NELSON SUSTAINS BADLY BROKEN ARM

C. A. Nelson, foreman of the Nawiliwili Garage, met with an accident last Thursday as a result of which he is laid up in the Lihue hospital with a compound fracture of the left arm.

Mr. Nelson was engaged in repairing a gasoline engine at the ice works when a flange of the exhaust blew off, striking him on the arm between the shoulder and elbow. He was taken immediately to the hospital and given prompt attention.

The fracture is of such a character that the patient will be laid up for a couple of months.

Another man, to take his place temporarily, arrived from Honolulu this morning.

M'BRYDE SUGAR CO TO PAY DIVIDEND

One of the local sensations of the week has been the conclusion of the directors of McBryde Sugar Co. to pay a dividend of fifty cents a share to common stockholders. There had been rumors of such a dividend during the year, but even those on "the inside" hardly expected it before July or August at the earliest. The decision to pay now was undoubtedly the immediate result of the continuation of sugar prices above normal, owing to the war in Europe; and the probability that prices will keep up for a long time to come.

McBryde Sugar Company was organized in the boom days of the annexation period, and in the hurry and excitement of those times, mistakes were made in the preliminary adjustment of its affairs. This was followed by a series of events which gave its stock an unpromising aspect for years.

The plantation has been, really and in fact, taken up bodily and put upon its feet by the war in Europe. Had it not been for the war, is the opinion of many, the price of sugar would have been such that McBryde would have flourished along for years without showing a profit of a character that would spell dividends. This would have been the case, despite the aid of a powerful agency, highly efficient management, loyal staff and workmen and the most approved plantation methods.

This is the first dividend paid by McBryde to its common stockholders.

SILVER WEDDING GAILY OBSERVED

Mr. and Mrs. Elmhurst, Lihue, observed their silver wedding last Tuesday afternoon, May 25, the affair taking the nature of a very jolly reception to friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Maser.

For the occasion the place was prettily and appropriately decorated and the period of the "celebration" abounded in features of a most pleasant character.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmhurst have established many sincere friendships during their long residence here, and received numerous congratulations on the occasion of their anniversary.

THE GAME PLAYED TO 13TH INNINGS

The baseball contest between the Makawelis and the J. A. C. team on the grounds of the former Sunday afternoon resulted strangely like the game between the same teams on the same grounds a few weeks ago. On the former occasion there was a fast game with the score tied for a number of innings to the ninth, when the Japanese forced a man home, making the score 3 to 2 in their favor.

In Sunday's game the score was tied in the sixth inning and remained so through the ninth. The tenth, eleventh and twelfth were without results, but in the thirteenth the Japanese got a man over the plate, deciding the contest in their favor, the score being 3 to 2 as before.

This result ties the McBrydes and Japanese for first place, with the Makawelis next and the Lihues bringing up a remote rear.

Probably a larger crowd than usual witnessed the game.

KEALAKAI SEEMS TO BE RECOVERING

William Kealakai, the young Hawaiian who shot himself in the mouth nearly two weeks ago, is up and walking around at the Lihue hospital, and the prospects are for complete recovery. The bullet has not been removed from the back of the head, nor will it, unless trouble starts in of a character to make such an operation necessary. The wound he received was in considerable pain at one time a few days ago and, it is said, begged for poison with which to finish off the job he had not completed with the gun. This was probably, however, the result of a fit of despondency.

The circumstances of the attempt at suicide was published in last Tuesday's paper, Friends of Kealakai state that when in employment he was a good worker. As far as can be learned he was not a drinker to any considerable extent. Other physicians of the Islands have taken an interest in the case, most of them having called at the hospital to note the course of treatment being followed.

KILAUEA HAS HOLY GHOST FESTIVAL

Kilauea had a big Holy Ghost celebration Saturday night and Sunday, put on by the Portuguese residents there, but attended by people all the way from Wainiha to Lihue.

Saturday night one section of the affair took the form of a dance at the residence of Antone Baptiste, which drew a "crowded house" and lasted until midnight.

On Sunday all the features of the regular Holy Ghost celebration were carried out near the mill, and there were the usual church events. The festival was probably the biggest ever held by the Portuguese at Kilauea.

Francis Hanify Here

The chartered steamer Francis Hanify arrived at Port Allen yesterday morning from Honolulu, bringing 500 tons of general cargo. She did not take any sugar, and got away last night for Kahului.

Bank Clerk Is Short

Honolulu—Frank L. Hoogs, teller of the Bank of Hawaii, defaulter in the sum of $8,600, left for the Coast after making restitution. The money is said to have been sunk in speculations.

Harry Newcombe Disappears

Harry Newcombe, sales agent of the Waterhouse Trust real estate department, has been missing since Sunday, when he went with others goat shooting in Kalihi valley.

Land Commissioner Tucker will subdivide a big tract of land in the Olaa district of Hawaii for homesteading purposes.

Wilson And Mexico

Washington—President Wilson wearies of "watchful, waiting" in the Mexican situation.

The warring factions in the troubled republic will be notified today to cease their strife immediately and restore the country to harmony or the United States will take a hand.

Food Prices Advance

Food prices have advanced in some instances as much as 300 per cent, due to corn and wheat being neglected in many States.

Will Convince Germany

President Wilson will take such steps as will convince Germany that the United States is deeply in earnest in the matter presented in the recent note.

It will be made clear that the President meant just what he said when he declared that Germany would be held strictly responsible for every American life sacrificed. The determination of the administration in the new phase of things is double.

The Next Declaration

The government of the United States will meet the technical avoidance of the broad issues originally presented by prompt and positive notification that it has already been officially determined to the full and absolute satisfaction of the United States that the Lusitania was unarmed.

She carried ammunition it is admitted, and it was so stated plainly on the manifest. This has always been contraband of war, and subject to confiscation.

No Troops On Board

The unwarranted claim of Germany that there were Canadian troops on board the Lusitania is so wide of the facts that the United States government can receive it only with astonishment. Germany's assumption that the American authorities could be hoodwinked into permitting such gross cheat of neutrality rules, or worse still to connive at it, is an astonishing part of the proposition.

Germans Fail In Galicia

London—The great German-Austrian drive into Galicia, with Permyl as the objective, has been checked; and the failure of the German campaign in the Galician war zone is comparable to the failure to pierce the line of the Allies and capture Calais, and the thrice repeated effort to crush the Russian defense of Warsaw.

German Foreign Secretary Talks

Berlin—Supplementing the German reply to President Wilson's Lusitania note, Herr von Jagow, the imperial foreign secretary, issued a statement here Sunday night, in which he said:

"The German Note might be called a preliminary move toward a better understanding.

"The views of the United States and Germany are so at variance that Germany has believed it essential that an attempt be made to establish a common basis of fact, before entering upon any discussion of the facts involved."

KAUAI TO HAVE MEMBERS OF PROMOTION COMMITTEE

At a special meeting of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce held Thursday afternoon an amendment to the by-laws of the Chamber was discussed and approved unanimously, under the provisions of which the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce will enlarge the scope of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, its standing committee, so that instead of the Promotion Committee's personnel being composed of five members as heretofore and appointed solely by the president of the Chamber of Commerce, there will be allowed the appointment of four additional members to the Hawaii Promotion Committee, making a total of nine members. (Continued on page 6.)

M'BRYDES AGAIN WALLOP LIHUES

The game at Eleele Sunday afternoon between the McBryde and Lihue teams was won by the former in the first three innings, five runs being recorded to none for the visitors. The game was without startling features, ending 9 to 4 in favor of the sugar men.

The biggest feature of the game was a home run made by Kuhlmann, of the Lihue team.

Moonlight Lawn Party

Mrs. F. Carter entertained a number of friends, last Friday at a novel moonlight lawn party. A beautifully smooth section of the lawn had been reserved for dancing, which was indulged in until the moon was well along in its course. Refreshments and vocal solos terminated an enjoyable evening.

Memorial Services

Very pretty memorial features were carried out at the Lihue Hawaiian church Sunday morning, coming right after the Sunday School exercises. From the church the entire congregation, each member bearing floral pieces, repaired to the burial plot where the graves were decorated. W. H. Rice, Sr., delivered the address.

Address By Col. Cox

Col. Cox, of the Salvation Army, delivered an interesting address at Lihue Union church Sunday evening before a fairly large house. Colonel Cox arrived on Kauai last week and has been inspecting the Salvation Army posts here.

ENJOYABLE DANCE WEEKEND FEATURE

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Avery entertained a number of friends at a most enjoyable dance at their home Saturday evening. The old school-room was very artistically decorated for the occasion, and proved to be capable of accommodating a large number of couples.

The dances were many and varied, ranging from the old fashioned square dances to the latest "canter."

Delicious refreshments were served, and it was with much regret that the delighted guests finally bade their hosts adieu, near the midnight hour.

Among those present were: Messdames and Messrs. Broadbent (4), Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Windas, Mr. and Mrs. F. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moragne, Mrs. Burke, Misses Mumford, Jordan, Omanney, Thelma Hopper, Starkweather and Messrs. C. S. Dole, H. Vincent, F. C. Morrow and Middleton.

"THREE WEEKS" AND "QUO VADIS" NEXT

W. A. Fernandez has planned an exceptionally fine bill of pictures for the theaters of Kauai, to begin at Kealia tomorrow evening and continue along down the line. There will be two evenings in Kealia, two in Lihue and two in Waimea. That much is definitely settled, and programs in other towns will be announced later.

The first night in each place will be presented Elinor Glyn's sensational drama of thrilling love and royal intrigue, in five parts, carrying 280 scenes, "Three weeks" a whole, big show in itself. Miss Madeline Traverse appears in the role of the temperamental queen, while Mr. Mahlon Hamilton plays the role of Paul. Miss Traverse, by the way, is one of the country's most attractive younger stars. There will be shorter sketches put on each evening with "Three Weeks."

QUO VADIS

The second evening of the play houses will be presented George Kleine's stupendous photodrama "Quo Vadis," adapted from the famous novel by Henryk Sienkiewicz. This is in three acts and eight parts, produced by the Societa Italiana Cines, of Rome, Italy.

This great film opens with the first section of "Quo Vadis." The second part illustrates the Burning of Rome and the third the Christian Martyrs, the crowning events of a series of great spectacles being the throwing of the Christians to the lions.

"Quo Vadis" is far and away the most spectacular and probably the most expensive film series ever brought to Kauai; and no one can afford to miss it.

Chinaman Goes Insane

Chong Ing, cook for the Chung Kee restaurant in Kekaha, was before the Waimea court last week for investigation and was adjudged to be an insane person. Saturday night Police Officer Otto Lihau took him to Honolulu for treatment at the insane asylum.

Dr. F. L. Putman, of Lihue, is the inventor of a cane loader which promises to revolutionize and greatly reduce the cost of the work it is expected to do. Patent has been applied for, and one of the machines will be used by the Makee Sugar Company very shortly. Experts who have examined the plan of the proposition believe that it will reduce the cost of cane loading in the Islands one half.

Both the Kinau and W. G. Hall went out a day ahead again at the week, end they sailing on Friday in place of Saturday. The Iwalani came by and took the mail to Honolulu Saturday night.

Newspapers Dislike Reply

New York--With the exception of German-American newspapers, the press of the entire country print severe criticisms of the reply of Germany to the note of President Wilson.

None of the papers consider it satisfying, or a sufficient reply to the demands made.

The St. Louis Republican says that the significance of the reply is not in what is said but in what is left out.

The Chicago Staats Zeitung (German-American) says that the administration cannot honestly dodge the questions raised by Germany.

The Journal says that the German claim that the Lusitania was armed is an unmixed insult to the United States.

The Indianapolis Star says that if Germany has any facts to justify the assumption that the Lusitania was armed, or carried munitions of war, she should be permitted to offer them.

The Louisville Courier Journal considers the answer to the note of President Wilson a quibble.

The Philadelphia Inquirer says that the reply is trifling and a play for time.

OUTSIDE ISLANDS WILL COME LATER

Inasmuch as Governor Pinkham is not expected to announce his four appointments to the Hawaii promotion committee until after his return from the mainland, some time in July, the committee was unable at its meeting yesterday to take any steps toward increasing its membership on the other islands.

It was suggested, however, that Mayor Lane, the board of supervisors and President Waldron of the Chamber of Commerce get together as early as possible with a view to determining their nomination for the Governor's appointment.

And in the meantime the Maui and Kauai chambers of commerce and the Hilo board of trade have been notified of the amendment to the constitution of the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu, passed Wednesday, entitling them to representation on the promotion committee, under the terms of Act 175, passed by the late Legislature.

The by-laws were so changed in order to comply with the provisions of a portion of the appropriation bill passed by the recent legislature and signed by Governor L. A. Pinkham. The appropriation bill allowed $12,000.00 from the Territorial treasury for the uses of the Hawaii Promotion Committee in its campaign of publicity and attracting tourists to the Hawaiian Islands, providing that the membership of the Promotion Committee was enlarged so that the Governor might appoint a representative on the committee from each island, to wit, Oahu, Maui, Hawaii and Kauai, each such member to be nominated by the Board of Supervisors of each such island, in conjunction with the leading commercial organization of each such island, the appropriation Act under which this provision is made becoming effective July 1, 1915.

This action, taken at the instance of the Hawaii Promotion Committee before the Chamber of Commerce, opens the way for each island to be appropriately represented on the Hawaii Promotion Committee which is the official information bureau for the Territory of Hawaii and the commercial organizations above enumerated, and whose principal business is the disseminating of correct information about the Islands abroad and to attract from abroad tourists to all the islands of the Hawaiian group. Its second function is to endeavor, in every possible way, to induce such tourists arriving at Honolulu, the capital city of the Hawaiian Islands, to visit the other Islands and to linger as long as possible in each, so that each island will derive benefit from this general campaign to make the Hawaiian Islands the Playground of the World.

THE RESOLUTION.

Following is the resolution in full which provides for the increase of members:

Resolved, That the by-laws of the chamber of commerce of Honolulu be and the same are hereby amended as follows, namely:

THERE IS NOTHING EQUAL TO

Johnson's Prepared Wax

FOR YEARS Johnson's Prepared Wax has been recognized as the best preparation for polishing floors, woodwork and furniture, but it has just recently come into prominence as an automobile body polish.

Johnson's Prepared Wax preserves the varnish and forms a protection from the weather—it imparts a hard, dry, high gloss which holds the lustre indefinitely, does not collect dust and

"Sheds water like a duck's back."

After cars have been polished with Johnson's Prepared Wax it is easy to keep them good looking—dried mud rubs off like dust, leaving the sheen of the Wax unaffected.

Johnson's Prepared Wax is easy to use—simply apply a light coat and polish immediately with a soft woolen or cheese cloth, using long, sweeping strokes

LETTER OF THANKS TO KAUAI PEOPLE

H. D. Wishard, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, has received the following self-explanatory letter from Wade Warren Thayer, secretary of the Territory, regarding the reception and entertainment of the Congressional party on this island:

"On behalf of the General Committee having in charge the entertainment of the Congressional Party, I wish to express my deep appreciation of the services which you and your committee rendered in entertaining the Congressional Party on the Island of Kauai. I do not think that the work of your committee could have been improved upon, and the members of the party were most enthusiastic in speaking to me of the splendid hospitality of the people of your island. I wish you would extend to the other members of your committee my sincere thanks for the work which they did in looking after the wants of the party while on Kauai. The arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors were splendidly conceived, and that they were carried out so well was due to the co-operation of all of the members of the several committees. You had a big job on your hands, and you certainly handled it in a most creditable manner."

More Submarines Coming

Honolulu is to have four more submarines, they being the K-3, K-4, K-7 and K-8. They will arrive there next month, accompanied by the mother ship Rainbow. The K class of submarines are said to be an improvement on the F class, a part of the division of which being already at Honolulu.

CRISCO

For Frying—For Shortening
—For Cake Making

Frying

There is no smoke nor odor. Fried foods are free from the taste of grease. They now are tasty and crisp. They are made more digestible, for Crisco is all vegetable. The same Crisco can be used to fry fish, onions, doughnuts, etc., merely by straining out the food particles after each frying.

Shortening

Crisco gives pastry a new flakiness and digestibility. Crisco always is of the same freshness and consistency. It's uniform quality makes for uniform results.

Cake Making

Crisco gives richness at smaller cost. It brings cake-making back to popularity. Butter bills are reduced and cakes stay fresh and moist longer.

Europe Tossed Back

There is an old saying that God tosses back failures and lets us begin again. In quoting this and commenting upon it, a noted lecturer said that it looks as if God had tossed back Europe.

It will look something like that, will it not, when this war is over?

When the governments and institutions that have been in vogue can produce nothing better than the carnage of the past months, if this is what they must ultimate in, aren't they failures?

And is not the picture of what Europe will be when the war is over—devastated countries, cities in ruins, industries paralyzed, and worse yet, happiness and joy gone from countless lives, sorrow everywhere—is not this a picture of failure?

Isn't Europe how, and will it not be for years to come an object lesson of failure? Can one, even a confirmed optimist, call the present condition a spectacle of success?

If then to follow the whimsy of this old saying, Europe is tossed back and is to begin over again, what will it make of itself in the new venture?

It is rather interesting to speculate upon, do you not think? Will it, I wonder, make itself over on the same old pattern?

Will the people of these devastated countries go to work patiently and laboriously to build up again the war machines? Will they pile armament upon armament? Will they build still bigger battleships and submarines? Will they erect still stronger forts and lines of defense between their various countries? Will they peer over these defenses at the people upon the other side with hatred or defiance or fear in their hearts? Will they still believe that national growth and expansion and places for their trade must be paid for in human lives?

If in making themselves over they follow this pattern, will they not in the great vortex of time be tossed back again? Is this the pattern Europe is to make with what has been given her? Or is there not something finer and better, and will she not be tossed back again and again until she works out a destiny in keeping with man's highest powers?

And if there is anything in this old saying, if Europe has been tossed back, isn't there perhaps something for us as a nation to be learned by watching what she is doing? The on-looker usually sees more clearly than the one in the thick of the fray. As Europe re-makes herself, we can perhaps see in the process many things to avoid, many things to make our own.

And though the re-making of these countries is a spectacle for nations, isn't there in the thought of this old saying something also for the individual? Haven't we had failures tossed back, in order that we might begin over again? The fact was bitter at the time. We accepted with bad grace. But isn't there in it the kernel of a wonderful truth, a truth that makes for purest happiness? For could we as men and women be ultimately satisfied with anything less than the best we can do? If some half-way work of ours were not tossed back, if it passed, would we not miss the joy of our best and fullest expression?

If Europe's failures are tossed back until the various nations there at last evolve a government that secures to every individual liberty to develop the best in him, peace, prosperity, happiness, will not that in the end be the best for Europe? Even though it is achieved through bitter struggle, isn't it more to be desired than a government that does not reach so high a plane? And if we, by having our failures tossed back, come at last to the perfect stature of manhood and womanhood, isn't it an ordeal really to be thankful for and to rejoice in?

The American Navy

Says the Baltimore Sun: "We imagine that when Congress convenes the difficulty experienced will be, in view of existing world conditions, to keep our naval program within reasonable limits."

"Reasonable limits" is a trifle indefinite at this stage, and the expression may be construed in divers ways. We are the one, great peace nation of the earth, but as the situation now is we are not able to preserve the peace among our neighbors nor does it seem likely that we will be able to keep from being drawn into their squabbles ourselves. We do not want to fight; we are friendly to all the powers at war. Yet, on account of our unpreparedness we are being forced aside on critical issues, and even insulted and outraged.

There has just been concluded in the Orient a treaty which America would not (and should not) have tolerated for a moment had she been provided with an adequate fleet on the Pacific. Her naval strength was probably sufficient to cope with the situation, but where was that strength? Tied up on the Atlantic watching another critical situation. It is probably only a question of time when this very little deal in the Orient will have to be taken up, and it will then be ten times harder to handle than it would have been originally.

America's position on the Atlantic today should be that of a policeman enforcing the dictums of international law. She should be able to protect small neutral nations and the rights of neutral nations, as well as safeguard the lives and property of her own citizens. In the excitement of the mighty conflict European nations are overriding international law right and left, and are doing things that they themselves would not countenance under circumstances other than an approach to madness.

The "reasonable limits" of the Baltimore Sun may presuppose a fleet on the Pacific fully capable of handling any crisis such as we have just witnessed, and a fleet on the Atlantic able to compel respect for international law as well as the protection of American interests. If so, our esteemed contemporary is reasoning along the present lines of most American publications, upon which a great light has dawned in the past few months.

Three little submarines are tied up at Honolulu and four more are to reach there in June. A mere joke. There should be fifty there, not less than a hundred on the Pacific coast and a hundred more in the Philippines, to back up a Pacific fleet larger than any other on this side of the world. This should be additional strength to that of the Atlantic fleet, which must be maintained where it is. When the United States places herself in that position (in a position to protect herself, safeguard the interests of neutrals and enforce peace) she will be able to approach the world with authority and weight on the subject of disarmament and universal peace.

America is being taught a great lesson, and it is to be hoped that it may "soak in" thoroughly; and we are inclined to hope with the Baltimore Sun that our naval program may reach (not be "kept within") "reasonable limits."

Bats For Mosquitoes

Attention has been called in the Islands to an ordinance of San Antonio, Texas, forbidding the killing of bats, for the reason that these little, flying animals wage an important war upon mosquitoes. The subject might be an interesting one to us in these islands, inasmuch as in many localities mosquitoes are increasing rapidly and the methods adopted for keeping them in check seem to be ineffective.

It is a strange thing that so few people know anything about the mosquito-destroying bat, although every person probably knows what a bat is. The reason for this is that the general term "bat" is given to any of the numerous members of the zoological order known as "chiroptera" (q. v.), some of which are a pest, some of no consequence one way or another and some of real value as destroyers of mosquitoes and other small insects.

The Malay bat is so large that it is sometimes called a "flying fox," and, moreover, its face and ears resemble those of a fox. Its color is usually sombre, but with variations. Fruit bats are usually brownish yellow or russet. South America has two species that are white, while the Blainville chin-leaved bat is a bright orange. The Indian painted bat resembles a large butterfly.

Most bats are insect-eaters, the exceptions being the so-called "flying foxes," or fox-bats, which live on fruits; some which are blood-suckers (vampires) and two species which feed on fish.

The bat of the Southern States is a night-feeder, appearing shortly after sun-down. His business in life is catching mosquitoes and gnats, and those insects decrease in localities in proportion to the number of bats seen flying around. These bats are otherwise absolutely harmless, and on the whole are considered to be of the greatest value wherever they are to be found.

The Next Battle Center

Trieste, the Austrian port on the Adriatic which is the present object of attack by the Italian army, is in one particular an Italian city, three-fourths of its population (132,879 in 1900) being Italian, the remainder being composed of Germans, Jews, Greeks, English and French. The aspect of the town is Italian, rather than Austrian or German. The Austrian Lloyd, the principal shipping company of the Adriatic, is located there.

The great importance of Trieste lies in its trade. It is far and away the principal port of Austria, and the principal outlet for the over-sea trade of the vast Austrian country behind it. In fact it almost monopolizes the trade of the Adriatic, long ago outstripping its ancient rival, Venice. In the latter part of the 19th century Trieste fell back greatly in importance on account of pressure from the new Hungarian port of Fiume and competition from various sources; but in the past fifteen years new railroad connections inland and new steamship lines to America, Mediterranean ports and even as far as India have brought it up to far greater importance than ever.

Austria will undoubtedly make a desperate fight to save Trieste from capture, for with this, her only great port, gone, her commerce would be most seriously crippled, if not absolutely ruined. Moreover, with the Italians in possession of Trieste it is doubtful that the naval base at Pola, only a short distance away, attacked from the rear, would be able to hold out.

The next ten days will doubtless be fruitful of highly interesting developments in that quarter of the war zone.

Future Congressional Junkets

When Hawaii gets her glad hand in shape again for another Congressional party we hope that arrangements will be made to have the junket in September or October in place of in the Spring.

There are many reasons for this. In the first place, it is such a long time between Spring junkets and Congressional sessions in the Winter that most of the value of the former is lost. Many other questions (some overshadowing greatly in importance the entire Hawaiian proposition) invariably intervene, with the result that when Congress actually convenes away along in December, Hawaii's interest in the sugar question, breakwaters, public buildings in the Islands and numerous other matters that probably really interested the Congressmen on the occasion of the Spring tour are forgotten.

On the other hand, if the Congressmen were to tour the Islands in September and October, we will say they would go almost directly back to Washington with all the matters Hawaiian fresh in their minds and the probability of favorable action on some of our problems would be greatly increased.

The last bunch of Congressmen were tired out before they started on the long journey to these Islands. Many of them had been pinned down at Washington for nearly two years, and they wanted and needed rest far more than travel. In place of that the circumstances imposed by us have sought to saddle upon them a lot of new business.

The wisdom of what we have done is therefore doubtful, and it is to be hoped that in future due consideration will be given to all of these—and kindred—circumstances.

SURELY NO ONE going east from Lihue can fail to note with pleasure the attractive garden spots at the descent into Kapaia on the Lihue side and at the incline therefrom on the other. There may be seen the touch of simple art written on the face of Nature in shrub and tree and flower, such as must appeal to every one. In one place it is a trim kept lawn fresh and green and brilliant with purple Bougainvillea; in another it is graceful fern and palm, and just now a wall covered wreath of golden glory familiarly known as "Hug-me-tight." Why not more such attractive spots in our community?

THE DEPARTURE of Mr. Francis Gay from active participation in the business of our county government will be generally regretted. Mr. Gay brought into the meetings of the Board of Supervisors good business judgment, and he has had much to do in steering the county ship away from the breakers. Mr. Ekekele—although his work has not been so conspicuous as that of Mr. Gay—has also proved himself to be an able young Hawaiian. The hearty good wishes and aloha of the entire county will follow both of the retiring members of the Board.

DEFINITE NEWS arriving Friday of a dividend of fifty cents a share to be paid to the common stockholders of McBryde Sugar Company came as an agreeable surprise. It is a grand thing to those who for so many years have stuck to McBryde with what others considered a surprising faith, for it means that their holdings will at last be of reasonable market value. It should be a satisfaction to Kauai generally, too, for it indicates that the last of our larger corporations has reached a dividend-paying basis.

AN OFFICIAL notice in this issue indicates that the construction of the extension of the Waimea river wall will be undertaken at once, under the direction of the superintendent of public works. It means that Waimea will be spared from the floods experienced in the past. In the meanwhile it is just as well to remember that the late Legislature and Superintendent Forbes are to be complimented and thanked for making this improvement possible.

THE GREAT DITCH and tunnel system which will carry an abundance of the best of water from the mountains above Lihue onto the lands of the Koloa Sugar Company will be the "making" of that estate. We understand that the work will be completed in a very short time now. Koloa's problem has always been—water; and with that in sight the future of this old estate will appear bright indeed.

THE APPOINTMENT of E. A. Knudsen to be commissioner of education for the island of Kauai will probably meet with general approval. Mr. Knudsen is familiar with the local situation, is personally acquainted with all of the schools of the island and their needs and will doubtless prove an earnest worker in their behalf.

ATTENTION is again called to the high class of pictures now being brought to this island by W. A. Fernandez for the local theaters. They are the best to be had, but are very expensive. The public should reward the efforts of Mr. Fernandez to supply high class entertainment by liberally patronizing his programs.

THE GOOD START made by Kauai in the tourist business early in the year has gone to smash again, and the hotels are now catering exclusively to local business and Honolulu drummers. Perhaps when we get that member in the Hawaii Promotion Committee, things will be different.

IF HISTORY is to repeat itself, the Lihue baseball team will now get in and keep all of them guessing in the second series. Lihue's failure has always been in the first series, and if her team could only begin a season right a new interest would be added to the contests on this island.

ARE NOT British warships blowing themselves up at their docks with rather surprising frequency? A few months ago the Bulwark had such an experience, and now we have the Princess Irene meeting a similar fate. We have a suspicion that German submarines had to do with both cases.

THE CANNERY near Kapaia, which is just beginning work, means much to the success and prosperity of the new homestead region of Waipouli. The next thing now is the Nawiliwili breakwater.

A YOUTH named David slew the giant Goliath, but it was a "blooming" Turk that got the battleship Goliath the other day.

Bryan's Call To Colors

The world is aroused to the menace of alcohol—war has been declared against it in every civilized land and there is no neutral ground. I call you to the colors—to the standard raised by the National Abstinents Union for "Health and Home and Humanity." Rise! Let us pledge our support to the cause in water—in water, the daily need of every living thing. It ascends from the seas, obedient to the summons of the sun, and, descending, showers blessings upon the earth; it gives of its sparkling beauty to the fragrant flower; its alchemy transmutes base clay into golden grain; it is the canvas upon which the finger of the Infinite traces the radiant bow of promise. It is the drink that refreshes and adds no sorrow with it—Jehovah looked upon it at Creation's dawn and said—"It is good."—From Mr. Bryan's address at Carnegie hall, New York, April 30, 1915.

"St. James, Hilo, has had an eventful year in the loss of the Rev. Fenton-Smith and the coming of Mr. Bodell and his helpful wife. This guild has borne much of the burden of the support of the mission as well as helping to reduce the debt on the parsonage, which has been entirely wiped out through the generous gifts of Mrs. S. W. Wilcox of Lihue, Kauai. I am glad to say this guild has also contributed to auxiliary work and pledges and has sent a gift to the debt on the Lahaina parsonage.

Mr. Vanderbilt lost his life on the Lusitania.

Treaty Reaches Japan

Tokio—The third secretary of the Japanese legation at Peking arrived here today, bearing the original copy of the new treaty between China and Japan.

Shimada To Be Impeached

A resolution calling for the impeachment of Shimada will be introduced tomorrow.

Monday May, 31.

Washington—Profound and pronounced dissatisfaction may properly express the sentiments of the administration upon receipt yesterday of Germany's note regarding the sinking of the Lusitania.

The reply fails to take up seriously any of the demands made by the American note, and there is deep disappointment at the temporizing, dialectical and argumentative tone of the document.

Within forty-eight hours it is expected that the President will send a reply to Germany.

In view of Germany's silence on all major issues—general policy, international law and the rights of humanity—raised by America, it is not felt that offers of reparation for so called unintentional attacks on American ships will carry much weight.

The German note recommends an attentive examination of facts before entering upon any discussion of the issues that they may raise when determined.

It is no part of the German program to submit neutral ships which have entered the war zone around the British Isles to any attack by submarines or air craft provided they have not been guilty of hostile acts.

In the spirit of this declaration, the facts surrounding the torpedoing of the Gulfight and dropping bombs on the Cushing will be thoroughly investigated.

Germany entertains a keen wish to cooperate with the United States in a frank and friendly way in clearing up any misunderstanding that may have arisen from the events stated.

Everybody Is Scrapping

London—A mighty battle is raging around Permsyl, the Teutonic allies making a supreme effort to isolate the Russian garrison and free the armies in Galicia for the campaign against Italy in the South and reinforcing the western line against the increasing armies of the British and French.

North of the fortress the Russians have brought up reinforcements and are holding their own against the furious offensive of the German-Austrian troops, but, it is said, are meeting difficulty in keeping the troops supplied with ammunition.

The Western Front

Brisk fighting has been renewed along the Yser. The French assert that they have stormed several hundred metres of German trenches and advanced a quarter of a mile.

Anti-Socialist Dead

Seattle—Judge Humphreys, once berated by Socialists, died today.

Sunday, May 30

Washington—A distinct feeling of pessimism prevails about the Capitol over the failure of the German government to respond directly to the points raised in the American note of protest that followed immediately upon the sinking of the Lusitania.

Ambassador Gerard's summary of the note handed to him by the German government shows that Germany has evaded the main issues raised by President Wilson, which were that Germany give assurances that attacks on unarmed passenger ship cease, and that hereafter the American flag be respected wherever it may appear.

A recognized grave aspect is added to the situation by the findings of the American commission which investigated the Nebraskan affair, and declared yesterday that that American vessel was torpedoed. It is believed that absolutely no warning was given to the Nebraskan.

The President declines to make a statement at this time and all members of the Cabinet are equally reticent.
