President's Cabinet.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—

The President this morning announced his new Cabinet as follows:
W. H. Moody of Massachusetts, former Secretary of the Navy, to be Attorney General, vice Knox, resigned.

Paul Morton of Chicago, Secretary of the Navy.

Congressman V. H. Metcalf of Oakland, California, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, vice Cortel-you, resigned.

It is expected that Mr. Cortelyou will be appointed Postmaster General in place of Payne when the campaign is closed.

Honolulu, June 28.—The trial of Brown vs. Spreckels over the ownership of the Hilo waterfront was tried for three days, and after remaining out a number of hours the jury returned not being able to agree. The case goes over to September. Under Judge Gear's rulings the Spreckels are entitled to remain in possession until a better title be shown.

SHORT CABLEGRAMS.

War Cablegrams.

Liaoyang, June 22.—Gen. Kuroki's advance is being warmly contested by Gen. Kuropatkin's outposts. Kuroki's movements betray a tendency to join Oku. Heavy rains are prevailing.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—A battle is expected soon. Large forces are hurrying south from Liaoyang to prevent the junction of Kuroki and Oku.

Chefoo, June 22.—It is reported that two Russian destroyers have been sunk at Port Arthur by mines with a loss of 140 men.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The Japanese army under Gen. Oku is advancing northward from Kaichou.
Gen. Kuroki's advance is suspended, evidently for the purpose of effecting an alignment of the two Japanese armies.

St. Petersburg, Russia, June 24.
—It is not expected that General Kuropatkin will oppose the union of the Japanese armies along his fighting front.

Mukden, June 24.—The Japanese have occupied Kaichou. A decisive battle will take place soon between the united armies of Kuroki and Oku and the Russians under Kuropatkin.

Tokio, June 24.—Admiral Togo reports a battle at Port Arthur in which the Russian battleship Per-seiev was sunk, and the battleship Sevastopol and the cruiser Diana damaged. The Japanese fleet came out of the action practically unharmed.

Tokio, June 25.—Four thousand Russians attacked Aiyangpieman and were repulsed. The Japanese suffered slight loss.

St. Petersburg, June 24.—The Japanese vanguard has occupied a line four miles north of Senuchen, extending to the seashore and the mountains. They are building fortifications near Kapai pass.
Skirmishes are going on constantly.

Liaoyang, June 25.—The armies of Kuroki and Oku confront Kuro-patkin in huge force. The tension is acute and the approach of an important battle is rendered unavoidable by the proximity of the rainy season.

Liaoyang, June 26.—General Oku's army is withdrawing. The original intention of General Oku to join his army with that of General Kuroki has apparently been abandoned. There are reports of indecisive skirmishes taking place constantly.

Tatshiekiao, China, June 27.—
The Russian forces are assuming the offensive against General Oku's army. It is reported that General Kurecki is moving on Haicheng.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—The Japanese have evacuated Senuchen with the possible object of enticing Kuropatkin's army south, where it may be attacked to better advantage.

Domestic.

New York, June 21.—One hundred and twelve bodies were recovered yesterday from the wreck of the General Slocum. The total recovered is 845 with 300 missing.

Honolulu, June 23.—A. S.
Humphreys and Frank E. Thompson were readmitted to the practice of law by the Supreme Court this morning. The order of disbarment against Mr. Humphreys and of suspension for one year against Thompson were both revoked.

Philadelphia, June 28.—The Baldwin locomotive works are discharging ten thousand workmen.
The railway business is declining.

The Hilo Tribune.

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1904.

Entered at the Postoffice at Hilo, Hawaii, as second-class matter.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

J. CASTLE RIDGWAY - Editor D. W. MARSH - Business Manager.

THE EDITOR'S UPS AND DOWNS.

Again must we hang our heads in deep humiliation. Editor Guff chides us for our tardiness in answering his witty "write up" of Hilo in the Sunday Advertiser a few weeks ago, and we fain would hide our shame for our remission of duty in not roasting the corpulent scribe sooner than we did.

But an explanation is necessary for our delay, which was for no other reason than that nobody in Hilo subscribes for the Calamitiser, save one lone Oriental on an adjacent plantation. He was innocently misled into the investment of his savings for a re-hash of war news and the prospect of securing a prize of his weight in gold.

SOME Honolulu people appear to believe Territorial progress is promoted by knocking Hilo or any other outside district that comes handy.

Republicans Elect Officers.

At the meeting of the Fourth Precinct Club, held in Fireman's Hall, last Friday night, there was the utmost harmony. The meeting was called to order by President Ridgway promptly at 7:30 o'clock and without further ado, the nominations were balloted upon.

In Waiakea, there was a good attendance at Christian Science Hall, last Friday evening to vote upon club officers for the ensuing year.

Tournament Begins.

Today the open tournament for the championship of the island begins on the courts of the Hilo Tennis Club.

A series of games in the gentlemen's singles and doubles have been arranged for today, beginning at 10 o'clock and continuing all day.

Hawaii Tobacco a Success.

Frank E. Conter, the Government expert in charge of the tobacco experiment on the Louissou Bros. plantation at Paaloa, leaves today for Honolulu, having finished his investigations.

Isn't your old machine run hard? If it does see Moses & Raymond about it.

SCHEDULE FOR SEASON.

Baseball Magnates Meet and Classify Teams.

According to the program mapped out by the executive committee of the local league of clubs, there is promise of good ball playing in the future.

Already two of the games have been played. The game between the Hilo Railroad boys, or "Black Diamonds" and Beamer Specials last Sunday was highly satisfactory.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, a game is scheduled between Ponoahawai and Mooheau at Hoolulu Park, two well matched teams of the junior league.

A. G. M. Robertson was chosen Republican National Committeeman for Hawaii, Delegate Kuhio casting the deciding vote.

The party platform was adopted. It states protection as the cardinal policy of the party, with reciprocity that shall not injure American products. It advocates that capital and labor are entitled to equal rights.

The Blazed Trail

CHAPTER XIII.

He arrived out of breath at a typical little mill town consisting of the usual unpainted houses, the saloons, mill, office and general store. To the latter he addressed himself for information.

The proprietor, still sleepy, was mopping out the place.

"Does that boat stop here?" shouted Thorpe across the suds.

"Sometimes," replied the man somnolently.

"Not always?"

"Only when there's freight for her."

"Doesn't she stop for passengers?"

"Nope."

"How does she know when there's freight?"

"Oh, they signal her from the mill."

But Thorpe was gone.

At the mill Thorpe dove for the engine room. He knew that elsewhere the clang of machinery and the hurry of business would leave scant attention for him; and, besides, from the engine room the signals would be given. He found, as is often the case in north country sawmills, a Scotchman in charge.

"Does the boat stop here this morning?" he inquired.

"Weel," replied the engineer, with fearful deliberation. "I canna say. But I hae received na orders to that effect."

"Can't you whistle her in for me?" asked Thorpe.

"I canna," answered the engineer, promptly enough this time.

"Why not?"

"Ye're na what a body might call freight."

"No other way out of it?"

"Na."

Thorpe was seized with an idea.

"Here!" he cried. "See that bowlder over there? I want to ship that to Mackinaw City by freight on this boat."

The Scotchman's eyes twinkled appreciatively.

"I'm dootin' ye hae th' freight on from the office," he objected simply.

"See here," replied Thorpe. "I've got to get that boat. It's worth $20 to me, and I'll square it with the captain. There's your twenty."

The Scotchman deliberated, looking astant at the ground and thoughtfully oiling a cylinder with a greasy rag.

"It'll na be a matter of life and death?" he asked hopefully. "She aye stops for life and death."

"No," replied Thorpe re-entantly. Then, with an explosion: "Yes, by heaven, it is! If I don't make that boat I'll kill you!"

The Scotchman chuckled and pocketed the money.

"I'm dootin' that's in order," he replied. "I'll be no party to any such proceedin's. I'm goin' noo for a fresh pair of watter," he remarked, pausing at the door, "but as a wee item of information yander's th' wheastie rope, and a mon wheasties one short and one long for th' boat."

He disappeared. Thorpe seized the cord and gave the signal. Then he ran hastily to the end of the long lumber docks and peered with great eagerness in the direction of the black smoke.

The steamer was as yet concealed behind a low spit of land which ran out from the west to form one side of the harbor. In a moment, however, her bows appeared, headed directly down toward the strait of Mackinaw. When opposite the little bay, with a grand, free sweep she turned and headed directly for him.

He negotiated briefly with the captain, paid $20 more for speed and the privilege of landing at Mackinaw City. Then he slept for eight hours on end and was awakened in time to drop into a small boat, which deposited him on the broad sand beach of the lower peninsula.

The train was just leisurely making up for departure. Thorpe, dressed as he was in old "pepper and salt" garments patched with buckskin, his hat a flopping travesty on headgear, his moccasins worn and dirty, his face bearded and bronzed, tried as much as possible to avoid attention. He sent an instant telegram to Wallace Carpenter conceived as follows:

Wire thirty thousand my order care land office, Detroit, before 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Do it if you have to rustle all night. Important.

Then he took a seat in the baggage car on a pile of boxes and philosophically waited for the train to start. He knew that sooner or later the man provided he were on the train, would stroll through the car, and he wanted to be out of the way. The baggage man proved friendly, so Thorpe chatted with him till after bedtime. Then he entered the smoking car and waited patiently for morning.

At the last thought Thorpe decided to send a second message from the next station. He did so. It read:

Another buyer of timber on same train with me. Must have money at 9 o'clock or lose land.

He paid day rates on it to insure immediate delivery. Suppose the boy should be away from home!

Everything depended on Wallace Carpenter, and Thorpe could not but confess the chance slender. One other thought made the night seem long. Thorpe had but $30 left.

Morning came at last, and the train drew in and stopped. Thorpe, being in the smoking car, dropped off first and stationed himself near the exit where he could look over the passengers without being seen. They filed past. To two only he could accord the role of master lumbermen, and in these two Thorpe recognized Daly and Morrison themselves. They passed within ten feet of him, talking earnestly together. At the curb they hailed a cab and drove away. Thorpe with satisfaction heard them call the name of a hotel.

It was still two hours before the land office would be open.

Thorpe repaired at once to a boarding house off Fort street, where he had "outfitted" three months before. There he reclaimed his valise, shaved, clothed himself in linen and cheviot once more and sauntered slowly to the land office to await its opening.

At 9 o'clock neither of the partners had appeared. Thorpe entered the office and approached the desk.

"Is there a telegram here for Harry Thorpe?" he inquired.

The clerk to whom he addressed himself merely motioned with his head toward a young fellow behind the railing in a corner. The latter shifted comfortably and replied "No."

At the same instant steps were heard in the corridor, the door opened, and

"I'm goin' noo for a fresh pair of watter."

Mr. Morrison appeared on the sill. Then Thorpe showed the stuff of which he was made.

"Is this the desk for buying government lands?" he asked hurriedly.

"Yes," replied the clerk.

"I have some descriptions I wish to buy in."

"Very well," replied the clerk. "What township?"

Thorpe detailed the figures, which he knew by heart. The clerk took from a cabinet the three books containing them and spread them out on the counter. At this moment the bland voice of Mr. Morrison made itself heard at Thorpe's elbow.

"Good morning, Mr. Smithers," it said with the deliberation of the conscientious great man. "I have a few descriptions I would like to buy in the northern peninsula."

"Good morning, Mr. Morrison. Archie here, will attend to you. Archie, see what Mr. Morrison wishes."

The lumberman and the other clerks consulted in a low voice, after which the official turned to fumble among the records. Not finding what he wanted, he approached Smithers. A white pencil consultation ensued between those two. Then Smithers called:

"Take a seat, Mr. Morrison. This gentleman is looking over these townships and will have finished in a few moments."

Morrison's eye suddenly became uneasy.

"I am somewhat busy this morning," he objected, with a shade of command in his voice.

"If this gentleman"—suggested the clerk delicately.

"I am sorry," put in Thorpe, with brevity. "My time, too, is valuable."

Morrison looked at him sharply.

"My deal is a big one," he snapped. "I can probably arrange with this gentleman to let him have his farm."

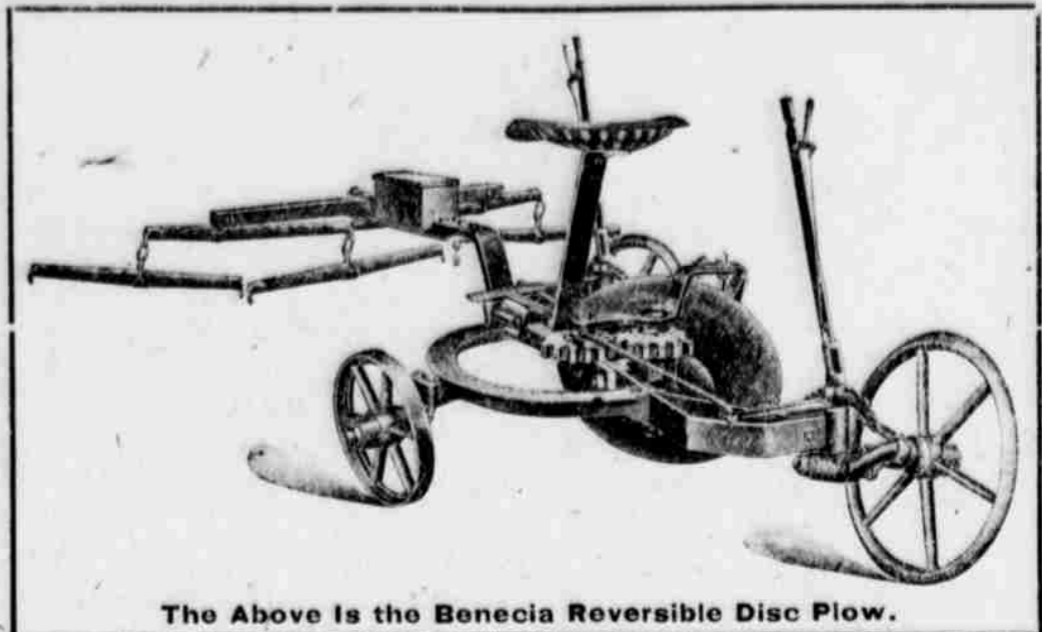

"I claim precedence," replied Thorpe calmly.

"Well," said Morrison, swift as light. "I'll tell you, Smithers. I'll leave my list of descriptions and a check with you. Give me a receipt and mark my hands off after you've finished with this gentleman."

Now, government and state lands are the property of the man who pays for them. Although the clerk's receipt might not give Morrison a valid claim, nevertheless it would afford basis for a lawsuit. Thorpe saw the trap and interposed.

"Hold on," he interrupted. "I claim precedence. You can give no receipt for any land in these townships until after my business is transacted. I have reason to believe that this gentleman and myself are both after the same descriptions."

AMERICA.

How the National Anthem Came to be Written by Samuel F. Smith.

Rev. Samuel Francis Smith has told in the Outlook what influenced him in writing "America."

William C. Woodbridge, a distinguished educator, visited Germany in 1831 to study the common schools. He noted that much attention was given to children's music and brought home many German books of music. He gave them to Lowell Mason of Boston, who was also interested in songs for children. Mr. Smith says:

"I was a student in the Theological seminary at Andover. One day Mr. Mason brought me the whole mass of his books, some bound and in pamphlet form, and said in his simple and childlike way: 'Mr. Woodbridge has brought me these books. I don't know what is in them. I can't read German, but you can. If you fall in with anything I can use, any hymns or songs for children, I wish you would translate them into English poetry or compose hymns or songs of your own of the same meter and accent as the German, so that I can use them.'

"I accepted the trust, not unwillingly, as an agreeable recreation from graver studies, and from time to time gave him the results of my efforts. Thus he was furnished with several hymns for the 'Spiritual Songs,' which he was issuing in numbers; also for the 'Juvenile Lyre,' the first book of children's music ever published in this country, in which most of the songs were my own translations from Naegeli and other German composers.

"One dismal day in February, 1832, about half an hour before sunset, I was turning over the leaves of one of the music books when my eyes rested on the tune which is now known as 'America.' I liked the spirit and movement of it, not knowing it, at that time, to be 'God Save the King.' I glanced at the German words and saw that they were patriotic and instantly felt the impulse to write a patriotic hymn of my own adapted to the tune. Picking up a scrap of waste paper which lay near me, I wrote at once, probably within half an hour, the hymn 'America' as it is known everywhere. The whole hymn stands today as it stood on the bit of waste paper, five or six inches long and two and a half wide."

Mr. Smith had no suspicion that he had in that short half hour made his name imperishable, says the Westminster Press. He gave the song soon afterward to Mr. Mason, with some others, and thought no more about it. On the Fourth of July of the same year Mr. Mason brought it out at a children's celebration in the Park Street church, Boston. From there it soon found its way into the public schools of that city, and then of other places, and into picnics and patriotic celebrations everywhere, and finally into the hymn books of the various denominations. The whole history of the hymn and its present position are summed up in a remark once made by the author himself, "The people took it into their hearts."

During his life Dr. Smith became familiar with no less than fifteen languages, and a visitor to him in his eighty-sixth year found him on the lookout for a suitable text book with which he might begin the study of the Russian language. For half a century his home was in Newton Center, Mass. Dr. Smith lived to be eighty-seven years of age, active and busy until the evening of Nov. 16, 1895, when he suddenly dropped dead while on a car.

Honolulu, June 23.—The revenue cutter Thetis arrived this morning after her cruise to Midway, Laysan and Lisiansky, visiting many lone islands on her voyage.

New York, June 23.—Much testimony has been given in the Slocum inquest to the effect that the life-preservers on board the ill-fated steamer were rotten. Nine hundred and seven bodies of the victims have been recovered.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Should be a Day of Celebration and Thanksgiving.

The main feature in the celebration of the nation's birthday should be the expression of its faith in the greatness of its destiny and the glory of its mission. The celebration of the festival should be thoughtful, dignified and beautiful; but, above all else, it should be jubilant and enthusiastic.

It is to be regretted that dignified, appropriate, instructive and attractive public celebrations of the day are not the general rule in every city, town and hamlet. In every community there should be a formal celebration sufficiently spectacular, musical and oratorical to be both popular and inspiring, but we are not to undervalue the crudest forms in which the patriotic enthusiasm of the rising generation finds vent. It means much that to the children the Fourth of July is the most jubilant of holidays.

On this day enthusiasm is the best education. Those forms of expression of patriotic sentiment which are the most pleasing to the masses and most captivating to youth are the best, because they are the most effective. The ideal Fourth of July celebration in Maine or Manila, in Alabama or Alaska, in Ohio or Oregon, in Porto Rico or Pennsylvania, in New York or Hawaii, will interest the school children, will set them marching and singing and waving the star spangled banner, will enrich their minds with picturesque memories and kindle their imaginations and fire their hearts with visions of the peerless glory and destiny of the American people. On this day let the skeptic become a shouting believer and the pessimist an optimist.

Our national anniversary should be a festival of faith and thanksgiving. —Leslie's Weekly.

Notley Will Case.

Honolulu, June 25.—In the controversy over the will of Charles Notley, deceased, contestants here filed a second motion for rehearing upon their bill of exceptions and upon the opinion rendered by the Supreme Court denying the first motion.

The Supreme Court handed down a decision, Justice Galbraith dissenting, denying a motion for rehearing.

The court stated that "a rehearing should not be granted merely in order that the entire case may be presented again as at the first hearing in the hope that the court may be induced to come to a different conclusion."

The court originally decided that there had been no direct evidence shown of undue influence, but that uncontradicted evidence had shown the deceased to have been a man of strong mind accustomed to gain his point with the one charged with exercising the undue influence when differences had arisen between them.

For grounds for rehearing it is alleged that contestants were led to believe that the ruling of the trial judge directing a verdict by the jury, was based upon the proposition that where a will was sought to be set aside on the ground of undue influence and the proofs of influence are circumstantial that the evidence must be clear and convincing or the court will be justified in refusing to allow the case to go to the jury; now that the Supreme Court has disclaimed any such intention by the language used in its original opinion, counsel, desire to be heard on the finding of the court made on contestants' first motion for rehearing that there was no evidence of a general controlling influence by Emma Danford over decedent.

NOT BIGAMY.

A Marriage in Japan is Invalid in This Country.

District Magistrate Hapai rendered an important decision last week in which he held that a Japanese marriage improved is not valid in Hawaii. Nakaji Umi, a Japanese woman was married according to the laws of Japan, rearing a family of children. After living with her first husband a space, she remarried in Hawaii in accordance with the laws of Hawaii. Her first husband brought the charge of bigamy and Judge Hapai decided that the evidence of witnesses present at the marriage feast, was not proof of the wedding ceremony, and although the parties may subsequently have lived in wedlock a second marriage in Hawaii was not bigamous. The woman was discharged.

NEARLY THIRTY-SIX THOUSAND

Far Reaching Public Works Improvements Authorized.

The newly appointed members of the Hilo Road Board had their first meeting Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the office of Road Engineer Gens. The new Board consists of John T. Moir, chairman, Geo. Ross and C. E. Wright, members. Mr. E. E. Richards has been retained as agent and the custodian of the funds. Matters of road and bridge improvements were discussed, and authorizations made for the expenditure of $55,000 in Hilo and vicinity, besides general repairs which average $1,000 a month. Much of the work has already been commenced and that for which provision has been made, will be begun without delay. $700 has been expended on Riverside Park bridge, which has been gradually falling to decay. Contractor Carter has put in new flooring for the roadway and a new coat of paint gives the structure a more presentable appearance. Two new wooden bridges have been provided for, one costing $2,000 at Kaieie and another costing $2,500 at Waiaama. Both bridges are in the vicinity of Pakaikou and are well known wrecks along this well traveled thoroughfare. Two new culverts are authorized, one at Makes gulch near Pepeeoke costing $3500 and another at Paepaekia, near Pakaikou at a cost of $1200.

The homesteaders in Kapaemahu are to have their wish gratified, and $10,000 will be expended under the direction of the Road Board for the Kaunama homestead road, including the Macfarlane cross-road. One of the most important authorizations is $16,000 for the new Hilo jail. This is one of the items under the loan bill and the necessity for which has been apparent for some time. The location has not been determined upon, but as Supt. Holloway is understood to be opposed to a change of site, the new jail will probably be built in the corner of the present grounds. It will be constructed of stone and masonry and super-seed the ugly structure now occupying the jail premises.

CAUGHT IN TRAP.

Details of Frightful Disaster to Excursion Steamer General Slocum.

New York, June 15.—More than 700 lives were lost when the steamer General Slocum, loaded with an excursion party of about 1500 persons from the St. Mark's Lutheran church, took fire in Hell Gate this morning and was sunk near North Brother island. Most of the victims were women and children. Captain Van Schaick of the General Slocum and five of the crew have been arrested.

It was a spectacle of horror beyond words to express, the great vessel sweeping forward in the sunlight in flames, within sight of the crowded city, while helpless screaming hundreds were roasting alive or swallowed up in the waves, crazed mothers casting babies overboard. Many of the survivors are practically insane.

In a compartment in the hold of the Slocum, forward and just aft of the forecabin was a room where the lamps and oil were kept. From that cabin the fire swept back through the boat with a fierceness that no fire-fighting apparatus could check. In the fifteen minutes that elapsed from the discovery of the fire until the Gen. Slocum was burned to the water's edge, there was a holocaust of the helpless.

The Slocum had been chartered to take the excursionists to Locust Grove on Long Island Sound. There were between 1500 and 2000 persons aboard. At the extreme eastern end of Randall's Island the Slocum took fire, and the wood-work being seasoned, she was soon a mass of flames. The life-preservers were too securely fastened to be available and stories are told of frantic efforts by strong men to cut them loose, but even if they could have been torn down, they were too high for the children to reach.

The race to North Brother Island was horribly dramatic. It was made while the flames, fanned into fury by a strong head wind, were consuming hundreds of persons. The after rail gave way and the passengers were pushed into the river. Little children holding each other jumped in and were so found in the cold clasp of death. The vessel became choked with consuming victims and hundreds fell into the furnace-like hold when the hurricane deck caved in.

Oceanic Takes Mail at Loss.

June 24.—The agents of the Oceanic Steamship Company at Sydney are having a dispute with the Postal Department of Australia over payments for carrying Australian mail for a period dating back to 1900. The government claims to have paid the Oceanic Company £3920 pounds sterling too much and the company claims that about £17,000 pounds sterling, or about $85,000, is still due the Oceanic Company from the government. In a letter to the Sydney Morning Herald the agents complain of the smallness of the subsidy and the injustice of the claim against the Oceanic Company and in conclusion, say: "We have been definitely instructed by the company to ask the department to relieve them of the duty of carrying mails unless the authorities can see their way to pay a moderate remuneration. This request does not seem unreasonable when we add that the present service is the quickest and most frequent ever run to San Francisco from Australia, and has, since its opening in 1900 to the present, been worked at a loss in spite of the subsidies paid by the United States and New Zealand."

Tangier, June 22.—Pericardis and Varley, the Americans seized by brigands and held for ransom, will be released today.

Honokaa and Hamakua.

Hamakua is badly in need of rain. Water is getting scarce, compelling some to haul water from the gulches. The citizens of Hamakua are looking forward to the time when we will get our water supply from the Hamakua Ditch Co., and hope it may materialize sooner than the Hilo-Kohola Railroad, which we have been anxiously watching for.

There was an election of Officers in our Ninth Precinct Club. The following officers were duly elected; President, M. V. Holmes; Vice—President, J. Gibb; Second Vice—President, C. B. Grey; Secretary, A. B. Lindsay; Assistant Secretary, J. Payne; Treasures, J. Pritchard; Executive Committee, J. Kaiula; J. Mekapuna; John Jesus; C. B. Grey, Sam Kamai, Judges of Election, C. B. Grey; J. Payne, Tom Rickard.

There has been quite an epidemic of accidents lately. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson of Paauhau were returning home from church when their horse took fright and both were thrown from the buggy. Mrs. Wilson was badly bruised, being dragged quite a distance; Mr. Wilson escaped injury.

Fugi, the tailor of Kukuihaele, was thrown from his horse and badly bruised about the head, losing three teeth knocked out, tongue split and two beautiful black eyes.

J. Pritchard got bucked from his pet horse and landed on his ear in the road. The result was a stitched lip and the loss of his mustache. The boys, out of sympathy for Pritchard's misfortune, had clean shaves also. They cannot deny their nativity now the map of "Ould Ireland" shows plainly in some, while G. Kaiser shows he hailed from the "faderland;" but H. S. Overend takes the prize for a dislocated physiognomy.

Pritchard says he appreciates their kindness, but his face pains him when he laughs at all the beautiful mugs as they line up.

Alex. Raymond of Moses & Raymond has been in the district for the last ten days. He has done a good business in his line and we hope to see him soon again.

The Managers from Paauhau, Honokaa and Kukuihaele Plantations have been subpoenaed to Honolulu in connection with the Parker Ranch controversy. The lands are leased to Paauhau Plantation.

William Wagoner, the water expert and cave hunter, is a guest of J. Pritchard. He found some very rare specimens of Hawaiian curios last week.

Frank Cypriano and Elimena Garcia were married on the 25th inst. at 9 p. m. Frank is the obliging operator in the Telephone Office and his many friends wish the young couple all success and happiness.

Mr. M. V. Holmes is improving in health and we hope to soon see him hale and hearty again.

Mr. James Crozier, carpenter at Paauhau Plantation, met with a painful accident on the 24th inst. A nail that he was driving flew back and struck him in the eye, piercing the left eyeball. He was taken to the Hilo hospital, where Dr. Grace removed the eye and made the patient comfortable.

WIFE DOESN'T KNOW IT.

Hilote Travels From Hawaii to New York to Find a Little Girl.

New York, June 1.—Daniel Bidwell, an American who has made a fortune in sugar in Hawaii, arrived in New York to-day, having traveled more than 5,000 miles for the purpose of purchasing a girl baby in this city. Immediately upon his arrival here he inserted the following advertisement in a morning paper:

"One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will tell me where there is a healthy and attractive girl two or three years old that I can adopt; this child must have refined features, with no indication of foreign parentage. Address Mr. Bidwell, room 58, Cosmopolitan Hotel, or call any morning between 7 and 9."

Mr. Bidwell said to-day: "I left this country ten years ago to try my fortune in Hawaii. I made a very comfortable fortune in sugar and real estate, whereupon I married and settled down in Hilo. Though prosperity came to me readily I have had one bitter disappointment—no children blessed my marriage.

"Finding none that I would care to give my name and love to in Hawaii, I decided to come to New York and advertise. I told my wife that the object of my journey was business alone. I shall take the little one back to her as a surprise. I have been to all the orphan asylums and children's homes in the city, but have found no little girl that exactly suits my fancy. The baby that I adopt I shall make heir to my fortune."—S. F. Examiner.

For the Skin

You cannot have a clear and smooth skin unless the blood is pure. Eruptions, eruptions, rashes, pimples, all show how impure the blood is. Get all impurities out of your blood before you are seriously ill.

Miss Dorothy Maher, of Fitzroy, Victoria, Australia, writes for photograph and this letter: "I had a terrible eruption on my face, which was of a very irritating nature. I tried many blood-purifiers, but without relief. Friends told me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as it was a most famous blood-purifier. I did so, and after taking only two bottles I began to see a great change. By the time the third bottle was used the eruption had entirely disappeared, and without having a mark on my face. I am perfectly well now, and I owe it all to this great blood-purifying remedy."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's." Correct any tendency to constipation with Ayer's Pills. They are sugar-coated, easy to take, and in action. A family laxative. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.
