The First Local Mint.
One of the institutions here which has the special attention of tourists as well as the local people is the Mint, which is established on Nuuanu street, opposite Queen Emma Hall. It is interesting to enter the large main working room, where general manager McDonough and his corps of assistants are at work. The cool and large lanai is a proper resting place and the vaults, where the "bars" to be minted and beer are kept present a very tasty spectacle. The Mint is open from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and during those hours the work never ceases. Visitors after looking over the place will find first class refreshments and the purest of liquors.

When desiring a hack, surrey, buggy, etc., with careful drivers, ring up Telephone 118—Territory Stable Co., Ltd.

When you want a hack ring up 191. On that stand you will get a reliable and good driver, a fine hack and no overcharging.

HOW DISEASES ARE TREATED.

An Interesting Account of European Methods.

Dr. Ernest F. King of Washington, D. C., returned by the Menominee from a six months' round of the large hospitals in London, Paris, Vienna, and Berlin. He talks enthusiastically of all that he saw and heard. While contending that the very best work in medicine and surgery is done in America, he believes that Europe offers many advantages to the student that cannot be obtained in this country. He says:

"Vienna has for years been the Mecca of American students, and it still holds its own, though Berlin is a good second in favor. The one great advantage that Vienna has over the other centres is its general hospital of 2,500 beds, in which the matter of study and instruction appears to the casual observer as being regarded of greater importance than the cure of disease. Daily lectures are given by the university professors, who are men of world-wide reputation, and courses of instruction are given by their assistants, making use of the clinical material furnished by the hospital. It is possible to begin at 8 in the morning and work steadily till 8 at night, an hour for each course, without leaving the hospital grounds. Everything is done thoroughly, careful records are kept, and an autopsy is made in every fatal case, an agreement to that effect being signed by the patient before admission.

"In the other cities visited much time was lost in going from place to place, so widely apart were the various hospitals, and from the lack of arrangements for the accommodation of students from abroad. Operations and courses would be given at hospitals miles apart, at the same hours of the same day, and much that was of interest and importance was necessarily lost.

"Another point which Europe has in its favor is that the hospital patients come mostly from the peasant class, and they have born in them the spirit of obedience to their betters and can be ordered about and handled for purposes of instruction as no American patients could. The peasants are a stolid lot and have great powers of endurance, or, what is more likely, are so coarsely constructed nervously that they have not the same sensibility to pain that is found in folk of finer fibre. Many minor operations that are always done with anesthesia in America were performed as a matter of routine without any anesthetic and with scarcely a wince on the part of the patient.

"The hospital buildings abroad are mostly antiquated and gloomy, and with poor heating facilities must be cheerless places in winter. The newer hospitals, however, have all the modern appliances, and the general hospital at Hamburg, built on the cottage plan, is a model of its kind, and, with the contemplated extensions, will be the largest in the world. The Moabite Hospital in Berlin is another interesting example of this style of arrangement but not nearly so large.

"In London the University Hospital is already using two wings of its new buildings, and what remains of the old is soon to be torn down. The London Hospital is being remodeled throughout, and at the end of the alterations will have practically new buildings. All the hospitals of London seem not overburdened with funds, as almost without exception they have large placards across the front informing passers by that they are supported by voluntary contributions, and one of the morning papers has daily a half column of appeals for contributions. "While in London one finds the same educated, refined, trained nurse as in America, the Continent apparently has nothing of the kind. In Vienna, for example, the nurses were ignorant women, motherly souls, to be sure, waist line defined by apron strings and dressed in coarse gowns of a dingy hue. In carpet slippers down at the heel and with sleeves rolled above the elbows, they form a sharp contrast with the neat figures and natty uniforms that one is accustomed to at home.

"One of the latest and most interesting developments in the science of medicine is the use of light in the treatment of diseases of the skin, after the method of Finzen. At the London Hospital many cases of epithelioma and one case of leprosy were seen under the X-ray treatment, and countless cases of lupus were receiving the benefits of the Finzen rays, so called. One leper, seen after an interval of four months, showed mark improvement in the parts treated, but the small space that can be treated at a sitting renders it probable that death will come before any cure can be obtained. That it would be curative in early cases seems, however, most likely.

"Epitheliomas are cured and many photographs 'before and after' are shown. Lupus, which is a tubercular disease of the skin, is cured by the so-called "Finzen" rays, the violet or chemical rays from an arc light. That it may return is conceded. As yet there are no records, so recent is the discovery of this treatment. At the hospital are three arc lamps of 35,000 candle power. From each lamp project four tubes containing lenses for concentrating the light. The four patients lie on tables beneath the ends of the tubes and a nurse firmly presses on the diseased spot a hollow lens. The pressure, by driving out the blood, gives better penetration to the light rays, and a stream of water flowing through the hollow lens keeps it cool. Each exposure is for an hour, and the number of exposures varies with the extent of the disease, those seen requiring from 80 to 100 exposures.

"So common a disease is lupus and so brilliant have been the result that sufferers have flocked to the hospital from all parts of England, and although only favorable cases are put on the list, it will take over two years to reach the last to whom the treatment has been promised.

"Physicians do not have to 'learn the language' in Germany as the educated men speak English in its purity. A number of the leading men in Vienna and Berlin speak English fluently and seem pleased to have an opportunity for exercising their powers. In Vienna are a number of Englishmen connected with the university who give courses in their specialties. Everything else, however, is in German, and one must be able to understand the language to get the best results. Many Americans go there without any knowledge of the language, trusting to get what they wanted through their powers of observation.

"Americans are everywhere well received and are given every opportunity for study and observation. The London surgeons were especially courteous, even to the extent of keeping one informed by wire of interesting operations.

"Many Americans were met in all the cities, but on the Continent they were outnumbered by Russians. What seemed most surprising was that the next country in order was Japan, there being over four hundred of the little men working away at the German universities."—N. Y. Times.

FOOTBALL.

It is beyond comprehension that the Oahu College can allow on its premises people, who, under the name of sport, engage in an alleged game, which they call football, such an exhibition as was given yesterday on the campus. To see a howling mob of men and boys yelling, swearing, and cursing in the most vulgar language under the very windows of the Oahu College is not an edifying spectacle. How the faculty can tolerate it is a surprise to all, except perhaps to the few who realize that the "great" college deals in superficial veneer only, and not in solid learning.

That the police, who in a minute would stop an affray or a prize fight can allow affray and prize fighting among twenty-three men, including the umpire, without intervention is illogical, to say the least. The game, as they call the pastime of breaking each others necks or ribs or knee caps, is not football. We understand sufficient English to know that football means a game played with the feet, and that game is a true, clean and healthy sport, because that game gives the man a chance to exercise his power in running and sprinting, while the kind of game played yesterday causes bodily injuries and cripples men for life.

One interesting feature in yesterday's game was the action of the umpire, Senator Carter. From beginning to end he favored the Punahou team in the most glaring manner. He ruled Willie Vida off the field for rough playing, and a few minutes later this umpire tried a far rougher playing by trying to butt Couha in the stomach, goat fashion, with hat, wig and spectacles on. Vida was in the game, excited and doing all he could for his team, but he did not play more roughly, than some of the Punahou did, and towards whom no rebuke or punishment was meted out. We understand that when Vida, who is known as a very modest and bashful young man was ruled off, some historical facts were mentioned. Rumor has it, that Vida reminded Carter, of the fact that the Senator had been ruled off the gridiron so often, when in the university games in the East, that he ought to know how it feels, and he referred to a game between Harvard and Yale, where Carter was bodily thrown outside the ropes. An umpire should never lose his temper, but Mr. Carter certainly did it when he left the teams at one end of the ground to run across to the other end, bent on a row with Couha, who also was ruled off for "slugging," rulings which deprived the Honolulu of two of their best men.

Mr. Carter was terribly excited, and the cool-headed financier and statesmen had given way to an enraged man, who had no reason or excuse to get mad. Fortunately Chillingworth got there in time, or a disgraceful fight would have been started. Chillingworth separated Carter and Couha. Carter yelled to Chillingworth "don't you dare separate us," and was answered "I always dare do my duty." Something happened then. Carter made another rush at Couha and ran against something, which looked very much like Chillingworth's elbow, which, accidentally of course, met the chin of the eloquent senator. The only objects observable were a man picking up spectacles, hat and a wig, and retire to the place, where the umpire should be, while the crowd yelled "hurrah Couha has got his scalp."

Now these incidents are very unpleasant, and a recurrence will simply mean that football, even on its good lines, is pau here. Of course it will not occur again that senator Carter will be called upon to umpire a game. As we are talking football would it not be a fair sporting proposition for the Punahou to play one more game with the Maile Ilimas and see, which team really is the best? It would be true sport, especially if ruffianism was eliminated from the game. And look at the gate money boys!

The Crusade Against Rats.

At the last meeting of the Board of Health Dr. C. B. Cooper submitted the following report:
Honolulu, H. T., Nov. 27, 1901.
Dr. H. C. Sloggett, President Board of Health, City:

Sir:—Rats being the principal agency for the transmission of plague and our exposed situation in relation to other countries that are infected making it necessary to take every precaution for the preservation of our commerce and internal well being, your committee on the crusade against rats, consisting of Dr. Pratt and myself, and by courtesy Dr. L. E. Cofer of the United States Marine Hospital Service, whose labors and advice have been most valuable, beg to report that after much labor, at last tangible arrangements have been made for the protection of commerce by the united action and guarantee of funds by those most directly interested in shipping and also ways and means have been provided for warfare on the rodents of the city. By the short sightedness of the late legislature to provide for emergencies of this nature, only $10,000 was allotted for the biennial period, to protect the interests of these Islands, and that sum to be specifically used for fumigation.

As it cost in a recent epidemic $800,000, exclusive of fire claims, it can be easily seen that this department is more than handicapped to do good work, by such a paltry sum.

It is proposed to put the wharves in such a permanent condition, as to render fumigation an easy matter and render our shipping interests safe and with a practically clean bill of health. It is proposed also to engage a few good men for work in the more thickly populated districts to distribute rat poison and instruct in the placing of same, setting and care of traps and such other work as may rise in that line. It is also hoped to procure a 12-horse power engine with a sulphur fan, which can be placed on a truck, making it thus easy for transportation, to be used when necessary for fumigation.

The Board of Health will furnish free rat poison to all applying for it, and every one able to purchase their own traps are expected to do so, and thus aid the Board in this crusade. Traps will be furnished to the indigent. It is useless to expect favorable results unless there is concerted action by the entire community.

C. B. COOPER.

Marr'd Among Flowers.

W. H. Babbitt and Miss Sarah M. Carter were married at the Central Union Church, last evening by Rev. W. M. Kincaid, in the presence of a large number of friends, who filled the church. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and masses of flowers sent from San Francisco for the occasion, the large curly chrysanthemum giving a special lustre effect to the scene.

When the bridal party entered the church, the organist played Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin a choir from the Kamehameha Girl Schools furnishing the vocal part. The ushers were A. A. Young, W. W. Williamson, Albert Waterhouse, William Walker, J. O. Carter Jr. and Cushman Carter. Robert W. Shingle acted as best man and the bridesmaids were Miss May Damon and Miss Mary Widdifield. Miss Carter, sister of the bride acted as maid of honor and the bride was given away by her father, Mr. J. O. Carter. The bride looked very charming in her beautiful gown, a gift from Queen Liliuokalani. After the ceremony congratulations were offered and the bridal party and the nearest relations drove to the Carter residence on Nuuanu street, and later on the young couple went by special train to Pearl Harbor, where they will spend the honeymoon at the residence of Mr. W. W. Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt were the recipients of many costly presents. THE INDEPENDENT offers its very best wishes for the future happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

The Board of Health held a meeting this afternoon.

The Alameda was signalled off Koko Head at 1 p. m.

Don't forget the Catholic Fair and Luau at the Drill Shed tomorrow.

The Government Dispensary has been removed to the corner of South and Kawaiahao streets.

The "menu" in Judge Wilcox's Court was composed mostly of gamblers a la Chinoise, and drinks a la genever. There were a limited amount of the latter dish only.

The Republican Territory Committee will meet on Monday next at 7:30 p. m. to discuss matters of importance among which is the question of an extra session of the Legislature.

The Orpheum was packed last evening by an audience which appreciated the roaring farce in which a football game was presented. It was nearly as funny as the one which had been played at Punahou during the afternoon.

According to the Advertiser editor Gill has resigned his position with the Republican, his resignation to take place on January 1, 1902. Mr. Gill will be succeeded by C. R. Buckland, a journalist well-known here and in San Francisco.

The District Attorney was well rendered by the Neill Company at the Opera House last evening before a fair sized audience. This evening the Social Highwayman will be presented, and tomorrow evening "A Bachelor's Romance" is on the program.

Dick Daly, the well-known caterer, is fixing up his new quarters in the Waverley Block, where he a week from tomorrow will open a Grill to be known as the Palace Grill. The place is being fixed up on an elaborate scale, and promises to become a great success.

The football game at Punahou yesterday could hardly be called a Thanksgiving game, except that all were truly thankful that it eventually finished before a general riot ensued. It was a most unsatisfactory game owing to the incompetence of the umpire, Senator Carter, and the 1800 people who witnessed the bull-fight were disgusted. The score was Punahou 29, Honolulu 6.

Seventy-five big, fat turkeys, with all the accompaniments of cranberry sauce, mince pies, pudding and many little relishes, were distributed yesterday under the auspices of Rev. William M. Kincaid, pastor of Central Union Church, to the sick, to strangers far away from their homes, and to several recently married couples. The seventy five turkeys represented that number of dinners and the same number of persons remembered.

A Bad Accident.

Miss Mabel Bruns met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. She was driving towards town when her horse became frightened by the noise made by the newspaper boys who were celebrating the day and she lost control of the animal. Lieutenant Leslie succeeded in getting up to the horse and called to Miss Bruns to let go the reins. She evidently did not understand him and continued to cling to the reins thereby preventing Leslie from getting a firm hold, and it became necessary for him to force the horse against a telephone post and the collision caused Miss Bruns to be thrown out of the buggy and in consequence receiving several cuts and bruises.

Hall-Templeton Nuptials

A quiet wedding was celebrated last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hopper on Keaumoku street, when Miss Alice Templeton became the wife of Mr. Wm. G. Hall. Only the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom were present, the wedding taking place at 7 o'clock. Rev. E. S. Muckley, pastor of the Christian Church, officiated.

Death of R. R. Hind.

Mr. John S. Low, the manager of the firm of Hind & Ralph, in this city received a letter from Hawaii this morning, informing him of the death of Mr. R. R. Hind, which occurred in Kona on Wednesday last at 4 a. m.

Deceased had been sick for some time with hemorrhage of the bladder, and had found himself benefited by the treatment of the physician for Kona, and remained in that district. Mr. Hind was about 66 years of age, and leaves a wife, four sons and two daughters to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father.

Mr. Hind arrived here in 1862 from Victoria. He was induced to come to Honolulu by the late W. L. Green, who at that time established the Honolulu Iron Works. Deceased was at the time working as a machinist in the Victoria foundry, and together with Alexander Young, Renton and Hughes accepted positions as machinists at the foundry in Honolulu.

Later on he left for Maui, where he went into sugar planting at Waihee, and after a while he sold his interests there and went to North Kohala, where he went into partnership with Judge Charles Hart in the sugar business. The partnership was dissolved, and Mr. Hind entered on another planting enterprise. A copartnership had been formed for planting cane between James Wood, T. H. Davies, George Holmes, J. Ranton, Dan Vida, and Robert Hind who was to build a mill and grind the cane of the company. He erected the original Union Mill, which burnt down, before being in operation. In the meantime Mr. Hind had purchased lands at Hawi, in North Kohala and started planting. The Star mill had been erected by T. H. Davies on lands between the Union planters and the Kohala plantation. It was demolished and sold, and Hind bought most of the machinery and erected the mill on his plantation at Hawi, where he has resided till the time of his death.

When deceased came to North Kohala he possessed $6000. His wealth today is conservatively figured at between eight and nine hundred thousand dollars, he owning considerable property in Victoria, a residence in San Francisco, besides his vast local interests.

Robert R. Hind was a man of sterling qualities, and enjoyed the respect and confidence of all. He was elected a Noble to the Legislature in 1890, and was a man of great business ability. Deceased was a native of Yorkshire, England. His family has the sincere sympathy of all, who knew deceased, in their sad bereavement.

Officers Invited.

The following army and navy officers have been invited as guests of the executive committee for the Catholic luau and fair next Saturday: Rear Admiral Robley E. Evans, Rear Admiral Henry Glass, Captain J. F. Merry, Major Robinson and wife, Captain Williamson and wife, Captain P. H. Cooper, Captain C. M. Thomas, Captain P. F. Harrington. They will be received by Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane and Mrs. S. C. Allen.
