TO PROTECT HAWAII FOR ITS OWN SAKE

THE WAR DEPARTMENT ASKS THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR INFORMATION ON THE VALUE OF IMPROVEMENTS THROUGHOUT THE ISLANDS—FORMER GOVERNOR CARTER HAS THE TASK IN HAND ON BEHALF OF THE CHAMBER.

To show Congress that these islands should be fortified on account of their own actual worth as well as the fact that they are the most important outposts which the United States can have in case of war, is the matter which has just been taken up with the local Chamber of Commerce by Secretary of War Taft. Complete information, wherewith this matter may be laid before the House and Senate in a manner which will demand their consideration, has been asked, is now being prepared and will soon be ready to forward to Washington.

About a week ago President J. F. Morgan of the Chamber of Commerce received a letter from the War Department asking that it be furnished with a list which would show the value of the improvements in these islands of property other than real estate. The value of the plantations on Oahu is asked and also the value of the plantations on the other islands. The value of the buildings in this city and the value of the general improvements make another item on which the War department would like information.

The matter was placed in the hands of ex-Governor George R. Carter, by the Chamber of Commerce and the required information is being gathered as quickly as possible. At his request Tax Assessor C. T. Wilder is compiling information on the subject from the records of the tax office. This will be done as quickly as possible that the information may be transmitted to Washington at the earliest possible moment.

It is understood that the War Department has requested the information for several reasons, the most important being to show that the wealth of the Territory is in itself sufficient to demand that we have complete protection from the attack of any enemy. Another matter which may enter into the question is that of indemnity. In case Hawaii should be captured by a foreign power the war department will be able to show the enormous indemnity which could be demanded for its return.

TO PICK THE LUCKY ONES

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO DECIDE WHAT TEACHERS MAY GO ON TRANSPORT.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Education this afternoon at which there will be several important matters brought to the attention of the commissioners. One of these will be the appointment of a special committee to decide on the plans for the disposition of the McKinley Memorial funds which will be turned over for use in the New High school building.

Superintendent Babbitt will also suggest several methods for the selection of the teachers who are to go to the Coast on the July transport at reduced rates. There are only thirty to have the privilege, but nearly seventy teachers have applied for it, the names being as follows:

Jean Angus, Harriet Needham, Alice Steinhauser, Mrs. L. M. Walker, Marjory, Jennie Allen, Lena Whitford, Ena McGregor, Alice Walker, Mrs. J. N. Bell, Margaret Mossman, Marjorie Bell, Ida Ziegler, May Kluge, Mrs. Marshall, Mabel Ladd, Alice E. Mudge Juliet Taner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent, Mrs. J. B. Alexander, Mrs. Laura Searby, Mr. J. B. Alexander, Mrs. O. L. Holland, Mrs. Alex. Alice Greene, G. A. Mumford, Mrs. S. H. Douglas, J. E. Snow, Emma P. Foster, Ena S. Shaw, Maude Woods, Jane Winne, Nora Keawe, Bertha W. Stevens, H. K. ## COALING BIG FLEET

Reckoning only for the sixteen battleships and not considering other vessels that may accompany the big fleet to Honolulu and require coal here, the allotted seven days stop here, according to today's Associated Press cablegram, will mean coaling four battleships at one time in this harbor and coaling those four within two days and a little better.

Coaling four of the monsters at one time and doing it in less than two days will mean putting aboard between 2500 and 4000 tons of coal a day from the Naval and Alakea street wharves and barges alongside. It will mean that during the brief stay of the fleet here about 10,000 tons of coal will be fed the battleships. Two will moor at the Naval wharves and two at the Alakea street wharf.

VISITORS FROM MANILA.
Mr. Westcott, who has been in newspaper work at Manila for some time, and Captain Hunt, for five years past in the Philippine constabulary, called at The Star office this morning. Both gentlemen present an appearance of robustness which contradicts any imputation against the salubrity of the tropics. They are passengers by the transport Crook.

WORK IS PRESSING

MANY IMPORTANT MATTERS IN FEDERAL COURT ARE DELAYED
IN CONSEQUENCE.

There are several very important cases now pending before U. S. Judge Dole but which he will not be able to hand down opinions on for some little time on account of the great pressure of criminal work which is on at present. In speaking of the decisions which he has on hand in civil cases Judge Dole said:

"The first case in which I will be able to give a decision is that of the libel against the Manchuria by the owners of the tug Fearless. If I had a week in which I could work on this case I could complete it, but with the present rush of criminal work which is taking up so much time in court it seems impossible to get much time for anything else.

"The next case after the Manchuria libel will be that of the Chiua Mari, which will be followed by the dredger Pacific case. These matters I feel should have the first attention because there are many different interests involved in insurance claims and the like. I should like to get this work done at once, but cannot say just when I shall be able to do it."

STARTING WIRELESS

EXPERT LEAVES FOR KAHUKU TO INSTALL POLE FOR LONG DISTANCE
WORK.

Wireless Expert A. A. Isbell went to Kahuku this morning to take charge of the work of erecting there a 235-foot mast for the new long distance station. The surveys have been made and the three spars for the great mast are ready. The station will be ready, as far as the one mast is concerned before the end of next month and messages will be exchanged between this island and the battleships Maine and Alabama.

Before the big fleet is here the other mast will be up and instead of an aerial surface stretched from the one to the ground at a great distance, wires will be stretched from yards on each, between the two, and the system will be such that this station will be in a position to break all records in the Pacific.

CONCERT WILL BE POSTPONED

The delay in the departure of the Marama from Vancouver, owing to an accident to her pumps, discovered after the steamer had been a day out from that port, means disappointment to a number of persons who expected to hear Kubelik this week. Definite information as to the date of her departure on the second attempt will be received today as Manager Adams has called for advice. He does not believe she will be here before the fifth or sixth, but this will not interfere with the concert, it will merely delay it that many days. As soon as the information is received the announcement will be made. The tickets purchased for the concert that was to have been given on the second, or first, of May, will be good whenever the concert is given, three hours after the arrival of the Marama in Honolulu.

FLEET RECEPTION.
The chairmen of the different committees that will have charge of the entertainment of the fleet when they arrive, will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Acting Governor Mott-Smith's office to take up and decide on some important matters that have come up. The notice the other day that some of the ships will be here next month makes action necessary at once. The members of the reception and entertainment committees will meet on Wednesday morning in the office of the chairman, F. L. Waldron.

Raw Material To Make Brandy

DELEGATE KUHIO TO INTRODUCE A BILL IN CONGRESS TO EXTEND THE LIST OF PERMISSIBLE ARTICLES—THE PRESENT SOURCES
LEGALIZED ARE LIMITED IN NUMBER—THE NEW KONA
DISTILLERY PROMISES A PROFIT.

Among the matters which Delegate Kuhio will take up in the present session of Congress is one which should bring a new industry to the island. This is in connection with the distilling of brandies from Hawaiian fruits. Under the present laws brandy can only be distilled from certain fruits, of which pineapple is the only one that grows here to any great extent. Kuhio will introduce a bill during the present session which will allow the making of brandy from papayas, mangoes, bananas, guavas and ti-root.

At the present time pineapple brandy is practically unknown in the United States, the reports of the Internal Revenue office showing that last year there was only thirty-three gallons of a liquor produced in the entire country. This will probably be changed, however, with the report for 1938, as the Kona Vineyards Company will have its distillery in operation about May 1, and will turn out a considerable quantity. This will probably be in the form of liqueur. To make a straight brandy which would take a prominent place on the market would require its being aged for a considerable time, while the amount of sugar retained in a liqueur will make it smooth and still retain all the flavor of the fruit.

While on his recent trip to Kona Collector of Internal Revenue Walter F. Drake paid the new distillery a visit and believes that it will be a good paying proposition. The company has about 600 acres of good land near the distillery which it will rent to small farmers under an agreement to buy their product at a fixed price. This will give the company a certainty of obtaining the material which they require. Grapes and pineapples will be the two fruits used at present, though, when the amendment mentioned in the present law has been passed, other fruit will be used and ti root as well.

The still which has been erected has a capacity of 165 gallons and a surveyed capacity for about forty gallons of spirits per day in three boilings. It has been most ingeniously arranged so as to be worked at very small expense. The plant is located near the top of a gulch with fruit crushers at the top. Then come the six large fermenting tanks, each of 165 gallons capacity. Lower down is the still and below that are the barrels to receive the spirits.

By means of this arrangement the mash will be handled entirely by gravity, thus saving one large item of expense. The distillery is located on the old Todd place and the land around is extremely fertile for the use for which it is desired. There is a large pineapple cannery located only about three miles away, from which the waste from the pineapples can be obtained at a very reasonable rate, giving the distillery another source from which material can be drawn.

SOME HOPES YET OF YACHT RACE

ENSURE A CONTEST—HOPES FOR THAT THE SYMPATHY OF COAST
YACHTSMEN WILL BE AROUSED TO SOME PURPOSE—ONE EN-TRY FROM OUTSIDE WOULD ENSURE A CONTEST—HOPES FOR CHEERING NEWS BY FRIDAY NEXT.

W. H. McInerney, in talking this morning about the transpacific yacht race, stated that he still had hopes that the race would be held.

"Although the entries have been slow in coming in, I feel that when they close next Friday on the Coast, there will be enough for a race," Mr. McInerney said.

"I think that the financial panic on the Coast has had a great deal to do with the lack of entries, but every one on the Coast realizes that we have all worked very hard to have the Hawaii, and they will do a great deal to have at least two entries so that there will be a race.

"The Hawaii as she stands now represents a good deal of money, and it will be a very hard blow to get over, if the race is declared off. I have received a number of letters from the Coast regarding the race, and I am one that still thinks the race will be held as planned.

"Every one realizes that a yacht costs a good deal to get ready for a race, but there are plenty of rich yacht owners on the Coast who can afford to enter a yacht.

"I expect to hear by cable on Friday that entries have been received, and that the Hawaii will get away for the Coast as scheduled."

WHAT THE COMING OF THE FLEET MEANS

BY ADMIRAL R. OBLEY D. EVANS.

The greater interest of the United States today is in the Pacific. The coming of the fleet to this Coast has not only demonstrated to the world that we have sixteen battleships, which can be brought together for a long cruise at a moment's notice, but it has called the attention of the people of our own country to the fact that we have a Pacific Coast as well as an Atlantic Coast, and that it will be defended just as much as every inch of land around New York, and that our interests in the Pacific are today greater than in the Atlantic.

This is the short road to the countries of the Far East, where the greatest commercial development is to be. With development will come war, but it will be a commercial war, fought with brains and dollars, and not with ten-inch guns. It will be generated by such men as Harriman, and the part of the Navy is to be always ready. We do not plan, nor fight, commercial battles.

ADMIRAL ROBLEY D. EVANS

The coming of the fleet was most opportunely timed by the President, and its arrival in the Pacific has resulted in the present assurance of peace. Not that I ever believed that there was any actual danger of war. The people of both countries realized, too well, what a dreadful calamity such a war would have been.

If the Navy should ever be called upon to fight in the settlement of our interests in the Pacific, it would be to stop, with its guns, the commercial development for which the leaders of industry are battling with brains and dollars.

We accomplished much in the cause of peace in the Pacific, when we demonstrated that the efficiency of the fleet increased with each day of the cruise. When the fleet sailed through the Straits of Magellan into the Pacific, the ships were in better condition, and better prepared for action, than they were the day we sailed. That was proved by the target practice at Magdalena bay; and the records of that practice, which are most satisfactory, will show it.

OFFERED GOOD MEN

NOT TOUGHS AND CRIMINALS BUT ABLE-BODIED WORKMEN FROM BOWERY MISION.

Mr. Will J. Cooper, Hawaiian Star, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Dear Sir:—Our president, Dr. Louis Klopsch, has asked me to reply to your kind letter of March 24th.

Allow me in the first place to thank you for your interest in the matter, manifested in your desire to obtain the real facts of the case. The clippings from your Hawaiian newspapers, which you sent, would be amusing if the whole thing were not so pathetic. Our offer to the Governor was not to send toughs and criminals, but able-bodied workmen, and in case there was any demand from your territory we would be prepared to stand by that offer. As you state, however, the unfavorable sentiment prevailing in your midst is no doubt a simple prejudice against any body or anything that bears the name of the "Bowery."

Those, however, who have personally visited and examined the bread line, have no doubt at all about the fact that the great majority of the men are not tramps, vagrants, and near-dozes, but bona fide working men out of employment.

I am sending you by this mail a copy of the Christian Herald, under whose auspices this mission is run, in which you will find an account of a census that was carefully taken one evening recently. This census was taken in the presence of those who were present to see that the examination was a thorough and reliable one. You will see that out of the 1500 men present as many as 1174 were men able to work, but unable to find the opportunity.

Mr. Edmond Kelly, who is recognized as one of the very best authorities on the subject of vagrancy and whose recent book, entitled, "The Elimination of the Tramp," is the best contribution to the solution of the problem, visited the bread line on several occasions this last winter, and this is what he says in his preface:

"If any one will take the pains to scrutinize these men as he can while they file through the Bowery Mission for their midnight meal and recognize that more than one half of them are clearly self-respecting workmen without employment, he will feel that he has no right to a moment's rest so long as he remains a party to the indifference that fails to furnish work for these men."

With regard to your question as to whether the men we have sent into country districts have made good, this question of course is premature so far as this last winter is concerned as we have not had time to find out the proportion of men that have given satisfaction, but taking the figures we made three years ago, I can say that out of six hundred and odd men we sent out during January, February and March of 1905, not more than 20 or 30 men turned out unsatisfactorily. We make the most careful selection we can, but of course it is impossible for us to guarantee the character of the men. The Mission is visited every day by farmers and others who seek to find no difficulty in getting such men as they need, and I have no doubt that many of these men drift back to the city but I have no reliable statistics on that part of the subject.

After carefully reading your letter I am somewhat in doubt as to whether the class of men we have here is suitable for the kind of work you describe, and I would not like to undertake the responsibility of transporting them so far, at this experimental stage of the game but we all appreciate your kindness in so far ventilating the subject.

I feel that I may also ask you to do

ODD FELLOWS ANNIVERSARY

have been instituted to aid the onward efforts of humanity towards this happy result, not one occupies more important relations than that of the independent Order of Odd Fellows whose introduction into America from the old country took place more than 100 years ago but whose ultimate establishment did not occur until 1819 by one sainted Brother, Thomas Wildey, whose self-sacrificing unfinished toil was so wisely and successfully prosecuted by Jas. M. Ridgely to whose sacred memory a magnificent marble slab beautifies the city of Baltimore in Maryland.

Today is the 89th anniversary of our existence as an Order under the authority of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the United States, having in all these years exerted a salutary and beneficent influence upon mankind wherever the effects of the Order have been felt. To the end of a more widely diffused good, the Grand Sire with the co-operative assistance of the Grand Masters has in more recent years extended the field beyond the limits of our own country so that the standard of Oddfellowship has been lifted up in many foreign lands, including Excelsior Lodge, No. 1, of Honolulu, organized 62 years ago, in the then-called Sandwich Islands, the first lodge of the kind west of the Rocky mountains. Today we have the proud satisfaction of knowing that great good has been the result. Many thousands of people beyond the seas having been gathered beneath the folds of our banner of peace, and to worship at these altars upon which brightly burns the lambent flame whose purpose is to join all men into a purer and nobler life. From the report of 1906 of the Sovereign Grand Lodge we learn that in America alone there are over 15,000 subordinate lodges with a total membership, including the Sisters of the Rebekah Order, of 1,099,533, and a total revenue of over $15,000,000. Hand-in-hand with its numerical development, Oddfellowship has also grown in its benevolent operations, upwards of $115,000,000 having been spent for the relief of the sick and needy during the past 75 years.

Indeed wherever fearful epidemic has stalked the land and piled its merciless havoc among the sons and daughters of men; wherever conflagrations and earthquakes have spread their woes in the busy hearts of trade; wherever starvation and death have ravaged with ruthless hand men and women of toil—there Oddfellowship, with its yearly expenditure of over $5,000,000, has hastened as an angel of light to alleviate and comfort and bless.

In connection with these statistics, let it be permitted me to say in passing that among the uninitiated a too common error prevails in reference to the object of this splendid Order represented here this evening—in supposing it to be a mere beneficial society having for its single purpose the relief of its members in the struggles incident to human life. "Mutual relief, it is true, is a leading office in our affiliation. To visit the sick, to relieve the distressed, to bury the dead is the command of our laws and an imperative duty which Oddfellowship enjoins. But these, although its frequent and daily ministrations are but a tithe of the intrinsic virtue of our beloved order."

"Oddfellowship is founded upon that eternal principle which recognizing man as a constituent of one universal brotherhood teaches him that as he came from the hands of a common parent, he is bound to cherish and protect his fellow men. Under its comprehensive influences, all the nations of the earth may concentrate their energies for the good of the common race. Based upon certain truths which are alike axioms among all nations, tongues and creeds, its sacred tolerance presents a nucleus within its gentle influence gathers within its orbit, antagonistic natures, controls the elements of discord, stills the storm and soothes the spirit of passion, and directs in harmony man's united efforts to fraternize the world."

This, then, Brethren and Friends, is the first great principle of our Fellowship which we designate Fraternity—"A universal fraternity in the family of man. Our forefathers very wisely made this principle the corner-stone of our Temple and upon such a solid base the whole superstructure heavily rests and is destined to repose until time shall be no more."

Taught by this principle we all learn to pray and to worship Jehovah, not only as the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, but the God of all men. It is our best to remove the impression that, because a man is out of work and therefore in a condition of destitution, he is necessarily vicious, and because a man has been forced by circumstances into the Bowery, that he is therefore a dangerous character.

Any further information you may desire on the subject I shall be glad to supply, and if you think a special article would interest your readers I shall be very glad to send you one.

Again thanking you, believe me, yours very truly,

J. G. HALLIMOND, Superintendent.

HAWAII IS ASKED FOR ITS INFLUENCE

STRONG APPEAL BY CALIFORNIA PROMOTION COMMITTEE TO DELEGATION IN CONGRESS AND TO COMMERCIAL BODIES OF THE PACIFIC COAST AND ISLANDS OF THE PACIFIC FOR PROPER NAVAL PROTECTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Recognizing that there are now two "front doors" to the United States and that the Pacific entrance faces all the important overseas possessions of the nation, the California Promotion committee has invited the commercial bodies of Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines to co-operate with it in persuading congress that the Atlantic is not the only ocean needing proper naval protection.

A strong appeal has been addressed to the California delegation in congress and to the commercial bodies of Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Utah and Arizona and the overseas possessions giving reasons, commercial and strategic, why a strong fleet should be stationed on the western coast of the continent and be there always to protect vital interests of the country involved in the possession of the Philippines, Guam, the Samoan harbor and the vast coal and precious mineral resources of Alaska, as well as the home ports from the sound to San Diego.

As a result Senator George C. Perkins, on the authority of Admiral Pillsbury, informs the committee that eleven armored and protected cruisers will remain in the Pacific, while eighteen battleships will return to the Atlantic when the maneuvers of the visiting fleet are finished. In reply the California Promotion committee has urged that 12 first class battleships and eight armored cruisers should be permanently assigned to the Pacific station.

Jacob, but the Eternal One in whom we all live and move and have our being. Taught also by this principle, we come to regard each other whether rich or poor, great or small, black or white, alike the offspring of our common parent—the masterpiece of his handiwork and reflecting in our nature the image of His after whose likeness we were all created.

We are therefore brothers and in all our intercourse must illustrate the truthfulness of such a profession by reciprocal relief and kindly offices to one another in the day of trial.

The charge sometimes made that Oddfellowship is anti-Christian is utterly false. While every lodge is consecrated to its holy offices in the name of God and every session opened and closed with appeals to the Holy name, while this sacred volume is always found within our walls and duly and reverently read and studied, we can afford to treat such a charge as a misapprehension of the ignorant or a foul slander of the malicious.

Oddfellowship is not a religion. She leaves the great question of the soul's destiny to be settled between a man and his God. All she demands of her members is that they shall adore the Eternal Jehovah, love the brotherhood, visit the widow and fatherless and keep himself unspotted from the world. Our doors are only closed against the infidel and the libertine. Oddfellowship is therefore not a church. Nor does the Order in any sense take the place now intruded upon the domain of the church. But it is its friend and handmaiden. Now and again a brother whose enthusiasm runs off with his sober judgment may say he finds sufficient in Oddfellowship to satisfy all his spiritual longings and needs no other religion. But he has never read this upon the scrolls of our mysteries. While we can understand how much reason there is for such a devotion and enthusiasm because of the wondrous beauty of our sublime Order, yet we know also that it is wrong to confound the merely human with what is Divine and one who has drunk deeply at the mystic fountain of truth and knowledge will not easily err. In rebuke to such a one, Oddfellowship would quickly reply in the words with which the angel rebuked John the Divine, "See thou do it not. For I am thy fellow-servant and of thy brethren. Worship God."

Oddfellowship is one of the oldest and grandest institutions this earth has ever seen. It towers far beyond the mountain tops. But it makes no covenant with God for salvation, its altars are indeed sacred. But they are hallowed only by the fealty of human ties and of fraternal love which prays for and receives the blessing of our Grand Sire in heaven above. It is the crystallization of the truth of the brotherhood of man, sanctified by that other truth the fatherhood of God. Thus the influence of our Order is brought to bear upon the powers and faculties which are the divinest part of our nature and which will become purer and nobler the farther we ascend in the scale of moral and spiritual advancement.

The first and most important emblem of Oddfellowship is the three links, namely F. L. and T—or Friendship, Love and Truth, and to the incultation and practice of these three virtues it is permitted us to trace the good results of the order already attained while upon such pier rest our hope for the future. Let us proceed now for a few moments to speak of these emblematic virtues.

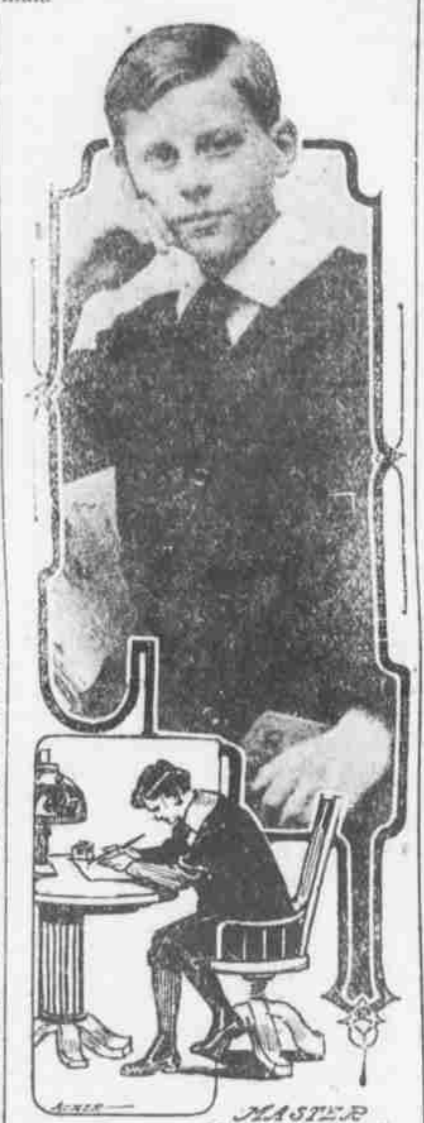

I. Friendship. If there is one fact of humanity which stands forth with self-evident proof it is this, my friends, that true loving consists in the fulfillment of a man's relations—namely, those in which he is born, those which create our environment, those from which it is impossible to escape, those out of which duty springs and obligations arise.

Emerson says: "The whole human family is breathed with an element of Love like a fine ether." True. And then the sage of Boston might have added: "To put this enphering Love of the continent and be there always to protect vital interests of the country involved in the possession of the Philippines, Guam, the Samoan harbor and the vast coal and precious mineral resources of Alaska, as well as the home ports from the sound to San Diego.

BABY POET

NEW YORK, April 8.—John A. Wyeth, Jr., aged 13, son of Dr. John A. Wyeth, a noted surgeon, and grandson of the late Dr. Marion Sims, has written an allegorical and symbolical play in blank verse, entitled "Weakness of man."

MASTED JOHN WYETH

Although Master John has developed a literary talent at an age when most lads are interested in tops and airguns he is very much of a boy. He has won six silver cups in athletic competitions at a private school, is devoted to out-of-door gymnasium sports, and can fight well with his fists when occasion demands. In appearance he is slight but sturdy, keen, alert, and he is extremely modest.

The play will be produced by E. H. Sothern, when he gives his benefit for the Actor's Fund, at the Lyric. Mr. Sothern regards the production of Master Wyeth as a remarkable one, considering the age of the author.

The first trainload of California oranges ever marketed direct in the Middle West, without first going to the distributing center at Chicago, lately left the southern part of the State by the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific. There were twenty cars in the consignment, carrying 1,300,000 oranges, and they will be for consumption within the State of Iowa. The shipment marks a new departure in the California citrus industry, which already approximates in value $30,000,000 a year. The entire lot which leaves today has been definitely ordered by Iowa dealers, and is therefore in no sense a speculative shipment.

into form and expression is the sacred office of Friendship." Other offices it may have to be sure but none more sacred than this. Such Friendship, or rather friendship fulfilling such an office, ought to be the union of our finest feelings having for their root sympathy. Sympathy conceives friendship and friendship conceives Love and Love is Divine because Love is of God. Love is God. There is no real lasting friendship except among people of pure and

STRATEGISTS BUSY SEEKING APPROPRIATIONS.

Atlantic and Pacific Coasts Are Becoming Rivals in Move for Larger Fleet.

There is some hope for the President's larger naval programme in the attitude of western members of Congress, who are now making a fight to have a strong American fleet permanently stationed in the Pacific. The action of California commercial bodies, in which the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce promptly concurred, asking that at least some of the fleet remain on this side, is reflected by speeches of California and other western members. The success of a move of this sort means inevitably that there must be another fleet for the Atlantic, Hobson, who wants the United States to enter upon a navy building programme that will make her stronger upon the sea than Great Britain and Japan combined, is at the extreme of this agitation. The text of the western speeches is that with the fleet where it is today, the mastery of the Pacific is settled; with the weight of American naval power on this side, the United States insures peace. Hence there is an insistent demand that a strong fleet be permanently maintained in Pacific waters. On the other hand, the Atlantic ports are being heard from, complaining that they are unprotected. Even the old, almost forgotten German war scare and the time-honored game of twisting the Lion's tail have been revived, to show how necessary is an American fleet in Atlantic waters. It is pointed out in Congress that Great Britain or Germany could capture the whole seaboard and having taken New York, Philadelphia and a few other places, could so fortify them that the United States, almost without an army as she is, could not retake them for a long time. Again, from the other side, comes the reply. A hostile army taking Pacific coast points could so strengthen itself in the country that the United States, having to send armies over the great barrier of the Rocky mountains, could never retake the land at all, for an Eastern army could not cross the Rockies if strongly opposed. It is answered that the fortification of Hawaii will make the landing impossible except from Esquimaux, hence the reviving bugaboo of British hostility.

The end of it all probably will be a bigger navy than ever and increased forts along the Pacific coast,—at least while the British alliance with Japan lasts.

A MUNICIPAL THEATRE.

One American City Which Is Successfully Managing a Theatre of Her Own.

In connection with recent local discussions of means of securing theatrical attractions for our much isolated city, a Minnesota experiment in the management of a municipal theatre, said to be the only one in the United States, is of interest. By the will of Theodore B. Seldon, the city of Red Wing was provided with a first class theatre, controlled by directors appointed by municipal officers. The legator believed in the educational and other benefits of the drama, and realized that Red Wing, with only about 9,000 population, could not ordinarily attract the best players. Under the municipal theatre plan the town has become a "good show town," and leading actors pay tribute to the discrimination of its audience. Such noted players and lecturers as Otis Skinner, Bertha Galland, William H. Crane, E. M. Holland, Max Figman, Louis James, Grace Van Studdiford, Leslie Carter, Preston Clarke, Frank Daniels, F. Hopkinson Smith and Elbert Hubbard have appeared with profit in this small town.

The Scrap Book, which gives an account of the new theatre, concludes with the following comment: "There has been a gradual elevation in the entire tone of the city of Red Wing since the Sheldon Auditorium opened. The theatre is a financial success, and a part of the profits are utilized for free concerts and illustrated lectures, thus making the institution in every sense a theatre 'of the people.'"

If George A. Davis is elected the Senate will probably find it a time-saving plan to make him its president.

It seems likely that there will be baseball teams enough on hand by the time the fleet arrives to give the boys plenty of games, whether other facilities for amusement prove inadequate or not.

Probably contemporaneous with the departure of the fleet for here, there will be large bookings of wives and families of the officers on board, who will want to spend the time here with them. This means a considerable influx of visitors aside from those on the fleet.

Certainly it is desirable to have the new municipal act tested in the Supreme court, if there is any reasonable doubt as to its legality. We don't want another election and subsequent farce of organization such as occurred in connection with the first county act.

Some of the fleet, or all of it, should certainly go to Hilo and other island ports. It would be a good thing for the citizens of the other islands and would interest the fleet boys, to see more of the group than this island. And an excursion to the volcano would give them something to talk about that would rank with, if not surpass, anything they have seen or will see, on their tour of the world.

Nothing stronger than the bare facts of the present situation in the Federal court should be required to convince the Department of Justice, and through it Congress, of the necessity for an additional Federal judge for the District of Hawaii. Several important admiralty decisions are just now delayed on account of the criminal business for jury trial pending at term.

GREATEST TEST YET.

Copies of the Washington Star arriving Saturday's mail amply bear out the statement made in these columns, that the Prohibition experiments in Georgia and other states are of special interest as furnishing new data on the old problem of whether Prohibition can successfully prohibit. Writing from Atlanta, George William Curtis says: "Pro-

THE MATTER WITH SMITH

The following from a San Francisco paper throws light on the cabled news that Ernest N. Smith of Honolulu had been suspended from Stanford:

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 15.—Inclosed in somber black covers, bearing the legend, "Memorial Edition," containing severe editorial criticisms of the student affairs committee of the faculty, and with a stirring article dedicating it to the students who were recently forced out of the University, the long-delayed issue of the "Sequoia," the student body magazine, appeared today. Never before in the history of the University has a college periodical created such a sensation as that caused by the "Sequoia." The editorials ended with the resignation of Editor E. N. Smith, who left the college two months ago, when he would have retired from his position, "but the critical condition of affairs, and the stand the 'Sequoia' had taken, made it impossible for him to resign without laying himself open to the charge that he made unwarranted attacks and then resigned to escape punishment."

In the dedication of the "Sequoia" to the dismissed students, the following language is used:

"To the students of Stanford who were forced out of this University unjustly, we extend our sympathy. To those men whose characters were assailed by some members of the faculty, we extend our sympathy. Our admiration goes out to the men who can fight, who can see justice thwarted in an American college and still have faith in the ultimate victory of justice; and our admiration goes out to the men who made a manly apology for a trivial offense, and who were discriminated against in the final reckoning; who did not defy college authority, but who joined in a protest against the most narrow-minded and unfair student affairs committee that was ever inflicted upon an American University. To all these men the Stanford 'Sequoia' is affectionately dedicated."

In an editorial entitled "A Want of Confidence," the investigation conducted by the student affairs committee, and resulting in the dismissal of a large number of the students who took part in the memorable parade, was reviewed, and in conclusion it was advised that a stubborn fight against the action of the committee be continued to the end.

WEAKENED VITALITY IMPOVERISHED BLOOD

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for a well-known city missionary, who writes:

"I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My appetite improved almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred per cent. stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's."

YOU WANT The News First.....

You Want Your Ads Read

Here Is Some Advice---

Honolulu more than any other city in the World, is a place where the Evening Paper gets the news first. The clock here is over two hours behind the clock at San Francisco, four hours behind Chicago, five hours behind New York and ten to eleven hours behind the clocks in the European capitals.

This means that when The Star is going to press THE DAY IS CLOSED in Washington, Chicago, New York and Europe and almost over in San Francisco. The news of the day is here for The Star.

Under modern conditions it takes practically no time to prepare and transmit news and THE STAR gets every evening the cable dispatches giving

The News Of All The World

For The Day Just Ended---

Here are some of the features that go to make the evening paper the predominating factor in an advertising campaign:

It is delivered at the home each night when the whole family has plenty of time to read it.

It is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it stays there. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The evening paper is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all the advertisements receive their share of attention.

It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

The evening paper presents the news the day it happens. The morning paper the day after.

The evening paper presents the news first. The morning paper merely elaborates it.

The evening paper prints daylight news. The morning paper takes what is left.

honest hearts. Among the depraved there is no real friendship. It is only the good man, the pure woman, who makes the discovery that through genuine friendship one may multiply himself or herself—by gaining more hearts to thron' with joy than our own and other fortresses into which to flee when our own has been dismantled by cruel fate or evil fortune.

Into such a Friendship, based upon such principles and embracing such aspirations, Oddfellows have solemnly covenanted. We combine for the good of others. The covenant is a personal one. It is created and strengthened by personal contact. Behold its power!

We have at times seen a big ship glide into the harbor as if drawn by some invisible bowline, with a hundred strong arms pulling at it. Her sails unfurled; her streamers drooping with neither side wheels nor stern wheels. Still she moved steadily on in serene triumph as if self-impelled and self-directed. But we knew that, on the other side of the ship, hidden beneath the great hulk which swam so majestically, there was a little toilsome steam tug, with a heart of fire and arms of steel—and we also knew that if the little tug should untwine his arms and loosen his hold then the big ship would wallow and roll about—drift with wind and tide—no man knows whither.

So have we not known scores of men high decked, full freighted, gay personed who but for the strong loving arms and warm beating heart of friendship will have been carried down the stream of time and lost among the shoals and rocks.

Hail, Brethren, Hail! To the covenant of Friendship! Hail to the covenant! By such the Jehovah of Israel bound himself to his Creator with a blue heaven for a scroll and a rainbow for a seal. By such David and Jonathan swore the one to the other, "The Lord be between me and three and between my seed and thy seed forever. Into such a covenant Oddfellows long to see all men united so that all wars shall cease, and forces of greed and self and enmity forever and forever destroyed and universal peace established.

II. The central link in the chain is Love. Perhaps nowhere do all the pages of history, sacred and profane, afford us such a true picture of Love and its practical bearings upon human living than the Christ's parable of the Good Samaritan. Look at the scene a few moments.

The traveler plods his weary way. The day is fine. The way is pleasant and let us hope the journey will be safe. How those pines cluster on the mountain side and in the distance the sea is so calm and beautiful. That row of green trees marks the course of the Jordan, the sacred river of the chosen people.

But see the traveler enters a narrow defile of hills. Alas! Alas! He is stripped of his raiment, wounded and left for dead.

"Help! Help!" he cries. Ah! a priest is passing by. "Help! Holy servant of the temple. I'm robbed and wounded." But no. He whose office is to have pity will not look on me but passes by on the other side. "God of Israel! Must I linger here and die." No. Behold a Levite who swings the censers in the holy temple and bows at the consecrated altar. Help me! I'm robbed and wounded. But no. He also passes by on the other side. He also has forsaken me. But who comes this way? It is a hated Samaritan—an enemy of my people. Help! Man of Samaria. Help! I'm robbed and dying.

Ah, what have we here. An Israelite wounded and bleeding by the wayside. The poor man is about to perish. Is he not after all my brother? Oh, my friend. You shall not perish. Take this my garment of thy protection. Arise and lean upon me. Come. Cheer up. Take heart and we will find a place of safety. Here is an inn, a place of refuge. Ho! Landlord. Open. Open. Here, host, is a wounded man who tell by the wayside among thieves. Give him attention for he has been robbed and left for dead. Take this money and provide for him and what thou spendest more when I come again I will repay thee.

Brothers, this is Love. In real com. Love in its outreaching search, its practical helpfulness, its self-denial, its saving blessing power. Love must always remain the central link in the chain of Oddfellowship. Fraternity, unless ennobled in acts of charity, is nothing. Membership in a lodge is but an empty home. In obligation of Friendship indeed is nothing; the mere assertion of principle is worse than nothing.

III. Truth, the virtue which crowns the fabric in peerless splendor. Truth, the imperial virtue—the treasure for which the candid mind ever seeks—the consummation for which we apply in all our investigations. It is the sanction of every appeal that is made for the good and noble. Truth condemns wrong and falsehood. Truth may be long in achieving victory but ultimately it must prevail and triumph over every opposing force of darkness. The man of Truth is the best and strongest man. His soul, like a spring of clear water, reflects the light of heaven. His speech is pure and his actions correct. He is involuntary respect. He blesses and purifies all around him. He becomes a solid landmark amid the waves of faction, storms of passion and the conflicts of error.

Oddfellows regard the bible—God's Holy Book—as the exhaustless fountain of Truth, the storehouse where all our principles are derived. Guided by its instructions we hope to approximate the ages of gold, when the fetters of prejudice will be broken, the shackles of bondage snapped asunder and all men everywhere redeemed from error, and liberated from the bondage of superstition and slavish passions of sin, will assert their high birthright as the Sons of God and acknowledge the ties which bind them in universal sanguinity the world over.

Officers, Brothers, Sisters and friends, such are the three links representing the grand motto of our order, Friendship, Love and Truth. They belong to that long chain binding our members together into one fraternity. They are welded in the fires of purity by the loving hands of Jehovah. Thus bound by the chain of unity, friendship, unfeigned Love and simple Truth, we may live in the bonds of peace and pursue our labors together for the uplifting of our fellow men and the amelioration of their sorrows.

What then is the preacher's word of exhortation this evening? Only this. Be true to your principles. How often we fall in this? Our practices contradict and put to shame our principles. We fall so frequently. Our lives are so imperfect. Our sins are so burdensome. But "there is a wideness in God's mercy like the wideness of the sea," and in answer to the prayer of the penitent heart He will graciously remove our sins from us as far as the east from the west.

And so we have this place and this service to go further into the real life which awaits us at the door. There we shall meet its trials and temptations. Inside our lodge room, harmony and peace. Outside adverse currents of discord and falsehood. Let us be Oddfellows. Odd in differing from men of passion and vice—odd in being true to our principles—odd in our efforts to protect the weak, lift up the fallen, comfort the sad, feed the hungry and cheer the afflicted. Remember, oh remember brothers, time is on the march. Human life is as a shadow. Like sands in an hour glass we drop hourly and quickly away. Eternity is very near. Work, work while the day lasts and then when the night cometh our Grand

Sire will call us, as his faithful servants to

"That region bright Whose wisdom, strength and beauty Are a temple of Eternal light."

TO VISIT VOLCANO

THE WISH OF SOME OF THE PEOPLE ABOARD THE ARMY TRANSPORT CROOK.

People aboard the transport Crook, held here for several days, are complaining that since they have been detained by orders from the transport headquarters, they might as well have been ordered to remain here more than five days and so be given an opportunity to see the volcano.

Everybody has heard of Hawaii's volcano, but the majority of people who travel through here are not aware that one of the chief attractions of this Territory is not on this island; they seem to take it for granted that Honolulu and the volcano are matters of merely a car ride between.

When they understood that they would be here from Saturday last to Thursday next and then discovered that Punchbowl was not the active volcano, they at once inquired how to get to Kilauea, and when they learned that there was not time to make the trip there was much disappointment.

It was suggested aboard that the Crook could easily put in her five days wait by running over to Hilo, but Army orders and Army methods would not tolerate anything of the kind. The captain of the ship is under the quartermaster-in-charge, who must take his orders, after docking here, from the depot quartermaster, who acts on instructions from the transport headquarters in San Francisco, who looks to the Washington headquarters for orders.

rehearsals. At that rehearsal he expressed himself as much surprised at the excellent manner in which our amateurs presented the comic opera, and was absolutely astonished at the progress made in so short a time. This happened about two weeks ago, and it is a great pity he could not have witnessed the dress rehearsal last Saturday, to see the still greater advance made.

The rehearsal on Saturday, in full costume, was better than a great many finished productions witnessed in this city, and the manner in which the whole play went through was exceedingly gratifying to the management. It is safe to say it was the most successful comic opera rehearsal ever held by amateurs in Honolulu.

All the specialties were included on Saturday night and all went splendidly. The specialty "Ma Cherie" and the ballet of that number simply astonished all who witnessed it. It is the prettiest turn imaginable, and will cause a sensation on Thursday next. This ballet was thought out and trained by Miss de l'Artigue to whom the greatest of credit is due. A prettier or more novel turn could not be witnessed on many a professional stage, and Honolulu ought to feel proud of owning one who can present such a clever and charming spectacle.

All the extra turns in the coming production of "The Mascot" are clever specialties by clever people. "Sonny" Cupha's two extras, "What The Milkman Sees" and "My Small Town Girl," are both going to make hits. The chorus for these two turns are well drilled and add quite a little to the general effect. Without a doubt "The Mascot" on Thursday will cause a sensation and the vast audience, already assured, will be more than pleased. There are now only a very few seats for the first performance on Thursday and only a very few more for the second, which will doubtless be all snapped up after the first production.

"THE MASCOT" SURPRISED HIM

A little time ago there was a tourist visiting Honolulu who had seen "The Mascot" sixty-seven times, had heard it in four different languages, and whose only regret was that he had to leave Honolulu before he could see it produced at the Opera House next Thursday.

The opinion of such an experienced person was of course well worth having and he was invited to one of the

Changes In The Committee

It looks as if there was going to be a good deal of work to be handled by the chairman of the various sub-committees who will handle the reception of the big battleship fleet and one after another the appointees for these offices are getting out from under. The first to resign was C. M. Cooke, who wrote Acting Governor Mott-Smith on Saturday, stating that he would be unable to take the position. This morning several others have handed in their resignations from like positions.

P. C. Jones who was appointed chairman of the committee at large, writes that he is not in physical condition to assume the duties which will be required as chairman of this important committee but will be glad to go all that he can as a member of the committee. C. G. Ballentyne, who was appointed chairman of the committee on transportation also finds that he will be unable to perform the duties of the office.

The committee which will have charge of the decorations during the stay of the battleship fleet in this port held its first meeting in the governors' rehearsal. At that rehearsal he expressed himself as much surprised at the excellent manner in which our amateurs presented the comic opera, and was absolutely astonished at the progress made in so short a time. This happened about two weeks ago, and it is a great pity he could not have witnessed the dress rehearsal last Saturday, to see the still greater advance made.

AURORA WINS

The smart four-masted barkentine Aurora, Captain Samuelson, wins a race from Newcastle, Australia, in which the other contestants are the schooner R. C. Slade, the barkentine Benicia, barkentine J. L. Eviston and ship St. David. All are American vessels and all left Newcastle for Honolulu within sixteen days of each other. The Aurora arrived early this morning, 54 days out, a very good passage. Captain Samuelson reported the Slade and the Benicia close on his heels off this island, not more than office this noon. Col. J. W. Jones presided and the following members of the committee were present: Secretary G. W. R. King, R. J. Buchly, G. Kam Fok, W. A. Love, Chuck Hoy, Albert Afong, Roscoe Perkins, and John C. Lane.

Considerable time was spent in the discussion of what decorations were needed but no final plan was mapped out. It was decided to authorize the chairman to appoint sub-committees who should start actively on their work at once. The following sub-committees were appointed: To get estimates available material, etc., and form a plan: Electric Power and Illumination: J. W. Jones, Merle Johnson, G. W. R. King.

To interview business houses: Buchly, W. A. Love, Albert Afong, Chuck Hoy, Y. Soga, S. Kojima. Flags and Bunting: Roscoe Perkins, W. H. McInerney, G. Kam Fook, Greens and Palms: John C. Lane, Chun Chu Yee, U. Kobayashi. Subcommittees were ordered to report back at noon on Thursday.

teen miles out for the Benicia and about twenty miles out for the Slade. Barkentine Benicia is 60 days out; schooner R. C. Slade is 64 days out; barkentine Eviston has been out 66 days and the ship St. David is out 70 days.

The Eviston and St. David should be along soon. All are carrying coal. The Aurora comes consigned to W. G. Irwin & Co., also the Benicia, and the St. David has cargo for that house. Both the Eviston and Slade have fuel for the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company.

Captain Samuelson is justly proud of his vessel's showing. Comparatively good weather was enjoyed until within a day or two of the islands, when stiff weather was encountered.

KILAUEA VOLCANO

Another popular excursion to this great natural wonder. Leaving Honolulu by the fine, new steamer "MAUNA KEA" Tuesday noon, April 28th, the party will arrive at the volcano the next evening where it will remain until Saturday morning; when stages will convey the visitors across the old lava flows, to Ho-nu-nuap where the fine steamship MAUNA LOA awaits them, and which will arrive in Honolulu Tuesday morning, May 5th.

The volcano is now more active than it has been for years. Visitors are appalled by the awful grandeur which the scene presents. The pit is rising rapidly and local residents are flocking to the crater to view this unusual eruption. Don't miss this great opportunity to see the burning mountain. Round trip fare, only $51.00. You Don't Feel The Expenditure When Buying a New Dinner Set

From an open-stock pattern. Know why? Next time you need a dozen dinner plates select them from an "Open-Stock" pattern. When you want a meat platter—choose from the same pattern. Keep adding to this nucleus and the first thing you know your odd purchases comprise a handsome set.

Now, if you had bought different decorations that struck your fancy, every time you needed special items your aggregate purchases would look like a job-lot.

Think it over—or better yet, come in and talk it over—and look the patterns over. We have 25 "Stock-patterns" to choose from.
