matter was taken up by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

BALLINGER INVESTIGATORS

Some Warm Terms Used by Both Sides While Getting Down to Business.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Three thousand pages bristling with imputation, briefs were submitted today by attorneys who appeared before the special Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee. The record discloses Ballinger as hostile to the people and shows his cooperation with special interests and with violation of the law declared the brief submitted by Attorney Brandeis representing Glavis.

"I trust this committee will report that the public domain is in unsafe hands," says the brief of Attorney Hooper representing Pinchot. The prosecution is cruel and baseless. It is no fair thing to assail the character of a member of the cabinet. Here there are absolutely no grounds for the attack," declared Attorney Verrees, representing Ballinger.

The three briefs, all of which were voluminous totaling nearly a thousand typewritten pages. The briefs review the case largely on the same lines as the "arguments" of the various attorneys made before the committee some days ago. They added a number of points however that had not been incorporated in the original address.

Brandeis asked that L. R. Glavis, whose charges that the Cunningham claims were going to patent illegally, be rewarded as a patriot.

Verrees referred to Glavis calling him a "traitor" and a "snake."

Pepper, defending his client, Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester, discharged for his stand in the Ballinger-Glavis squabble refers to him as a "zealous advocate of good government."

Verrees calls him the "arch-conspirator, seeking to destroy the good name of a cabinet officer."

Brandeis referring to the Glavis charges declared: "The records prove the facts as stated. These are not the same records which the president saw. In this proceeding, Attorney General Wickersham appears no longer as an assistant judge but as an overzealous advocate. Oscar Lawler is no longer a judge but stands in his true light a prejudiced witness, bitter and vituperative."

"In those controversies Glavis, Pinchot, Jones, Kerby have been dismissed; Hoyt has resigned. Newell and Davis hold a slight tenure of office and may be dismissed before the committee reports. The committee will determine whether they are snakes to be killed, traitors to be shamed. If any of them told the truth the secretary of the interior would be dishonored and declared unfit for office."

Verrees called stenographer Frederick M. Kerby, a "traitor" a "creature" who made a treasonable publication.

Pepper calls the conspiracy charge "trivial" and says: "No one contends that it is unlawful to regard Ballinger as unfit for office. It is not only permissible to hold this view, but those entertaining it may say so publicly."

Verrees, asking for a non-partisan verdict says:

"The republic is on trial before the world."

Verrees declares that James R. Garfield and Gifford Pinchot tried to destroy Ballinger, "because he thwarted their hopes and in revenge for not being able to dictate conservation policies."

"It is a tribute to the manhood of the interior department," he continued "that nothing was revealed reflecting upon the loyalty, integrity, good faith and sense of duty of any man there."

SECY. MEYER AND ARMOR PLATE

Secretary of Navy Had Called Attention to Plates Before They Were Put on Ships.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer, who returned here today from his summer home at Hamilton, Mass., has taken up the question of the defective armor of the Utah and North Dakota.

It is said here today that the Secretary himself when he inspected the North Dakota pointed out to some of the officials present certain "bubbles" in one or two pieces of armor. This appears to be the same thing as the "spots" or "blisters."

The early discovery of seeming defects in the armor of the North Dakota made it possible to have it inspected thoroughly and as thoroughly as possible, with the result that only one piece of plate escaped detection and that was promptly remedied, although after it had been attached to the ship's side.

Officials here say that it will not do to have justifiable reports spread abroad that armor plate with either existing or potential defects can actually be placed upon American war vessels.

One official today hinted that the oldtime inspection was perhaps as good as the present method of inspection. The modern battleship, however, requires enormous quantities of armor plate which makes it more difficult to inspect thoroughly than in former days.

The question of an absolutely safe inspection is nevertheless now up to the department by reason of the recent revelations. Secretary Meyer has taken hold of the question and will endeavor to find a satisfactory method.

NEW COMPANY FORMED

Yesterday afternoon incorporation papers of Puehueu Agricultural Company, Ltd., were filed with a capital of $20,000, all subscribed and ten per cent paid in.

Officers and incorporators of the company are: President, H. H. Ren-ton; vice-president, T. Clive Davies; treasurer, E. H. Wodehouse; secretary, W. H. Baird; H. McK. Harrison is one of the incorporators but not an officer, and W. H. Mist is auditor of the company.

HEEIAKAI BEACH MUST WAIT.

There will be nothing done in the building of a new road on the other side of Heeialakai beach and continuing in the direction of Ahulumanu.

This matter was brought to the attention of the Board of Supervisors through a communication from Mr. Macfarlane, the pineapple grower and canner. He complained that the county engineering staff was conducting a survey through the company property without first having secured the required permission.

The road board announced last night that the proposition for constructing a new road would be dropped and not likely be taken up again during the life of the present board.

WILL COMMENCE WORK IN AUGUST

The city and county road committee are kindly disposed towards the residents of Halopoha lane, off Liliha street, who have sent in a petition asking for a better highway. After going over the situation, the road board has decided to start work on the improvement with the first of the coming month.

POSTAL BANK BILL IS GOOD

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—After voting down several amendments the Senate today decided, 44 to 25, to concur in the House amendments to the postal savings bank bill and thus took the last legislative step necessary to the establishment of a postal savings bank in the United States. The measure was included in the Administration's schedule, and its passage marks another triumph for President Taft.

In accordance with the program agreed on yesterday, the voting began at 5 o'clock and the bill was passed fifteen minutes later. Most of the insurgent Republicans joined the regulars in supporting the measure in the final vote, but Senators Bristow, Cummins and La Follette refused to yield and cast their ballots with the Democrats. Senator Chamberlain cast the only Democratic vote for the bill.

Before the vote there was much discussion of the bill. The first speaker was Senator Bristow of Kansas, who said he would rather stay in Washington a month longer than accept it. He asserted a majority of the votes for the House bill would be cast by Senators who wanted no postal savings legislation. Concluding, he said: "The bill creates a pipe line to the speculative centers for the money from all over the country."

Simmons denounced the bill as "an abject and humiliating surrender to the banks," and predicted that before the end of the next campaign the bill would be the most unpopular ever passed by the Republican party. "Not excepting the spurned, rejected and trampled-upon Payne-Aldrich tariff law."

Declaring that the House had rejected every feature for which the Senate had made special endeavor, Hughes read articles from newspapers, declaring that the President had threatened to veto the rivers and harbors and public buildings bills if the House postal savings bank bill should fall of acceptance by the Senate. He demanded to know whether the contents of the pork barrel should be more potent in influencing Senators than the requirements of the Constitution.

Carter defended the bill. Meeting the contention that the bill was an entirely new measure, he declared that its provisions were along the lines marked out by many bills presented since the beginning of the agitation for postal savings banks. He said that although the bill differed somewhat from the Senate bill, it was the result of a compromise, but it was still an expression of the "dead level" sentiment of all.

The postal bank bill, as it goes to the President, provides for the designation of postoffices as postal savings depository offices. The opening of such depositories is left to the discretion of a board of three trustees, consisting of the Postmaster-General, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney-General. This board is given complete control of the depositories and of their funds. As it will require considerable time for the board to prepare its regulations, it is impossible at this time to predict when the postal banking system will be in operation.

In these depositories any person over 10 years of age may make deposits of funds amounting to $1 or multiples of that amount. Pass books will be issued to depositors

SCIENTIST MAKES GOOD RUBBER

Special Agent Henry Studnicka writes from Birmingham, Eng., concerning the production of artificial rubber and its effect on the rubber industry and trade, should all that is claimed for it prove true:

There is quite a stir among the directors of leading rubber importing and manufacturing firms here regarding the reported invention of artificial rubber by a German professor at Kiel, and they seem to be very optimistic, as the inventor enjoys an unquestioned reputation as an authority on all matters pertaining to rubber. The invention is based on the boiling together, under certain conditions, of isopren with acetic acid, in a closed tube, the result being the creation of a gray composite possessing all the properties of pure rubber and capable of being vulcanized in the same manner as gutta-percha. At present this artificial rubber has been produced only in small quantities, but it is the inventor's opinion that when his method has been fully developed it will permit of the placing on the market of an article at one-third the cost of real rubber.

Practical experiments in this branch of chemistry have advanced so rapidly that there can be no doubt that within a few years an artificial substance will be produced which will bring down the inflated price of rubber.

The great shortage of the world's rubber supply and the steadily growing consumption of esouichouc, especially in the making of airships, accounts to a great extent for the boom in rubber, and should this inventor, who has patented his method, be able to create a commercial substance, the effect will be sensational.

The other experts of Germany are jubilant over this invention. They are pointing to the fact that the realization of the plans of the Kiel professor would signify a greater demand for rubber articles, and therefore a greater industrial activity in this commodity would be the result. At present, owing to the exorbitant prices of rubber, the industry is suffering tremendously.

ADVOCATES USE OF AEROPLANE FOR MAIL CARRIERS.

Washington, June 26.—Representative M. Sheppard of Texas, who had a bill that he wanted Congress to pass before it adjourned. The bill gives the postmaster general right to use aeroplanes in carrying mail throughout the country. Representative Sheppard was anxious that Congress give postmaster general a sum of money to purchase aeroplanes, secure men to operate them and carry on a general school of education for mail carriers. His idea is to use the aeroplanes for first class mail matter, and he insists that the public will demand quicker transportation of mail in a short time and that the postoffice department should have men trained to operate air machines to meet the demand.

BOYCOTT DECLARED ON WINSTON CHURCHILL

LONDON, June 25.—There is a determined effort on foot to boycott Winston Churchill socially by his leading political opponents and by some of those on his own side of the House. Mr. Balfour is notoriously fond of Mr. Asquith in private as well as Mr. Haldane and Sir Edward Grey, but his dislike for Winston Churchill is so profound that he does not make the slightest attempt at concealing it.

Mr. Balfour's feelings are seemingly shared by the larger part of London society and this has spread to the lower ranks. Neighbors of Mr. Churchill declare that taxicab drivers are always mysteriously engaged when his servants whistle for a cab, while they themselves find no difficulty in securing taxis.

It is further stated that Mr. Lloyd-George, despite his avowed democratic ideas which displease the Tories so greatly, is liable to fall under the suspicion of the Laborites and Socialists on account of his developing the habit of accepting invitations to dine with members of the nobility at fashionable restaurants.

NOTHING more will be done in regard to building additions to the Moana Hotel until the result of this prohibition agitation is decided. Prohibition is a mistake for this country and will hurt our prosperity. The present liquor law is a good one, and is entitled to the support of the people. Let them have higher license if they want it. In my opinion, prohibition is wrong. Tourists do not want to be tied down by any such piece of legislation as a prohibition law. They won't come and that is all there is to it.
