Jassont Rives.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

Pressing domestic duties have interposed to prevent me noticing certain remarks which appeared in a letter signed "Query" in your issue of the 2d inst. concerning the historical status of my grandfather, Jassont Rives; erroneously set down as Jean Jassint Rives by certain historians. Not having perused Arago's voyage of the "Uranie," I am not in a position to state how far that historian may differ in this matter from the oral traditions and writings that have come down to the descendants of Jassont Rives, and which are preserved not less as family heirlooms, than as interesting reminiscences of the golden age of Hawaiian history.

One important error, however, which would indicate that the chronicler of the "Uranie" must have obtained his information at second-hand, is in the very name being incorrectly written, and which error has been copied by all succeeding historians, a proof that none of them has made an effort to obtain the first, and most simple fact in the case.

This, and every positive statement in this letter can be proved from well authenticated autographs and family memoranda in the handwriting of my grandfather Jassont Rives, and from other documents which "Query" is welcome to inspect.

Jassont Rives was born in the City of Bordeaux on the 14th of November, 1794, and therefore could not be more than twenty-five years of age when the French discovery ship "Uranie," Captain Freycinet, arrived at Kailua in August, 1819. On page 174 of Prof. Alexander's "Brief History" referring to the visit of the "Uranie," it is stated that "a Frenchman from Bordeaux named Rives who had been twelve years on the islands acted as interpreter for the King," which would lead the reader to suppose that "sailor or ex-sailor" of "Query" was but a boy of twelve on arrival here.

Very briefly stated the facts are: Jean Baptiste Rives, a retired officer of the navy, a member of the Legion of Honor, and first captain of the Port of Bordeaux when Jassont left home. His mother's name was De Burgerage, an ancient family of local distinction. Jassont was pursuing his university course preparatory to entering the medical profession when some romantic chronicler of the Pacific islands fired his enthusiasm, and leaving his home he found his way to this Eldorado in about the year 1810, which would place him then at about 16 years of age. This was eight years before the death of the Conqueror, and Liholio at the time would be about thirteen years old. Jassont Rives married the high chiefess Holua, and his first of five children, Margaret Kapikouhi, was born on June 7, 1813. He was an ardent adherent of the Catholic Church and instrumental in inducing Boki and Kalanimo'kui, his warm friends, to receive the rite of Christian baptism through the chaplain of the Uranie, a circumstance which probably led certain historians to look at him "through a glass darkly."

The demands upon your valuable space will not permit of more than a mere glance at the misstatements upon which writers like "Query" base their alleged facts and innumerable errors. Notwithstanding the distorted medium of bigoted rancor through which the sectarian historian has viewed and portrayed Jassont Rives, the fact remains that he was the trusted friend of Kamelamehaka I. and the alike of his son Liholio, with whom he lived on terms of the highest rank when crown prince, and whose mutual friendship remained true to the end.

"Query" refers to the statements in Alexander's history, pp. 184-5, to the effect that Rives secretly took passage with the royal party, and was employed as interpreter.

"Query" almost displays his identity, when he "improves the occasion" by the coarsest vituperation that he "smuggled himself on board and got a job."

The well known facts are that the missionaries, who were even then assuming to be a dictating power,

THURSDAY, OCT. 12, 1893.

A little controversy sometimes stirs up a great deal of history that would otherwise lie concealed.

In the opinion of our evening annexation contemporary the morning paper is no good. Rather rough on its annexation running mate, but the Star is bound to tell the truth when it's not against itself.

Our morning contemporary's coach to the chancellor of the exchequer says that since the Provisional Government "has been in power it has paid off the public indebtedness to almost the last cent and still has a surplus on hand, no matter what its opponents may say to the contrary." Never mind what its opponents may say. Suppose instead you tackle the official statement of the Minister of Finance (see weekly financial statement of this date), which states that the net indebtedness of the country is nearly four million dollars.

In answer to a communication from the Minister of the Interior, the Board of Health states that the rules requiring the port physician to precede the pilot, in boarding an incoming ship, were suspended on November 24 last. The provision of the Civil Code governing the pilot's action makes it his duty to immediately put off to the vessel, and ascertain for himself if any contagious disease be on board before boarding her. These facts wipe out all excuses lately heard for the slow coach methods of our pilotage service.

"From all that can be at present learned it seems the fight for annexation is to take place at this end of the line. The fight at the other end has already been fought. The question now is to which of the powers shall Hawaii fall." In the foregoing words the morning organ of the Provisional Government as much as intimates that information has been received that the annexation scheme is dead as a door nail at Washington. As to the closing statement of what the "question" is, the Advertiser is hardly qualified to give an opinion. If the United States has decided against robbing Hawaii of its autonomy, there is no fear that Hawaii shall "fall" to any power. She shall stand, as she has done the past fifty years, with the kindly support of several powers—that of the United States especially.

WHY THE RUSSIAN FLAG WAS NOT SALUTED.

On the 2d inst. this paper announced that the Russian flag was to be saluted that evening by the Provisional Government battery, in grateful return for the unqualified recognition by the Russian Government of the "Hawaiian Republic"—as M. de Giers, the Russian Chancellor, called it. It grieves us at this remote date to have to contradict the announcement of the salute in question. Although it was true when it was made—our information having been obtained at headquarters—a fatal hitch occurred in the arrangements. Thus: The Provisional Government in a qualm of self-abnegation thought fit at the sixteenth hour of the day to consult the United States Admiral on the propriety of marking its recognition by the Russian bear with such jubilating roar of cannon—Austrian cannon at that, although they probably wouldn't have told this to the Czar. "Well," the Admiral said in effect, "I don't see much harm in shooting off your gleeful gratitude. But, my dear fellows, really international etiquette doesn't require that sort of acknowledgment of diplomatic courtesy." At all events, what the Admiral said convinced our inexperienced rulers that perhaps after all they would only make themselves absurd by shooting off their brass mouths in republican ecstasy over being noticed by the most absolute monarchy in Christendom. They would just use the Chancellor's note as so much more pap to keep the organs alive, and quietly evince their devoted gratitude to Russia for her imperial nod by means of a gilt-edged note, composed by their most expert diplomatic scribe and written in the finest flourishes of Mr. Ed. Stiles' artistic calligraphy. For the rest, have it franked "On P. G. Service," in a silk-lined envelope, but with a surcharged vermilion stamp on it as a contribution to the philatelic album of one of the young de Giers. Anyhow, the order for a salute to the Russian flag was countermanded. The facts looking out have become a topic of gossip among American naval officers as well as those of the P. G. garrison.

PROVISIONAL LEGISLATURE.

MINISTER SMITH EXTENDED AN INVITATION FROM THE PRESIDENT TO THE MEMBERS OF THE ADVISORY COUNCIL, FOR AS MANY AS CHOSE TO BE PRESENT IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER AT 11 O'CLOCK TO-MORROW, WHEN CAPTAIN BARKER AND OFFICERS OF THE U. S. S. PHILADELPHIA WOULD MAKE AN OFFICIAL CALL ON THE MINISTERS.

Mr. Brown introduced an Act to amend the Oahu Railway Act of 1880, so as to extend the time for building the railway the rest of its route around the island for five years; also to extend the franchise for the same railway fifty years from the passage of this Act.

Mr. Brown also introduced an act to authorize the Government to guarantee interest of four percent on $900,000 of the railway company's bonds.

Both bills took the regular course. The crown lands bill was again postponed.

The bill to prevent the clipping of sheep's ears in marking was, after some discussion, referred to the Judiciary Committee. In the discussion other species of mutilating animals were referred to, Mr. Emmeluth telling of an instance he had seen at Koolau last Sunday.

The chairman gave notice of the special committee on Board of Education that the President desired them to meet him in his office at 10 o'clock to-morrow.

At 2:30 the Councils went into executive session.

TIMELY CONFESION.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

The Advertiser comes out this morning again with one of its bold lies, that the P. G. has "proved itself the friend of the people." This is correct of course if by "people" we are to understand only the infinitesimal number of the "family compact," who seized the government with American help and robbed the mass of the natives of all their rights, and who have since governed on the principle of "scratch my back and I'll scratch yours."

Those Tiser's lies are not deserving of any notice; but what may be worthy of attention are the confidential hints dropped about "complications that are now arising around Hawaii." We have long been expecting as much especially knowing what the policy of the P. G. has been, viz: to force annexation on their own terms through menace of foreign help. The P. G. have been bent on annexation only in view of preserving themselves in power, and they thought that American jingoism would be only too glad to accede to their terms. But when they found that their calculations had miscarried, they evidently looked around to try to carry their threats into execution; and there cannot be any doubt, in the mind of any sensible man, that to their machinations is due, for one, the recognition by Russia. This move of the Russian Government—without waiting for the settlement of the matter pending before the U. S. Government—is certainly very extraordinary, and cannot be considered as anything else but a slight on America, and a decisive step towards further interference in the Hawaiian embroglio.

And when the Advertiser this morning comes out with the naive confession that "the question now is to which of the powers shall Hawaii fall," there can be no difficulty in believing that negotiations have really been initiated with the various foreign powers, to sell the stolen country to the best bidder, whether it be England, Russia, or the Old Nick, if he promises to keep our present rulers the longer in power. True Americans therefore had better open their eyes in time.

ALPHA-OMEGA.

TOOK A TUMBLE.

Result of a Slip in Landing the Miowera Propeller Blades.

Four large and heavy blades belonging to the spare propeller of the steamship Miowera were brought in by Commodore Simmonson's steam scow this morning, each blade measuring 7 feet in length and weighing from one and a half to two tons apiece. Such massive weight requiring substantial hoisting apparatus, the transfer from the scow to the dry on the wharf was done with the aid of the steamer W. G. Hall. The transfer to the steamer was easily made, and then began the slinging of the burdens on to the drey. When the second blade was being lowered to the drey a sudden slack in one of the ropes caused the heavy iron to slide off one side of the drey, bringing along with it one of the teamsters, who landed on his hands and knees, but without receiving the slightest injury. This little incident, made ludicrous by the suddenness of its occurrence and the posture in which the teamster was thrown, afforded a few minutes' hearty laughter to the crowd of loungers present. Commodore Simmonson said that the fall of the teamster reminded him of the divers at the Miowera, going down hands and head foremost after coal.

MAKIKI PUMPING PLANT.

It Raises a Strong Head of Crystal Water.

The trial of the new Makiki pumping plant has proved more than satisfactory. Its capacity was tried yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Alex. Young, Manager Honolulu Iron Works, Minister King, Superintendent of Water Works Brown and others were present. The machinery worked very smoothly, and there was abundance of water. The suction on the well is equal to thirteen feet and reduces the natural head of the well to 10 feet. This could be, and was increased in the trial yesterday. The pump worked at the rate of 80,000 gallons of water in twenty-four hours. It is working to-day, throwing out bright crystal water of excellent taste.

COURT CHRONICLE.

Government Ejectment Suit and Other Matters.

Judge Cooper has been hearing, yesterday and to-day, the case of Jas. A. King (suggesting the death of C. N. Spencer), Minister of the Interior, vs. J. D. Sprucekels Bros. of San Francisco: The plaintiff seeks to eject defendants from possession of a lot on the east corner of Front and Waiananienue streets, Hills. Carter & Carter for plaintiff; Hatch for defendants.

Geo. W. Macfarlane has filed a motion in the Circuit Court for a postponement of foreclosure sale of 1100 shares of Waikapu stock, advertised for the 18th inst., until the matters wherein he is interested with the Waikapu Sugar Company be determined in the courts.

The Justices of the Supreme Court have by will of the late King Lunalilo the supervision of his estate. They have unanimously approved the accounts of the trustees W. O. Smith, Mary S. Parker and Henry Waterhouse—with the exception of an overcharge of commissions amounting to one dollar, which they direct the trustees to surcharge themselves with in their next annual account.

TROTTER RACE.

Between Schuman's Mare and Hollinger's Stallion.

There will be a trotting race at Kapiolani Park on Saturday between Gus Schuman's imported pacing mare Martha S. and Tom Hollinger's stallion Charlie for a purse of $250 a side. Both animals have been in training since the date when the match was made some time ago. Charlie is the stallion who defeated Macfarlane's Duke and is a fine piece of horseflesh. In Mr. Schuman's Martha S. Charlie will meet a Tartar and a good one too. Speculation is rife and there is every promise of a good race. The event, which will be best 3 in 5, will take place at 2 o'clock.

"Toll it to the Marines."

The U. S. S. Boston has the best marine corps in the navy. By best is meant the best drilled, the finest looking and the most intelligent. The records of this small body of marine soldiery recently sent to the Naval Department at Washington demonstrate this. Lieutenant Draper is the officer in command, and the efficiency of his men is due in a measure to their long stay on shore at Honolulu and the many land drills they were called to take part in.—S. F. Call.

Hawaiian Hardware Co., Ltd

With the resources provided Hawaii by nature, (and by such resources we mean the fine quality of building stone), a lighthouse could be constructed on the point where the Miowera struck so that such accidents would be of the past and sea captains would not have the hours of anxiety that make young men old. If it be necessary to have a lighthouse halfway between the entrance to the channel and the dock let the old one remain where it is, but that fact should not prevent the erection of a new one, the expense of maintenance would be light compared with advantages to all seafaring men. If the government had a million dollar reserve fund it might copy New York City in its expenditures after the fashion of the Bartholdi Statue and make one of some prominent politician and call it "Blank Enlightening his Constituents" instead of "Liberty Enlightening the World." This would be too extravagant for this little government, and we would suggest a plain stone lighthouse painted with Hendry's Ready Mixed Paints, that are guaranteed to withstand the semitropical storms which we sometimes experience in Hawaii Nei.

The long-looked-for Pfleger arrived on Friday and with it there came to us fence wire both black and galvanized, in No. 5 of the former and Nos. 4, 5, 6 and 7 in the galvanized. For the past few weeks there has been something of a famine in the wire market and some people have been obliged to delay repairs and improvements until now. In connection with the large trade in wire which we have built up within the past few months we have revolutionized fence building on the Hawaiian Islands by introducing the "Improved Lock Fence" the materials for making which we sell with the regular wire used in ordinary fence building. The economy of a locked fence sticks out all over it like points on barbed wire. The expense of digging post holes and buying posts is almost entirely dispensed with; in the new style, posts may be put fifty feet apart and the fence is stronger than the old style with posts every five feet. A whole herd of cattle may run pell mell against a locked fence and find themselves sprawling on the ground while the fence remains intact. In the matter of expense, it is cheaper than the old style for the first building, and repairs may be made by one man where the old style would require two or three. Quite a number of managers of plantations are using our methods of fence building and the demand will increase with the arrival of the thousands of coils of wire by the "Pfleger."

We've had opinions from people to whom we sold tons of salt verifying everything we said in our advertisement a week or two ago. It is the best sold here for any purpose to which coarse salt may be put.

The advance guard of the rainy season has made its appearance in the frequent showers we are having during the day and night. This means that animalcules from the hills and valleys on Oahu are going to breed in the water and unless the people use proper care with the water they will be taken into the stomach to mingle with other disease germs.

You may boil it, and stew it or do what you will, but the wriggling bacilli will hang round it still, and the only way to get rid of the things and have absolutely pure drinking water, whether city or artesian, is to use an "Improved Natural Stone Filter." We have them in various sizes from a gallon up to six or eight and the size governs the price.

Shipping Notes.
 The steamer J. A. Cummins took 40 tons of coal for Heala to-day.
 About 30,000 feet of lumber and a small engine from the schooner Transit went to Kailua, Hawaii, by the schooner Kaulikea to-day this morning.
 The bktns, S. N. Castle moved into the Oceanic dock shortly after it was vacated by the Australia yesterday, and this morning she was engaged in discharging her cargo.
 The steamer Kinau will sail for windward ports at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The numerous ports that she calls at on her route are to be seen under the heading of "Vessels Leaving To-morrow."
 The bark Andrew Welch moved from Brewer's wharf yesterday to the Old Custom House wharf. The 4-masted schooner Transit moved into the vacated dock and commenced discharging this morning.
 The 4-masted schooner Robert Lewers, which had been lying in the stream since her arrival last Sunday, was pulled alongside the new Fort-street wharf this morning, and is now engaged in discharging her cargo of lumber.

Slow Artillery.
 The P. G. artilleryists detailed to salute President Dole on arrival yesterday morning were too slow. When they reached the Kakaako battery with their field pieces, the steamer Kinau had already reached her dock. The saluting squad took in the situation and suddenly dragged their cold cannon back to barracks without having saluted the President. A special report on the efficiency of the artillery branch of the service will now be in order.

Notice to Roman Catholics.
 In future the Masses on Sundays and holy-days of obligation will be as follows:
 At six and seven o'clock Low-masses as usual. At nine o'clock children's Mass with English instruction. At half-past ten High-mass with native and Portuguese instruction.

 Bandmaster Berger has "for the present" been denied a request to let Mekia, a member of the National band, go to Molokai for a few weeks to instruct the leper band. The Board believed that Mekia's motive was to assist his wife to get settled, she having been sent as a patient to the Settlement last Tuesday.

WHO OWNS THE TRACK?

Tramcar Driver Welsh Committed for Trial.
 Harry Welsh, tramcar driver, appeared in the District Court to-day, on a charge of "furious and heedless driving on Sept. 28, on Nuuanu avenue, thereby imminently endangering the personal safety of certain persons on said avenue at said time." H. O. Nailer and R. B. Jellings, who were in the car, testified to being members of the P. G. guards but not on duty that day. Their evidence was to the effect that the car was driven at a moderate pace till approaching the soldiers when the horses were whipped up and broke into the rear ranks. The driver rang the bell several times and called out to the soldiers to get of the way but the band drowned his voice.
 Lieut. Coyne stated that he was in command of the soldiers. Lieut. Smith gave them a command to get off the track, but before they could do so the car ran into the line. On the way up they had trouble with the same driver. Witness told the men to stop the horses. On cross-examination Coyne stated that the band was not playing when the bell was ringing, about twenty or thirty feet away.
 Sergeant E. A. Stout, privates C. Hersking and O. Knutson, gave evidence similar to the others, the only additional item being that Hersking did not know the horses were behind until the nose of one struck his barrel. The band was playing. The prosecution rested.
 Mrs. Sarah Mills, for the defense stated, that the animals were trotting at a moderate pace from School to Kukui streets. Defendant rang the bell several times and called out to clear the track. One man turned around, but they still kept ahead. Witness was alongside the car in a brake when Coyne pointed the pistol at the driver and the horses were stopped, and the soldiers were scattered; the band was not playing all the time.
 Gov. G. D. Froeth got on the car at the Eagle House and was witness to two stops made by the car driver. Heard ringing of bell and driver telling soldiers to clear track. The horses were going at an ordinary gait. The driver stopped within two feet of the rear line, when soldiers pointed their guns at the car. W. H. Cunningham and J. A. Doyle were eye-witnesses to the affair, and confirmed the evidence of the previous witnesses as to the moderate pace the horses were going at, and to the ringing of the bell and warning to get off the track. Mr. Doyle particularly heard the driver put the brake down when the car got close to the soldiers.
 The Judge committed defendant for trial. P. Neumann for the defense.

A Native Arrested For Entering the House of W. B. Ash.
 Haleakala, the notorious Hawaiian sleight-of-hand artist, is again in the toils, and is liable to spend another term in Jailor Low's keep. This time Haleakala has been arrested in connection with the burglary which occurred at the residence of Mr. W. B. Ash on Beretania street. Some time last month, between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening, Ash noticed a native acting rather suspiciously around his premises. He set a watch and saw the man come to his window and peep in three times. The last time after a pause the burglar mounted the sill and dropped in the room. Ash neither stirred nor made any noise but awaited further developments. The man moved about the room and was getting uncomfortably near the owner of the premises, when the latter emerged from his hiding place and grabbed him. As the man did not struggle or make an effort to elude his grasp, Ash asked him his business. The man stated he was looking for work. Ash released him and walking to his trunk was about to take out a rifle, when the native jumped at him and struggled to gain possession of the gun. In the scuffle Ash was tumbled and the intruder escaped, leaving a strip of his shirt in Ash's hand. Several natives have been interviewed since in connection with the unlawful entry and all pointed out Haleakala as the man. Haleakala was locked up on Monday pending investigation.

ANOTHER INFORMER DONE UP.

Incipient Riot at the Chinese Theatre Over a Spy.
 There was quite a Celestial rough and tumble pigtail-pulling match in front of the Chinese Theatre about 11:30 o'clock last night, and a Chinese police informer came out the worst handled. It appears that the informer had been giving certain little transactions in the Chinese Theatre away, with the result that a good many dollars were reaped by the Government through opium smoking and selling. The informer unfortunately for himself was spied by patrons of the theatre and watched. The drama on the boards at the Oriental Bowery was about coming to a close when the Chinese Pinkerton was noticed outside the door, and a number of his fellow-countrymen set on him and pummeled him unmercifully. In the melee a good many mistook each other for the victim of their wrath, and for a time it looked like a free fight. Things were quieted down, however, by the arrival of a man in blue and the crowd scattered. The informer identified seven of his assailants, but as they could not be found matters were dropped until this morning, when warrants were issued for their arrest. By noon the squad was captured.

Sharp Pains
 Short Breath, Heart Trouble, Rheumatism.

 "I have lived here in Oregon for the past twenty years, and most of the time have been a very great sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. I have also had what the doctor called heart disease, with shortness of breath and sharp pains in the left side. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished three bottles I was in better health than I had been for years. I do not have any pain now, sleep well, and to-day no woman of my age enjoys better health than I. At home on the ranch I not only attend to my family horsework, but last summer I cared for and milked four cows. I do not feel that I can say half enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

WHY LUCOL

IS THE BEST
PAINT OIL.
 Dries perfectly solid inside of twenty hours.
 Forms a durable and elastic, not a brittle coating.
 Retains its gloss longer than any other oil.
 Resists the action of acids and alkalis better than any other oil.
 Flows freely from the brush without running and spreads well.
 With the addition of Litharge, yields a hard surface, suitable for floors, steps, etc.
 Mixes readily with pigments ground in oil in paste form.
 Brings out the real shades of the colors and keeps them unaltered.
 Is a solvent for the most delicate of the new coal tar colors.
 Added to varnish greatly improves the working of the varnish.
 Does not darken white lead or any delicate colors.
 Has greater body than any other oil.
 Requires one-third less pigment than any other oil.
 Can be added to linseed oil and it will greatly improve the linseed.
 Can be thinned with turpentine.
 By actual tests, has outlasted the best linseed oil.
 Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.
 Direction for Use.
 Use LUCOL in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more LUCOL to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.
 In using metallic, Venetian red, the ochres, and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more LUCOL and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.
 NEVER USE JAPANESE.
 Where hard surfaces such as floors, steps, etc., are required use litharge only, never use Japanese.
 LUCOL MIXES WITH VARNISHES
 and assists their working and improves their appearance BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME DAY THEY ARE MIXED, OTHERWISE THE GUM OF THE VARNISH MAY BE PRECIPITATED OR THE mixture curdled.
 The addition of from 1/4 to 1/2 of LUCOL to varnishes does not reduce their lustre nor retard their hardening and drying and it prevents their cracking.

 Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.
 Direction for Use.
 Use LUCOL in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more LUCOL to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.
 In using metallic, Venetian red, the ochres, and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more LUCOL and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.
 NEVER USE JAPANESE.
 Where hard surfaces such as floors, steps, etc., are required use litharge only, never use Japanese.
 LUCOL MIXES WITH VARNISHES
 and assists their working and improves their appearance BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME DAY THEY ARE MIXED, OTHERWISE THE GUM OF THE VARNISH MAY BE PRECIPITATED OR THE mixture curdled.
 The addition of from 1/4 to 1/2 of LUCOL to varnishes does not reduce their lustre nor retard their hardening and drying and it prevents their cracking.

WHY LUCOL

IS THE BEST
PAINT OIL.
 Dries perfectly solid inside of twenty hours.
 Forms a durable and elastic, not a brittle coating.
 Retains its gloss longer than any other oil.
 Resists the action of acids and alkalis better than any other oil.
 Flows freely from the brush without running and spreads well.
 With the addition of Litharge, yields a hard surface, suitable for floors, steps, etc.
 Mixes readily with pigments ground in oil in paste form.
 Brings out the real shades of the colors and keeps them unaltered.
 Is a solvent for the most delicate of the new coal tar colors.
 Added to varnish greatly improves the working of the varnish.
 Does not darken white lead or any delicate colors.
 Has greater body than any other oil.
 Requires one-third less pigment than any other oil.
 Can be added to linseed oil and it will greatly improve the linseed.
 Can be thinned with turpentine.
 By actual tests, has outlasted the best linseed oil.
 Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.
 Direction for Use.
 Use LUCOL in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more LUCOL to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.

JIM KUKONA, Government Poundmaster. Honolulu, Oct. 9, 1893. 851-2f

wanted the Rev. Mr. Ellis to chaperone the royal party to England, and the captain, seeing how Mr. Ellis was "smuggling" himself into a hostile camp, wisely declined Mr. Ellis's company as a passenger, and Mr. Ellis and his party have ever since found a kind of consolation in tracing his more polished, and better educated, and successful rival—RIVES.

A mele was composed in commemoration of the great event of the time, the departure of the royal party, and was chanted before the assembled thousands who went to say aloha to the king. It has been handed down to this day, and in it the name of Luahine (Rives) is as prominent as that of any member of the company. So much for "Query's" sneer about "smuggling on board and getting a job."

May we not also fairly attribute to this cause, the statement of the missionary historian Alexander on page 185, that on arrival of the royal party in London "Rives was dismissed from his office as interpreter on account of gross misconduct, and James Young was appointed in his place." The facts are that on the arrival of the royal party in London, Mr. Rives could be spared to visit his family in France, and naturally availed himself of the opportunity; but it would seem that this sudden leave-taking and absence from the royal party gave an opportunity to the history-making friend of the Rev. Mr. Ellis's party, to blacken the character of a rival.

Having heard of the death of the king and queen some weeks after the sad event, and having spent a few months in la belle France, he set himself to the accomplishment of a purpose which he had in consenting to accompany the king to London, namely, to induce the Pope to send a Catholic mission to Hawaii. Being long as Rives did, to a patrician family, he had no difficulty in obtaining the necessary introduction to the Pope, which led to the departure of the first Catholic missionaries from his native city of Bordeaux. Soon after he had witnessed the departure of the mission, my grandfather set his face towards Hawaii, where he intended to spend his remaining years. He was returning by way of South America and Mexico, when he was seized with an illness which terminated fatally.

At his bedside until death was Robert Chrichton Wylie, who in later years occupied an honorable position in this land of his adoption, and who conveyed to his sorrowing family and friends in Hawaii his last words of affection, and ever afterwards remained the attached friend of the children of Jassont Rives.

The family to which Jassont Rives belonged still occupy a prominent position as regards social influence and wealth in France. Every French Minister to the Court of Hawaii has made enquiries about the family of Jassont Rives for the information of the family in Bordeaux, and in other ways they have evinced the kindest interest in their Hawaiian relatives, and for two generations we have not ceased to correspond.

When my attention was first drawn to the false statements in Professor Alexander's "Brief History" I expressed my surprise to its author that no effort had been made to obtain authentic facts, and a promise was given me to consider the matter in revising a future edition. I am sure, had Professor Alexander known that he was blindly copying his history from sources tainted by sectarian bigotry, he would not be led into the unchristian course of perpetuating a series of calumnies which were sown in the years of religious intolerance if not of persecution. That the chief actors in that miserable business could not pass by in silence the one man who was primarily instrumental in introducing a missionary faith taken to be hostile to that of the general family of Hawaiian historians, is quite in keeping with the past and present trend of events in Hawaii.

It would not be amiss for some of the present traducers of the living, as well as of the dead, to remember that perhaps it would be well for those who speak lightly of honor and character to look to themselves, and consider that in the years to come when their existence shall be but a fading memory, they may not be so fortunate as Jassont Rives in having left behind him an honest and honored name: of heirs who have not disgraced him, and are jealous in vindicating his memory.
