ROYAL HAWAIIAN HOTEL.

JOSEPH TILDEN Manager.

The Royal Hawaiian Hotel is one of the leading architectural structures of Honolulu. The grounds upon which it stands comprise an entire square of about four acres, fronting on Hotel Street. This large area affords ample room for a lawn and beautiful walks, which are laid out most artistically with flowering plants and tropical trees. There are twelve pretty cottages within this charming enclosure, all under the Hotel management. The Hotel and cottages afford accommodations for 200 guests. The basement of the Hotel contains the finest billiard hall in the city; also, a first-class bar, well stocked with fine wines and liquors.

The main entrance is on the second floor, to the right of which are the elegantly furnished parlors. A broad passage way leads from the main hall to the dining-room. These apartments open on to broad verandas, where a magnificent view of the Nuuanu Mountains may be seen through the wealth of tropical foliage that surrounds the balconies.

The fare dispensed is the best the market affords, and is first-class in all respects. Hotel and cottages are supplied with pure water from an artesian well on the premises. The Clerk's office is furnished with the Telephone, by which communication is had with the leading business firms of the city.

LATEST NEWS.

Progress of Events in Soudan, China and Central America.

A Budget of News from All Parts of the Globe.

The Pacific Mail steamship City of New York arrived yesterday from San Francisco, bringing three days' later news. We append full particulars of all important and interesting items.

The Advance on Sunkat Begun. KORTI, March 16th.—British troops retiring to Korti were harassed between Gakdul and Embok by marauding followers of El Mahdi, who were armed with rifles. Several British soldiers were wounded.

LONDON, March 16th.—Pain, the French renegade and Communist, is said to have escaped from Khartoum, and to be descending the Nile. General Wolsley was offered a reward of £50 for Pain's body, dead or alive.

LONDON, March 17th.—The British officers at Cairo are urging the Government to appoint General Wolsley Governor General of the Soudan. The Government refuses to make the appointment, as it would prolong the British stay in the Soudan beyond the limits at present intended.

SUAKIM, March 18th.—A general advance towards Sunkat was begun on Friday. Spies continue to report that the Amardu tribe of Arabs will desert the Mahdi and join the British at the first favorable opportunity. Spies from Osman Digma's camp report the fall of Kassala.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

Usurpation by President Barrios of Guatemala.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18th.—The movement of Barrios towards the enforcement of a Central American union and the warning of Mexico sent to the revolutionary leader, have caused quite a stir here. Secretary Bayard has written a letter to Senator Miller, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, giving him all the information possessed by the State Department concerning Barrios' movement.

The first intimation received by the department in regard to the revolutionary movement was a telegram from Barrios to the President announcing that he had assumed the title of Supreme Military Chief, and that the Minister of Foreign Relations of Guatemala would soon come to Washington.

Later dispatches were received, stating that the Republics of Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica would resist Barrios, and requesting the interference of the United States Government. A telegram from Hall, United States Minister to Central America, reports that Honduras was an active party to Barrios' movements. Upon these representations, the State Department sent a dispatch to Minister Hall at Guatemala, instructing him that this Government, while believing a voluntary association of interests of the Central American States was desirable, would not countenance any display of force by any one or more of the States to coerce the others, and that the United States stands ready to exert its influence, in the event of a conflict, to promote peace.

No communication has been received from or sent to the Government of Honduras. The Mexican Minister here conferred with Secretary Bayard as to the course to be taken by Mexico, and was informed that this Government would use all its moral influence and lend its good offices to prevent autonomy of the Central American States, and to this end would be glad to have the co-operation of Mexico.

Later, but unofficial details, state that, on the 10th instant, a Guatemalan expeditionary movement against Salvador was stopped, and Barrios asked the President of Salvador to send two commissioners to arrange a settlement. Secretary Bayard further states that Senator Batres, Minister of Salvador at Washington, has been deprived of his mission because of his association with the movement of Barrios, and a new Minister will soon be sent here.

The orders to naval vessels for the protection of American interests in Central America are given in detail. The Secretary expresses an opinion that no obligation to interfere rests upon this Government under any treaties with the United States. The department has no information that any European Power has interfered, or contemplates an interference, in the present difficulties in Central America.

In conclusion, Mr. Bayard says this Government cannot countenance any measures subversive of the free autonomy of any of the several States, and believing the moral influence and the good offices of the United States can be made a potential agency in the preservation of peace, he is unable to suggest any action by the Senate.

The dispatch from the President of Salvador, alluded to in Mr. Bayard's letter, states that Barrios is trying to enforce a Central American Union, with the avowed purpose of annulling the canal treaty with Nicaragua. Senate Resolution Protecting Against Barrios.

WASHINGTON, March 18th.—The following resolution was agreed to by the United States Senate on motion by Edmunds, omitting the preamble reciting the facts: "Resolved, as the judgment of the Senate, that in view of the special and important interests of the United States in conjunction with those of the Republics of Nicaragua and Costa Rica, in interoceanic transit across the continent now in progress of adjustment, an invasion of the territory of Nicaragua or Costa Rica by the forces of Guatemala under the circumstances, and with the purpose before stated, is regarded by the Senate, and ought to be treated by the United States as an act of unfriendly and hostile interference with the rights of the United States and of the Republics of Nicaragua and Costa Rica in respect to said matter."

Revolution and Fighting at Panama. PANAMA, March 16th.—The city of Panama was attacked to-day by a party of revolutionists, commanded by General Alzupura, numbering 250 men.

PANAMA, March 17th.—Heavy firing ceased at 9 p. m. last night, the rebels retiring to Buena Vista to recruit. The British gunboat Heroine landed seventy-five men yesterday, with a Gatling gun, to protect property. Traffic on the Panama Railroad and all business was suspended to-day. President Aros Emanu took refuge on the Heroine. Colon is reported in possession of the rebels.

WASHINGTON, March 17th.—Commander Kane telegraphs the Secretary of the Navy from Colon that a revolution exists at Panama and Aspinwall, and that he landed marines and hauled the Galena alongside the wharf to protect property. Carthage is also besieged.

General Gonina, Commander of the Columbia National Guard, arrived with reinforcements this morning, and the rebels retired outside the city, and will await help from Baranquilla and Colon. Colon is in the hands of the rebels, commanded by a notorious criminal. Stores are being pillaged. The leader declares he will reduce the city to ashes if the Government troops attempt to recapture it.

The marines of the United States steamer are in Colon. English forces guard the Panama Railroad property.

THE FRENCH IN COCHIN-CHINA.

Massacre of Europeans Near Saigon. PARIS, March 16th.—Dispatches from Saigon report that the revolt in Cochinchina is spreading. A plot has been discovered to set fire to Saigon, in order to give an opportunity for an irruption of 3,000 Annamites. The Annamites captured Ocom, seven miles from Saigon, and massacred the European residents, burning alive the native Prefect and his wife.

The northern provinces are held by the insurgents, who massacre native adherents of the French. The crews of the men-of-war at Saigon have landed to defend the town, and the foreign residents are under arms.

PARIS, March 18th.—General Briere de Lisle has returned to Hanoi. He asks for 10,000 more men before resuming operations in Tonquin.

France and China. PARIS, March 18th.—The National says instructions have been sent for the French Ambassador in China to renew negotiations with that Government, with a view to securing peace. The English and Russian Embassadors at Peking are urging peace. The war has cost China sixty million taels.

Spain and Morocco.

MADRID, March 17th.—There is great excitement here over news to the effect that the Governor of Alhucemas, a small island containing a fortress and prison settlement, belonging to Spain, in the Mediterranean, on the coast of Morocco, while parleying with a number of Morocco tribes, under the supposed protection of a flag of truce, was attacked, and the Governor and several other Spanish officials wounded.

GERMANY.

Probable Loss of One Hundred Lives.

BERLIN, March 16th.—The Reichstag to-day voted the subvention proposed by Bismarck to lines of steamers to Asia and Australia, but refused to vote one for Africa.

BERLIN, March 18th.—Two hundred and seventeen miners were imprisoned by an explosion of fire-damp in a colliery at Kempen, near Saarbrueck, in Rhenish Prussia, this morning. Ninety-eight bodies were recovered. Seventeen had been rescued.

The German Emperor has bought up the claims of the ducal families of Schleswig-Holstein to the sovereignty of the Duchies. For $7,500 a year for one life, they renounce their claims forever.

Japanese Charge of Affairs Murdered.

THE HAGUE (Holland), March 16th.—A Brussels charge to-day followed the Japanese Charge d'Affaires in this city to Rotterdam and shot him. She then attempted suicide with a dagger, but only inflicted a slight wound. The man died in the hospital. He had promised to marry the girl, who learned he was married already and that his wife was coming on here.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

The Afghan Frontier Question in Parliament.

LONDON, March 16th.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Gladstone explained that England and Russia had agreed, as he stated on Friday last, that no further advance should be made in Afghanistan. His agreement was based upon an interchange of communications carried on through the British Ambassador to St. Petersburg. The latest communication on the Afghan dispute received from the Ambassador was that of March 5th; but to obviate any possible misunderstanding, Granville, British Foreign Secretary, Saturday last wired his (Gladstone's) exact words to Thornton, asking him to ascertain whether the Russian Prime Minister understood as correct the statements by Gladstone of the agreement reached with Russia. As yet no reply had been received. Gladstone said there had been no time to obtain the assent of the Ameer of Afghanistan to the terms of the arrangement made with Russia. "The expression 'agreement,'" said Gladstone, "conveys a somewhat fallacious idea of what has been obtained. I prefer the word 'arrangement.'"

The telegram sent by Granville on Saturday to Thornton was merely intended to ascertain whether the understanding of the details of this agreement or arrangement was correct. There is no question as to the substance of it. Hartington explained that the Russians occupied Katan and Akrobat, and that the Afghans still occupied Penjdeh. He refused, on the ground of public policy, to make any further disclosures.

In the Commons this evening the Government announced a telegram from St. Petersburg fully confirming Gladstone's view of the Anglo-Russian arrangement regarding outposts on the Russo-Afghan frontier.

LONDON, March 17th.—Gladstone this afternoon read a dispatch from Sir Edward Thornton, British Ambassador to St. Petersburg, in reply to Granville's request to know if England's understanding of the arrangement with Russia was the same as that entertained by De Giers. "De Giers," Gladstone read, "states that the Russian troops will not advance from the position now occupied by them, provided the Afghans do not advance, or unless some extraordinary reason be given, such as disturbances in Penjdeh. Stringent orders have been sent to the Russian commander to use every possible means to avoid a conflict or excitement to a conflict. The above orders will be repeated."

Several interrogatories were at once put. Gladstone declined to answer them, and deprecated any further questioning of the Government upon the question at present. He stated that the demands of the British Government for the withdrawal of the Russians from their advanced position had lapsed. This announcement was received with ironical cheers.

LONDON, March 18th.—Club men in London think it was a mistake to select Sir Peter Lumsden to settle the Afghan frontier question. While they do not think there has been a casus belli yet, they think that if any one is likely to create such a state of affairs as would bring on war Lumsden is just the man to do it. Sir Richard Temple thinks Russia is getting ready to attack Turkey, not India.

AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

Points of Interest from the United States.

A rumor that General Grant had died caused great excitement in the United States on the 16th of March.

The great railroad strike is ended, the men having won in every case. The old rate of wages will be paid, and no discrimination made against the strikers. The Secretary of State has telegraphed to Barrios that he would hold Guatemala responsible for any injury to the Gulf cable or any shore telegraphs belonging to American citizens.

A telegram has been received from Greensburg, Pa., which says a freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad was derailed near Carpenter's Station on the 16th. A brakeman and four tramps were killed and twenty cars were demolished.

Attorney General George A. Gray, of Delaware, has been elected successor to the United States of Secretary Bayard.

In addition to the 500 miners employed by the Ellsworth Coal Company, Daville, Illinois, who struck on the 17th, on the reduction of the price of mining, 1,000 others employed by the George Creek Coal and Coke Company struck the next day.

The Iowa Supreme Court, the entire bench concurring, rendered an opinion affirming the constitutionality of the prohibition law. It sustains the validity of injunctions to abate nuisances, which exist as nuisances, and in every particular maintains the provisions of the act as it stands to-day on the statute books of the State.

A paraffine factory at Elizabethport, New Jersey, was fired on the 18th. The factory is totally destroyed. Loss, $200,000; no insurance. It employed fifty hands.

The New York Board of Health is taking every precaution against a possible cholera epidemic this summer. All the houses will be inspected, and the occupants forced to clean up their yards and keep them in a proper condition.

It is hoped that the progress of the disease in General Grant's throat has been arrested.

Immense damage was done by a gorge overflow at Waverly, Missouri. A dozen persons perished from cold or were drowned.

On the 18th the President sent the following batch of nominations to the Senate, to the intense disgust of office seekers: Milton J. Darham, Kentucky, First Controller of the Treasury; William Garrard, Nevada, Superintendent of the Mint at Carson City, Nevada; James R. Ryan, Nevada, Coiner of the Mint at Carson City, Nevada; Malcolm Hay, Pennsylvania, First Assistant Postmaster General; Martin V. Montgomery, Michigan, Commissioner of Patents; Benjamin J. Hill, Jr., Georgia, Attorney for the United States in the Northern District of Georgia.

The Senate has confirmed General Black as Commissioner of Pensions. Ex-Senator McDonald of Indiana has been offered the Solicitor-Generalship. It is understood that General Foster will be retained as Minister to Spain for the present, with the view of conducting negotiations for a more favorable treaty.

The President has nominated Joseph H. Miller of West Virginia Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Mr. Fairchild has assumed the duties of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

At a St. Patrick's dinner in London Parnell presided, and advocated the exclusive use of Irish manufactures, by Irish men and women in all parts of the world, as a means towards financial and political independence of the country.

A quantity of dynamite was found concealed in the Irish quarters of Liverpool. The steamers Hamber, Recta and Vorseizen, from the United States, had not arrived at their destinations. Insurance companies were anxious about their safety.

In the House of Commons, Sir W. Harcourt stated that England would not ask France to rescind the order of arrest and the expulsion of Stephens, because it was not a matter in which England had any right to interfere. He believed Stephens had not been subjected to actual arrest, but simply ordered to leave France.

An alleged occupation of Raiatea, one of the Society Islands, by the French, is denied. In 1882 a French flag was hoisted in Raiatea. As soon as England heard of it she protested, and France at once disavowed the action, and said the flag had been raised by some naval officers, without warrant. France, however, requested that the flag should be allowed to remain until England and France should arrange their dispute about their respective rights on the island. The controversy is still in amicable progress. In regard to the Cameroons difficulty, negotiations are still pending between England and Germany for a friendly settlement.

Portadown, Ireland, was the scene of serious riot on March 17th. A body of Nationalist raiders wrecked the houses of obnoxious persons. Bands of Orangemen paraded the streets, and great excitement prevailed.

Gilbert and Sullivan's new opera, "The Mikado; or, the Town of Titipu," was produced in London on the 14th. The warmth of the reception promises a success greater than any opera since "Patience."

An Ottawa dispatch says it is the intention of the War Office at once to put the defenses of British Columbia in a more satisfactory condition, and increase the fleet in Pacific waters by the addition of four or five powerful iron-clad rams. The Canadian Railway will be pushed to completion with all possible speed, to be available for the conveyance of troops and munitions of war to the Pacific Coast.

A dispatch from Irkutsk states that the Polar Scientific Expedition under Baron Toll and Dr. Bunge is snow and ice bound near Taudren. It is feared most of the members have perished.

Baron von Blochraeder of Berlin is negotiating with other capitalists with a view of placing a new Russian loan. Baron von Blochraeder is not only one of the most eminent bankers of Berlin, but is also the confidential adviser of Bismarck in financial affairs. His appearance in the market as the financial agent of Russia is therefore very significant, and would indicate that war with England was seriously intended by Russia.

Sir John McDonald, Premier of Canada, has declared that the Chinese Restriction bill of British Columbia will be disallowed.

In the Commons it was officially stated that England had protested against the treatment of lead by France as a contraband of war, as instanced in the arrest of the British vessel Glenroy and the seizure of the lead in her cargo.

In the Italian Chamber of Deputies the Minister of Foreign Affairs said after the fall of Khartoum the Italian Ambassador to England intimated to Earl Lord Granville that Italy was willing to assist England. He replied that England could and must herself subjugate the Soudan. The Foreign Minister said the Italian Government would not conclude any treaty to the detriment of existing agreements with Germany and Austria.

A revolution is going on at Tepic, in the State of Jalisco, Mexico.

The French Chamber of Deputies has fixed the import duties on cows and bulls at 12 francs; bullocks and sheeps, 8 francs; calves, 4 francs; hogs, 3 francs; hogs, 6 francs; lambs, she-goats and sucking pigs, 1 franc; fresh meats, per 100-kilos, 7 francs, and salt meats, 8 francs. The Chamber finally adopted the entire tariff bill by a vote of 281 to 194.

In the Devonshire hurdle race at Derby on the 17th, Idea came in first and Abbotsford (formerly Lorillard's Mistake) third. All English horses fell, except Philosopher, who started the favorite and came in second. The two American horses were heavily weighted, Idea carrying 175 pounds and Abbotsford 164. Bluegrass is training at Newmarket and heads the quotations everywhere for the Lincolnshire handicap.

Four Irishmen engaged in a fight on the line of the Cork and Bandon railroad in celebration of St. Patrick's day. Two were hacked to death and the survivors are bundles of shreds and patches.

Advices from London, March 18th, state that the Prince of Wales will announce to the Irish people that the Duke of Connaught and his family would reside permanently, in Ireland and that the Duke would succeed Earl Spencer as Lord Lieutenant. The Dublin Corporation has determined not to join in any public reception of the Prince of Wales.

Value of Advertising.

One of the most striking illustrations of the value of judicious advertising is the sale, by private bargain, of all the homestead lots belonging to Henry Macfarlane, Esq., which had been announced for auction to-day. Owing to the publicity given to the contemplated sale in the P. C. ADVERTISER, the vendor obtained satisfactory prices before the date of auction sale arrived. The following are the prices obtained and names of purchasers. Lots 1 and 3 bought by W. T. Rhodes for $2,900; No. 2 by J. McKenzie for $1,200; No. 4 by John Carben, $1,200; Nos. 5, 6 and 7 by T. R. Lucas for $4,300; No. 8 by Mrs. Grace More for $1,250; Nos. 9 and 11 by Charles B. Wilson for $1,800. Of these Nos. 1 to 7 are bounded by Pihok, Beretania and Kinau streets; Nos. 8 to 11 by Pihok, Beretania and Young streets. Lot No. 11 is still for sale. Size of lots, 100x150 feet.

Advertise in the WEEKLY P. C. ADVERTISER if you wish to sell your wares to advantage. It is more generally read than any other weekly paper published in the Kingdom.

GRAND EXHIBITION.

Messrs. G. W. MACFARLANE & CO. Take pleasure in announcing to the public that they have renovated and enlarged their upstairs department, and will open the same on THURSDAY, MARCH 26th, with a grand exhibition of the finest lot of fancy goods ever imported into this market.

These goods were carefully selected in London and Paris, with especial reference to the requirements of this community, and will, without doubt, prove the most attractive line of goods ever offered to this public.

Particular attention is called to an invoice of Royal Worcester, Limoges and Colored Majolica, from the world-famous house of R. P. Daniel of London, whose exhibition pieces have taken the first premium medals at all of the European Expositions since 1861. Among the articles comprising this invoice may be mentioned:

Elegant Pierced Vases, exquisitely decorated, and embossed with flowers and birds.

Warwick Vases in vallaurs red, blue, green and turquoise. Beautiful Persian Vases, carved and incised.

Flower Holders, large and small, all sizes, exquisitely decorated with flowers and foliage.

By C. B. MILES.

How to Break a Colt.

If you ask a man engaged in the business the above question, and he answers you truthfully, nine out of ten will tell you, when you commenced on a colt, that the very first thing you must impress upon his mind is that you are his master; that it is business to submit to your will; that you must break up all his stubbornness right away on the start, and also make him afraid of you, so that he will not dare to do anything he may think you do not want him to do, even if you have to be severe with him at times. Now, while I am not going to say that this is not the best plan of educating a young horse, I will say that it is not the plan that I have always practiced; and furthermore, I will say to anyone, either professional or non-professional, that in handling your colt, if you will use persuasion instead of coercion, and try and make his first lessons a pleasure to him instead of a task, and induce, instead of compelling him to submit to your wishes, that I will stake my existence that you will soon find your colt studying the same practice as yourself—of trying to please you, and make your work as much a pleasure as it is possible for him to do.

During the last few years there has been great advancement made in horse-breaking, as well as in everything else. Note the old plan of school teaching half a century ago as compared with the plan of the present day. I well remember hearing my father tell of the way, when he went to school, that the teacher adopted for correction. He had long birch whips, brought in by the armful, and thrust them into the fire and partially roasted them to make them tough—a common birch whip without being toughened in the above manner being considered by no means effective enough for correcting the ordinary roystering schoolboy. Now, we only think of the above plan of education at the present time to smile at, men having learned that milder means are more effective and lasting.
The same measure of advancement has been made in the handling of colts. The old method of breaking in a colt meant a season's hard work, and other modes of heavy pulling in the field before he could be trusted to assist in taking the family to church on a Sunday. Nowadays, with the advancement that has been made in the methods of handling, we are able to learn a colt more in the way he should go in a few weeks than he could acquire in the old way in as many months.

Some years since the Rev. Wm. H. Murray, an eminent divine of Boston, wrote a very elaborate work entitled "The Perfect Horse," in which he devoted a very long chapter, covering about seventy-five pages, to the above mentioned subject, "How to Train a Colt." The work throughout was very interesting and instructive, and one desiring it can obtain it from me to read. The reverend gentleman (who was, by the way, a classmate of our Chief Justice at Yale College) seems to understand the subject very well, and I think that his plan would work well enough on a colt that had been brought up in a one-of-the-family sort of way, and one that can tell you by his actions, almost as plain as if he could talk, that if you do not want your toes trod upon you must get out of the way when he comes along. Even then I think it would take about a year to break one colt by going through all of the different modes that he recommends. But life is too short for me to practice any such system, as I would probably have about twenty wild colts broken and turned over to their respective owners by the time that he would have given his colt about two lessons, and yet I would be just as kind with mine as he would be to his.

The usual plan that horse-breakers adopt is to have their vehicles and harnesses made about two or three times as heavy and strong as are used for broke horses, so that after being hitched up their colts can kick, run, rear and plunge, and throw themselves down without being able to do any damage by breakage, and after fighting it out with them for many days, and perhaps, they find, if they are not of too rebellious a disposition, become accustomed to the use of the harness, and after a few months of service, become tolerably well broken. Now, this plan seems to me very much the same as it would be to send a policeman after a prisoner without allowing him to have any weapons to capture him with, telling him that he must overpower him by main strength and awkwardness.

My plan is never to hitch a colt up until the fear is all out of him, after which I find an ordinary cart and harness quite sufficient; and as to kick straps, I never use them unless it is on an inveterate kicker, as I have never had a colt kick in harness yet that I was breaking. Yearlings can be broken in with perfect safety, as at that age they very readily submit to the guiding process, and are always afterwards safe and reliable. The practice of breaking yearlings to single and double harness has long been in vogue all over the States, and the results have been so satisfactory that at present, in all of the large breeding establishments, the weanling colts are being regularly broken in with the same satisfactory results.

I have now on hand at my headquarters, corner of Queen and Punchbowl streets twelve head of colts, from yearlings to mature age. Some of them I have only had two weeks, and I will drive any of them single or double to a top buggy without blinds; and I will also ride any of them without saddle, bridle, halter, strap, or string even, and carry a large carriage umbrella over them at the same time. And I will do the same thing with any horse that any one may bring me in the same time, or else not charge a cent, as I am ready and willing to take all chances of failure. Of course, I do not consider them broken at this stage of development, as it takes considerable time to perfect them in the way of going on the road, and to familiarize them with objects that they meet, but at the same time I think that it is carrying them along pretty fast in their education, and that they are on the right track for becoming safe, gentle and obedient family horses, which is surely just what every one wishes their colts to become. I also think that some of them are better broke already than a great many horses that have been worked a year or more in our streets. I notice, too, that my colts shy much less now in passing heavy loaded drays, etc., than many horses that look as though they had been at work for years and years in the carriages.

Respectfully,

C. B. MILES,

Practical Horse Breaker.
