DEDICATION.

For the Sick, Halt and Maimed.

Noble Words Spoken at the Dedication of the Wai Wa Yee Yuen at Palama.

At the dedicatory ceremonies of the Chinese Hospital yesterday afternoon, Rev. Frank W. Damon, Superintendent of Chinese Missions, spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I have been asked to say a few words this afternoon, on an occasion which marks another point of attainment in the progressive and upward life of our cosmopolitan community. To this request I most willingly respond in view of the worthy cause which has called us together and the noble possibilities of aid and benefit to the sick and suffering, which are here suggested. Our city is highly favored, in the opportunities which are offered, from time to time, of witnessing gatherings where representatives of different nationalities meet, in harmonious union, to place with prayer and praise some new milestone on the great highway of human development. Perhaps nowhere in the wide world is this more the case than here in this beautiful mid-ocean capital. A traveler, who had watched from our harbor the play of rainbows, which at times makes of Nuuanu Valley a veritable wonder-world of prismatic beauty, once remarked to his host:

"Your land would seem to be under a peculiar covenant."

In many ways is this figurative illustration realized in our civic life and with striking emphasis on such an occasion as this.

It is a privilege to be allowed to express on behalf of our Chinese friends the cordial welcome which this afternoon they extend to all of different nationalities who have here gathered. I am sure, also, that I am voicing the feelings of all their guests in saying that it gives us unalloyed pleasure and satisfaction to witness this splendid expression of their desire to assist the afflicted among their countrymen and trust that their highest expectations will be fully realized.

While this hospital is not in the technical sense a missionary institution, and is under the control of no religious body or denomination, still, I most truly believe that the buildings in which we here meet to dedicate to the high and sacred service of suffering humanity are an expression, in tangible form, of the great onward movement in the life of the race, which receives its supreme impulse from the Divine Founder of Christianity, as formulated in the "Golden Rule." While we should not ignore the fact that under different systems of belief and in many lands, efforts have been made to lighten the burdens which poverty and disease have laid upon the unfortunate; still, it is indisputable that Christianity is pre-eminently the religion of philanthropy and while ministering to the soul, proclaims the necessity of healing the body as well. It is, hence, most fitting to-day that the Divine blessing should be invoked upon this important and beneficent undertaking and it is significant that our Chinese friends have recognized the value and propriety of this fact. While I would emphasize above all the utterances of all earthly sages the utterances of the Great Healer, it may not here be out of place to refer to the many and inspiring maxims which the leader of Chinese thought Confucius, has left as a legacy to his countrymen of succeeding generations. Here is one, which might not unfittingly be carved over the entrance portal of this building. In the "Confucian Analects" it is stated that Fan Ch'e asked about benevolence. The master said: "It is to love all men." May this spirit ever dwell within these walls!

The results of our Christian civilization, as represented in the different charitable institutions of our city, and of these islands furnish valuable "object-teaching" for the different races which have come to us from oriental lands, and this hospital has undoubtedly largely received its inspiration from the helpful forces which have so long been here at work. A Christian and human environment helps greatly in stimulating to higher and better things. I cannot but feel, also, that the magnificent achievements of the medical missionary work in China during the past sixty or seventy years have aided also in the mitigation of this undertaking. One of the Chinese physicians, who has been engaged to assist in the work of the hospital, is a graduate, with satisfactory diplomas, from the medical training school connected with the great Missionary Hospital of Canton, of which Dr. Kee, that nestor of medical missionaries in China, is the head, one of the noblest names inscribed upon the medical records of the world. It is a most interesting fact that this young Chinese gentleman, with his wife, also a graduate of the same school, recently passed a successful examination before the physicians, appointed by our Board of Health to conduct the same, receiving their cordial and appreciative commendation. The rule of the medical missionary has been of untold value in China. The famous pioneer in this department of effort was the Rev. Peter Parker, M. D., who arrived at Canton in 1834. Of him it has been said: "He opened China to the Gospel at the point of the lancet." The hospital at Canton has, during its history, treated hundreds of thousands of patients, and from it have flowed streams of blessing, which cannot be overestimated. Scores of other hospitals have now arisen, and a noble band of male and female practitioners have come, "in the name of the Master," to minister to the needs of "China's millions." The number of such divinely ordained helpers of humanity is constantly increasing. Schools of medical training are multiplying, and carefully trained physicians are being raised up from the Chinese themselves. The influence of this fine enthusiasm and consecrated skill is reaching in numberless directions, and the Chinese, outside of missionary circles, are beginning to share in this noble work. One of the notable converts to the value of Western medical science is the venerable and distinguished Viceroy Li Hung Chang, whose name is so widely known. May this glorious emulation increase till, throughout that vast and mighty empire, at the bedside of every sufferer, shall be found a sympathetic and skilled ministrant.

To return to our immediate surroundings: As those who have been principally interested in this hospital are not very likely to refer to their own share in this undertaking, I cannot omit to call attention to the faithful labors of the different gentlemen who have so unwearily labored in its behalf. While all are entitled to receive the warmest thanks of the community and their

NO ENTHUSIASM

A few members of the Hawaiian Jockey Club responded to the call of the President, and met last evening at the Pacific Club.

As a result of the meeting it cannot be ascertained yet whether we are to have any races on the 11th of June.

The secretary wants to know who has got horses, and what kind of races will suit the owners of racing stock. The most prominent racing men kept away from the meeting and it was plainly demonstrated that the men who started the Jockey Club have outlived their usefulness and lost interest in keeping up an institution which has proven beneficial to all raisers of fine stock and to the country.

If the old Jockey Club is "tired" and wishes to retire and disband let it be known. Another club may be formed which probably will be composed of men, not belonging perhaps to the dancing "exclusive" society of the present Jockey Club, but knowing more about horses and races than any one of the "exclusives" who now try to smother horse racing in Honolulu. Although the meeting of the Jockey Club of old was not enthusiastic, it is to be hoped that there are enough sports in the islands owing good horses, to secure a success of the old national racing day, the 11th of June, even if the races have to take place on the Kamollili road.

BET SUGAR VS. RECIPROCITY.

The "Pacific Rural Press," for February 6th, has a very interesting paper on beet culture and sugar manufacture in California. The success of the beet sugar industry in California and some thirteen other States of the United States which have the requisite soil and climate to produce beets of the required saccharine strength and purity, is a menace to the sugar industry in Hawaii, as the American sugar producer will, naturally, oppose both the commercial and political features of the treaty of reciprocity now existing between the two countries. The figures given will be of interest to the sugar producers of Hawaii for other reasons than those already alluded to.

The tonnage of beets per acre is between 12 and 22 tons, say an average of 17 tons. The average per cent of saccharine matter is about 18.21 and its average purity 83.68.

Figures given by one factory, understood to be Watsonville, California, were as follows: 77,000 tons of beets yielded 11,000 tons of sugar, that is, 7 tons of beet made a ton of sugar. The outlay for this result was $200,000 or $18 per ton for manufacture. Add to cost of manufacture the cost of the beets, at $4 per ton, for seven tons, and for errors and omissions say $1.50, and we have a total cost of a ton of sugar $47.50. The price obtained for the sugar was $67.50, from which take cost of production $47.50 and we have a remainder of $20 net for 11,000 tons sugar, or $220,000 for the season. The investment being $1,000,000 the net profit is 22 percent on the capital. Two factories in Germany in statements for 1895, showing dividends of 30 percent and 18 percent respectively.

Mr. E. C. Burr, manager of the Alvarado Sugar Factory, well-known to several of our sugar people, in a communication to the newspaper containing the article under consideration, says: " * * * but the industry has all its cloudy seasons, and a factory that one year makes 25 percent can the next year make a loss. * * * This blessed climate of California is fickle, and although we may have pleasant dry weather up to November, we all know that there have been heavy rains in September. Take for instance a leaf from my note book for 1894: Average percent sugar in beets for September, 13.6; for October, 12.8; November, 10.8; for December, 10.5. While for 1893 for the same months it was respectively 13.4, 14.4, 14.7, 14.9 percent. In 1893 we had light showers, but in 1894 we had on September 28th 1 1/2 inches of rain, followed two weeks later by another storm of 2 inches. * * * Hence, although a factory may in one year pay 25 or 50 percent on its capital, it is not to be depended on. * * * What then, does stand in the way of further development of the industry? Nothing, except a lack of rational protection on the part of the Government. * * * A protective duty of 1 1/2 cents a pound, as is at present talked of, is in reality no protection to the industry in California, owing to the free entry of Hawaiian sugar. As long as the Reciprocity Treaty with Hawaii exists, there can be no protection in a specific or other duty. This treaty should be modified as to sugar, or, if the treaty must be maintained for political reasons, then a bounty should be paid the domestic producer. Of this I am confident. That the beet sugar industry is permanently established in this country, although it may be some little time before our law-makers give the support it merits."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

THE INDEPENDENT sincerely congratulates the Chinese upon the fruition of their labors in possessing a hospital for their own people. It devotes more of its space than usual to such matters for its feels sure that its subscribers will wish to read the beneficial words spoken yesterday.

Why do our dearly beloved missionary sugar factors look down in the mouth? Is it possible that they know the Sugar Trust has got the best of them, and that from the 1st of May, 1897, their sugar must go to New York or to London? The Spreckels sugar will go to San Francisco all right. Would it not be nice to be a Spreckels man, brother Popcornier!

The Zealandia sails at 8 o'clock this evening.

A New Deal.

There has recently been trouble in the Hilo Custom House. Experts from the Financial Department have been sent to Hilo to investigate matters.

As a result the Collector-General has dispensed with the services of the Collector of the Hilo port, Mr. Arthur Richardson and Mr. G. A. Turner, a statistical clerk in the Custom House has been appointed to succeed Mr. Richardson.

Mr. Turner left this morning by the Kinau for Hilo and will immediately assume his new duties there.

Mr. Arthur Johnstone will at present retain his position as Port Surveyor of Hilo.

R. C. Burt, a prominent newspaper man from Sydney, is now a passing resident of Honolulu. It is believed that he remains here principally for pleasure and casually for information.

WELL DONE.

The Chinese Dedicate Their Hospital.

A Fine Building In a Beautiful Spot Built by Themselves - Volunteers to the Maintenance Funds Will be Welcome.

Yesterday was a memorable one for our Chinese residents and incidentally for Honolulu, for it marked an event of great interest in the dedication of the Wai Wa Yee Yuen, or Chinese Hospital, at Palama, in the rear of the Reformatory School.

In spite of the unpleasant rainfall there was a very large attendance, the major part being naturally all the prominent Chinese merchants, their friends and the school-children of that race. Among the prominent persons present were the Chief Justice and Mrs. Judd, Hon. Cecil Brown and Henry Waterhouse, Consul Schaefer, Messrs. H. Lose, W. H. Paine, J. S. Walker, W. W. Hall, Lansing, Bond, J. Mahiai Kaneakua and Burgess; Rev. Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Hyde, Rev. Dr. Sereno E. Bishop, Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Gulick, Rev. and Mrs. Hiram Bingham, Rev. and Mrs. Frank W. Damon, Rev. Mr. Leadingham, Rev. Mr. Lewis and Mrs. Slogget, Burgess and wife, Li and Mrs. Dr. Li, and others.

The hospital itself and its surrounding cottages, and buildings are very prettily designed and conveniently arranged, and form a model well worth the inspection and following as an example. Located in ample grounds they are free to the breezes from whichever quarter they may blow, and command extensive and beautiful views on all sides seaward and landward.

In the grant of the land the Hawaiian Government exercised a wise discretion for it would have been difficult to have selected a more fitting location, and in the erection of their buildings free from debt the Chinese have nobly proved their appreciation of the gift.

One of the great surprises to all who were fortunately present, was the excellent singing of the Chinese choir of men women and boys whose voices bleuded in thorough harmony and with pleasing absence of harsh or discordant sounds, and the excellent pronunciation and delivery of English by Chinese speakers.

The reception room was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and flowers and the Government band played in their very best manner on the Lanai. Mr. Frank Damon was the life of the affair as a genial and experienced volunteer-master of ceremonies and insisted upon all partaking of the excellent delicacies prepared by the hosts.

As the principal speeches are given on our outside pages the ceremonies may be briefly detailed here. The Doxology having been played by the band, Mr. Goo Kim introduced Rev. Mr. Lin who offered a prayer in Chinese. This was followed by a hymn by the choir and two selections from the Holy Scriptures.

Mr. Frank Damon then delivered his able address which was warmly received, but out of courtesy to the hosts, the warmest applause was reserved for the Chinese orators.

Mr. Wong Wa Foy, chairman of the Building Committee, presented the keys of the hospital to Mr. Goo Kim, as President of the United Chinese Society, and Mr. Goo Kim and Mr. Wong Kwai having returned thanks for Mr. Wong Wa Foy's excellent work, made a brief speech in Chinese, and then called upon L. T. Shin to read his address in English which was excellently delivered by the rising young orator.

After addresses had been made by Hee Chick Sia and Wong Kwai, Mr.

Goo Kim presented the keys to Mr. Chu Gem, the President of the Chinese Hospital Society who returned thanks. "Coronation" hymn was then sung and Rev. Dr. Hyde pronounced a truly christian and fraternally charitable benediction prayer. The gathering well pleased, at having assisted on the memorable occasion partook of light refreshment and watched the long tail of firecrackers explode, and explored the buildings much gratified at all they saw.

Educational Matters.

President Cooper presided over yesterday's meeting of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Jordan, Prof. Alexander, W. A. Bowen and J. F. Scott were present.

Miss Edith Mist resigned from the department in view of a visit to England.

The method of teaching music at Pohukaina school is not to be changed for the present.

The selection of substitutes for the Night School was left to the principal until the Board can find suitable permanent teachers.

A letter of complaint against Mrs. Julia Kapu of Pahoehe, North Kona, was referred to the school agent.

No Fire.

The fire boys and their horses had a little exercise yesterday evening. A lamp was capsized on the premises of Mrs. Vida and an alarm was sent in.

The department responded immediately and the engines were seen tearing along King street to Mrs. Vida's residence.

The fire had been extinguished, however, before the arrival of the engines and the services of the department were not needed.

The quick response from the fire stations and the excellent condition of the men and horses reflect great credit on Chief Hunt.

Honolulu is well protected against the fire bug under the present system and personnel.

A feature of aluminum ware is the ease with which it is cleaned. No matter how dark it may get over the fire, a pinch of soda in the water in which the utensil is washed will clean it as bright as polished silver. The impression has gone forth that aluminum will not stand hard knocks. This is a mistake, because when it sustains such injuries as usually happen tin pans, etc., just push it back in place and it is as good as new.

Manufacturers have so added to the list of articles that there are few things used in the kitchen that are not made of it. We have a large stock of this ware, and a large assortment, a partial list of which is here given.

Saucepans, Fry Pans, Preserving Kettles, Tea Kettles, Coffee Pots, Tea Pots, Tea Steepers, Gallon, Quart and Pint Measures; Collapsible Cups, Cocktail and Lemonade Shakers, Funnels, Dippers, Cake Pans, Lemonade Salvers, Muffin Tins, Corn Cake Pans, Bread Tins, Rice Boilers, Drip Pans, Cake Plates, Dish Pans, Perfection Cake Plates, Bread Mixers, Chafing Dishes, Lemon Squeezers and Lipped Saucepans.

countrymen, I feel sure that all will rejoice with me to-day in paying a well-deserved tribute of respect to our honored and esteemed fellow citizens, Mr. Goo Kim Fui and Mr. Wong Kwai, president and vice-president of the United Chinese Society respectively; Mr. Chu Gem and Mr. Wong Wa Foy, president and vice-president of the Hospital Association, and the other officers of these organizations, who have given themselves with such whole-hearted devotion to this work.

It is on such occasions as this when a common interest in the highest welfare of humanity unites us in sympathetic accord that we realize to some extent the glorious conception of a universal brotherhood. May the inspiring lesson of this afternoon's experience abide with us as a stimulus to labor for the more perfect realization of this ideal for the more complete attainment of this most desirable possibility.

Mr. Wong War Foy, Chairman of the Building Committee, said:

"Four months ago I was appointed to superintend the building of this hospital. I went to work at once, and now have the pleasure of seeing a successful close, with everything paid for. The sum of $4000, which the building cost, I consider very cheap. I have now the pleasure of handing over to you, Mr. President of the United Chinese Society, the keys of this hospital, feeling that my work is finished, and hoping that all things in connection with it may be entirely satisfactory to all those interested in the welfare of the institution. I now request, Mr. President and officers of the society that you will relieve me of all further responsibility."

Mr. L. T. Shin read the following address by Mr. Goo Kim Fui:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—
It is with sentiments of pride and pleasure that I am here to-day in the discharge of a duty in which we all take a deep interest; that of the formal opening of this building as a hospital for sick Chinese, to be known as the Wai Wa Yee Yuen, that is to say, A hospital devoted expressly for the benefit of the Chinese.

It is needless for me to remind you that the Chinese have been with you in this fair land for many years, and that at this date they form quite a large and influential part of your population of these islands of the Pacific.

You appreciate, I feel sure, the fact also that our mercantile class and those who are, and have been for some years, engaged in "developing the fertile and valuable resources of this fortune-favored country, have invariably been found honorable, honest and law-abiding residents in your midst. We have ever done our best to respect, maintain and support the Government by contributing largely to the revenues of the State; by accepting with sincerity the benefits offered by you to us in the education of our children; by learning to a great degree your language, laws, civilization, customs and manner of thought and action; by providing for our own poor and sick, and by never being selfish in such charitable matters as may have been properly brought to our notice. We have endeavored to be good citizens with good people in a good country.

For upwards of 20 years the care and treatment of our sick and maimed has received our serious attention. It has been a matter of grave anxiety, to us, as well as of great difficulty, and an expense that can only be appreciated by us who have disbursed the funds entrusted to us for so worthy and brotherly an object. We have had cause to be often grateful to many in this land who are not allied to us by the kinship of national birth, and especially to the Government of this country for their timely and kindly assistance in the past.

In this connection I now take the opportunity, on behalf of my associates and fellow-officers of the United Chinese Society, and in the name also of my fellow countrymen in the Hawaiian Islands, of expressing to the Hawaiian Government their gratitude and great indebtedness for the magnanimous and munificent gift of the land upon which this building now stands in its finished perfection. Without this substantial aid we might have been compelled to wait some years longer for our hospital.

We Chinese have tender and sympathetic memories, and we shall ever treasure in our families, and in our hearts, this kindly and considerate action of the Government of Hawaii. We shall remember it not in idle words alone, but in fruitful deeds and in faithful truth as our own guiding principles are implanted from our childhood in our hearts.

As I do not desire to detain you with details, I will therefore briefly say that this building has been erected by ourselves, and when the first suffering patient enters these doors it will be ready for his reception, and not only will all the expenses for its construction and furnishing have been paid, amounting to $4,000, but a small balance will remain on the right side to the credit of the Hospital Maintenance Fund.

The management will be under the control of trustees appointed by the United Chinese Society, who will use their best endeavors to give satisfaction to all friends and supporters of this much needed institution.

So far, we have raised this building from our society's funds and from contributions from our fellow countrymen in these islands. We have arranged for the past and present, and now we look to the future with hope and reliance. My associates and myself feel assured that in this country of kindly hearts, replete as it is with wealth, prosperity and true charity, the necessary aid to maintain this hospital for the benefit of our poor and needy sick will be forthcoming from all nationalities resident here without urgent solicitation on our part. We shall require some outside assistance to make it as beneficial as it should be.

We shall do our best, but there are few but ourselves can even faintly estimate the deep drafts made upon us for the support of our poor and sick, and in returning them to their own land in their decrepit old age. The love of family and kin lies deep in our hearts, and our hands must ever be generous, but we—as you are also taught in your Good Book—must not let the left hand know what the right hand does.

I, therefore, on behalf of the sick and suffering who will soon be within these walls, appeal to you and to all our friends to grant such aid to our Hospital Maintenance Fund in such form and amount as may suggest itself to your dispositions. A donation, an annual, semi-annual or quarterly subscription, will be gratefully received by Mr. Wong Kwai, myself, or our treasurer, and we shall always be pleased to have visitors call and inspect our hospital and take an interest in its afflicted and unfortunate inmates.

And now, dear friends, let me thank you, one and all, for your kind presence here to-day. Your friendly faces fill us with courage, hope and faith for the future of our first hospital for Chinese, which I now, on behalf of the United Chinese Society, declare to be from this moment open in the cause of suffering humanity, whose pains shall be alleviated and comforted by patient attention and loving assistance until health and strength shall gain the victory over death and disease.

In the silence of your hearts, join with me in wishing every blessing upon this building and its future inmates, and that those who conduct it and watch over the sick and infirm may be guided by wisdom, integrity and fidelity in their beneficent and important trust.

Mr. Chu Gem said:
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:
On behalf of the Chinese Hospital Society I bid you welcome. We are assembled here to-day to open the first Chinese Hospital in the Hawaiian Islands, something that has been long needed; and we, as a Society, take great pleasure in showing you the successful results of our labors, and at the same time we sincerely trust that its advantages and usefulness may become well and favorably known to the Chinese on these Islands.

We are deeply indebted to this Government and its Cabinet officers for their ready response in donating the land on which this building now stands and for this, as a people and society, we will be ever grateful.

On behalf of the society, I thank Mr. Goo Kim and Mr. Wong Kwai, Chinese Commercial Agents, for their efforts in our behalf. Also, all the members of the Hospital Committee for their efficient work, the results of which we now see in this handsome building. I thank the society for the honor they have conferred upon me by my selection as its president, and as such, it will be my endeavor to govern and advise for the society's best needs and as my abilities direct.

Trusting that the members of this society will prove faithful to their trust, and that this building will mark an era in our march onward and upward.

On behalf of the society I thank you for your presence and kind attention.

A VOICE FROM THE BLEACHERS.
Local interest in the cricket games as reflected from the "bleachers" is increasing. During Saturday's games the "bleachers" were particularly vociferous and kept the players under a running fire of good natured banter. One small boy brought down the crowd by advising the batsman to "go buy a case of Rainier Beer and get some life in you." The crowd applauded the remark, knowing that Rainier Beer is celebrated for its invigorating and strength-giving propensities.

DEDICATION.

For the Sick, Halt and Maimed.

Noble Words Spoken at the Dedication of the Wai Wa Yee Yuen at Palama.

At the dedicatory ceremonies of the Chinese Hospital Yesterday afternoon, Rev. Frank W. Damon, Superintendent of Chinese Missions, spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I have been asked to say a few words this afternoon, on an occasion which marks another point of attainment in the progressive and upward life of our cosmopolitan community. To this request I most willingly respond in view of the worthy cause which has called us together and the noble possibilities of aid and benefit to the sick and suffering, which are here suggested. Our city is highly favored, in the opportunities which are offered, from time to time, of witnessing gatherings where representatives of different nationalities meet, in harmonious union, to place with prayer and praise some new milestone on the great highway of human development. Perhaps nowhere in the wide world is this more the case than here in this beautiful mid-ocean capital. A traveler, who had watched from our harbor the play of rainbows, which at times makes of Nuuanu Valley a veritable wonder-world of prismatic beauty, once remarked to his host:

"Your land would seem to be under a peculiar covenant."

In many ways is this figurative illustration realized in our civic life and with striking emphasis on such an occasion as this.

It is a privilege to be allowed to express on behalf of our Chinese friends the cordial welcome which this afternoon they extend to all of different nationalities who have here gathered. I am sure, also, that I am voicing the feelings of all their guests in saying that it gives us unalloyed pleasure and satisfaction to witness this splendid expression of their desire to assist the afflicted among their countrymen and trust that their highest expectations will be fully realized.

While this hospital is not in the technical sense a missionary institution, and is under the control of no religious body or denomination, still, I most truly believe that the buildings in which we here meet to dedicate to the high and sacred service of suffering humanity are an expression, in tangible form, of the great onward movement in the life of the race, which receives its supreme impulse from the Divine Founder of Christianity, as formulated in the "Golden Rule." While we should not ignore the fact that under different systems of belief and in many lands, efforts have been made to lighten the burdens which poverty and disease have laid upon the unfortunate; still, it is indisputable that Christianity is pre-eminently the religion of philanthropy and while ministering to the soul, proclaims the necessity of healing the body as well. It is, hence, most fitting to-day that the Divine blessing should be invoked upon this important and beneficent undertaking and it is significant that our Chinese friends have recognized the value and propriety of this fact. While I would emphasize above all the utterances of all earthly sages the utterances of the Great Healer, it may not here be out of place to refer to the many and inspiring maxims which the leader of Chinese thought Confucius, has left as a legacy to his countrymen of succeeding generations. Here is one, which might not unfittingly be carved over the entrance portal of this building. In the "Confucian Analects" it is stated that Fan Ch'eh asked about benevolence. The master said: "It is to love all men." May this spirit ever dwell within these walls!

The results of our Christian civilization, as represented in the different charitable institutions of our city, and of these islands furnish valuable "object-teaching" for the different races which have come to us from oriental lands, and this hospital has undoubtedly largely received its inspiration from the helpful forces which have so long been here at work. A Christian and human environment helps greatly in stimulating to higher and better things. I cannot but feel, also, that the magnificent achievements of the medical missionary work in China during the past sixty or seventy years have aided also in the mitigation of this undertaking. One of the Chinese physicians, who has been engaged to assist in the work of the hospital, is a graduate, with satisfactory diplomas, from the medical training school connected with the great Missionary Hospital of Canton, of which Dr. Kee, that nestor of medical missionaries in China, is the head, one of the noblest names inscribed upon the medical records of the world. It is a most interesting fact that this young Chinese gentleman, with his wife, also a graduate of the same school, recently passed a successful examination before the physicians, appointed by our Board of Health to conduct the same, receiving their cordial and appreciative commendation. The rule of the medical missionary has been of untold value in China. The famous pioneer in this department of effort was the Rev. Peter Parker, M. D., who arrived at Canton in 1834. Of him it has been said: "He opened China to the Gospel at the point of the lancet." The hospital at Canton has, during its history, treated hundreds of thousands of patients, and from it have flowed streams of blessing, which cannot be overestimated. Scores of other hospitals have now arisen, and a noble band of male and female practitioners have come, "in the name of the Master," to minister to the needs of "China's millions." The number of such divinely ordained helpers of humanity is constantly increasing. Schools of medical training are multiplying, and carefully trained physicians are being raised up from the Chinese themselves. The influence of this fine enthusiasm and consecrated skill is reaching in numberless directions, and the Chinese, outside of missionary circles, are beginning to share in this noble work. One of the notable converts to the value of Western medical science is the venerable and distinguished Viceroy Li Hung Chang, whose name is so widely known. May this glorious emulation increase till, throughout that vast and mighty empire, at the bedside of every sufferer, shall be found a sympathetic and skilled ministrant.

To return to our immediate surroundings: As those who have been principally interested in this hospital are not very likely to refer to their own share in this undertaking, I cannot omit to call attention to the faithful labors of the different gentlemen who have so unwearily labored in its behalf. While all are entitled to receive the warmest thanks of the community and their

FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1897.

NO ENTHUSIASM.

A few members of the Hawaiian Jockey Club responded to the call of the President, and met last evening at the Pacific Club.

As a result of the meeting it cannot be ascertained yet whether we are to have any races on the 11th of June.

The secretary wants to know who has got horses, and what kind of races will suit the owners of racing stock. The most prominent racing men kept away from the meeting and it was plainly demonstrated that the men who started the Jockey Club have outlived their usefulness and lost interest in keeping up an institution which has proven beneficial to all raisers of fine stock and to the country.

If the old Jockey Club is "tired" and wishes to retire and disband let it be known. Another club may be formed which probably will be composed of men, not belonging perhaps to the dancing "exclusive" society of the present Jockey Club, but knowing more about horses and races than any one of the "exclusives" who now try to smother horse racing in Honolulu. Although the meeting of the Jockey Club of old was not enthusiastic, it is to be hoped that there are enough sports in the islands owning good horses, to secure a success of the old national racing day, the 11th of June, even if the races have to take place on the Kamoiilili road.

BEEF SUGAR VS. RECIPROCIITY.

The "Pacific Rural Press," for February 6th, has a very interesting paper on beet culture and sugar manufacture in California. The success of the beet sugar industry in California and some thirteen other States of the United States which have the requisite soil and climate to produce beets of the required saccharine strength and purity, is a menace to the sugar industry in Hawaii, as the American sugar producer will, naturally, oppose both the commercial and political features of the treaty of reciprocity now existing between the two countries. The figures given will be of interest to the sugar producers of Hawaii for other reasons than those already alluded to.

The tonnage of beets per acre is between 12 and 22 tons, say an average of 17 tons. The average per cent of saccharine matter is about 18.21 and its average purity 83.68.

Figures given by one factory, understood to be Watsonville, California, were as follows: 77,000 tons of beets yielded 11,000 tons of sugar, that is, 7 tons of beet made a ton of sugar. The outlay for this result was $200,000 or $18 per ton for manufacture. Add to cost of manufacture the cost of the beets, at $4 per ton, for seven tons, and for errors and omissions say $1.50, and we have a total cost of a ton of sugar $47.50. The price obtained for the sugar was $67.50, from which take cost of production $47.50 and we have a remainder of $20 net for 11,000 tons sugar, or $220,000 for the season. The investment being $1,000,000 the net profit is 22 percent on the capital. Two factories in Germany in statements for 1895, showing dividends of 30 percent and 18 percent respectively.

Mr. E. C. Burr, manager of the Alvarado Sugar Factory, well-known to several of our sugar people, in a communication to the newspaper containing the article under consideration, says: " * * * but the industry has all its cloudy seasons, and a factory that one year makes 25 percent can the next year make a loss. * * * This blessed climate of California is fickle, and although we may have pleasant dry weather up to November, we all know that there have been heavy rains in September. Take for instance a leaf from my note book for 1894: Average percent sugar in beets for September, 13.6; for October, 12.8; November, 10.8; for December, 10.5. While for 1893 for the same months it was respectively 13.4, 14.4, 14.7, 14.9 percent. In 1893 we had light showers, but in 1894 we had on September 28th 1 1/2 inches of rain, followed two weeks later by another storm of 2 inches. * * * Hence, although a factory may in one year pay 25 or 50 percent on its capital, it is not to be depended on. * * * What then, does stand in the way of further development of the industry? Nothing, except a lack of rational protection on the part of the Government. * * * A protective duty of 1 1/2 cents a pound, as is at present talked of, is in reality no protection to the industry in California, owing to the free entry of Hawaiian sugar. As long as the Reciprocity Treaty with Hawaii exists, there can be no protection in a specific or other duty. This treaty should be modified as to sugar, or, if the treaty must be maintained for political reasons, then a bounty should be paid the domestic producer. Of this I am confident. That the beet sugar industry is permanently established in this country, although it may be some little time before our law-makers give the support it merits."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

THE INDEPENDENT sincerely congratulates the Chinese upon the fruition of their labors in possessing a hospital for their own people. It devotes more of its space than usual to such matters for its feels sure that its subscribers will wish to read the beneficial words spoken yesterday.

Why do our dearly beloved missionary sugar factors look down in the mouth? Is it possible that they know the Sugar Trust has got the best of them, and that from the 1st of May, 1897, their sugar must go to New York or to London? The Spreckels sugar will go to San Francisco all right. Would it not be nice to be a Spreckels man, brother Popcornie?

The Zealandia sails at 8 o'clock this evening.

A New Deal.

There has recently been trouble in the Hilo Custom House. Experts from the Financial Department have been sent to Hilo to investigate matters.

As a result the Collector-General has dispensed with the services of the Collector of the Hilo port, Mr. Arthur Richardson and Mr. G. A. Turner, a statistical clerk in the Custom House has been appointed to succeed Mr. Richardson.

Mr. Turner left this morning by the Kinau for Hilo and will immediately assume his new duties there.

Mr. Arthur Johnstone will at present retain his position as Port Surveyor of Hilo.

R. C. Burt, a prominent newspaper man from Sydney, is now a passing resident of Honolulu. It is believed that he remains here principally for pleasure and casually for information.

WELL DONE.

The Chinese Dedicate Their Hospital.

A Fine Building in a Beautiful Spot Built by Themselves—Volunteers to the Maintenance Funds Will be Welcome.

Yesterday was a memorable one for our Chinese residents and incidentally for Honolulu, for it marked an event of great interest in the dedication of the Wai Wa Yee Yuen, or Chinese Hospital, at Palama, in the rear of the Reformatory School.

In spite of the unpleasant rainfall there was a very large attendance, the major part being naturally all the prominent Chinese merchants, their friends and the school-children of that race. Among the prominent persons present were the Chief Justice and Mrs. Judd, Hons. Cecil Brown and Henry Waterhouse, Consul Schaefer, Messrs. H. Lose, W. H. Paine, J. S. Walker, W. W. Hall, Lansing, Bond, J. Mahiai Kaneakua and Burgess; Rev. Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Hyde, Rev. Dr. Sereno E. Bishop, Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Gulick, Rev. and Mrs. Hiram Bingham, Rev. and Mrs. Frank W. Damon, Rev. Mr. Leadingham, Rev. Mr. Lewis and Drs. Slogget, Burgess and wife, Li and Mrs. Dr. Li, and others.

The hospital itself and its surrounding cottages, and buildings are very prettily designed and conveniently arranged, and form a model well worth the inspection and following as an example. Located in ample grounds they are free to the breezes from whichever quarter they may blow, and command extensive and beautiful views on all sides seaward and landward.

In the grant of the land the Hawaiian Government exercised a wise discretion for it would have been difficult to have selected a more fitting location, and in the erection of their buildings free from debt the Chinese have nobly proved their appreciation of the gift.

One of the great surprises to all who were fortunately present, was the excellent singing of the Chinese choir of men women and boys whose voices blended in thorough harmony and with pleasing absence of harsh or discordant sounds, and the excellent pronunciation and delivery of English by Chinese speakers.

The reception room was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and flowers and the Government band played in their very best manner on the Lanai. Mr. Frank Damon was the life of the affair as a genial and experienced volunteer-master of ceremonies and insisted upon all partaking of the excellent delicacies prepared by the hosts.

As the principal speeches are given on our outside pages the ceremonies may be briefly detailed here. The Doxology having been played by the band, Mr. Goo Kim introduced Rev. Mr. Lin who offered a prayer in Chinese. This was followed by a hymn by the choir and two selections from the Holy Scriptures.

Mr. Frank Damon then delivered his able address which was warmly received, but out of courtesy to the hosts, the warmest applause was reserved for the Chinese orators.

Mr. Wong Wa Foy, chairman of the Building Committee, presented the keys of the hospital to Mr. Goo Kim, as President of the United Chinese Society, and Mr. Goo Kim and Mr. Wong Kwai having returned thanks for Mr. Wong Wa Foy's excellent work, made a brief speech in Chinese, and then called upon L. T. Shin to read his address in English which was excellently delivered by the rising young orator.

After addresses had been made by Eee Chick Sin and Wong Kwai, Mr.

Goo Kim presented the keys to Mr. Chu Gem, the President of the Chinese Hospital Society who returned thanks. "Coronation" hymn was then sung and Rev. Dr. Hyde pronounced a truly christian and fraternally charitable benediction prayer. The gathering well pleased, at having assisted on the memorable occasion partook of light refreshment and watched the long tail of firecrackers explode, and explored the buildings much gratified at all they saw.

Educational Matters.

President Cooper presided over yesterday's meeting of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Jordan, Prof. Alexander, W. A. Bowen and J. F. Scott were present.

Miss Edith Mist resigned from the department in view of a visit to England.

The method of teaching music at Pohukaina school is not to be changed for the present.

The selection of substitutes for the Night School was left to the principal until the Board can find suitable permanent teachers.

Kaipuhua, in Kohala, offer premises for a school if the Board will appoint a teacher the residents suggest.

Mr. Brodie was appointed to Kapaa vice Mr. Austin. Mr. Austin goes to Hanapepe vice Mr. Scribner, and Mrs. Neal in place of Mrs. Austin.

A letter of complaint against Mrs. Julia Kapu of Pahoehe, North Kona, was referred to the school agent.

No Fire.

The fire boys and their horses had a little exercise yesterday evening.

A lamp was capsized on the premises of Mrs. Vida and an alarm was sent in.

The department responded immediately and the engines were seen tearing along King street to Mrs. Vida's residence.

The fire had been extinguished, however, before the arrival of the engines and the services of the department were not needed.

The quick response from the fire stations and the excellent condition of the men and horses reflect great credit on Chief Hunt.

Honolulu is well protected against the fire bug under the present system and personnel.

A feature of aluminum ware is the ease with which it is cleaned. No matter how dark it may get over the fire, a pinch of soda in the water in which the utensil is washed will clean it as bright as polished silver.

The impression has gone forth that aluminum will not stand hard knocks. This is a mistake, because when it sustains such injuries as usually happen tin pans, etc., just push it back in place and it is as good as new.

Manufacturers have so added to the list of articles that there are few things used in the kitchen that are not made of it.

We have a large stock of this ware, and a large assortment, a partial list of which is here given.

countrymen, I feel sure that all will rejoice with me to-day in paying a well-deserved tribute of respect to our honored and esteemed fellow citizens, Mr. Goo Kim Fui and Mr. Wong Kwai, president and vice-president of the United Chinese Society respectively; Mr. Chu Gem and Mr. Wong Wa Foy, president and vice-president of the Hospital Association, and the other officers of these organizations, who have given themselves with such whole-hearted devotion to this work.

It is on such occasions as this when a common interest in the highest welfare of humanity unites us in sympathetic accord that we realize to some extent the glorious conception of a universal brotherhood. May the inspiring lesson of this afternoon's experience abide with us as a stimulus to labor for the more perfect realization of this ideal for the more complete attainment of this most desirable possibility.

Mr. Wong War Foy, Chairman of the Building Committee, said:

"Four months ago I was appointed to superintend the building of this hospital. I went to work at once, and now have the pleasure of seeing a successful close, with everything paid for. The sum of $4000, which the building cost, I consider very cheap. I have now the pleasure of handing over to you, Mr. President of the United Chinese Society, the keys of this hospital, feeling that my work is finished, and hoping that all things in connection with it may be entirely satisfactory to all those interested in the welfare of the institution. I now request, Mr. President and officers of the society that you will relieve me of all further responsibility."

Mr. L. T. Shin read the following address by Mr. Goo Kim Fui:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—

It is with sentiments of pride and pleasure that I am here to-day in the discharge of a duty in which we all take a deep interest; that of the formal opening of this building as a hospital for sick Chinese, to be known as the Wai Wa Yee Yuen, that is to say, A hospital devoted expressly for the benefit of the Chinese.

It is needless for me to remind you that the Chinese have been with you in this fair land for many years, and that at this date they form quite a large and influential part of your population of these islands of the Pacific.

You appreciate, I feel sure, the fact also that our mercantile class and those who are, and have been for some years, engaged in developing the fertile and valuable resources of this fortune-favored country, have invariably been found honorable, honest and law-abiding residents in your midst. We have ever done our best to respect, maintain and support the Government by contributing largely to the revenues of the State; by accepting with sincerity the benefits offered by you to us in the education of our children; by learning to a great degree your language, laws, civilization, customs and manner of thought and action; by providing for our own poor and sick, and by never being selfish in such charitable matters as may have been properly brought to our notice. We have endeavored to be good citizens with good people in a good country.

For upwards of 20 years the care and treatment of our sick and maimed has received our serious attention. It has been a matter of grave anxiety, to us, as well as of great difficulty, and an expense that can only be appreciated by us who have disbursed the funds entrusted to us for so worthy and brotherly an object.

We have had cause to be often grateful to many in this land who are not allied to us by the kinship of national birth, and especially to the Government of this country for their timely and kindly assistance in the past.

In this connection I now take the opportunity, on behalf of my associates and fellow-officers of the United Chinese Society, and in the name

also of my fellow countrymen in the Hawaiian Islands, of expressing to the Hawaiian Government their gratitude and great indebtedness for the magnanimous and munificent gift of the land upon which this building now stands in its finished perfection. Without this substantial aid we might have been compelled to wait some years longer for our hospital.

We Chinese have tender and sympathetic memories, and we shall ever treasure in our families, and in our hearts, this kindly and considerate action of the Government of Hawaii. We shall remember it not in idle words alone, but in fruitful deeds and in faithful truth as our own guiding principles are implanted from our childhood in our hearts.

As I do not desire to detain you with details, I will therefore briefly say that this building has been erected by ourselves, and when the first suffering patient enters these doors it will be ready for his reception, and not only will all the expenses for its construction and furnishing have been paid, amounting to $4,000, but a small balance will remain on the right side to the credit of the Hospital Maintenance Fund.

The management will be under the control of trustees appointed by the United Chinese Society, who will use their best endeavors to give satisfaction to all friends and supporters of this much needed institution.

So far, we have raised this building from our society's funds and from contributions from our fellow countrymen in these islands. We have arranged for the past and present, and now we look to the future with hope and reliance. My associates and myself feel assured that in this country of kindly hearts, replete as it is with wealth, prosperity and true charity, the necessary aid to maintain this hospital for the benefit of our poor and needy sick will be forthcoming from all nationalities resident here without urgent solicitation on our part. We shall require some outside assistance to make it as beneficial as it should be.

We shall do our best, but there are few but ourselves can even faintly estimate the deep drafts made upon us for the support of our poor and sick, and in returning them to their own land in their decrepit old age. The love of family and kin lies deep in our hearts, and our hands must ever be generous, but we—as you are also taught in your Good Book—must not let the left hand know what the right hand does.

I, therefore, on behalf of the sick and suffering who will soon be within these walls, appeal to you and to all our friends to grant such aid to our Hospital Maintenance Fund in such form and amount as may suggest itself to your dispositions. A donation, an annual, semi-annual or quarterly subscription, will be gratefully received by Mr. Wong Kwai, myself, or our treasurer, and we shall always be pleased to have visitors call and inspect our hospital and take an interest in its afflicted and unfortunate inmates.

And now, dear friends, let me thank you, one and all, for your kind presence here to-day. Your friendly faces fill us with courage, hope and faith for the future of our first hospital for Chinese, which I now, on behalf of the United Chinese Society, declare to be from this moment open in the cause of suffering humanity, whose pains shall be alleviated and comforted by patient attention and loving assistance until health and strength shall gain the victory over death and disease.

In the silence of your hearts, join with me in wishing every blessing upon this building and its future inmates, and that those who conduct it and watch over the sick and infirm may be guided by wisdom, integrity and fidelity in their beneficent and important trust.

Mr. Chu Gem said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

On behalf of the Chinese Hospital Society I bid you welcome. We are assembled here to-day to open the first Chinese Hospital in the Hawaiian Islands, something that has been long needed; and we, as a Society, take great pleasure in showing you the successful results of our labors, and at the same time we sincerely trust that its advantages and usefulness may become well and favorably known to the Chinese on these Islands.

We are deeply indebted to this Government and its Cabinet officers for their ready response in donating the land on which this building now stands and for this, as a people and society, we will be ever grateful.

On behalf of the society, I thank Mr. Goo Kim and Mr. Wong Kwai, Chinese Commercial Agents, for their efforts in our behalf. Also, all the members of the Hospital Committee for their efficient work, the results of which we now see in this handsome building. I thank the society for the honor they have conferred upon me by my selection as its president, and as such, it will be my endeavor to govern and advise for the society's best needs and as my abilities direct.

Trusting that the members of this society will prove faithful to their trust, and that this building will mark an era in our march onward and upward.

On behalf of the society I thank you for your presence and kind attention.

A VOICE FROM THE BLEACHERS.

Local interest in the cricket games as reflected from the "bleachers" is increasing. During Saturday's games the "bleachers" were particularly vociferous and kept the players under a running fire of good natured banter. One small boy brought down the crowd by advising the batsman to "go buy a case of Rainier Beer and get some life in you." The crowd applauded the remark, knowing that Rainier Beer is celebrated for its invigorating and strength-giving propensities.
