VENTURA COMES FROM COLONIES

Brings News of Election In the State of California.

CALLED AT FANNING'S AND GOT TELEGRAMS

TIME MADE BY BOAT BETWEEN PORTS—MENTION OF SOME OF THE PEOPLE ON BOARD.

The steamship Ventura arrived from Sydney via Auckland and Fanning Island, early this morning and was docked at the Oceanic wharf at about 7:45 o'clock. Pleasant weather was experienced during the entire voyage. She made the trip in 15 days, 11 hours and 39 minutes or 14 days, 22 hours and 41 minutes corrected time; actual steaming time, from Auckland in 11 days, 10 hours and 25 minutes corrected, 11 days, 5 hours and 47 minutes actual steaming time; and from Fanning Island in 2 days, 20 hours and 28 minutes corrected time.

The Ventura left Sydney October 27 at 2:19 p. m.; Auckland Oct. 31 at 7:43 p. m.; Pago Pago, Nov. 4 at 9:40 a. m. and Fanning Island Nov. 8 at 8:22 a. m. The steamer brought a batch of cable messages of November 7 received at the Fanning Island cable station. Among the passengers for this port were Mr. and Mrs. A. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. T. Breen and Leo Derenda are vaudeville artists who return from an engagement with Ricard's combination, having performed in this company's theaters in the various large cities of Australia.

Dr. W. S. Twilley, Mrs. R. M. Durkee, Mrs. C. E. Hudson and Mrs. J. P. Lyon are tourists returning from a trip around the world, having visited India, China, Japan and many other places.

Among the through passengers for San Francisco is Mrs. H. T. Brigham, a well known spiritualist lecturer, who returns to the Mainland after a lecture tour in Australia.

The Ventura carries altogether 17 passengers for Honolulu and 58 for San Francisco. She has 40 tons of cargo for this port and 366 tons for San Francisco. She is scheduled to sail at 2 p. m. today.

AS TO STEVEDORES

The Republican party means to do the right thing by the voters in more direction than one. At a recent meeting of the Central Committee, the secretary was instructed to send communications to all the firms of the city employing men along the wharves, thanking them for their work in the interests of the Republican party to cooperate with the committee in the matter of employing nothing but American citizens along the waterfront.

The stevedores have complained a great deal of late about the employment of Asiatics in stevedore work and during the recent campaign, one of the principal questions brought up by the native stevedores was: "Does the Republican party intend to take any steps toward ridding the waterfront of Asiatic laborers?" The answer given at the time by the candidates of the Republican party and other workers in the interests of good government, was that this was just what the Republican party did intend doing.

True to the pledge that had been given the natives, the Central Committee, not more than three days after the election, took steps to address the firms referred to and letters are soon to go forth asking what has already been mentioned.

The Central Committee is taking up other matters as the meetings progress, calculated to work for the benefit of the citizens of the country as opposed to aliens, and this work is to be continued until the time of the meeting of the Legislature, when bills covering the ground of the discussions and decisions from time to time, will be introduced.

There is nothing doing, so far this week, in the United States District Court.

NOTES OF THE NAVY

OREGON WILL BE THROWN OPEN FOR INSPECTION

NEW YORK MEN DID QUICK WORK IN COALING SHIP—DISPUTE OVER WHEELBARROW RACE.

The Oregon began coaling today. Lighters are now busy with the work of taking coal out to the big battleship and it is calculated that it will take in the neighborhood of three days to do the work. The man-of-war needs 900 tons of coal and each lighter carries in the neighborhood of 125 tons.

As soon as the Oregon has completed the work of coaling, the ship will be thrown open for the inspection of visitors. Captain Burwell has decided to give everyone a chance to see the splendid fighting machine. The Oregon will probably be here ten days longer.

The work of coaling the New York was completed at about 2 o'clock yesterday and all afternoon was spent in washing down the decks and getting the big man-of-war clean once more.

When the men had completed their work, they all took their wheelbarrows, some one hundred and fifty in all and started on a dead run for the navy station sheds to put them up. The scene was a most exciting one and was watched with a great deal of interest by the people of the naval station. The men are still engaged in a discussion as to which man won out in the race.

The New York men made a record in coaling their ship. They put into the bunkers an average of from 145 to 160 tons an hour and the ship only required in the neighborhood of 850 tons. Walking was too tame for the men of the flagship of Admiral Rodgers and so they ran.

The Japanese system of loading the ship by means of small baskets was put in operation during the coaling of the New York and the quick passing back and forth of these small receptacles was very interesting to watch. A steady flow of coal was kept going into the bunkers by means of the quick work of the men. They were never seen to miss once.

There are reasons for this good work on the part of the men of the New York. In the first place, they have every confidence in Captain McKenzie and are willing to work hard for him because when their work is well done, he invariably shows them every consideration and allows them extra liberty. Then again, the men take a natural pride in their ship because she is the flagship.

There are some excellent baseball players aboard both the men-of-war in port and the local players are already talking about organizing a team and challenging the navy men to a contest.

GREAT GEYSERS PLAY

Manager Cross of the Inter-Island and Telegraph Company received a dispatch from the Hawaii station this morning stating that the volcano had started in on a new era of activity that is the most extensive for twenty years.

Great geyser fountains are reported in Halemauau and the lava lake has increased in size.

R. H. Trent of Waterhouse & Co. received the following telegram from Manager Waldron: "Fire geyser in lake 600 feet in diameter, Halemauau."

Mr. Trent is trying to arrange for a special steamer for excursionists to the volcano. It is probable the Wilder Steamship Co. will send the Helene Thursday or Friday.

Today was a happy one on board the cruiser New York. As the jackets came down the gang-plank their faces were illumined by happy smiles and their pockets jingled with gold and silver. Today is pay-day on the cruiser, no less than about $9,000 being paid out to the crew. This is good news for the tradesmen of this city, as the bluejackets seldom carry a cent with them when they leave a port, and it is safe to say that practically every cent of the $9,000 mentioned above will go to swell the coffers of the merchants of Honolulu.

HAWAIIAN WHARF MEN WILL FIGHT ASIATICS

The poolas or laborers along the waterfront who have been combining and who showed their strength on election day in their work for Prince Jonah Kihulo Kalaualano and the Republican candidates for the Senate and House, have taken a step that will probably result in the freezing out of the Asiatics at the fishmarket.

It has been learned from a reliable source that they are now contemplating the formation of some kind of a company for the purpose of controlling one of the fish stalls at the fishmarket and that they will, upon the establishment of the business, call upon all the members of the Hui Poola and all natives who are looking for the interests of the Hawaiian people, to buy fish there and nowhere else.

As there are in the neighborhood of six hundred poolas engaged along the waterfront, the fish stall of the poolas is sure to be well patronized. The men have been long aching for a chance to freeze the Asiatics out of the fishmarket and now they have taken a determined stand and will force the issue.

Each poola will constitute himself a committee of one to drum up trade and all friends will be called upon and told the exact state of affairs. It is expected that the movement will result in the reduction of the price of fish and the supply of a better article to the people.

MANDAMUS SUIT AGAINST GOOPER

James H. Boyd's Procedure to Regain Public Works.

ALTERNATIVE WRIT ISSUED BY JUDGE GEAR

COMPLAINANT ALLEGES THAT COOPER IS USURPER AND HIMSELF THE LAWFUL INCUMBENT.

James H. Boyd this afternoon sued out a writ of mandamus directed to Henry E. Cooper, commanding the respondent to surrender to the petitioner the office of Superintendent of Public Works and its appurtenances.

The complaint alleges that Cooper usurps the office and will not deliver over the records. Boyd claims that he is the lawfully appointed Superintendent of Public Works and entitled to hold that office, perform its duties and enjoy its emoluments. Humphreys, Thompson & Watson are attorneys for petitioner. Judge Gear has granted an alternative writ, returnable on Tuesday next, the 18th inst.

FRENCHMEN IN FIGHT

Four French sailors from the bark, Vincennes, appeared in the Police Court this morning, charged with being drunk. Each one of them exhibited an optic which clearly showed that the hand of an artist in the noble art of self-defense had dallied there.

It appears that last night the sailors were coming from the saloons up town and going along the waterfront singing their "cabacons" in a very happy mood. They dropped in on the Wilder wharf and tried to board the Maui when they encountered a snag in the shape of a watchman who went at them with his fists. He was assisted by a number of sailors from the Maui and a terrible carnage ensued in which all four Frenchmen were laid out, one of them being knocked into the water.

When the police arrived, they found four very much done-up Frenchmen who were taken to the police station. The Frenchmen all said "Mais non." They had not been drunk but did not escape a fine of $2 apiece. Attorney Straus acted as interpreter in an exceedingly creditable manner.

TEMPER JUSTICE WITH MERCY

Yet Umemoto Considers Verdict As Being Out of Order.

VERDICT FOR ARMITAGE IN PEROUTKA CASE

HAWAIIAN TRAMWAYS CO DEFENDING A DAMAGE SUIT, DIVORCE AND PROBATE MATTERS.

"Don't you know Mr. Lowrey is a strict missionary and would not allow me to drink sake or to smoke on his premises?" was the indignant answer of Umemoto when asked by Mr. Douthitt if he had been drinking on the morning of his attempted suicide. Compelled to give straight answers, he said he had not drunk anything that morning, though he did not deny that he liked an occasional drop of Japan's national beverage. Further, he said that Mr. Lowrey was not in the habit of drinking or smoking there.

William T. Rawlins, closing for the defense, contended that Umemoto had told a straight story. There was not an iota of evidence to show malice against the woman Lulai or intent to do her harm. Nor was there any evidence to prove that he had assaulted her with a knife or raised his hand against her in any way. It was testified a knife was found in the room and given to the police, but the prosecution had failed to produce the knife in court. On the other hand, Umemoto gave evidence that he found a razor on the table after the woman had left, which he cut his throat with before he hanged himself. Stress was also laid upon the woman's throat, showing an unlikelihood that a strong man having her in his power and intending to kill had done it. Furthermore, there was the showing that the woman's husband took no note of his wife's injury and that her whereabouts was not even revealed until Chester Doyle discovered her in a back room at Iwilei. Mr. Douthitt, for the prosecution.

TO IMPROVE THE PARK

WILLIAM G. IRWIN
 EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS

GREATER VARIETY OF TREES AND SERVICES OF A LANDSCAPE GARDENER ARE REQUIRED.

William G. Irwin, in the midst of pressing business anticipatory of his departure for the Coast in the Ventura, found time to give a Bulletin reporter some of his ideas about the improvement of Kapiolani Park.

"With a little reasonable assistance from the government," Mr. Irwin said, "and the help of an intelligent landscape gardener, one who understands his business, that little park ought to be made one of the prettiest places in the Pacific."

"In my twenty years of experience from living there I have found that many trees will grow which at first would not have been expected. For instance, the Grevillia robusta, commonly called the Australian silver oak, grows remarkably well there. Different varieties of banyan flourish. There are also the ironwoods, which are not supposed to grow from atolls of sand in the South Seas, whose natural habitat is sand like the soil of Kapiolani park. Varieties of shrubs do well out there, such as the crotons, besides vines like the bougainvillea. I have no doubt there are other trees and plants that would thrive equally well which have not yet been tried. The algaroba, though possessing a beautiful feathery foliage, is too brittle and therefore liable to disfigurement in storms. For the park we want a stronger tree.

"One thing needed is an artesian well. Even if the water were slightly brackish, by turning it into the lagoons a current would be created which would prevent stagnation and scums with resulting bad odors. It would also favor the cultivation of aquatic plants, such as water lilies.

"I have always taken a great interest in the park," Mr. Irwin continued, "but the commissioners have always been handicapped by a lack of sufficient funds. There has been a lack of adequate water supply, particularly in the summer months. Finally, the need of an artistic gardener has all along been felt. If these wants could be supplied in an economical manner the park, instead of being an eyesore as it is at present, would become one of the first attractions of Honolulu.

"Without wishing to injure the Jockey Club, I think the day has arrived when it will have to move. A large enclosure, more than a mile in circumference, is too much to take out of a park of that size. The fences should be removed together with the buildings, which are very unsightly, and while a portion of the enclosure should be devoted to athletic pastimes, polo, etc., the remainder might be laid out artistically by the landscape gardener in harmony with the outlying park scheme.

"The lack of a porter's lodge, or residence for the gardener, is an obvious one, and I am very happy to say that subscriptions are now about sufficient for doing something of that kind to the entrance, which would add to the attractiveness and value of the park.

"The advent of the electric cars will now induce great crowds to go down moonlight nights and Sundays, and for that reason the accommodation for the public, including children's amusements, ought to be enlarged."

Mr. Irwin recently gave practical evidence of his interest in the improvement of Kapiolani park by heading a subscription list terefor with one thousand dollars.

BUGKEYE CLUB

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Bugkeye Club was held last evening at the home of W. A. Bowen on Kewalo street. There were in the neighborhood of sixty good Ohio people present and the meeting was a most enthusiastic one. The evening was devoted to music and social diversions of various kinds. There was a vocal solo by Stanley Livingston who was accompanied by the piano by Miss Hyde. Alfred Butler of Cincinnati gave a piano solo which was followed by a violin solo by Prof. Amme, accompanied by Miss Castle. Mr. Livingston then gave another solo, accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Whitney. A piano solo by Miss Castle closed the program of music. Rev. W. D. Westervelt presided at the meeting.

One of the interesting events of the evening was the report of the committee appointed some time ago to secure subscriptions to the McKinley Memorial Fund. The club promised the sum of $500 to the fund and the report of the committee at the meeting last night was to the effect that $430 of this amount had already been secured.

At the business meeting the following new members were voted in: Mrs. L. B. Coan, Mr. Dennis, Mr. Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Whitney, Miss Jessie Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dyke. The following were voted in as honorary members, as they do not intend to become permanent residents of Honolulu: Mrs. Engleton, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Cummings and Mr. Butler.

ALASKAN WHISKY STILL

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 27. — Albert T. Hawkins, who arrived today from a two years' trip through Alaska, says that the manufacture of illicit whisky is practiced to a great and growing degree there. He estimates that fully one-half of all the whisky consumed in the north pays no revenue. He found locally distilled liquor in quantities in the camps about Rampart, Seventy Mile and Circle.

Hawkins says: "No arrests have been made for engaging in the traffic, though what I say is quite generally known, and it would seem there is little effort at concealment. I have brought out a sample bottle, which I hold as a great curiosity, since the declared cost of its manufacture in a land of high prices is 67 cents a gallon. It readily sells for $14, and its consumption is only limited by the capacity of the crude distilleries.

"Fully one-half of the dried apples, prunes and other fruits shipped into that country are never served on the table, but find their way ultimately into the mash tub and fermenting barrel.

"I personally examined several plants, and the ingeniousness of the makers is commendable if their object is not. A copper kettle, an old wash boiler or an old coal oil can is used for a retort, the 'worm' being of steam pipe, hose or even strong canvas. Old rotten apples, prunes and peaches are first fermented in water in a warm place, and then evaporated by means of the retort. At the other end of the 'worm' there trickles out a weak fluid which is raised to fiery strength by repeating the distillation. The product is 'hot chimo,' or, for short, 'hootch,' the name given by the Indians when first initiated into the process years ago by the Russians.

"A man with a skin full of this liquor will stand on his head, climb the ridgepole of his tent, pick his own pockets, give away his claim—in fact, there is nothing he will not attempt if it be suggested to him."

As the result of a trip of inspection over a portion of the Newark meadows, the New Jersey State entomologist, John B. Smith, declares that the task of getting rid of the mosquito plague, from which Newark and the surrounding territory have suffered each recurring summer, will be easy. Contrary to the general belief, he says, mosquitoes do not breed in all parts of the meadows, but only occupy limited areas in certain spots, where there is water. Meadow waters which are connected with tidewater are not breeding places for mosquitoes, as the small fish which come in with the tide feed on the eggs and the "wrigglers," the latter being the first stage of the development of what becomes a mosquito. To do away with the mosquito evil on the Newark meadows, Mr. Smith declares it will be only necessary to fill in the wet places with ashes or to connect them by ditches with the Passaic river or Newark bay.

An experiment in crossing blon with domestic cattle is to be made at Fairfield, Maine, following similar successful trials in the West. Cattle of the hybrid animals are called.

BEET SUGAR TRADE

EASTERN SHIPMENTS WILL NOT REDUCE PRICES

NEW YORK BROKERS TALK ON EFFECT OF THE SENDING OF GRANULATED SUGARS TO THE EAST.

New York, Oct. 22.—The report that the beet sugar refiners of California have begun sending granulated sugar to New York, with the idea of competing with the local refiners in the latter's own territory, is not generally regarded by the trade here as an important factor in the market conditions, nor is it believed that a decrease from present list prices will result from this situation.

As a matter of fact, there has always been a spirited rivalry between the Eastern sugar refiners and the beet sugar manufacturers for the possession of the interior markets, but until this year very little beet sugar has found its way as far east as the seaboard in competition with the cane product.

Most of the beet sugar produced in California and the Far West has heretofore found its way to Kansas City, and from there to St. Louis, and even as far East as Chicago.

This year, however, the Western crop has been unusually large, both as to area and yield, and after the product had been shipped to Kansas City and vicinity it was found that there would be quite a large surplus over the consumptive demand at that point. It is this surplus which is being utilized to find a sale in the New York market.

While only two shipments have thus far been arranged for, each of 1,000 tons, the first to come by steamship around the Horn and the second by the Southern Pacific Railroad to Galveston, and thence by steamship here, it is stated on good authority that this is only the beginning of a movement in this direction.

What proportions the movement may eventually assume can only be conjectured, but it is predicted by those in a position to know that the extent of the invasion will not be of sufficient importance to cause the combine to cut its local prices.

In speaking of the present situation a broker, who is well acquainted with all the existing facts, said: "The American Sugar Refining Co. is not using the Missouri River as a barrier against shipments of beet sugar east of that point, as has been stated.

"It simply takes the stand that it is entitled to a fair proportion of business in any market in which the freight rates from its various refineries will allow it to participate.

"It is making a price of 4.50c per pound on Missouri River points and is shipping sugar there, not by Lake and rail, but by slow routes. The interior of Missouri is being supplied with shipments from New York via Galveston.

"Mississippi River points from New Orleans to St. Paul are supplied from the refinery at New Orleans.

"It is true that the American Co. did have great difficulty last year in selling any sugars in the beet sugar territory, for the reason that the beet contracts guaranteed a lower price than any the American companies could possibly name. In fair competition they then retaliated by cutting prices to a point that would deprive the beet interests of any profits.

"Such a state of affairs, of course, caused a general demoralization of the interior markets, but it now appears that the rivalry will be more above board this year. As to affecting the local market it is out of the question."

A man closely identified with beet sugar interests, who was interviewed today concerning the proposed invasion of this section of the country, ridiculed the idea that the development in the present contest was in any way spectacular.

"It is simply a question of supply and demand," he said, "and we intend to market our product wherever we can get the best price.

"The beet sugar yield has been unusually large this year, and all beyond the consumption of the West and middle West will probably be shipped to New York. It is only fair competition and not the inauguration of a sugar war in any particular.

"It is an old established rule that beet sugar always sells at 10 points below the price of sugar manufactured from cane, and the fact that beet sugar sold in the West last year 10 points below the American Sugar Co.'s quotations on the day of delivery did not mark the inauguration of any new theory."

THE NEW AND THE OLD GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICES

The new government printing office, now nearing completion, although it has seven acres of floor space, will be only large enough for the current work of the government and does not make any substantial allowance for future growth. Yet the structure is so large that it has consumed in its erection 14,000,000 pounds of steel, one-seventh as much cast iron and 45,000 barrels of portland cement. The doors have been made of an asbestos composition, the door and window frames of iron and the whole structure is as nearly fire-proof as it was possible to make it. The cost, when it is completed, will be about $2,400,000.

Cowardly Murder of Father and Mother

Reno, Nev., Oct. 27.—Word has been received here of a tragedy that occurred in the Sierra valley Saturday morning, which has created the most intense excitement. Four people are concerned in the case and two of them are expected to die.

Joha M. Mullins, an insurance agent, brought about the ruin of Louise Ede, a 16-year-old girl, well educated, pretty and hitherto the bearer of an unblemished reputation. The parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. Ede, demanded that Mullins marry the girl, and prevailed upon him to sign a contract, to this effect.

From the evidence now in the possession of the officers it appears that Mullins deliberately planned to murder Mr. and Mrs. Ede, secure $605 which they had in the house and leave the country. He prevailed upon the girl to visit her grandfather, five miles from home, and induced her brother, a 15-year-old boy, to come to Beckwith with him. He made the excuse that he wanted to have the boy measured for a suit of clothes. Mullins then went up town, took several drinks and said that he was ill and would go to bed.

Instead of retiring, he walked six miles out the Boca and Loyalton railway track to the Ede residence, a house far from the nearest neighbor. The would-be murderer entered the house and engaged the parents in conversation. He brought with him a bottle of whisky, which he gave the father. The latter, after drinking a portion of it, went to bed. Mullins then asked the mother to count the money again, to see if it was all there. She mistrusted him, and did not produce the money. Some talk was also had concerning the marriage contract.

Mullins then said he was going home but, instead, he went outside and reentered the room where Ede was sleeping. He had with him a slung-shot made of a bridge rod washer attached to a rope. With this he struck Ede several times over the head, laying the brain bare.

Mrs. Ede heard this commotion and rushed into the room. Mullins met her at the door and knocked her unconscious with the deadly weapon, beating her several times on the head and breast. The woman regained consciousness and crawled into the brush.

When Mullins had, as he supposed, killed the old man, he started out to find his other victim. He lit a number of matches and searched for some time. Mullins was seen entering the Laffranchini Hotel at 4 o'clock that morning.

Mrs. Ede wandered around in a dazed condition for several hours and finally arrived at the Bates ranch house, where she gave the alarm. The neighborhood was quickly notified and soon a large posse of armed men were out searching for the would-be assassin. He was found in his room in the hotel. Mullins made no resistance to arrest and refused to say anything about the tragedy. Armed men guarded the jail to prevent lynching, an attempt at which was feared.

Mullins' hearing took place today, and he was bound over to await the result of his victims' injuries, which are expected to prove fatal. Mullins refused to say anything during the preliminary examination except to call for morphine. The feeling against him in Sierra valley is most intense.

Cuba a Kindergarten Without a Teacher

Washington, D. C.—Recent advices from Cuba, declaring that great distress exists there, are verified by Maj. George M. Barbour, for four years after the American occupation sanitary commissioner in charge of Santiago and neighboring towns, who said he had recently received a letter from a Santiago merchant saying that 14,000 men were out of work in that city.

Maj. Barbour is firm in the belief that annexation is the only remedy for the gloomy conditions now prevalent in the island. As builders of a republic he entertains a very poor opinion of the Cubans, saying they are at present in the condition of a kindergarten without a teacher.

"The Cubans are a most impracticable lot of people," says Maj. Barbour, "and every one of them has a different idea of what constitutes a republic. They are a unit on one point, however; they think the basic principle of a republic is to provide every citizen with a job at a large salary, with very little work. There is no doubt in my mind, however, that the land conditions in Cuba are responsible for the unsettled conditions there. Most of the land is controlled by absent Spanish landlords, and if this property was divided up into small holdings it would work a wonderful change in the Cuban people.

"In this direction I favor the suggestion made by Representative Newlands that such a step be taken, and we would have the same happy results that were obtained in Ireland when the English government instituted such a procedure, granting small holdings to the Irish tenants on long time at a low rate of interest."

The present administration of Cuba, with a few exceptions, is a collection of hungry politicians, is Maj. Barbour's belief. He considers President Palma an honest man, but a dreamer unable to cope with the serious problems confronting him. "He means well," says the major, "but you must remember that he was away from Cuba for twenty-six years, and the conditions that prevailed a quarter of a century ago are not the ones that prevail today. You can form some idea of the character of the Cuban Congress when I tell you that only seven members of the Lower House pay taxes."

FOR HIGHER PATRIOTISM.

Boston, Oct. 26.—Lady Henry Somerset was greeted by a large audience in Tremont Temple today at the Woman's Christian Temperance Union meeting held to advocate the district option bill for Boston. Among others on the platform were Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens and Miss Anna Adams Gordon. Lady Somerset's address was a plea for a patriotism that makes the welfare of the world its own.

Rev. Henry Sanders of London contrasted the matter of temperance reform in this country and in England, to the disadvantage of the latter.

Prince Henry of Prussia is insured against assassination. The policy is for $900,000, which sum is not payable in case of death from any other cause than that stipulated.

Even Madame Pele is celebrating the elections.

It is somewhat surprising that the longest cable in the world does not record the fate of W. R. Hearst in his contest for Congressional honors.

One of the first important duties of the new Treasurer will be the framing of a new license law to take the place of laws which were wiped out by technicalities following annexation.

Coffee producers and consumers are losers and coffee middlemen are making all the money according to the conclusions of the New York coffee conference. No one in Hawaii can claim to be a middleman.

While figuring on the appointees which the senate will assist in naming it will be wise to consider possible claims of the outside islands. Hawaii, Maui and Kauai gave majorities for the party that will justify a claim from any one of them for representation among the heads of departments.

Two-year term Senators elected in 1900 are perfectly welcome to make the trip to the Capitol building to find out whether they have been called. The honorable gentlemen, however, will do better to save their time and money. There is nothing in the Organic Act or the laws of the Territory to indicate that a two year term extends beyond the date of the election of successors to office.

Delegate-elect Kuhio and the Republican organization have spoken plainly enough to convince the people that the party knockers will gain slight recognition. Thanks to the good judgment of the electorate, the Territory is well on the way to an era of good will as well as prosperity and it is not the intention of Republican leaders to allow spokes of spite or prejudice to be put in the wheels.

The efforts of the New York coffee growers' conference to establish better recognition for the pure product are bound to make market conditions more satisfactory to the Hawaiian coffee growers. If the American market is once put on a plane where a superior coffee is given the place on the price list that it deserves, there is little question of our product holding a position close to the top of the list.

The attempt to discredit Jas. H. Boyd before he has had his day in court is so thinly veiled as to give rise to a general impression that Boyd is to be condemned whatever the verdict of the courts may be. The Grand Jury now in session is in a position to get at all the facts of Mr. Boyd's administration and weigh them fairly. All fair minded citizens will reserve their judgment until the Grand Jury report is made. Advance comment is merely the effervescence of spite that cannot contain itself.

By his election to the Governorship of California, Dr. Pardee has reached the goal of his political ambition after a struggle that numbers not a few incidents which would have finished a less capable politician. Pardee's various campaigns and his strict party loyalty put him among those "who would make a good Governor" if he could succeed in landing the nomination. His final victory foreshadows a gubernatorial term that will be strictly honest and as free from factionalism as it is possible for a Californian administration to be.

Retail merchants of the city are reporting a general increase of trade since the election. It is an open question whether this spurt can be put down as one of the direct results of the election. The feeling of confidence may cause householders to branch out more extensively or some of the money won on election bets may be getting into circulation. The people must not be in too much of a hurry in predicting a realization on election results. Better times are in sight but the progress will not be on the boom order. The whole tendency is toward a stronger tone in all lines of business, but the full fruits of returning prosperity will await the general renewal of operations in the public work and the higher prices confidently expected for the sugar crop.

IMPROVE THE PARK.

Park Commissioner Irwin's effort to arouse general interest in the improvement of Kapiolani park deserves to bear fruit in the shape of private subscription as well as liberal appropriation by the Legislature. As Mr. Irwin says "There is no reason why Kapiolani park should not be one of the prettiest spots in the Pacific." When the Rapid Transit lines are extended, the Park will become one of the most popular outing places in the city. It should also be one of the most attractive park grounds from the standpoint of the landscape gardener.

Examples of the possibilities, first of what can be done are found in the private grounds throughout the city and especially in the Moanalua estate of Mr. Damon. The Irwin home and the beautiful grounds of J. B. Castle, adjoining the park furnish ideals of artistic plans and care of grounds that could easily be carried out on a broader scale in the park area. It is hardly possible that this city park can approach the Moanalua estate which is the product of many years' study and experimenting, yet this private estate gives the people practical demonstrations that can be carried out in what will eventually be our municipal park system, that will include Thomas Square and the proposed Ala Park.

If the public spirited men of the city aided by the Territory can make a beginning with practical landscape gardening at Kapiolani park it will be a short time before the educational value will express itself in a demand for better care of park areas in all parts of the city and the people will not doubt the wisdom of expending money for play grounds and the advancement of municipal art. Attractive parks are the schools that teach home builders how to make their immediate surroundings more attractive.

It is hardly to be expected that Kapiolani park placed in the hands of a landscape gardener will immediately vie with private estates, but the movement proposed by Mr. Irwin is the only sound foundation for making the park what it should be. It will assure steady work on an intelligent plan, better care of the grounds and at least give relief from present features that savor so much of a stagnant swamp. Given enough money for the gardener and the artistic well, the improvement would be sufficiently marked to convince the people that they can well afford to spend more along the same lines. The excellence of city parks is one of the means by which civic pride is properly gauged. Honolulu cannot afford to fall below the standards of a progressive people.

INTEREST IN FOOTBALL GAME NEXT SATURDAY

Great interest is being taken in the football game for Saturday afternoon next, when the Punahou and Honolulu Athletic Club teams will come together on the gridiron at Oahu College. It is expected that at that time there will be present one of the largest crowds of the season.

The Punahous are working very hard this week for they realize they will have a real battle on their hands next Saturday. If they succeed, it will be by clever playing and nothing more, for they will be unable to buck through the line of the Honolulu, considering the fact that the latter team has five men in their line who will average considerably over 200 pounds.

The Honolulu has secured a good man as one of their halves. He is none other than Kaminsky, the Camp McKinley exponent of the manly art, and as another half the wearers of the scarlet and white have Antonio Long. This team will probably be short on their quarter as Russel, the regular man there, has suffered an injury to his leg that may lay him up for the game. He has been doing no practicing whatever this week. However, the Honolulu have three more men who can be put into the quarterback's position if necessary.

Charles Chillingworth is booked for one of the ends and Wm. Blaisdell, who, although a light-weight, is at home when going through a line, is to play full. This is the position he played last year.

The Punahous are working hard and are not giving out anything of what they expect to do. Percy Morse and all the other good players who were bowled over on Saturday last, are in good shape again and will be able to do their best in the coming game. Hatch, who proved a perfect tower of strength, is also in good trim and will give the Honolulu a good deal to think about.

TREBELLI COMING

W. D. Adams has received word from Mme. Trebelli-Dulores that she will again visit Honolulu and give a series of three concerts assisted by Mr. Newell. The first concert will be given on December 29 at the Opera House. All the concerts will be under the management of W. D. Adams.

MINSTRELS TOMORROW.

The Honolulu Minstrel Co. will appear again at the Orpheum tomorrow evening. An entire change of program has been arranged and the same excellent quality of performance given Saturday evening last will be repeated. Box office now open.

MAKINNEY IS GUILTY

FINED $200 IN THE POLICE COURT TODAY

F. W. Makinney appeared in the Police Court today on three separate charges of gross cheat, sworn to by Matsumoto, Mr. Levy and Mr. Monies of Camara & Co., respectively.

S. E. Damon of Bishop & Co.'s bank was the first witness examined in the first case. High Sheriff Brown, who conducted the case for the prosecution, asked questions regarding Makinney's funds in the bank which brought out that Makinney's personal account in the bank closed August 31, 1899. Since then, he had had a trustee account but this was closed October, 1900, and at present, Makinney had no funds in the bank. On the contrary he owed the bank a small sum.

The High Sheriff showed Mr. Damon the check which Makinney had passed on Matsumoto. It was identified by Mr. Damon who stated that it had been presented at the bank but payment on it had been refused as there were no funds in Makinney's name.

Since then, Makinney had come to see Mr. Damon, telling him that he would never have drawn the check had it not been for the fact that the poor condition of his financial circumstances had compelled him to do so. He begged to be "let off," promising that he would never do such a thing again.

Attorney F. M. Brooks, who appeared for the defendant, asked Mr. Damon if Makinney had overdrawn his account, to which witness answered that Makinney had done so two years ago.

Matsumoto, the employe of Ozaki & Co., on whom the check in question had been passed, next took the stand. He stated that he did not wish to prosecute as the defendant had already made good the check. The High Sheriff told him that he wanted to know the truth about the whole matter but the witness was evidently very loth to testify against the defendant and the cross-examination brought out little or no evidence of importance.

Mr. Brooks made a motion that the defendant be discharged on account of insufficiency of evidence, which motion was granted by the court.

In the second case, in which Levy, the owner of the fruit store in the Occidental block, had sworn to the warrant, the testimony of Mr. Damon, the first witness also in this case, gave testimony to practically the same effect as that given in the first case.

Levy on the stand stated that on November 3 Makinney had bought a tin of oysters from him, giving him in payment a check for $10 on Bishop's Bank. Levy gave him $9.10 in change. He had tried to cash the check but the bank refused to honor it. Makinney had come to him later and offered to make the check good which had been done later, Mrs. E. S. Holt paying the amount.

Mr. Brooks here made a strenuous effort to secure a discharge of the defendant. He held that as the check had been tendered by Makinney and was in his own name, it was merely a lie put in writing and not gross cheating. He quoted authorities for this in making his motion for discharge. This was, however, denied by the court. Whereupon Mr. Brooks stated that the defense had no evidence to offer and rested the case.

In the third case the testimony of Mr. Damon was of the same nature as that given by him in the two first cases. Mr. Monies, the employe of Camara & Co., who had given Makinney some goods and $18.50 in change for a check for $20 presented by him, testified to these facts. The next day Camara had told him not to cash the check then, but on the following day he, thinking it would be all right, had tried to cash the check at the bank but had been refused payment on it. Makinney had made the check good before the warrant for his arrest had been sworn to by Mr. Monies.

On this evidence Mr. Brooks made a motion that the defendant be discharged, but this was denied by the court. The defense then rested its case. Mr. Brooks only asking that punishment be made as lenient as possible.

The High Sheriff stated to the court that as far as he was concerned, he did not think that imprisonment was necessary and that a fine would suffice. The court found Makinney guilty on the last two charges and fined him $100 and costs in each case. Appeals were noted.

THOMPSON-LEWIS

The wedding of Miss Ella Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, and Frank E. Thompson of the firm of Humphreys, Thompson & Watson, took place at the home of the bride's parents, College Hills, last evening, in the presence of a large number of people invited for the purpose of witnessing the marriage of the two young people as well as taking part in the housewarming for the new residence of the Lewises.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the groom, preceded by Dr. C. B. High, the best man, entered the breakfast room and took station in the alcove which had been beautifully decorated for the ceremony. Two children, the brother of the bride, and Miss Spaulding, acting as pages, followed. Next came Miss Lucy Roth, the maid-of-honor, and then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father.

The ceremony, performed by the Rev. Canon Kiteat, took place beneath a bower of greens and flowers with a true lover's knot of pink ribbon above. While the ceremony was being performed De Koven's beautiful song "O Promise Me" was sung by J. Lovette Rockwell.

After the ceremony came the reception and dancing, which was kept up until a late hour. The decorations of the house were designed and executed by Mrs. E. D. Tenney and Mrs. H. G. Noonan.

OLD AND YOUNG. We are optimists. We spurn the teachings of despair and distrust. We have an abiding faith in the growing strength, the growing future of the mighty young nation still in the flush of its youth and yet already with the might of a giant which stands on a continent and grasps an ocean with either hand.—President Roosevelt. The teacher of a class in a certain school had been carefully explaining the parable of the prodigal son, and was now testing their knowledge of it. All went well until she came toward the close, when she asked: "Now, tell me, who was not pleased to see the prodigal son when he came home again?" To her consternation she received the following reply from a youthful scholar: "Please, ma'am, the fattened calf."—Chicago Journal. PLAGUE AND CHOLERA

FEARFUL RAVAGES OF DISEASE IN THE ORIENT

PHILIPPINES HAD 75,000 CHOLERA CASES—CONDITIONS BAD IN CHINA—EGYPT HAS SUFFERED.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The fearful ravages of plague and cholera in the old world are set forth in mail advices received by the Marine Hospital Service. From Manila Chief Quarantine Officer Perry makes a conservative estimate that the cases of cholera that have actually occurred in the Philippine Islands since March 20th last aggregate 75,000, with a mortality of 75 per cent. He says under date of September 19th that the disease has practically disappeared from those provinces first infected, but those most recently affected are suffering severely. The province of Iloilo and the adjacent Island of Negros are badly infected and the situation is alarming. Some of the towns in these provinces have lost 10 per cent of their population and the epidemic continues severe. In Japan the latest advices show that there have been 4,329 cases and 1,850 deaths from cholera.

The cholera situation in China is very bad. In the provinces of Hunan and Shan-Si the disease is raging. In Nan-king alone there have been 40,000 deaths. In Hongkong there have been 459 cases and 296 deaths. Notwithstanding this the local authorities declare the colony free from infection.

According to a report of the director general of the Egyptian department of health, the cholera epidemic continues to claim a large number of victims. The number of infected places increased to 1,557. The number of cases registered during the week ended September 15th amounted to 9,463, with 8,278 deaths.

Of the 28,520 cases of cholera reported between July 15th and August 15th, 23,884 were fatal. During the four days from September 15th to September 19th there were registered 4,048 cases and 3,761 deaths. In Suez, between September 15th and September 19th, 29 cases were registered. In Damietta the daily number of cases recorded is said to be 30. Karnak and Luxor also are infected with the disease. In Alexandria during the week ended September 15th, 64 cases of cholera occurred among Europeans, with 41 deaths, and during the following five days 45 cases and 35 deaths were recorded.

New York, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Burton Harrison, the novelist, is heartily in sympathy with her son's political ambitions, and while she claims no knowledge of politics, she is assisting him with her pen and her social influence in his campaign for Congress. Drawers in her working desk are filled with campaign badges with her son's picture and with his campaign circulars, and these she places in the hands of every voter she sees.

Mrs. Harrison is a descendant of one of Virginia's foremost families. Her son has always been anxious to lead a political career, and she was gratified that he has been nominated for Congress in the Thirteenth district, which includes practically the whole of Fifth avenue.

Young Harrison, though not a member of Tammany, was picked out by Tammany to run in this strongly Republican district.

NEW STALLION RECORD.

Memphis, Oct. 25.—Another world's record for stallions was announced from the Judges' stand at the Memphis trotting track today when the bay stallion Nervota paced two miles in 4:25-1-4. The horse was accompanied by a runner over the entire course, and was cheered to the echo when the figures were hung out.

MISS GENEVIEVE HECKER AFTER WINNING THE WOMAN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

Miss Genevieve Hecker, who retains the title of woman golf champion for another year, is the daughter of the late millionaire flour manufacturer John V. Hecker. Her home is in Orange, N. J. She is soon to be married to Mr. George Jenkins, under whose instruction she learned the game of golf.

SHORT STORY FOR EVENING HOURS HOW HE KEPT HOUSE

Jenkins, who was a devoted husband, was yet rather glad when his wife said she'd spend a month "at Mamma's." She needed a rest, and they both would be better for the change. Not that she had so much work to do, for they had no children, and their little at was a model in appearance, but Mrs. Jenkins was one of those women who are always "making work" for themselves. At least, that's what he thought, and the subject had been worn threadbare between them.

His dinner was never quite ready when he got home in the evening, and it was always dark when she was through with the dishes. Of course, he didn't care about such trifles, but he felt sorry to see her wearing herself out over what seemed to him a very easy, almost trivial round of duties. "What did she do all day?" was a question he often asked himself, but he was too kind to spring such a query on Julia who, whatever might have been her faults, was certainly the neatest housewife imaginable and kept the flat "like a pin."

"It ought to be like play for you," he used to say, "but here you are fretting and fuming and working away, as if you were housekeeper for a 20-room mansion on the boulevard."

"I'd like to see you do any better," she would snap, sometimes. But for the most part they were very happy, contented and affectionate—when they had time.

"Now you'll get your fill of house-keeping, John," she laughed when he told her that he meant to keep back-her's hall."

"Just watch me," he boasted. "I'll get up every morning at 6 A.M. and light the range. A cantaloupe, some oatmeal, a boiled egg and a cup of coffee will fix me out. The few dishes can be done 15 minutes. Lunch downtown, I'll be home at 6 every evening, wet the tea in a jiffy and be out for a walk and a smoke in the park before 8 o'clock. Oh, I'll get on famously. You always did have an exaggerated idea about the work around this doll house."

She cautioned him about leaving the refrigerator a bit open at top "for circulation," told him to empty the drip pan underneath every other day; she showed him where she had laid away his underwear and where his collars, cuffs and fresh linen lay; then she pointed out the coffee canister and the tea caddy, and the "sign" for the ice-man, and a score of minor details which struck him as proof positive that his wife was actually "getting eccentric" over the petty affairs of an establishment which struck him as simple as A B C.

She was gone and he, smiling pitifully on the platform, murmured: "Poor Julia! She's got to have something to worry about. If she had half my business affairs to look after she'd go crazy." And he walked back to the empty flat to get his pipe.

The place, with its closed windows and echoing halls, seemed so lonesome that he determined to go downtown for a harmless lark. Two hours of aimless wandering through the streets convinced him that there was no place like home. He got on the train and went there. He raised all the windows to try a little experiment which Julia had never approved of, but when he woke in the middle of the night, the rain as beating in at the front windows, the floor was flooded and the new rug was soaked.

"Just my luck," he grunted, slopping around in the dark. "That would not have happened if Julia had been here."

He did not stop to guess that perhaps she had met such little difficulties a hundred times without his knowledge, but rolled back into bed again. He overslept himself the next morning and in his haste to get to the office on time, had to forego the little task of making his bed. He put the oatmeal pot, but hadn't time to wait for it. When he got on the train he found that he had no handkerchief and a dim realization came over him that Julia never kissed him goodby in the morning without asking: "Got a clean handkerchief, John?"

That evening when he let himself into the empty flat, an odor like a rag factory fire greeted his nostrils. He rushed into the kitchen and found that he had forgotten to put out the gas under the oatmeal pot. There was a hole through the bottom of the enamel ware and the place was reeking with a sickening fog. Then he made tea in the coffee pot and couldn't drink the concoction. He forgot to grease the skillet for his egg frying, and as it was getting late, he decided to eat standing up by the kitchen table rather than carry the things into the dining room. It wasn't a very good supper, but Jenkins wasn't particular. He postponed the dishwashing till after he had taken his stroll and his smoke, and when he came back he was too sleepy.

That was the "gait" that Jenkins struck on the first day of Julia's absence, and he never quite got out of it. He was always a little too "rushed" in the morning to wash the dishes or make his bed, and in the evening he was "fagged" or suffering for a breath of fresh air, or eager to read the papers. On the eighth day he missed altogether, even his home-made cup of coffee, and galloped five blocks to get at a suburban restaurant. He spent two hours one night looking for clean collars, and when he gave up the search every chiffonier, dresser, wardrobe and closet in the house looked as if a burglar had ransacked them. Then he suddenly realized that he had forgotten to send his linen to the laundry. After that he couldn't "find anything." He made a few more half-hearted bluffs at getting his own breakfast, but the pile of dirty dishes in the sink began to grow mountainous and disheartening, and besides he couldn't manage to keep any "fresh things" in the refrigerator. The ice-man always came after he was gone, and he never could think of ordering butter and eggs. Then he quit coming home till bedtime. He "took in" all the vaudeville shows and took a tentative fling at "sporting life" in the way of a few pale tints at the summer gardens and downtown buffets.

He found out by dint of many and expensive disappointments that it was dreadfully hard to get eggs poached, or bacon and beans cooked "like home." His bed began to look like a last year's bird's nest. The dust and lint of a month's desuetude began to show on the floors, the furniture and the rugs.

Julia had been gone nearly a month when Jenkins got a note from his landlord echoing some vague protests of his neighbors. The letter hinted that there was "something dead" in the Jenkins flat, and that "Mrs. Smith and others were annoyed." He intended to look after the nuisance that evening when he went home, but when he toiled up the back stairway and found the back door ajar and the interior of his home in a typhoon of dust he knew that his wife was home. With subconscious clairvoyance he opened the refrigerator before he went into the maelstrom to confront Julia. Some forgotten mutton chops, a mildewed cantaloupe and a superfluous pound of butter in various and ominous stages of decomposition explained the complaints of the neighbors. But when he went in and Julia, poor Julia, who was always "making work for herself," kissed him and smiled and said: "You poor boy—it was a shame to leave you like that," Jenkins didn't know what to say, and, like a wise man, said nothing.—John H. Raftery in Chicago Record Herald.

RAILROADING TO ASYLUM

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 27.—An exciting race between Sheriff La Count of Porter County upon one side and City Marshal Billings of Valparaiso and Dr. J. C. Sharpe of Jacksonville, Ill., upon the other, with the liberty of a young woman at stake, set this city wild this afternoon. The objective point was the Pennsylvania station, and upon the result of the contest hinged the freedom of Miss Stella Josephine Teller, cousin of United States Senator Henry A. Teller of Colorado.

Miss Teller, after some family trouble concerning certain property, was placed a half year ago in a private asylum at Jacksonville, Ill. She escaped from that institution three months ago and came to this place, where she has quietly resided since her escape. Recently she engaged legal counsel and prepared to file a suit for $50,000 against one of her brothers, for her asylum experience. This step revealed her whereabouts and Dr. Sharpe of the Jacksonville institution came here to take her back. Arriving here, Dr. Sharpe enlisted the services of City Marshal Billings and went direct to the hotel where Miss Teller was stopping, placed her in a hack and started post haste for the Pennsylvania station. Her attorneys were apprised of the sudden turn of affairs and hurried to the station with a blank habeas corpus writ, arriving two minutes before the train pulled in. The writ was signed, a notary public who happened to be a passenger on the train affixed his seal, Circuit Judge McMahon hastened to grant the necessary order and Sheriff La Count, by a burst of speed caught Dr. Sharpe and his unwilling protegee as the train started to pull out of the station. The Jacksonville physician was compelled to release his former patient.

The Mexican National narrow gauge railroad, which with its branches extends over 1200 miles, has not killed a single passenger for over twenty years.

A lot of grass-fed steers from North Dakota averaging 1600 pounds each were sold in Chicago last August at $107.90 per head.

Shun Mineral Medicines

THE use of minerals is unnatural. No animal in its natural state, turns to minerals when stricken by sickness, but to the green herb, the healing leaf, the tonic bark, and the medicinal root. Mineral medicines stimulate for a time but never cure. To eradicate disease you must reach the root of the trouble and this can only be done by vegetable preparations.

KICKAPOO SAGWA

is the most potent and valuable of all remedies, being the product of centuries of experience and experiment. It eradicates diseases by going to the root of the trouble. It makes the stomach sound, regulates the liver, strengthens the weak heart, cleanses the clogged system and enables the kidneys and bowels to perform their proper functions. "I was a great sufferer from a disordered liver, which was accompanied with various stomach troubles and most severe sick headaches. I took Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and it cured me. I cannot say enough in its praise."—Mrs. Carrie B. Newell, Vernon, Minn." The Kickapoo Remedies are guaranteed to do as claimed or money refunded. Sold by all druggists.

ACTRESS' SAD END
 New York, Oct. 27.—Mabel Bouton, once an actress well known to New York theater goers, is dying in Bellevue Hospital from drink and consumption. She came here from Reno, Nev., young and attractive and achieved a certain kind of success that youth and beauty command at all times on Broadway. She is only 24 years old now.

For a year or two she was the life of many gay midnight parties in places where those who burn the candle at both ends gather. In a less conspicuous way, her life has been that of ill-fated Bettina Gerard. About a year ago her excesses made her insane. Although she recovered she did not return to the stage, but resumed her reckless living. She was supported by a man who had known her in her better days, but she became so depraved that he finally left her.

Five weeks ago she got a $50 remittance from some one in Boston, then she disappeared and was seen no more until yesterday, when she appeared at a boarding house where she once lived. She was filthy and on the verge of delirium tremens.

The unfortunate woman was taken to Bellevue Hospital. The doctor, in whose ward she is, said today that she is in the last stages of consumption, besides suffering from alcoholism. Her mind is affected. She will probably be sent to the State Hospital for Consumptives to die in quietude.

Four years ago the total shipment of salted salmon from Seattle to the East aggregated less than 1000 barrels. This year it is expected to be 50,000 barrels.

AIRSHIPS AT ST. LOUIS.
 Paris, Oct. 26.—A number of French aeronauts held a meeting here today for the purpose of devising a united plan under which to compete for the St. Louis Exposition aeronauts' prize of $100,000. Emile Marceau, the inventor of the flying machine "La Papillon" was the principal promoter of the meeting. M. Deutsch, M. Santos Dumont and other leading aeronauts were invited, but did not attend.

M. Marceau exhibited a huge model of "Le Papillon" with outstretched silk wings, measuring thirty feet across. He urged that as France was ahead in aeronautics there should be a united effort here to secure the St. Louis prize. He proposed the raising of a fund with which to build French airships, and said that in case the prize was won, half of it would be divided among those assisting the movement.

An executive committee was proposed by those present, but final action with regard to M. Marceau's proposition was deferred.

INDIA OFFICIALS RECALLED.
 New York, Oct. 26.—A special to the Sun from London says: The Army and Navy Gazette prints a sensational story concerning a distinguished cavalry regiment that is now stationed in India. The paper says that all the officers of this regiment who were home on leave were to return forthwith, and they started for India on Friday's steamer.

The secret of the extraordinary affair was well kept, but it is understood that something very serious happened recently in the mess on a great guest night, with the immediate result that a number of officers were placed under arrest—so many, indeed, that a recall of all others became necessary in order to work the regiment.

Cullom Says Cuba Must Behave Itself

Chicago, Oct. 22.—In an interview today United States Senator Cullom expressed himself as favorable to the idea of a permanent tariff commission. "We should," he said, "be able to place this perplexing subject in the hands of experts, who, after studying the situation carefully, could indicate where it was necessary to modify the schedule.

"Of course, such a commission could only report to Congress; it could not legislate, but I believe Congress could eventually be brought to act upon those recommendations.

"I would make such a commission permanent, with the hope that we should not be interrupted with sweeping tariff legislation at different periods, thus disturbing business conditions.

"First the pendulum swings one way and then another way. Even I, the commission was a partisan one I believe its work would be beneficial, but the purpose should be to remove the tariff from politics.

"During the discussion of the Wilson bill I introduced a measure designed to create a tariff commission something on the order of what I have mentioned. I intend to hunt up one of the copies. I may introduce a new bill on the subject this winter.

In discussing Cuban reciprocity, the Senator said: "I am in favor of a reciprocity arrangement with the Cubans, but unless they behave themselves we shall not be able to do anything for them. We used to have a reciprocity arrangement with the island which was very satisfactory to many of our people. That was along in '93 or '95, as I remember it.

"The arrangement was especially satisfactory to the millers, who were able to send large quantities of flour to Cuba on advantageous terms. I think we ought to have some trade arrangement now with the Cubans, so that our products can be sent there profitably, and so that they can send us their products at a better advantage than to other nations."

SWEET SIMPLICITY.

When the English tongue we speak Why is "break" not rhymed with "freak"?

Will you tell me why it's true We say "saw," but likewise "few;" And the maker of a verse Cannot cap his "horse" with "worse"?

"Beard" sounds not the same as "beard";

"Cord" is different from "word"; "Cow" is cow, but "low" is low;

"Shoe" is never rhymed with "foe," Think of "nose" and "dose" and "lose;" Think of "goose"—and yet of "choose;"

"Doll" and "roll;" and "home" and "some;"

And since "pay" is rhymed with "say," Why not "paid" with "said," I pray? We have "blood" and "food" and "good;"

"Mould" is not pronounced like "could" Wherefore "done," but "gone" and "one"?

Is there any reason known? And in short, it seems to me Sound and letters disagree.

FIGHTING A PRAIRIE FIRE IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

This is the season when prairie fires cause great destruction in the grain belt of the northwest. During a recent fire which raged for days in Beadle county, S. D., not a single hay or grain stack escaped within a radius of twenty miles. Whole communities turn out to fight such fires, and often the losses aggregate many thousands of dollars.

WHAT DEMOCRATS CLAIM.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The next House will have a Democratic majority of from twenty-five to thirty.

This statement is made on a knowledge of the situation in the Congressional Districts and from information both from Republican and Democratic sources.

It has never been printed that on a recent visit here of one of the leading members of the Republican campaign committee the statement was privately made by him that "the Democrats had the House by a majority of 16."

The statement was first made by a Republican office-holder here who gives information occasionally to the President. It was made before Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congressional Committee called at the temporary White House in Washington, and before the President secured the assent of the coal operators to an arbitration of the coal strike.

Since the announcement of the arbitration the Republican managers have taken courage and are now claiming a Republican House.

The sole reason for the change from overwhelming defeat, as confessed two weeks ago, is that there has been a settlement of the coal strike, toward which neither the campaign managers nor the Attorney General contributed in the slightest degree.

To practical politicians here the fact of an arbitration committee may seem to help the President, but it will not help the campaign managers who held aloof while the coal operators were contributing to the Republican campaign fund with a view to ascertaining the effect large contributions might have on the White House.

In brief the same conditions which wrung a confession of defeat from the Republican managers two weeks ago virtually exist today, notwithstanding the assumed favorable effect on the Republican campaign of the President's private arrangement with the miners and the coal operators.

HE IS THE ONLY ONE MAKING ANY MONEY

PRODUCER AND CONSUMER LOSING—SCHEME PROPOSED BY NEW YORK COFFEE CONFERENCE.

New York, Oct. 22.—At the meeting of the International-American Coffee Commission, held today at the Coffee Exchange, the second part of the report on the causes of the crisis was submitted by Senor J. F. de Assis Brasil.

He argued that three factors in the commerce of coffee have to be taken into consideration, viz: the producer, the middleman and the consumer. At present, the only ones who lose, he said, are the producer and consumer, the middleman being the gainer.

To abate the crisis, Mr. Brasil said that it was necessary to induce the increase of consumption and to decrease the supply of coffee until the equilibrium of the supply and demand be established and a normal price arrived at.

To increase the consumption the committee proposes: First—To obtain, by the most convenient means, the abolition or the decrease of import duties in countries which levy them.

Second—The arrival at an international agreement, in order to permanently establish the propaganda and defence of coffee and to teach the consumers to prepare this beverage well.

To Diminish Supply. First—The committee proposes that the exporting countries may prohibit the exportation of types below No. 9 of the Coffee Exchange, New York City, and the consuming countries may prohibit the importation of a lower type than No. 9.

Second—That the producing countries may organize a combination and every year at the proper time may determine the maximum of coffee which can be put in the markets of the world, and declare what percentage of the excess of the crop must be retained and what the destination of that percentage is to be.

Third—To solve the crisis, in the opinion of the committee, the Governments of the countries interested must energetically oppose, by all means at their disposal, the present situation, which is very grave and demands immediate attention.

Coffee Cultivation. The committee on production submitted a very full report, embracing among other things the cultivation of coffee, the condition of the land, explaining when coffee must be planted under shade and in what countries it was not necessary to have shade, and stating that the ordinary life of a coffee plantation was from 10 to 20 years, depending upon the conditions of the soil and climate.

This report further said that a coffee crop should be gathered as soon as some of the berries were ripe, not waiting until all were ripe, which would cause the loss of many because of their dropping from the trees.

The report also said that great improvements had been introduced in the cultivation of coffee during the past six years, due to the efforts of institutes, botanical gardens and private individuals.

The creation of new specimens of coffee was strongly recommended, such as "Stenophile," "Abyssinia," "Margaropie" and "Java."

Attention was called to the special method of grafting coffee seedlings employed in certain botanical gardens, making use of the hardy Libertia plants, and grafting them with the choicest specimens of Arabian and Java coffee.

In treating on the preparation of coffee the report says that considerable improvement has been obtained, due to innumerable new machines at present employed for that purpose, which allow the berry to be turned out in a cleaner and better condition, with less handling, and recommends as the best system that employed by the Dutch.

The report says that the cost of the production differs materially, and as the committee has been unable to obtain reliable information it was suggested that each of the delegations act through their respective Departments of Agriculture for an accurate report regarding the average cost of production.

In closing their report the committee on production declare that as the majority of the agriculturists have no knowledge of the ports and countries where their products may be most acceptable, and lack the necessary facilities for becoming acquainted with the special classes of coffee which would be most salable, the committee is of the opinion that the different Governments take the necessary measures so that this data may be supplied with due regularity to all of the agriculturists of the producing countries.

Both of these reports will come up for action at the next meeting, which will take place Monday, October 27, at 10 a. m.

BERNHARDT IN GERMANY.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—Sarah Bernhardt, for the first time since 1870, played in Germany tonight. She appeared in "Fedora" at the Royal Theater before an assemblage of members of the nobility and the first social personages of Berlin. Emperor William and the Empress were not present, but they sent a huge wreath to the French actress. It is understood that Their Majesties will attend a matinee near the conclusion of Mme. Bernhardt's engagement. The actress was tumultuously applauded. At the end of each act she was recalled four or five times and at the close of the performance, after sixth recall and surrounded by a mass of flowers and wreaths, Mme. Bernhardt said: "If statesmen can forget, so can I."

plied up the circumstances in the evidence going to indicate the guilt of the defendant.

The jury found Umamoto guilty with a recommendation to mercy, after an absence of six minutes. The jurors were A. K. Vieira, F. P. T. McIntyre, Warren Bogie, Jas. Nott, K. B. Porter, W. L. Peterson, Caesar Vieira, John Makaan, Henry Hickey, L. J. Nahora Hipa, B. S. Gregory and Geo. Fern.

Umamoto, when asked if he had anything to say why he should not be sentenced, replied: "The verdict rendered against me is out of order. When I was in the hospital I was frequently visited by Mr. Doyle, who did not permit me to state what I ought to have stated. That is all I have to say."

Judge De Bolt sentenced him to be imprisoned for two years at hard labor and to pay $1 fine and $18.50 costs.

The jury in the case of John Poroda vs. Harry Armitage, administrator, before Judge Robinson, found a verdict for the defendant. Following were the jurors: Geo. R. Carter, Frank H. Foster, Joseph K. Zablan, William T. Paty, F. J. Dutra, John Ouderkerk, Jas. Brown, William Mutch, William Lyle, Alex. J. Nicholas, Harry Klemme and Moses K. Nakuna. A. Lewis Jr. appeared for plaintiff; Lyle A. Dickey for defendant.

T. McCants Stewart, J. L. Kaulikou and J. Mahiui Kaneakua for plaintiff in the action to quiet title of S. Ahmi vs. Annie Waller et al. have filed a suggestion of the death of L. K. Haluan, one of the defendants, with a motion for the substitution of the widow and minor children as parties defendant.

It is stipulated by Robertson & Wilder for plaintiffs and Holmes & Stanley for defendant, in the equity suit to cancel a deed brought by Ernest L. Hunter, trustee, et al. vs. J. M. Dewsett, that H. A. Bigelow be appointed guardian ad litem of Alice Edith Brune, minor daughter of Alfred E. and Anna Adelhelde Brune, to protect the child's interest in the cause.

Judge De Bolt granted a divorce to Lillian S. Mesick against Levert J. Mesick, he to pay $30 a month alimony. The court awards the custody of Hazel Mesick, aged 14 years, to the father, and that of Kenneth Grant Mesick, aged 9 years, and Ralph Shrewsbury Mesick, aged 7 years, to the mother. Humphreys, Thompson & Watson for libellant; Russell, Fleming & Robinson for libellee.

The suit for damages on account of personal injuries in a collision between a street car and a wagon, brought by Alice J. Hutchinson against Hawaiian Tramways Co., Ltd., comes up for trial before Judge Robinson this afternoon.

DO NOT BE MISLED

As every conscientious Dentist will know, there is no such thing as being able to perform ALL Dental operations honestly without in some cases (not all) giving the patient a little pain, and if the public will stop to consider they will discover the startling fact that the party who claims to have the "ONLY PLACE where teeth are extracted and filled without pain" is either handling the truth recklessly or is not doing the work right.
