THE HAWAIIAN RELIEF SOCIETY

FORMED TO RELIEVE THE DISTRESS OF HAWAIIANS IN THE EPIDEMIC.

Wonderful Record of Thirty-two Days' Work Performed by the Ladies.

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND RATIONS SERVED

TO MORE THAN THREE THOUSAND PEOPLE—TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS RAISED, BUT LESS THAN SEVEN THOUSAND SPENT.

There was a meeting of the Hawaiian Relief Society this morning, at which complete financial and other statements were submitted by the officers. From the reports of the treasurer, Mrs. Macfarlane, are presented the interesting statistics that follow. This is deemed a good opportunity for presenting an account and work of the organization together with the subscription list showing how nobly Honolulu responded to a call for relieving distress.

When fishing was prohibited in the harbor and adjacent waters, on account of a conviction the health authorities had formed that infected fish was the chief cause of the cholera epidemic, one of the principal articles of food used by the natives was cut off. It was like the breaking of the staff of life in the land for the Hawaiians. Later the condemnation of taro in infected localities threatened the cutting off of the other chief article of native food, but happily there proved to be enough taro outside of the condemned patches to last until the disease was stamped out. At the same time that the Hawaiians were deprived of their fish, the inter-island steamers were subjected to a quarantine that almost stopped the coasting trade entirely. As this rendered idle a large number of Hawaiians employed on the steamers and in shore work connected with general traffic, there ensued severe distress among a large proportion of the native population of Honolulu.

The fact was published in the press and it appeared inevitable that to the extraordinary expenses of suppressing the epidemic, there would be added to the burden of the treasury the necessity of relieving wide-spread want caused by the visitation. At this juncture a noble idea took hold of some people, so seemingly with spontaneity, as to two or three at least, that it might be invidious to award the honor to any individual. Certainly, however, Allen Herbert of Honolulu and George H. Fairchild of Kauai, were among the first gentlemen to give voice to the idea. Mr. Herbert spoke to Mrs. Emma M. Nakuina on the subject of starting a relief station by public subscription, for supplying food and clothing to native Hawaiians who were in distress in consequence of the epidemic. Mrs. Nakuina lost no time in communicating with several of her intimate friends. This was on September 5, and so prompt was the response that, on the following day, a meeting of representative Hawaiian ladies was held in Mrs. Nakuina's office, and the Hawaiian Relief Society was organized with the following named officers:

Mrs. S. C. Allen, President; Mrs. F. S. Pratt, Vice President; Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, Treasurer; Mrs. E. M. Nakuina, Secretary.

Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. Geo. C. Beckley and Mrs. Haalelea, Directors.

After the society had prosecuted its relief work for a few days, Mrs. Pratt resigned her office on account of illness, when Mrs. Haalelea was elected in her stead, and the Board of Directors was reinforced by the addition of Mrs. J. O. Carter, Mrs. Robert Lewers and Mrs. Graham. These ladies along with Mrs. Neumann had from the first offered their services to the movement.

While the ladies were organizing the gentleman promoters were busy. Mr. Herbert was giving out contracts for converting a vacant restaurant building on Bethel street into a relief station. Mr. Fairchild and Fred. W. Macfarlane were diligently canvassing the city for subscriptions. Within forty-eight hours six or eight thousand dollars were subscribed, and the subscriptions continued coming in, some from the other islands, until what realized more than ten thousand dollars had been enrolled. The list in full is here given.

The number of men, women and children helped by the society during the epidemic of cholera, commencing on the 7th of September and ending on the 12th of October, a period of thirty-two days, was as follows: For eight days ending Sept. 14th, 18,076; six days ending Sept. 21st, 22,318; six days ending Sept. 28th, 22,414; Oct. 5th, 21,945; six days ending Oct. 12, 21,244. Total, 105,997, or a daily average for thirty-two days of 3312 men, women and children.

Everything was nearly in readiness at the relief station on the morning of Saturday, the 7th of September, and the work of serving out food to the hungry began on that day. Mrs. Arnold was made superintendent of the station. At a second meeting of the society, in the afternoon of the 6th, an amusing incident occurred. It was held at the Chamber of Commerce, and a number of the members of that body surprised the ladies by putting in an appearance. They had through a misunderstanding come to confer with the ladies on the methods of relief to be pursued. Their good offices were pleasantly dispensed with.

When the ladies first took up the work, it was intended that they should furnish meals; at the station. This gave rise to the nickname it received of the "house." The very first day this plan was decided to be impracticable, and Sunday was the last day that meals were served at the station. Instead of giving meals there, the ladies served rations at the window until a district service could be properly organized. In the defining of district bounds J. O. Carter and E. C. Macfarlane gave able assistance. Mr. Macfarlane gave four days at the work. For certain reasons the inspection districts of the Citizens' Committee were not altogether convenient, therefore a new schedule of districts had to be arranged.

From Saturday until Tuesday the rations were distributed at the window. On Wednesday a sub-station was started at Waikiki, and on Thursday rations were supplied at that place, at Moiliili, Kalia and the O. R. & L. Co.'s depot. By the Friday following fifteen sub-stations were in operation. For thirty-two days the distribution was maintained. There was none on Sundays, but a double portion on Saturdays, after the first week. Delivery wagons were dispatched daily, supplying the stations, into Manoa valley, Nuuanu valley to Wyllie street, Kalihini valley to Mrs. Nakuina's Panoa valley, and to Waialae, Koko Head and Niuli.

C. E. Williams & Son, the Union Feed Company and William Larsen each gave the services of a delivery wagon free. The ladies of the society worked hard at the station daily from eight o'clock until noon, weighing and parceling out the rations, while Mrs. Arnold supervised the cooking. Waikiki and Kalihini were the only places where the food was delivered uncooked, Mrs. T. S. Douglas and Mrs. Pope, respectively, attending to that service at those sub-stations. For other places everything was prepared at headquarters.

From the subjoined table of rations supplied the magnitude of the work may be somewhat realized. A computation will show that more than thirty-three hundred separate persons were relieved from first to last. Sanitary inspectors were given tickets for rations to be furnished at their discretion to destitute Hawaiians.

Many contributions of clothing were placed at the disposal of the ladies, who distributed the articles where they were needed. There were some cases of imposition in obtaining relief, but not many.

Several grocers contributed provisions free, and Mr. Nolte of the Beaver restaurant is held in gratitude for fine ham supplied to headquarters, which was just right for the hard working ladies' lunches. Sam. C. Dwight gave a large lot of wood, and Hustace & Co. also contributed to the fuel. Many offers of help were given which could not be considered simply because the ladies were too busy.

When the account closed for October, the society were still helping some Hawaiians. They have sent one family to Lahaina and another to Kauai—people who were detained here by the quarantine. They are still feeding four distressed families. It is decided that the society will effect permanent organization. There are some children, sufferers from the epidemic, who will need care. Three are orphans who lost both parents by the cholera.

It was not without deep gratitude that the distressed Hawaiians received the benefactions of the society. Addresses of thanks have been received by the ladies from two divisions of Manoa, from Huenewa up Nuuanu valley and from Kakaako.

A Story With a Moral.

Speaking of the people who come in late in the movements of reform and take on the air of the early martyrs reads a critic of the woman's movement the story of a fisherman down in Gloucester. He had a little fishing smack and was in the habit of going out in the harbor to catch a few fish. Coming in one morning when there was a dense fog, all at once the fog lifted, and he found he was sailing directly into an East Indian man, a large vessel, lying at anchor. However, he got across of her and cried out: "Ship, ahoy!" "Aye, aye, sir," said the captain of the great East Indian man. "What ship is that?" "The Albatross." "Where from?" "From Calcutta, bound for Boston." "How long have you been out?" "One hundred and ten days. Who are you?" "The Lucy, from Gloucester." "How long have you been out?" "All night." Well, now, when these all night people undertake to discuss this question you would think they had been out 110 days.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Color Line Obliterated.

The Chicago Women's club, which distinguished itself last winter by having an internal discussion on the admission of Mrs. Fannie Berrier Williams, a colored applicant for membership, has at last placed itself on record as being in sympathy with the spirit of the fifteenth amendment.

The progressive members of the club have changed the constitution, and the club as a whole has accepted the amendments. The clause which it was feared might cause a controversy was passed without comment. It declares qualifications for membership to be character, intelligence and the reciprocal advantages to the club and the individual, without regard to race, color, religion or politics, and it was carried, consequently by the concluding ballot. By virtue of this final decision on the color line the supporters of Mrs. Fannie Berrier Williams say there is no reason why her name may not be proposed for readmission this autumn.—Exchange.

Miss Mary W. Wells.

Miss Mary W. Wells, a graduate of Wyoming (N. Y.) seminary, has been superintendent of the deaconess home in Baltimore for nearly two years past. Recently she was transferred to the superintendency of the Jane Abraham deaconess home of Portland, Or. Miss Wells was a teacher for some time in Iowa Wesleyan university, afterward preceptress in Napu Collegiate institute, California. Returning to Iowa she took a course of study in medicine and was admitted to the Iowa Pharmaceutical association. The care of her aged mother in Knoxville, Ia., confined her to home work, where she was selected as Sunday school superintendent, and served with great acceptability. When relieved from home cares, she entered the Lucy Webb Hayes Training school in Washington, where she graduated with honor.

Want the Law Rescinded.

Women are not allowed to form political societies in Germany, and as the police have the power of determining what a political society is they may at any moment dissolve a woman's organization on that plea. At the next session of the reichstag Baroness von Szyzoki hopes to present a petition praying that the law be rescinded, and over 10,000 signatures of women have already been received. In the meantime all suffrage work must be effected by personal influence, and the baroness is doing all she can by lecturing and writing to awaken interest in the question. She and Frau Caver are editing a new woman's paper, Die Frauenbewegung.—Berlin Letter.

Like a Bag of Feathers.

Ex-Governor Long has well said that the argument against woman suffrage is like a bag of feathers. You may pound it all day, and it remains a bag of feathers still. There is no solidity in it, yet you can make no impression upon it. The method of argument used by the average opponent of equal rights, he says, is identical with that of James II as described by Macaulay. It was the habit of King James, he says, to make some entirely unfounded assertion, and after his counselors had respectfully demonstrated that it was not true to assert it again in exactly the same words. It is no wonder that a monarch so impervious to reason had finally to be dethroned.

Mrs. S. R. Krom.

Mrs. S. R. Krom of Plainfield, N. J., who has been active in the movement for school suffrage for women, rendered a valuable service last year by compiling careful statistics of the number of women voting at school elections and serving on school boards in each county of New Jersey. She thinks equal suffrage would "raise the moral tone of the whole country, especially as regards the liquor traffic and the prevention of the regulation of vice." The Newark Daily Advertiser recalls in this connection that it was owing entirely to the untiring efforts of the women of New Jersey that the age of protection for girls was raised from 10 to 15 years.

Speed Grapes.

To 5 pounds of grapes, underripe, allow 3 pounds of sugar, 2 teaspoonfuls each ground cinnamon and allspice, half teaspoonful cloves and quarter cupful vinegar. Pulp the grapes and boil the skins until tender. Cook the pulp and rub through a colander; add skins, sugar, vinegar and spices, and boil until thick as marmalade.

MRS. AUG. DARROW.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., GENTLEMEN:—I was very much run down, had no appetite at all, was very nervous, had no sleep night or day; to sum it all up, I WAS PERFECTLY WRETCHED. But thanks to Paine's Celery Compound I can now eat and sleep and work just as well as I could before I was taken sick. When I commenced taking the Compound I weighed 136 pounds; I now weigh 158 pounds and do all the work for my family of five. I have recommended the Compound to three families already and they are very much pleased with it. I am now taking my fifth bottle, and would RECOMMEND IT TO ALL WHO ARE SUFFERING WITH STOMACH TROUBLE OR NERVOUS TROUBLE. Yours respectfully, MRS. AUG. DARROW.

A Strange Method of Artificial Respiration.

Dr. Barthold Beer advocates the following method of artificial respiration: The mucous membrane of the lips and of the mouth is rubbed slowly with a piece of ice, the rhythm of the motion corresponding as nearly as possible to that of normal respiration. Dr. Beer has noticed that the inevitable result of the treatment was the return of respiration, at first in very pronounced form, but becoming, on the continued application of the ice, very regular, quiet and deep. Ice used in this way has also a general sedative effect, and its quieting action has been successfully turned to account in the treatment of cerebral troubles. Dr. Foges of Vienna has obtained equally favorably results with this treatment in cases of asphyxia. It is very much to the advantage of this method that it may be employed for several hours at a time, and is harmless for the patient and easy for the physician.

Sulphur for the World.

The Cleveland World of October 11 publishes an article over the signature of Robert P. Porter regarding the development of the sulphur industry in Calcasieu County, Louisiana. The mines are being developed by a syndicate of Cleveland men, among them Frank Rockefeller and F. P. Squire of the Standard Oil Company and the Vanderbilts. One hundred tons of sulphur per day are being raised to the surface through quicksand. In a short time the product of the mines will be great enough to supply the world with a fine quality of sulphur, and the United States will be forever emancipated from the Sicilian product. The United States has been paying $3,000,000 annually to Sicily for sulphur. A big drop in price and an equal large increase in sulphur consumption is predicted.

Scandal in High Life.

James J. van Alen, the Rhode Island millionaire, who is correspondent in a divorce suit brought by Colonel Colt, has left Newport and is reported to be in hiding. Col. Colt says he will bring suit against him in every State in the Union, and, if necessary, every country of the world. Van Alen was married to a daughter of William Astor, who died five years after marriage, leaving three children. His present fortune is estimated at $12,000,000. President Cleveland wanted to make him Minister for Austria, in return to a fat contribution to his campaign funds.

PASTEUR.

The death of the great French scientist, Louis Pasteur, loses to the world a man, who, if good done to his fellows be a measure of one's greatness, certainly stood upon a high plane. Pasteur was born at Dole, France, in 1822. His family being well-to-do, he was enabled to begin, during boyhood, the pursuit of those studies for which he displayed a passion early in life. He entered the Ecole Normale, Paris, in 1837, and the famous college at Sarbonne in 1840. After passing a brilliant examination he became a member of the scientific class of the Academie Francaise, Paris. Chemistry he was passionately devoted to.

His first great work was accomplished in 1855-66, when he proved that the silkworm plague, which at that time was destroying the worms and ruining the great silk manufacturing industry of France, was caused by a parasite. At first his idea was ridiculed, the theory which then obtained credence among scientists generally being that of "spontaneous generation." However, his advice was finally followed, with the result that the plague was immediately checked.

Pasteur then took up the study of fermentation, declaring it to be the work of animalcules. He proved it by experimenting at high altitudes, showing that in pure, light air, where animalcules found it difficult to exist, there was no fermentation. Spontaneous generation was shown to be a myth. After years of the most careful and laborious inquiry and investigation, M. Pasteur came out boldly with the statement that all infectious and contagious disease is due to the existence and action of living organisms—bacteria. His efforts have so far enabled physicians to gain control of several daily diseases; notably, cholera, hydrophobia and diphtheria.

Pasteur is the father of the germ theory of disease, and, before his death, established an institute in France where his ideas can be studied. This has become a great success, and its leading members believe that they will soon be able to successfully combat that dread malady, consumption, while the claim is made, by the very highest authorities in the medical profession, that in ten years no disease will be beyond control of the doctor. The world at large owes to the memory of Louis Pasteur a debt which it can never repay.

Fight at Midnight.

There was a short but fierce encounter between Tom Mearns and another person, in front of Tracy's, on Fort street Saturday night, in which Mearns, who was the aggressor, was badly worsted. He had some grievance against the other man, and, seeing him pass by, sprang upon him furiously. The man immediately turned, threw Mearns, and by the time the bystanders dragged them apart, had succeeded in decorating Mearns' head with a variety of cuts and bruises, while his clothing was torn to rags. The row took place about twenty minutes before twelve.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Please allow a former member space for a few remarks anent the above League—now surviving its usefulness, as is generally believed.

In the report of the meeting held last night, the statement is made that much dissatisfaction was felt at the apathy shown by many former members, and especially by those who had been materially assisted to work and position, and further that on the 18th inst. those who are in default in the matter of dues are to be dropped from the record.

Now I am in full sympathy with the last proposition. The course adopted should have been the work of months ago, now it is too late in the day; and for the following reasons, which I shall try and explain with brevity.

1st: The American League, as such, has ceased to exist, and as a proof there are officers holding responsible positions, who never saw the U. S. A., contrary to the letter and spirit of the constitution, where it is distinctly set forth that none but American citizens are eligible for membership, not to mention office. Now comes my second reason.

2d: There are neither American nor American citizens members of the League, for it is held, and properly I think, all such, and myself included, have lost all right and title to that glorious privilege whether gotten by right of birth or acquired by law. Such are held in bonds of oath, and by reason of military service as citizens of the Hawaiian Republic, and it is now too late to squeal and ask that the states be drawn. The constitution and by-laws of the so-called League have been trampled under foot and are a dead letter, a veritable "dead cock in the pit." It is my belief that individually no member has any claim whatever on the great Republic to which we want at least affiliation.

The position then—as it appears to your writer—is this: Having a society with a constitution doubly dead, let one and all of the ruins build up a better structure, open to all nationalities having common interests, note the saving clause. There is nothing personal interred in the above, and I will join any new society founded in the interest of annexation, or as it has been called closer political union to America. I think reasons have been shown why there are so many members of the A. L. in default, and fail in attendance at meetings.

Useful Old Horsecars.

Every day the east-off horsecar is assuming a new form of usefulness. A railway company in Connecticut is now running an old horsecar into the country districts for the collection of the peach crop. The farmers bring down their fruit to the track and the car is loaded and run into Hartford and sold to the merchants. At Asbury Park an old car has been turned into a central station where storage batteries are recharged for electric launches, domestic lighting, sewing machines, phonographs, etc., and the proprietor has reaped a handsome return on his investment.

THE BIGGEST VOIE YET.

Nearly Fifteen Hundred Ballots Cast This Morning.

Nine hundred and two ballots were cast on Saturday, but the count was finished too late to be inserted in that day's paper. Today's count has been by far the largest of any yet, 1455 ballots having been taken from the box.

The subjoined tables include the votes of both days and show that Miss Giffard has largely increased her lead over Miss King, while Mrs. Renner has crept up very close for second place.

The Rambler and Cleveland have changed places, the former being the favorite, while the Monarch has gained nearly as many votes as both of them, making a close third.

Law Library Removal.

Upon a petition signed by Judge Cooper and fifteen members of the bar, the Justices of the Supreme Court have ordered the removal of the Law Library to the other end of the Judiciary building, "as the typewriter, telephone, and the necessary noise of the Clerk's department and courtroom renders its present location undesirable for study." The lawyers will likely have a telephone and call boy for themselves in the new quarters. Superintendent Rowell has the plans in hand for the removal.

The BULLETIN's telephone was kept busy on Saturday afternoon answering the inquiries of people who wanted to know the result of the bicycle balloting. The result was posted up outside the business office and Thrum's bookstore and attracted much attention at both places.

BULLETIN BICYCLE CONTEST.

The subjoined ballot, renewed in every issue, will be received at the BULLETIN business office, 609 King street, until 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, November 27, 1895. Each No. of ballot will only be acceptable up to the time noted on it, and ballots will be counted and the results announced immediately thereafter. More than one vote for one bicyclist or one bicycle on a single ballot will render it void.

THE PRIZE.

The "Most Popular Bicyclist" according to the ballots cast will be awarded the prize of the "Best Bicycle" sold in Honolulu according to the same vote. The following named gentlemen have kindly consented to act as tellers and judges of the contest:

C. M. WHITE,

Timely Topics

The able address by Mrs. Sturtevant-Peet, president of the California Woman's Christian Temperance Union, on the occasion of the annual convention of that body in San Francisco, contained a passage which takes strong ground on the benefits of the bicycle. In speaking of physical culture and the relation of the clothes to the subject, she said:

"All know the value of a strong unhindered body. For this reason the banishment of the corset and restricting bands is a foregone conclusion."

Dress reform has pressed its claims for forty years, with little progress till the bicycle, that graceful, silent steed of motion, dashes through and bursts open the door of prejudice. This mystic wheel that we meet on every road and street is the mute but telling advocate of dress reform.

It has its virtues as well as its charms. It invites, yea, demands, simplicity in dress. It encourages physical exercise and utterly refuses to carry a drunken rider. Unlike the horse, it balks when touched by the hand of inebriety. It inconveniences and discourages the use of cigars and cigarettes to the number of 65,000, 000 a year. In short, the wheel is a reformer, and, though, it came not through the virtue of moral conception, we should welcome its presence as we do the advent of every new invention and corporate edict bearing the balm of sobriety, with the promise of stronger and better men and women."

This is a straightforward expression from an able woman who led the California forces of one of the greatest National organizations ever instituted for the uplifting of the race. The dignity and earnestness which characterize her opinion cast into the shades the hallow objections which some physicians have made to the bicycle. Mrs. Peet gives us to understand that in the sole aspect of requiring women to dress sensibly this simple instrument of locomotion has accomplished more at a dash than the preachers on sensible dress for women have been able to bring about in nearly half a century. With so eminent an indorsement as this, even the most timid woman who is not held in what amounts to physical restraint by father, husband or brother from obeying an instinctive impulse to dress rationally and enjoy life and health on a bicycle, may at least console herself with the inflection that her impulse was right and lament that she was born a few years too soon.

In addition to the above Mrs. Peet might have mentioned the saving in labor attained by the patent sprocket attached to the Tribune wheel, which amounts to over 15 per cent, no small desideratum when ladies are concerned.

The Tribune is the wheel par excellence for ladies' use, it has the newest patents and improvements and can be run with 15 per cent less work than any other wheel in existence.

DRY GOODS

In Honolulu there is always something that demands the attention of the fair sex. More especially is this true when good bargains are offered. In catering to the wants of the Honolulu ladies, the merchants must buy judiciously and select only the most artistic designs. Especially is this true of white dress goods. I received by the AUSTRALIA a new line of these goods that are very pretty. They must be seen, however, to be appreciated. I also received a fine line of Ladies' Shirt Waists and Corsets. Now that the Cholera is over and life, socially, has resumed its normal condition, the dry goods business must increase materially in the next month. Anticipating this demand I have laid in this fine stock of goods and they are now ready for your inspection, and can be purchased at a reasonable figure.

CHINESE BOY MURDERED.

A FATAL STABBING CASE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

The Murderer Escapes for a Time but is Afterwards Captured—Inquest This Afternoon.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Ah York, a Chinese boy about fifteen years old was stabbed in the abdomen by Wong Look without a word of warning. The murderer disappeared and the victim was conveyed to the Queen's hospital where he expired about 2 o'clock this morning.

The murdered boy lived with his uncle in a house on Hotel street near Maunakea. Wong Look, the murderer, came from Kauai some months ago and went to work at Heeia, from whence he arrived in this city a few days since. He engaged a room next to that occupied by Ah York. He was out all Saturday night and until nearly daylight Sunday morning. During the morning he was seen sharpening a big butcher's knife with a file. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon the victim left his room to fill two buckets with water, and upon returning with one in each hand was met on the stairway by Wong Look, who stabbed him in the abdomen without a word. When the police arrived on the spot the boy was found doubled up at the foot of the stairs. The two buckets were lying near him and in a corner was the knife covered with blood, just as the murderer had thrown it from him in escaping. The wounded boy was removed to the hospital and given proper medical attention, but nothing could be done for him and about 2 o'clock this morning he expired.

The murderer escaped over the back fence and nothing more was seen of him till about 11 P. M. when word was sent to the police station that he had been seen near the rooms of Tong Hing Society. Lieutenants Hart, Needham and others went there and found him hiding behind the door of a two-story house opposite. He was taken to the Station House and from thence to the hospital where the wounded boy identified him as the man who had stabbed him.

Deputy Marshal Hitecock has summoned a coroner's jury to meet and consider the case at 2:30 this afternoon and it is now in session.

MILITIA DISGRUNTLED.

One of Them Says They are Slighted for Jobs.

A member of the N. G. H., in conversation with a BULLETIN representative, said: "I belong to the militia, and I was quite enthusiastic in regard to military matters, until I noticed that most of the government jobs, of late, are going to non-members of any organization of that kind."

"Our captains sometimes feel aggrieved on account of voluntary absence from drill and meetings generally. The principal reason is, the boys feel that government patronage goes elsewhere. "Well and good. If they don't like us we won't like them, and as for drill we will attend it regularly whenever we feel that our attendance is appreciated."

Yales' La Freckla

is Mme. Yale's infallible cure of Freckles, Tan and Sunburn. It is the only remedy ever compounded that will remove freckles completely and surely.

The fairer and more delicate the skin, the more likely it is to freckle and the worse it will look after it is freckled.

Thousands of women, otherwise beautiful, are disgraced by these unsightly, brown blotches. Nothing will hide them. They are a source of misery, but they can be cured. La Freckla is the death-warrant to freckles.

The preparation of La Freckla is one of Mme. Yale's greatest achievements. There are many imitations, some of them very dangerous and hurtful to the skin; none of them really effective. For safety and certainty, insist always on getting the genuine and original La Freckla.

THE JAPANESE CASES.

Yamamoto Sentenced to Three Months on the Reel.

In the District Court on Saturday morning the Japanese riot cases were brought up.

Morita filed a bond in the sum of $250, conditioned that he will not commit the offense of being a disorderly person by reason of his being a disturber of the peace, within one year from November 4th, and was discharged.

Yamamoto, whose trial on the 7th was not concluded, was then brought up and his attorneys introduced several witnesses for the defense.

Yoneda, a Japanese maiden who lived in the neighborhood of Kaunakapili, testified that she saw the rumpus and saw the police beating the defendant with a club. She saw him beaten over the head and kicked. There were five or six police present. She could not identify the police. After he was beaten by the police the defendant went home. He had no weapon or stick of any kind. She saw the occurrence from her residence on Smith street. On cross-examination she could not say that the row started from drinking too much sake or not, but admitted that everybody was indulging freely in that intoxicating beverage and that six policemen arrested the defendant.

Kimoshita, who also lives on Smith street, told a different story. He said he saw the defendant during the row and saw the defendant struck on the head by a policeman, who told him to go home. After the policeman left two natives got hold of the defendant, knocked him down and kicked him and struck him with the sticks. He was twenty yards away and could see that the defendant had nothing in his hands. On cross-examination the witness said this occurred fifteen minutes after the row was over and the crowd had dispersed. The two natives who did the beating were not policemen.

In his own behalf the defendant swore that he was walking quietly along the street, when he was struck on the face and knocked down by some one who told him to go home. When he got up five or six policemen twisted his arm behind his back and he was struck on the head, ear and face and his clothing torn. The policeman who beat him was the second witness against him; a short half-Portuguese. It is not true that he struck him on the arm with a stick first. He was alone when he was assaulted and knew nothing about the row in progress. He said on cross-examination that he was going to a carpenter shop to see about work, but admitted that the shop was not open at 9:30 p. m. He was positive it was the police who first struck him.

The defendant was found guilty by Judge Perry and sentenced to three months' imprisonment at hard labor with costs. An appeal being taken to the Circuit Court His Honor fixed his bail at $300.

Born a Genius Disease Threatens to Cut Short a Noble Career

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Restores Good Health.

Little May Bentley is an accomplished elocutionist and natural born speaker of only 12 years of age. She is the only child temperance lecturer before the public. Her genius, however, did not exempt her from an attack of a disease of the blood. Her own words best tell the story: "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."

Continued to Grow Worse. I was persuaded finally by a friend to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The use of one bottle acted effectively upon the blood and I began to improve.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. After the use of three bottles the gathering ceased and I am cured of my former trouble. I owe my life and will always remain a true friend to Hood's Sarsaparilla. LILLIE MAY BENTLEY, Shelbyville, Indiana. Get HOOD'S.

SCIENTIFIC SAVAGERY.

Horrible Views Put Forth at the British Association.

At the recent meeting of the British Association the champions of science turned aside for a moment from their old contest with theology and boldly challenged civilization itself to combat on the plains of truth. The challenge came mainly from the explorers of the world and took the form of a defense of the savageries and superstitions that our culture holds in utter abhorrence. The leader in the defiance was a certain Captain Hinde, who, in describing the prevalence of cannibalism in the Congo region, said: "In the country of the Buletela one sees neither gray-haired persons, halt, maimed nor blind. Even parents are eaten by their children on the least sign of old age. Under such circumstances, the Buletela are a splendid race." It was furthermore declared that the custom of eating the dead saves savage races from epidemics. Another traveller who had been in Guiana argued that the fierce vendettas which prevail there have an undoubted influence for good by thinning out the weaker members of the race. In the discussion which followed the papers, there was shown a marked agreement among the scientists that savagery is not without its compensations, and, in fact, to the outsider it would almost seem that science itself is savage.

"What is the name of that new thing on your head?" asked Mr. Oldhusband, as his wife stood before him with a new bonnet.

"This, dearest, is named the 'Defender,'" answered Mrs. Oldhusband sweetly; "and it has its jibtopails up, its balloon sails set, and is already to run in the teeth of a gale."

"H'm! Perhaps since you're so glib in the use of nautical phrases you can tell me where I come in," pursued Mr. O.

"Well," said his wife, "when the bill comes in you'll be a wreck!"—Detroit Free Press.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR CHOLERA—When promptly and properly treated a recovery is almost certain. This was fully demonstrated during the prevalence of Cholera in New York in 1866. Go to bed as soon as the first symptoms appear, remain as quiet as possible, and take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in double doses until the pain ceases, and then after each operation of the bowels more than natural. Send for a physician, but take this remedy in this way until he arrives. The remedy should be kept at hand ready for instant use. It should be taken within five minutes after the first symptoms appear. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the most successful medicine that has yet been produced, not only for the milder forms of bowel complaint, but for the most virulent forms of Asiatic Cholera.
