Washington: The United States will send an 11 member delegation to Moscow to sign the partial nuclear test ban treaty. The delegation, headed by Secretary of State Rusk, will leave tonight, and the treaty is expected to be signed at a ceremony Monday. The group will include five U.S. senators, three Democrats and two Republicans. Others accompanying Rusk will include William Foster, Director of Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; Dr. Glenn Seaborg, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission; Adlai Stevenson, U.N. ambassador; Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to Russia and now special assistant to Rusk; and Arthur Dean, who formerly headed the U.S. delegation at the Geneva disarmament talks. Skopje, Yugoslavia: Fourteen new tremors hit earthquake shattered Skopje Wednesday as demolition teams completed the destruction of unsalvageable buildings. No damage was caused by the tremors, although one reached five on the Mercalli Scale at a seismological observatory. The demolition of standing buildings continued and insecticide was sprayed to prevent pestilence. A few buildings were splashed with yellow paint to indicate they are considered reconstructable, but most building shells were marked with red, the sign for demolition. A U.S. Army field hospital unit flown here from Germany announced it will remain in Skopje as long as needed. The Yugoslave government plans to rebuild a new Skopje on a nearby site selected by seismologists.

London: Dr. Stephen Ward was convicted Wednesday on morals charges while he lay in a coma after swallowing an overdose of sleeping pills in an apparent attempt at suicide. Britain's sex scandal that had forced the resignation of its War Minister and threatened to bring down the government reached a climax when the jury brought in its verdict after four hours and 35 minutes of deliberation. Under his conviction on two counts Ward could be sentenced to a total of 14 years, but sentencing will await his recovery.

CLUB KOLONIA INITIATES CHITBOOK SYSTEM

Chitbooks worth $5.00 went on sale yesterday to patrons of Club Kolonia in a new and sweeping change in the management of the club. The Executive Board moved last week to eliminate temporarily the position of club manager in one of its efforts to improve the financial position of the local bistro.

In addition to this economy move the Board placed all sales and services on a chitbook basis. The $5.00 books have chits in denominations of five, ten, and 25 cents. The chits are required for all bar and package sales, food service, and movies. Dues may not be paid with chits.

Under present regulations the chits are negotiable whether or not attached to the chitbook and as long as the chit is whole and bears the identifying rubber stamp mark selected by the Board. Bar tenders and ticket takers have been instructed to tear chits in half upon receipt. One half of each chit must be returned in to the club treasurer for accounting purposes. Change will not be made with chits, so members will have to have the correct amount in chits for each purchase made. Only the club treasurer is authorized to redeem unused chits held by members who are leaving or relinquish their club membership. Transients who are entitled to club facilities will also have to buy chitbooks. Some $2.50 books will be available for transients.

Management of the club will be in the hands of the Executive Board for an unspecified length of time.

MIND YOUR MANNERS . . .

It is still a matter of conjecture whether the Micronesian male walks a few paces ahead of his wife to show his superiority over the opposite sex or whether he does so to insure that the way ahead is safe for her passage. American etiquette calls for the male to precede his lady only when there is a possibility of danger ahead. In most other instances he defers to his female companion in permitting her to go ahead of him. She is helped into a vehicle first. She enters church, theater, club, or room ahead of her male escort. "

"Ladies first" is a part of the American way of doing things. The American male came to realize that women were hellbent for leather determined to be equal to men and started being mannerly right away to soften the blow. Today the custom persists because it is about the only way left for the American gentleman to proclaim his superiority. He says in effect, "You go first, my dear, because we all know you are weaker and need more attention and care than we men do." Others will tell you that this "ladies first" business is just a hangover from the early days in the settling of the U.S.A. when there was a shortage of women and the guy who flattered and pleased and deferred got the girl.

On the other hand, there is also the other Micronesian point of view: if you can trust your wife, she can follow you. If she cannot be trusted, you had better put her up ahead of you.

Seoul, Korea: The South Korean Defense Minister said Wednesday he believes Communist China has stepped up the pace of armed forays by North Korean infiltrators in hopes of dragging the Soviet Union into a second Korean war. He ordered the entire 600,000 man Rok army on full alert.

Tokyo: A Foreign Office spokesman said Wednesday that Communist China is shopping for high grade aviation fuel in Japan, apparently to close the gap caused by drastic reduction of trade with the Soviet Union. He indicated that Japan will not approve any deal. High quality aviation fuel is on the free world's list of strategic goods that are not to be sold to the communist nations.

Washington: The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday affirmed its earlier decision to deny motorists the right to claim federal income tax deductions for state and local taxes they pay on gasoline. The Committee also excluded state and local taxes on cigarettes and liquors as federal tax deductions. The Committee is working on the compromise version of President Kennedy's tax reduction and a revision program.
