LILIUOKALANI'S

Side of the Hawaiian Question.

An Arraignment of the Course of the Harrison Administration and a Statement of Facts Which Has Received the Personal Indorsement of the ex-Queen—Submitted by The Scranton, Pa., Tribune for What It Is Worth.

Editor of The Tribune:—

Sir—The almost universal false impression of the American people in regard to Hawaiian affairs ever since the unmanly and shameless overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani in 1893 arises undoubtedly, in the large majority of cases, from gross ignorance. The terrific power of a news correspondent has never been so well demonstrated as in this instance. The correspondent at Honolulu, in all his dispatches from that place from the time of the overthrow up to the present, gives undeniable proof that he was an adherent of the rebels; equally so the correspondent in San Francisco. Their prejudiced and perjured dispatches have been sent broadcast to the press of the United States, and it is from these dispatches that the American public has formed its opinion.

Without any interest whatever in the matter the writer, from a mere sense of justice to the traduced, commenced to read with interest these partisan press dispatches; and if others will take trouble to read them with as much care as he did he will soon learn to read between the lines. The following article was written in the Spring of 1893, but being on the unpopular side of the question was not offered for print. However, when Queen Liliuokalani went to Washington, the writer called upon her with his manuscript and was accorded three private audiences with the rightful Queen of Hawaii, at one of which he submitted the article, written nearly four years ago, to ascertain if his statements of facts were correct.

The Queen and her lady-in-waiting listened with great interest to the reading of this article and upon its conclusion the Queen said: "Mr. Busted, every one of your facts is absolutely correct. I would be glad to have them published, but at the present juncture I do not desire to be quoted; that is, I want it understood that I am not saying anything, but you have my permission to say that I declare your facts to be correct."

Instead of the thick-lipped savage that our newspaper press has degraded itself by picturing, I found her a handsome, dignified, courteous lady, the equal of any American woman in intelligence and graciousness.

THE ARTICLE.

A review of the acts of the Harrison administration in relation to the question of Hawaiian annexation can but bring a sense of shame to the patriot. Such an attempt at national burglary, robbery of sovereign individual rights, forcible possession of vested property, advocacy of "might makes right," connivance with chicanery, participation in pluder, consort with insurrectionists and prevarications, accompanied by heartless disregard of justice to the despoiled monarch and her loyal subjects, of appeals for aid from the weak to the strong, as distinguished the finale and exit of that administration, is fortunately unparalleled in the history of this country. Self-appointed envoys from Hawaii, aided and abetted by a United States minister plenipotentiary in collusion with the highest cabinet officer and president of the United States—this is the spectacle to which I wish to call your attention.

The New York Press of January 29, 1893, published an article describing and comparing the former with the present conditions of the Hawaiians. The power and brilliancy of the writing leaves no room to doubt the ability of the anonymous author and, though it is tinged with a tone of sarcasm, yet its absolute frankness and impartiality are convincing proof of the correctness of its facts. The desire to reproduce here the entire article is only overcome by the impracticability of so doing. The following is an extract:

"Cannibals they certainly had been up to a little while before Captain Cook, in 1778, re-discovered them—the Spaniards, a hundred years before, having called Hawaii, Mesa Island—and named them after Lord Sandwich, first lord of the admiralty. They killed their re-discoverer on St. Valentine's day of the following year, but 'civilization' has avenged his death something like 100,000 fold. There were 142,000, mostly native Hawaiians, in 1822. In 1890 there were but 89,990, of whom but 34,436 were natives. * * *

What has slain them? Pneumonia, very likely, from the wearing of clothes. When the Kanaka youth and maid flashed their olive bodies through the surf and with a single plank, for an occasional rest, swam miles out to sea * * * the Kanaka youth was hearty * * * But when the missionaries brought the cult of clothing for decency's sake, and at the same time did not, or could not bring the cult of keeping the clothes dry for health's sake, the Kanaka death rate began to gallop. It has been galloping ever since. Then there were those other adjuncts of civilization which the Australian legislator describes as 'gin and—' the blank representing the leprosy of Europe. What a story is that which Dana told in the wonderful 'Two Years Before the Mast,' of the Kanaka sailor lad who lay dying on the California coast of the hideous malady which 'civilization' had brought to his clean, fair islands, and how the Yankee skipper refused to give him his medicine chest, the remedies which he knew would save the man's life. Measles, smallpox and influenza the Kanaka has taken much harder than his 'civilized' brother, who brought these diseases to him. * * * When one considers the paradisaical condition of the aboriginal Kanaka * * * and further considers the deluge of dirt, disease and death which swept upon him coincidentally with his 'discovery,' one wonders not that he abolished Captain Cook, but that he did not maintain this vigorous foreign policy towards all newcomers."

The word "missionaries" should be emphasized, as they were the original and their descendants are the continuing cause of the present situation. The New York Herald of January 31, 1893, prints the following:

"AS VIEWED BY A HAWAIIAN."

"Written by a native ten days before the Queen's overthrow. The following letter, written to the Herald ten days before the revolution occurred in Honolulu, contains an interesting review of the situation as it then existed. * * * From the Hawaiian standpoint the question of annexation may be dismissed in a few words. It is unpopular with all classes. * * * It is true that the islands are having internal dissensions which cause some uneasiness

TELL THE TRUTH.

The Bulletin publishes what purports to be a part of the Brief filed by A. S. Hartwell, Esq., with the Finance Committee of the United States Senate. We quote as follows: "It is estimated that the commercial results of the treaty have not been fairly represented by Mr. Oxnard. Judge Hartwell points out that in the very largest item of all, Hawaiian sugar, the consignors invoiced at their fullest gross value and not at their net value, which would be 25 percent less than Mr. Oxnard's figures." Not having Mr. Oxnard's figures before us it is not clear just what Mr. Hartwell's contention is; but if he makes the point that sugars are invoiced here at 25 percent over their net value he is certainly mistaken. No doubt Mr. Oxnard has made the very best showing possible for the interests he represents, and every man, woman, and child in Hawaii is interested in combating his statement, but it is worse than folly to meet his figures with statements that can be easily refuted as the one under review. "Honesty is the best policy" still in matters of the kind under consideration, and ignorance is no excuse for misstatements. Mr. Searles and his co-commissioners who visited our islands in the eighties made the same charge of over-valuation, to suit their purposes, and were easily satisfied that they were in error, and Mr. Searles is very much alive today.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Who Is Severin?

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

My attention has been called to the silly vapors of an itinerant type artist (?), one Severin, in your issue of May 4th, in which he gravely asserts that my communication was "a lie from beginning to end."

He informs the public that he was on the spot at the time, and knows all about the trouble and the causes thereof.

I cheerfully admit he has been here a long time—too long. Let me think, is it not all of three weeks? And in that period his mighty intellect has arrived at a conclusion diametrically opposite to that reached by the majority of thinking people who have resided in Lihue for years. But perhaps there are reasons for this. He says he has no cause to be other than impartial. May I ask, Where do you room, Mr. Severin? Is it not in Hermann Wolter's cottage? Where is your gallery, maker of wretched "pai kii's"? Is it not in a plantation building? Where feedest thou, O degenerate disciple of Daguerre? Is it not at the plantation boarding house?

The inevitable conclusion is forced upon me that you are working for free board and lodging. Come now, own up.

But why waste any more of the valuable space of THE INDEPENDENT replying to your insane twaddle? Really the only answer to such profound "Dutch" logic is to say, "you're another."

THE POPULAR CONCERT.

An Excellent Program Arranged for To-morrow Night at the Opera House.

For some months past ladies and gentlemen, most musically inclined, have been rehearsing and practicing at the High School with the intention of presenting to the people of all classes first rate music at very small cost, and tomorrow evening the Honolulu Choral Society makes its first bow to an Honolulu audience at the Hawaiian Opera House.

In all other countries in which the experiment of popular music at popular prices has been attempted success has crowned the effort, and there would appear to be a probability that Honolulu will not be behind her sister cities in appreciating and developing the movement, although she is extremely fickle in the amusement line.

The system of reserving seats for the tickets sold at 25c. and 10c., is an excellent one, as it prevents the rush, clamoring and struggling invariably seen at free entertainments. Wishing the concert every success, the following is the programme to be presented:

- Overture—Semiramide..... Rossini

Hui Pakaka Nalu.

A number of Hawaiians living near the beach at Waikiki, and owning canoes, have formed a Hui for the purpose of giving tourists and others a chance to enjoy a surf ride. The men, who will paddle the canoes, are expert surf riders and any one who can swim and is not afraid of a dipping in the briny deep can safely risk the experience of the peculiar sensation which a surf ride causes.

Mr. W. W. Dimond, who is one of our most celebrated canoe steerers has kindly agreed to act as manager of the Hui Pakaka Nalu. Canoes can be obtained at all the bathing resorts at Waikiki, manned by "professionals." All the timid little girls and the bold mashers want to do is to dig $1.00 an hour for the pleasure of riding on the surf, and it is safe to predict that even the elderly "new woman" and the scientific "profession," will take a chance of riding on the foam crested waves of the Pacific ocean, under the guidance of the expert boat steerers.

And what tales will be unfolded when our tourists after their experience on the surf meet at the fireside in New England.

We wish the Hui Pakaka Nalu all possible success and many bright dollars.

Hagey Social Club.

The Hagey Social Club rooms having been fairly comfortably arranged, are now open to friends. On Saturday evening next, the 15th, the Club will give a "house warming" social, postponing all regular business of the Club until the Saturday following. Members will please take notice that the amusement and constitutional committees will meet this evening. Volunteers willing to sing, play or recite will please address the entertainment committee.

A Chinaman was sent down yesterday from Lihue plantation under arrest and charged with being insane. The Chinaman claims that he is brother of the man killed by H. Wolters, and that he has been ill-treated since the Lihue "riot." He is now accused of being insane, and has been sent to the Chinese Hospital for further investigation.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

The Greeks apparently won a hard fought victory at Valastino, but the indications are that the war will be discontinued as hopeless. The political condition of Greece is serious and internal dissensions are complicating the situation. The Foreign Powers are watching events without interfering.

It is stated that European Powers are forming new coalitions the principal basis being England and France against Germany and Russia. The feeling in England against Germany is growing very severe.

It is officially denied that Great Britain has expressed disapproval of the annexation of Hawaii to the United States. The fact is immaterial.

The Duke of Leeds is expected to succeed Lord Aberdeen as Governor General of Canada.

Hon. J. W. Foster has given a political dinner to Chief Justice and Mrs. Judd. The U. S. Chief Justice and members of the Cabinet were present. Foster is reputed to be an annexation lawyer and lobbyist for the Hawaiian Government.

The Cubans declare that they are neither pacified nor beaten.

Corbett has challenged Fitzsimons again, but Fitz declines to pay any attention to the challenge.

Lo-Be Pearce of Camden N. J. killed Billy Nermon of Haverstraw, N. Y. in a boxing contest. He was arrested.

Thirteen of the Barcelona Anarchists have been sentenced to death after a secret trial for the Corpus Christi bomb throwing.

Postponed.

The Secretary, Mrs. Eugenia Reis, desires it to be known that the Inau at the Kapiolani Maternity Home has necessarily been postponed from the 8th instant until Saturday, June 5th. Contributions for the Inau should be addressed to the "Kapiolani Maternity Home."

THE OLDER YOU GROW

the more rapidly spin round the wheels of Time; the logic is therefore that if you want to get the pith out of enjoyment you must go it while you're young. That is where we can help you for our cycles for young and old, youths and maidens, girls and boys will outspeed the cycles of grandfather Time. For example:

We have just a few of those celebrated TRIBUNES with the latest improvements left over from the Australia's importation. They are beautiful in Maroon or black with gold trimmings. They are dandy's daisies, and invariably up to date. Then we also have all grades and classes of wheels, and at all prices; the best the market can give. Take for instance THE STORMER you can have this at $75, and you will be well pleased with it after your inspection. It has all the most recent improvements. Then there is the COLUMBUS another beauty in Olive Green and Gold with Wooden Handles with Cork Grips. T is goes for $75 also. Another wheel, that is very highly spoken of the United States, is the B & H SPECIAL which we can let you have for $80. We also have one or two of the famous "ZIMMIES" that you may like. We have a few SECOND HAND WHEELS of different makes that you can take at reduced prices. Our supplies include wheels for ladies and juveniles, repairing kits and all the sundries required, and we sell for cash or on the installment plan.

And Now the Busses.

Following the example of an evening contemporary the busses Palama ways are now employing Japanese drivers. They do not always drive through town but generally remain in the outskirts. We suggest to the thrifty Japs are as unexploited trade, that of a purveyor of cat's and dog's meat. Men in London have accumulated fortunes by peddling cooked livers and horse flesh for these domestic pets.

A Fatal Accident—For a Car.

We didn't see it, but our morning contemporary informs us that a Nuuanu street car came to grief yesterday, and rolled a passenger in the dust in his Sunday go-to-Central-Union clothes. As to the car itself and the Waterhouse fence, we learn that, "the post was broken, and the car demolished and partly telescoping the front platform. An inspection of the car showed the wood work to be almost pulp from the ravages of insects or borers." Where is now my little wee jaunting car?

EVEN UP.

St. Louis Team Wins Saturday's Game.

Like many others of the "beat laid plaus of mice and men" the result of the baseball game on Saturday afternoon last proved that it was the unexpected which happened, the expected victors, the Stars, being defeated in a very evenly contested game, by a score of 9 to 4. This victory by the St. Louis team places them on even terms with the victors of previous games and the Stars, Regiment and St. Louis are even up in victories and defeats having each obtained one of both.

The game led off well, the St. Louis winning the toss and sending their opponents to the bat. The Stars made a cypher in their innings but the St. Louis piled up 4 runs before going out. Hart made Simeron weary by sending him out on three strikes and retiring the side. When the Stars came to the bat in the second the air of determination to do something towards scoring, seemed to have an effect upon the St. Louis backers, but not on the St. Louis players, the latter retiring their opponents with the second goose egg, the playing of Thompson Wood and Willis being the cause. For the St. Louis, Dayton hit short passed first but turned the wrong way and Mahuka touched him out. The field umpire decided Dayton was "safe" and a 6-minute "kick" ensued before play went on. Thompson, Gleason and Willis went out and Dayton died on third. The first record for the Stars was made in the 3rd, an unearned run by Koki and that 1 was followed in the next innings by a 2 made by Mahuka and Lishman and a 1 in the next made by Hart. In the meantime the Stars had been dealing out goose eggs to the St. Louis players and try as they might the home base was a terra incognita to any of the St. Louis team until the last half of the 8th when by culpable errors made by Star players they managed to pile up five runs. In the last innings of the Stars, Wilder got first on a muff by Lemon, Hart went out on a fly to Hansmann and Lishman struck out, Wilder being left at third, the St. Louis thus winning the game by a score of 9 to 4.

For the St. Louis it must be said that they kept their heads better than the Stars; plays by Thompson, Lemon, Gleason and good catches by Dayton were noticeable. The Stars lost opportunities, notwithstanding good plays by Wilder, Mahuka and Ross the fates seemed against them, for the team played ball from the second to the seventh and Ross' long hit to right, the ball bounding on the inch edge of the top of the fence and coming back in field, almost giving a home run. Following is the score and time by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
S. Louis	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	5	*-9
Time	15	12	10	14	9	10	11	16	3
Total time of game,	1 hour 45 minutes.

FIELD NOTES.

And the "fluke" occurred. Lots of beauty but little of booty, last Saturday.

The grandstand occupants talked loud, with their feet, at many of the plays.

It is the "St. Louis," not the St. Louis "College" club.

Geo. Angus was forced to scorer's position and held the place satisfactorily during the entire game.

Instead of "shades of twilight," the sun was brightly shining at the end of Saturday's game. No wonder the Stars were eclipsed.

The quickest played game, so far, this season; a good record.

A regular paid, official scorer, is very much needed. A Star man is suggested.

Mahuka is expert on first, at the bat and as a base-kleptomaniac.

Dayton threw poorly his wrist was lame; Cunha threw poorly an ankle was lame; Hart threw poorly his head was lame.

The St. Louis team grew strong on goose eggs.

Even the score kids hardly knew where to place that "5" in the eighth. Say, the St. Louis "didn't do a thing" to the Stars in the eighth. Oh! where was Wilder then?

The patrons were well satisfied to see the veteran Whitney umpiring behind the bat and George Lucas in the field. This is as it should be.

None of the Regiment team was present, unless in disguise. A signal man flagged news of each innings to the Barracks, via the Punchbowl route.

Field Umpire Lucas' ruling that Dayton was on first (in 2nd inning) was correct, if he ruled so; if not he should have done so. It took longer to settle that question than to put the side out.

The enthusiasm in the feet of the St. Louis contingent shook the dirt stuffing out of the ceiling over the newspaper "den" and the scribes got most of it "in the neck." A police patrol, in front, kept the caged victims quiet.

The new coach of the St. Louis team (Henry Vierra) made music (chir) in the air off third. His clothes did not fit well but he was not posing as a grand-stand player.

Some Star lovers say 'twas Cunha, others say Hart and Lishman, and others again say Koki, but Jimmy Thompson says he is "dead sure" that 'twas the St. Louis "did it."

Next Saturday's game, between the First Regiment and the Star teams, is already being talked over and there is every prospect of the attendance being large in number. The Regiment coaches are to practice with gags for the game but McNichol will read up "Wit and Humor of the Diamond."

BASEBALL NOTE.

The Board of Managers of the Association in response to newspaper protest and in the interests of the general public has caused the following (unsigned) notice, which is a Professional regulation, to be publicly displayed:

"No person shall be allowed upon any part of the field during the progress of a game in addition to the players in uniform, the Manager on each side and the Umpires except such officers of the law as may be present in uniform and such officials of the home club as may be necessary to preserve the peace."

Cricket

Owing to the accident of an officer failing to sign the man's passes, the match between the Philadelphia and Honolulu arranged for last Saturday was not played, as the men from the ship could not present themselves on the ground although willing to do so. A scratch game was played between Herbert's and Mackintosh's teams which was won by the former with a score of 72 to 51, out of which Herbert made 26 and Lishman 24.

Sharkey Will Defeat Maher.

"There can be no doubt," says a prominent sportsman, "that Sharkey will defeat Maher when they meet at the end of this month." If this prophecy comes out correct the Sailor's victory can be attributed to the fact that he "rubs" his inner man down with the fine brand of O. P. S. whiskey now imported here by J. H. Lovejoy & Co., and cools off on pure Seattle beer, which wholesome beverages are now being served at the Anchor Saloon.

W. W. DIMOND'S

UTENSILS

We have talked stoves successfully for two weeks and some people have the impression that we have abandoned other lines. We haven't. Our business is growing every day, beats anything we ever anticipated.

There are no genuine department stores in Honolulu, but ours approaches the ideal so closely that there is but a shade between them. When you have bought a DETROIT JEWEL STOVE from us you take but a step to the agate ware department and select the utensils necessary.

CROCKERY

Another step and you find the greatest array of crockery, glassware and china ever shown in this country. The prices, too, are below anything ever offered. The customer has every advantage in quality of goods and prices in this as in the department where you find every variety of cutlery for the table and silverware in serviceable pieces.

Besides these articles we display an unusually large assortment of novelties for the kitchen.

at home and in Washington." [This should be borne in mind on account of denials, quoted later.] "It is also true that the people of Hawaii are competent to work out their own destiny * * * the United States have been unnecessarily alarmed through the designing reports of their naval and diplomatic representatives. The naval commanders and the present minister resident have lent themselves to and encouraged the machinations of that small but waning clique of men known as the missionary reform party. [The correspondent underrated the "missionary reform party," as subsequent events show.] This clique, in their desperate struggle for power, conceived the revolution of 1887, and have been the cause of all the turmoil ever since. United States Minister Stevens has made himself most cordially disliked by his open partisanship with the missionary reform party.

MADE NO TROUBLE.

All accounts agree that Queen Liliuokalani and her adherents did not make even a demonstration of forcible resistance when their government was overwhelmed and their lives threatened by the usurper. "The new government then called for volunteers who assembled, armed, to the number of 500. The old government surrendered without striking a blow, although it had 400 men under arms and a battery of Gatling guns. * * * Representative White then proceeded to the steps of the palace and began an address. He told the crowd that the Queen and cabinet had betrayed them and instead of going home peacefully they should go to the palace and kill and bury her." (Dispatch to New York Press, Jan. 29, 1893.) In the face of this admitted fact the American Minister to the court of Hawaii, the envoy from President Harrison to Queen Liliuokalani, one as rightfully a Queen as the other a president under the organic law, becomes actively partisan with the insurgents and insults both the government he was sent to respect and the government he so misrepresented. In direct violation of the usage of the department of which he was a sworn officer, at the risk of involving his home government in dire diplomatic entanglement and his native land in war and bloodshed, he counseled and connived with the ring-leaders of the revolt and prostituted the power of his position by landing an armed force of United States marines, under the pretext of protecting American interests which were not threatened. * * * About five o'clock in the afternoon the United steamship Boston landed about 300 men. Each man had two belts of cartridges around his waist, and was armed with a rifle. * * * The marines were detached and sent to the American Legation on Nuuanu avenue, while the sailors marched out along Merchant street with two Gatling guns. * * * (New York Press, Jan. 29, 1893.) Three hundred armed United States sailors with two Gatling guns to protect what American interests? Or to assist the already assembled 500 armed rebels in intimidating the 400 soldiers of the national army? "Upon receiving incontrovertible proof that His Excellency, the Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States, aided and abetted their unlawful movements and caused United States troops to be landed for that purpose, I submitted to force, believing he would not have acted in that manner unless by authority of the government he represents. This action on my part was prompted by three reasons—the futility of a conflict with the United States; the desire to avoid violence, bloodshed and the destruction of life and property, and the certainty which I feel that you and your government will right whatever wrongs have been inflicted upon us in the premises. * * * (Queen Liliuokalani's protest to Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, New York Herald, Feb. 18, 1893.) The Queen's confidence was misplaced. Was it to protect American interests that Minister Stevens raised and maintained, until removed by Commissioner Blount, under orders from President Cleveland, the flag of the Republic of the United States on the national property of the Kingdom of Hawaii? No, it was in furtherance of a deep laid scheme that had for many years been fulminating. (To be continued.)

Side of the Hawaiian Question.

An Arraignment of the Course of the Harrison Administration and a Statement of Facts Which Has Received the Personal Indorsement of the ex-Queen—Submitted by The Scranton, Pa., Tribune for What It Is Worth.

Editor of The Tribune:—

Sir—The almost universal false impression of the American people in regard to Hawaiian affairs ever since the unmanly and shameless overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani in 1893 arises undoubtedly, in the large majority of cases, from gross ignorance. The terrific power of a news correspondent has never been so well demonstrated as in this instance. The correspondent at Honolulu, in all his dispatches from that place from the time of the overthrow up to the present, gives undeniable proof that he was an adherent of the rebels; equally so the correspondent in San Francisco. Their prejudiced and perjured dispatches have been sent broadcast to the press of the United States, and it is from these dispatches that the American public has formed its opinion.

Without any interest whatever in the matter the writer, from a mere sense of justice to the traduced, commenced to read with interest these partisan press dispatches; and if others will take trouble to read them with as much care as he did he will soon learn to read between the lines. The following article was written in the Spring of 1893, but being on the unpopular side of the question was not offered for print. However, when Queen Liliuokalani went to Washington, the writer called upon her with his manuscript and was accorded three private audiences with the rightful Queen of Hawaii, at one of which he submitted the article, written nearly four years ago, to ascertain if his statements of facts were correct.

The Queen and her lady-in-waiting listened with great interest to the reading of this article and upon its conclusion the Queen said: "Mr. Busted, every one of your facts is absolutely correct. I would be glad to have them published, but at the present juncture I do not desire to be quoted; that is, I want it understood that I am not saying anything, but you have my permission to say that I declare your facts to be correct."

Instead of the thick-lipped savage that our newspaper press has degraded itself by picturing, I found her a handsome, dignified, courteous lady, the equal of any American woman in intelligence and graciousness.

THE ARTICLE.

A review of the acts of the Harrison administration in relation to the question of Hawaiian annexation can but bring a sense of shame to the patriot. Such an attempt at national burglary, robbery of sovereign individual rights, forcible possession of vested property, advocacy of "might makes right," connivance with chicanery, participation in pluder, consort with insurrectionists and acceptance of their perversions and prevarications, accompanied by heartless disregard of justice to the deposed monarch and her loyal subjects, of appeals for aid from the weak to the strong, as distinguished the finale and exit of that administration, is fortunately unparalleled in the history of this country. Self-appointed envoys from Hawaii, aided and abetted by a United States minister plenipotentiary in collusion with the highest cabinet officer and president of the United States—this is the spectacle to which I wish to call your attention.

The New York Press of January 29, 1893, published an article describing and comparing the former with the present conditions of the Hawaiians. The power and brilliancy of the writing leaves no room to doubt the ability of the anonymous author and, though it is tinged with a tone of sarcasm, yet its absolute frankness and impartiality are convincing proof of the correctness of its facts. The desire to reproduce here the entire article is only overcome by the impracticability of so doing. The following is an extract:

"Cannibals they certainly had been up to a little while before Captain Cook, in 1778, re-discovered them—the Spaniards, a hundred years before, having called Hawaii, Mesa Island—and named them after Lord Sandwich, first lord of the admiralty. They killed their re-discoverer on St. Valentine's day of the following year, but 'civilization' has avenged his death something like 100,000 fold. There were 142,000, mostly native Hawaiians, in 1822. In 1890 there were but 89,990, of whom but 34,436 were natives. * * * What has slain them? Pneumonia, very likely, from the wearing of clothes. When the Kanaka youth and maid flashed their olive bodies through the surf and with a single plank, for an occasional rest, swam miles out to sea * * * the Kanaka youth was hearty * * * But when the missionaries brought the cult of clothing for decency's sake, and at the same time did not, or could not bring the cult of keeping the clothes dry for health's sake, the Kanaka death rate began to gallop. It has been galloping ever since. Then there were those other adjuncts of civilization which the Australian legislator describes as 'gin and —,' the blank representing the leprosy of Europe. What a story is that which Dana told in the wonderful 'Two Years Before the Mast,' of the Kanaka sailor lad who lay dying on the California coast of the hideous malady which 'civilization' had brought to his clean, fair islands, and how the Yankee skipper refused to give him his medicine chest, the remedies which he knew would save the man's life. Measles, smallpox and influenza the Kanaka has taken much harder than his 'civilized' brother, who brought these diseases to him. * * * When one considers the paradisaical condition of the aboriginal Kanaka * * * and further considers the deluge of dirt, disease and death which swept upon him coincidentally with his 'discovery,' one wonders not that he abolished Captain Cook, but that he did not maintain this vigorous foreign policy towards all newcomers."

The word "missionaries" should be emphasized, as they were the original and their descendants are the continuing cause of the present situation. The New York Herald of January 31, 1893, prints the following:

"AS VIEWED BY A HAWAIIAN."

"Written by a native ten days before the Queen's overthrow. The following letter, written to the Herald ten days before the revolution occurred in Honolulu, contains an interesting review of the situation as it then existed. * * * From the Hawaiian standpoint the question of annexation may be dismissed in a few words. It is unpopular with all classes. * * * It is true that the islands are having internal dissensions which cause some uneasiness

 The mortgagee's sale of property at Moaulua was postponed this forenoon until 12 o'clock on Monday next.
 Oxtail soup, fresh Californian salmon and poultry are among the attractions offered at Juan Camancho's restaurant tomorrow.
 The Hawaiian Hardware Co. is dead on to the bicycle trade. Cyclists should read their Timely Topics before going elsewhere.
 W. W. Dimond has something very interesting to say in regard to crockery and other matters to day. Students of domestic economy should read it.
 W. H. Cornwell has brought a string of horses to town for the 11th of June races. Now there is a chance for good races on the national day.
 E. Nieper, the expressman was assaulted yesterday morning by a native sailor at the Claudine wharf. The kanaka was fined $10 and costs in the District Court this morning.
 The Police completely downed Co. G with a handsome score of 408, to which Katakini contributed 44, Chamberlain 43 and Parker, Connelly and Fernandez 42. Rose and Wilcox of G reached 42.
 Remember that the first popular concert of the Honolulu Choral Society takes place at the Hawaiian Opera House to-morrow evening. Reserved seats 25 and ten cents, and they are selling out at Wall-Nichol & Co.'s like hot cakes.
 The Japanese officials paid a visit of respect to the Executive Building this forenoon. Berger and the guard of honor were on hand and decorations and uniforms glistened and sweltered in the bright sun and hot south wind.
 The fire whistle this afternoon was for a small roof fire, started by a stove pipe in a cottage on Beretania street, nearly adjacent to Larry Dee's feed depot. Yesterday's alarm was for a bon fire at Waikiki. Impose a fine for such alarms.
 An accident occurred at the Foundry near Sorenson's on Queen street, this forenoon, David Kahaleaahu slipped and was run over by a truck loaded down with a 7-ton roller and both his feet were crushed. He was taken promptly to the Queen's Hospital.
 Mr. W. H. Rice, Jr., of Lihue, Kauai, and Miss Mary A. Girvin, will be married on the 8th of June, at the residence of Jas. W. Girvin at Kapiolani and Girvin streets. The ceremony will be performed in the presence of members of the families only, and after the customary congratulations, the young folks will depart for Kauai on the steamer.
And Now the Busses.
 Following the example of an evening contemporary the busses Palama ways are now employing Japanese drivers. They do not always drive through town but generally remain in the outskirts. We suggest to the thrifty Japs are as unexploited trade, that of a purveyor of cat's and dog's meat. Men in London have accumulated fortunes by peddling cooked livers and horse flesh for these domestic pets.
A Fatal Accident—For a Car.
 We didn't see it, but our morning contemporary informs us that a Nuuanu street car came to grief yesterday, and rolled a passenger in the dust in his Sunday go-to-Central-Union clothes. As to the car itself and the Waterhouse fence, we learn that, "the post was broken, and the car demolished and partly telescoping the front platform. An inspection of the car showed the wood work to be almost pulp from the ravages of insects or borers." Where is now my little wee jaunting car?

EVEN UP.

St. Louis Team Wins Saturday's Game.
 Like many others of the "best laid plans of mice and men" the result of the baseball game on Saturday afternoon last proved that it was the unexpected which happened, the expected victors, the Stars, being defeated in a very evenly contested game, by a score of 9 to 4. This victory by the St. Louis team places them on even terms with the victors of previous games and the Stars, Regiment and St. Louis are even up in victories and defeats having each obtained one of both.
 The game led off well, the St. Louis winning the toss and sending their opponents to the bat. The Stars made a cypher in their innings but the St. Louis piled up 4 runs before going out. Hart made Simeron weary by sending him out on three strikes and retiring the side. When the Stars came to the bat in the second the air of determination to do something towards scoring, seemed to have an effect upon the St. Louis backers, but not on the St. Louis players, the latter retiring their opponents with the second goose egg, the playing of Thompson Wood and Willis being the cause. For the St. Louis, Dayton hit short passed first but turned the wrong way and Mahuka touched him out. The field umpire decided Dayton was "safe" and a 6-minute "kick" ensued before play went on. Thompson, Gleason and Willis went out and Dayton died on third. The first record for the Stars was made in the 3rd, an unearned run by Koki and that 1 was followed in the next innings by a 2 made by Mahuka and Lishman and a 1 in the next made by Hart. In the meantime the Stars had been dealing out goose eggs to the St. Louis players and try as they might the home base was a terra incognita to any of the St. Louis team until the last half of the 8th when by culpable errors made by Star players they managed to pile up five runs. In the last innings of the Stars, Wilder got first on a muff by Lemon, Hart went out on a fly to Hansmann and Lishman struck out, Wilder being left at third, the St. Louis thus winning the game by a score of 9 to 4.
 For the St. Louis it must be said that they kept their heads better than the Stars; plays by Thompson, Lemon, Gleason and good catches by Dayton were noticeable. The Stars lost opportunities, notwithstanding good plays by Wilder, Mahuka and Ross the fates seemed against them, for the team played ball from the second to the seventh and Ross' long hit to right, the ball bounding on the inch edge of the top of the fence and coming back in field, almost giving a home run. Following is the score and time by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
S. Louis	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	5	*-9
Time	..15	12	10	14	9	10	11	16	3
Total time of game,	1 hour 45 minutes.

FIELD NOTES.
 And the "fluke" occurred. Lots of beauty but little of booty, last Saturday.
 The grandstand occupants talked loud, with their feet, at many of the plays.
 It is the "St. Louis," not the St. Louis "College" club.
 Geo. Angus was forced to scorer's position and held the place satisfactorily during the entire game.
 Instead of "sbsdes of twilight," the sun was brightly shining at the end of Saturday's game. No wonder the Stars were eclipsed.
 The quickest played game, so far, this season; a good record.
 A regular paid, official scorer, is very much needed. A Star man is suggested.
 Mahuka is expert on first, at the bat and as a base-kleptomaniac.
 Dayton threw poorly his wrist was lame; Cunha threw poorly an ankle was lame; Hart threw poorly his head was lame.
 The St. Louis team grew strong on goose eggs.

Even the score kids hardly knew where to place that "5" in the eighth. Say, the St. Louis "didn't do a thing" to the Stars in the eight. Oh! where was Wilder then?
 The patrons were well satisfied to see the veteran Whitney umpiring behind the bat and George Lucas in the field. This is as it should be.
 None of the Regiment team was present, unless in disguise. A signal man flagged news of each innings to the Barracks, via the Punchbowl route.
 Field Umpire Lucas' ruling that Dayton was on first (in 2nd inning) was correct, if he ruled so; if not he should have done so. It took longer to settle that question than to put the side out.
 The enthusiasm in the feet of the St. Louis contingent shook the dirt stuffing out of the ceiling over the newspaper "den" and the scribes got most of it "in the neck." A police patrol, in front, kept the caged victims quiet.
 The new coach of the St. Louis team (Henry Vierra) made music (chir) in the air off third. His clothes did not fit well but he was not posing as a grand-stand player.
 Some Star lovers say 'twas Cunha, others say Hart and Lishman, and others again say Koki, but Jimmy Thompson says he is "dead sure" that 'twas the St. Louis "did it."
 Next Saturday's game, between the First Regiment and the Star teams, is already being talked over and there is every prospect of the attendance being large in number. The Regiment coaches are to practice with gags for the game but McNichol will read up "Wit and Humor of the Diamond."

BASEBALL NOTE.
 The Board of Managers of the Association in response to newspaper protest and in the interests of the general public has caused the following (unsigned) notice, which is a Professional regulation, to be publicly displayed:
 "No person shall be allowed upon any part of the field during the progress of a game in addition to the players in uniform, the Manager on each side and the Umpires except such officers of the law as may be present in uniform and such officials of the home club as may be necessary to preserve the peace."
Cricket
 Owing to the accident of an officer failing to sign the men's passes, the match between the Philadelphias and Honolulu arranged for last Saturday was not played, as the men from the ship could not present themselves on the ground although willing to do so. A scratch game was played between Herbert's and Mackintosh's teams which was won by the former with a score of 72 to 51, out of which Herbert made 26 and Lishman 24.
Sharkey Will Defeat Maher.
 "There can be no doubt," says a prominent sportsman, "that Sharkey will defeat Maher when they meet at the end of this month." If this prophecy comes out correct the Sailor's victory can be attributed to the fact that he "rubs" his inner man down with the fine brand of O. P. S. whiskey now imported here by J. H. Lovejoy & Co., and cools off on pure Seattle beer, which wholesome beverages are now being served at the Anchor Saloon.

W. W. DIMOND'S
UTENSILS
 We have talked stoves successfully for two weeks and some people have the impression that we have abandoned other lines. We haven't. Our business is growing every day, beats anything we ever anticipated.
 There are no genuine department stores in Honolulu, but ours approaches the ideal so closely that there is but a shade between them. When you have bought a DETROIT JEWEL STOVE from us you take but a step to the agate ware department and select the utensils necessary.

CROCKERY
 Another step and you find the greatest array of crockery, glassware and china ever shown in this country. The prices, too, are below anything ever offered. The customer has every advantage in quality of goods and prices in this as in the department where you find every variety of cutlery for the table and silverware in serviceable pieces.
 Besides these articles we display an unusually large assortment of novelties for the kitchen.

at home and in Washington." [This should be borne in mind on account of denials, quoted later.] "It is also true that the people of Hawaii are competent to work out their own destiny * * * the United States have been unnecessarily alarmed through the designing reports of their naval and diplomatic representatives. The naval commanders and the present minister resident have lent themselves to and encouraged the machinations of that small but waning clique of men known as the missionary reform party. [The correspondent underrated the "missionary reform party," as subsequent events show.] This clique, in their desperate struggle for power, conceived the revolution of 1887, and have been the cause of all the turmoil ever since. United States Minister Stevens has made himself most cordially disliked by his open partisanship with the missionary reform party.

MADE NO TROUBLE.

All accounts agree that Queen Liliuokalani and her adherents did not make even a demonstration of forcible resistance when their government was overwhelmed and their lives threatened by the usurper. "The new government then called for volunteers who assembled, armed, to the number of 500. The old government surrendered without striking a blow, although it had 400 men under arms and a battery of Gatling guns. * * * Representative White then proceeded to the steps of the palace and began an address. He told the crowd that the Queen and cabinet had betrayed them and instead of going home peaceably they should go to the palace and kill and bury her." (Dispatch to New York Press, Jan. 29, 1893.) In the face of this admitted fact the American Minister to the court of Hawaii, the envoy from President Harrison to Queen Liliuokalani, one as rightfully a Queen as the other a president under the organic law, becomes actively partisan with the insurgents and insults both the government he was sent to respect and the government he so misrepresented. In direct violation of the usage of the department of which he was a sworn officer, at the risk of involving his home government in dire diplomatic entanglement and his native land in war and bloodshed, he counseled and connived with the ring-leaders of the revolt and prostituted the power of his position by landing an armed force of United States marines, under the pretext of protecting American interests which were not threatened. * * * About five o'clock in the afternoon the United steamship Boston landed about 300 men. Each man had two belts of cartridges around his waist, and was armed with a rifle. * * * The marines were detached and sent to the American Legation on Nuuanu avenue, while the sailors marched out along Merchant street with two Gatling guns. * * * (New York Press, Jan. 29, 1893.) Three hundred armed United States sailors with two Gatling guns to protect what American interests? Or to assist the already assembled 500 armed rebels in intimidating the 400 soldiers of the national army? "Upon receiving incontrovertible proof that His Excellency, the Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States, aided and abetted their unlawful movements and caused United States troops to be landed for that purpose, I submitted to force, believing he would not have acted in that manner unless by authority of the government he represents. This action on my part was prompted by three reasons—the futility of a conflict with the United States; the desire to avoid violence, bloodshed and the destruction of life and property, and the certainty which I feel that you and your government will right whatever wrongs have been inflicted upon us in the premises. * * * (Queen Liliuokalani's protest to Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, New York Herald, Feb. 18, 1893.) The Queen's confidence was misplaced. Was it to protect American interests that Minister Stevens raised and maintained, until removed by Commissioner Blount, under orders from President Cleveland, the flag of the Republic of the United States on the national property of the Kingdom of Hawaii? No, it was in furtherance of a deep laid scheme that had for many years been fulminating. (To be continued.)
