Roosevelt Hears All Sides

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 7.—Col. Roosevelt held conferences today with Senator Beveridge of Indiana and Senator Carter of Montana. Beveridge represents the insurgent wing of the party, and Carter is a stand-patter and conservative. These talks with the representatives of the opposing wings of the Republican party indicate that Mr. Roosevelt is canvassing the situation very carefully before going out into the political campaign.

ENTERS HARBOR FOR FIRST TIME

Interesting Company Is Aboard Japanese Freighter

Though having called at the port of Honolulu on several occasions the Toyo Kisen Kaisha freighter Kiyo Maru made her initial visit within the harbor limits this morning.

The big Japanese cargo boat comes from Central and South American ports. From Chill she took on a large shipment of nitrates to the amount of twenty-eight hundred tons. This consignment is intended for the several plantations in the islands.

The Kiyo Maru represents a fine type of freight carrier. Her propelling machinery is located at the extreme after part of the ship. The vessel has created a very favorable impression among shipping men who have viewed her as she lies at the Haekfeld wharf where the nitrates is being discharged.

OLAA SPRINGS INTO ACTION

Indications Of Turn To Small Stocks For Trading

Olaa took a big lead in stock trading circles yesterday afternoon, and it was reported this morning that the market had been cleaned up of all the Olaa offering at 5.25. About a thousand shares changed hands yesterday afternoon, and the demand bids fair to increase.

Among the other stocks there is comparatively little doing. Waiwala sold on the board at 132, and between boards at 132.50. Oahu is fairly strong at 32.75. Honokaa is increasing in demand, offers of 19.75 bringing out no stock. Mutual Telephone sold at 15 for a five-share lot.

Evils of Prohibition Are Stated By Business Men

Citizens Duty To Rebuke Woolley

William H. McInerney states: "I firmly believe that it devolves upon the people of Hawaii to resent in the manner in which this question of prohibition and the plebiscite has been forced upon them by Mr. Woolley. We have had three recent examples of secrecy and efforts to solve public questions without the knowledge of the general public and it is time that the people of the Territory arose in a body and resented the methods that typified Woolley's attempt to practically steal the birth-right of the Hawaiian people to govern themselves. This was done and in a manner nothing less than scoundrelly."

Long Illustrates Prohibition Will Ruin Tourist Business

Carlos Long, a member of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners since its organization upon the passing of the present liquor statute by the Territorial Legislature of 1907, declares that the full force and effect of the local option feature in the prevailing law does not appear to be adequately recognized.

John Eflinger, Proprietor Hawaii and South Seas Curio Company, Says:

"The enactment of a prohibitory law in Hawaii would result in the practical ruin of the tourist business. Tens of thousands of dollars have been expended for the bringing of tourists to Hawaii and the returns are just now being received. My business would be reached disastrously by such misdirected legislation, which will serve no good end. The present licensing law gives absolute control of the liquor traffic, something that is desired by all good citizens. Prohibition would destroy the present excellent law and substitute in its place evils against the best interests of Hawaii."

GIRL DEFIES COURT JUDGE

Alma Anderson Proves To Be Regular Virago

There was somewhat of a scene at the District Court this morning when the case of Oscar Anderson who was charged with threatening language, was called. Anderson, who is a decent hardworking man, was proceeded against by his daughter, Alma, who alleged that her father had threatened to cut her throat if she did not marry a certain man.

The father's version of the matter was totally different, and he explained how he had brought his daughter from the Coast six weeks ago, and how he had found out that she was going to the dogs in company of a bunch of young sports who kept her out automobile riding till one and two in the morning. The girl was born in Hawaii, but had left when six years of age; she is now nineteen and is a regular virago. Her attitude in court was most cheeky and the way she answered Judge Andrade, ended in her being sent down to the cells below.

IF URGED, OUR MAYOR MIGHT QUIT POLITICS

Retirement of Mayor Fern was indicated by the rumor current yesterday that Mr. Fern would be given the position recently held with the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company by the late Senator Frank Harvey.

The trouble all started over the rivalry between the two men over their respective universities, Harvard and Yale, and on the last mail the Governor wrote the Acting Governor to the effect that he had seen Harvard walloped at baseball.

HOME RULE MEETING

There is something doing in the Home Rule headquarters this afternoon. What it is, nobody knows except the members, who, it is reported, are talking over some important matters with which President Nottley wishes to familiarize himself.

IS AFTER CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Mott Smith, President of the Board of Health, Territorial Secretary and Acting Governor has a grudge and will take it out on Governor Frear when that gentleman arrives home on the eighteenth.

The trouble all started over the rivalry between the two men over their respective universities, Harvard and Yale, and on the last mail the Governor wrote the Acting Governor to the effect that he had seen Harvard walloped at baseball.

If he had stopped there it might have passed but his exact words were: "I saw Yale beat Harvard at baseball, etc., etc." It was the et cetera repeated twice which struck home in the breast of the Acting Governor, Secretary of the Territory and President of the Board of Health, and those three officials collectively and individually will meet the Governor upon his return to Hawaii next.

Just at present it has not been decided by the three what form of expression of their opinion they will take, but it is whispered that when the Acting Governor leaves the office of the chief executive for Governor Frear to again assume his duties that the table will be scrupulously clean and neat and that in the exact center there will be a whisk broom carefully placed, and that this broom will be tied with the Harvard crimson and a long pennant with "Harvard" in two inch letters will be draped across the back of the executive chair.

TO EXTERMINATE ALL THE RATS

Board of Health Will Wage War Through Chinatown

Dr. Sexton of the Board of Health has been detailed to handle the rat campaign in connection with his other work and has been assigned to work with the Marine Hospital Service to this end.

The rat campaign is carried on by an appropriation by the Territory, but the execution is handled by the Marine Hospital Service, and as this service in Honolulu is now short-handed, Dr. Sexton will take charge of the rat-killing.

BOUNDARY CASE MOTIONS FILED

Deputy Lymer of the Attorney-General's office filed two motions before the Supreme Court this afternoon in the famous boundary case at Hawaii which caused the trouble between Judge Parsons and the Attorney-General recently. One motion was for the submission of new evidence and the other for taking a deposition from a bedridden witness.

RULES ISSUED FOR DEALERS

Liquor Men Receive Instructions From Commission

Number thirteen in the rules just issued by the license commissioners is the most far-reaching of the lot, and is the most radical in that the big red label must be attached to all imitation, compound or blend liquor before July 15.

The thirteen rules which supersede all other rules made by the commission are being distributed to all holders of licenses and are as follows:
 1. All licensed premises shall be kept in good sanitary condition.
 2. All rooms, stalls and similar structures, within licensed saloon premises (other than lavatories or toilet rooms and one store room) shall open into and upon one and the same room and none other, and shall not have doors, screens or other obstructions to a clear and unimpeded view of the interior thereof.
 3. A licensee shall, within seven days after receiving notice in writing from the board, remove such partitions contained within the licensed premises as shall be designated in said notice, and thereafter during the unexpired term of the license, such partition or partitions so designated shall not be restored.
 4. In licensed saloon premises all evening gloves, long and short, kid and silk, just from New York, at Miss Woodward's on Fort street.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Objection to the exhibition of the prizefight pictures did not dim the reception given to Jack Johnson, the negro champion, who arrived home today. The arrival of the champion was marked by a great ovation by the people. The pugilist's party was met by a military band, and a tremendous crowd joined in the greeting.

TRUST RULES ALL TRADE

DECLARES HUMPHREY OF WASHINGTON

He Scores Herr Ballin as Head of Trust and Associated Press Representative for Being in Its Employ.

Representative William E. Humphrey of Washington, the author of the administration ship subsidy bill in the House on June 16, sprang a sensation when he said that the foreign trade of the United States was fixed until it is absolutely at the mercy of foreign ships and foreign competitors.

Mr. Humphrey gave as his authority a report by the "Royal Commission on Shipping Rings," appointed by order of King Edward VII., and declared that he could not explain why the information had not been spread throughout the United States.

At the same time the Washington member called attention to the employment of Mr. Jerome J. Wilbur, of the Washington staff of the Associated Press, by Herr Ballin, the head of a "world wide foreign shipping trust."

Mr. Wilbur has admitted this before the special committee of the House that has been investigating the ship subsidy lobby. He resigned from the Associated Press today when requested to do so, after an investigation by the authorities of the association.

Mr. Humphrey said that all foreign ships running between this country and Europe, South America, South Africa and the Orient, are farmed into "different combinations, conferences or pools." He asserted that these "pools make rates and eliminate competition, having an agreement to destroy any company that attempts to compete with them.

"The head of this world-wide trust," he continued, "is Herr Ballin, by common consent the most influential man in Germany, excepting only the Emperor himself. Herr Ballin today sits in Germany and absolutely 'fixes' the price that the American merchant, the American manufacturer and the American farmer must pay on every pound of freight he sends to Europe or to South America.

"Herr Ballin and Herr Boas, the general manager of this company in this country, have frequently, through the American newspapers denounced the efforts made by the American Congress to do something to assist in building up our merchant marine. Herr Ballin came to this country a few years ago and made a speech in New York city to American business men, insisting that America should permit Germany to carry her commerce on the seas.

"This is the man and this is the company that today absolutely dictates how and on what terms this great nation shall transport its commerce. All this is done without complaint and without protest on our part, and this while the whole country is filled with the sound and fury of the verbal battle to exterminate comparatively small trusts and combines at home."

The British freighter Alden is twenty-one days out from Sydney, N. S. W. The vessel is reported as bringing a cargo of coal for Honolulu.

The Executive Committee of the Home Rule party is meeting this afternoon to set a day for the general political convention to be held in a near future. President Charles K. Notley is presiding.

Eight Hawaiians, who are alleged to have destroyed some growing rice over on the other side of the island, were arrested yesterday but released to appear by Deputy Rose. Judge Humphreys is appearing for the men, and the trouble seems to have arisen through a dispute as to the ownership of certain land on which the rice was planted.

HORSEMAN IS BEATEN UP

Of my parents I know very little—in fact, I never knew them—but I have heard that my mother got wind of a lice filthy back yard in the next block and had started to take up her quarters there when a strong breeze threw her up against the side of a house and killed her. My father wandered off one afternoon and never returned. I also heard that he was foolish enough to get under a bed net to wait for a nice fat baby to be put to sleep, but the chances are that the baby's mother discovered my father and killed him. Oh, this is a wicked world. I wish all the men were as good and kind to us mosquitoes as Mr. Snifkins is.

As soon as I became a mosquito the first thing I learned was to hide away in some dark corner or behind a picture during the daytime, and as soon as I commenced to get evening I would come out and make an attack on the first person I saw. In the first weeks of my mosquito life I tackled only babies, because they would let me bite and suck blood just as long as I wished to. I was afraid of grown-ups; they slapped so hard and quick. I grew braver as I grew older, and take a chance at anybody now, and have become quite an athlete at dodging slaps. I sometimes think us mosquitoes would make good Woolleyites, because we are so expert at dodging the issue.

Famously honors come to me thick and fast. I had hardly flown out of good, kind Mr. Snifkins' old to-mato cans before I was married, and in ten days I was the mother of 1400 dear little mosquitoes, and before I was a month old I was grandmother to 240,863 little mosquitoes.

Some people think that we mosquitoes have no business on earth, and make to kill us at every chance. They even put up money and inaugurate a campaign to exterminate us, using filthy oil and acids in their meanness, going from house to house and injecting the acids and oils into all of our favorite breeding places. Thank the lord, they have not found good, kind old Mr. Snifkins' place yet.

But there are some people who ought to be thankful to us mosquitoes, for we help them wonderfully in their business. If I had my say so I would demand a commission from every undertaker, doctor, gravedigger and hearse-driver. If it were not for us mosquitoes the cemeteries would not be half so full. In directly, we keep most of the crematories hot. Why, I know of lots of cases where I had carefully absorbed a million or so of malaria and typhoid germs and unloaded them in homes where there were no screens to the doors or windows.

There was that little girl, who was just considered the pride of her school, and her old auntie, a dear old lady, whom I used to feast on when nothing more tender showed up, died of typhoid, and when the estate was settled up, the house went to some people who punched holes in all of the to-mato cans that they threw out, and put screens on the windows. That, from a healthy mosquito's standpoint, is ingratitude.

From my hiding place behind the bunch of peacock feathers in the corner of the dining-room I have watched the family sit down to the table and start and finish the meal right there. How different it is with us

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A PEST

By Miss Quito (Mosquito).

My recollections of childhood days are not as vivid as those of "the oldest inhabitant," for I have not always been a good, big, healthy mosquito, still I can remember when I was a little wriggler and had thousands of little brother and sister wrigglers who lived in an old to-mato can. I guess I must have been born in that to-mato can. Old Mr. Snifkins was a dear, good old fellow, for he never bothered with punching any holes in the old cans, as the Board of Health wished him to do, before he threw the cans into the garbage hole. Since I have become a full-fledged mosquito I have had many a kindly thought for old Mr. Snifkins, because he provides such delightful breeding places for all my million children that I have raised and the millions I expect to come out next week. I am afraid I shall have to hunt up some of Mr. Snifkins' relatives and see if they are as careless with their old tin cans as Mr. Snifkins is for my family alone will soon be too large for all the old cans he throws out. If he had only punched some holes in the to-mato cans before he threw them out they would not hold water, and then what would I do for a place in which to lay my eggs? If we did not have hundreds of people like good old Mr. Snifkins there would certainly be race suicide in the mosquito family in dear Hawaii.

Of my parents I know very little—in fact, I never knew them—but I have heard that my mother got wind of a lice filthy back yard in the next block and had started to take up her quarters there when a strong breeze threw her up against the side of a house and killed her. My father wandered off one afternoon and never returned. I also heard that he was foolish enough to get under a bed net to wait for a nice fat baby to be put to sleep, but the chances are that the baby's mother discovered my father and killed him. Oh, this is a wicked world. I wish all the men were as good and kind to us mosquitoes as Mr. Snifkins is.

As soon as I became a mosquito the first thing I learned was to hide away in some dark corner or behind a picture during the daytime, and as soon as I commenced to get evening I would come out and make an attack on the first person I saw. In the first weeks of my mosquito life I tackled only babies, because they would let me bite and suck blood just as long as I wished to. I was afraid of grown-ups; they slapped so hard and quick. I grew braver as I grew older, and take a chance at anybody now, and have become quite an athlete at dodging slaps. I sometimes think us mosquitoes would make good Woolleyites, because we are so expert at dodging the issue.

Famously honors come to me thick and fast. I had hardly flown out of good, kind Mr. Snifkins' old to-mato cans before I was married, and in ten days I was the mother of 1400 dear little mosquitoes, and before I was a month old I was grandmother to 240,863 little mosquitoes.

Some people think that we mosquitoes have no business on earth, and make to kill us at every chance. They even put up money and inaugurate a campaign to exterminate us, using filthy oil and acids in their meanness, going from house to house and injecting the acids and oils into all of our favorite breeding places. Thank the lord, they have not found good, kind old Mr. Snifkins' place yet.

But there are some people who ought to be thankful to us mosquitoes, for we help them wonderfully in their business. If I had my say so I would demand a commission from every undertaker, doctor, gravedigger and hearse-driver. If it were not for us mosquitoes the cemeteries would not be half so full. In directly, we keep most of the crematories hot. Why, I know of lots of cases where I had carefully absorbed a million or so of malaria and typhoid germs and unloaded them in homes where there were no screens to the doors or windows.

There was that little girl, who was just considered the pride of her school, and her old auntie, a dear old lady, whom I used to feast on when nothing more tender showed up, died of typhoid, and when the estate was settled up, the house went to some people who punched holes in all of the to-mato cans that they threw out, and put screens on the windows. That, from a healthy mosquito's standpoint, is ingratitude.

From my hiding place behind the bunch of peacock feathers in the corner of the dining-room I have watched the family sit down to the table and start and finish the meal right there. How different it is with us mosquitoes! I like to take a few ticks in the sloop pull, then a turn at the garbage can, then I am ready to snuggle down real soft like on the sleeping baby of the house. Of course, if the baby dies I have to hunt for another house where there is a baby, for I do not on babies when it comes to spreading disease.

One of my favorite sports is a visit to sick people. It does not matter whether I made them sick or not if they have some contagious disease, so much the better—I am always in the spot. I can carry away more disease-breeding germs than any mosquito that was ever bred in the to-mato cans in good, kind old Mr. Snifkins' garbage pile.

What do I do with these disease-breeding germs? Well, I certainly know my business. If the wind is not too strong I make a bee-line for some house where there is no sickness and bore into some of the family, and before they turn in for the night you bet I have unloaded a goodly supply of germs.

It was only a few days ago that I sat on the corner of a picture frame and watched a young father and mother weeping over the little dead baby of their firstborn. I wondered if they knew that I was the murderer of that little baby. But, then, they must have wanted me, because when I left the house in the morning to find a house where there was another baby, I noticed a lot of empty cans in the fence corner, and taking a look at them I saw a lot of fine, healthy wrigglers, and I really felt sorry for the young couple whose baby I had murdered, for I knew they were friends of mosquitoes.

I have had some narrow escapes during my short life, but the one that gave me the biggest scare and made me think that my mosquito career was finished, was one evening when I had just loaded up with some extra fine germs from the hospital, and had made quite a fight, looking for some new blood to mingle my hospital germs with, when I noticed an open window with no screen. A young lady sat near a lamp reading a book. Her cheek looked so fair and plump that I took a chance at it. As I was about to alight she accidentally brushed her hand across her cheek and yawned, and in trying to escape the movement of her hand I got into the inhale of the yawn, and the first thing I knew I was half-way down her throat. Of course, she commenced to cough and expectorate and gag, and I thought my time had come, but at last I came up with some of the terrible exertions that were being made and landed on the wet grass outside of the window. Well, it was a close call, and in the melee I lost my load of disease germs.

In the States, I am told, the cold winter season kills off large numbers of our big family, but here, thank goodness and good, kind old Mr. Snifkins and his sort, who have such delightfully filthy back yards and never use acids or punch holes in discarded tin cans, we breed the year round.

The Board of Health is our only foe, and it is making the hardest fight ever against me and my kind. But let them do their worst. Let them saturate Hawaii from end to end with their vile wriggler-destroying fluids, only leave us kind, good old Mr. Snifkins' pile of cans, holding stagnant water, and I alone will create faster than they can destroy. I have not "crossed the bridge on the middle of life" yet, still I can name my great-grandchildren back to the tenth generation, and if I escape the slaps that are aimed at me for the next two weeks I can increase the number of my direct descendants to 940,638,428,437.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody, without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." Wm. J. McCRACKEN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. SIZEM, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

London Quotations Give Indication of Dull Market—Weather Favorable for Beet Growing.

The Federal Reporter of June 24 makes the following report on the sugar market:

Raw Sugar.—The market has continued firm, and sales are reported of a further 6000 bags Porto Riccos, due next week, at 4.24c c. i. f., basis 96, to the Federal Sugar Refining Co., 4000 bags to 5000 bags Cubas, for June-July shipment, at 2 3/4c. cost and freight, basis 96, to the Warner Sugar Refining Company, and about 26,000 bags Cuba sugars, in port, at 2 3/4c. cost and freight, basis 96, to Messrs. Arbuttle Brothers. The latter cargo was on a steamer which has been in port since May 12, and had to be sold or stored, as the Government limit would be up in a few days. Yesterday the Federal Sugar Refining Company purchased about 18,000 bags Cuba centrifugals, to be loaded during second half July, at 2 15-16c. cost and freight, basis 96, and Messrs. Arbuttle Brothers secured a further 12,000 bags afloat, at 2 3/4c. cost and freight, basis 96. The general tone of the market is if anything firmer this morning, with most sellers asking freight, basis 96, for Cuba sugars in all positions. One lot of 10,000 bags Cuba Centrifugals is offering at 2 15-16c. cost and freight, for early July loading, and 19,000 bags Porto Riccos, second half July shipment, at 4.30c. c. i. f., basis 96. All refiners are interested in sugars in any position, at 2 3/4c. cost and freight, basis 96, and 4.24c. duty paid, and there is an inquiry from New Orleans, for second half July shipment, at 2 15-16c. cost and freight. All reports from Cuba and Porto Rico state that the remaining stocks are in strong hands, and are being held for higher prices. The spot market is also firm, and all unsold sugars have practically been cleaned up, excepting the cargo of 5000 tons Porto Riccos, which is held at 4.27c., with indications that owners may raise their prices shortly to 4.30c. 4.24c. has been bid and declined for this cargo. We would therefore call the spot market firm, at 4.24c. to 4.27c. duty paid for 96 centrifugals, 3.74c. to 3.77c. duty paid for 89 Muscovades, and 3.49c. to 3.52c. duty paid for 89 molasses sugars. The world's visible supply is 2,340,000 tons, against 2,430,000 tons last year. Messrs. Willott & Gray's estimated stocks afloat to the United States are 102,000 tons, against 125,000 tons last year, and the stocks of the United States and Cuba together 678,080 tons, against 665,377 tons last week, and 593,116 tons last year, an increase of 84,964 tons from last year.

Refined Sugar.—The general tone of the market is improving, and all refiners are positively firm, at 5.15c., less 1 per cent. Sellers are all turning down business which is offered at 5.05c., and moderate sales are reported at 5.15c. to the trade in need of prompt supplies. Withdrawals are generally satisfactory, and most of them call for immediate shipment, showing that the stocks throughout the country are generally moderate, and in some localities very small.

Yesterday the soldier boys at Fort Ruger indulged in a little actual war work. A heavy siege gun was taken from the fort proper to the top of Diamond Head as a trial to ascertain how quickly such a piece of work could be done in time of necessity for such movement. The record was not made public but is said to have been quite creditable.

Cuba.—We have received no special news by mail or cable, and understand the present crop is still expected to turn out 1,700,000 tons to 1,750,000 tons, and the weather at the present time is favorable for the growing crop, but too late to make up entirely for the damage previously caused by the recent severe drought.

Europe.—Cables received the last few days show that the European markets are very firm, with June-July-August beet quoted at 14s. 9d. Mr. F. O. Licht cables today that the weather is favorable for growing beets. Although recently the daily cables which have been received giving the London curb market closing, have indicated a dull market, with considerable decline from the opening prices, we still continue to give these in our reports, although they have little if any effect on the situation here, as the European markets generally open up exactly the opposite in the morning. We quote from Mr. C. Czarnikow's Weekly Circular, dated London, June 16, as follows:

"The American situation will probably become very interesting presently, as probably the States have allowed more than the excess of the Cuban crop to come to this side, if we add up our and Continental imports of Cuban, St. Domingo, etc., and the American refined sugars. The position, therefore, with increased meltings, is hardly as good as last year with regard to supplies, and so far the shortage in shipments from Java, to which we referred previously, is still in existence. At the present moment shippers still find difficulty in obtaining sugars to fill their contracts, the crop being delayed by unfavorable weather. America will require a large quantity of non-preferential sugars for autumn meltings, and will certainly not find a liberal supply of Javas to meet it. U. S. stocks are above last year, but in some quarters it is believed that they are over-estimated."

The London curb market closes flat, as follows:

June—Buyers 14s. 6d., equals 5.09c., duty paid New York.
 July—Buyers 14s. 6 3/4d., equals 5.11c., duty paid New York.
 August—14s. 7 1/2d., equals 5.12c., duty paid New York.
 October-December—Buyers 11s. 3d., equals 4.37c., duty paid New York.

Javas.—The offerings of these sugars still continue light, and principally for August shipment, which will not be available here before October-November. The few June-July cargoes offering are held at prices much above our market, and therefore attract no attention.

Refined Sugar.—The general tone of the market is improving, and all refiners are positively firm, at 5.15c., less 1 per cent. Sellers are all turning down business which is offered at 5.05c., and moderate sales are reported at 5.15c. to the trade in need of prompt supplies. MYSTERIOUS LOSS OF MONEY

(Special Correspondence.) HILO, Hawaii, July 4.—When Neil Boyle left Hilo last Saturday noon he had $985 with him. When he arrived at Honolulu two hours later he did not have the money. The question of whether the money went is now puzzling the police.

Boyle is employed by Contractor Wery of this city, as foreman on the contract he has to build a piece of homestead road at Honoumuli. He has been so employed for the past ten months. Last Saturday Wery gave him the $985, in gold and silver, in order that he might pay off the laborers with it. Boyle has been taking money to the laborers in this manner a number of times, but this was the largest amount he ever had had.

Boyle says that he wrapped the money in his oil suit, which he tied on the back of his saddle before starting horseback for Honoumuli. On the way he felt several times to ascertain if the suit was there. When he arrived at his destination the suit was gone. Boyle had not left the saddle during his trip. The suit was tied at both ends, as it had been when he started out, and there were no breaks or tears in it. Boyle feels positive that the coin must have worked itself out through the jolting of the horse.

Wery and the police are considerably annoyed at the fact that Boyle made no report of the matter until Sunday evening, when he reported it to Wery. He claims that it would have done no good to report the matter any earlier, as the money could not have been located, anyhow, but the police feel that if he had telephoned to them as soon as he discovered the loss, they would have had a good chance to handle the case.

Boyle states that he has been in the Islands thirty years, has been on this island since the Oiaa plantation started, and has always borne a reputation for honesty. He resents any imputation to the contrary.

AGENT ALEXANDER DIES SUDDENLY

(Special Correspondence.) HILO, Hawaii, July 4.—Joseph Alexander, the railroad station agent at Kapoho, died suddenly from heart failure last Thursday morning. The first news of his illness was received at the railroad headquarters at Waialua on Thursday morning, when Henry Lyman telephoned from Kapoho that Alexander was seriously ill. Dr. Irwin immediately started from Oiaa in a special engine for Kapoho. He found Alexander in very bad shape. He was out of his head and was complaining of pain in the region of his heart.

The sick man was placed in a passenger coach, which was attached to the rock train which was leaving for Hilo just then. Between the Pahoia junction and Oiaa Mill, Alexander suddenly sat up, stating that he felt much better and that the pain had disappeared. A moment later he expired. The remains were taken to Hilo, and the funeral took place the following day from Lockington's undertaking parlors, Rev. W. H. Panton-Smith officiating. A number of railroad men and other friends of the deceased attended.

Alexander came from Illinois, and was about fifty-five years of age. He came to the Islands in 1898 and at first worked on the construction of the Oiaa railroad line, later on becoming station agent at Mountain View, whence he went to Keauhou, where he was also a station agent. He took a trip to his home in Illinois, and, returning to Hilo, established a barber shop here. He soon sold out and went to Salina Cruz, and on returning to Honolulu went to work for the O. R. & L. Co. for several months. He then returned to this island and became station agent at Pahoia, later on taking charge of the Kapoho station. Alexander was well liked by his associates, and is highly spoken of by the railroad officials. He was unmarried and, as far as can be learned, leaves no near relatives.

NEXT SESSION MONDAY

The Federal Court will not hold another session until Monday of next week at 10 o'clock in the morning. There have been but three arraignments in the court this week, two on Tuesday which were continued until the last of August, and one yesterday in which sentence for three months was imposed for adultery.

A man's past wouldn't matter so much if it would only stay past. And a woman is willing to take advice—if she doesn't need it. Selfish people expect a lot of credit for being self-sacrificing.

How often a man has cause to return thanks for enthusiasms of his friends! They are the little fountains that run down from the hills to refresh the mental desert of the despondent.—Henry Van Dyke.

Every dollar that is put into Pearl Harbor development means five dollars for the progress of Honolulu.

Mr. Theodore Roosevelt must have added another name to the Ananias Club made famous by President Theodore Roosevelt.

Nineteen days to the Plebiscite! Make your plans to vote No, and give Woolley what it deserves in the Territory of Hawaii.

Politics is not always what it seems when the mayor of the city and the county sheriff are ready and anxious to take positions in private business.

Every time a South American country orders a new warship, it starts the world asking what country is expected to buy it for war purposes.

To vote for Prohibition in this campaign is to vote for Woolley and all the evil things he said of Hawaii and the Hawaiians while in Washington.

Thurston can't even argue himself into believing that Prohibition will accomplish anything but injury for Hawaii, and his articles written "by request" show it.

The wireless has not yet reported whether Secretary Dickinson tinged the atmosphere as a result of his failure to smell Fourth of July brimstone while in Honolulu.

The stock list tells the community that confidence in what Hawaii offers is by no means on the wane. Nothing is more certain than the future of Hawaii's industrial progress.

Mr. Hallinger uses excellent judgment in his decision to take no active part in the politics of the State of Washington or any other State. He has troubles of his own for which the Republican party will be called to account.

Prohibition of the prizefight moving pictures will enable promoters to charge higher prices at the exhibitions given without the consent of the authorities and in the long run reap a larger return. The time to head off those pictures was at the fight.

At the late day the organ of Prohibition discovers that it did not ask Bishop Renslerick to give his views on Prohibition. An outfit that found Jack Johnson to be a total abstainer naturally has no difficulty in making its imagination suit itself to any story of the blow from Bishop Renslerick that almost killed father.

The Superintendent of Public Works must have thought he was raising the water rate for some taxpayer's lawn, when he waved his imperial fiat and ordered the city to curb the Territory's property. The best solution of both these problems is to do away with the Superintendent of Public Works and place the care of the water system and the curbing where it belongs.

YOUR PRECINCT MEETING.

Don't forget your precinct meeting on Friday evening.

Don't forget that a plan has been shaping up for some months past to put the Republican party under the most complete system of boss rule that was ever worked out for application to the politics of this city and this Territory.

Don't forget that although the work has been going on rather quietly, the first place for the agents of boss rule to show their hand and make their first move for the control of the organization and the conventions, is the party precinct primary.

Don't forget that the place to block boss rule is in the precinct club and every Republican should be on hand to give his voice and his vote for straightforward methods and men who can be depended upon to act for the people in all party matters.

PROHIBITIONISTS AND GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

One of the threats of the Prohibition campaigners is that the people of Hawaii must vote for Prohibition or they will get Government by Commission.

This is on a par with the bald falsehoods that are the last resort of Prohibitionists everywhere. Nothing could be more removed from the truth.

As a matter of fact the exact reverse is the truth of it.

One has only to take a view of the leading spirits in the Prohibition cause to prove the deception that the campaigners are foisting upon the voters whom they take to be ignorant.

Thurston, the chief exponent of Government by Commission, is the chief worker with Woolley in the cause of Prohibition. No intelligent voter of Hawaii who knows Thurston's record can doubt that he would use a favorable vote for Prohibition as a weapon to again wage his Government by Commission campaign. He will claim that his contentions have been vindicated.

Woolley is another in the same general class but not so long in the service of deceiving the voters of Hawaii.

Woolley's efforts in Washington were centered on trying to prove the incompetence of the Hawaiian-American voters of this Territory, and that is the great cry of the forces of Government by Commission.

Congress gave Woolley a slap in the face by asserting its confidence in the ability of our people to decide for themselves.

What then would the Congress of the United States think of a people who by their vote endorsed the men by whom they have been vilified, misrepresented, ridiculed and condemned.

Voters of Hawaii will depend upon it that should they vote favorably for Prohibition, that vote will be used by the agents of Government by Commission who are also the agents of who successfully strive for the mastery."

What would a man like Boutelle think of voters who after repeatedly declaring themselves against the restriction of their rights and privileges, and appealing to Congress for broader responsibilities of citizenship, aspiring even to the dignity of organization as a sovereign State; what would such a member of Congress think of a people who deliberately voted for levying further restrictions upon the people and by that vote endorsed the men who have been constantly at work to take away the privileges of self government that are now enjoyed in Hawaii?

Boutelle would vote NO in the Hawaii plebiscite and swell the majority.

RESULT BUT NOT CAUSE OF WRONG

Editor Evening Bulletin:—There was a minister of the Gospel—I forget just where—who delivered a sermon, the main points of which I now recall to mind through the present "Prohibition" agitation, or rather, agitation. The preacher to whom I refer spoke of the story of Rip Van Winkle, saying that Rip was a drinker, but the squirrel in the story was not a drinker, and yet it was the squirrel who robbed Rip of his wife; and it is just such men as the squirrel mentioned who break homes and ruin nations. He went on to say that the prohibitionist's attention should be called to the fact that in attributing all the evils to drink he is fighting a fiction. The facts of life are against him.

The sin is not caused by the object which man covets. The sin is in the man coveting. If there had been no money for Judas to itch after, he would have coveted something else, and by removing the money from his reach you don't make him a better man. As John Milton says: "You can take a man and build walls around him and prevent him from having any intercourse with the outside world, but Prohibition as a declaration favorable to an overthrow of popular government and substituting their scheme for "government by a few of us."

That is one of the reasons why the men who have the best interests of Hawaii and its people at heart will vote NO in the plebiscite.

PROHIBITION'S FAILING CAUSE.

On the whole, it has not been good for prohibition in the West. This is the conclusion of the New York World, which may be taken as an authority as against the local Prohibition organ that discovered Jack Johnson to be a total abstainer. There has been voting under local option by towns in Illinois, Nebraska and Colorado and by counties in Michigan, with obvious advantages to the thirsty. In Topeka, Kan., there was no direct liquor issue, but a Mayor was elected who is understood to favor license.

In Illinois 39 "dry" towns turned to "wet," while only 19 reversed that process. Seventy-two "wet" towns and 110 "dry" remained as they were. Decatur, which went "dry" by 1,020 two years ago, is now "wet" by 500. The cities generally remain with the license party.

In Colorado the "dry" voters made a gain of two towns in 23 voting, but the "wets" still have 13 of the number.

Twenty counties out of 36 voting in Michigan returned "dry" victories, but these will close only 282 saloons out of 1,161 in the voting territory. Of 26 counties, already "wet" 14 voted to stay so, while of 10 "dry" counties in the voting lot two reversed themselves.

Kent County, reversing Grand Rapids, repudiated the prohibitionists by a 7,500 majority after a hot campaign. Wexford and Oakland Counties returned to the license column after two years of drought. An interesting "dry" victory was won in trial by jury was denied. One provision prohibited any sort of "liquor advertising." Another provided for the impeachment of officers who should fail to put the law into effect.

Such an ironical statute ought, one would think, to have satisfied the Alabama prohibitionists; but it didn't. They conceived a violent desire to put their statewide prohibition into the state's constitution. They drew up their proposed amendment accordingly, and submitted it to the people. The people rejected it; the adverse majority was in excess of 27,000 votes—a thumping big majority as Alabama majorities go. That was the first unmistakable proof that the flood had subsided. Monday of this week brought another proof. Mallory (Prohibitionist) and O'Neal (anti-prohibitionist) were competitors in the Democratic State primary, each seeking the nomination for the governorship, and it's O'Neal who is the nominee. His majority in Monday's primary ran up into the thousands.

A decisive victory for temperance; the crazy idea of universal prohibition is passing, says the "Richmond Times-Dispatch." It was inevitable that the pendulum should swing slowly back toward readjustment, says the "Atlanta Constitution," to which journal it also "appears certain that open bar-rooms will never return to Alabama, as it is equally certain that open bar-rooms will never return to Georgia." A mistake was made by the prohibitionists in forcing the fight for prohibition before the people had been sufficiently educated for it, says the "Savannah News." Alabama is giving South Carolina an object-lesson on the evils of intemperance in legislation, says the "Columbia State." It does not mean that Alabama has been handed over to the liquor forces, but it does mean that the people of Alabama have set their faces against fanaticism, says the "Charleston News and Courier." It forecasts the end of the prohibition wave and the return of the sane counsels, says the "Louisville Courier-Journal."

Ingham County, which holds Lansing, the state capital.

In Nebraska 135 cities and villages voted. Seventy-six of these were carried for license. In the State now the "wet" forces hold 89 towns, with a total population of 171,185; the "dry" sign is on 67 towns, population 86,713. Eleven "wet" towns and 15 "dry" ones flopped during the recent municipal elections.

CONGRESSMAN'S LESSON FROM PROHIBITION.

Representative Boutelle of Illinois is a pretty level headed sort of a man. Some of the leading Prohibitionists of Hawaii are mighty glad to get the assistance of his voice and vote when it comes to passing upon measures for Hawaii, and they speak well of his judgment, acumen and integrity. Consequently it is safe to assume that Representative Boutelle would not ordinarily be shuffled by Thurston and Woolley into Woolley's class of guerrillas of evil and timidity—not unless Thurston and Woolley knew of his conclusions on Prohibition.

Mr. Boutelle in a recent address stated his convictions on Prohibition. He said he had learned three lessons from Prohibition and these were:

That prohibition did not prohibit. That when the open sale of mild beverages was prohibited, the surreptitious sales of strong spirits of an inferior quality greatly increased.

That there was an appalling increase in prohibition states, in the demand for patent medicines, tonics, and narcotic drugs.

He declared that prohibitory laws, whether effective or ineffective, were regarded by the wisest statesmen and philanthropists as out of harmony with the spirit of ideal government of an enlightened free people.

"In this country," he said, "we first reversed the wisdom of the ages and agreed that the majority should not interfere by secular legislation with any man's religion. Now we are also quite agreed that the majority shall not encroach on the individual in his choice of food, apparel, amusements and occupation."

He concluded by saying that fortunately the cause of genuine temperance was advancing rapidly.

"Temperance in all things," said he, "is the amulet worn by all those

12. No chairs, benches, tables or pictures objectionable to the board shall be kept on any saloon premises.

13. On or before July 15, 1910, all containers of blends (except where such blends are blends of straight whiskeys), compound, type, or imitation liquor, must bear a label attached in a conspicuous place, designating whether such liquor be a compound, blend, type, or imitation, such label to be colored red, and at a length of four and a half inches, and a width of one inch; the lettering to be of heavy black type, of not less than one-quarter of an inch in height. In case any licensee shall fail to have labeled, or offer for sale, any of the above designated liquors, without such labels, it will be within the power of the board to suspend or revoke such licensee's license.

"The fact that a majority of the registered voters in the precinct do not want the saloon is enough and is absolutely final."

"An illustration of this local option clause is presented in the case of Ishihara of Wai'anae. A majority of the voters in his precinct objected and the Board refused the Japanese license. It was mandatory to refuse the license.

"The closing of all saloons could be obtained under the present law if the sentiment of the community is favorable. The saloons on the island of Kauai have been closed and it can be done in other parts of the Territory if the people want it."

DOZEN DEPUTIES GUARD RECORDS AT GUTHRIE

Suit Case of Oklahoma Labor Commissioner Leaving State House is Searched.

GUTHRIE, Ok., June 26.—Leo Meyer, Assistant Secretary of State, said today that all records of the State would be moved to Oklahoma City immediately upon completion of vaults for their reception, but to enforce the injunction issued by District Judge Huston, Saturday night, 12 special deputy sheriffs were sworn in last night and are guarding the Statehouse.

Charles Daugherty, State Labor Commissioner, when leaving the Statehouse for Oklahoma City this morning, was stopped by an officer, who opened his suitcase and examined its contents. No State records were found and he was then permitted to proceed.

It is announced that Judge Hook of Leavenworth or Judge Pollock of Kansas City will preside in the United States Circuit Court at the hearing, June 17, when the legality of the removal of Oklahoma's capital until after 1913 will be argued. A bill of equity was filed in the Federal Court by former Chief Justice John H. Burford, representing the Guthrie Capital Campaign Committee, asking an injunction to prevent the capital's removal on the ground that the act of Congress granting statehood to Oklahoma and Indian Territory stated specifically that no capital removal should even be voted upon till after 1913.

In the meantime, the business of the State is being transacted at Oklahoma City, where all of the officials have gone, taking temporary quarters in various buildings.

It is denied here that Gov. Haskell's daughter was hooted and jeered from the streets, or that insult of any nature was offered to any member of the Governor's family.

CALIFORNIA OIL INVESTMENTS.

$1000 invested in the stock of the Claremont only a comparatively short time ago is returning $1598 in dividends, and the shares can now be sold for $13.653. This is one of the many instances we can cite you where large returns have been made in oil stocks.

The officers of the Lincoln Mortgage & Loan Co. make frequent trips through the oil fields to inform themselves at first hand of the condition of properties whose stock they offer to the public. They are the largest dealers in Oil stocks in California.

A branch office has been established here for the accommodation of their many clients on these Islands, who are now able to make their purchases of oil stocks in Honolulu.

Of the active low-priced stocks we recommend the immediate purchase of shares of the Ventura Oil Development Co. at 15c. each. The progress of this company has been very rapid and its present outlook indicates a quick advance in the price of these shares in the near future.

This stock offers an excellent opportunity for the small investor to make large profits. Take your shares now. It is your opportunity. Your fortune. Buy without delay.

WILL CELEBRATE HIS JUBILEE

Tomorrow at St. Andrew's--Bishop Willis of Tonga Was Bishop at Honolulu for Thirty Years.

Fifty years a priest in the Episcopal church is the record of Bishop Willis of Tonga, who was Bishop of Honolulu for thirty years prior to 1902.

It was on July 8, 1869, in Mercer's Chapel, Ironmonger street, London, that the Bishop was made a priest, and the fiftieth anniversary of the event will be observed in St. Andrew's Cathedral tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock when the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated by Canon Ault.

He held the bishopric in Honolulu until the church was transferred from English control to that of the American Episcopal church, when Bishop Restarick came here and Bishop Willis went to Tonga.

Bishop Willis left many friends in Honolulu who will join in the celebration of his jubilee tomorrow at the cathedral.

His literary work included an enlarged translation of the Hawaiian Prayerbook, translation of Catechism of Chief Truths of Christian Religion, and publisher of Hawaiian Hymnbook, containing more than three hundred hymns.

Rt. Rev. Alfred Willis was the son of Fras. Willis, M. D., and was born at Shillingthorpe Hall, near Stamford Lines, on February 3, 1836, and was married September 23, 1863, to Emma Mary, third daughter of the late Captain Simson of the British army and granddaughter of the late Sir R. G. Simson, Bart. Bishop Willis was educated at Uppingham School under Dr. Henry Holden, and Doctor Thwing at St. John's College, Oxford. He became a B.A. in 1859, M.A. in 1864. He was made a deacon in 1859 and a priest on July 8, 1869, in the Mercers' Chapel, Ironmonger street, London. He was consecrated the second bishop of Honolulu on February 2, 1872, in the chapel of Lambeth Palace by the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the bishops of London, Winchester and Rochester. He was curate of Strood, Kent, from 1859 to 1862, and incumbent of St. Mark, New Hampton, Kent, from 1863 to 1872.

MENEOFGLIO IS GOING TO KAUALI

Alfred Menefoglio, superintendent of the Hawaiian Electric Company, is to leave the city soon to take charge of the establishment of the Kauai Electric Company at Wailiha, Kauai. Mr. Menefoglio will take the position held for some years by Mr. Hudson.

The plant of the Kauai Electric Company has been very materially increased and strengthened in recent months and is giving splendid service for the pumping plants of the McBryde sugar plantation. There has always been talk that this plant would be developed to furnish electricity for the Kauai railway. Whether this is to be taken up under Mr. Menefoglio's management is not yet known.

BIG PAY FOR BULL FIGHTER

Will Receive $10,000 for Each of Four Appearances During Mexican Centennial in September.

Mexico City, June 19.--Jose del Rivero has been made manager of Compañia El Toreo, which operates in this city the largest bull ring in the world. Del Rivero has recently left for Spain via New York, for the purpose of booking bullfighters for the coming season. Antonio Fuentes, the greatest of all bullfighters, has already signed a contract to come to Mexico for four performances during September, the month of the Mexican centennial. The management has agreed to give Fuentes $10,000 for each performance, which is said to be the highest price ever paid a matador. Fuentes retired from the ring last year, but as a special concession, he has agreed to come to Mexico on this occasion. His performances here he declares will be positively his last. After the fourth appearance he will cut his queue, the mark of distinction worn by all bullfighters, and quit, after having enjoyed for years the distinction of having been the greatest matador who ever entered a bull ring.

The season for bull-fights opens this year on September 1, which is about six weeks earlier than usual, by reason of the centennial celebration.

LOOKING FOR UNION BENEFITS

(Special Correspondence.)

HILO, Hawaii, July 4.--Since the Hilo Labor Union has begun to prosper and grow in membership the politicians are beginning to sit up and take notice, and a number of candidates are nosing around with a view to joining if sufficient inducement offers.

The union held a special meeting last Friday evening for the purpose of making arrangements for its Fourth of July parade, and on this occasion a couple of prospective candidates for the office of county attorney modestly submitted themselves to the union. There were over a hundred members present, and the offers of the legal gentlemen were not accepted without a fight.

Deputy County Attorney Heen submitted his application for membership, as well as an offer to act as the legal advisor of the union, without compensation. A long discussion followed. Many of the leaders were in favor of taking the bait and leaving the hook; that is, to accept Heen's legal services and leave the membership proposition alone.

Chairman Ewaliko took these gentlemen to task. There should, he said, be no funny business and no political schemes in the union. He called for a vote on the admission of Heen as a member, and on this Heen was admitted.

S. K. Kahana proposed that County Attorney Beers be admitted as a member, if being evident that Beers did not propose to let his deputy get ahead of him in the game.

Another long palaver followed. Ewaliko, who had not noticed that Beers was present, jumped the members for proposing for membership men who had not sent in their applications. When the union was being organized, he said, the county officials had been conspicuous by their absence, and it was only when they saw how the organization had grown that their backers wanted to get them on the band wagon.

Kahana called attention to the fact that Beers was present, and said that that gentleman was anxious to have his name proposed. He was also willing to sign the roll.

Ewaliko said that in such case Beers was eligible, if he would sign the roll. Beers stepped forward and gracefully did so, whereupon he made a short address, calling attention to the fact that he had been the secretary of the first labor union which had ever been started in Hilo.

In addition to the legal gentlemen, ten Portuguese became members, and the union now claims a membership of 236.

We received this week. We received one last week—it's sold. This one won't be on our floor long, but we have a lot more strung out between Honolulu and Reading, Pa. There is such a demand for Reading-Standard that we have to take them as we can get them, and where we expected eight in one shipment, we have only received so far two in two shipments.

We carry a good assortment of Parts for the Reading-Standard.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY GAMES

WASEDAS TACKLE MARINES AND PORTUGUESE ATHLETICS

Two Games on Both Days at Athletic Park—The Visitors Are in Great Form, but Marines Are Determined to Win.

On Saturday next the Wasedas will go up against the Marine baseball nine, and an exciting and close match is anticipated. The visitors have been practicing hard and have improved a lot in their play. They should be in the best possible form when they step onto the diamond on Saturday.

The Marines are determined to give the Wasedas a beating and have arranged for three hundred of their mates to be on hand in order to do some rooting stunts that will make all other efforts look like ten cents.

The half-wets are playing good ball nowadays, and it would surprise nobody if the Wasedas went down in defeat to the Camp Very representatives. If that does happen, there is going to be a great scene of excitement at the Athletic Park, and the cheers will probably be heard at Diamond Head.

The first game on Saturday will be between the J. A. C. and the Oahu College Alumni, and if the Japanese can only get their proper team together there is going to be a great struggle for sure. The ex-students are a nifty lot of ball players and should make the champions of the Oahu league sit up and take notice.

On Sunday the opening game will be one of the regular series, and the Japanese Athletics will play the Chinese Athletics. It is to be hoped that Apau does a little better work than he did against the Wasedas on Monday. The game should keep the crowd amused and warm them up for vigorous rooting in connection with the big game between the Wasedas and the Portuguese Athletics.

The P. A. C. nine is the best the club can get together, and with Louie Soares at the helm of things, there should be a chance of the local team winning against the Japanese 'varsity men.

The visit of the Wasedas has stirred up the ball fans of the island, and the Athletic Park is hardly large enough to accommodate the crowds of people who wish to see the games. On Saturday there may be a falling off as regards attendance, as many fans can not get away from work early in the afternoon.

On Sunday, however, there will surely be an immense crowd present, and the two games should be well worth seeing. Jack Doyle will be on hand to lead the rooters, and he has the Japanese behind him for sure.

Tickets are going off well for the boxing show that is to take place at the Aloha Park on Saturday night, and there should be a big crowd present to see Ironman McCollough go up against Hoao, who has yet to taste the bitterness of defeat.

The Kamehameha returned from Maui yesterday, and the crew then heard of the mishap to the Charlotte C. The Gladys reached port on Tuesday, and the Charlotte C. may come in any time.

Jack Corde! is renewing his friendships in town and yesterday took a run all over the city. Jack may get a match with Pat Cornyn, who will probably return from the Coast and box the man who was defeated by Dick Sullivan.

A return match between the Cleveland and Chattanooga nines will be played tomorrow afternoon at the league grounds.

TRANSPACIFIC RACE.

YACHTS WILL START JULY 9

SIX BOATS MAY TAKE PART IN GREAT EVENT

First Mate Stroud Expects Hawaii to Do Good Work—Mallilou Will Be Sailed by L. T. Ward—Fourteen Days for Voyage.

On Saturday next the great transpacific yacht race will start from San Pedro, and besides the Hawaiian representative it is expected that five other boats will compete in the event.

The Sweetheart, the yawl Mallilou, the Gwendolyn II, La Jivara and schooner-yacht Skidbladnir may all start, and the Hawaii would make six contestants. The race was originally meant to be started on July 4, but the natural desire of all the yachtsmen to see the Jeffries-Johnson fight led to the date being changed to Saturday next.

The Hawaii is in fine shape from all accounts, and it is thought that she will do better in this race than she did in the last one. First Mate Stroud of the Hawaii feels confident that the Honolulu boat will go close to winning, and as he was on board her when the other race was sailed in 1908, he should know something about the matter.

The yawl Mallilou, which is owned by Francis Smith of Pearl Harbor, will be sailed in the race by L. T. Ward of the Aeolian Yacht Club. Ward is a brother of W. S. Ward, who for years was manager of Keeaule store at Olan, Hawaii.

The San Francisco papers allude to William Tornstrom, who is on the Hawaii, as a very competent man and state that he was at one time in command of the schooners Landow and Comet in the lumber trade between Seattle and San Pedro.

The Hawaii took twenty-one and a half days to make the trip up to the mainland, and it is thought that the run down to Honolulu will be made in about fourteen days. It will depend on the wind a lot, of course, but the general impression is that the winning boat will reach Honolulu somewhere about July 24.

Prince Cupid is coming down on the Hawaii, and he should have a good time and a complete rest that will set him up in fine style. Tornstrom will stick to the Hawaii and make the round trip in her.

While all the hopes of Hawaii are centered on the local boat, it is admitted that as she has to give a handicap to all the rest of the boats, she will have a hard time to come in a winner. Still, everybody hopes that the Honolulu representative does better than she did last time, and that the hard work of Wilder and his crew be rewarded with success.

Bill Hulhu! is taking care of Hoao, and Wahlan! is also with the bunch. The two men who are to box on Saturday night feel confident of success, and McCollough and Terrien will have to be in good condition to have a show against the two native boys.

McCollough, the boxer who is to take on Jim Hoao next Saturday night, is training for the event and is shaping up well.

POLO MEN GETTING INTO EXCELLENT FORM

Four Teams to Compete in Inter-Island Tournament During August—Ponies in Good Shape.

Yesterday afternoon at Moanalua there were ten polo players out for a practise, and some good work was done by the Reds and Blues. A regular game was not played, as the men changed sides frequently and no track of the goals scored was kept.

Some of the ponies are getting into fine shape, and by the time the interisland tournament takes place there will be a good bunch of polo nags to be seen in the stables at Moanalua. A number of ponies are stabled at Squire Damon's place, and they are being taken care of by a corps of expert boys who know a thing or two about horses.

No definite date has been settled for the interisland tournament, but it is thought that August 20, 24 and 27 would about suit everybody. The Puuene harvest festival takes place on August 12, and the Maui polo men happen to also be the tennis representatives, and they are consequently wanted on Maui on the occasion of the festival.

Four teams will take part in the tournament, and Maui, Oahu, Kauai and the Fifth Cavalry will be the stars who will fight it out at Moanalua and Lilehua.

BASKETBALL TO BE ALL THE GO AT Y.M.C.A.

Team Is Selected for Practise and a Match Will Be Played With the Fort Shafter Soon.

Basketball will once more hold sway at the Y. M. C. A., and the members have reorganized the team which has been out of business for a couple of years now. J. S. Nott was elected captain at a meeting held last night, and the men who hope to make the team were practicing in the gymnasium.

There is a probability of the Fort Shafter boys playing a match with the Y. M. C. A. bunch, and as soon as the latter team gets into practise some fine games should be seen.

Among those who were practicing last night were J. Honan, Stewart, Dwight, Marcellino, Hooper, Gardia, Axtell, S. Burns, Cottrell, Gunn and Nott. The men did some good work and should be in fine form. R. S. Gault is coaching the players and he hopes to get them going properly in a few days.

TO INCORPORATE THE SETTLEMENT

The meeting at the Central Union church, held yesterday, for the stated purpose of reporting on the recent meeting of the Hawaiian Evangelical convention at Kailua, did not give that subject all the time that was at first proposed. The subject of the Palama Settlement was introduced and held the attention of those present for the larger part of the time that the meeting was in session.

W. R. Castle was of the opinion that the settlement should be incorporated, and that no hindrance should be put in the way of the settlement being put on a business basis and having other advantages that were allowed to other corporations.

Others at the meeting spoke in favorable terms of the proposition of incorporating the settlement.

Considerable discussion was entered into over the matter, and the final understanding was that the trustees of the church give over to the incorporators.

The matter now goes to the trustees, and after they pass it, the papers of incorporation will probably be issued.

HONOLULU GIRL WEDS ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—The wedding of Miss Villa Hart of Honolulu and William G. Allen took place yesterday at St. Luke's church.

The bride and bridegroom were unattended, and the ceremony was quietly performed, a few intimate friends only being present.

Mr. Allen and his bride will spend several days at the St. Francis prior to their departure for a honeymoon trip in the South. Their future home will be at Foreston.

The bridegroom is a well-known young business man, connected with a prominent San Francisco firm, and the bride is a member of a well-known Honolulu family.

MY STORY of MY LIFE

CHAPTER IV.

IN WHICH I HAVE THE CHANCE OF MY LIFE AS CORBETT'S SPARRING PARTNER.

I WAS nineteen when the talk of my friends began to sink in. I grew tired of boxing for fun and decided to take a change. I was pretty well fitted for fighting. At nineteen I stood six feet two or very close to it, weighed 228 pounds stripped and measured just thirty-three inches around the waist.

Billy Gallagher was quitting too. He had been doing a little fighting now and then and had been offered a match with Danny Needham, middleweight in those days. Billy was going to San Francisco to train and wanted me to work with him.

After his fight he was to look around and match me against some heavy-weight.

It's lucky I didn't think much of the money and just about that time, Billy Gallagher and I went to San Francisco.

co. Billy trained, and I worked like a horse with him, boxing and rubbing him down and making myself generally useful, not because I regarded the chance of getting coin out of it, but because he was my friend and I wanted to help him win. He fought Needham on the date set to a draw. He got his end of the purse, and then he skipped with out leaving me a cent. That was my first qualification with the rough side of the game. They say there's no gratitude in a Belter. That was my opinion when I knew that I had been left in the lurch by my one friend. However, I figured it out that he probably missed the money more than I did. I was not broke, but I wasn't a soft head either. I could fight somebody.

I did. The gentleman's name was Dan Long, and he hailed from Denver. The purse for that fight was a thousand dollars in gold round, hard, useful United States twenty dollar gold pieces. It looked like a nut to me after knocking out a few dollars a day handling iron. That thousand dollars settled things. It made me decide that there wasn't any trade for me but slinging fists.

I have to laugh every time I think about that fight with Long. He was a good big fellow and strong enough and knew a little, so he had more of a reputation than I had.

Well, we got into the ring on the night of the fight, and as soon as the bell rang we walked into each other. I guess Long thought he'd lay me out. But I had seen that purse, and a cannon ball wouldn't have stopped me.

The first round might have been about an even thing. In the second I straightened my left arm out and punched Long right on the nose so hard that he dropped. The referee counted over him until he resumed ten, and that was enough. I got the coin.

Looking back over my first two fights, I can't say that my style has ever changed very much. I have fought a lot of champions and have worked with a lot of good men like Corbett and Fitzsimmons in training camps, and yet that trick of crouching a little and using my left hand for the knockout blow has stuck to me. I get them all in the body.

I have never struck a man with my full strength, because I've never cared to risk the result. I knock my men out carefully. Even in the excitement of winning the championship from Fitzsimmons I put over the last punch just hard enough to do the work. It only needed a tap, and if I had hit full force I might have killed him. In our second fight Fitzsimmons cut me to pieces. He was the shiftest fighter in the world. He was trying to close my eyes and did have me nearly blinded. But for all that I judged my last punch and put it in with just force enough to win.

One reason why I've never struck a blow with my full force is that I've never felt myself being let down. If I ever do, then I'll draw on the last reserve, and whatever I hit is going to crack.

It was easy money for me that thousand dollars. I bought a suit of clothes

HARRY CORBETT, INTRODUCED BY BILLY DELANEY.

Twenty dollar gold pieces like that for simply boxing a round or two and then hitting the other fellow on the nose. Why, that would make a man's wages for six or eight months in the boiler shop, and at good pay too. I slipped some of it into the bank, but kept a few double eagles in my pockets just for the fun of hearing them rattle and clink. Some good clothes and a new Stetson with a trim as fit as your dinner table and a few less hit my fancy. I was in luck. I had like a best fight.

To add to the luck of the occasion I was offered a match with another heavy-weight, a husky fellow named Van Buskirk, formerly a member of the Olympic club and amateur champion, but now a professional and well thought of. One or two people told me that Van Buskirk would eat me, but I don't think so. He was a big fellow with shoulders that would have touched each side of a doorway. These shoulders stood up to his ears, leaving him without any neck worth mentioning. He had big blue eyes and pushed his eyebrows up until his forehead wrinkled. He stuck out his lower lip and looked as savage as he could when he talked about fighting, and his head was so flat behind that his thick neck bulged out beyond it. If you rolled a marble over Van's head from front to back it would drop into his collar. He had long arms like a gorilla's and fists like hams. They thought he was a terror, and he thought so too. We made the match.

I was very anxious to fight Van Buskirk and go after the next fellow, whoever he might be. But here my luck shifted. I don't know whether it was the change of climate or some foolish stunt or other, but anyway I suddenly went down with pneumonia. After a hard siege of it I found myself out on the street, thin as a rat and feeling so weak that I could hardly walk.

A month at home for a visit and a hunting trip, and then, feeling so strong and well that I couldn't stay idle any longer, I went north again, looking for trouble.

The first match I was offered was with Jack Steiner. Jack was a fairly good heavy-weight in his blue and a fine fellow. He was a big, strong youngster who left firing a locomotive back east in Missouri and took up fighting iron. He might have had better luck in the ring if he hadn't attached himself to Bob Fitzsimmons for several years as sparring partner. Fitzsimmons was a rough man to work with. He battered Steiner up so much that it took many a good fight out of him. Steiner was in Carson with Fitzsimmons. He was hired at work, and the match fell through.

Just about this time a little thing happened that changed my whole fighting career. If I hadn't become acquainted with Harry Corbett in San Francisco I might have gone along for years fighting second raters.

Harry Corbett was one of Jim Corbett's brothers. There were several boys in the Corbett family all interested in sport in one way or another. Joe about that time was pitching for the Baltimore Orioles. Jim of course was world's champion and was about to fight Fitzsimmons a "championship" battle up in the Seagrush State. Harry was no athlete, but a good sport. He owned a cafe on Ellis street in San Francisco and in the rear of the large room was a pool room. Harry was known as an absolutely honest sport. I never saw the day when I would have heard of overhauling him every dollar I had and sending him back for it when it was needed.

Naturally he's the most prominent sporting man in the city or in the west and being brother to Cleveland Jim Corbett, Harry Corbett looked as big as the president of the United States to me. So when one day he asked me if I'd like to join Jim at Carson and work with him the idea hit me about right. Harry sent for Billy Delaney, who was with Jim and had handled him in the great fight with Sullivan at

New Orleans. Delaney came from Oakland and Harry introduced us. Delaney looked me all over and then he asked me if I thought I could handle the work.

"Because," he said, "he is a nervous sort of fellow and likes to drive hard. He doesn't want any late sleepers in his camp."

"Well," I said, "I don't know about Corbett, but no ironworker could ever set too hot a pace for me."

pneumonia, I got a good overcoat. In a few days Billy Delaney and I left for Carson.

From Carson we drove out to Snow's Springs, where Corbett was already working. It lacked only about a month of the big fight on March 17. I'll never forget my feelings as I stepped from the rig in front of the little mountain hotel and thought that at last one ambition was to be fulfilled. I wasn't fighting a champion yet, but within a few hours I'd know what it felt like to be punched by a real champion, and if I wasn't mistaken I would know what it felt like to punch one.

Charlie White was a great friend of Corbett's in New York. He was one of the best known sporting men in the east. He knew how to train fighters and was an experienced referee. They told me that he brought out a lot of first class men in his time.

Gus Hullin was a big young fellow in Akron. He worked in a rolling mill or something like that, and when he wasn't working he played football. After becoming a local champion Gus went to New York to go after something bigger. There everybody told him to see Charlie White.

After awhile along came the Corbett-Fitzsimmons match. Fitz went to Carson to train, and Corbett, who had been doing a lot of light work, fixed it up to start for Nevada. He was to have Charlie White as an adviser as well as Billy Brady, his manager, and Billy Delaney, who had trained him for the great fight with Sullivan in New Orleans.

"Charlie," said Corbett, "I don't want any clever sparrers to work with for this fight. Fitzsimmons is a rough, awkward fighter, and I want some fast big man who can go at me in his style."

"I know just the man you want," said Charlie, and he told Corbett all about the football player in Akron.

"He'll do," said Jim. "I play Cleveland and two or three towns on the way west. Wire him to meet me at the theater in Cleveland on Monday night so that I can look him over."

"Better wire him yourself. Your name on the telegram may catch it," Charlie advised.

So Corbett sent Hullin a wire, and, sure enough, when he got to Cleveland there was big Gus waiting for him. Corbett talked with him a little and had him go through a few motions. Then he told Gus to go back to Akron and pack his grip and wait until he got the word to start for Carson. Poor Gus did it. He quit his job, packed everything he had in the world and sat down to wait. He might be waiting yet if he was a wooden leg. Corbett forgot to wire.

And the reason why Corbett forgot to wire was that just after seeing

"I KNOW JUST THE MAN YOU WANT," SAID WHITE TO CORBETT.

Hullin he had a message from Billy Delaney. "I've got just the man you want," telegraphed Billy. That man was Jim Jeffries, as you may have guessed. Corbett set down and thought it over. Finally he concluded that Billy Delaney being his old handler and Billy Delaney's man being a Californian like himself, he'd better stick to Billy.
