Mr. Dooley on Age.

Apropos of Theodore Roosevelt's accession to the post of chief executive of the United States at the age of forty two, F. Peter Dunn, Mr. Dooley says:

"I see that President Teddy is th' youngest President we've iver had, an' some iv th' pa-pers sa-re wond-herin' whether he's old enough f'r th' raysponsibilities iv th' office. . . . I suppose we'll have th' usual d'ficulties with him—makin' him comb his hair an' black th' heels iv his boots an' not put his elbows on th' table, an' not reach or pint, an' go to bed afther supper an' get up in time f'r breakfast, an' keep away f'r'm th' wather an' cut out cigarets an' go back to his room an' thry behind th' ears. But what can ye expect f'r'm a kid iv forty-two?"

"I wonder sometimes whin is a man old enough. I've seen th' ace limit risin' iver since I went into public life. Whin I was a young lad, a fellow wud come out iv collidge or th' rayform school or whativer was his alma mather, knock down th' first ol' man in his way an' leap to th' f'rnt. Irvy time school let out, some aged statesman wud back like Cincinnati to his farm an' was glad to get there safe. Ye cud mark th' progress iv youth by th' wreek iv spectacles, goold-headed walkin' sticks, unrale teeth, and pretinded hair. . . .

"Nowadays, be hivins, a man don't get started til he's too old to run. Th' race iv life has settled down to something between a limp an' a hobble. 'Tis th' ol' man's time. An orator is a boy orator as long as he can speak without th' oid iv a dental surgeon; an' a actor is a boy actor until he's so oid he can't play King Lear without puttin' a little iv th' bloom iv youth on his cheeks out iv th' youth jar; a statesman that can't raymber what Bushrod Wash'nton thought about th' Allyn an' Sedition law belongs to th' ours'ry. I look ar-round me at th' puchers iv gr-reat men in th' pa-per an' greastness manes white whiskers. There's no such thing as age. If Methuselah was alive, he'd be captain iv a football team. Whin a man gets to ninety, he's jus' beginnin' to feel sthroong enough f'r wurruk. Aneybody that thries to do snything before he's an onecom-fortable risk f'r life insurance comp-ay is snubbed f'r youthful impertinence."—(Copyright, 1901, by Robert Howard Russell)

THE GRAND JURY REPORT.

The Grand Jury has closed its work for this session and has made a report on several matters of public interest. In discharging the Jurors from further duty, Judge Gear spoke to this effect:

"I was much interested in the report," he said, "and it gives me great pleasure to see how the members of the Grand Jury grasped the idea of what they were expected to do, and I wish to sincerely thank you for the way you have gone about the work and carried out the suggestions of the court. You have gone into the matter thoroughly and I will see that your excellent report is not pigeonholed. The reforms suggested by you will be called to the attention of the proper authorities. The insane asylum especially must be attended to immediately, the conditions reported there are appalling and should be looked into at once. I shall also see that the attention of the Federal Jury is called to the matter mentioned in your report."

"Concluding he said: 'This grand jury was a grand grand jury, and I would like to have you serve in that capacity again.'"

We are not well acquainted with the system of Grand Juries, but it seems to us that the report rendered by the last one indicates that the gentlemen, serving as jurors assume the powers of a Legislature. It is very nice to hear a Grand Jury report that "we recommend so and so," and it is pleasing to the Jury to have the Judge say that he will see "that the reforms suggested are called to the attention of the proper authorities. What in the name of common sense can the Jury, the Judge or the Authorities do, without the necessary appropriations which can only be made by the Legislature? The recommendations of the Jury were excellent in some instances, but what effect can they have? There is not a suggestion in the report which has not been ventilated by the press, pro. and con. and the further recommendations of the Grand Jury mean simply waste of paper, and money for hackhire.

The criminal report is the main business, and we think that the Grand Jury acted just, fair and honest in every indictment presented by them. We are not Americanized yet, and we are anxious to be taught the benefit to be gained by the report on matters, absolutely within the control of the next Legislature. There are no funds with which to rebuild the Asylum, there is not a bean to pay for night schools, there are no sure laws in regard to the issuing of liquor licenses, there are no money for the increase of the numerical force of the police. We all know what ought to be done, and what should have been done, but we fail to see why a Grand Jury should, at the expense of the taxpayers, tell them what all of us know and agree upon.

The recommendations of the Grand Jury are excellent generally, and most of them have been thoroughly discussed in the local press. That does not minimize the value of the suggestions presented. That the Insane Asylum should have the immediate attention of the authorities goes without saying after reading the following report:

"Ward number one, known as the violent ward, consists of eighteen cells, all occupied. Its ventilation should be improved.

"Ward number six has twenty cells, which are poorly ventilated, and eight of them are without cot, mattresses being placed on the floor. Eighteen cells are available, and there are seventeen men in the ward. The roof of this ward has been punctured by a rock from the quarry blast. Ward number two is the oldest ward in the asylum, being built in 1886. It is in a bad state of repair, and though as we were told, it has been condemned three times by different Grand Juries, it is still crowded by occupants, there being thirty-seven in its one large room, all of which are in use. Its floors and porches and foundations are decayed and the building is unfit for its present occupancy. In this building are the men's dining room and the general kitchen from which the meals of the women patients are carried to them in baskets, and are eaten by them on the grass in fair weather, and otherwise on their ward porches, as their ward dining room has been turned into a dormitory, owing to the crowded condition of their quarters.

Ward number three has thirty two cells, occupied by thirty-three patients. Here the floors are more or less rotten. The cells have overhead ventilation, and the solid doors are fitted with a small grating.

Ward number four is women's ward, and had normal accommodations for nineteen patients, yet thirty-three women are now housed there, many sleeping on the floors of the cells, owing to the scarcity of cots. In this ward the ventilation is better than in some others, the ceiling being of open work.

Ward number five is a private ward for pay patients only, and is not in use.

The bathing facilities for men are good. The women's quarters are provided with two tubs.

The report deals with the question of commitments of persons to the asylum. That is also a matter for Legislation and for the past ten years we have harped on the question, and met the same failure as the Grand Jury will. Charles B. Wilson urged a change when he was Marshal of the Kingdom and had a "pull" in the Legislative halls. We notice his name on the list of the Grand Jurors, who signed the report. Does he think he will succeed in his righteous suggestion now? The report on this subject says:

"A magistrate, on the certificate of a single doctor of medicine, should not commit any person to the insane asylum, and in all cases the patient should be produced in court. And we would suggest that a commission of at least three doctors, one of whom shall be a specialist in nervous diseases, pass upon the merits of every proposed commitment before judgment be rendered in the case, and we further suggest that from time to time, a visiting commission of three well qualified physicians might well be appointed to visit the asylum to ascertain if all the inmates thereof were properly treated and rightly detained therein."

A receiving hospital at the station is an excellent plan, but again, where are the money to come from? There was not a man on the Grand Jury who could get an election to the next Legislature, and their advice will be pigeon-holed as far as the Legislature is concerned. We say it with all due respect to the members of the Jury, because, as the foreman knows, we got it, where the chicken got the axe as well, as he did once.

A recommendation which all will approve of, and which can be attended to, without waiting for the next Legislature relates to physical examinations in schools of children and reads:

"The grand jury has seen fit to inquire into the practice under the old established regulation of the Board of Health which requires physical examination at least once a year by government physicians of all children in public and private schools, not provided with health certificates in order to detect contagious and infectious diseases. While this rule undoubtedly acts as a safeguard to the public health, the grand jury finds upon investigation of the various methods under which it has been carried out on this and other islands and in the city of Honolulu, that there is much in them to condemn. When it is known that the authority given to the physicians under this rule is without qualification or restrictions, so that boys and girls (often-times entirely disabled) must submit to the requirements arbitrarily fixed by the respective physicians, it will at once be apparent that positive rules of practice should be adopted in the premises, so that the proper sensibilities of parents and children and of teachers who are usually expected to be present at these examinations, are not in any way ignored, nor even affected. The grand jury would therefore recommend that the Board of Health hereafter employ women physicians exclusively in the annual physical examination of school girls, and provide also that no physical examination be made by any physician of any children, unless due notice thereof be first given to their parents or guardians."

There are other excellent suggestions, for the welfare of the public in the report, which our space prevents us to touch upon in this issue. The Grand Jury, however, took up the fight for the night schools, where adult Asiatics were "educated" at the expense of the taxpayers, so they may be able in the future, to drive our children to the wall. The report says:

"In the matter of the discontinuance of night schools in the city of Honolulu, the grand jury is of the opinion that such action was unwise, for the general reason that ignorance and crime often go hand in hand, and for the special reason that drunkenness, at least, seems, by reliable testimony, to have increased in special localities since these schools were abandoned."

We defy the Grand Jury to produce "reliable testimony" that drunkenness has increased in special localities since the night schools were abandoned. And for the guidance of the voters we publish the names of the jurors, who desire to re-establish schools at public expense for the education of adult Asiatic coolies, the standing menace to the future generation here of Hawaiians and whites. The jurors were: David Kawanakoa, Foreman, Henry Waterhouse, Chris J. Holt, J. M. I. Foster, E. S. Cunha, B. S. Kapu, H. G. Middleditch, Harry T. Lewis, S. T. Peck, Horace J. Craft, C. A. Graham, Moses K. Nakuina, H. De Fries, Charles B. Wilson, J. T. Crawley, Charles T. Wilder.

As a whole the report is a most interesting and intelligent document and the Grand Jury is entitled to the highest compliments for their efficient services.

Those Doctors.

A wealthy American who took the waters at Carlsbad this summer, was given minute instructions by his physician, who dismissed him with this injunction: "As for smoking, you must limit yourself to three cigars daily; three light cigars and no more." After a few days, the patient visited his physician, who asked: "Well, and how are you?" "I should be all right," replied the patient, "but your orders about smoking are difficult to follow." "I am sorry," the doctor said, categorically, "but no more than three cigars a day. You must just put up with it." "But, doctor, it really is an awful business. Wouldn't two a day do? I feel ill every time I smoke." "Why, man, what in the world do you smoke for at all, if that is the case?" the doctor roared. "But, doctor, wasn't it you yourself who said 'three cigars a day and no more?' Of course, I thought they were part of the cure, and began upon them, though I never in my life smoked before."

The First Local Mint.

One of the institutions here which has the special attention of tourists as well as the local people is the Mint, which is established on Nuuanu street, opposite Queen Emma Hall. It is interesting to enter the large main working room, where general manager McDonough and his corps of assistants are at work. The cool and large launi is a proper resting place and the vaults, where the "bars" to be minted and beer are kept present a very tasty spectacle. The Mint is open from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and during those hours the work never ceases. Visitors after looking over the place will find first class refreshments and the purest of liquors.

Charged With Perjury.

At last night's session of the tax appeal court, attorney A. G. M. Robertson, on behalf of the government charged Y. Ah In with fraud and perjury in making his return of income for the year just passed. The court took the matter under advisement.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Home Rulers are amusing themselves by setting the political ball a-rolling. Go it boys, and enjoy yourselves! The "colonel" has not yet returned to town.

That people living in Hawaii depend on California vegetables and fruits for their larders, is a sign of the indifference of the people, or their wealth, or their laziness and lack of enterprise, or of the difficulty in obtaining lands and reasonable transportation rates. The idea that people in California have to pay 50% more on their vegetables, than before because the Hawaiian demand is so heavy, is disgraceful to the Territory.

Mr. L. A. Thurston will find that he was unwise, for many reasons, in allowing the outrageous cartoon which appears in the Advertiser this morning to be published. Bishop Willis may have retired from his diocese and his honorable position as head of the Anglican Church in Hawaii. If he has done so, he has beyond doubt acted after due consideration and for the best interests of his flock. The "Bishops" attending the Episcopal convention at San Francisco had neither the right or the power to throw our Bishop over. As far as we know some of them were gentlemen and true friends of their church, and would always act as such, and condemn the attempt to ridicule a God fearing man who tried to build up the Church of England in Hawaii. The writer is not a member of the Anglican Church or a communicant, nor does he attempt to create a schism, as claimed by the Advertiser. He is simply trying to place before the public, including Mr. Thurston, an unbiased opinion on matters of public interest. And on that line we say that the Advertiser cartoon this morning is a gross insult which should be resented by every member of the Anglican Church—with the exception of those very nice shopkeepers, etc., who are Christians in a society manner only, doncherknow.

Bishops Ballot.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12—Five missionary bishops were named by the House of Bishops yesterday and the formal confirmation of the nominees will unquestionably be accorded by the House of Deputies.

Holy Communion was administered to each member of the House of Bishops at 9:30 a. m. The Right Rev. Samuel David Ferguson, Bishop of Cape Palmas, was the celebrant. The House then went into executive session and the balloting for the missionary bishops commenced. With the exception of a discussion of Article XI. of the constitution, the entire morning session was devoted to the balloting, with the following result:

- Bishop of Hongkow—The Rev. John Addition Ingle of Hongkow.
- Bishop of the Philippine Islands—The Rev. Charles H. Brent of St. Stephen's Church, Boston, Mass.
- Olympia—The Rev. Frederick W. Keator of Dubuque, Ia.
- Porto Rico—The Rev. William Cabell Brown, D. D., of Brazil.
- North Dakota—The Rev. Charles Campbell Pierce of Washington, D. C., recently United States Army Chaplain at Manila.

The House of Bishops took up the proposition of excepting part of the Diocese of Kansas as a missionary district, and decided that they felt unable at present to approve the session, but recommended to the favorable consideration of the Board of Managers for Missions the consideration of the fact that the Bishop of Kansas, the Right Rev. Frank H. Millepugh, is laboring under extraordinary burdens.

They also proposed the appointment of a joint commission of five bishops, five presbyters and five laymen, to draw up and present to the next General Convention a canon on the subject of provinces. This has reference to a scheme for the division of the whole of the United States into provinces. The bishops appointed as members of the committee were: The Bishops of Albany, Fond du Lac, Texas, Vermont and Los Angeles.

It was also decided to appoint a committee of three bishops, three bishops, three presbyters and three laymen to take into account the translation of bishops and their reference to another mission. At present a missionary bishop can be elected bishop of a diocese; but there is neither prohibition nor permission for translation to another mission, and so this committee was proposed, and will report at the next convention. The Bishops of New York, Maryland and the Coadjutor of Southern Ohio were appointed upon the committee.

Then the House of Bishops took up the question of marriage and divorce, adopting as a substitute for Canon 37 the following, under the title of "All persons marrying after divorce":

"No person divorced for causes arising after marriage and marrying again during the lifetime of the other party to the divorce, nor any person marrying a person so divorced, shall be admitted to baptism or confirmation or permitted to receive the Holy Communion until the written approval of the Bishop shall be given; provided, that this prohibition shall not apply to the case of an innocent party to a divorce for the cause of adultery."

Dyspepsia Resulted.

Apropos of the death of Charles Crist Delmonico at Colorado Springs, on September 20th, a writer in the New York Sun says: "Probably the most expensive dinner ever given at Delmonico's restaurant, on Fourteenth Street, was that given by Mr. Morton Peto to the tea and coffee merchants of New York, two hundred in number. It cost twenty five thousands dollars. The rarest wines and the most elaborate decorations were mere incidents. The menu-cards were of gold, and the guests sat on silk cushions on which their names were embroidered. In the centre of the table was a miniature lake in which swam swans taken from Central Park. Clara Louise Kellogg received one thousand dollars for singing two songs at this feast and a present besides of a diamond bracelet. The sa'on was smothered in flowers. Another dinner given at one of the Delmonico establishments, for ten people, cost four hundred dollars a plate. It was luxurious enough to be classical. The waiters, five of them, were dressed as sailors. The host was a yachtsman, and he bought the waiters' clothes. The guests drank, or, rather, tasted, every vinted liquor that ever has been brought to America. They finished, with a pousse cafe made of eleven liqueurs. Before each plate sat a cut-glass basin about twenty inches in diameter and four inches deep. Each was nearly filled with water perfumed with otto of roses, on the surface of which floated half-open pond-lilies. In the basin a perfect model of the yacht owned by the host was placed. It was cut in red cedar-wood, with cabin, rail, wheel for steering, brass work, such as belaying-pins and binnacle, manropes worked and trimmed with sailor knots, scraped pine masts and booms, rigging, of silken cords colored as it would be in the original, and sails of satin. There was a gold oar and many other gewgaws."
