HAWAIIAN MISSIONS.

HISTORY OF THE SANDWICH ISLANDS MISSIONS. BY REVEREND ANDREW D. D. LL. D. late Foreign Secretary of the Board. Boston: Congregational Publishing Society. 8vo, pp. 408.

More than six hundred works have been published in various languages which relate either in part or in part to the Hawaiian Islands, and of this long catalogue a considerable proportion consists of historical works.

The work of Mr. Jarvis, who brought to its preparation the same patient study and skill that he has since shown in making his collection of Italian pictures, records not only the general history of this interesting group, but gives an excellent account of the particular mission in question to the year 1842.

There was a fair field for Dr. Anderson's book. The later years of the mission had not been officially chronicled; and the causes of its success had not been satisfactorily discussed.

The principal officer, in influence if not by title, of the Missionary Board which had set it on foot, as having access to abundant historical material, and having recently visited the mission itself, it was to be expected that his book might possess a substantial value.

Free-Love and Trousers.

HIT BY MARY E. WALKER, M. D. New York: The Atlantic Monthly Company, 1871. Grecian Annals inform us that the trophies of Miltiades disturbed the rest of the serious and ambitious Thucydides. History is prone to repeat itself. In our day we have seen the ambitious Mary E. Walker repeating with slight variations the coquette's conduct of the sleepless Athenian.

The author, at the very outset, places us in a perplexing difficulty in regard to her sex. Her name would seem to indicate her femininity, while her dress apparently proclaims her to be a man. Not content with thus assuming the characteristics of the two sexes, she speaks of herself as though she belonged to a third sex, more undesirable than either of the others.

FINANCE OFFICE, June 6, 1871.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING arrived in the Paahi on Friday morning...

WE publish in this issue the Custom House tables of the principal domestic exports of this Kingdom...

These tables show, in a greater proportion of the principal exports, a marked increase in the exports of this year...

These tables show, in a greater proportion of the principal exports, a marked increase in the exports of this year over those of the same period last year.

It may be said that the unfavorable weather for taking off crops during the last months of 1870 had the effect to throw into the exports of the first half of this year what should more properly belong to the latter half of last year.

In the matter of the large export of whale oil, all or nearly all of the shipments during the past six months have been oil which had been waiting transportation to Europe since the arrival of whalers last fall.

From the best judges, and those who are best acquainted with the prospects of sugar still to be brought to market this year, we are told the probabilities are that the receipts of the next six months will be somewhere in the neighborhood of six millions of pounds...

It is about five miles to the S. W. from the volcano. It is S. E. of this rock is another of an altitude of about fifty feet.

These are the only rocks of this kind seen near the above mentioned locality, although the vessel cruised in the vicinity for two days after the discovery of the volcano.

The exportation of tallow and wool has been greater for the past six months than during the twelve months previous, and more shipments are to go forward in considerable amount...

The most marked falling off in any of the articles of export seems to be in coffee. The efforts of those engaged in the culture of coffee, who have struggled against the blight, which has for so many years seriously diminished what otherwise might have been among the most valuable and profitable products of the country...

Taken altogether, it is not too much to say that the present year promises to be as prosperous to agriculturists as the last; and there is no doubt that it will bequeath to the next year a far better prospect for an excess of production over previous years than it has itself enjoyed.

A Misstatement Corrected.

The master of a vessel recently arrived made inquiry of the pilot in regard to tonnage dues, which he understood were levied on all vessels arriving in the harbor of Honolulu and in the roadstead outside.

He had in his possession a book entitled "The North Pacific Pilot"—Part No. 2, published by L. Murray & Son, London, wherein on page 40 is found the following:

"HONOLULU—TONNAGE DUES.—Vessels anchored in the harbor 20 cents per ton register. Anchored outside 5 cents per ton register."

If the author or compiler of the book in question was no better posted on the charges at other ports than he appears to have been in regard to those at this port, we would not recommend shipmasters to place much reliance on his statements.

The fact is there are no tonnage dues whatever, either at the port of Honolulu or at any other port in the Kingdom.

The charges to which foreign vessels visiting this port are subjected are as follows:

Pilots, in and out, per foot draught, $1.00

Boys, 2.00

Lights, 2.00

Mail Oath, 1.00

Clearance, 2.00

In case a vessel anchors outside the pilotage is ten dollars instead of as above, and on vessels not anchoring five dollars.

All other charges for blanks, fees, etc., depend upon whether the vessel is landing passengers and freight. There is, in fact, no port in the world where charges are more moderate, and where masters and agents of vessels are subjected to less trouble in their business with the Custom House than at this port.

Oahu College.

REPORT OF THE EXAMINING COMMITTEE. To the Board of Trustees of Oahu College:—

GENTLEMEN: The Committee appointed by you to examine the classes of Oahu College at the annual examination held June 13th, 14th and 15th, 1871, report that they have attended to the duty assigned them, and submit as follows:

1. The number of pupils is smaller than it has been in former years, and much smaller than the merits of the school entitle it to receive.

2. The deportment of the scholars, during the examination, was in all respects commendable. Not an impropriety occurred to mar any exercise. The gentlemen and lady-like conduct of all the scholars gave evidence that there had been good government in the school.

3. The examination was conducted by Acting-President Church, Mrs. Church, Mrs. Whitney, and Miss Chamberlain. Thirteen classes were examined, the most of which showed good proficiency in their studies. The recitations in Latin and Greek disclosed diligence and thoroughness. Those in the higher Mathematics and Grammar evinced accuracy and clearness. In a few of the classes there were not as much readiness and positiveness of statement as they should have been. Though an improvement in reading and spelling was observed, yet it is quite desirable that a still more earnest attention be given to these branches of education. The compositions were in excellent taste and judgment.

4. The exhibition was a complete success in every particular—in music, in the pieces selected; in declamation, in the compositions read; and in the fitness of things, generally. A large audience was much gratified.

5. We can heartily commend the school to its patrons and the public. Its influences, we feel assured, are refining and excellent. Parents need not feel that the manners, the culture, or the studies of their children are neglected at Punahoa.

WALTER FEIER, CHAS. C. HARRIS, SAM'L C. DAVEN, Examining Committee.

Marine Volcano.

Through the politeness of Messrs. C. A. Williams & Co., we are enabled to give the following statement of Capt. Newbury of the bark Paia, in regard to a marine volcano seen by him in the month of April last, while on the passage to Yokohama, Japan. The position of the volcano, though not exactly given by Capt. Newbury, is in about latitude 30° N. and longitude 140° E., a locality near which the latest charts of this ocean do not indicate any islands or reefs, although somewhat to the Northward of the supposed position of the volcano a doubtful island is laid down as Todos Los Santos. On the day in question a rock was seen from the vessel bearing N. E. by E. to the Northward of which was seen a vast column of smoke and steam which was sent eastward of the vessel.

Being desirous of ascertaining the nature of the phenomenon Capt. Newbury worked the ship up as near to the locality as possible, when he found it to be a veritable volcano in the sea, around the rim of which and just emerging from the surface of the ocean were a few rocks. He describes the action of the volcano as awe-inspiring and wonderful in the extreme.

The rock first discovered reaches an altitude above the sea of about two hundred and fifty feet. It is about five miles to the S. W. from the volcano. It is S. E. of this rock is another of an altitude of about fifty feet.

These are the only rocks of this kind seen near the above mentioned locality, although the vessel cruised in the vicinity for two days after the discovery of the volcano.

The exportation of tallow and wool has been greater for the past six months than was felt on board the vessel. At the first shock the Captain thought the vessel had struck a reef and was grating over it. So severe was the shock that he supposes that the first eruption of the volcano took place at the time of its occurrence. The sea for several miles around the volcano is described by Capt. Newbury as being of the "color of sulphur."

Ahuimannu College.

We had the pleasure of attending the public examination of Ahuimannu College last Wednesday, July 5. The location of the College is healthy and romantic, being situated on a plain at the foot of the mountains, and commanding a fine view of the ocean to the north and of the mountain range east and west.

The institution is under the charge of the Rev. Father Lavin, who is distinguished for his ability and kindness as much as for his many scholarly attainments. He has made improvements in the grounds and buildings during the past year; notably, in the students' dormitory, each one having to himself a latched apartment opening on a long corridor, all freely ventilated. The students are, even during the night, under his immediate supervision.

We were much pleased with the correct spelling and distinct reading of the primary classes. Young native boys who, a year ago, could not speak a word of English, read fluently and with a very good pronunciation. It occurred to us to ask ourselves how we could read French or German, after only one year's study.

The examination of the classes in Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, History, and Elementary Astronomy, was conducted by the President, and after him by the visitors. The questions asked by the latter were not the routine ones of textbooks. They were intended to draw forth the real knowledge of the students. This rather severe examination showed a proficiency in the various branches that is truly commendable. Our expectations were surpassed at the knowledge of English Grammar and Analysis evinced by that class. The study of Music and Oratory seems to be pursued en masse. The specimens of Penmanship showed a marked improvement—those of the last and present year being side by side. It is only just to mention that Joseph Peopoa, Victor Kapale, Eddy Morgan, John K. Lolo, Zachariah Kapale, and John Spencer, were the most distinguished in their several departments.

We learned that the school year commences on the 20th of August, and ends about the 4th of July. The fees for board, lodging and tuition are from $60 to $100 per year; some poor boys are received gratis. These figures are so low that the institution can not be self-sustaining. Bishop Maigret gives $300 a year towards its support. We hope that it will prosper, and continue to extend its usefulness.

On our outside page this morning, will be found a criticism from the N. Y. World on Dr. Anderson's new book, entitled "History of the Sandwich Islands Mission." We have not read the book, but as the criticism appears to have been written by a person well versed in the affairs of this country, we publish it merely as a matter of interest to our readers.

When we heard that the book had been published, we hardly knew what new thing could be said regarding the country, or the mission of which Dr. Anderson was the executive head for so many years. Certainly, this country is the most he-beked country in the world. Since the publication of Cook's Voyages, the average books treating on the Islands have been about seven per year.

There will likewise be found a criticism on Mrs. Mary Walker's book, the subject of which seems to be trousers, and the moral and intellectual advantages which will necessarily accrue to ladies from wearing the bi-furcated garments. The criticism is very amusing, but we are rather inclined to think the poor woman's effort is hardly worth the powder and shot, as she recommends, in view of the fact that it would cut them off, to a very large degree, from the pleasure of turning over latherdashery in general, and of displaying their tastes in colors and dresses.

Widening the Streets.

We are happy to hear that some public spirited citizens are donating portions of their land on the street line of Fort street for the purpose of widening that street. This is as it should be; our streets are entirely too narrow for convenience and it may be said even for safety.

Mr. J. T. Waterhouse has likewise donated ten feet of his lot on Merchant street next to the Sailor's Home for the purpose of widening that street. He is intending, we understand as soon as the store on Queen street is completed, to erect a fire-proof store house on the above lot. This donation will bring Mr. Waterhouse's lot to the outer edge of the verandah of the Sailor's Home. We have heard it suggested that the lower verandah floor of the Sailor's Home might be taken away so that the side-walk might be run along the edge of the building having the upper verandah to overhang it. This would add five feet to the width of the street, provided others did the same, and be a great improvement.

Will not others follow the wise example of these public spirited citizens.

VERSAILES, June 20.—In the Assembly, to-day, during the debate on the Loan Bill, Thiers made a statement on the financial condition of the country.

He said that the German war cost France 800,000,000 francs. The deficit during the fiscal years of 1870-71 reached 1,631,000,000 francs, but of this amount the Bank of France had advanced to the Government 1,300,000,000 francs, so that the immediate deficiency for the year was reduced to 331,000,000. But to this must be added 496,000,000 incurred since suppressing the insurrection in Paris. This total deficit of 827,000,000 francs, Thiers proposed to meet by imposing new taxes. The situation, he said, was difficult, but not disastrous.

MARIN, June 20.—The Impartial says that the Ministers have decided to resign only after the debate in the Cortes on the Address.

Serrano extended Moret to withdraw his resignation, but the latter remained firm, and his resignation has been accepted by the King.

The distance of Madrid has resigned in consequence of the disturbances on the Pope's Jubilee.

VIENNA, June 21.—Correspondence from Rome says the Pope, on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his Pontificate, received deputations from all countries, even from Poland. At least 2,000 delegates and 800 ladies waited on him during the day. The Pope, in his replies to the congratulations of foreign deputations, said he hoped soon to be able to bear the cross through the streets of Rome without fear of outrage. To the French delegates he spoke feelingly on the situation in France, and congratulated them on their victory over the powers of darkness. He was gratified at receiving a telegram from the Queen of England, expressing her wishes for his long life and happiness. During the day the Pope distributed 15,000 francs among the poor, and received magnificent presents from the faithful throughout the world. Notwithstanding the precautions taken by the police the visitors, while on the way to the Vatican, were frequently insulted. There were great crowds in the streets. Many soldiers who had served in the Pontifical army were arrested the day before the festival, to prevent disturbances.

VERSAILES, June 20.—Midnight.—The Assembly has unanimously passed the Loan Bill.

VIENNA, June 21.—Correspondence that Thiers, the British Minister, is instructed by his Government not to leave Washington until further particulars of the Cuban difficulty have been received.

PARIS, June 20.—A correspondent writing May 20th, says that when a body of Communists entered Washington's house, with the intention of committing depredations, the commander of the Prussian forces to the northward of Paris said that if Washington was not in person and property, held valuable, the city would be bombarded within twenty-four hours. This warning had its effect, but Paris was at the mercy of the American Minister, and at his word one thousand guns would have opened on the city.

Corpses are daily discovered in the ruins. The explosion of the sewers is completed, and many have been found horribly mutilated. They are buried at night in Montmartre.

LONDON, June 20.—In the House of Commons, Viscount Enfield promised immediate notice to the Reich claims under the Treaty of Washington, to the Reich claims before the Commission within six months.

In the House of Lords, to-night, Granville, in reply to an inquiry concerning the Treaty of Washington, said the 9th of April, 1869, the day of Lee's surrender, was accepted as the date of the termination of the process. Thiers did himself honor, and subsequent losses would be considered.

NEW YORK, June 20th.—The billiard match last night between Cyrille Dion and Melvin Foster for the diamond cue and $1,000—1,500 points, was won by Dion, in sixty-one innings, scoring 1,500 to Foster's 636.

They will give their support to candidates pledged to maintain the status quo.
