LICENSES COMING IN

License Inspector Batchelor is very much pleased over the way people of all classes are coming in to pay their general and special licenses. He states that it indicates a healthy condition of affairs all along the line.

The pharmacy licenses have come in from those men who have practiced in the country for the length of time that the law requires before anyone shall be excused from examinations and applications of new men are now on file in the office of the Treasurer.

The shooting licenses issued from this date last year until the present time, number 62 and there are still a large number to be heard from. The License Inspector is in hopes that the Gun Club will take up the matter of keeping a watch on those who hunt without a license and particularly on the Chinese, who hunt with large bore guns and spoil the sport that rightly belongs to those who have procured licenses.

It has been suggested that High Sheriff Brown issue a number of commissions to members of the club or others he may choose, to act as special officers and to report those found hunting without license. Lists of the names of those licensed to shoot could be furnished these men and in this way the government would realize larger returns and the game would be protected.

Wm. Woon, Henry Pfleger, Ernest Morgan, Eibert M. Brown, C. H. D. Smith and Chuck Hoy, all of Hollister Drug Co., have been granted licenses to practice pharmacy in the Territory of Hawaii. Mr. Woon has been with Hollister Drug Co. over nineteen years and Chuck Hoy has been there over twenty years.

BAGGAGE ORDER PAU.

The baggage-searching order, which made it necessary for the local custom house officers to examine all baggage coming through this port for San Francisco, has been rescinded. Collector E. R. Stackable yesterday received the following cablegram from Washington:

Until further notice pending investigation by Department, suspend examination of all baggage, or other goods at your port, except such as is actually put ashore.

There was much general satisfaction over this move by the Treasury Department, as the order caused much trouble and hardships, as well to the custom house people as to shipping firms and passengers. The baggage-searching order, also, during the short time it was in effect, showed itself to be much more of an aid than a prevention to smugglers.

LET IT STAY DEAD

[Communicated.]
Every time the close primary snake has hissed or rattled or even without noise glided into Republican councils, it has been trampled upon. The idea is dead as a piece of beef three hundred days in cold storage. This is the local situation.

On the Mainland a man of either or any party daring to suggest the close corporation method of procedure would be instantly hooded as a wreck-cr. It is not so much or to such an extent the custom in Honolulu to discuss issues settled a quarter of a century back as it was a few years ago. The proprietors of the close primary snake, scheming behind a specious hue and cry, refuse to recognize the decrease of a hobby that would be regarded elsewhere as a manifestation of political insanity.

A good many thousands of calls for primaries will be issued "in the States" during the twelve months from "about this time". If a single one of them fails to invite "all voters intending to act with the party, no matter what their previous political affiliations", the omission will be simply an error and the invitation will be taken for granted.

In what other way can a party be strengthened and increased? A party is supposed for all time and for all citizens who wish to act with it. The close corporation has no place in the political economy of a free people and will not be tolerated by an intelligent electorate. If there are certain people here who have private political aims and objects, who deem themselves above the ordinary voter, let them understand that they will be known for close corporationists. They cannot make enough noise or raise enough dust to obscure the view of their selfish endeavor to throttle popular government in Hawaii net.

New Comet Approaches The Sun This Month

San Jose, July 12.—Professor W. W. Campbell of Lick Observatory gives out the following:

"The comet discovered by Morely at Marseilles three weeks ago has been under observation by various members of the Lick Observatory staff. It promises to be an unusually interesting object. Its brightness has increased very rapidly, until it is now as easily visible as a fourth magnitude star."

"On Monday evening observers should experience no difficulty in detecting it about one or two degrees southwest of the bright star Alpha Cygni. Its motion is carrying it southward about five degrees daily. The orbit of the comet has been computed by Professor Perrine. It is now in a parabola in such a way that its nearest approach to the sun will occur on August 27 at a distance of about 31,000,000 miles. Its present distance from the earth about 20,000,000. To the unassisted eye the comet will appear as a hazy patch of light. An acute eye should be able to detect a short tail projecting away from the sun. Our photographs have recorded two prominent tails, each several degrees in length. While it is always unsafe to make predictions as to how bright a comet will grow, yet there is little doubt that this one will be a fairly conspicuous object in the evening sky. In fact, I should expect it to be the brightest comet of the past ten years."

WEDNESDAY . . . . . AUGUST 5, 1903.

Old man Summer seems to have an idea that money is not a necessity of life in Tahiti.

Golches and physical obstacles seem to be the least serious of the barriers Hawaii's new railroad projects encounter.

California officers have been so long finding a new trail of the Folsom convict that it can hardly be said to be a fresh one.

Successes of Emperor William's Meteor ought to induce some of the German enthusiasts to build a boat to contest in the American races that are races.

What would opponents of the Republican Committee suggest as a proper qualification to vote at the Republican primaries? The record of having voted for a Home Rule Speaker?

The real work of loyal Republicans today is in framing strong primary tickets and assembling a strong force to support them. This is the task with which intelligent citizens will occupy their time.

Judged from temporal standards the new Pope of Rome has made of himself a man to be sought by tending strictly to the business in hand and not allowing unwise aspirations to run away with his sense of duty.

If the St. Louis Exposition wants a first class exhibit for the Midway it should secure a dramatic company to play a few acts in "Politics in Hawaii." The wealth of entertainment for Mainlanders would guarantee crowded houses.

What has Curtis Laukea to weep over. Certain Republicans who criticized him most harshly are proposing to follow in his independence footsteps. But perhaps he does not enjoy the company of this new morning press following.

Having set a McKinley park as its mark, Honolulu ought to be ashamed of itself if money can't be secured to finish the task. A lighthouse would be better than nothing but this community should show that it has enough regard for the memory of President McKinley to carry out the memorial as originally planned.

The latest problem the civil governors of the Philippines had to solve came from the Governor of Zamboanga, who announced that he had no scaffold, no hemp, no carpenter, no hangman to carry out the sentence of death passed upon a notorious outlaw and murderer. Under the circumstances it would seem that a few ounces of lead would properly settle the difficulty.

It seems pretty well established that Honolulu has not enough amateur players to maintain a five-team league. It would be an easy matter to brace up the Males with a few importations but such a course would endanger the general interest aroused by the well known personnel of the teams. The time may come when Honolulu will support professional baseball but for the present the Males can better afford to divide their forces among the remaining teams if they are unable to obtain the local material to keep the pace.

A greater mistake cannot be made, as Hawaii enters upon a career of local or self-government, than to foment a division of the voters along racial lines. The mistake will be followed by the same results whether caused by the natural prejudices of the Hawaiians or by the designs of white men. That a portion of the Hawaiian voting element should be deeply and permanently hostile to the whole is a logical sequence of past events and human nature. That it would be for the highest interest of the Hawaiian and for the general good of the Territory for this hostility to be replaced by a sense of civic responsibility and a willingness to vote on men and measures from the standpoint of merit, no one will deny. Just here is the "white man's burden" in Hawaii, and the politician who faces the problem seriously will find a powerful ally in the many broad minded Hawaiian-Americans who are counseling their people to vote for the best men for office regardless of race.—Hilo Tribune.

CHILD'S PLAY OR POLITICAL SENSE?

Citizens' movement to turn out in force at the primaries—commendable, mandatory.
 Citizens' movement for independent county ticket—childish folly.
 Republicans or alleged Republicans who are talking citizens' party for the Oahu county elections are in much the same position as a small boy with a gun inspired with an irresponsible desire to do damage. Of course he can do it, and thereby bring disaster to himself and his associates.
 Reason a little on the attitude the few citizens' party spielers are taking. The primaries have not been held. The Republican Committee has issued the call for primaries to be held according to the rules and regulations laid down by the Republican convention. Immediately a large cry supported by small numbers is raised that the county conventions have gone to pot, the prospective candidates to be selected are from the Sons of Satan.

How do they know this will be the result? How can they draw such a conclusion honestly? They claim the Home Rulers will control the primaries. The Republican party carried the last elections. Have Republicans become so weak that they can't carry their own primaries?

It is admitted that the material for a possible independent citizens movement will come principally from those who voted the Republican ticket at the last election. If this element with the honest men who support Republican regularity can't wield a majority power in the Republican primaries, where will the band of independent martyrs get off with their little ticket in the county election when the battle will be between a solid Home Rule phalanx and divided Republican ranks? The result is so certainly a Home Rule victory, the folly of talking a party bolt before the make-up of the county conventions is known or reasonably foreshadowed is so clear that it cannot and does not appeal to men of sober sense whose purpose in politics is solely to secure honest representatives in public office. Home Rulers will extend the glad hand to an independent Republican citizens' movement in the elections just as they did to Curtis Laukea. Laukea took the bit in his teeth and went directly into the Home Rule camp. Republican bolters will accomplish the same purpose though they may give a different name to their clan.

Had the Home Rulers captured the Republican primaries, the situation from an independent Republican standpoint might be a proper subject for serious consideration among unbiased broad-gauge men. But the primaries have not been captured nor will they be by elements outside the Republican party. To charge that such will be the outcome is to accuse loyal members of the party with utter neglect of ordinary duties of citizenship, to place upon them the responsibility for civic indifference so reprehensible that any independent ticket they might offer would not enlist a corporal's guard of aggressive workers.

This is no shot-gun campaign citizens of the counties are approaching. It is a contest in which votes tell the story and work wins. Second Adventists who some years ago made preparations for the second coming of the Messiah were possessed of more common sense than those now calling for a citizens' ticket movement that will defeat the Republican party.

WISHED TO STAY AT SETTLEMENT

The steamer Lehua arrived from Molokai ports last night at 10 o'clock. She brought as passengers four persons from the leper settlement who were examined by the Board of Health at its recent visit and found to be free from disease. Their departure is said to have been quite an event. Of the departing ones some had been at the settlement for years and were very loth to depart. One of them had been a member of an athletic club there. In his honor the club gave an athletic exhibition, including pyramids, etc. The performance is said to have been really very good.

The old bridge on Nuuanu avenue near Judd street is no more, the new structure now being ready for use.

SUMMER COLDS Produce Chronic Catarrh.

Madame Isabella Ellen Bavens.

Madame Isabella Ellen Bavens, Life Governor Grand Lodge of Free Masons of England, in a letter from Hotel Saratoga, Chicago, Ill., says:

"This summer while traveling I contracted a most persistent and annoying cold. My head ached, my eyes and nose seemed constantly running, my lungs were sore and I lost my appetite, health and good spirits. Doctors prescribed for me all manner of pills and powders, but all to no purpose."

"I advised with a druggist and he spoke so highly of a medicine called Peruna, that he induced me to try my first bottle of patent medicine. However, it proved such a help to me that I soon purchased another bottle and kept on until I was entirely well."

Madame Isabella Ellen Bavens.
 Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many lives. A large dose of Peruna should be taken at the first appearance of a cold in summer, followed by small and oft-repeated doses. There is no other remedy that medical science can furnish, so reliable and quick in its action as Peruna.

Address The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a free book entitled "Summer Catarrh," which treats of the catarrhal diseases peculiar to summer.

For special directions every one should read "The Ills of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Those wishing direct correspondence with Dr. Hartman and can wait the necessary delay in receiving a reply, should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A.
 Benson, Smith & Co. will supply the retail drug trade in Honolulu.

KIDNAPED BY CO-EDS.

Chicago, July 12. — What has become of two young men, students at the University of Chicago, who lived in luxurious quarters in Hitchcock Hall, who were kidnaped by a party of co-eds on Saturday evening? The young men were spirited away shortly after dark and up to a late hour tonight had not returned to their rooms, nor had their friends been able to learn of their whereabouts.

The captors are four young women who escaped from the surveillance of the heads of the Women's Hall and went out for a glorious lark. They hired a rig and drove furiously across the campus into the men's quadrangle, which is bounded by Snell and Hitchcock Halls.

They found some of the men who live in Hitchcock Hall standing on the lawn in front of the building. Two of these young men were bold enough to approach the rig to inquire if they could render any assistance to the young women.

In less time than it takes to tell it, two good looking young athletes, with plenty of money to spend and plenty of appetite for a good lark, had been enticed into the rig. The horses were turned about and they drove rapidly to Midway and were lost sight of.

Fellow students of the kidnaped men watched the episode from their dormitory windows, but they have neither seen nor heard of their comrades since the carriage disappeared behind the trees which line the Midway. The girls returned not long afterward, but refuse to give out any information.

WILL PAY THEIR WAY.
 Captain Samuel Johnson of F Company is indignant over misrepresentations made by the independent with reference to his trip to Hilo with the crack company of the N. G. H.
 Captain Johnson wishes to say that all the expenses of the trip will be paid by the men themselves and their friends. Already, the sum of $200 has been collected. Friends of the company are donating liberally.
 The great majority of the men of the company are from various places around town and it is their own business, this matter of going to Hilo. No man is forced to go but if he can get away from his work, he is gladly welcomed.
 Only about fifteen of the men who intend to go along with the company are garbage service men and in order that they may go, it is necessary for them to supply substitutes whom they themselves must pay. Not one man will get a cent of government money while he is off on the trip.
 The men of the company, the majority of whom are natives, have been together a great many years. They have worked hard and are efficient enough to compete with any company and Captain Johnson thinks that considering the hard and steady work they have done, they certainly deserve a vacation since the men themselves are to foot the bills. Besides being a rest for the men, the trip will go a long way toward improving the standard of the National Guard in this Territory.

Supreme Court Decides THAT TRIAL Of Ferris Was Legal

The Supreme Court yesterday afternoon handed down a unanimous opinion in the case of the Territory against George E. Ferris (known as Kentucky Hill), overruling his exceptions to conviction and sentence for murder and holding that the verdict of the jury was not contrary to the evidence. Judge Gear sentenced Ferris in September last to suffer the death penalty for the killing of John Watson.

Associate Justice Perry writes the opinion, in part as follows:

A party who neglects to claim his right of challenge to the grand jury, before they retire, waives it, although he may be imprisoned at the time.

The right, if any, of an accused to have the assistance of counsel at the impulsion of the grand jury, is waived if he neglects to claim it, even though imprisoned at the time.

Where one who is detained in custody awaiting action by the grand jury does not notify the court that he is financially unable to employ counsel for his defense and does not request the assignment of counsel, it is not error for the court to fail to make such assignment prior to the arraignment.

Upon a motion to discharge a defendant, made after plea of not guilty, on the ground that he has not been duly arraigned, one who, with the acquiescence of all concerned, acted at the term of court at which the indictment was presented as a deputy of the Attorney General must be presumed, in the absence of any showing to the contrary, to have been duly authorized to act in that capacity.

The use of intoxicating liquors by members of the jury pending the trial, and before the final submission of the case, such liquor having been furnished by one of their own number, will not, in the absence of a showing that prejudice to the defendant resulted therefrom, vitiate the verdict.

A court of record may, even at a subsequent term, cause amendments to be made to the minutes of its proceedings, kept by the clerk, to the end that the same may conform to the actual facts and truth of the case.

Verdict held not contrary to the evidence.

The defendant was convicted of the offense of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death. The case comes to this court on thirty-one exceptions: Exceptions 2 to 27 inclusive and 29 are to rulings made during the trial upon objections to testimony. We have carefully examined the record with reference to them all, including nine which have been expressly abandoned, but can find nothing to require or to justify a reversal of the verdict. In most of them the rulings were clearly correct. Perhaps in one or two instances a different ruling might properly have been made, but the error, if any, was not prejudicial.

Exception 28. At the close of the case for the prosecution, the defendant moved to dismiss the indictment and for a directed verdict on the grounds named in exception 1, already disposed of, and on the further ground that there was no evidence to connect the defendant with the commission of the crime or to show that the deceased was John Watson or that the deceased met his death from a wound inflicted by a knife or any other instrument in the hands of the defendant or from any other wound received at the hands of the defendant. Were this case of a less serious nature, we would be inclined to characterize this motion and exception, in so far as it relates to the alleged lack of evidence, as frivolous; but mindful of the gravity of the charge and of the sentence we have carefully read the transcript of the evidence.

We have no hesitation in saying that a complete prima facie case was established by the prosecution and that the motion was properly denied. The evidence adduced by the prosecution was such as, standing by itself, to have amply justified the jury in finding the following as facts: that at about eight o'clock on the evening of April 16, 1932, the defendant was standing on the front veranda of the lodging house of one Meyers, situate on Queen street in this city, talking to Meyers and perhaps others about horses; that John Watson, the deceased, then approached from without and asked who was talking about horses or who it was that said he could ride horses or some similar question and that thereupon an argument ensued between him and the defendant on the subject, Watson standing at the head of the steps on the left side going up, leaning against the railing and with both hands behind his back, and Ferris standing on step lower on the opposite side of the steps and about four or five feet from Watson; that during the conversation, which lasted only a few minutes, Ferris said that Watson had called him a son of a — some days before, that Watson denied this, that Ferris repeated his assertion and asked Watson, "Did you mean it?" That Watson at first remained silent but, Ferris insistently repeating the question, finally said, "Well, if I did call you a son of a — I did mean it;" that without warning Ferris immediately dealt Watson, who was still standing in the position already described, a heavy blow on the left side in the region of the chest; that Watson staggered, walked back a few steps towards the body of the house and then forward again and fell, one Daniel Smith catching him as he fell, blood issuing from a wound in Watson's left side and from his mouth; that a few moments later Watson was dead; that immediately after the assault Ferris left the spot and a few moments later the premises and ran away and was not found, although diligent search was made for him by the police, until the next day; that the wound was caused by a knife wielded by Ferris and that Watson's death was caused by the wound so inflicted and was not due to any other cause; and that about eight days prior to the date of the assault Ferris, pointing to Watson, who was some distance away, had said to one Blackwell, a witness for the prosecution, "See that son of a — I will fix him yet." Upon the evidence then before it the jury would have been justified in finding that the killing was committed not in the heat of passion but in cold blood and with premeditated malice aforesaid.

Exception 30 is to the verdict on the ground that it is contrary to the law and the evidence and the weight of the evidence. This is sufficiently disposed of by what is said concerning exception 28.

During the evening between September 4 and 5, when the jury occupied, as a bedroom what is now Judge De Bolt's courtroom, and two or three adjoining rooms, including Judge Gear's chambers, for lounging and other purposes, some of the members of the jury drank beer, furnished by one of their number. No evidence was adduced tending to show that any of the jurors became intoxicated or was under the influence of the liquor so used and each of the jurors deposed on oath that none of them was thus affected. The trial judge in overruling the motion evidently found, and we think the finding was correct, that the use of the liquor did not affect the consideration of the case or influence the verdict.

Not only was it competent for the trial court to make its record conform to the facts, but it was its duty to do so.

Every one of the instructions requested by the defendant was given, with an amendment to one only, and that a correct amendment. No exception was noted to any part of the charge.

The exceptions are overruled.

Attorney General Andrews and W. S. Fleming for the prosecution; E. C. Peters and E. A. Douthitt for the defendant.

VIERRA HAS RESIGNED.

A. H. R. Vierra, president of the Lusitana Society, one of the most powerful benevolent organizations among the Portuguese, leaves for Paia, Maui, a week from next Tuesday. He was recently ordained and has decided to preach the Gospel among his people at the place already mentioned.

This departure of Mr. Vierra makes it necessary for the society of which he was president, to choose another head and this is to be done at a special meeting to be called soon for that particular purpose. There are several already slated for the position.

It will not be an easy matter to find such a man as Mr. Vierra. During his incumbency he has gained the confidence of the members by his strict attention to business and his zeal in the interests of his people. Honest to the last degree, he has made a record that will be hard to duplicate and he goes to his new duties with the best wishes of all who have had any dealings with him.

Women's Headaches

542 1-2 Congress Street, PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pain would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nine months treatment I menstruated without suffering agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain.

Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Snow
Treasurer, Portland Economic League.

Headaches are the danger signals of coming disease. Both men and women suffer from headaches, but periodic headaches fall only to the lot of women and is the morning sign of irregular menstruation and bearing down pains. Completely prostrated by nine months of suppressed menses, blinded by headaches and racked with pain Mrs. Snow was made a strong and healthy woman again. Remember with Wine of Cardui no case is hopeless because this great remedy cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases and never fails to benefit a case of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. BASEBALL JOTTINGS

The Malles are on the fence when it comes to their leaving the league, as they feel that they should remain with the league until the end of the season in order to get their share of the money. The team owes money as it is and should they break up the team now each member would have to pay his share. The whole matter will be decided at the league meeting tomorrow afternoon. The baseball cranks call Perine "Foxy Grandpa". Kennedy says that old man Perine has a great "noddle" on him. Judd played a fine game for Punahele last Saturday. On July 4th he made an error or so and had been playing with some teams he would have been benched, but it seems he knows the game. Castle showed up better in the last game than he would have done had his support been less efficient. Leslie is playing a good game behind the bat. Louis is hitting well and might do well at second again. He was a fine player in that position last year. Old "Pal"orman is not well and he is partly excusable for the mistakes he has made. The baseball cranks are looking for a suitable nickname to give Judge Kennedy, the Elks' first baseman. Members of the H. A. C.'s are all old St. Louis College boys. Some of the baseball men are of the opinion that the league should pay the Malles and let them drop out so that the spectators could see two good games each Saturday.

ST. LOUIS COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

St. Louis College is to have an alumni association just as other institutions of the country, such as Punahou and Kamehameha. Some of the older graduates of the institution are now at work on the plan and a meeting will be held within ten days' time for the purpose of organizing. The use of the Hall on the college grounds has been offered for the meeting. St. Louis College has the largest number of graduates of any educational institution in the Islands. At a conservative estimate, the brothers in charge calculate that they number fully three thousand. The brothers first came to the Islands in September of 1883 and the school was started almost immediately. Brothers Betram, Francis and Frank are the only ones left out of the original lot of brothers who came here to teach. The others have all gone elsewhere or died. The idea is to hold the first meeting of the alumni association on September 3, the day the brothers landed here. The objects of the association are the same as those of other organizations of the kind. The boys feel that they want to get closer together and know more of each other. The Association will be non-sectarian in its nature. Every man who has ever graduated from St. Louis College will be eligible to membership. All those who wish to join the alumni association are asked to leave their names with M. F. Peter at the messenger service office on Union street, a little block of Hotel. The extensive water power at My-sore, India, generates an electric current that operates at gold fields 100 miles distant.

SUMNER'S VISION

More than one observing person of legal mind this morning remarked, with smiles, the contemporaneity of the departure in the Alameda of John K. Sumner (sometimes referred to as the "Jarndyce" of Hawaii) and the excursion of the tug Fearless to the outside of the harbor, accompanying the departing steamship, bearing the large inscription: "Bar Association." In fact, one of several gentlemen who were on the Alameda at the time and returned to port in a launch, said that Sumner, standing at the rail with Mr. and Mrs. Wyllie "My name is not 'Waltie' Your Honor!" Davis, pointing to the "Bar Association" tug, cried: "I can't lose sight of the lawyers. Look! They're following me!" Mr. Wyllie Davis explained that the demonstration was in honor of United States District Judge Morris M. Estee who was aboard and that he (Sumner) had nothing to excite himself about. Sumner was not so easily comforted and hastened below, leaving Wyllie agita.
